HALIBUTTER GOES DOWN FLIERS AT LENINGRAD

Addington Sinks in Near End of Metlakatla Passage After Striking Rock Last Night

The American halibut boat Addington, inbound from the fishing banks with a catch of 9,000 pounds, struck a rock in Metlakatla Passage when almost in Prince Rupert Harbor shortly before midnight Sunday night, keeled over and was submerged by the rising tide. Capt. Ole Sovold and his crew took to the lifeboats and rowed into port for assistance. The Armour Salvage Co. dispatched the power tug Pachena and derrick scow to the scene this morning and it is expected to salvage the vessel today. The halibut catch, being submerged, is a total loss. There is no insurance on the vessel. Capt. Sovold stated this morning.

It was a dark night and the standing occurred through deceptive shadows, the vessel holding over too close to one shore. She struck about two hours after low slack tide.

Soviet Aviators Arrive There Safe After Abandoning 'Frisco Flight —Will Try Again

LENINGRAD, Russia, August 5 (CP):—Sigmund Levaneffsky, famous Russian airman, and his two companions, having turned back owing to oil trouble while nearing the North Pole on a projected flight from Moscow to San Francisco, landed here safely at 1:30 Saturday afternoon Pacific Coast time. It is announced they will essay the flight again shortly, returning to Moscow for the purpose. Repairs to the oil line, defect in which caused them to abandon the flight Saturday, are not expected to take long.

Climbing over the roof of the world, Levaneffsky and his two companions had been plying over icy Arctic wastes before being forced to turn back. Keeping in touch with Moscow by wireless, they at first reported the flight working out according to schedule and they expected to reach the Pole early Saturday evening, passing over Vancouver about midnight Sunday. Had all gone well, they intended to arrive in San Francisco about 10 o'clock this morning.

The internationally famous Soviet flier, with co-pilot and navigator, hopped off from Moscow Saturday morning (approximately 8 p.m. Friday, Pacific Coast time). The most dangerous stage of the flight would have been over the uncharted area between Spitzbergen Islands and Canada, a distance of 1800 miles, where a forced landing would mean almost certain death. It was during this stage of the flight that they decided to turn back.

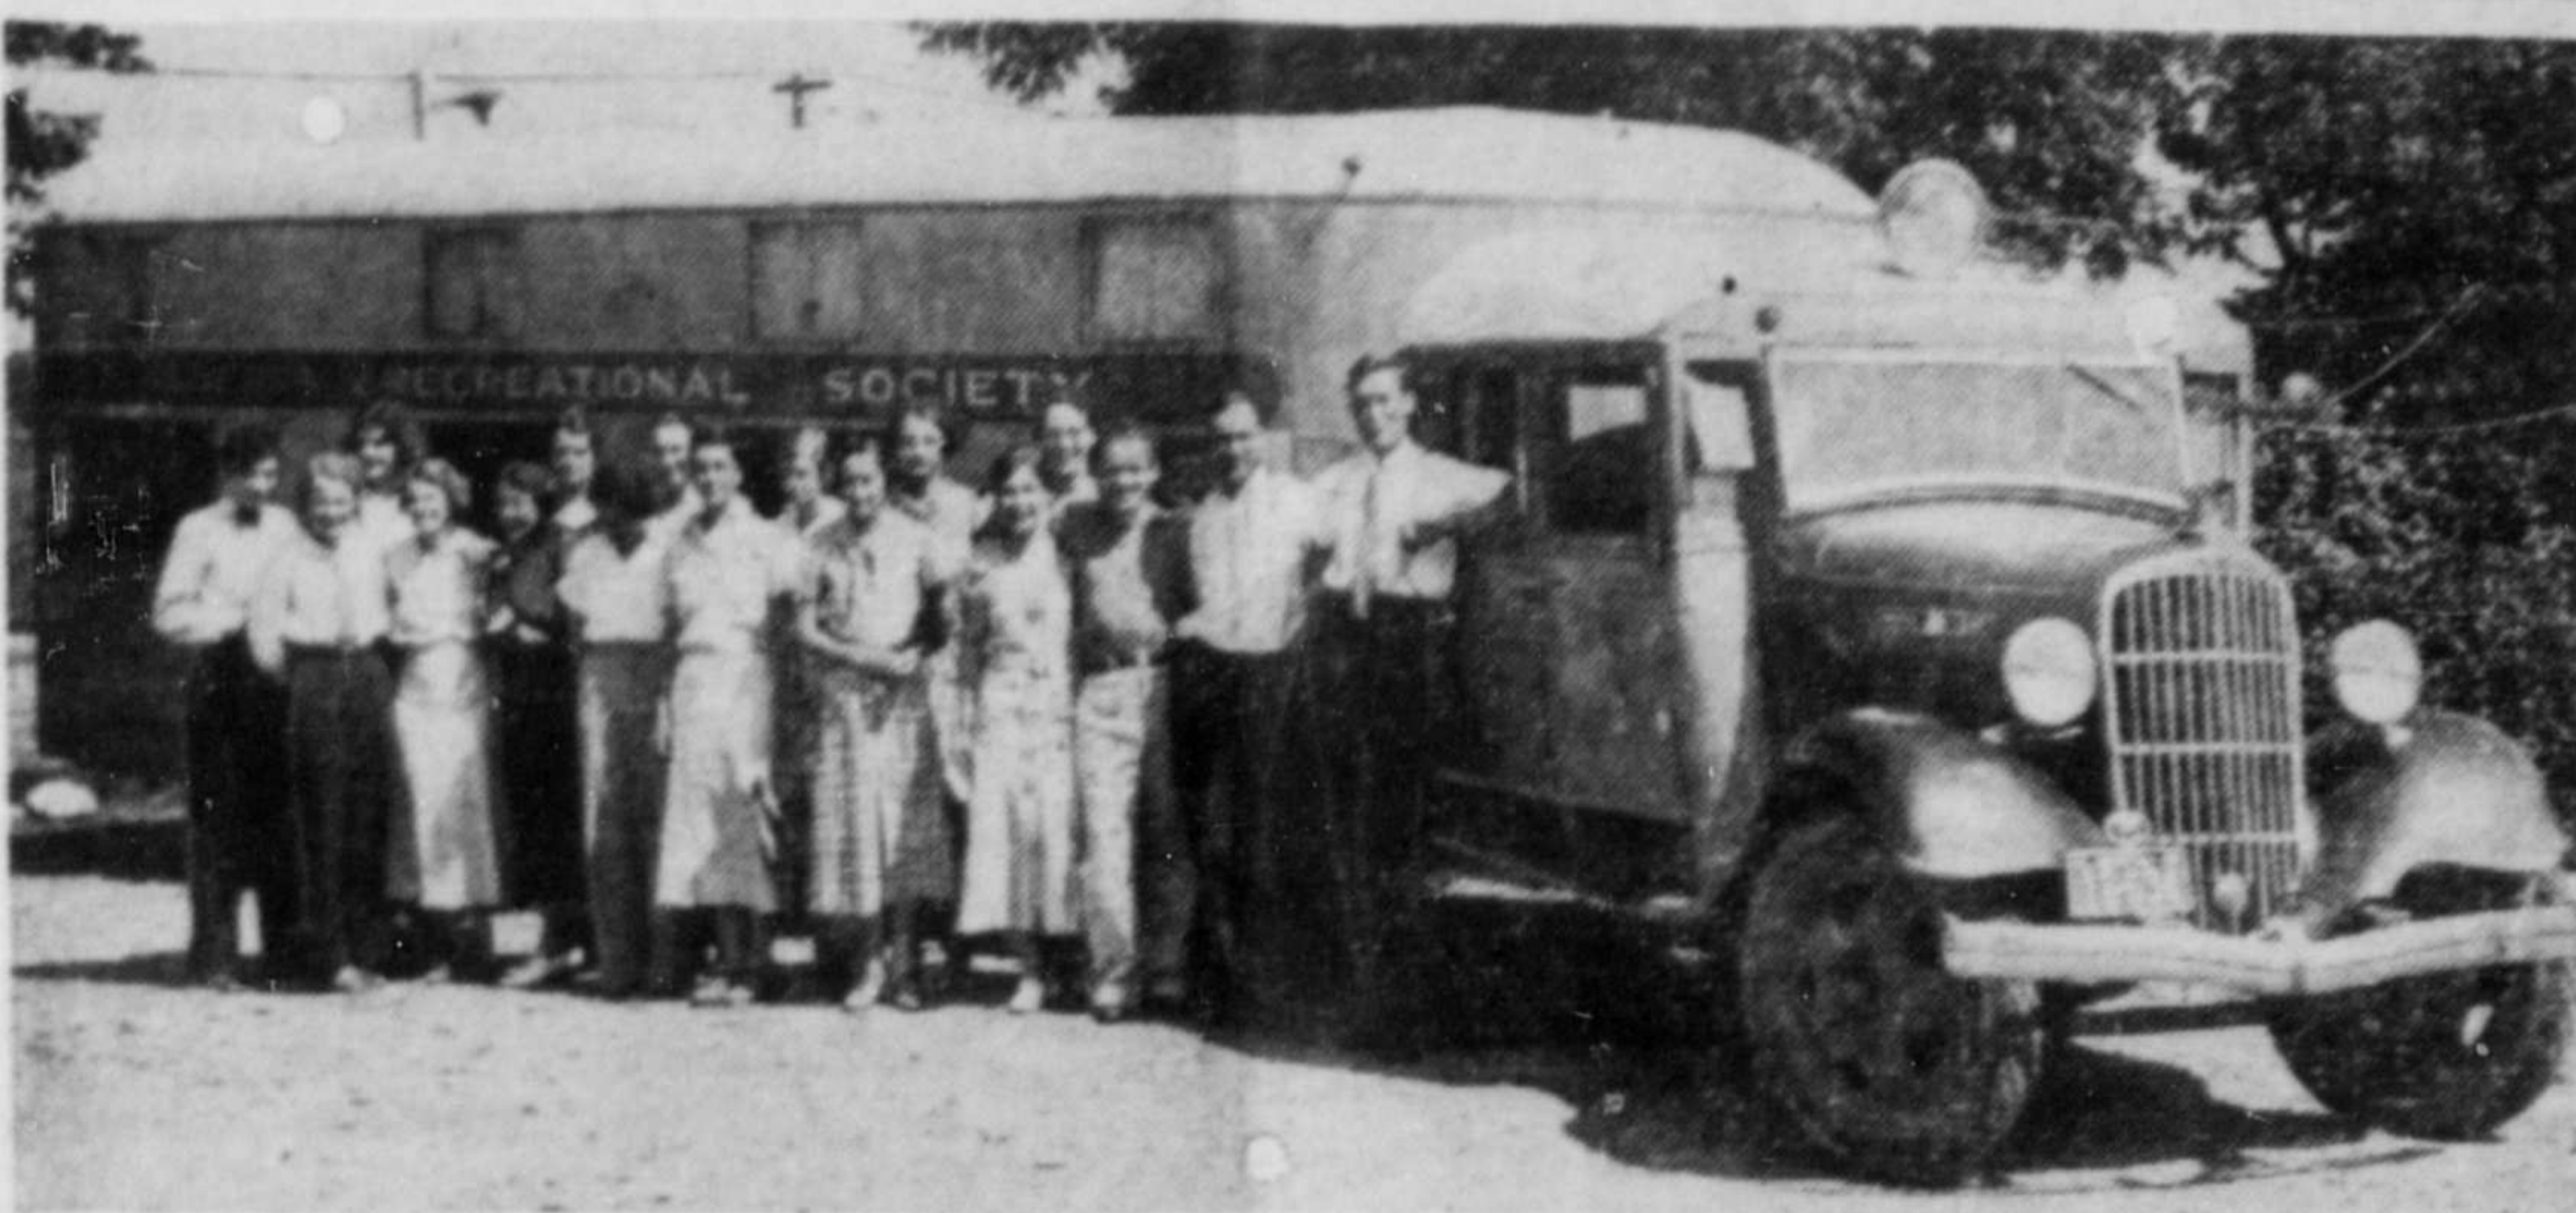

Arrangements had been made for the plane to keep in almost constant touch with powerful radio stations.

Alberta Women School Teachers Holiday By Bus

Alberta women school teachers believe in travelling during their vacations—and travelling as cheaply as possible. So they organized a club—the Alberta Recreation club and bought this bus to spend their holidays motoring. Thirty of the western province's feminine pedagogues are making a tour to the Atlantic Coast, from thence to New York City by this novel mode of covering territory. Three male drivers handle the vehicle. The teachers eat and sleep in the portable "home" and all report a fine time on the journey to date. Top shows part of the school-ma'am tourist group along with their "crew" and the vacation bus. Lower is a view of the dining room department, with a quartette of eaters busy in the rear section of the bus.

Head of Diocese Was Sole Eye Witness of Father Allard's Fate

Caught by Overhanging Bough of Tree and Swept Over While Power-Driven Canoe Was Navigating Turbulent Eagle River in Liard River District

Further particulars of the harrowing experience in the swift rapids of Eagle River between Porter's Landing and McDames Creek in the Liard River country when Rev. Father E. Allard, well known missionary priest of the north, was drowned three weeks ago, were described this morning by Rt. Rev. E. M. Bunoz O. M. I., Roman Catholic Bishop of Northern British Columbia and the Yukon, who returned to the city from the north on the Princess Louise Saturday afternoon. Bishop Bunoz was with Father Allard in the boat from which the tragedy occurred and was the sole eye-witness of the tragedy.

Father Allard was seated in the stern of the canoe which he was driving by means of an outboard motor. Bishop Bunoz was in the bow. They passed under the overhanging bough of a tree in the turbulent stream and Father Allard was caught by the bough and swept overboard. He disappeared at once and there was nothing for Bishop Bunoz to do but remain helpless in the boat until it was carried ashore about a mile downstream. There was still some food in the frail craft although part of the luggage was also lost including the Bishop's travelling chapel and some episcopal effects. After having been stranded on the lonely shore for about twenty-four hours, Bishop Bunoz attracted the attention of a freighter going upstream in his boat. The freighter loaned the Bishop two of his men and the journey was continued down the river to McDames Creek where the tragedy was reported to the provincial police.

First reports stated that the tragedy occurred in Cottonwood Rapids but this was not the case. They had been safely passed about twelve miles back.

BRIDGES TO TONE DOWN

Fiery San Francisco Longshoremen's Leader Advised To Try And Get Along

SAN FRANCISCO, August 5:—Harry Bridges, local International Longshoremen's Association leader, flying to Washington, has been directed by William B. Lewis, Pacific Coast longshore president, to curb his radicalism.

Named as one of three Pacific Coast delegates to the conference called by Edward McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, in Washington at the first of this week, Bridges was told to be in agreement with his two companions. "We do not expect any further trouble from Bridges," Lewis said. "He has been given to understand that he will have to go along with the coast delegates or be removed. In electing Bridges to the committee the delegates felt that he, as president of the San Francisco local, was the logical man to explain disputes which have arisen between shipowners and longshoremen."

DAILY EDITION  Monday, August 5, 1935

MACKENZIE KING SPEAKS

Declaring it to be suited to the needs of Canada today, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, Leader of the Opposition and virtually assured of being the Premier of Canada following the forthcoming general election, announces that his party will go to the country on the fourteen-plank platform enunciated in 1933. Proposals of the more venturesome members of the party may be added to the program provided the sponsors of these proposals can make out a convincing case as to their wisdom, Mr. King added. By inference, he lets it be known that he does not intend to permit the party to adopt any proposals that might not be in the interests of the country and that would be impossible of accomplishment. He does not intend to promise things that he knows or fears cannot be put into effect.

After all, the Liberal platform of 1933 provides everything that practically all the major groups in the field today profess to seek. The ultimate object of the various parties is ostensibly the same. The means of getting there, of course, may differ in some ways. What the people are, or should be, interested in is which of the means is the most likely to arrive at the commonly desired goal. This is what the voters should be studying out between now and the day of voting.

Our suggestion is that the various cases should be weighed in the light of cold reason, sound judgment and in a business-like way, dismissing prejudices, personalities, suspicions, sentiments, dislikes or such factors that often becloud the issues during the heat of an election campaign.

The electors might do well to consider before they vote which of the groups presenting themselves for public suffrage appears to be most competent by talent and experience to put into effect the reforms which all concede are necessary.

Which of the groups appears most likely to be in the natural course of events destined to be in the position of power after the voting? Which has the most candidates in the field? Which is the one in whose organization harmony exists?

Have we anything to gain by voting for a party the defeat of which is all but conceded, for a group that, seeing defeat of former colleagues inevitable, endeavors to get in control by the minority method, for an organization that goes into the fight handicapped through admitted impossibility of expecting support from the greatly preponderant portion of the electoral body, for any group whose best hope is to be in opposition?

All these are questions that the voters may quite properly ask themselves expressing their preferences.

It may seem somewhat hackneyed to suggest that, from a more or less selfish standpoint, a riding may expect to do better for itself by being in sympathy and represented by the group which will hold the reins of government and authority. Prince Rupert has had plenty of experience with having members sitting in opposition. Even the younger Mr. Winch of the C. C. F., speaking publicly here last week, admitted the futility of that position.

If we know what we want, why not adopt the most effective means of getting it?

PRINCE RUPERT WEATHER

H. S. Gunning of Denver, Colorado, a visitor here, likes Prince Rupert so much that he finds it difficult to tear himself away. It is a treat, he says, to get under three good blankets and a comforter and have a sound night's sleep in our cool, fresh air instead of having to throw off all the clothes and then gasp for breath. With its weather, its scenery, its fresh air, its genial people, Prince Rupert, this visitor declares, is an altogether delightful place. He is coming back again as soon as he can and is going to bring some of his folks with him.

Mr. Gunning's comment is but typical of what many visitors from the United States have to say of Prince Rupert. Undoubtedly, many of us who live here and take all these things for granted, unaware or forgetting the natural disadvantages under which many people of the world exist, are not fully appreciative of our blessings.

ASK FOR Kellogg's

The world's most popular BREAKFAST

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the largest-selling ready-to-eat cereal in the world. The reason for this is threefold: They're oven-fresh, they're flavor-perfect, and they're made from the finest ingredients obtainable.

When the Kellogg Company started making Corn Flakes 20 years ago, it changed breakfast habits the world over. People everywhere eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes—because no imitation can equal their delicious flavor and crispness.

When you buy Kellogg's, you get true value. Refuse a substitute. The original Corn Flakes are made only by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Here's Way Science Now Relieves Pain in Minutes

BAD HEADACHES, NEURITIS AND RHEUMATIC PAINS
EASED ALMOST AT ONCE

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain.
Aspirin eases even a bad headache
or neuralgia often in a few minutes!
An Aspirin tablet begins "taking hold" of your pain practically as soon as you swallow it. And Aspirin is safe. For Aspirin does not harm
the heart.

Remember these two points:
Aspirin Speed and Aspirin Safety.
And, see that you get ASPIRIN, the method doctors prescribe. It is made in Canada, and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet. Get tin of 12 tablets or economical bottle of 24 or 100 tablets.

Abuse of Park Timber Causes Official Ban

"Selective logging" for wood-cutting purposes in the city park area west of McClymont Park has caused the city commissioner to order that all falling of timber must cease for the time being, a notice to this effect being published elsewhere today. It is said that woodcutters have been selecting the very best timber for this purpose and cutting down forbidden trees, thus marring an area which it is hoped some day to develop extensively as a park.

Timmins Takes Patmore Mine

Important Interests Instituting Program of Further Development at Dorreen

The Timmins interests have become interested by option in the Patmore gold property on Fiddler Creek near Dorreen. A small crew of men is being put to work under Lyman Hinton, who leaves for the interior tonight, and the intention is to later institute a program of diamond drilling with a view to further developing the property. Considerable work has already been done and some unusual surface showings of gold have been opened up although heavy overburden has made the work difficult. A 12-foot vein runs over one-half an ounce in gold per ton. There are iron and lead sulphides with small silver value.

The original owners, William H. Patmore and Tom Scully, who located the ground last summer, retain a substantial interest in the property which attracted the interest of a number of companies who were prepared to take it, the Timmins interests offering the best deal.

The property is located some six miles up Fiddler Creek from Dorreen station and at an elevation of about 2000 feet above the railway track. There is four miles of wagon road as far as the Knauss property with two miles of trail beyond.

William Patmore is still prospecting in the vicinity and is to be joined this week by H. Agnew, another graduate of the University of British Columbia in geology.

He resided at 4897 Belmont Avenue and is survived by wife and three children.

Nora Jane at Dry Dock For Engine Overhaul—Prince George's New Whistle—Another Seattle-Prince Rupert Yacht Race Mooted.

T. A. Kelley Logging Co.'s service boat Nora Jane, Capt. W. L. Dass, has been at the local dry dock for the past week undergoing engine overhaul and will remain there until Saturday, it is expected. The vessel recently burned out a bearing and, while this was being remedied, it was decided to have a general overhaul.

In port from 5 to 7 o'clock Saturday evening, C. N. R. steamer Prince George, Capt. Edward Mabbs, on sailing from here for Vancouver, had a capacity passenger list. The vessel brought in 115 passengers from Anyox, the large majority of whom continued south, and quite a number of additional passengers embarked at this port including tourists who had arrived from the east by rail.

The steamer Prince George, on her calls here at the end of the week, caused some confusion owing to her changed and deeper whistle and, had it not been for the following siren, the vessel's approach would not have been recognized. The ship is at present using a borrowed whistle obtained from another steamer in Vancouver while the regular whistle is being repaired.

Aboard the steamer Princess Louise, which was in port Saturday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, were 191 passengers of whom 160 were round trippers returning south from Alaska. Included in the tourists were the Buchanan boys and girls from the Eastern States who had been almost two weeks in the north. Seven persons disembarked here while seven went south from this port.

Returning south on the third of four scheduled cruises to Alaska this summer, C. N. R. steamer Prince Robert, Capt. H. E. Nedden, arrived in port at 9:30 yesterday morning from the north and sailed at 3 p.m. for Vancouver. The vessel had on board a capacity list of 310 passengers including four who disembarked here.

George Bryant made a successful angling trip to Khtada Lake at the week-end, leaving Saturday evening and returning today. His party included H. S. Gunning of Denver, Colorado, who has been a visitor here for the past week and for whom the fishing trip was the crowning delight of a stay which was highly enjoyable. Mr. Gunning, who leaves by this evening's train on his return south, says he intends to return here as soon as possible, bringing members of his family and friends with him.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. A. E. Dickson, arrived in port at 8:30 last evening from the south and sailed a couple of hours later for Anyox, Stewart and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow morning and sail at 1:30 p.m. for Vancouver and waypoints. A good sized list of passengers included a number of round trippers.

Granby Co.'s service boat Granby arrived in port at 9 o'clock last night from Anyox, leaving at noon today on her return to the smelter town.

Suggestion that another Seattle to Prince Rupert power cruiser marathon such as was held a few years ago might again be arranged

COMEDIES FEATURED

"Times Square Lady" and "Ladies Should Listen" on Double Bill at Capitol

"Times Square Lady," a novel romantic comedy drama, and "Ladies Should Listen," a fast comedy farce, comprise an entertaining double bill program being offered at the Capitol Theatre here the first of this week.

The cast of "Times Square Lady" is largely composed of new stars who are rapidly gaining popularity. Robert Taylor and Virginia Bruce having the leading roles. Others taking part include Pinky Tomlin, well known phonograph and radio entertainer, who sings "The Object of My Affection" and "What's the Reason I'm Not Pleasin' You?", Helen Twelvetrees, Nat Pendleton, Raymond Hutton, Jack LaRue, Russell Hopton and Fred Kohler. The story is one of New York sporting and night club life.

Pure, hilarious entertainment is provided in "Ladies Should Listen" which depicts the complications that a young man about town in Paris gets into after acquiring an option on a South American nitrate concession and too many lady friends. Cary Grant has the principal male role while Frances Drake is pleasing as a telephone operator who tries to extricate him from his troubles. Charles Ray, former silent picture star, essays a film comeback as a doorman and, others in the cast are Nydia Westman, Edward Everett Horton and George Barbier.

is contained in a communication from Richard Froboese, chairman of the first race for the Seattle Yacht Club, to John Dybhavn of this city. Mr. Froboese's letter announced that three perpetual challenge trophies put up in Prince Rupert in connection with the race were being returned here in the event that another race might be held in which they would again go into competition. Of course, nothing along this line can now be entertained this year.

Returning south from a regularly scheduled voyage to Skagway and other Alaska points with a large list of passengers consisting mostly of round trip tourists, C. N. R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived in port at 10 o'clock this morning from the north and sailed at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Ocean Falls, Powell River and Vancouver.

Having on board a large party of tourist passengers for Alaska, C. P. R. steamer Princess Alice, Capt. Clifford Fenton, arrived in port at 9 o'clock this morning from Vancouver and sailed a couple of hours later for Skagway and other northern points whence she will return here Saturday afternoon southbound. The vessel had 144 passengers on board of whom six disembarked here while went north aboard her from this port.

Sockeye fishing in the Bella Coola and Fitzhugh Sound district has ceased owing to the run having petered out. It was reported at the Dominion Fisheries office this morning. Pinks are beginning to show up in the Bella Bella area, seineboats there getting about 1000 fish per day. A late sockeye run is reported in Buteedale Canal, the fish going to Gudenale and Klemtu for canning. Week-end boat averages on the Skeena River for the gillnetters were 30 sockeye and 75 to 100 pinks. The Naas was averaging 20 sockeye and 110 pinks.
