Connell Being Expelled From C.C.F. Party GOV'T IS ALARMED

WILL BE PUT OUT

Executive Ready to Make Expulsion Formal—Price Stands By Leader

VANCOUVER, Aug. 1: (CP)—The C. C. F. provincial executive issued a statement today saying that Rev. Robert Connell, party leader in the Legislature, had, by statements to the press, placed himself outside of the party. If Connell required formal procedure of expulsion, the executive would grant that formal-ly.

Jack Price, C. C. F. whip, today affirmed support of Mr. Connell in a letter to Dr. Lyle Telford, the president. He refused to attend a meeting of C. C. F. members today as it could not be representative.

"They can put me out, I suppose, if they wish but the onus will be on themselves," said Mr. Connell, declaring that he would retain his seat in the Legislature.

Dogfish Pest To Fishermen

One of Largest Runs in Years On Nova Scotia Coast

HALIFAX, Aug. 1: (CP)—One of the largest runs of dogfish in years is making its seasonal attack on Nova Scotia fishermen's gear, causing thousands of dollars damage. In some coastal villages fishermen have pulled in their nets to prevent further destruction by the shark-like fish.

Typical of the shore complaint is the story of Harry Purcell of Purcell's Cove. "The dogfish went on one side of my net and ate the fish in my net and then went around the other side to finish the job," he said.

Scientists at the Halifax Fisheries Experimental Station are working on a plan to lessen the destruction by the pests.

MR. CRAIG SUCCEUMBS

One of Prince Rupert's Most Colorful Pioneer Personalities Dies In Victoria

Was Artist

Created Distinctive Form of Etching Which Became Prized Throughout World

A telegram received today by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cullin of this city announced the death in Victoria, where he has been residing for the past few years of Morte Harley Craig, for many years a well known and colorful personality of Prince Rupert, who conducted a floral and curio studio here but who was best known for his works of art which were distinctive to himself. Mr. Craig had been living in retirement in Victoria since he gave up business here. His death will be greatly regretted by a host of friends. His first wife predeceased him a few years ago but he remarried. He is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. D. D. McTavish.

Passes Away

From the commercial point of view, Morte Harley Craig, did, perhaps, more than his share in "putting Prince Rupert on the map." From the artistic viewpoint through his own particular craft he had a talent that any city might well be proud of possessing. From neither standpoint, possibly did he receive his full share of recognition and appreciation.

Possibly, not many who were acquainted with Mr. Craig, who was born in California and raised in St. Joseph, Missouri, and his works knew that his artistic career was started by an accident that forty years ago he was a thriving mining engineer with a Colorado, that he started earning his living as a railroad man and rose in that business to the post of cashier in a large Pacific coast city and was later divisional superintendent in the northwest states.

But all this only leads up to the story of how Mr. Craig happened to become an artist and how, in that line of work, he was so successful—so successful, in fact, that people of this city, in their familiarity, may not be appreciative. Had Mr. Craig carried on his profession in some larger city, he would probably have been much more greatly capitalized. In fact, he had known his work to be much more greatly capitalized than it was here.

B. C. PEAK IS SCALED

Waddington at Last Yields To Mountaineers, Americans Succeeding in Reaching Top

KNIGHT INLET, Aug. 1:—The main peak of Mount Waddington, hitherto unconquered, was climbed on July 21 by Fritz H. Wiessner of New York and William P. House of Pittsburg, it was learned here yesterday. A cairn was erected at the summit after a hazardous climb believed without parallel in North American mountaineering.

Waddington, which has turned back sixteen attempts and claimed one life, for years has defied efforts of British Columbia and California climbers.

After the climb, Wiessner said: "In my twenty years' Alpine experience, I never encountered a harder mountain for its altitude. That goes for the Alps or anywhere else."

Dr. Neal Carter, director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, an experienced mountaineer, is one of those who in the past has attempted to scale Mount Waddington.

The Old Timers defeated the Youngsters in last night's exhibition baseball game in aid of the Boys' Band, the score being 4 to 3. The Old Timers made three runs in the first inning and the Youngsters evened it up in the third. The winning run came in the last inning with two men out. Jack Lindsay's three-bagger was the lustiest clout of the evening. There was a large and appreciative crowd.

Russian Airmen Expected Next Week Enroute to Moscow

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1: (UP)—Sigmund Levanevsky, Soviet aviator, announces that he hopes to leave Los Angeles on Sunday on a projected trail-blazing flight to Moscow, via Alaska. With him will be Victor Levchenko, co-pilot. Their departure will depend on radio equipment being ready.

They will fly a single-motored Vultee monoplane, their proposed route taking them by way of San Francisco, Seattle, Juneau, Fairbanks, Nome, across the Bering Sea to North Cape, and Wrangell Island, and thence across Siberia to Moscow. They plan to spend Sunday night at Alameda, then hop to Seattle and leave there next Wednesday for Alaska. It would be the most northerly route ever attempted. Levanevsky said. It is approximately the same route Wiley Post and Will Rogers were following last August when their plane crashed on the Alaskan tundra, killing them both.

A tall, strapping man with rugged features and blue eyes, Levanevsky is one of Russia's greatest air heroes. He directed the rescue of more than 107 persons from an ice floe in the Arctic several years ago and in 1933 saved Jimmy Mattern when the American flyer crashed in Northern Siberia.

Look For Adventure Speaking through an interpreter, he indicated that adventure was one of the compelling reasons for the projected flight.

"Although the route is not an easy one," he said "we are anxious to try it. We wouldn't be interested in making the trip if it were a regular route."

The pilot said it was possible in the interest of speed, that they would fly non-stop from Los Angeles to Seattle, not stopping at San Francisco. This depends on how conditions were found.

The Soviet government has already sanctioned the flight. To complete preparations, Levanevsky arrived in New York March 10 and came to Los Angeles June 15. Since that time he has been consulting various aeronautical experts. His plane is now undergoing final adjustments at a local factory.

MADRID, Aug. 1: (CP)—Spaniards who served in the army of 1935 were ordered to re-enlist with loyalists today as new rebel advances on Madrid alarmed the government. Hordes of Fascist reinforcements are reported strengthening the rebels north of Guadarrama Mountains. A rebel airplane was shot down by loyalist fliers over the Guadarrama area today as insurrectionists prepared for a drive on the nation's capital. THE RIGHT AND LEFT WINGS

The C.C.F. is once more in the public eye. It has a leader at Victoria who is highly respected and who, at the last election, attracted to his standard hundreds if not thousands of voters who had confidence in him. Within the ranks are a number of men, each of which feels that he would make a good leader and just now these have put their heads together to oust Mr. Connell. They tried the direct assault but without success. Then they tried to capture the C. C. F. newspaper, the Commonwealth, but again they lost out. They next turned their attention to the C. C. F. program and packed it with planks they knew Mr. Connell could not accept, and now they are making another effort to oust him from the leadership.

The average politician would have accepted the C. C. F. program, fought the election and then quietly discarded the planks which he knew were impossible of achievement. Not so Mr. Connell. He is too honest a man for that. He refuses to sail under false colors. He sees nothing but grief in political trickery. For that reason he takes the public into his confidence and makes it clear exactly where he stands politically. One of the outstanding features of his recent pronouncement is that he is unalterably opposed to any dealings with the Communists. He is too British for that.

We are glad that Mr. Connell is taking steps to purify his party. As leader he lets the people of the province know exactly how far he will go but he does not attempt to speak for all of his supporters. He prefers that each will speak for himself.

In view of the provincial election in Burrard within the next few weeks, it is very important that the position of the C. C. F. parliamentary group be made quite clear. If they are simply obstructionists, the people should know it. If they are asking the constitutionally impossible so as to create confusion, the people should know that. If the party is laying plans for a constructive movement for the betterment of the condition of the people, the facts should be made public. We feel sure that Mr. Connell has that as his aim. We are not so sure of some of the spicers of his party. In fact we have a grave suspicion that the C. C. F. is permeated with Communism, the aim of which is destruction rather than construction.

AFFECTED BY CROP

Prince Rupert should be getting a good price for fish. Wheat has advanced in price and with it will move up the price of flour and bread. Fruit is high and most of the commodities used in the house cost more than they did two years ago. All this is good for the country for the primary producer must get enough for the products to pay for his labor. Prince Rupert has neither wheat nor fruit to sell, but is a buyer of considerable quantities of each. In order to continue to buy she must get a good price for her fish. Already the tendency is upward and doubtless next year will be better than this. We do not mind paying a good price for food produced elsewhere as long as our own product is included among the commodities advancing in price. However, we have little to say about the price of fish as it is ruled largely by the prices obtained in the eastern centres and by the quantities and prices of other kinds of fish being offered there.

Australian Netters Show Their Wares

Youths Paddle Toward Pacific

Two Ontario Boys Are On Long Canoe Trip

WATERWAYS, Alta., Aug. 1: (CP)—A hot northern sun beat down upon two struggling canoeists today, far up somewhere in Canada's sub-Arctic. Their objective was the Pacific Coast, and their route lay over 1,000 miles of swift-running rivers, hard portages and wide lakes. F. Dixbury and T. J. Wood of Lakefield, Ont., spent much of their time canoeing in Eastern Canada. They thought they would like to paddle across the Northwest Territories and the Yukon. So they packed their duffle and headed for this "end of steel" 200 miles north of Edmonton. The two left Edmonton July 14. From here, they travelled by river to Fort Norman, 950 miles farther north. There, they set their canoe upon the waters of the mighty Mackenzie River and headed for the Pacific Ocean. They expect the trip to take two months. From the Mackenzie, Dixbury and Wood will paddle into the Rae River, then portage across to the Bell and down that stream into the Porcupine River. Finally they will reach the broad Yukon River, which will bring them out to the Pacific Coast.

SPORT CHAT

The Amateur Gymnastic Association is sending a team of eight women to compete in the Olympic Games in Berlin.

By a vote of 81 to 80 it was decided at the annual meeting of the Welsh Rugby Union to stage the international fixture with Scotland on February 6 at Swansea.

A two-year-old filly, Grand Tor, gained complete control of Gordon Richards, England's champion jockey, recently at Newmarket and galloped two miles before he could pull her up.

England's first cat racing track will be built in the village of Portesham, Dorset. The sport will be run along the same lines as greyhound racing.

Smart Dog Dead, Tricks Recalled

"Billie," Edmonton Canine Prodigy, Is Put to Death

JARVIE, Alta., Aug. 1: (CP)—No more will "Billie" run to attract Mrs. Emily Stanton's attention when the telephone rings. Never again will he lay on his back to have his feet wiped of mud before entering the house. For Billie is dead.

Billie was a dog, a pal of Mrs. Stanton for 12 years. His intelligence amazed visitors to this little town near Edmonton. But Billie was aged. His eyesight was failing, so Mrs. Stanton had him destroyed, painlessly.

Among feats credited to the wonder dog were his "winking" at pretty girls and his taking a dinner check to a bald-headed man. When a party was held at the home where his mistress worked, Billie would take the check to any bald-headed man in the party. The dog never would present the bill to a woman.

Park Memorial To Late King

Quida Vidi Lakeside Ideal Location With Beautiful Surroundings

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 1: (CP)—A memorial park to the late King George V will be established at Quida Vidi Lakeside and work on the project has been started. Commenting on the decision to convert the picturesque surroundings of Quida Vidi into a memorial park, the Daily News said in its editorial column the thought "fits appropriately into the scheme for a national memorial approved in Great Britain."

"The betterment of social conditions and particularly the provision of adequate recreative facilities for children and adults were thoughts close to the heart of King George and it is a splendid thing that Newfoundland is now to have a memorial and that it should take so fitting a form."

Canadian Halibut Landings Heavier And Prices Better—Well Known Local Fisheries Man Leaving—Canadian Destroyers Here

With August 10 set as the closing date for fishing in Area No. 2 and marketing restrictive regulations relaxed in the meantime so that the fleet may take as full advantage as possible of the time left, early August is expected to be marked by intensive fishing by Prince Rupert halibutters and consequent heavy landings. This became evident during the last week when landings by the Canadian fleet totalled 342,000 pounds which, with two weeks excepted, constituted the heaviest landings for any single week this season. In spite of the increased landings, prices showed a marked and consistent improvement which it is expected will be maintained until the end of the season as far as Area No. 2 is concerned.

Landings for the 1936 season up to and including July 31 had reached a total of 6,862,100 pounds as compared with 6,781,650 pounds at a corresponding date last year. The total Canadian landings had reached 3,822,300 pounds in comparison with 3,091,650 pounds a year ago while the American total was 3,039,800 pounds as against last year's 3,690,000 pounds. The past week's total of 522,000 pounds consisted of 342,000 pounds Canadian and 180,000 pounds American fish. The high price of the week for Canadian fish was 8.4c and 5.5c which the Melville and P. Dorreen received for catches of 18,000 and 24,000 pounds respectively and the low 6.4c and 5.4c paid the Atli for 21,000 pounds. For American fish the high price was 9.1c and 6c received by the Wabash for 7,500 pounds and the low 7c and 6c which the Rainier was paid for 36,000 pounds.

A compilation of halibut fishery statistics for the port of Prince Rupert up to the end of July shows that the American boat Vistor has landed the greatest number of catches for any single vessel at Prince Rupert during the 1936 season to date, having been in ten times with a grand total of 71,500 pounds of fish. The Frisco is second of the American fleet in number of catches landed, having brought in seven fares totalling 76,300 pounds while the Betty has landed six catches aggregating 89,000 pounds. In total poundage landed at Prince Rupert, the Tahoma leads the American fleet with 106,000 pounds in six trips. The Betty is second with her 89,000 pounds in six trips and the Atlas third with 88,000 pounds in three trips. Eight was the greatest number of trips landed by individual vessels of the Canadian fleet at Prince Rupert, the following having been in that number of times with catches: Bayview, 51,500 pounds; Bum, 52,000 pounds; Capella, 124,500 pounds; Cape Spear, 93,900 pounds; Fenella, 80,400 pounds; Thrasher, 48,500 pounds. Capt. Tony Martinussen's new boat Dovre B. is the heaviest landing unit of the Prince Rupert fleet to date with 129,000 pounds in seven trips, Capt. Dan Larsen's Capella being second with 124,500 pounds in eight trips and Capt. Edgar Arnott's Cape Beale third with 115,000 pounds in four trips.

E. Davidson, shed and dock foreman for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., is severing his connection with that concern and, with Mrs. Davidson and little daughter, plans on leaving Prince Rupert

August 27 for an extended visit to his native home in Scotland. His plans for the immediate future after that are as yet unsettled. Mr. Davidson has been in the service of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. for twenty years and is well known and highly esteemed in Prince Rupert fisheries circles. His departure will be regretted.

H. M. C. S. Skeena arrived in the harbor at noon yesterday for a six day visit which will conclude with her departure next Thursday. Commander Howard E. Reid R. C. N. and his officers and men are, as always, welcome visitors to Prince Rupert. The port will take on a double naval atmosphere next Wednesday with the arrival of H. M. C. S. Vancouver, Lieut. Commander R. E. Mainguy R. C. N., and for a couple of days both ships of the Canadian Pacific fleet will be in this port. It will be the second visit for the Vancouver here this summer.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. Henry Anderson, arrived in port at 7:45 last evening from the south and sailed at 10 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints. The Princess Adelaide, which had quite a number of round trippers on board, took some twenty passengers from here.

Again delayed by heavy freights for cannery points along the coast, Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 3:30 this morning from the south and sailed about an hour later on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Home Oil Distributors Ltd. tanker Dinamac, Capt. James McCulloch, arrived in port last night from Vancouver and is discharging fuel at the company's local tanks prior to leaving this afternoon to service the company's other fuel stations in this district including the Queen Charlotte Islands and Skeena River. Next week the vessel will return south. The Dinamac also brings reports of an unusually heavy salmon run everywhere on the coast with much fishing activity in evidence all the way with a single gap around Rivers and Smith's Inlet where the strike of gillnetters tied up fishing in the face of a big run. Capt. McCulloch has on board this trip two nephews from the United States who are finding the voyage one of much interest and enjoyment.

Big Run of Pinks
A big run of pinks is reported all along the coast, according to a statement at the Dominion Fisheries office this morning. On the Naas River the gillnetters are averaging 500 fish per day and on the Skeena, 200. The seiners are also doing well. Only in the Bella Coola district do pinks show any signs of scarcity. The sockeye run is also continuing to hold up splendidly with the average on the Skeena

WHERE CY PECK WON HIS V. C.

This was One of Places Visited by Vimy Pilgrims

(By W. W. Murray, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Close to the village of Dury, which lies about a mile north of the Arras-Cambrai road and about 11 miles from each of those two cities of Northern France, is a modest Canadian memorial which the Vimy pilgrims from Canada visited this week. It was erected to commemorate the bravery and the sacrifice of the Canadians in the battles which, opening on August 26, 1918, east of Arras, ended in the first week of September. Like Amiens, these operations were a series of actions each subsequent assault being a development of its predecessor. Battle honors for the period mark the engagements into "Arras - 1918" and "Drocourt-Queant."

Nine Canadians won the Victoria Cross here, and this group is unique in that two of them were officers commanding infantry battalions. Lieut. Col. W. H. Clark-Kennedy, 24th (Montreal) Battalion showed bravery of a particularly conspicuous character in directing the operations of his unit, himself being wounded, in the gruelling battles east of Cherisy. Lieut. Col. C. W. Peck, 16th (Canadian Scottish) Battalion walked calmly through a tornado of shelling and machine gun bullets to direct the path of the tanks near Cagnicourt.

It is written of Lieut. C. S. Rutherford, 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles, that for sheer nerve and undiluted bluff, the act which gained for him the Victoria Cross was hard to beat. At Monchy le Preux he stumbled on a fortified emplacement crammed with Germans. He was practically alone, but argued the enemy into surrendering. Two officers and 43 men gave themselves up, while later he was instrumental in capturing a further 35 prisoners.

Victoria Crosses were won at Drocourt-Queant by Pte. W. L. Rayfield, 7th (British Columbia) Battalion; Corporal W. H. Metcalf, 16th (Canadian Scottish) Battalion; Sergt. A. G. Knight, 10th (Alberta) Battalion; Pte. C. J. P. Nunney, 38th (Ottawa) Battalion; Capt. B. S. Hutcheson, medical officer of the 75th (Central Ontario) Battalion, and Pte. J. F. Young, a stretcher-bearer of the 87th (Quebec) Battalion.

For the taking of life and the saving of it was the Victoria Cross awarded; but its chief requirement was the performance of acts of bravery "in the presence of the enemy."

POLICE COURT FINES
City police court fines for the month of July totalled $450 as compared with $205 in the same month last year, bringing fines for this year to date up to a total of $2431 as against $1567 in the first seven months of 1935.

Thursday and Friday 50 to 60 fish per boat and on the Naas throughout this week 50 fish. The sockeye fishing season on the Skeena and Naas will close at 6 p.m. August 14, it is announced.

Southbound with a capacity list of tourist passengers, C. P. R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. S. K. Gray, is due in port at 3:30 this afternoon and will sail at 5:30 p.m. for Vancouver.

ECONOMIC SOLUTION

Dr. M. M. Coady Says People's Key To Happiness is Adult Education

CHARLOTTETON, Aug. 1: (CP)—The solution of present economic problems lay with the people of Canada and not the governments of Canada, Rev. Dr. M. M. Coady, Director of the Extension Department of St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N.S., told a public meeting here.

In Nova Scotia for the past six years, St. Francis Xavier University, through its extension department, has been endeavoring to convince the people of Prince Edward Island's sister province that governments to which they were looking continually for help were really themselves, the speaker said. And the sooner Canadians realized the fact that they were the government, the better off they would be, he added.

Dr. Coady expressed belief it was time that the people got out and did something for themselves and it was urgent that they learned how to go about doing that "something." Adult Education was their key, he said.

The Nova Scotia adult educationist declared: "If we do not solve our economic difficulties, our very civilization is at stake."

In past times, he continued, the masses were inarticulate, uneducated and unorganized and as a consequence a few ran the world by default. The result of that state of affairs had been that the ownership of America had slipped from the hands of the common people, he said.

Dr. Coady explained that the people had not lost ownership of their farms nor homes, but of stocks, bonds and finance which made up what was known as business.

Up To People
The situation's remedy lay with the people, he said. What was required was that they go out and "re-possess America," and "each one of us can take our part."

The re-possession would have to be accomplished through activity in four fields—consumption, finance, marketing and industrial production, according to the Nova Scotian.

Success of the crusade for re-possession would rest on co-operation in every one of the four economic fields. The successful result would be an ideally organized society.

Co-operative consumption, co-operative financing, co-operative marketing and co-operative production had been tried and proved successful. Their general adoption was the long sought solution to our economic problems.

Dr. Coady thought the greatest gift it would be possible to present to a people would be "the vision of what could be accomplished in an organized society."

Building of an organized society meant a change in the present economic set-up, said the speaker. But the present economic structure made for graft and was an ever present temptation for agitation to work for a great revolution.

He saw no reason why Canadians should resort to Communism or any other route which meant violence and brutality when there were other ways out.

Dr. Coady stated: "There is not too much time to put our system on a better basis." Work of reconstruction would have to be done quickly. There was a possibility that "we shall be caught by a great upheaval before the re-organization is complete," he concluded.

MR. CRAIG SUCCUMBS

us in many lines. Mr. Craig had no schooling in the artistry which was to become so notable a life work for him. Though he was a draftsman, even he himself did not realize that he was an artist. He left his flourishing mining engineering business in Denver for Dawson, going over the "Trail of '98," as so many others did, on sheer impulse. And it was to come about that Mr. Craig was not to be made or broken, as it was said the North would do, but to be remade, at least so far as his profession and such important material matters were concerned.

Commenced in Dawson

It was a simple pen ink sketch that a friend once saw hanging on the wall of his home in Dawson that turned Mr. Craig from his work of mining engineering to that of artist. The Ski Club was to hold the first big banquet ever given in Dawson and they wanted a banquet card. Mr. Craig was asked if he could make the cards for two hundred or so guests, and said he would try. Dawson was not slow in appreciating Mr. Craig's talents and, to make a long story short, that mining camp kept him at his desk from that day on—until he too "went out."

It was something of a school of his own that Mr. Craig developed on the way of art and his ingenuity did much to carry the name and fame of the city of Prince Rupert to many parts of the continent—even over the world—principally by means of the unique type of illuminated address that he devised.

By his own original means, Mr. Craig revolutionized to large extent the familiar and sometimes cheap article known as an illuminated address, elaborate as it sometimes may be, is a document that is soon pigeon-holed or forgotten. But not so with Mr. Craig's address. Even his simplest scroll of welcome had something of the ornate, something of the unique about it.
