Are Finding It Very Difficult To Get Out of Bloody Spain

Consul's Wife Slain

Norwegian Diplomat Bereaved as Result of Outbreak in San Sebastian

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 27.—American officials over the week-end hunted some avenue of escape for 160 Americans endangered in the Embassy at Madrid by civil war, which has turned Spain into a bloody battle ground. Eric C. Wendelin, third secretary in charge of the Embassy, informed Secretary of State Cordell Hull by trans-Atlantic telephone that all avenues of egress from Madrid apparently are closed to Americans. Officials here still hoped that some means might be found to evacuate the Americans from the capital city as they have been taken off most of the sea coast towns.

Wendelin indicated that it was impossible or impractical for Americans to attempt to motor to the sea coast. Many drivers of automobiles in Madrid have had their autos commandeered by the government and military authorities. Also, most of the roads leading from the capital are either covered by opposition military forces, or have been rendered impassable by barricades thrown up by rebel or government troops.

Consul's Wife Killed PARIS, July 27: (CP)—Slaying of the Norwegian consul's wife and her nurse by government militiamen in San Sebastian during an attempt to put down Fascist insurgents was revealed by refugees reaching France today from war-torn Spain.

Aircraft Has Revolutionized Warfare—His Idea of Security

BERLIN, Germany, July 27:—In a speech that far exceeded the framework of the usual exchange of international courtesies, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh warned the world that the airplane had become such a powerful weapon of destruction that it had revolutionized modern warfare and stripped the armor from every nation in war.

After referring to the grave menace of aerial warfare, Col. Lindbergh, who was speaking before the Aero Club of Berlin, urged that the problem of security be met by intelligence rather than by force, by dynamic rather than by static means.

Hon. J. E. Michaud Here in Course of Coast Tour—Interviews Today

First member of the new Mackenzie King government to visit Prince Rupert, Hon. J. E. Michaud, minister of fisheries, arrived here this morning on board the hydrographic survey steamer William J. Stewart in the course of a tour of the coast to acquaint himself at first hand with the British Columbia fisheries. This morning Mr. Michaud was at the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station receiving delegations representing the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union, the Fisheries Co-operative Association, the Skeena River Fishermen's Association and other fisheries interests. While here he is also visiting local fisheries plants. Tonight a complimentary dinner will be tendered him under private auspices at which there will be present representatives of the various branches of the fisheries.

Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries for the coast. H. D. Parizeau, Dominion hydrographer, is also aboard the William J. Stewart of which Capt. Moore is master. The vessel arrived at 7 o'clock this morning, having made its last call at Butedale before arriving here. James Boyd, supervisor of fisheries, met the party at Smith's Inlet. STOCK MARKET SHOWS GAIN

Moved Steadily Upward Again in Last Week's Trading

NEW YORK, July 27:—The stock market scored a further gain last week with volume about the same as that of the preceding week. The week's feature was strength in motor shares. These wavered late in the week as the time approached for the Chrysler meeting but directors surprised everyone by ordering a dividend of 54 for the late quarter, a larger dividend than it had paid in any full year. General Motors directors meet today after the close to announce earnings and act on the dividend. An equally good showing is anticipated. Automobile equipments were bid up, along with the motors. Bonus purchases had some influence on the automobile market. They were also a factor in boosting retail sales, which in turn spurred wholesale trade. Better retail business helped mercantile stocks. Many new highs for the year or longer were set. Mail orders made good advances as did department store issues. Farmers' implement issues advanced. Douglas made wide gains to head an advance in aviation. Some oils advanced. Rails did well. Copper stocks advanced. Utilities did little more than hold their own, because of profit taking. Electric equipments mounted to new highs, then lost ground. Communications also were slightly easier. A long list of special issues made wide gains.

Young Innes lost his life when a skiff from which he was working with a seine was in some manner upset by the net. He was thrown into the water and before help could reach him, he had gone down. The tragedy occurred right in front of the village of Hartley Bay while a seine was being set. William Innes was the son of Tom Innes, a native returned man, who himself was drowned some years ago at Kitkatla. Besides his mother, he is survived by two brothers and one sister.

STICK TO IT AND WIN

It has been sometimes wildly stated that the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce never does anything, that all they do is talk and pass resolutions. This is all wrong and an instance in point happened last week which shows how persistent effort on their part eventually brought results.

For the past seven years the Chamber has been trying to secure the right for the port to bring in a deep sea ship with a local pilot. The local requests have been ignored and, whenever a grain ship or a log carrier came into port, a pilot had to be sent all the way from Vancouver to bring her in and take her out.

A strong fight was put up year after year against the ruling of the department and one of the leaders in this move was G. W. Nickerson, who, by the by, is a born fighter. The co-operation had been secured of Fred Clendenning of the Empire Shipping Co., Hugh Dalton, secretary of the B. C. Manufacturers' Association, John McInnis, of the Ocean Shipping Co., all of Vancouver. Others who helped considerably were Olof Hanson M.P. and Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of marine, with the ultimate result that last week the big British freighter Stonegate was brought in by a local pilot, Captain J. R. Elfert, and the fee, which formerly would have gone to a Vancouver man, is now expended in Prince Rupert.

Under the new plan the captain of the ship is allowed to select his own pilot and this plan is to remain in effect until the port becomes large enough to maintain a licensed pilot here.

We congratulate the Chamber of Commerce on its excellent work and the committee of the chamber which has had the matter in hand these many years. And may we be allowed to draw this moral: that, no matter how discouraging the outlook may seem, sufficient effort mixed with brains and an abundance of energy, will bring results if the cause is a good one and sometimes it wins even when the cause is not so good.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS

Once more the Bureau of Statistics has issued a monthly report showing grain shipments from every grain port in Canada with the two solitary exceptions at ports where the Wheat Pool has a monopoly. It read, "Prince Rupert, nil; Victoria, nil." If Prince Rupert people are sufficiently supine to allow this condition to continue they deserve to be trodden on. But then a great many of the local businessmen do not even belong to the Chamber of Commerce, the only organization that can possibly hope to have any influence in regard to this matter.

WOMEN ATHLETES FROM AUSTRALIA AT OLYMPICS

First complete athletic team from any nation to reach Berlin, scene of the 11th Olympic Games, was the Australian delegation, which arrived late in June and went direct to the Olympic village, where they will be quartered during the games. Women members of the team are shown here as they arrived at the German capital and were welcomed by games' executives. The Australians were far ahead of teams from other foreign nations.

SWIM STAR HITS BACK

Charges American Olympic Committee Officials With High Life on Way Over

BERLIN, Germany, July 27:—Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett, the "champagne girl" backstroke swimming champion, lashed back at her accusers Saturday with scathing charges of misconduct by American Olympic officials and more than 100 training violations by athletes aboard the liner "Manhattan." The 22-year old Brooklyn mermaid, expelled from the Olympic team on charges of attending too many cocktail parties, declared in a typewritten statement that officials accompanying the team themselves participated in so much upper deck social activities and cocktail parties that they had little time for supervising the athletes. She charged that official members of the Olympic party disgraced themselves during an amateur performance and a mock trial, ostensibly given as an entertainment feature, was so shocking many athletes walked out of the liner's social hall.

SPORT CHAT

Barney Ross, welterweight champion of the world, won an unanimous ten round decision over Phil Furr, welterweight champion of the District of Columbia, in a non-title bout at Washington late last week.

Mickey Cochrane, manager of the world champion Detroit Tigers, was able to attend a pennant-raising game at Navin Field, Detroit, late last week. Cochrane, who has been in hospital at Detroit receiving treatment for a thyroid condition, was let out for the day by his doctors. It has not yet been decided whether or not the Tiger pilot will have to undergo an operation.

As a result of a hip injury sustained recently in Davis Cup zone play in England and which affected his usual good play in the Wimbledon competitions, Wilmer Allison, ranking United States tennis star, fears he may have to quit the match courts. He arrived at New York the other day and proceeded to Washington to undergo medical examinations on the results of which will depend what he is to do in the future. If the doctors find it possible and advisable, he may proceed to Maine for an extended rest in preparation for the United States national championships at Forest Hills in September.

The United States Olympic team, after landing at Hamburg from the steamer Manhattan, proceeded by special train at the end of the week to Berlin where the American athletes received a rousing Nazi welcome. They are now going into intensive training in preparation for the Games. Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett, noted girl swimmer, was still fighting for reinstatement after having been expelled from the team for violation of the training rules by drinking too much but there was believed to be little chance of her getting back on. She was reported to be in a state of near collapse.

PICNIC WAS FINE EVENT

Hundreds of Kiddies and Grown-ups at Eagles Outing

There were no trucks in town yesterday. All were transporting hundreds of kiddies and their parents out to the Fraternal Order of Eagles picnic held at Grassy Bay. The brother Eagles had been busy all week fixing up the trail and grounds which were in fine condition for the kiddies to play. The Boys' Band, under the leadership of Robert Greenfield, played snappy music all day which was greatly enjoyed by all.

After the kiddies had been given peanuts and ice cream and coffee and tea had been dished out and everyone satisfied, sports of all kinds took place. Some of the best runners took part in the races. The ladies' tug of war—single vs. married—was a big surprise to the married ladies. Also the soft ball game was a great hit.

"I'M THROUGH FOOLIN' AROUND! there's just no substitute for real mayonnaise"

"I TRIED 'em all. I know. Those ordinary dressings can never give you the wonderful flavor and creamy goodness of real mayonnaise like Best Foods."

It's what goes into them that counts. You see, Best Foods is all mayonnaise. It's made only from fine salad oil, freshly broken eggs, a specially selected vinegar, and imported spices. And double-whipped to give it that wonderful creamy-smooth texture.

So remember, if you want your salads to be at their very best, always ask your grocer for Best Foods Real Mayonnaise. It is so good... and costs but a trifle per salad!

Coho Run Starts With a Bang—
 Visiting Yachts over Week-end—
 Hundreds of Tourists in Port Today.

The coho run was reported to have started with a rush on the various trolling grounds around Prince Rupert yesterday and all the boats were making good catches. The result is immediately apparent with increased landings from the packers. The trolling fishermen, it appears, are having a better season this year than for some time.

The Olympia power yachts Vendovi and Chalice were visitors over the week-end at the floats of the Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club. Both had participated in the recent international yacht race from Seattle to Nanaimo after which they came on up the coast for an Alaskan cruise. They arrived here together at noon Sunday and left at noon today for the north, the intention being to go as far north as Petersburg. The Vendovi is 65 feet long and is equipped with a 140 h.p. Hall Scott diesel engine. She has on board her owner, A. C. St. John, and Mrs. St. John and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lipscomb. The Chalice is 45 feet long with a 45 h.p. Atlas Imperial engine and has on board Capt. and Mrs. Charles Boynton. Neither the Vendovi or Chalice are strangers here, both having been here last two years ago.

Kingscombe Navigation Co.'s big tug St. Faith, having left a tow of logs she is delivering from Queen Charlotte Islands camps to mainland paper mills outside, arrived in port at 8:30 this morning to fuel up at the Imperial Oil Co. plant.

No boats being in with catches, there was no sale of halibut on the local Fish Exchange Saturday. It was the first day in weeks that no halibut had been in.

There were 209 passengers aboard the steamer Princess Charlotte on her arrival here Saturday afternoon from Skagway enroute to Vancouver. The list consisted largely of round trip tourists returning south. Two persons disembarked from the vessel here while five boarded her at this port for the south.

Johnny Williams and Luke Watson, elderly native residents of Skidegate, Queen Charlotte Islands, have fashioned a 30-foot war canoe, such as the Haidas used to use many years ago in their warlike aborigine days. The craft is about ready to be shipped to the Vancouver Jubilee celebration for exhibit.

With a good sized list of passengers including a number of round trippers, Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 9:15 last night from the south and sailed an hour later for Stewart, Anyox and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow morning on her way back to Vancouver and waypoints.

A Canadian Airways flying boat piloted by Bill Lawson was a brief caller here last week in the course of a flight around the Portland Canal district and Anyox with officials of the Consolidated Mining Co. who were in the north in connection with the affairs of the Big Missouri mine. Having passed Prince Rupert early that morning enroute to Stewart without stopping, the flying boat was here

CHANGE INDICATED IN PREMIERSHIP OF BRITAIN

PRIME MINISTER BALDWIN

RT. HON. N. CHAMBERLAIN

Reports from England, in which Prime Minister Baldwin is quoted as saying he plans to retire soon, combined with an editorial in the London Times recently, indicate that a change in the leadership of the British government is being contemplated. The Times indicates Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer will be the new Premier. The prime minister and the chancellor are shown above.

Wednesday afternoon, having brought in from Stewart M. M. O'Brien, chief field engineer for Consolidated, and E. M. Stiles, chief construction engineer for the company from Trail, who caught the steamer Princess Louise for Vancouver.

With another full list of upwards of three hundred round trip passengers, C. N. R. steamer Prince Robert, Capt. Edward Mabbs, arrived in port at 8 o'clock this morning from Vancouver in the course of the third of four summer cruises she is making this season to Alaska. The vessel sails at 1 o'clock this afternoon for the north.

Having on board a large list of round trip passengers, C. P. R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. S. K. Gray, arrived in port at 9 o'clock this morning from the south and sailed a couple of hours later for Skagway and other Alaska points whence she will return here Saturday afternoon southbound. There were 155 passengers on board the Princess Louise, 111 round trippers including a Lutheran Church party of twenty from Chicago led by Rev. Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Ryden. Five passengers disembarked from the vessel here, none going north from here on her.

MUSIC AND ADVENTURE

"King of Burlesque" and "Thunder Mountain" Presented at The Capitol Theatre

"King of Burlesque," a romance set in the colorful atmosphere of a burlesque theatre with Warner Baxter heading the cast, and a new Zane Grey outdoor picture, "Thunder Mountain," starring George O'Brien, comprise the first of the week double bill at the Capitol Theatre here.

The story of "King of Burlesque" follows Baxter's rise from the "flesh" shows of Fourteenth Street to the glittering palaces of Broadway. It follows his decline under the spiteful control of his society wife, Mona Barrie, with a climax showing the master of entertainment returning to his most spectacular success and the realization that he had really loved Alice Faye all the time. The picture features a cluster of brand new tunes including "Spreading Rhythm Around," "Shooting High," "Lovely Lady" and "Too Good to be True."

"Thunder Mountain" is an engrossing story of the Idaho gold rush, of a man who gambled on a woman's love and lost but could not be downed. The fighting hero, after many vicissitudes, finally outsmarts a gang of villainous claim jumpers. Frances Grant provides the heart interest with Barbara Fritchie as the feminine menace.
