The first meeting of the Children's Story Hour for children between the ages of nine and 12 was held this morning in the Toc H Rooms. The audience expressed appreciation of the new home and for the opening of another series of hours.

Mrs. J. T. Mandy introduced the new feature of the year, a serial story, telling Chapter I, while Mrs. W. D. Grant Hollingworth entertained with a nonsense tale. Dr. Mandy exhibited wild animals of the north in lantern slides, concluding with an interesting bear story. Books were presented as attendance prizes for last year to Pearl McInnis and Vernon Ciccone.

Next Saturday's program will be for children between the ages of four and eight and will be conducted by Mrs. Neal Carter, Mrs. S. D. Johnston and Miss Winnie Cameron.

WELCOME IS EXTENDED

Representative Citizens Take Part In Reception to Commissioner And Mrs. John McMillan

With representative clergy and citizenry attending and taking part, a civic welcome meeting for Commissioner John McMillan of Toronto, head of the Salvation Army for Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda and Alaska, and Mrs. McMillan, who are paying their first visit to Prince Rupert, was held last night in the local Citadel. The meeting was conducted by Brigadier W. J. Carruthers of Wrangell, divisional commander for Northern British Columbia and Alaska, and City Commissioner W. J. Alder occupied the chair. Assisting the City Commissioner in extending the civic welcome were Ex-Mayor M. M. Stephens and Dr. Joseph T. Mandy, both of whom spoke briefly. Very Rev. James B. Gibson, dean of St. Andrew's Cathedral, spoke for the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association. The address of the evening was, of course, that of Commissioner McMillan. Mrs. McMillan was also heard from. Mrs. Halvorsen of Hazelton read from the Scripture and Adjutant Eva Laycock, local commandant, made the announcements. There was a duet by Adjutant Laycock and her assistant, Capt. E. Robertson. W. Vaughan Davies was pianist for the evening. Rev. C. D. Clarke, pastor of First United Church, pronounced the benediction. Rev. Dr. F. W. Dafee, pastor of First Baptist Church, said the opening prayer.

Commissioner McMillan, in his address, paid tribute to Adjutant Eva Laycock, the local commandant. It was gratifying to hear that her work here was appreciated. Prince Rupert had two "saints of God" in the persons of the local officers. Their unselfish and self-sacrificing work was typical of that of all Army officers. Commissioner McMillan referred to the progress that had been made in the fifty years that the Army had been active in Canada. He discussed some of the problems which faced the Army in its diversified activities and related some inspiring and touching anecdotes. He appealed to his listeners not to yield to the subtle temptations of the age, not to be lost in the crowd but to deny themselves in following and serving the Lord. It was no easy thing to come to the mercy seat in these days, to wear the badge of Christ's service, but nevertheless, more people than ever were now doing this.

Mrs. McMillan was appreciative of the warmth of the kindly reception which they had been accorded in Prince Rupert which she considered a most beautiful spot. She, too, related some interesting incidents and anecdotes of long years of Army service.

City Commissioner Alder deemed it a privilege to welcome Commissioner and Mrs. McMillan. He acknowledged with gratitude the work the Army was doing in Prince Rupert and its assistance to the city.

M. M. Stephens declared that money could not pay for the valuable work the Army carried out. It went to the spot where it was needed. He spoke from the heart when he paid tribute to the Army.

Dean Gibson, as representative of the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association, added his tribute to the work of the Army and its officers. They were entitled to every support.

All Quiet on Waterfront—Dull Season For Fishing Fleet—Passenger Ships Tomorrow

With the exception of a few boats engaged in cod and flat-fishing late November sees the usual quiet season for the Prince Rupert fishing fleet setting in. It will continue this way until after the New Year when work of getting the fleet in shape for another season will commence to get under way. In view of the improved earnings of the past season, it is expected there may be a little more renovation and improvement work on the fleet this winter than there has been of recent years. While it is still early to predict with safety, there is a general confidence that the improvement in the industry generally which manifested itself in 1936 will continue next year.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 3:25 this morning from the south and sailed a couple of hours later on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Commissioner John McMillan, territorial commander of the Salvation Army from Toronto, who is a visitor in the city, is a nephew of the late Capt. J. McLeod, veteran mariner of this coast and well known to old timers of Prince Rupert as master of the steamer Princess May on the Alaska run in the early days.

Col. J. W. Nicholls, general manager of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., has been called on a business trip to New York and other points in Eastern Canada and the United States.

Two Canadian Pacific Alaska boats will be in port on Sunday. In the morning the steamer Princess Norah, bound from Vancouver to Skagway on a regular voyage, is due. In the afternoon the Princess Louise, southbound to Vancouver after a special voyage north in view of the tie-up of American shipping, is scheduled to call here.

Delayed by fog down the coast and also through having to make an extra call at Bishop Bay logging camp, C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. Henry Anderson, was late this week and did not arrive until 3 o'clock this morning from the south, sailing a couple of hours later on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Dr. Neal Carter, director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, returned to the city on the Princess Adelaide this morning from Vancouver. He went south to give a series of lectures.
