Activities Around Egypt And Libya Do Not Bear Out Report That Issue Between Italy And Britain Settled

Port Boycott

Hostilities May Be Resumed On Larger Scale Following Two-Day Halt

LONDON, Nov. 7. (CP)—Further confirmation was reported in Paris yesterday that the Mediterranean problem had been "settled" on the basis of Italian troops in Libya being reduced and some British ships in the Mediterranean being withdrawn following the conference in Rome between Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy and British Ambassador Sir Eric Drummond of Great Britain and the subsequent meeting of the British cabinet. Premier Pierre Laval is reported to have been given a free hand to effect a settlement between Great Britain and Italy but it is not expected British government will make any move until after next week's election. In fact, the government today denied the Paris report that the Italo-British differences about the Mediterranean had been settled but it was said in official circles that Mussolini and Ambassador Drummond would renew discussions looking toward allaying of the tenseness between the two nations.

Despite the reported "settlement," reports came from Cairo that Egypt's western frontier had been closed to all unauthorized persons while military activity was reported to be taking place in the Libyan area.

Emery was taken to Okalla Prison to await passing of sentence which was deferred until the end of the Assizes.

The charges against Emery arose out of a speech he delivered on June 16 last.

Drove Last Spike

BARON STRATHCONA

Fifty years ago today, on November 7, 1885, in the presence of a small group of awed men an ordinary iron spike was driven into a railway tie at Craigellachie high up in the Canadian Rockies firmly uniting two railway lines reaching toward this point from eastern and western extremities of the Dominion and completing Canada's first trans-continental line under the name of the Canadian Pacific Railway. By that event Canadian Confederation became a physical fact and the Dominion of Canada then and there set out upon the path of national development along which it has since travelled so far.

Growth of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the intervening half century is a matter of history. Its expansion has mirrored the coming of age of Canada as ramifications of this first main line made their gleaming way carrying settlement and development into every quarter of the Dominion, while ships carrying the company's flag have become regular visitors at world ports on every ocean.

Although world embracing in its consequences, the driving of the last spike was a comparatively simple ceremony and the number in attendance was small.

After the spike was driven home by Donald A. Smith, the silence remained unbroken for a moment or two, each witness reverently silent with his own thoughts. Then a spontaneous cheer arose that awoke the echoes of Craigellachie.

The actual last spike was removed by Roadmaster Brothers to forestall souvenir hunters and afterwards presented to the present incumbent of the presidential chair, Sir Edward Beatty.

Deserted Professional Baseball To Take Up Religious Work Of Very Novel Character

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. (CP)—Rev. William Ashton (Billy Sunday), aged 72, former professional baseball player, who later became a celebrated evangelist, died suddenly last night at the home of his brother-in-law here of angina pectoris (heart attack). He was stricken while alone in his room upstairs and was dead by the time his wife was able to reach his side. In February 1933 Sunday collapsed with ill-health and had since been inactive.

"Billy" Sunday was the originator of the most dramatic and sensational type of religious service ever introduced to the American people. Turning from professional baseball when at the height of his career, he became one of the most successful evangelists in the country and even the large cities were unable to provide auditoriums of sufficient capacity to accommodate the crowds that sought admission to his revival meetings.

Canadian Fishing Company Now Using Prince Rupert as Centre For Canned Salmon Distribution

The Canadian Fishing Co. is now shipping canned salmon from its canneries on the Skeena and Naas Rivers and on the Queen Charlotte Islands to Prince Rupert for distribution to its western Canadian customers over Canadian National lines. The salmon is being accumulated at the ocean dock in Prince Rupert and approximately 15,000 cases of various varieties are already on hand.

Previously all this salmon was shipped to Vancouver for labelling and distribution but this has now been changed, thus bringing more payroll to Prince Rupert and more business to the local line of the Canadian National Railways.

All cases have to be opened and cans labelled and re-packed ready for shipment. An experienced crew of labellers will be employed as required during the shipping season.

For years it has been felt that Prince Rupert should get a share of the distribution of canned salmon produced in this district and the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has long pressed the matter.

The Canadian Fishing Co. is the first to make the break and, as it is confidently expected that the experiment will be successful, it may become an incentive for other canning companies to follow suit in future years and result in the start of a substantial movement of canned salmon through Prince Rupert. This company has always been a substantial supporter of local merchants during the canning season.

THE RADIO COMMISSION

Although many radio listeners are dissatisfied and think there could be great improvement in the system, and doubtless there could, we have to admit that the radio condition has improved considerably since the establishment of the radio commission and that the Canadian radio broadcasts are much cleaner than those in the United States. For that reason it is satisfactory to know that the work of the radio commission is not to be interfered with. For a long time people of British Columbia have been asking that a better broadcasting station be established in the south near the great centres of population so that people in more remote parts may be given an opportunity of sharing in the benefits of the radio commission programs. Arrangements it is hoped will also be made to have some of the programs given at Prince Rupert.

At the present time the radio commission is the only organization through which it is possible to arrange for national network programs. The alternative would be to have a big private corporation such as the National Broadcasting Company control all Canadian stations.

FISH DISTRIBUTING POINT

The Canadian Fishing Company is to be congratulated on its decision to assemble a considerable quantity of its canned salmon at Prince Rupert. For years the Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian National Railway have been trying to induce canners of the Skeena and Naas Rivers to assemble and label their fish here but without avail. There were difficulties in connection with inspection and marketing which it was said could not be overcome. Happily the Canadian Fishing Company is already represented here through its subsidiary concern, the Atlin Fisheries, and it has a competent manager resident here. He will have charge of the distribution of the salmon, much of which has already been assembled at the ocean dock.

PURE FOOD DISCUSSED

Dr. H. N. Brocklesby Speaker Yesterday at Luncheon of Gyro Club—Interesting Talk

Speaking before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, at its regular weekly luncheon yesterday, Dr. H. N. Brocklesby of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station scientific staff, gave some rather amazing revelations as to nefarious methods which were employed in food adulteration not so many years ago and described the development of pure food laws which had resulted in the elimination today of the most of these practices. Although there might be instances of food contamination still in Canada today, Dr. Brocklesby expressed the opinion that few of these were intentional but were merely as a result of negligence or ignorance. Dr. Brocklesby's subject was "The Food and Drug Act—Why and How it Safeguards Our Modern Foods," and the talk was the first of a series of four under the general heading of "The Ramifications of Chemistry in Our Everyday Life," which will be delivered before the Gyro Club in the course of the coming winter.

Dr. Brocklesby told how the adulteration of foods was common in all countries in the Middle Ages. His detailed consideration of food adulteration commenced in England in the Nineteenth Century. Substances commonly adulterated included bread, cheeses, pickles, wines, beers, condiments of all kinds, tea, coffee, cocoa, butter, etc. In many cases, dangerous poisons were used and deaths from adulterated food were not uncommon. Eventually, the authorities took steps towards the eradication of food adulteration, which was already subject to severe punishment on detection, and in 1851 an analytical sanitary commission was set up which was instrumental in the revealing of numerous fraud and neglectful practices, some details of which were given by the speaker. Reform was, however, difficult to bring about as the onus was on the consumer to prove adulteration. In 1875 the Sale of Food and Drugs Act came into force, providing for the regular testing of materials by government analysts.

As time went on skill in discovering adulteration increased and the more flagrant cases were eliminated. The technique of adulteration also improved and between 1890 and 1930 cheese contained barytes and tallow, tea contained starch, dust, iron filings and sand, ground apricot kernels were used for ground almonds, cream cheese contained little fat, cream was made from vegetable fats and dyed paraffin oil was sold as coal oil.

Situation in Canada

The first Pure Food Act had been passed in Canada in 1875, being modelled and operated along the lines of the British Act. Conditions of processing and manufacture were now under rigid control in this Dominion and it was safe to say that all major adulteration had now been eliminated. Such adulteration as existed today was chiefly in substances difficult to analyze. Jams and preserves were now the subject of a great deal of controversy. Spices and extracts often fell short of specifications. Milk was subject to periodic analysis. The present day organization provided for rigid inspection of foods and violations were subject to prosecution. The great extent of malpractice existed in cosmetics, soaps, etc. but there was little danger from the health standpoint.

Dr. Brocklesby closed with giving instances of work along the lines of fish food purification being carried out by the fisheries experimental stations in connection with canned salmon and such products.

Rain Helps Selassie

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 7.—Nature continues to aid Emperor Haile Selassie's Ethiopian troops in the defence of the country against the oncoming Italian invaders. Heavy rains having forced a two-day halt in the Fascist push from the north in the neighborhood of Makale. Meantime a major battle is declared to be brewing as Ethiopian forces concentrate 40 miles south of Makale to resist the Italian advance.

Addis Ababa continues to deny reports that Makale has actually fallen to the Italians despite the announcement from Rome that the city had been taken without opposition.

Two Italian bombing planes were reported here last night to have been brought down in the southern fighting area.

Overlooking Makale

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY, Nov. 7: (CP)—Poised on the rim of mountains overlooking Makale, their objective, two Italian columns comprising 100,000 men halted today to allow their supply train to come up. The march on Makale will be resumed at dawn Friday.

May Extend Embargo

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 7.—An appeal has been received here from Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia urging the United States to co-operate with the League of Nations in imposition of sanctions against Italy. Secretary of State Cordell Hull indicated yesterday that he would propose that an embargo be declared by the United States against export of war foods as well as fighting materials to any belligerent nations.

Emergency Light To Be Provided

The Prince Rupert General Hospital will not be caught again without proper emergency illumination as it was ten days ago when the city's electric lighting system went out of commission for several hours. This was insured last night when the hospital board, at its regular monthly meeting, decided to purchase three Aladdin lamps—one for the operating room and one for each of the two floors. The house committee was empowered to proceed with the making of the purchase of the lamps at once.

The house committee was also authorized to proceed with the making of repairs to a rather extensive leak which had developed on the second floor owing to blocking up of eave troughs. Frank Dibb, chairman of the house committee, reported that painting of fire escapes had been completed and a satisfactory job done.

HATCHERY TO CLOSE

Lakelse Fisheries Establishment Was Seriously Affected By High Water—Staff To Move

TERRACE, Nov. 7.—So extensively damaged was the Dominion Hatchery at Lakelse Lake near Terrace in the recent floods that it has been decided to close the establishment down and move the staff elsewhere, according to authentic word received here. The hatchery, a well equipped and up to date plant, has been in operation at Lakelse for upwards of twenty years. It is located in a canyon down which the sudden high water of the creek swept, carrying timber and debris before it. C. T. Hearn is the superintendent of the hatchery and has a staff of four men besides himself. The plant had taken a large amount of fry this fall.

Summer homes on the shores of Lakelse Lake were extensively affected by the high water. Some camps floated away like boxes and were dumped into the woods. The house of C. H. Orme of Prince Rupert was carried a distance of four miles.

The arrival of a work train on Monday caused false hopes for Terrace folk. Tuesday night a mail train came from the East.

General Health Of Nurses Excellent

No Tuberculosis Among Members Of Hospital Staff—Library To Be Added To

In her monthly report at last night's meeting of the hospital board, Miss Jean Harrison R.N., lady superintendent, stated that the men's floor was quite busy at this time but that it was quiet on the women's floor.

All members of the student nursing staff had been examined during the recent visit of Dr. Kinkade, travelling tuberculosis examiner. Miss Harrison advised the board, and all had been given a clean bill of health. In fact, Dr. Kinkade had found their general health to be excellent.

The board authorized the purchase of a number of reference books for the student nurses' library. The purchase of the books had been recommended some time ago by Miss Helen Randal R.N., inspector of training schools.

The Dionne Quintuplets

HAVE ALREADY USED

Over 20000 Tins of IRRADIATED Carnation Milk

ONE year ago this month, the Dionne quintuplets received their first feeding of Carnation Milk. And Carnation is the only milk they have had since — using over 2,000 tall tins. Bottle days are over, but these precious babies still get their Irradiated Carnation Milk.

The day Carnation Milk first went into the babies' bottles, the combined weight of the five little girls was 54 pounds. Today it is over 103 pounds. All have teeth, wavy black hair, and large brown eyes, and they are the picture of health. All walk with a little guiding. They drink their Carnation Milk out of mugs, and eat it on their cereal.

What a lesson for every mother in this story! Not only that Irradiated Carnation Milk is a safe, dependable, easily digested food for babies—but the important fact that children should go on getting their Irradiated Carnation Milk with its extra supply of vitamin D after bottle days are over.

Ask your doctor for a Carnation feeding formula for your baby. Write for two valuable free booklets — "Contented Babies" and "100 Glorified Recipes". Address Carnation Co., Limited, Vancouver, B.C.

HOLDING UP DELEGATION

Premier Pattullo Suggests That Conference on New Local Hospital be Deferred

At the suggestion of Premier T. D. Pattullo, the hospital board, at its regular monthly meeting last night, decided to defer the sending of a delegation consisting of President S. D. Macdonald and Vice-President W. M. Brown to Victoria to press for financial support from the provincial government in the building of a new hospital here until after the forthcoming Dominion-provincial conference in Ottawa. It had been proposed that the delegation should meet the cabinet next week but a wire from Premier Pattullo intimated that he would not be in Victoria then and advised that the delegation defer its visit until after the conference which has been set for the latter part of the month. The board considered it advisable to comply with the Premier's suggestion.

There was some discussion as to whether it would be advisable to send the memorandum to Victoria prior to the delegation going or to reserve the memorandum to be presented by the delegation at the time of its visit. Decision on this point was finally left to the delegation. Meantime, such organizations as the Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce, the Trades and Labor Council, Canadian Legion, Rotary and Gyro Clubs and Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, will be asked to endorse the new hospital project. Already the Prince Rupert Medical Association is behind the proposal. The suggestion is for a new 100-bed hospital on the present hospital site at an estimated cost of $300,000.

The deferring of the departure of the delegation will not affect the attendance of the managing secretary, H. W. Birch, at the annual convention next week of the British Columbia Hospitals Association convention in Victoria. Mr. Birch will leave tomorrow night on the Cardena for the south to attend the convention as official delegate of the local hospital. An agenda of the convention was received by the board at last night's meeting and referred to Mr. Birch.

WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

Bringing passengers, mail and freight, C. N. R. steamer Prince John, Capt. Dan McKinnon, arrived in port at 9:15 last night from Vancouver via Queen Charlotte Islands and will be here until 10 o'clock Friday night when she will sail on her return south over the same route.

No boats being in with catches, there was no sale of halibut on the local fish exchange this morning.

The halibut boat Tahoma returned to port last night after having delivered a catch of fish to Seattle. The Tahoma, although still American-registered, is now being treated by the American authorities as a Canadian vessel pending decision being made in the Alaska counts of the international status of the vessel.

Trains Expected To Be Running By First Next Week

Although it has been raining heavily in the lower Skeena Valley since yesterday and the river is rising again, local officials of the Canadian National Railways are not anticipating any further trouble with the line. Repair work following the recent high water damage is proceeding well, it was stated this morning, and the expectation still is that through train service may be resumed by the beginning of next week.

HAVEN'T you noticed that your happiest hours occur on days when you feel your best?

Have more of these happy days. You and all your family. Guard health while you have it. Keep on the sunny side of life.

The greatest enemy of health is common constipation. It may cause loss of appetite and energy. Certainly it kills enthusiasm! Yet it can be banished by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to relieve common constipation. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much pleasanter to eat this delicious ready-to-eat cereal than to take patent medicines. Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.
