Shows Value of Fishing Industry To Prince Rupert and Urges More Effort to Centre Business Here

G. W. Nickerson Gives Very Interesting Address To Junior Chamber of Commerce at Its Dinner Meeting Last Evening

"If all the business arising from the fishing industry in this district came to Prince Rupert, this would be a good city, pulp mill or no pulp mill," declared George W. Nickerson in an address to the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the regular dinner meeting last night in the Knox Hotel.

History of Industry Mr. Nickerson went on to review the history of the industry in this district with particular reference to the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce to secure changes which (Continued on page five)

HIS DEATH DEPLORED

Sudden Demise of George A. Woodland is Great Shock To Prince Rupert and District

Business, social and fraternal circles of Prince Rupert learned with a sense of deep shock and regret of the death yesterday afternoon in the Prince Rupert General Hospital of the late George A. Woodland, for twenty-three years local agent for the Imperial Oil Co. here, having been in charge of the company's large local interests ever since the establishment of the plant at this port.

Fifty-nine years of age, the late Mr. Woodland was born in Nova Scotia. As a young man he served during the Boer War in South Africa and took part in the siege of Ladysmith.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of the B. C. Undertakers. There will be a service at St. Andrew's Cathedral tomorrow afternoon and a Masonic service tomorrow evening after which the remains will be forwarded to Vancouver aboard the steamer Prince Rupert for interment.

Winter Depleted Western Cattle

Was Most Severe Season In History of Saskatchewan

REGINA, April 8: (CP)—Saskatchewan farmers are counting the cost of the severest winter that has ever visited the province. Estimates place the number of cattle lost on the prairies at several thousand.

Other farmers also report heavy losses. In some instances hides were salvaged and brought a small return.

SEATTLE LANDINGS

SEATTLE, April 8:—A total of 170,000 pounds of halibut was sold here yesterday by nine boats. Western fish received 6 1/4c to 6 3/4c and local fish 6 1/2c to 7c.

Veteran of Civil War and Pioneer Of Victoria Dies

James Casey, 86, Fought For Federals in United States Conflict And Became B. C. Prospector

KAMLOOPS, B.C., April 8: (CP)—A colorful career was ended here by the death of James Casey, 86, who fought in the United States Civil War and had been miner, prospector, railroad builder, freighter, packer, and rancher.

Casey arrived in Victoria in 1874 and went from there to the Cariboo district where he traded over the Yale and Cariboo roads. He mined in many parts of British Columbia and the Yukon, going as far north as the mouth of the Mackenzie River.

Later he took up a preemption in the Okanagan Valley near Vernon. He owned the Learmouth Ranch which was sold to the late Earl Grey, former Governor-General.

Casey was born in Ireland, one of a family of nine boys and one girl. There were enough boys in the family to form a baseball team, the "Casey Boy's Team," which, he used to say, was seldom beaten.

Hospitals Stand To Benefit From Health Insurance

A letter from the British Columbia Hospitals Association dealing with health insurance legislation and relations of the provincial government and the hospitals was read at last night's hospital board meeting.

As for the health insurance legislation, the provincial secretary, Hon. Dr. George M. Weir, had advised that hospitals would not be adversely affected but, on the other hand, stood to benefit.

In the matter of hospital grants, the provincial government was doing all possible, Dr. Weir had advised the association, and recognized the necessity of adequate support being accorded the hospitals.

Funeral Notice

The funeral of the late G. A. Woodland will take place at St. Andrews Cathedral Thursday at 2 p.m. No flowers by request.

Foreign Peace Plan

PARIS, April 8: (CP)—Peace, with permanent armed forces to maintain it, is provided for in a French plan to organize Europe with or without Germany as an aftermath of the Reich's breach of war treaties.

The French government was reported last night to order 175,000 men, about half of the strength of the French standing army, to remain under arms in the frontier adjoining the Rhineland until some settlement has been made of the crisis there.

Foreign Minister Pierre Flandin has moved for the removal of sanctions against Italy and, at the same time, has expressed himself as being opposed to the imposition of sanctions against Germany for violations of the Locarno Pact.

CREDIT TO WHOM IT IS DUE

A great deal of credit is due to Robert Connell, C. C. F. leader, and the other C. C. F. members of the Legislature who voted to save the Health Insurance Act when, by voting otherwise, they might have killed the bill and possibly upset the government. They felt it better to secure the health insurance bill in its present form than to kill it altogether. Their action lifts them out of the category of politicians and places them in the role of statesmen who some day may be trusted with the administration of British Columbia's affairs, if the people feel that they need them.

No matter how we may feel about health insurance at the present time, we can appreciate the motive which made these few men refuse to take advantage of a situation which arose in the House that might have been to their political advantage but which would certainly have killed the measure.

WILL LEAVE SCARS

The debate on the health insurance bill prior to the adjournment of the Legislature became at times acrimonious but it was something of a family difference. Had the Liberals been less strong there never would have been a break. As it is, with prorogation following closely on the debate, it is difficult to gauge the effect of the difference on the future alignment of the parties. It is probable that the insurgent Liberals will fall back into their former places but the rather caustic debate is bound to leave some scars that quite possibly may have an effect on future political relations.

The intermittent war upon Premier Pattullo in certain quarters ever since the election indicates that the financial powers fear him and his alleged radical tendencies. Evidently he did not seem to worry over the break but enjoyed the fight as much as the spectators. He is said to have had a smile on his face throughout. Now he is in Ottawa putting up another fight for the people of British Columbia and it is quite probable he will make a better showing than most people seem to expect.

DEATH OF LOCAL CITIZEN

The death of George Woodland yesterday afternoon came as a great shock to people of Prince Rupert. It was expected that he still had many years of service to give to the community and the company by which he was employed. His passing is deeply regretted by a very large circle of friends. Prince Rupert loses a good citizen.

The frost is coming out of the ground rapidly, the perennials are already showing remarkable growth and there is now every evidence that spring is with us at last. Just as soon as the ground is dry will be a good time to begin spring operations which have already been much delayed by the frost.

There is a ticket selling campaign in progress and the way they are going seems to indicate that there will be a large attendance at the annual banquet next Tuesday evening of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society. The great attraction for that event is the series of colored slides of beautiful gardens and of bulb farms which is to be shown immediately following the dinner. There will be a brief report from the president and secretary but, beyond that, speeches are taboo. Featured in the garden scenes are Butcher's Gardens near Victoria and the garden of Mr. Coulter, collector of customs at Whitehorse, Y.T.

It was wonderful how quickly the plants in the gardens seemed to scent spring from afar. Two days before the frosts ended there was a slight growth and, by the time the rain started, some plants had sprung up at least an inch. Dried up perennials which seemed dead began to show signs of life and, by this time, there is a general movement of most plants that have wintered outside.

Delphiniums which started to grow the beginning of March got a bad setback but, while badly checked, they are coming again and I do not think one plant will be lost, although they may be considerably weakened.

Pinks seem to have suffered badly. I see a number of gardens where they have stood the winters for years but the March frosts this year have pretty well done for them. Happily nothing can kill the auriculas and polyanthus and primroses seem to have come through quite safely, whereas last year they were mostly frost-killed.

There is much speculation over the rose trees. I know some of mine are all right but I am expecting thirty percent loss. A big Dr. Van Fleet at the back of the house facing easterly seems in excellent

The marriage of Miss Ethel Holtby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Holtby, to Thomas Bernard Bland O'Neill of Quebec, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Centre Street by Rev. F. W. Kerr, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, the rooms being attractively decorated for the occasion. The bridesmaid was Miss Laura Holtby and the groomsmen Lionel Holtby, Little, Miss Grant of Vancouver was flower girl. Many were present at the wedding and the reception which followed. The happy couple sailed on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver enroute to Quebec where they will take up residence.

Halibut production for the Pacific coast during the year 1910 totalled 52,006,376 pounds, the value being $2,650,880, official statistics show.

As a result of the "Battle of Kelly's Cut" the day before yesterday, fifty men have been arraigned before Magistrate Alfred Carson in city police court on charges ranging from intimidation to shooting with intent to kill. The prisoners are being kept in a special "bull pen" run up to the rear of the government buildings.

LONDON, April 8: (CP)—Edgar Chapman, for 20 years stage door-keeper at the Duke of York's Theatre, received a legacy of $500 from the estate of Miss Violet Melnotte, the late actress-manager, who left $87,000.

Condition ready for another big bloom.

I have had little luck with aubretia. Last year I sowed some seeds outdoors and the plants bloomed in the fall. All but one or two seem to be killed and even those are badly shrivelled. There is a two-year old plant in the front rocky that has kept green all winter and spring even when the frost was at it—worst and is now in line for a heavy bloom when its turn comes. The mauve arabis also has come through well although the late frosts scorched the leaves a good deal. They will be in bloom within a couple of weeks.

In my back garden I have a horseradish root which I do not cure. Anyone can have it if they have it at once. The first applying gets it. There is no cost. I want the ground for something else.

The thing about gardening is that you get interested in all your neighbor's places as well as your own. You like to compare notes, swap plants, yarn about your favorite flowers, get new hints on how to kill slugs and never use them. It's great to have a garden and be one of a wonderful fraternity.—H. Young Wife of Near-Centurian Expecting Her Second Child

NEW BERN, N.C., April 8: (CP)—At 96, George Isaac Hughes awaits the event that will make him a father for the second time within 17 months. His 28-year-old wife expects the birth of their second child—his 18th—in May.

Following the birth of his son Franklin Delano December 23, 1934, Hughes' claim as America's oldest father was confirmed by a group of specialists in a report published in the American Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Franklin now is a husky lad considered by doctors to be in perfect physical condition.

The Hughes' new child, lacking less than four years of being 100 years younger than its father, will have a "big brother" 59 years its senior. He is Benjamin Hughes, oldest living child of Hughes, born during the administration of President Grant Hughes has been married twice. His first wife, Sarah Ellen, bore him 16 children. He married the present Mrs. Hughes in 1933.

MANY AT MEETING

Junior Chamber Holds Monthly Dinner and Discusses Many Subjects of Interest

A number of subjects were discussed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at its regular monthly dinner meeting in the Knox Hotel last evening. Lee Gordon presiding. G. W. Nickerson was the guest speaker, his subject being "The Fisheries." There was a large attendance of members with a few guests, those present being Lee Gordon, G. W. Nickerson, G. P. Lyons, C. G. Ham, W. J. Raymond, D. P. Miller, W. J. Hicks, T. A. McWaters, G. L. Cripps, F. E. Scott, C. R. Allum, L. M. Asemussen, J. Bulger, V. S. Moore, Earl Gordon, C. F. Bartlett, J. M. E. Van Cooten, Ross S. Ingram, Hugo Kroupner, George Mitchell, S. J. Jabour, Jack Mussallem, J. E. Parker, F. Willan, Milton Gonzales, J. C. Gilker, G. L. Borie and H. F. Pullen.

It was reported that the sum of $100 had been loaned to the radio station by the club to enable them to secure increased equipment which would make the station more efficient. The equipment is now being installed.

S. J. Jabour reported for the Peace River committee that all arrangements had been made for the writing of the essay by the pupils of the schools in that district on Prince Rupert and the judges had been appointed. The Alberta section of the Peace was included in the competition, the winning student to be a guest of Prince Rupert at the time of the carnival in the fall.

No decision was arrived at in regard to the carnival, it being left over to see what was being done by the Boys' Band Carnival committee which the Junior Chamber was helping. The bringing in of outside talent, it was thought, would be necessary if the fall carnival was to be a success.

Campaign Disappointing
C. G. Ham reported for the museum committee. The sum of $86.25 had been netted so far for that institution. President Gordon urged that all members of the organization should become members of the museum association. He was frankly disappointed at the reaction of the public to their appeals for support for the museum. The committee was discharged with thanks. Joe Wickett brought first proofs of the leaflet being published for

TELEVISION BY END OF YEAR PREDICTION OF BRITISH RADIO EXPERTS

Television sets for £20 by the end of the year is the promise of British radio experts. The British Broadcasting Corporation has been working on television for several years, and is reported to be ready to manufacture through a London firm £2,400,000 worth of television sets. The above layout of pictures show television experiments being carried on in the B.B.C. building in London. Upper left, a dancing team. Right, a trained seal appearing before the television "mike." the use of tourists and it was decided to order 3,000 of these. Foster Willan reported for the clean-up committee that a parade was planned with the fire department, Boy Scouts and other features taking part. Leonard Cripps suggested the naming of streets and numbering of houses as being a worthy object for the chamber to undertake. Considerable discussion took place in regard to the furnishing of pictures and data for use in a southern publication which would be of great benefit in advertising this city. The opinion was expressed that the mines of the district were of tremendous value to the city. A resolution was passed asking the two big railway companies to include Prince Rupert to a greater extent in their advertising. The question of radio reception was dealt with rather humorously. The advent of the special trouble car two years ago was caricatured, it being stated that the chief business of the experts was to collect licence fees here. Silver dollars as a medium of exchange were endorsed. The Daily News is an A. B. C. paper.

Timely Recipes

SPINACH RING WITH CREAMED EGGS

Two cups cooked spinach, 4 egg yolks (well beaten), 1 tsp. lemon juice, 1 tsp. onion juice, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. nutmeg, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 3/4 cup cream or evaporated milk. Combine ingredients and turn into a buttered ring mold. Place in pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 30 minutes. Turn out on serving plate and fill centre with creamed hard cooked eggs. Hot buttered beets, creamed ham or salmon may be used instead of the creamed eggs.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR NATURAL "BULK"

Needed to Correct Constipation*

Most people recognize the seriousness of constipation. But too often they dose themselves with strong cathartics that often actually lead to chronic constipation.

The natural way to check common constipation is to correct the condition which causes it—usually, insufficient "bulk" in meals.

How can you get "bulk"? Fruits and vegetables have some. Bran has more. The most popular product of this kind is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

This delicious cereal is a wholesome food. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk." If not relieved, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN gives you gentle internal exercise. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

You can afford an ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

... because it will pay for itself!

There's no economy in being without an electric refrigerator. The hotter the weather gets, the more you'll appreciate the advantages of owning this invaluable electrical aid to home-keeping. The actual cost of the refrigerator is made so easy to pay by our really generous plan, that even young couples starting life in a moderate way of living list their electric refrigerator at the head of the needfuls. No question about it, the amount of money saved in food spoilage is really great. The amount saved by allowing you to buy meats, fruits and vegetables, dairy products and such things... in bulk... when the price makes it a big object... is also large. Consider the advantages from a health and comfort standpoint. The family's health safe-guarded from eldest to youngest by pure, fresh foods. Ice-cubes at hand for cool, comfort-giving drinks. Dessert-making made easy by the quick-freezing containers. The cleanliness of the white porcelain, the ease of use, the appetizing evening "snacks" easily put together from freshly kept leftovers! It's health-protecting, time-saving, money-saving, and the cost of running on present low rates is astonishingly little! Don't be without one another day!

SHOWS VALUE OF FISHING INDUSTRY

were beneficial to the fishermen and the port. At one time the canneries had a monopoly of the business and no one could open a new cannery and secure a licence and a share of the fishermen's licences, these latter being issued through the canneries. Propaganda of the Board of Trade at that time brought about a change. When the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company erected a cannery at Prince Rupert they were unable to operate at first and Supnyside was in a similar position.

The speaker told of the Sanford Evans report on the fisheries and of the campaign led by Colonel Peck to have it set aside. Then came the Duff commission under which licences to Japanese were to be gradually reduced in number, but which was not now in force. Following that commission gear boats were allowed to operate for the first time on the Skeena River in the fishing industry.

The Tolmie Government increased the fees, on operators which stifled competition and the speaker blamed the present administration for still exacting these fees. It was a very heavy tax on the industry. In 1934 the licence fees were as follows: Herring purse seine $25, salmon gillnet $25.00, salmon drag seine $25.00. On plants the licences were dogfish, fish offal and herring plant $250, herring dry saltery $500, herring cannery $100, salmon dry saltery $500, salmon cold curing $500, fish buyer's licence $25, salmon cannery $1500, gasoline tax one cent a gallon.

The per capita cost to the fishermen he calculated was $12 in addition to the gasoline tax and in some cases a school tax. The province received a revenue of $121,797.50 and the expenses in connection therewith was $15,530.99. J. P. Babcock was paid $1,000 a year as financial adviser and $900 as chairman of the halibut board. Was it any wonder that there were Bolsheviks and C. C. F. in the country?

Mr. Nickerson asked why a fish cannery should be taxed when a cannery handling farm products paid nothing. He regretted that the Liberals had maintained the taxes which had been levied by the Tories. He maintained that they were not justified. The province did not own the fish and had no right to tax the fishermen as they were doing today.

Mr. Nickerson urged the Junior Chamber members to take an interest in these matters and to use their influence to secure for the city the benefits of the fisheries which should accrue.

SPORT CHAT

Birthday greetings will be due tomorrow to Ebenezer Robertson (Ebbie) Goodfellow, Detroit Red Wings defenceman, and prominent figure in the Stanley Cup finals, born in Ottawa 29 years ago. Ebbie played his amateur hockey in and around Ottawa and entered pro ranks with the Olympics, Detroit's minor leaguers, in 1928. He moved up to the major league club in 1929 as a centre and this season ranks with the game's best defencemen.

Elmer Dean, the last holdout among the Dean brothers, has signed. Elmer, whose kid brothers, Jerome (Dizzy) and Paul (Daffy), came to terms a few days ago with the St. Louis Cardinals, stepped from the holdout ranks and signed a contract as peanut vendor at the Houston, Texas League Park this summer. Elmer is a perennial tryout with the Houston club. "I can't say anything about baseball if they'd give me a chance. They were cotton pickers, too, before they got in the big league."

Expedition Will Observe Insects

American Museum of Natural History Party at New Guinea

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea, April 8: (CP)—A scientific expedition, sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History, New York, will arrive here shortly to study insect life on the island.

The expedition is headed by Dr. Richard Archbold, airman-scientist. Three airplane mechanics and an amphibian plane will be included in the expedition. Base will be established at Daru, on the Fly River, and researches will be made towards the river's source.

The plane will carry ten passengers at a cruising speed of 158 miles an hour. Sufficient gasoline for 1000-mile flights will be stored.

Scientists Test Fire-Walking In South Sea Isles

SUVA, Fiji Islands, April 8: (CP)—Mysterious "fire-walking" activities of South Sea Islands natives have been investigated by a scientific expedition which stopped here on its way to Australia from England.

The group, headed by Sir James Purves-Stewart and Prof. David Waterton, London, Eng., tested two of the Islands' best-known "fire-walkers" before and after the trials.

In the fire-walking ceremony natives cross and return over a bed of glowing coals without apparent injury to their feet or bodies. Before the ordeal the natives adjourn to a nearby hut where prayers are first offered for their success.

The scientists, after watching the men moving back and forth in the fire-bed, examined the soles of their feet. They found them sensitive to lighted cigarettes or pin-pricks. The feet were quite free of any dressing before or after the ceremony.

The investigators, frankly puzzled by the strange ritual, were at a loss to account for the natives' strange power. Tests revealed their minds were quite alert after the ceremony. The bodies reacted in a normal manner to painful stimuli. No organic lesion was present.

Religious ecstasy coupled with repeated exposure to high temperatures, were advanced by the group as a partial solution to the mystery. Sir James Purves-Stewart credited some of the natives' insensibility to pain to religious frenzy.

The ceremony, the scientists discovered, was not a regular performance, but an infrequent and specially prepared occasion.

MID-WEEK FILM BILL

"The Rainmakers" and "Seven Keys to Baldpate" Here

"The Rainmakers" an exhilarating satire on science, farming and the railroad industry with the popular comedy team of Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey in the featured roles, and "Seven Keys to Baldpate" starring Gene Raymond and Margaret Callahan in the filmization of the very stage play comedy, comprise a mid-week double bill being presented on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here.

The story of "The Rainmakers" aces swiftly through scenes of the mid-west drought and fixes itself in a California bean-growing community where farmers see failure for their crops unless water can be brought to the parched fields. Here enter upon the scene "Roscoe, the Rainmaker" (Bob Woolsey) and his chuckle-headed assistant, "Billy" (Bert Wheeler). The merry story moves swiftly on to a climax which includes a wild, woolly and thrilling crash between two ancient railway locomotives.

The story of "Seven Keys to Baldpate" is that of the novelist, hero who goes to an inn in search of peace and quiet while writing a new book but finds himself entangled in a frantic effort to get possession of a fortune hidden in the resort safe. How the money is finally restored to its rightful owners forms the climax of the plot, one that is not revealed until after an hilarious series of exciting incidents.

Six Nurses To Graduate From Hospital Soon

Exercises in connection with the graduation of Misses Lois Studdy, Ruth Corbould, Evelyn Fairbairn, Bessie Haan, Sybil Hellawell and Clara Stegavig from the Prince Rupert General Hospital training school for nurses will take place during the first week in May, it is now planned. Full arrangements for the graduation exercises were left in the hands of Miss Jean Harrison R.N., lady superintendent, by the hospital board at its meeting last night.
