The world's latest marine terror bears little resemblance to the famous sea serpents of British Columbia and Scotland. The Amoy monster is said to closely resemble a man when seen from afar although no one has been close enough to obtain an accurate description of the creature.

The monster is modestly clad in long black hair and is reported amphibous. Apparently it does not possess the long sinuous body and camel-like head attributed to the Canadian serpetns.

WINNERS OF PRIZES FOR BEST GARDEN

Theo Collart and G. Hillman Take First Prizes in Their Respective Classes

"I think the gardens in Prince Rupert are wonderful," was the remark of S. S. Phillips of Victoria, the judge in the local garden competition which has just been concluded.

Mr. Phillips han led in his decision to the officers of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society yesterday together with the score cards for each garden. Copies of 33.5c. the cards are being prepared for each exhibitor so that each may know the judge's opinion and the judge will be ready to further discuss the local gardens at the meeting in the City Hall tonight to which all interested in gardening are invited. Each garden has a possible score of 50 or which 15 points are given for design and layout, 10 for grouping and colors, 10 for borders and variety, 10 for freedom from weeds, and neatness! Sir William Watson Never Received The Full Recognition That Was His Due

LONDON, Aug. 15: (CP)-Sir Bay. William Watson, eminent English poet, died here yesterday at the age of seventy-seven.

Sir William Watson was a poet who never received the full recogtimes he had reasonable expectations of being appointed Poet Laureate, but the honor was invariably bestowed elsewhere. Possibly this was due in part at least to Watson's frequent criticism in verse of England's foreign policy of thirty or forty years ago. It was Watson who coined the phrase "Abdul the Damned," in reference to the then Sultan of Turkey.

Watson was born August 2, 1801 at Burley-in-Wharfdale, Yorkshire His father was a native of York shire, but became a merchant in Liverpool. Watson long retained at interest in the life of the Merse city. His verses in 1909 criticizing the building of a great Anglican Cathedral in Liverpool aroused ing on Saturday. MR. TRAVIS

The Part the C. N. R. Plays in Marketing Canada's Crops.

So essential to the trade, commerce, and general welfare of Canada are the various classes of freight carried in the course of a year by Canadian National Railways that it is difficult to give pride of place to any particular one, but in their all-round importance to every section of the community, agricultural products must rank very high. They form the back-bone of the nation's business activities and contribute directly and in large volume to its industry and employment everywhere.

During 1934 the C. N. R. carried over eight and a half million tons of agricultural produce, being an increase of 6.44% over 1933. In this total are included 134,700;000 bushels of wheat, 14,000,000 bushels of corn, 35,700,000 bushels of oats, and 15,500,000 bushels of barley; the aggregate of these commodities showing an increase of 4.1% when compared with the preceding year.

It is interesting to note that the average haul of each ton of wheat was approximately seven hundred and fifty miles.

Without the rail facilities of the C. N. R. no doubt some of this agricultural produce might still have reached a market, but it could only have done so at a much higher cost to the producer, and the quantity would necessarily have been negligible . . . for practically all the crops which enter into the figures above enumerated were placed in freight cars at points where the only rail transportation obtainable was that provided by Canadian National Railways.

These crops come from far scattered districts . . . in many cases from sparsely populated communities . . . but they are the result of the labours of men and women who each year create millions and millions of dollars of new wealth for Canada. In this work the C. N. R. is their partner and helper.

As is well known the crop movements of recent years have been much below normal . . . much below the standard of productivity of our prairies and agricultural areas, and much below the volume which the C. N. R. is equipped to handle. The figures quoted should, therefore, be considered in that light.

The carriage of agricultural produce is, of course, only one of the activities of the C. N. R. In every branch of rail transportation it is equipped to give the best of service . . . all the year round . . . under all conditions . . . economically, courteously, and competently. Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

> During the present Summer season the C. N. R. is providing special fares and excursions between points throughout Canada. These are exceptional travel bargains. The nearest C. N. R. Agent will be glad to give full particulars.
