It was a bloody fifteen-round battle and Ambers won the unanimous call of referee and two judges.

First Pythian Outside U. S. Is Still Living

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Sept. 4: (CP)—The first Knight of Pythias in the world, outside the United States, is living at Fair Vale, near Saint John. He is David H. Waterbury, 84, who was an 18-year old mail clerk in this city at the time of his creation as a "knight" "on sight" by the first supreme chancellor of the order 66 years ago.

The impromptu ceremony also was unique in view of a requirement that candidates must be 21 years old. Waterbury included the incident in a story, made public by him for the first time, of the birth and growth of New Brunswick Lodge No. 1, first Pythian lodge in the Empire.

During the fall of 1869 a tiny triangular pin with its abbreviations of Friendship, Charity and Fellowship was brought into Saint John on the lapel of a visitor from Boston and awakened the interest of youthful organizers here. Five years previously it had become the symbol of a great movement in the United States—welding of the North and South into greater fellowship. Justus H. Rathbone, inspired by an address of Abraham Lincoln, founded the order in Washington on February 19, 1864.

Read took a quick liking to Robert R. Barnes, a close friend of Waterbury. Before the ceremony the latter stood in a corner of a hotel lobby worrying about the age limit. Finally he drew Barnes aside and said, "You know about my age, Bob. I can't go through with this by false pretences."

Barnes arranged a private chat with the supreme chancellor, "Mr. Read," he said, "Waterbury has been a prime mover in this organization and he is not 21."

"Well, he looks it," was the laughing reply, "and I know the part which he has played."

Then he became serious, stating sonorously, "I am the supreme chancellor of the world. I have almost unlimited powers. I can make a Knight of Pythias at sight."

"That's all very well, Mr. Read," Barnes ejaculated, "but what do you mean?"

"It means," replied Read, "that he is the first Knight of Pythias in the world, outside of the United States. When I get home I will send him his warrant."

That evening, October 30, 1870, the solemn Pythian ritual was unfolded before the new members. Sixty-three, including prominent citizens of Saint John, were initiated. Waterbury became recording scribe. The lodge rooms and records were destroyed in Saint John's great fire of 1877.

GETTING OUT ORE

Grandview Property at Headwaters Of Telkwa River Looks Like Winner

SMITHERS, Sept. 4:—Anthony McDonald (Big Mac) was in town Wednesday from the Grandview Group of mineral claims on Milk Creek at the headwaters of the Telkwa river where there is a crew of men at work getting out a shipment of ore.

The Grandview Group is owned by McDonald and Mutch and was recently bonded to A. W. Kelly and associates of Grand Forks.

They are at present engaged in mining and sacking gray copper ore which runs 2000 ounces in silver and 4 ounces in gold. It will be brought out to the railway at Telkwa on pack horses.

The road to the various properties in this particular area was partly washed away with the high water that flooded that district last fall and the bridge across the Telkwa River, nine miles up, was carried away.

Efforts have been made all this year to have this road put into shape to facilitate this mining which had been anticipated but nothing has been done.

There will be other parties here shortly to inspect the Big Four group, the Kitchener group and other properties close to the Grandview group but the present road condition is a deterrent to any prospective mining.

One good mine at the Grandview would take every unemployed man between Prince Rupert and Prince George and put him to work and it would be good business to spend a little of the money available for road and bridge work in restoring the Telkwa River road and thereby facilitate the work on the Grandview group which gives every promise of becoming one of the big mines of British Columbia.

Prince John Arrives With Body of Oiler Who Expired Suddenly

James Richardson, Aged 49, Collapsed and Dropped Dead While Working in Hold of Vessel at Jedway

Bringing in the remains of James Richardson, a ship's oiler, who died suddenly of heart failure at 3:45 yesterday morning in the hold of the vessel while she was discharging cargo at Jedway, Queen Charlotte Islands, C. N. R. steamer Prince John, Capt. James Watt, made a special run into this port today, arriving at 1:45 this afternoon.

The body was turned over to the B. C. Undertakers by whom it is being prepared for shipment to Vancouver where deceased resided at 1238 Commercial Drive and where he is survived by his widow.

Richardson, who was 49 years of age, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, and had been employed for some years on the Prince John, suddenly collapsed and expired. He had not been complaining of feeling unwell. A call was made at Queen Charlotte City where Dr. G. A. Charters declared death had been due to heart failure.

Deceased enlisted in September 1915 with the Forty-Eighth Battalion and was drafted for service in France with the Eighth Battalion. He received his honorable discharge in 1919 after the War.

The Prince John will leave this afternoon for Shannon Bay, Massett Inlet, in continuation of her interrupted voyage to the Queen Charlotte Islands. From the Islands she will return to Vancouver via Nootka on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

No Tips From Halifax Women

HALIFAX, Sept. 4: (CP)—Inquiries among the city beauticians reveal the fact that Halifax women don't give tips. Tipping, it appears, is not confined to waiters, bellhops, porters and shipboard attendants. Beauty operators, too, come in for a share of this form of profit-making. But the only hope of a beauty operator in this city is the patronage of visitors from the United States. These women, a survey reveals, are about the only ones who tip the parlor attendants and the bonuses range anywhere from ten cents to half a dollar.

LITTLE SIGNIFICANCE

In connection with the recent political campaign at Vancouver it was noticed that the C. C. F. meetings were much better attended than those of the other parties. In one or two cases one of the newspapers noted particularly the paucity of attendance at the meetings of the winning candidate. This goes to show that the attendance at meetings has little to do with the general trend of public opinion. People go out to see the fun if they think there is likely to be heckling. Also there is a section of every community that likes to hear other people criticized and jibed at. Any newspaper could increase its circulation appreciably if it were willing to lend its columns to jibes and sneers and unwarranted criticisms.

PORTLAND CANAL DEVELOPMENT

The Premier mine was for many years the only shipping mine in the Portland Canal area but its continued operation helped to inspire others with faith in the district and with the hope that another similar mine might be developed. Now the Big Missouri will soon take its place as a second large shipper of ore concentrates which will make the Salmon River valley outstanding as a producer of gold and silver. The fact that a company such as the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company is developing the mine and putting it into production insures that it will be done in such a way as to bring the best results. There are other probabilities in the same district that may prove to be shipping mines some day.

FALL ACTIVITIES

This is the season when fall activities commence after a long summer holiday during which many Prince Rupert people were away from home at least part of the time. Already the days are shortening and there are signs of autumn in the air. The churches are laying plans for great activity and doubtless they will receive loyal support. Fraternal and other societies will be holding meetings regularly and putting on entertainments. Sport enthusiasts will be planning their winter schedules and with money a little more plentiful this year the season is unusually promising. Activity tends to happiness and contentment. It is a good sign in any community to find everyone too busy to do any more than they already have in hand.

SPORT CHAT

Mighty enough to win the Canadian rugby championship last season, Winnipeg's swing into a gruelling schedule this Saturday apparently packing more power than ever in backfield and wingline. Ten games mark one of the toughest pre-playoff programs ever attempted by a Canadian grid squad and the champions will enter the schedule without the hardening experience of a preliminary warm-up with a "push-over" team as is customary among major clubs.

Winnipeg will be in the thick of the hectic season Saturday when they engage Carl Cronin's Calgary Bronks in the first game of the Western Canada Conference series. With one day of rest, they again will tackle Calgary on Labor Day. Bronks, with some three weeks of scrimmage under their belts under the direction of Cronin, former Notre Dame ace, entertained a team from Lethbridge last Saturday in the first flurry of the season. The game was an Alberta Provincial League fixture.

Meanwhile Regina Rough Riders, other member of the Western Conference and outstanding for years on Canadian gridrons, are drilling a potent squad for the opening of the Saskatchewan season in Saskatoon on Labor Day. They meet Hilltops. Members of the Western Conference meet each other four times during the regular season, giving each team eight conference games, four at home and four away. In addition, Winnipeg play two games with United States college teams under American rules.

On September 19, the Canadian champions tackle Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., alma mater of Coach Bob Fritz, who led the 'Pegs to the first Dominion senior grid title ever brought west. "Dynamite Eddie" James, a regular last year, is carrying the ball with all his famous abandon and Cliff Roseborough has been the sensation of practice sessions. "Tubber" Kobrinsky, Manitoba Varsity graduate, and the veteran Arni Coulter are available for action.

The first-string line probably will be the same as last year. The ends are well taken care of by Bud Marquardt and Joe Perpich, once of St. Cloud's Teachers' College, Minn. Peschel and husky Lou Mogul are the middles and the insides are filled by Eddie Kushner, one of Winnipeg's greatest grid products, and Bert Oja, line coach and erstwhile Minnesota great.

Lou Adelman, corpulent and cagey centre, probably will be in the pivot berth again. Lou has seen almost twenty years of senior rugby and still is regarded as one of the game's great centres. If the champions have a weakness, it lies in a dearth of line relief. Nevertheless, Oja's brilliant drilling has produced a number of husky youngsters whose value may be seen during the long campaign.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

The forenoon feature of the Labor Day sports will be the junior football game between teams representing Booth and Borden Street Schools. These matches are always keenly contested, the boys displaying a good knowledge of the game and a splendid playing spirit. In the last two games Borden has won from Booth and the east-enders will live out to win the game. The teams are very evenly matched on paper. As this is the only event in the forenoon there should be a good turnout of spectators.

Borden Street School - Mah; Brown, Scherk; Currie, Fitch, McLeod; Schubert, D. Houston, R. Smith, Nelson Judge; spares, Barton, Robertson, G. Smith.
Booth Memorial School - Dybhavn; Parsons, Beynon; McKay, McLean, Christian; P. Knutson, D. Cameron, J. Ritchie, A. Wikdal, H. Holkestad; spares, L. Knutson, G. Baker, S. Franks.

Codfish Market Poor in Europe

Spanish Civil War Has Effect On Fish Market

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 4: (CP)—With the codfish market in Spain closed and Italy not buying, the outlook in the European market is not promising. J. J. Long, managing director of the Labrador Export Company Ltd., reports. Advices from codfish buyers in Italy have been received, stating that up to the present time no licences have been granted for the import of Newfoundland codfish into Italy.

The Italians state that that country was buying stocks of codfish from Ireland, which was taking goods in return. The Italian principals state that trade in future must be done by compensation, the amount of Newfoundland codfish to be absorbed by Italy to be governed by the amount of Italian goods purchased by Newfoundland.

Mrs. W. Allum of Enderby, who has been paying a two weeks' visit here with her son, C. R. Allum of the Bank of Montreal staff, leaves on this evening's train via Jasper Park for her home in the Okanagan.

Mrs. Gunnar Selvig Honored Before Leaving For Old Country

Following a regular business meeting last night with Gunnar Selvig, the president, in the chair, a goodly number of members of the Sons of Norway Lodge enjoyed a happy social evening.
