Giving her aeroplane a last minute inspection before embarking for Hawaii, from where she will take off in an attempt to fly back to the United States, Amelia Earhart, Centre, chats with her husband, Palmer Putnam, and Myrna Loy of the films at Los Angeles. According to radio advices, public sentiment is developing strongly at Honolulu against the aviatrix' plan to fly from there to San Francisco and efforts are being made to have the authorities forbid the undertaking. Mrs. Putnam insists, however, that her plane is in the best of shape and that she should be perfectly entitled to make the flight if she wants to.

Hon. R. B. Hanson

MINISTER OF TRADE

Elsewhere in this issue, Mr. Hanson reviews the progress that Canada has made during the past year, also expressing optimism as to the outlook for the future. The recovery that Canada has made Mr. Hanson attributes in large measure to the influence of the Ottawa agreements which have provided the Dominion with preferential markets in the United Kingdom, greatest importing nation in the world, as well as in the other Dominions.

VESSEL IS REFLOATED

Effort to Release Stranded Steamer Victoria Proved Successful This Morning

Up to last night, the Alaska Steamship Co.'s Alaska liner Victoria, which stranded in a snowstorm on Pointers Island in Lama Passage near Bella Bella, was still fast ashore despite efforts which had been made to refloat her. She was, however, successfully pulled off at 9 o'clock this morning. The salvage tugs Skookum No. 2 and Griffco and the United States coastguard cutter were standing by and refloated the vessel.

It was announced that, as damage from the stranding was not found to be too serious, the Victoria was going to Ketchikan and other Alaska points after refloating.

THIS IS THE TIME

This is the time to consider what is going to be done this year in regard to beautifying the city. The city of Victoria is already laying plans for 1935 to make the city more attractive to tourists and others as well as a source of enjoyment to the home people. They have found that beautifying pays.

In Prince Rupert we are making good progress. Many took up the work last year for the first time and others will follow soon. It is hoped that this year will see many more citizens join the ranks of enthusiastic gardeners.

One of the encouraging signs of the past season has been the number of people who are renting houses who have started gardens. Landlords might well make an allowance in rent to those who keep their places neat and tidy and once they are laid out and planted they should insist that the tenants keep them cultivated. In that way one of the problems of beautification would be overcome.

MIGHT BE BEAUTY SPOT

Since the hole at the back of the Court House is being converted into what promises to be a beautiful sunken garden, we hope some organization will take hold of the old railway hotel site and convert it into a sunken garden. The water is already there. The land has already been levelled at the bottom. Artistic trees are growing and the cost of converting it into a garden would be comparatively small. It would be necessary to secure a lease of the property from the Canadian National but it seems likely that could be done without difficulty.

Possibly the Canadian National might be induced to beautify that spot. If it were converted into a garden it might easily be the prettiest spot in Prince Rupert and would be something that all tourists would wish to see. With conditions improving on the railway it would be a great thing to have the sunken garden there for tourists to see and admire. Nothing that could be done in the city would give as good results as this spot which is today only an eyesore.

CITY DID GOOD WORK

The city has done some good work in beautifying the city property between the city hall and the end of Fourth Avenue on either side of the winding path and also in the plot where the handball court was formerly located. It is hoped that this good work will continue and be extended so that we can all feel that the city is taking the lead in the work of improvement.

This beautification work is one in which all citizens may join. It would be a great thing to have Prince Rupert known as "The City of Roses," one of the most beautiful spots on the continent. It is quite within the realms of possibility. All that is needed is united action.

Local Regiment to be Reorganized
 And Recruited to Strength in New Armory Acquired For the Purpose

First Annual New Year Reception Held Yesterday in Building Constructed as Result of Splendid Co-operative Effort

One of the most outstanding examples of the effectiveness of local co-operation and effort was seen yesterday by those who attended the annual New Year reception at the Armory of the First North B. C. Regiment, 102nd Battalion, the first to be held in the new building, formerly the Auditorium. The property was purchased for the purpose for which it is now being used, partly rebuilt from the local regimental fund and when the money was all used, the members of the regiment got busy and did what work they could themselves, spending long evenings and holidays using the hammer and saw to such good effect that it has been possible to move regimental headquarters into the building and hold a most delightful New Year reception there.

Possibly the most noticeable piece of work done by the amateur carpenters is the officers' mess room which is very artistically paneled with fir veneer, the whole of the work in the room being the work of the officers themselves with the exception of the floor. The sergeants' messroom has been prepared by the sergeants and all have been aided by war veterans and former members of the regiment who are carpenters and who gave their services.

When the remains of the building were purchased for the regiment from L. J. Marren, following the fire which destroyed a great deal of it, the sum of five thousand dollars was expended on the main part of the structure. This exhausted the regimental fund and it was then decided to proceed with the work using volunteer labor.

While there is much to be done yet, the hall is now in condition to be used regularly by the regiment. The money received from the Dominion government as rent, is to be applied to completing the building which, it is understood, will be done almost immediately. The men's recreation room is to be fitted up and it is hoped to install shower baths in the dressing room.

New Regimental Life

It is announced that the regiment will be reorganized and recruiting will commence almost immediately. With such a splendid drill hall, which can be made the centre for sports and games, there will be a great opportunity for creating an organization which will not only be a defense unit but will be a means of giving the young men of the city that physical development which is so desirable.

At the reception yesterday afternoon, which was very well attended, the visitors were received by Lieut. Col. S. D. Johnston, officer commanding, and Major C. V. Ewert, assisted by Captain A. E. Parlow and Captain J. S. Wilson. Lieut. Reid McLennan and Dr. J. H. Carson, the regimental medical officer, were in charge of the refreshments in the men's gallery and Lieut. G. A. Rix and Lieut. J. T. Harvey served tea in the officers' mess. Excellent music for dancing was supplied by Mrs. Black's Orchestra.

The regiment has been the recipient of several useful pieces of furniture and appropriate pictures which have proved very acceptable.

CANADIAN CAVALCADE

The Proof of
Canada's Progress
SOME FACTS AND FIGURES

- 1 Though ranking but twenty-eighth in point of population, Canada has consolidated her position as fifth among the great exporting nations of the world. For the first eleven months of 1934—as compared with the corresponding period of 1933—the total merchandise trade of Canada increased in value by $221,000,000, or 26 per cent.
- 2 During the same period, the merchandise exports of Canada increased by $111,900,000, as compared with 1933, and imports by $109,000,000, whilst the balance of trade in 1934 (eleven months) was favourable to the extent of $124,000,000, a gain of $4,000,000 over 1933. This is exclusive of a net balance of $83,000,000 of exports of bullion, nearly all newly-mined Canadian gold.
- 3 In the first ten months of 1934, Canadian exports to foreign countries increased by $29,000,000, over the similar period of 1933, and Canadian exports to Empire countries increased by $78,000,000.
- 4 Manufacturing output in 1934 shows a big gain both in volume and value over 1933. The index of industrial production showed a gain of 19 per cent for the ten-month period ending October 31, 1934 over the corresponding months of 1933. Output of pig iron and steel more than doubled; newsprint output registered a gain of 29 per cent; construction increased by nearly 40 per cent; output of cars and trucks by 36 per cent; tires by 34 per cent; consumption of electrical power reached a new high point in the history of the industry; and gains were recorded in almost every important branch of productive activity.
- 5 The volume of mineral production reached a new high peak in 1934, with a gain over 1933 of nearly 20 per cent. In 1932, Canada's mineral output was valued at $191,000,000; in 1933 at $221,000,000; while in 1934 it will exceed $260,000,000. Coal produced in Canada during 1934 shows an increase of nearly 20 per cent over 1933.
- 6 Lumber exports in 1934 show tremendous increases, a gain of 90 per cent being registered over 1933. Under the Empire trade agreements, exports to British countries have increased from 342,000,000 feet in 1932 to 623,000,000 feet in 1933, and to possibly 1,000,000,000 feet in 1934. (The exports for the first ten months of the year show a total of $92,000,000 feet). Exports to foreign countries, other than the United States, have also increased. The pulp and paper industry has resumed, in 1934, production on almost a normal scale, which, in itself, has provided employment for thousands of additional men in the woods and in the mills. The production of newsprint during the first ten months of the year exceeded that of any previous year, excepting 1929. The total value of pulp and paper exports during 1934 is expected to show an increase of $14,000,000 over 1933.
- 7 The estimated value of the field crops of Canada for 1934 is the highest since 1930, and exceeds the 1933 value by $113,000,000. The high quality of the Dominion field crops and livestock has again been notably demonstrated at the recent Chicago International Exhibition, when Canadian exhibitors won 17 championships and 32 first prizes. The grand championship for Hard Red Spring Wheat—the major award for wheat entries—was again won by the Dominion.
- 8 During the year 1934, Canada has not experienced a single major industrial disturbance—an impressive indication of the national stability of the Dominion's industrial life. Employment, one of the most vital indices of a country's economic position, showed a gain of 15.9 per cent during 1934. Compared with a year ago, 92,191 employees have been added to the pay-rolls of the firms reporting whose numbers have increased by some 500.
- 9 As a basic indication of industrial and agricultural activity, freight movement in 1934 registered a considerably higher level than in 1933. Car loadings showed a gain, for the first ten months of 1934, of 16 per cent as compared with a similar period of 1933, nine of the eleven commodity groups showing increases.
- 10 Total ordinary revenue for the Dominion in the first eight months of 1934 (fiscal year) amounted to $245,062,540 as against a total of $216,902,271 for the corresponding period of 1933—an increase of $28,160,269. For this same period, there is a surplus of ordinary revenue over ordinary expenditure of $1,604,449.
- 11 Gross postage collections in the first ten months of 1934, amounted to $1,213,560 more than in the corresponding period of 1933; this is indicative of increasing business.

AS THE YEAR 1934 passes into history, Canada can look back upon a period of unimpaired progress so definitely sustained that it has brought us to the pathway that leads to a sound, sensible, and stable prosperity. The advance that we, as a country, have made during the past year has demonstrated anew the inherent strength and stability of the Dominion. We have seen the faith to which we held so firmly in the darker days abundantly fulfilled—the confidence to which we clung in gloomier years triumphantly vindicated. With clearer skies above us, and with firmer ground beneath our feet, we have advanced with unimpeded progress along the road of national reconstruction and economic recuperation. It is at once a tribute and a testimony to the courage of the Canadian people that, to-day, Canada marches in the vanguard of the nations in their pilgrimage toward prosperity.

Throughout the past year, the pulse of our business life has grown stronger day by day. Canadian industry, through all its multitudinous channels, has felt the urge of a resurgent activity. The process of production has been steadily accelerated to meet an intensified demand for Canadian commodities, and, throughout the Dominion, our manufacturing plants have experienced a sustained activity that often challenged their capacity. Our international trade, so vital to the economic welfare of the nation, has seen an almost spectacular increase in volume and in value, and the trade agreements which have been effected between Canada and other parts of the Empire, as well as with twenty-five other nations throughout the world, have opened up new avenues of distribution, with ever-widening potentialities of business, for the products of Canadian farms, forests, and fisheries, mines and manufactories. And it is a significant fact—as well as a symbol of our progress—that employment in Canada has reached, to-day, a higher level than that of any month since the upward trend began.

Encouraged by the progress we have made, cheered by the brighter days we now encounter, sustained by the courage and the confidence which upheld us through the darker years, we can face, unafraid, the problems of the future. As a united people—yet each in his own place and endeavor—let us advance together to further heights of national achievement. Thus shall the great destiny of Canada be fulfilled, and all her people find happiness in the days to be.

Hon. R. B. HANSON, K.C., M.P.,
Minister

DEPARTMENT OF TRADE AND COMMERCE
OTTAWA • CANADA

January 1st, 1935

The Department of Trade and Commerce
exists to serve you
USE THE SERVICES IT PROVIDES

The Department now maintains thirty-four Trade Commissioners in strategic centres throughout the world—fourteen of them within the Empire. These Commissioners, who devote their entire time to the furtherance of Canada's industrial interests abroad, are selected by examination from Canadian university graduates, and specially trained to undertake the work they have to do as Canada's trade representatives abroad. Their duties are to increase the export trade of Canada; to link up the Canadian exporter with the foreign importer; to study conditions and needs of the territories where they are located; to make direct enquiries or conduct preliminary surveys regarding the potential market for any product, reporting the exact kinds of goods wanted, competition to be met, and the best methods of packing, shipping and billing. Their services are always at the disposal of firms and individuals interested in Canada's trade expansion.

All trade developments the world over are being constantly reported by these Commissioners to the Commercial Intelligence Section of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa. This information is always available, and enquiries from Canadian manufacturers, and others interested, on any phase of export trade are welcomed.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics, which operates under the Department of Trade and Commerce, supplies an analytical survey of statistics which forms the background of practically all industrial enterprise in Canada. The Bureau maintains this continuous analysis of facts and figures, constantly up to date, its numerous publications covering every important phase of the Dominion's growth or development; week by week, month by month, year by year. Its "Monthly Review of Business Statistics" is a particularly valuable analysis from the business man's standpoint. The Canada Year-Book, which is published by the Bureau, is possibly the most valuable compendium of information on the business of Canada, viewed from every possible standpoint, that can be obtained; it is the text book of Canadian economic progress.

Other activities of the Department of Trade and Commerce include: the constant study of world tariffs and their application to Canadian trade; the inspection of gas and electrical appliances; the subsidizing of steamship services towards the development of new markets; the advertising of the Dominion by motion picture films, by pictorial matter and by written copy; the grading and weighing of our wheat crops; the popularizing of Canadian products in the markets of Great Britain and elsewhere through the work of its Exhibition Commission in co-operation with its Publicity Branch; and a great many other services calculated to expand internal and external commerce.

Midnight Matinee Was Very Popular

Large and Jolly Crowd in Attendance at New Year's Eve Program at Capitol

The midnight matinee at the Capitol Theatre on New Year's Eve drew a large and jolly audience and the special entertainment proved acceptable to all. The program consisted of several vaudeville numbers and the feature picture "Melody in Spring" with Lanny Ross, Charlie Ruggles and Mary Borland. Contributing to the vaudeville program were the Prince Rupert Boys' Band, under direction of Bandmaster Robert Greenfield; Emilie Yamanacka and Sada Nakamoto in Japanese costume dances; Mike Colussi with accordion solos; Miss Hazel Smith of Vancouver with tap dancing and roller skating exhibitions, and Harry Astori, with humorous monologues.

At the midnight hour there was a novel prologue to usher in the New Year, little Joyce Gawthorne making a captivating Miss 1935 and giving a pretty ballet dance. Favors were distributed and merriment reigned supreme.

D. G. Borland, manager of the theatre, was master of ceremonies and S. C. Thomson was pianist for the evening.

Local friends were interested to see Major J. M. Tupper, former officer commanding the Royal Canadian Mounted Police here, in a news reel at the Capitol Theatre last week. He was riding at the head of a large detachment of the mounted police who visited New York a couple of months ago to take part in a horse show display there. Major Tupper gave a brief camera interview.

TWO FILMS ON SCREEN

Mystery "Return of Terror" and Comedy "Friends of Mr. Sweeney" at Capitol

A thrilling and chilling mystery drama "Return of Terror" and a rollicking comedy "Friends of Mr. Sweeney" comprise a double feature bill being presented this mid-week on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here.

There is not just one mystery but many, beginning with a series of arsenic poisonings in a night of error at a private sanitarium, in "Return of Terror." A novel twist is given to the baffling mystery through the vanishing and reappearance of an escaped prisoner from an insane asylum at intervals. In addition to the baffling mystery and thrills, there is a double romance with considerable humor to relieve the tension. Mary Astor heads the all-star cast which includes Lyle Talbot, Frank McHugh, Robert Barrat, George E. Stone and Irving Pichel.

A distinctive and well-balanced cast in the mirthful "Friends of Mr. Sweeney" is headed by Charlie Ruggles and Ann Dvorak, others taking part including Eugene Pallette, Dorothy Burgess and Dorothy Tree. The picture is filled with thrills and winds up with a smashing climax.

Roth Gordon returned to the city on the Prince John last night after having spent Christmas visiting at Queen Charlotte City.
