Mr. Stevens was the only bolter from the Conservative party and his lining up with the opposition caused quite a sensation in the House.

Gold Mining On Nechako River

What May Prove to be Important Dredging Industry Under Way Near Prince George

PRINCE GEORGE, June 22:—There may be the beginning of a great gold dredging industry in the activities of the Nechako Gold Limited which have been under way for the past two months on the Nechako River opposite Milworth station on the C. N. R. The company management thought it would be ready to set its big gold-washing plant in operation and had issued an invitation to the members of the Prince George Board of Trade to visit the plant and see what was going on. It was in response to this invitation that President Geo. B. Williams and A. B. Moffat, Bruce Parker, R. A. Renwick, M. C. Wiggins, Earle Fulmer, W. L. Armstrong, Harry Bowman, E. H. Burden, Alf Holmwood, James Scott and M. S. Caine paid a visit to the scene of operations. The company sent a big river boat across to ferry the visitors over the swift-flowing Nechako, and a couple of hours were spent in looking over the machinery and the river bench where a start is to be made in determining the accuracy of the bench testings, and the efficiency of the company's gold-washing plant in the recovery of gold values.

OTTAWA, June 22:—Eight representatives of British Columbia relief camp strikers encamped at Regina were told by Prime Minister Bennett today that their "six demands" would not be complied with and that they could go back to the camps and await, as others were doing, the opportunity of securing employment.

Arthur Evans, leader of the delegation, after a hot exchange with the Prime Minister in which the strike leader repeatedly called Mr. Bennett a liar, was told to take back to his followers the decision that the government would maintain law and order. The hearing broke up in some disorder.

Hon. Dr. Weir Appeals For Co-operation in Education and Health

Aim of Minister to Substitute Knowledge For Opinions—Efforts to Promote Happiness Through Department Over Which He Presides

Asking the co-operation of people of every creed, race, party or section in his work of educational improvement and public health extension, Dr. G. M. Weir, provincial secretary and minister of education, laid before an interested gathering of Prince Rupert people last night in the City Hall some of the work that had been done by the this direction. British Columbia had no supply of radium for the treatment of cancer whereas poor dried-out Saskatchewan had attacked cancer in that way. It was the aim to banish fear of illness so that men and women would not fear to go to a medical man because he could not pay. To overcome this they were planning a hospital and sickness insurance plan and were asking the cooperation of all sections of the community to make it a success. A draft bill had been sent out and suggestions asked. It was the wish of the Government to have all sections and groups protected.

Turning again to education, the speaker defended the increased grant to the university. He told of the increasing use of the Government correspondence courses, especially in the relief camps. Even in normal times there were always permanent or seasonal unemployed. This made it necessary that adult education should be a permanent feature of Government work. He spoke of the failure of the present school trustee system under which trustees were influenced by trivial local prejudices especially in the rural communities. They were planning changes along this line and also changes in the

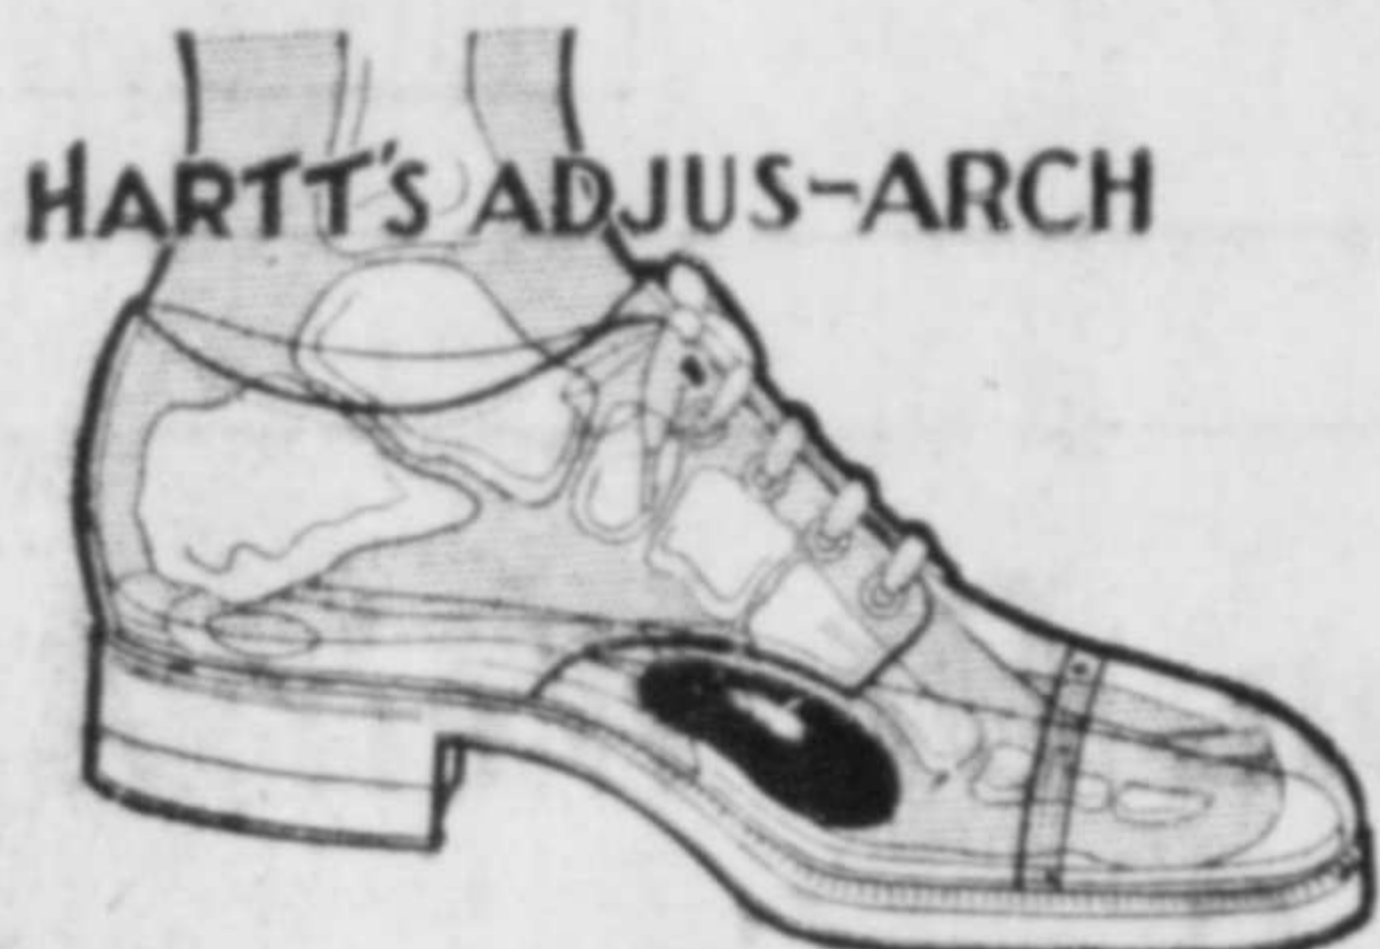

ODD VISITOR LAST NIGHT

Skunk Was Guest at Local Hotel For One Night and Visit Was Enjoyed

It is not often that a skunk is a welcome guest but there was one last night at the Prince Rupert Hotel and all admired the beast and wished it to stay. The skunk was a tiny creature brought in by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. MacDonald of Tulsequah by airplane from the south and was on its way to the wilds of the Taku mining country. It has to be fed on milk and is one of the prettiest pets imaginable. It is the mascot of the plane which arrived last evening and left this morning for Tulsequah where the plane will be located for the summer. It is the property of the Taku Transportation Company.

HUGE PROBLEMS

Hon. Dr. Weir, in an address last night, gave his audience some idea of the huge problems that have to be solved and the prejudices overcome in the campaign to improve the educational system of the province and particularly in connection with the drive for public health.

Health and happiness are so closely associated that the person who helps to make people healthy is a philanthropist of the most pronounced kind. If we can do anything to stop the ravages of cancer, tuberculosis and other diseases we shall have done a great deal toward making a happier world. If we give people training in clear thinking and allow knowledge to take the place of prejudiced opinion based on ignorance, great advances will have been made politically, morally and socially.

While we do not wish to make people think too much of our ills but usually draw attention to the brighter side of life, it is necessary to see the dirty corners if they are to be cleaned. Attention must be drawn to the ills of life if they are to be cured.

We feel sure the whole province is with Dr. Weir in his efforts to make a healthy province, an educated people and therefore, a happy people.

Junior Soccer Being Built Up

Efficient Executive and Referee Factors in Making it Succeed

The inclusion of a Junior Football game in the Dominion Day sports will give many people an opportunity of seeing just how promising the youth of our city are in this particular line of athletics. There is no doubt that the game of football calls for a considerable amount of skill, courage and team spirit. So do baseball and softball—but football makes an additional call, for every player must be prepared to go through a strenuous game lasting for two periods of thirty-five minutes each. This is a test that builds up the stamina. And the good old shoulder charge, the bodily contact that basketball forbids, is an answer to the primitive and natural instinct to try your weight against the other fellow, fairly.

The year after year success of this Junior Football League is undoubtedly due in a great part to an efficient executive of which

Sons of Canada Defeat Legion 9-7 To Tuck Away First Half Of City Baseball League

	W. L.		Pct.
Sons of Canada	6	1	.857
Legion	2	4	.333
Elks	1	4	.200

Sons of Canada assured themselves of a place in the play-off of the Senior Baseball League when they hammered out a 9-7 victory over the Legion last night to win the first half of the league season. The veteran Stan Morin was on the slab for the losers while Lindsay did the heaving for the Canucks. Both pitchers were in trouble on different occasions and Lindsay was pretty wild, issuing three walks in succession in one inning.

At the end of the second inning the score was four all and then the Legion took a three run lead in the fifth which began to look pretty big as the Canucks were held scoreless in the sixth. But in the seventh inning the Sons started a rally which netted them five counters while they held the Veterans scoreless in their final time at bat.

Gibson, new third sacker for the Sons of Canada, created a sensation when he came to bat for the first time in the second inning and he put the first ball pitched to him through the left field fence for a home run.

Score by innings:

Legion 3 1 0 0 3 0 0-7
Batteries—Lindsay and Gurvich; Morin and Bury.

TUESDAY, JUNE 25
S. O. C. vs. Elks

Jack Wilson, veteran footballer is the head, and the very capable members are the teachers, Miss S. A. Mills, W. W. C. O'Neill, J. Hutchison, A. Sutton and another old timer, Jack Campbell sr. This year the league has been very fortunate also in having the services of Jimmy Carroll, who has given splendid satisfaction as referee. Jimmy has shown a keen interest in the boys, and his quick and always fair decisions, coupled with his pleasing personality, have helped the games tremendously. A poor referee can spoil a game just as a good referee can make it successful, and Jimmy has certainly made a big contribution towards making the season the success it has been.

SPORT CHAT

It must have taken some thought, but P. K. Ghosh was inventive. He found another record to break. Ghosh now holds the un-contested world record for swimming with the hands manacled having remained afloat 62½ hour with a pair of handcuffs on his wrists. Ghosh!

A historian recalled the other day some of cricket's more difficult days. In 1784 the British government taxed the sport. To play a game each team engaged paid a tax on the playing pitch, balls and the bats. Only bats and stumps were duty-free. But cricket survived.

Jack Peart, former manager for Bradford City, who has acted as chief scout for Fulham for the last month or two, has been appointed team manager for that club. He may have a committee of directors to help him.

When Vito Tamulis joined the Yankees as a rookie pitcher, his mother couldn't read English. The family is Lithuanian. But when Vito started to win his American League games and become a star, Mrs. Tamulis picked up the language without delay. Now she reads the box scores.

What a South African debut it was for Jack McLaughlan, Canadian welterweight wrestler, who went to the southern Dominion for a series of matches! After throwing "Bullet" Myers all over the ring, knocking him nearly unconscious with elbow jabs, McLaughlan went on a flying tackle to finish the bout. He missed, landed on his head on the floor and was counted out. McLaughlan will be remembered as having wrestled in the Exhibition Building here two years ago this coming fall when he was Canadian champion.

Canadian swimmers don't let honeymooning interfere with their water work. Alfie Phillips of Toronto, former Canadian diving champion, went over to London with his bride, and announced he would compete in European meets. Irene Pirie of Toronto married the English swimmer, Fred Milton, and they are giving swim exhibitions.

Elks Will Be All Dressed Up At Capitol

The members of Prince Rupert Lodge of the B. P. O. Elks are "at it again" and are once more appearing prominently in the spotlight, theatrically speaking, having arranged for the presentation of George M. Cohan's most successful comedy with music, "All Dressed Up," in the Capitol Theatre on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, July 18. At a very enthusiastic meeting last night the various working committees were appointed, a cast and chorus of more than sixty ladies and gentlemen were selected and rehearsals will begin in earnest on Monday night.

The production will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lewis, who so successfully staged "The Beauty Shop" in this city several years ago and who are just returning to Vancouver after a trip which took them as far east as Halifax, presenting this piece in Toronto, Ottawa, London and other leading cities. They bring with them an elaborate outfit of costumes, scenery and electric effects and something very much out of the usual run of amateur affairs is promised the public.

"All Dressed Up" was written by George M. Cohan for his own starring purpose and enjoyed a run of almost two years in New York and one year in London.

Port Clements School Picnic

PORT CLEMENTS, June 22:—The Port Clements School picnic, in charge of W. R. Ashford, was held on Saturday, June 15. Thirty-odd grown-ups and children were piled into trucks and cars and set off for Tiell about 11 a.m. and did not arrive home again until about 7 p.m.

As soon as they arrived in Tiell nearly all the young people donned bathing suits and made a dash for the river. After a cold but refreshing swim there was a general rush for the lunch which the ladies had spread. Soon after lunch softball began and was followed by races and other outdoor games. About 5 o'clock everyone was ready for tea.

During tea T. Pearce told the crowd that Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Rennie were celebrating their silver wedding anniversary. The crowd promptly offered three hearty cheers and congratulations. Snaps of the couple were taken and also of the picnic spread.

Soon after tea a rush for the trucks and cars was made as each car full wished to be first on the road in order to see any wild animals that might be on the roadway.

A tired, sunburned but happy crowd arrived back in Port Clements declaring it had been the best picnic since last year's school picnic.

Hazelton Beats Smithers

HAZELTON, June 22:—The Hazelton-New Hazelton baseball team went to Smithers on Sunday and met the Smithers senior team. It was the greatest game thus far this season and perhaps the greatest that will be played this season. It went 13 innings and after the ninth it was anyone's game with a little edge in favor of the visitors but very little. The final score was four to three.

Norwich to Move Quarters

NORWICH, Eng., June 22: (CP)—"The Nest," home of Norwich City of the Second Division, English football league, is too small and directors are searching for a new ground. They are seeking an enclosure with accommodation for 35,000 people. The record for their present ground is 25,000.

Rev. and Mrs. R. P. Graham and six children of Massett, arrived in the city last evening on the steamer Prince John enroute to Atlin to which place Mr. Graham has been transferred.

W. Sully of Vancouver came north on the Prince John to inspect some mill machinery at Queen Charlotte City. He arrived on the steamer last night and will go south today.

WATERFRONT WHIFFS

Salmon Price Set—Trolling Still a Matter of Killing Flies—Halibut Board to Meet Soon to Arrange Final Details of Organization

The canners have set the price to be paid for salmon this season at 45 cents and this announcement seems to have been received with mixed feelings. Of course there is kicking. We all like to kick, but the price is higher than some of the fishermen expected, so there you are. It has been rumored in some quarters that all the fishermen would be offered this year would be 35c. Naturally the men want more, but we all want more. The difficulty is in getting it.

Trolling has not been good anywhere, according to reports current on the waterfront. One disgruntled fisherman stated yesterday that he was in the hole over the season's operations and he was not going out any more. "To Blazes with it," or some such remarks was his. "I've had my fill of trolling for this season. To work for about a dollar a day and spend all the time fighting flies is something I don't want."

The three packers—Bruce, B. & Y. and Charmine C—which came here to pack fish to the buyers are still tied up. As most of the troll fish are being handled through the association, there is nothing for them to do. Evidently they are still hoping.

In the halibut fishing, prices are slightly better than at this time last year. Twenty carloads of fresh fish have been shipped out this week, quite a lot of it American, the best week the dealers have had this year, they say. This week the half-cent a pound extra paid for American has been an attraction which has brought the boats to this port.

The members of the new halibut marketing board have been busy studying the situation but cannot go ahead until after the full meeting of the board set for Friday of next week. Two members of the board to be appointed at Vancouver are expected to arrive for the meeting when a chairman and secretary will be formally appointed. Everything so far has been tentative, subject to confirmation of the full board. The main object of the board is to provide for orderly fishing, preventing any boats from taking more than their share of the fish.

While fish prices have been slightly better this year, the halibut men say nobody is making any money so far although there have been some fair trips. Up to date only a few boats have divided over four hundred dollars.

Eli Skog who has had a herring pound at Butler's Cove is through with it and is now waiting for the season to open for seining.

Halibut schooners Melville and Gulvik are at the Lipssett ways painting and doing a little general overhaul during the lay-over.

Pete Bruno is thinking that there is not much money in boats. He loaned a man eighty dollars on a fishing boat and when he found it impossible to collect he got a bill of sale for the boat. It was in bad shape and it cost him over three hundred dollars to fix it up and then he found it was impossible to get a customer even for considerably less than that amount. To cap the climax the Oceanic Cannery claimed the boat on a bill of sale given them by the man who was operating it last year. That is the way Pete tells it and it is probable the courts will have to straighten out the differences. Even the winner will get only the boat and as nobody will buy it pos-

TO THE PEOPLE OF CANADA

I WOULD like to convey to the people of Canada the viewpoint of British Columbia in respect of our economic and political relationship to Canada as a whole, with suggestions as to how this relationship can be very much improved not only for the good of British Columbia, but for the welfare of Canada generally. I think it advisable to do so because I believe that the west understands the east better than the east understands the west. It is natural that this should be so, as a considerable portion of our population originally came from the eastern provinces and consequently have first-hand knowledge of eastern conditions.

British Columbia has been criticized in eastern Canada as having carried out extravagant undertakings and as having moved too rapidly in social and welfare legislation. With regard to social and welfare legislation, we believe that the benefits which are being received more than outweigh the cost. It may be well to note that other provinces and the Federal Government are now moving along similar legislative lines.

So far as extravagance in public undertakings is concerned, I think I may say that our record in British Columbia will compare favourably with what has taken place in Canada as a whole, although this is not necessarily a recommendation.

REDRESS DEMANDED . . .

Ever since Confederation this province has been suffering under a number of disabilities of which our present position is the logical result.

To remove these disabilities we intend to make representations to the next Dominion-Provincial conference, which we assume will be held early after the General Election, along the following lines, and for the reasons stated herein:

1. That there should be a commission to consider and determine the claim of the province for readjustment of its relation to the Federal Government in respect to matters arising out of the Terms of Union, and development since Confederation.

For a long period we have made representations to Ottawa in this and other matters concerning the Terms of Union between Canada and the province, and during the past year the present Federal Government recognized the principle of our claim and agreed to an additional interim payment of $750,000 on account of annual subsidy for the year ending March 31st last. The total of the previous subsidy and per capita grant was $875,000.

The per capita grants given to the provinces under the "British North America Act" were in lieu of customs and excise receipts which were surrendered to the Federal authority. From Confederation to March 31st, 1934, the Dominion has received in customs receipts in British Columbia approximately $347,000,000, while this province has received in return by way of subsidy a total of some $27,000,000.

GRANTS INADEQUATE . . .

Per capita grant of eighty cents per head, as fixed under the Terms of Union, was intended to make ample provision for the cost of local services such as administration of justice, education, hospitals. These services now cost the province eight million dollars annually, while the annual per capita grant received from the Dominion is less than six hundred thousand dollars.

2. Redefinition of jurisdiction over sources of revenue and taxation.

There must be allocated to the province sufficient sources of revenue to enable us to conduct public business in a self-respecting manner, while jurisdiction must be placed beyond doubt so that we shall not be in the precarious position of having our authority disputed in the Courts.

3. There must be a refunding of capital obligations to secure lower interest rates.

4. Redefinition as to exclusive jurisdictions in all matters possible in order to prevent conflict. Agreement also as to co-operative effort in all matters of common concern to the provinces and the Dominion, particularly in the marketing of products and upon what may be termed "social and welfare legislation".

5. Necessary capital for development of natural resources and public works should be made available to the provinces at lowest possible cost.

6. Absorption of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Canadian National system.

PROBLEM OF P.G.E. . . .

We have constantly pressed our claims for the taking over of this railroad by the Canadian National Railway.

Some thirty-four railroads have been taken over in other parts of Canada and amalgamated with the Canadian National system. More than a quarter of a billion dollars has been spent upon canals on the general credit of Canada. The Hudson's Bay Railway was built on the general credit of Canada. I am not mentioning these things by way of criticism, but to make clear our own position in respect of the Pacific Great Eastern, which is responsible for nearly half of our net debt.

The Pacific Great Eastern Railway had an agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific, which is now a part of the Canadian National system, under which all traffic originating in eastern Canada destined for the port of Vancouver was to be routed over the Pacific Great Eastern. With the amalgamation of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern into the Canadian National Railway the benefit of this agreement was lost because traffic originating on the Grand Trunk Pacific destined for the port of Vancouver is now routed over the Canadian Northern section of the Canadian National Railway. The Province of British Columbia had nothing to do with the amalgamation of the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk systems, and when the Grand Trunk Pacific was taken into the Canadian National system the agreement with the Pacific Great Eastern Railway should have been taken into consideration—but it was not.

AMALGAMATION SOUGHT . . .

Whatever our legal claims may be, there is no doubt that we have an unassailable moral claim and that the Pacific Great Eastern should be taken over by the Canadian National Railway and amalgamated with that system. We have suggested to the Dominion Government that this road should be taken over at its replacement value which, at the present value of the dollar, would be less than half of what it has cost the province.

I am glad to say that, due to mineral development, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is upon a much better financial basis than existed some years ago. This development, and the large tracts of timber tributary to the line and capable of maintaining pulp and paper industrial endeavour upon a large scale in perpetuity, assures the future of the railroad.

TRADE RESTRICTIONS . . .

7. Regional tariff adjustments or compensation in lieu thereof.

8. Adjustment of freight rates upon a basis of equality.

Adverse freight rates and tariff restrictions have resulted in an adverse balance of trade as between British Columbia and eastern Canada of more than fifty million dollars annually. This very large sum has had to be made up by favourable foreign trade balances and by borrowings. All these years we have been forced to buy in protected dear markets and to sell in cheap competitive markets.

It is obvious that this condition cannot continue indefinitely, and let me here say that notwithstanding our heavy unfavourable trade balance with eastern Canada, British Columbia has more than paid its own way in the Confederation of Canada by way of direct contribution to the Dominion treasury.

9. A permanent policy in the problem of unemployment. Primary responsibility for unemployment relief rests upon the Dominion. A national council should be set up with which the provinces, and through the provinces, the municipalities could co-operate.

Perhaps it would assist our argument if we reflected upon just what has been happening in Canada as a whole.

LIVED ON CAPITAL . . .

Ever since Confederation our periods of prosperity have been periods of heavy capital expenditure. Indeed it may be said that in considerable measure we have been living upon capital. Billions were spent upon railroads in anticipation of increase of population and consequent increase of business. Concurrently, billions were spent upon private endeavour while there was a steady flow of immigration. Some two billions were spent upon war.

Today there is no comparable capital expenditure. Immigration has been greatly restricted and external trade is less than half of its peak. Under such conditions, need we be surprised that we have unemployment?

Canada, with its tremendous area, small population and great variety of natural resources, must have an export market in order to prosper.

Retaliatory tariffs imposed by the United States have so far cut into British Columbia's timber export business with that country, formerly our best customer, that we have been forced to look for new outlets. In Great Britain we have found timber and lumber markets, but these are constantly in jeopardy by reason of keen competition from the Baltic States and from Soviet Russia.

TARIFF HANDICAPS . . .

As an example of the handicap created by restrictive tariffs let me cite the case of halibut fishermen on the Pacific Coast. American fishing boats operating in the same waters as Canadian boats receive two cents per pound more for halibut than the Canadian boats.

This province simply must be able to dispose of its primary products—timber, metals, fish, fur and agriculture—in order to prosper.

Tariff adjustments, however, take time, and meantime what are we going to do with the problem of unemployment, which is the most difficult problem immediately facing us?

British Columbia has probably been under greater handicap with regard to unemployment than any other province in the Dominion, by reason of the fact that nearly one-third of the single fit homeless men in Canada who are on relief migrated to British Columbia. Their presence here undoubtedly created great discord and unrest in the minds of the population generally. This has been very trying to industry as a whole.

On many occasions I have pointed out that private endeavour has done as much as it can in the re-employment of labour, and I have frequently suggested to the Dominion Government, and suggest here, that in order to meet the present emergent conditions of unemployment, the Dominion Government should advance money to the various provinces to undertake essential and desirable public works to do two things, namely, to meet a growing public need and to provide employment instead of the present demoralizing method of relief.

PUBLIC WORKS NEEDED . . .

There are innumerable directions for profitable public endeavour. In our own province money is badly needed for roads, bridges and mining trails. School accommodation has not kept pace with school population. Hospitals and other health institutions require money, our penal institutions likewise. There is necessity for reforestation, the building of water-works and other essential municipal undertakings. These are all of a necessary character so far as this province is concerned, while money could profitably be spent in other directions such as urban beautification and park development.

I have suggested to the Dominion Government that these monies should be loaned to the provinces without interest, but that the monies should be repaid by the provinces during the anticipated lifetime of the work. This suggestion has been called inflationary, but I venture to think that as we have the resources and the manpower, and there exists the need for the development of these resources and the profitable use of this manpower, that it is not an insuperable task to bring the two together, and it seems to me that it is our duty to do so in order to preserve the manhood of our country and the integrity of our institutions.

"Glorious weather, glorious sunshine, wonderful people." That is the way John P. Coyle, vice-president of the Carnation Company Ltd., speaks of Prince Rupert. He was here yesterday looking into the distributing of his product and of course he called at the Daily News to see the people who give them their northern publicity. Evidently Mr. Coyle believes in Prince Rupert and in the milk that comes from contented cows. He stands behind his product and tries to make the world contented. He says he is coming back for the opening of the new industry here soon.

BURNS LAKE

Don Sutherland, district agriculturalist, Smithers, after a visit to the Vanderhoof country east of here, is at present visiting the farms of the Ootsa and Francois Lake areas in the course of a tour of the entire district. He is organizing Farmers' Institute conventions next month as well as seed shows in the fall. Department of Agriculture officials, including possibly Hon. Dr. C. C. MacDonald, minister of agriculture, are expected to attend the conventions.

Mrs. A. A. Connon and daughter, Yvonne, are expected at Francois Lake early next month to pay a visit with Mrs. Connon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henkel. Mr. Connon has just taken a position in a mining camp in the south.

Albert Farrow, steamboat inspector, Vancouver, made an inspection Thursday of this week of the Francois Lake ferry. He returns to Prince Rupert this week-end enroute to the Yukon.
