TO MEET PATTULLO

Speedy Construction of Northern Highway From East Into Terrace to be Urged

A committee from the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce consisting of H. F. Pullen, W. P. Armour, F. W. Wesch and V. S. Moore will interview Premier T. D. Pattullo on an expected early visit to Prince Rupert, urging the provincial Prime Minister to do all within his power to bring about the completion of the highway from the east to Terrace as quickly as possible. It is felt that, once the highway is through to that point, it will be a greater incentive to have the construction accelerated between Terrace and the coast.

The committee will also endeavor to discover if the northern transprovincial highway to Prince Rupert is being classified as an "arterial" one, therefore qualifying to participate in any monies which the federal government might contribute towards highway construction and development.

The Premier will also be asked to have a comprehensive survey made of the revenues derived from the gasoline tax, automobile licences, etc. in order to learn how much this city is contributing towards highways.

A discussion followed and it was decided to put on a campaign for funds to buy a new and up-to-date diesel engine in the near future. Dr. and Mrs. Charter entertained the board members after the meeting.

Minister of Labor Comments On Strike in Logging Industry

Sees it as Effort to Organize Labor Union by Small But Not Representative Group of Employees

VICTORIA, May 7:—"Apparently this dispute is an effort by certain elements to organize a labor union within the logging industry," Hon. G. S. Pearson, minister of labor, said when commenting on the present strike. "But the question has arisen whether this group has the right to speak for the men as a whole because, as I understand it, the group has a membership of some 1,200 out of a total of 20,000 employed in the industry. Right now the strike would be a severe setback to the lumbering industry, especially when things are improving and there is a tendency toward industrial peace. As a matter of fact, at no time since I came into office here has there been such a marked tendency on the part of operators toward improving wages and working conditions of the men without being forced to do so."

GRADUATION OF NURSES

Exercises and Reception Held Last Night For Six Students of the Prince Rupert General Hospital

Graduation exercises for the Misses Ruth Corbould, Evelyn E. Fairbairn, Elizabeth H. Haan, Sybil E. Hellawell, Clara M. Stegavig and Lois Studdy, members of the 1936 class of the Prince Rupert General Hospital training school for nurses, were held last night in the auditorium of First Presbyterian Church followed by a reception in the Oddfellows' Hall. Considering the very unfavorable weather conditions there was a goodly turn-out of friends of the graduates as well as of the public generally.

The church had been prettily decorated for the occasion with spring flowers and foliage. There was the usual procession of members of the nursing staff after the congregation had gathered. The new graduates, each carrying a beautiful bouquet, entering to the applause of the audience while Mrs. E. J. Smith played a march. Miss Jean Harrison R.N., lady superintendent, and others taking part in the ceremonies had previously taken their places on the platform.

Opening prayer was by Rev. W. D. Grant Hollingworth after which W. M. Brown, chairman of the hospital board, made brief introductory remarks, welcoming those present and extending congratulations to the graduates. John E. Davey, accompanied by Mrs. E. J. Smith, then sang a vocal solo.

A concise and timely address to the graduating class was given by Ex-Mayor Cyril H. Orme. Mr. Orme, in opening, congratulated the management and staff of the hospital on the high standard of the institution considering the lack sometimes of suitable facilities which it was hoped might ere long be improved upon. Turning then to the graduates, whom he complimented on having reached this important milestone in their careers, he stressed the importance of their attitude toward their profession. If they had turned to nursing merely as a job they would not derive a full measure of satisfaction although it would probably afford them a good living. Success, however, could not be measured by material standards. They should love their profession and live up to its ideals. Steadfastness and courage were prime requisites. New scientific developments were playing an ever increasing part of importance in nursing as well as other professions. Today the nurse had an educative duty to perform in helping people to keep well besides helping to cure them when they fell ill. Tolerance and a sense of humor were also necessary if the nurse was to do full justice to her arduous task. "Hold fast to your ideals and do not lose enthusiasm," exhorted Mr. Orme in conclusion. "I wish you happiness and the best of good fortune."

Mr. Orme's address was followed by the presentation to each member of the graduating class individually of diplomas by Mr. Brown and class medals by Miss Harrison. Miss Nellie Lawrence played a violin.

THE UNIVERSITY

In connection with the twenty-first anniversary of the founding of the University of British Columbia, there has just been issued a very handsome brochure, well printed and finely illustrated, of the history and scope of the university.

The illustrations convey even better than the descriptions, an idea of what the buildings look like, inside and out and what the site was like prior to the commencement of operations at Point Grey.

It is evident that the university has become in the twenty-one years of its existence one of the outstanding British Columbia institutions and one of which every resident in the province may be proud. The record of its students has been good and has exercised a powerful influence on the life of this and other Canadian provinces.

IGNORE THE PESSIMISTS

We respectfully suggest that Prince Rupert people ignore the pessimists who can see no future for Prince Rupert beyond that of a fishing village. Prospects were never better than they are today for the city to make progress. One of the signs of the times is that real estate is beginning to change hands in a quiet way. What we need as a first basis for going ahead is to have full faith in our own destiny. We have never before had a man located in the city looking up cargoes of matchwood logs for export. This in itself is most important.

We have no intention of discounting the value of the fishing industry to Prince Rupert. It will undoubtedly be the mainstay of the port for a long time to come, but there is every reason to expect that other industries will supplement it. What we need to do is to give every possible encouragement to everything that might help, and hold the thought that our destiny is to be a port that will be of great value to the nation and at which the residents will be able to make a good living amid pleasant surroundings.

Interpreting Of Petition

Some Now Represented As Being Opposed to Early Closing Signed Original Document, It Is Pointed Out.

C. G. Minns, secretary of the Prince Rupert Merchants' Association, in a statement this morning, pointed out that certain merchants, who had been mentioned yesterday as being opposed to the extension of the 6 o'clock Saturday evening closing petition had under classifications other than boot and shoe dealers or clothiers, signed the original petition asking for closing at 6 p.m. Those who had so signed the original petition, Mr. Minns stated, were H. K. Yamanaoka, Cavenale and Hannan Sharman Co., F. E. Hunt Ltd., B.C. Clothiers, Mayfair Ladies' Wear and Cut Rate Shoe Store.

W. O. Fulton stated this morning that he had not intimated in any way that those merchants who had not signed the petition were opposed to it but simply gave the names of merchants engaged in that particular business whose names had not appeared on the petition without suggesting that they were opposed to early closing.

Islands Ask Pastor Back

Skidegate Inlet Congregation Express Confidence in Rev. Bishop Black

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY, May 7—On Sunday last at the evening service, the congregation of Queen Charlotte United Church passed a unanimous vote of appreciation and thanks to their pastor for his services. Further a resolution was ordered to be sent to the B.C. Conference asking for the return of Rev. B. Black for another year. The pastor made a suitable reply.

On Tuesday of last week at Skidegate the annual meeting of the Skidegate Mission Church was held in the Mission House. Rev. B. Black presided and the usual business was transacted.

A resolution was ordered sent to the B. C. Conference asking that a minister be stationed at Skidegate to give all his time to that work.

Rev. Bishop Black was requested to return and bring his wife. Further he was thanked for his services and all hoped he would be appointed for another year.

Letters of appreciation of the extra-moral work done by the teachers in the church and community were ordered written.

On Sunday afternoon at Sandspit Mr. Black conducted a communion service in the day school. The largest number since Mr. Black came took part in this service. Every good wish was extended to the pastor on his trip south and all hoped he would return.

Mr. Black left on the Prince John on Monday for Vancouver.

While south Mr. Black will visit friends in Victoria. Also he will visit with his wife's parents in Vancouver.

MISTAKES WILL HAPPEN

The couple who thought it was a masquerade!

But YOU MAKE NO MISTAKE WITH ST. CHARLES

CAN YOU blame friend husband for giving her that dirty look? It took him hours to get himself up like that—rather fancied himself, too—and now it seems as if the little woman had mixed up the invitations, and it wasn't that kind of a party at all!

Invitations to use evaporated milks sometimes look alike, too—but when you accept our invitation to use St. Charles, you know exactly what to expect. In St. Charles you get extra-fresh, full-cream country milk, evaporated to double richness and irradiated for extra Sunshine Vitamin D. All the flavour and freshness are safely sealed for your convenience. It's extra-good in every one of your favourite recipes that call for milk, and it creams your coffee or tea, to a golden, steaming fragrance that makes every cup taste better.

We hope our invitation is clear! But, so that you may be quite sure of making no mistake, always look for the "Gold Cow" on the label every time you order evaporated milk.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

The Consolidated Whaling Corporation's whaler Brown, after having been here for three or four days undergoing boiler repairs at the local dry dock, sailed Tuesday afternoon on her return to Rose Harbor, Queen Charlotte Islands.

With a rather light list of passengers, C. N. R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. H. E. Nedden, arrived in port at 10:40 yesterday morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and sailed at 4 p.m. for Anyox and Stewart whence she will return here this evening southbound.

Six boats sold 134,000 pounds of halibut at Seattle on Tuesday. They were as follows: Seymour, 34,000; Sebastian-Stuart, 7 1/2c and 6 7/8c; Urania, 32,000; Whiz, 7.2c and 7c; Grant, 40,000; San Juan, 7 1/4c and 7 1/8c; Thelma J., 6,000; Whiz, 7 3/8c and 2c (cod); Fresno, 11,000; San Juan, 7 1/2c, 7 3/8c and 2c (cod); Superior, 12,000; Washington, 7 3/8c and 2c (cod).

The Seattle power yacht Principia, Capt. Wellington O. Smith, arrived in port yesterday from the south to await her owner, who is due here at the week-end, and proceeded to Alaska on a cruise. The Principia, a handsome eighty-foot diesel-powered vessel, is moored during her stay at the floats of the Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club.

City police were this morning investigating the report of a theft of gear and hooks from a Japanese vessel at Seal Cove. The investigation is being conducted by Constable Don Stewart.

Reports to date from the Queen Charlotte Island trolling grounds are not very encouraging. Some salmon have been taken on Mas-sett bar but Skidegate trollers are not yet out.

Recently George Turner jr., of Skidegate, purchased a launch from Roy Fletcher. Mr. Turner hopes to join the fishing fleet.

ADMIRE MOUNT OLDFIELD

Editor, Daily News:—
 I am writing of a trip I took to the top of Mount Oldfield over the new Wantage Road. The mountain looks beautiful at a close-up with its tall timbers straight up from green verdure. I admire the courage of Commissioner Alder and our city engineer, Mr. Good, for giving us this splendid road. It's wonderful and an asset to the attractions of our city. I hope our tourist association will take note. The ascent is as easy as going up Fulton Street. Even the aged can make the trip. I have roamed over the hills of Scotland and have been up Mount Royal many times but Mount Oldfield was my first mountain climb and I am 76 years old. I don't think that the much-rated Grouse Mountain or Garibaldi Park have anything more to show than our Mount Oldfield.
