Inclined to be Leftist, Premier Pattullo, However, Sees No Short Cut to Prosperity; Gives Address

An impromptu address of great interest was given by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia, to members of the Rotary Club yesterday afternoon. The Premier reminisced about old times and spoke of some of the problems with which the government of the province had to deal. While admitting that he was somewhat of a left-ist, he stated that he did not believe in short cuts to prosperity. The present government would keep its feet on the ground and deal with the problems that arose in a sane manner.

The Premier said it was always a pleasure to visit Prince Rupert and meet old friends and also to greet the young men who were growing up and taking a part in public affairs. He recognized a good many old friends present at the luncheon but also he saw a number of younger men who probably represented the progressive section of the community.

Speaking of his method of travelling, Mr. Pattullo said he had lately become quite a flier. This form of locomotion was becoming steadily more popular. It enabled him to crowd four times as much work into a day as would be the case under the older methods of travel. He had crossed the continent in this way four times recently and it was far better and more comfortable travelling than on the railways where the roadbeds were in poor shape and the equipment obsolete. His government had given an intimation to Ottawa during the last session that it would not be opposed to a subvention to the railways to enable them to bring their lines up to date so they might compete with the American roads.

Financial Matters
In regard to financial matters, he wanted the people to know that the government was hedged around by dollars and cents. They did not control the finances of the country and, therefore, could not deal with the unemployment problem as they liked. However, they had done pretty well so far. They had secured the increase of their annual subsidy from the Dominion to almost double what it was previously. Also they had secured help from Ottawa on a 50-50 basis for expenditures on highways amounting in all to a million and a half dollars and also, what was equally as important to this part of the country, an appropriation of $400,000 for mining roads and trails, Ottawa paying twice as much of it as the province. Of this amount a considerable part was coming to the north.

Mr. Pattullo mentioned the recent ceremonies at Port Moody in which people celebrated the coming of the railway fifty years ago. At that event the story was told of the city council of Port Moody in the early days asking the government of the day to set aside the forest on which Vancouver is now built as a permanent forest reserve or park for the benefit of the people of Port Moody.

Recently, Mr. Pattullo said he visited the interior, going as far as Port St. James and from there he was taken in a plane to visit the Manson Creek mining district. He reminded his hearers that Fort St. James was the geographical centre of British Columbia and was on the same climatic isotherm as Cranbrook, close to the southern border of the province.

Turning again to financial matters, the Premier said his government believed in stability. But while the government would always keep its feet on the ground it could not, as some people thought, go back to the old days. Progress was

HEAT IS INTENSE

Latest Death List in United States Is Placed at 269 With $200,000-000 Damage to Crops

CHICAGO, July 10.—The death toll as a result of the devastating heat wave which has been withering up the Middle West had mounted this morning at 269 with damage to stock and farms estimated at $200,000,000. The merciless heat continued to beat down on the parched land and the heat was moving eastward with little, if any, sign of relief. New York reported a new record high temperature of 102 3-10 and other cities were reporting thermometer readings such as have not been known in decades.

In the Dakotas the wheat crop is now believed to be an entire failure. Farmers are turning to work with the Works Progress Administration. The highest wheat price since 1929 is expected. The corn crop may survive if moisture soon comes. Corn has been drawing moisture from the ground.

At Washington the federal government is advancing relief plans for the stricken farmers.

The bulk of the United States population is affected by the death dealing weather. The country is condemned to at least two more days of terrific heat, according to weather forecasts.

Four Perfect Hands Dealt In Bridge Game Last Night; Unusual Card Playing Event

The mathematicians have figured out that it happens once in so many million times but it happened in Prince Rupert last night.

In friendly contract bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hinton here last night, four perfect hands were dealt in perfect bidding rotation. Two tables were in play and F. A. MacCallum, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, was dealing at one. The cards had been shuffled and cut in the usual way. Mr. MacCallum was found to have dealt himself thirteen clubs while his partner, Mrs. L. H. Harworth, wife of the manager of the local elevator, received a full hand of hearts. J. A. Hinton was dealt thirteen diamonds and Mrs. MacCallum had a hand of thirteen spades.

Grand slams were bid by each player in succession and the showdown revealed, to the surprise of all, the four perfect hands.

Heavy Rain Prevented Plane From Continuing Its Northern Flight Yesterday

KETCHIKAN, July 10: (CP)—Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia arrived here at 10:30 this morning from Prince Rupert and was received by the mayor. He left at 11:30 for Juneau with a view to reaching Atlin tonight.

Premier T. D. Pattullo was still held here last night with an exceptionally heavy rainstorm accompanied by lack of visibility having prevented his departure by plane for Queen Charlotte Islands during the day. He left this morning for Alaska enroute to Northern British Columbia and Yukon.

The plane got away at 9:30 for Ketchikan where a brief call is planned to be made. Proceeding to Juneau, airplane mechanics will give the plane the once-over, the first examination since she was put in operation recently. By evening it is expected they will be in Atlin where they will spend the night before proceeding to Dawson. It is planned to visit the Queen Charlotte Islands and Terrace after the northern trip when it is hoped the weather conditions will be more suitable.

HOSPITAL BUILDING

Premier Pattullo Intimates That Government Aid May be Expected—Architect Here

To go into plans for the projected new Prince Rupert General Hospital building, Henry Whittaker, provincial architect, arrived in the city on the Prince George this morning.

Yesterday Premier T. D. Pattullo was in conference with representatives of the hospital. The Premier intimated that it was the intention to have an appropriation made at the session of the Legislature this fall towards the construction of a new hospital here.

Meanwhile, Mr. Whittaker has been sent here to go into the whole matter. He will obtain information to place before the government and his services are also being offered to the hospital board in connection with the preparation of plans. There appears reason to anticipate that by next year new hospital construction may be actually under way.

COUNTRY BURNING UP

Prince Rupert, with her cool, refreshing showers, finds it difficult to sympathize with the people of Chicago and the rest of the Middle West where they have sizzling heat and the crops are being burned up by the intense heat without moisture.

SITE FOR POST OFFICE

It is satisfactory to know that the provincial government is co-operating with Ottawa in providing a site for the new Federal Block which is to be erected in Prince Rupert. It seems to be the general opinion in Prince Rupert that this site is the right one and that it would be wise for the Victoria authorities to make an attractive offer. The question of site seems to have been one of the stumbling blocks to the erection of a building in the past.

ODIOUS COMPARISONS

Making some comparisons between Canada and Great Britain, Bruce Hutchison in the Victoria Times writes: "Here in Canada, where we sometimes look on the Old Country as behind the times, we find that a non-elective Senate, manned by political has-beens, broken-downs and never-were's, is stultifying the newly-elected House of Commons. Mr. Meighen, defeated every time he led a government to the country, is leading the Senate now and telling the Canadian people what legislation they can have and what they can't. No noble lord could get away with that in Britain for twenty-four hours. Over there no noble lord would have the effrontery to try."

"This is one reason why we shouldn't laugh at poor blundering Baldwin. Another reason is that this country has no right to laugh at a British government which was afraid to fight Mussolini for fear of starting a conflagration when obviously we Canadians were not prepared to fight either. We were not prepared to propose oil sanctions, even. We had enough sense to keep out of the mess. But to smirk now at a government which felt the same way as we did is rather obscene."

CARDINALS BAMBINO STILL LEAD AS PILOT

Half Game Margin Over Chicago Who Won Double-Header Yesterday

CHICAGO, July 10: (CP)—Chicago Cubs took both ends of a double-header by close scores from Brooklyn Dodgers here yesterday, the first game being a 13-inning battle, but the rough and tumble St. Louis Cardinals held the National League leadership by a margin of half a game by winning over the New York Giants at Sportsmen's Field.

In the American League, Wes Ferrell pitched his twelfth win of the season for the Boston Red Sox who defeated the Chicago White Sox at Boston. The Red Sox, who had a disastrous losing streak recently, are now doing better on the home stand. The best Joe DeMaggio, sensational young rookie batsman, could do for the New York Yankees yesterday was to gather one single in four times at bat, the Yanks losing to the Cleveland Indians at the Yankee Stadium to have their margin of leadership reduced to eight and a half games over the Detroit Tigers who, even with Mickey Cochrane and Hank Greenberg off the line-up, defeated the Washington Senators in a free-hitting game at the National Capital for their thirteenth win in the last fifteen starts.

These were the first Big League games in three days and results were as follows:

Philadelphia 5, Pittsburgh 16.
Brooklyn 3-4, Chicago 4-5.
New York 3, St. Louis 6.
Boston 6, Cincinnati 5 (night game).

Only Question of Salary Preventing Ruth From Assuming Charge of Cleveland

CLEVELAND, July 10:—Babe Ruth has been offered the managership of the Cleveland Indians, who have been under fire by fans and press alike for their disappointing showing so far this season. Only the question of salary is preventing an agreement being reached. The Bambino is holding out for $35,000 a year which the club ownership considers too high.

Ruth is not worrying. He is estimated to be worth between $400,000 and $500,000 apart from which he has a substantial income from other interests. He does not need the job.

files expectations. This streamline design was developed by J. H. Parkin, assistant director of the division of physics, national research council at Ottawa, his assistant, Dr. J. Green, and officers of the motive power department, Canadian National Railways, extensive wind-tunnel tests being made with models.

The design decided upon reduces air resistance at high speed to a minimum and, by utilizing a louvre at the top of the streamlined front, lifts smoke and cinders clear of the locomotive cab, thus ensuring clear vision for the engineer and at the same time carrying the smoke of the locomotive clear of the train.

An additional piece of equipment, designed to add to the comfort of passengers riding behind the new engines, is the track sprinkler installed under the tender. By the device the track may be sprinkled from the tender before the passenger cars pass over it. The sprinkler device is controlled from the engine cab and adds greatly to the comfort of travellers during hot, dusty weather or when loose ballast is encountered at any point on the line.

Design Features

In designing this entirely new engine for Canadian service, the motive power experts had for the guidance several years of experience with the 6100 Northern and 6700 Hudson types of locomotives, the best features of each of which were embodied in the new power.

The new locomotives, while the largest streamlined steam engines in the world, are not the heaviest locomotives in use on the Canadian National system. They represent, however, the most advanced design in the art of steam locomotive construction which in the past decade has witnessed the introduction and development of many improvements and devices productive of economy in the consumption of fuel and greater efficiency in operation. Their employment to meet the exacting needs of specific services will produce sufficient savings to more than justify the investment and the replacement of older types of locomotives, according to Canadian National motive power officials. The large driving wheels of the new locomotives, together with cross counter balancing and scientific distribution of weight on the driving wheels, also reduce the stresses on tracks and bridges. Their operation is also proving that they are most economical in both coal and water consumption.

Shower For Miss Thelma Skinner

Mrs. J. E. Boddie and Miss Dorothy Rushbrook Hostesses at Delightful Affair

Despite yesterday's inclement weather a pretty event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Boddie, Eighth Avenue East, the affair being a joint shower arranged by Mrs. Boddie and Miss Dorothy Rushbrook in honor of Miss Thelma Skinner, whose marriage to Wilfred McLean of Seal Cove is soon to be solemnized. The color scheme throughout in flowers, decorations and refreshments was in pink and white and was charming in effect.

The many useful and beautiful gifts were wheeled in on a tea wagon and, as the bride-elect unwrapped the presents for the inspection of the guests, she thanked the donors in a graceful little speech for their many kindnesses. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. George Kelsey and Mrs. Skinner. Mrs. J. W. Nicholls, Mrs. George Kelsey and Mrs. McLean poured, while Miss Rita McLean, Miss Annie Boddie and Miss Dorothy Rushbrook acted as serveurs. Little Miss May Skinner ushered in the guests.

being made socially and politically and this must be recognized. The difficulty was that financial economy had not kept pace with industrial advancement. All were capitalists to a degree and this was what made for stability. There was no country in the world in which there was less excuse for unemployment than Canada. There was plenty of work to be done. In the United States Roosevelt had been up against a different proposition. There the banking system was not sound and, with banks everywhere going to the wall, it was necessary for the President to take vigorous and prompt action. In Canada the banks were on a sound footing because the government of the country was behind them.

Hospital Extension

Mentioning local needs which would improve the employment situation, Mr. Pattullo said they were planning to place a proposal before the legislature for a grant to the Prince Rupert Hospital. This would help to provide employment. The relief system was absolutely vicious. He said he had met many young men all of whom had stated that all they wanted was a chance to work. True there were a few people who would like to be always on relief but only a few. He still maintained that the employment problem was still the most outstanding problem in Canada.

The Premier thanked the people of Prince Rupert for their leniency with him as their member. They knew that he had so much to do it was impossible to spend much time with them. He also was keen to visit Stewart, Alice Arm, Terrace and Queen Charlotte Islands. He was also planning to visit his old stamping grounds at Dawson where he lived prior to coming to Prince Rupert 27 years ago.

ROMANTIC THRILLER

"Robin Hood of Eldorado," With Warner Baxter, Here This Week-end

A thrilling action romance of one of the most stirring eras of America's frontier history, the roaring California days of '49, "Robin Hood of Eldorado," starring Warner Baxter, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre as the feature offering this week-end. It deals with the heartaches, the romances, the joys and the sorrows of an absorbing character—Joaquin Murrieta who left his name written large in the early history of the Golden State.

Warner Baxter plays in his usual dashing manner the role of the good-bad man who rode like an avenging angel through the old towns, leading a wild outlaw army of four hundred men. The role blends romance with fierceness, tenderness with hate. The supporting cast includes Ann Loring, a newcomer, who demonstrates dramatic depth; Margo, the Spanish dancing beauty, who has become a dramatic actress; Bruce Cabot, Eric Linden, Charles Trowbridge, Harvey Stephens and others.

Spectacularly produced, the picture abounds with thrills and romance.

Extend Air Lines

CANBERRA, Aust., July 10: (CP)—The Australian government has before it proposals for the development of Australian air services. These include the linking of Australia with New Zealand and the United States and the extension of existing air mail service.

W. J. Sloan of Stewart, who has been on a trip to Vancouver, is returning north aboard the Prince George today.

Mrs. Jack Gurvich and son will sail tomorrow night on the Prince George for a trip to Vancouver.
