Popular Front Appears Assured of Majority In Next Deputies Chamber

Communists Increase Their Strength But Radical Socialists Are Expected to Carry on—Definite Result To be Decided Next Sunday

PARIS, April 27: (CP)—The Popular Front party appears almost certain of securing a majority in the next Chamber of Deputies following first balloting in the French general election Sunday which showed a decided swing to the left. With none of the individual parties likely to obtain a clear majority of seats the "Front Populaire" being a coalition of leftist groups, it is possible that Albert Sarraut may continue in office with a re-organized Radical Socialist administration. Gains for the united Left Wing forces had been anticipated by the majority of political observers. The Communists, as expected, have, apparently, increased their strength. The future Chamber of Deputies will be determined at the run-off election next Sunday, only about a quarter of the deputies having been elected yesterday.

Gishborne on May 23, 1934, on Saturday were granted a reprieve to November 6 by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison of the Supreme Court pending outcome of their appeal.

HIS DEATH IS SUDDEN

John Joy, Resident of City Since 1908, Expired as He Slept Saturday Evening

Sudden death as he slept at his home, 551 Ninth Avenue West, came at 7:30 Saturday night to re-serve John Joy sr., a pioneer resident of Prince Rupert since 1908. He had spoken of feeling pain during the day but there was no idea that death was so near and Mr. Joy's demise came as a great shock to family and friends. Heart failure was, evidently, the cause.

The late Mr. Joy came to Prince Rupert with his young family from England. He was born in Norfolk, England, sixty-two years ago. A plasterer by trade, he had been for years in the service of the sanitary department of the city. In addition to his widow, deceased is survived by three sons—William F. Joy of Los Angeles and Jack and Sam Joy of Prince Rupert—and three daughters—Mrs. Clara Webber of Victoria, Mrs. Florence Anderson, in New Zealand, and Miss Marjorie Joy at home. All will have the sympathy of many friends.

DIES IN PRINCE GEORGE

Word has been received in the city of the death at Prince George of Mrs. W. J. Allan, a former resident of Prince Rupert, Mr. and Mrs. Allan have been operating an ice cream and confectionery parlor at Prince George.

ANCIENT FLINTLOCK IS RELIC OF INTEREST FOR PRINCE RUPERT MUSEUM
A relic of more than usual interest was presented to the Prince Rupert museum Saturday by Capt. Alfred Swanson in the form of an ancient flintlock blunderbuss which is said to be at least four hundred years old and which came from an old Russian fort in Alaska, having been in possession of Capt. Swanson for years. It is a crude hand-made muzzle-loading weapon and is very heavy. The barrel, widening out towards the end in the ancient manner, is made of metal at least an eighth of an inch in thickness. No doubt, the old gun is replete with interesting historical associations, were they only known.

Unemployed And Labor Bodies In Conference Here

A conference of unemployed and labor organizations' representatives was held Saturday night in the C. F. Hall to consider making of representations to civic and governmental authorities with a view to obtaining a more adequate allowance for local unemployed. Ex-Ald. Oscar Larsen presided and Vernon Lehto acted as secretary.

TOMMIES GET NATTY NEW UNIFORMS

Here are shown two men of the King's Rifle Corps, at Aldershot, one in khaki and the other in the new blue patrol uniform, recently approved by the British Army. It is recorded that the army's decision to issue the new blue uniforms was motivated by a desire to accelerate recruiting, and the efficacy of the lure has been demonstrated even beyond most optimistic hopes, it is reported. Only one snag has been encountered. Drab khaki overcoats still are regulation, even with the blue outfit, and Tommy Atkins is displaying a disinclination to wear a mixed blue and brown costume.

Interesting Impressions Of Life in the South Compared With North British Columbia

Dr. and Mrs. Mandy Visited Many States and Learned Lessons From Them—Aimee MacPherson One of Wonders of the World

Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Mandy, who returned from a tour in the south last week, are both agreed that the conditions of life are more strenuous and the effort required to make a good living are much greater in many places they visited than in Northern and Central British Columbia and that in no place did they find living conditions more pleasant and generally conducive to happiness than were those at Prince Rupert. They found in some places men and women trying to eke out a living on the edge of the desert under terribly adverse circumstances. In California the cost of making a garden on account of the irrigation required was so large that gardens did not seem as general as in Prince Rupert.

Another matter in which both Dr. and Mrs. Mandy were in thorough agreement was that everywhere they went they found people adapting themselves to their surroundings and making full use of the natural products surrounding them. In California, for instance, all sorts of useful and ornamental articles were turned out from redwood trees and sold to tourists. Many of these were no finer than could be made from British Columbia red or yellow cedar. All that was needed was individual initiative to commence making the things at first in a small way. Shells, pebbles and sand were used everywhere for small ornaments and they were usually made in the neighborhood where they were sold but in Vancouver they found some pretty little birds and other things made of shells and inquiry elicited the information that they were made in Japan and sold readily to the tourists coming to British Columbia. The difficulty was to secure a supply as they were snapped up quickly.

While away Mrs. Mandy gave a number of illustrated lectures on the north, this being in the form of a travelogue taking in the whole coast, and she found the greatest response was to the pictures of the Prince Rupert and other gardens. The slides for these were colored.

The holidaymakers visited Winnipeg, Chicago, the states of Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, with a slight dip into Mexico and returning by Seattle for a conference with the officials of the mines department (Continued on Page Four)

Emperor's Daughter Makes Desperate Plea to Save Her Country

ADDIS ABABA, April 27: (CP)—Italian bombing planes flew over the capital of Ethiopia for half an hour on Saturday but dropped no missiles. Today another plane encircled the city, dropping leaflets threatening destruction of the capital if invasion is resisted.

Marshal Badoglio's forces were reported last night to have advanced to Ankabar within 40 miles of Addis Ababa from the north. From the southeast the Italian drive also continued yesterday, stubborn Ethiopian resistance being gradually overcome with tremendous losses. Eight hundred Italian soldiers are admitted killed and about 1000 Ethiopians.

A motorized column of 15,000 Italian troops sped south from Dessye today, driving down the Imperial highway to this city. At the same time Italian forces were maneuvering to take control of the railway between Addis Ababa and Djibuti.

Princess Tsahai, aged 17, daughter of Emperor Haile Selassie, appealed to the women of the world today as follows: "For the love of God help us in stopping the Italian armies. Utilize the power you have over millions of souls to have your governments and parliaments move vigorously."

Mr. Smith represents the Ward Mining Co. of Vancouver. Dr. Victor Dolmage, Vancouver consulting engineer, is also expected to visit the Eddy Pass property soon.

RADIO RECEPTION

Editor, Daily News:-

Is it not peculiar the way radio reception improves at the announcement that the radio inspector is in the city?

Before that event, radio reception was practically nil on the long and short waves and now, as if by magic, one can sit down in peace and enjoy the radio without any local interference whatever.

Presume the inspector will be leaving us on Wednesday next and report that he has cleaned up all the interference. Then the amateur home-made sets will be brought out again and their owners will be boasting how they have got away again without paying for a radio licence. The air will be filled once more with their howling and persons with a decent set and a licence to operate same, will have to shut it up with disgust.

What we need is a radio inspector here permanently. Not until then will the "Bloopers" cease from worrying and the weary be at rest.

His Passing Is Regretted

Death of Late Rural Dean William Sweetnam Is Loss to Diocese Of Caledonia

A wide circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the central interior district in which he had labored for many years will regret the passing of the late Rev. Rural Dean William Sweetnam of Endako whose death in St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, was announced at the week-end.

A native of Cork, Ireland, deceased came to Canada as a boy and was educated in St. John's College, Winnipeg. He was ordained as a deacon of the Church of England in 1911 and was advanced to the priesthood in 1913 by the late Most Rev. F. H. DuVernet D.D. In 1929 he was appointed rural dean of Hazelton deanery by the present bishop, Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix D.D. Serving with faithfulness and devotion, he had a splendid ecclesiastical record over a period of 25 years and he will be greatly missed, especially in the interior section of the diocese.

In 1913 Rural Dean Sweetnam married Miss V. P. Crowell of Daikin, Que. The widow, together with a daughter, Patience, and two sons, Gerald and Allen, will have the sympathy of many friends.

bury figure from Lyons, as president of the party. The party claims to be the heir to the principles enunciated in the revolution of 1789 and to be the defender of democratic liberties against Fascism and Clericalism.

Further to the Left are the Socialists. Leon Blum, the leader, holds the balance between the conservative and the radical groups within his own party. Heading the conservative wing are Vincent Auriol and Jules Moch. The radical leaders are Jean Zyromski and Marceau Pivert. The Socialists are internationalist in tendency.

Midway between the Radical-Socialists and the Socialists proper are the smaller Republican Socialist and French Socialist groups. They advocate reformist socialism and favor a modified form of capitalism.

To the left of the Socialists lie the Communists and the Party of Proletarian Unity. Most of the Communist strength is concentrated in the industrial suburbs of Paris and other industrial centres.

Since the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact was launched, the French Communists have abandoned talk of world revolution. Leader of the party in the Chamber is its general secretary, Maurice Thorez.

Centre and Right

Four of the six groups classified as of the Centre in France's departing heterogeneous Chamber of Deputies belong to the Democratic Alliance, headed by tall Pierre Etienne Flandin, Foreign Minister and Premier for eight months in 1934-35.

They are: The Republicans of the Centre, the Centre Republicans (a group of Alsatian deputies), the Left Republicans and the Left Independents. This complex group represents chiefly French commerce and industry. Since Andre Tardieu relinquished the leadership to Flandin, it has moved in a liberal direction.

The Democratic Alliance is less strongly nationalistic than the leading Right group, the Republican Federation, and is not always averse to co-operating with the moderate Left groups.

Another Centre group is the Popular Democrats, who espouse liberal social legislation but in other aspects are fairly conservative. Senator Champetier de Ribes is its leader. The so-called Radical Left also occupies a centrist position. Mostly dissidents from the Radical-Socialist party, the Radical Left is really a small group of independents.

On the right side of the Chamber, the most closely knit group is the Republican Federation, led by Louis Marin. It is nationalist in outlook and depends chiefly for support upon the upper bourgeoisie and the big industrial interests and also has the approval of many devoted churchmen because it opposes anti-clerical legislation. It is against government intervention in business.

The Conservatives proper are the most reactionary group in the Chamber. They include several Royalists although the Action Francaise, Royalist Party, actually has no representatives in the Chamber. Other Rightists are the Republicans and Social group, a loosely-grouped organization most of whose members were elected independently.

In addition to these Centre and Right parties, with their varying shades of political outlook, and the many Left groups, there are a small group of unclassified independents who do not fit any of the categories.

The complexity of the parties is in keeping with the Frenchman's traditional preference for voting for an individual rather than a party slogan or policy.

Berlin Displeased

BERLIN, April 27.—The trend of the French elections to the left yesterday was described as "displeasing but not surprising" in official German quarters. It was taken as a tightening of the bond between France and Soviet Russia.

Moscow Happy

MOSCOW, April 27.—Soviet Russian officials express pleasure at the result of the French elections. It is seen as a further move towards a world socialist order.

Cleveland Indians Need Sixteen Innings to Defeat St. Louis Browns

CLEVELAND, April 27: (CP)—The longest game so far this season in the major leagues was played here yesterday when the Cleveland Indians retained undisputed possession of first place in the American League by defeating St. Louis Browns 8 to 7 in 16 innings. The Browns used five pitchers and Cleveland three. At Chicago, the Detroit Tigers won again over the White Sox and are now in third place in the standing close behind the Boston Red Sox, who divided week-end honors with the New York Yankees, and ahead of the Yankees. The Washington Senators made it two straight over Philadelphia Athletics to assume leadership of the second division ahead of the Chicago White Sox. The Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns are now on even terms in the cellar.

In the National League yesterday, the St. Louis Cardinals, behind six-hit pitching of "Dizzy" Dean, defeated Pittsburgh Pirates at Sportsmen's Field. Week-end play resulted in no changes of positions for National League teams in the standing.

YACHT RACE CONCLUDED

Prizes Presented Yesterday Following Decision of Outstanding Prizes

Model yacht races in connection with the "Prince George" Cup concluded yesterday afternoon after which cup and prizes were presented by Mrs. W. H. Tobey.

In announcing prizes, W. H. Tobey extended thanks of the committee to the various organizations and individuals who had helped to make the races a success by assisting generally and contributing prizes. Particular mention was made of provincial police and Armour Salvage Co. in offering launches for race officials, owners of various fishing vessels who loaned marking buoys, Bandmaster Greenfield who, with the Boys' Band on the motor vessel "Silene," Capt. Bob Frizzell, livened up the waterfront while races were being held yesterday, Dr. L. W. Kergin and George Bryant, who acted as umpires with their vessels Aledor and Harla.

Mr. Tobey recalled that these races were inaugurated last year by officers and crew of the steamer Prince George who donated the cup which will be competed for annually at Prince Rupert. He also mentioned that A. J. Croxford, winner of the cup this year, was willing and anxious to give every assistance, advice and instruction to prospective builders or competitors as it is felt that the sport of model yacht racing is becoming so popular all over the continent, also in Europe, and Prince Rupert, having excellent facilities, should have a well organized club, and take part in many of the races held in other centres. Mr. Croxford's "Talisman," this year's winner, was entered in two of the races at Vancouver last year and made an excellent showing. He intended to send the model down again this year.

Prize winners were: Cup and first prize—A. J. Croxford's "Talisman" (prize contributed by Capitol Theatre, six complimentary tickets).

Second prize—J. Gibson's "Vagrant" (winner last year), (prize by P. Burns Co., one ham).

Third prize—J. Eyre's "Kia Ora" (prize by Philpott, Ewitt Co., one-quarter ton coal).

Special prize—(best time for any one board, April 12) Lloyd Rice's "Mycoma," skippered by W. Sandison, (prize by Home Oil Co., 10 gallons gas).

Consolation prize—J. McGreish's "Britannia," best time on two boards in yesterday's race, (prize by George Bryant, one Stetson hat).

Novel Feature Of Towel Shower For Miss Cath Irvine

Another delightful pre-nuptial affair in honor of Miss Cathie Irvine, whose marriage to Tommy Fraser takes place next week, was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Hayward, Third Avenue, Saturday night, in the form of a towel shower. The novel and original feature of the evening was the presentation to the bride-elect of a miniature Daily News office fashioned of cardboard and embodying all the exterior features of the building. With the chimney as a handle, the roof lifted off to disclose beautiful towel gifts of the young ladies assembled.

The early part of the evening was given over to whist playing, the prize-winners being Mrs. William Rogers, first, and Miss Lillian Lowe, second.

The tea table was tastefully decorated in yellow and green, daffodils and narcissi being used.

The young ladies present, in addition to the hostess and guest of honor, were Miss Lillian Lowe, Miss Ella Steen, Miss Ruby Krikevsky, Miss Eleanor Tite, Miss Dorothy Apmore, Mrs. William Rogers and Mrs. William Brooksbank.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. John Muir, arrived in port at 7 o'clock last evening from the south and, after discharging fifty tons of freight here, sailed at 10 p.m. for Stewart, Anyox and other northern points whence she is scheduled to return here tomorrow morning and sail south at 1:30 p.m.

Almost a day behind schedule, Union steamer Cardena, Capt. J. E. Boden, having been delayed by heavy freights to discharge at cannery points along the coast, arrived in port at 8 o'clock Saturday evening from the south and sailed a couple of hours later on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

George E. Windsor, manager of the Canadian Fishing Co.'s cannery at Wales Island, and other members of the cannery staff and crew were aboard the steamer Catala last evening going north from Vancouver to the cannery for the summer. Mrs. Windsor accompanied her husband and others in the party were H. R. Watson, accountant, and E. D. Jean, foreman.

Herbert A. Hughes is acting as purser aboard the steamer Catala on its present voyage north, relieving the regular purser, A. W. Robinson for one week. Mr. Hughes will shortly be going out on his own regular ship, the Venture, which is to be commissioned next week for the summer on the service out of Vancouver as far north as Rivers Inlet.

Armour Salvage Co.'s power tug Algie, Capt. Reg Green, returned to port early this morning after having towed the Union Oil Co.'s fuel supply barge to North Island where it will be stationed for the summer. The Daly, Capt. Charlie Edwards, returned on Saturday afternoon after delivering a scowload of lumber to the J. R. Morgan Logging Co.'s camp at Sedgewick Bay, Queen Charlotte Islands.

INTERESTING IMPRESSIONS OF LIFE IN SOUTH COMPARED WITH NORTH B. C.

at Victoria and Vancouver and thence home.

People Optimistic

One of the impressions of Dr. Mandy was that Americans generally were optimistic but their opinion was tempered with fear of the result of the enormous expenditures which had been made. He pointed out, however, that most of these expenditures were on productive schemes and probably the fears were groundless. Everywhere people were travelling. Hotels were booked up and people were undoubtedly spending. In Vancouver and Victoria the hotels were almost full of guests. California looked for a bumper year and British Columbia should share in the tourist travel.

"While I was away," declared Dr. Mandy, "I saw two of the wonders of the world. One of these was the Grand Canyon and the other was Aimee Semple MacPherson." A visit was paid to Angelus Temple on Palm Sunday. Five thousand people were present, a good many, like themselves, "first nighters." The service was most spectacular and at the close the "first nighters" were invited to meet Mrs. MacPherson in her palatial home adjoining the temple. The visitors from Prince Rupert took advantage of the opportunity and were duly impressed.

In the States the visitors found the most profound ignorance prevailing in regard to Prince Rupert and British Columbia. Most people seemed to think everything to the north was Alaska and they were sure Prince Rupert was in Alaska. One party said, "Prince Rupert, oh yes, that is where it rains all the time, isn't it?" Evidently that was the only thing they had heard about the city. The movement to erect totem poles and establish parks and gardens in Prince Rupert and a museum, would tend to eliminate this by putting a more important idea in its place. The new totems would be a tremendous attraction and the new park seemed to be an ideal setting for them.

TWO GOOD PICTURES

"Paddy O'Day," With Jane Withers, and "Charlie Chan's Secret" At Capitol

A joyfully tuneful comedy "Paddy O'Day," featuring little Jane Withers, and another baffling murder mystery, "Charlie Chan's Secret," with Warner Oland heading the cast, are offered on a double bill program being offered on the screen of the Capitol theatre here at the first of this week.

"Paddy O'Day" follows the fascinating adventures of a motherless little girl from Erin in the strange city of New York. On the way across the ocean, she captivates the hearts of passengers aboard the ship. There is a pretty romance which ends in a surprise climax. Feature songs include "Keep That Twinkle in Your Eye," "I Like a Balalake" and "Which is Which?"

Weaving his web in a house of death, Warner Oland in "Charlie Chan's Secret," solves a gripping San Francisco murder mystery. There is plenty of suspense with thrills and surprises in an action-packed story. A capable supporting cast includes Rosina Lawrence, Charles Quigley, Henrietta Crossman and Herbert Munding.
