Methods of Organization Dealt With at Provincial Convention in Vancouver

Central Control

Members of Legislature Subject To Committee Discipline—Socializing Finance

VANCOUVER, July 7: (CP)—What some delegates described "as first steps toward a united front" was taken by the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation at its provincial convention here when delegates voted to create a standing industrial and unemployment committee with all powers to cooperate with all other working class organizations in dealing with industrial and unemployment problems.

The convention also endorsed setting up of industrial and unemployment conferences by district councils in C. C. F. clubs, with delegates from all C. F. clubs, unemployed associations, trade unions, etc.

Authority of the provincial executive over all elected representatives was established by adoption of a resolution empowering the executive to discipline members of the Legislature and other representatives.

The convention approved a plank in the platform favoring adoption of provincial socialized finance based upon wealth in the province for the purpose of facilitating the equitable distribution of our commodities and services among our citizens.

Following decision of General Assembly at its recent sessions in the east to have a missionary appointed to organize work in the interior of British Columbia, the Synod of British Columbia has invited Rev. The invitation was received in a telegram today to Mr. Hollingworth who is taking the matter up with officials of his church before making his decision within the next day or so.

It would be Mr. Hollingworth's duties, if he accepts the appointment, to make a complete survey of the situation in the interior of the province and report to General Assembly in the east next June. Frisco Has Busy Fourth MARCHING MEN and glinting musketry stirred glorious memory of the nation's birth for San Franciscans Saturday.

The feast day of the fourth marked the end of the American flag's first century in California.

A few Americans and a crowd of Mexican subjects met here to celebrate the first feast in 1836. Men in uniforms, settlers never heard of, paraded through the civic centre. They carried battle flags of wars Americans had not guessed at, then, passed a reviewing stand where wind played over shifting dunes 100 years ago. The town's excited youngsters brought their parents out to watch. Men came, and families and middle aged couples. Many came alone. It was San Francisco's busiest Fourth of all times.

Drought Areas To Be Helped

United States Government May Spend Millions

WASHINGTON, July 7:—Federal government agencies are contemplating to throw thirteen million five hundred thousand dollars into the drought stricken Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming within the next thirty days to combat destruction of crops and danger to live stock. Upon his return from a holiday in Virginia President Roosevelt was faced with making a decision as to whether the Federal Work Relief Program is to be radically changed as a result of the spreading western drought or whether purely emergency drought relief work is to be continued.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Tugwell told President Roosevelt yesterday that conditions in the drought areas were rapidly approaching a state of national emergency as temperatures rose to from 100 to 110 degrees with no immediate relief in sight. There is widespread want as farmers see their crops virtually roasted and from 80,000 to 100,000, it is estimated, will be thrown on relief. Grasshoppers and crickets are doing great damage.

WAS ONCE PREMIER

Hon. Peter Veniot, Former Postmaster General and Premier of New Brunswick, Dies

Of Old School

Had Long Career in Public Life, Having Won Many a Hard Election Fight

BATHURST, N.B., July 7: (CP)—Hon. Peter Veniot, former Postmaster General and former Premier of New Brunswick, died last night from an abdominal ailment. He was 73 years of age and his death had been expected for the last few days.

Hon. Peter Veniot was one of the dwindling group of Canadians whose political careers date back to the last century and who were still winning elections in the 1930's. He was first elected to the New Brunswick Legislature in 1894 and 41 years later in 1935 he held his seat in the federal Parliament by such a sweeping majority both his opponents lost their deposits.

As minister of public works and premier of New Brunswick and as postmaster general of Canada he achieved an enviable record of public service. A hard hitter in the rough and tumble battle of politics, he worked vigorously in whatever office his victories brought him.

As Postmaster General, Undivided by defeat in 1925 when he was swept out of the premier's office at Fredericton in a (Continued on Page Two)

PULP MILL REFERENCE

Vancouver seems to assume that Prince Rupert is to have a pulp mill. Last week an article in the Vancouver Province had a reference to Prince Rupert's "twenty million dollar pulp mill" as one of the expenditures most of which it is said will go to Vancouver. While they are correct in expecting a good slice of the pulp mill money in the south, it seems to us rather wild to expect an expenditure of twenty million dollars on the project this year.

CURIOUS POLITICAL MIX-UP

The same C. C. F. convention that elected Dr. Lyle Telford president of the British Columbia section of the party organization also expressed confidence in Rev. Robert Connell, leader of the party. This means that within the party organization will be men with decidedly divergent views and also men who have been trying hard to cut each other's throats politically and who are evidently still quite irreconcilable. These opposing members of the party have been fighting among themselves for control of the Commonwealth, the C. C. F. weekly propaganda paper and have been trying to oust each other from the positions they hold.

Under these conflicting conditions it will be very difficult for the C. C. F., as a political party, to make real headway. While there is anything but perfect solidarity in the other parties, the breaks are less outstanding and the old parties have a way of healing these breaks without breaking up the organization and usually without making public proclamations of the various political rifts.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Most people you meet will tell you the League of Nations has been a fizzle and that the best thing it can do now is to retire from business permanently since it has failed at least twice, both in Ethiopia and Manchuria. A few suggest reforming the league and adapting it to real conditions as they are found in Europe. And yet this same league, which is today being sneered at everywhere, was the first step toward a union of all nations to bring about a condition in which war will cease. It has drawn public attention to the possibilities in this direction and possibly may yet become an important factor in international relations.

general election, he won a seat in the House of Commons less than a year later and stepped into the postmaster general's office at Ottawa. During his term of office the first air mail services were established in Canada.

A mind remarkably retentive of figures and a readiness in debate served him in good stead in many political campaigns, and notably in the Parliamentary session of 1929 when his department was under opposition fire on charges of patronage in post office appointments.

Later as a private member, he startled the House of Commons by demanding protection of Parliament against arrest, saying a writ had been issued against him for contempt of court because in a speech in the House he had claimed Royal Canadian Mounted Police were using third degree methods to get evidence in New Brunswick. Turning to the speaker he said dramatically:

"Suppose between now and Monday an attempt was made to arrest your honor. I want to say to you and this house that I would not stand for your arrest. I would use force."

Mr. Veniot received prompt assurance he would enjoy all the protection the law accorded a member. His complaints against the R.C.M.P. were investigated by Chief Justice J. B. M. Baxter, who succeeded him as premier in 1925. The charges were not fully borne out in the subsequent report made by Mr. Justice Baxter as a Royal Commissioner.

Was French Acadian

Mr. Veniot was an Acadian and a descendant of the original French settlers of the Maritime Provinces. He was the first of that race to rise to the premiership of his province and to occupy an important seat in the Federal Cabinet.

Born at Richibucto, N.B., in 1863 he was a boyhood companion of the only Canadian to become Prime Minister of Great Britain, Andrew Bonar Law. He attended Picou Academy in Nova Scotia but formal education stopped early in life and he set out to learn the printing trade. After holding post on several weeklies in Nova Scotia he became editor and owner of a weekly paper—"Courier Des Provinces Maritimes" at Bathurst, N.B.

In the same year, 1884, he was elected to the legislature. He held his seat and edited his paper until 1900 when he became customs collector at Bathurst, a position he occupied until 1911. In 1917 he returned to politics and became minister of Public Works in Hon. W. E. Foster's cabinet, succeeding to the premiership in 1923.

Two years later the Conservatives swept the province in a general election and Mr. Veniot resigned to win the constituency of Gloucester in the House of Commons and moved into the Federal Cabinet shortly afterward. He held the Postmaster General's portfolio until defeat of the Liberal Government in 1930 when he was the only Liberal elected in New Brunswick. He won the seat in 1935 but failing health compelled him to take a less active part in public affairs and he was not called to the cabinet when the Liberals returned to office in that year.

Mr. Veniot was married to Catherine Melanson. They had six sons, Dr. C. J. Veniot, Lieutenant P. J. Veniot jr., A. S. Veniot, Dr. J. L. Veniot, Lieutenant W. L. Veniot, and Francis P. Veniot. He was a Roman Catholic.

NATIONAL LEAGUERS WIN OVER AMERICAN ALL STARS TODAY IN GAME OF INTER-LEAGUE SERIES

BOSTON, July 7: (CP)—The National League emerged with the first triumph today at Braves Park here in the fourth annual all star baseball classic with the American League, the score being four to three. The game was played before the smallest crowd that has yet witnessed this annual event.

A pair of two-run spurs, the first off "Lefty" Grove in the second inning, and the next with "School Boy" Rowe pitching in the fifth, gave the Nationals their victory.

Los Gehrig's home run in the seventh touched off a three-run rally by the Americans that knocked Curt Davis from the box but Lon Warneke stopped the fireworks.

With pitchers confined to three innings each, "Dizzy" Dean started on the mound for the Nationals followed by Carl Hubbell. Mel Harder was finishing pitcher for the Americans.

KETCHIKAN BASEBALL

More Details of International Games on Fourth and Fifth Of July

In the first international baseball game at Ketchikan on Saturday, Prince Rupert, which won 11 to 5, started in right from the first inning and collected nine hits off the Ketchikan hurler, sending nine runs across the plate. In the second inning they added another while Ketchikan managed to put itself into the scoring column when Eastham got in on a passed ball. In the fourth Ketchikan again chalked up a tally when Eastham scored on another passed ball. In the sixth inning Rupert hit an erratic spell with the result that Ketchikan added three more runs. Rupert sent in a runner on a squeeze play in the eighth and there was no more scoring. Chenoski pitched for Rupert while Eastham was on the mound for Ketchikan.

Second Game

In the second game, played on Sunday, Prince Rupert again handed the Americans a shellacking by a 16 to 3 score. In the first inning Johnson and Simonson scored for Rupert on Bury's double and, in the fourth, Prince Rupert collected four more runs while Ketchikan counted one run in the sixth. In the seventh Rupert sent in six more runs and four in the eighth. Ketchikan added two more in the ninth.

Marvin started on the slab for Ketchikan but was bothered by a sore arm and had to be replaced by Hume who in turn gave way to Eastham. Lambie did the hurling for Rupert.

The Letter Box

AN APPRECIATION
 Editor, Daily News:
 Sunday afternoon a lady tourist from the ss. Prince Robert stopped me outside the hotel on the pathway to the C.N.R. dock to ask me if I lived in Prince Rupert, and if I did, to tell me I was very lucky to live in such a beautiful town so neat and pretty she had fallen in love with it. She explained she came from Oakland, California, and was sorry she had no time to visit the native villages in the vicinity. I told her about the winter here and she said she would love the snow also as there was some where she came from. I thought I might as well boost the city up so I told her about the new post office we were to have shortly, the pulp mill and a new road out to some lovely lakes. I described Metlakatla, Port Essington and Kitkatla to her as well as the Salt Lakes and everything else I could think of in favor of Prince Rupert. She went off vowing she would repeat her visit to this lovely spot!

It appeared to be "Ladies' Day" with me as shortly afterward I met two more ladies, strangers to me, on the stairway leading to C.N.R. offices and they asked me if they might have some of the Forget-Me-Not, a little blue flower that is growing in profusion just above the bowling green. "Sure," I replied, "help yourself." They took a modest bunch each, saying that they wished they had some like it where they came from—some place in California. They added they wanted to take some of the flowery away in memory of this lovely town! Everything to these charming ladies was either "lovely or beautiful" in Prince Rupert and it was the "sweetest looking town on the trip and so clean."

So, Mr. Editor, I thought I would pass on these "lovely and beautiful" compliments, to show you and your readers how the tourists look on Prince Rupert. They sure deserve encouragement to come here.

E. ELLSWORTH.

Timely Recipes

POT ROAST BEEF

Put the meat (shoulder, chuck, or rump), in a covered iron kettle or a frying pan with the fat side down. When it is well crisped, turn and brown the other sides thoroughly. Season with salt, pepper, and a little onion (or garlic if preferred.) An onion with two or three cloves stuck in it may be browned lightly with the meat. The meat should then be cooked in the same utensil, tightly covered, or in the kettle from a fireless cooker. Let the meat simmer until quite tender, turning it once during the cooking. No water is needed, although some cooks prefer to use a little water. The tight cover will keep in all the moisture. Allow about an hour to a pound for cooking. Make a gravy of the brown fat, using an equal amount of flour and water.

Armour Salvage Co. Starts Building Breakwater at Fishermen's Floats
 —H. M. C. S. Vancouver Due Here Tomorrow—Daily Chartered To Namu.

Armour Salvage Co. is today moving equipment to the fishermen's floats east of the dry dock preparatory to starting the work of putting in a floating breakwater, the contract for which the concern recently received. The derrick scow, of which Sid Cox is engineer, was being moved to the work this morning.

In the course of a coast cruise, H. M. C. S. Vancouver is due here tomorrow from Esquimalt and will remain until Tuesday next. The Vancouver was at Vancouver last week in connection with the observance of the Golden Jubilee celebration there.

Late all around on the present voyage north, Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, is not expected back from Stewart, Anxox and other northern points until about 6:30 this evening and will sail soon thereafter for Vancouver and waypoints.

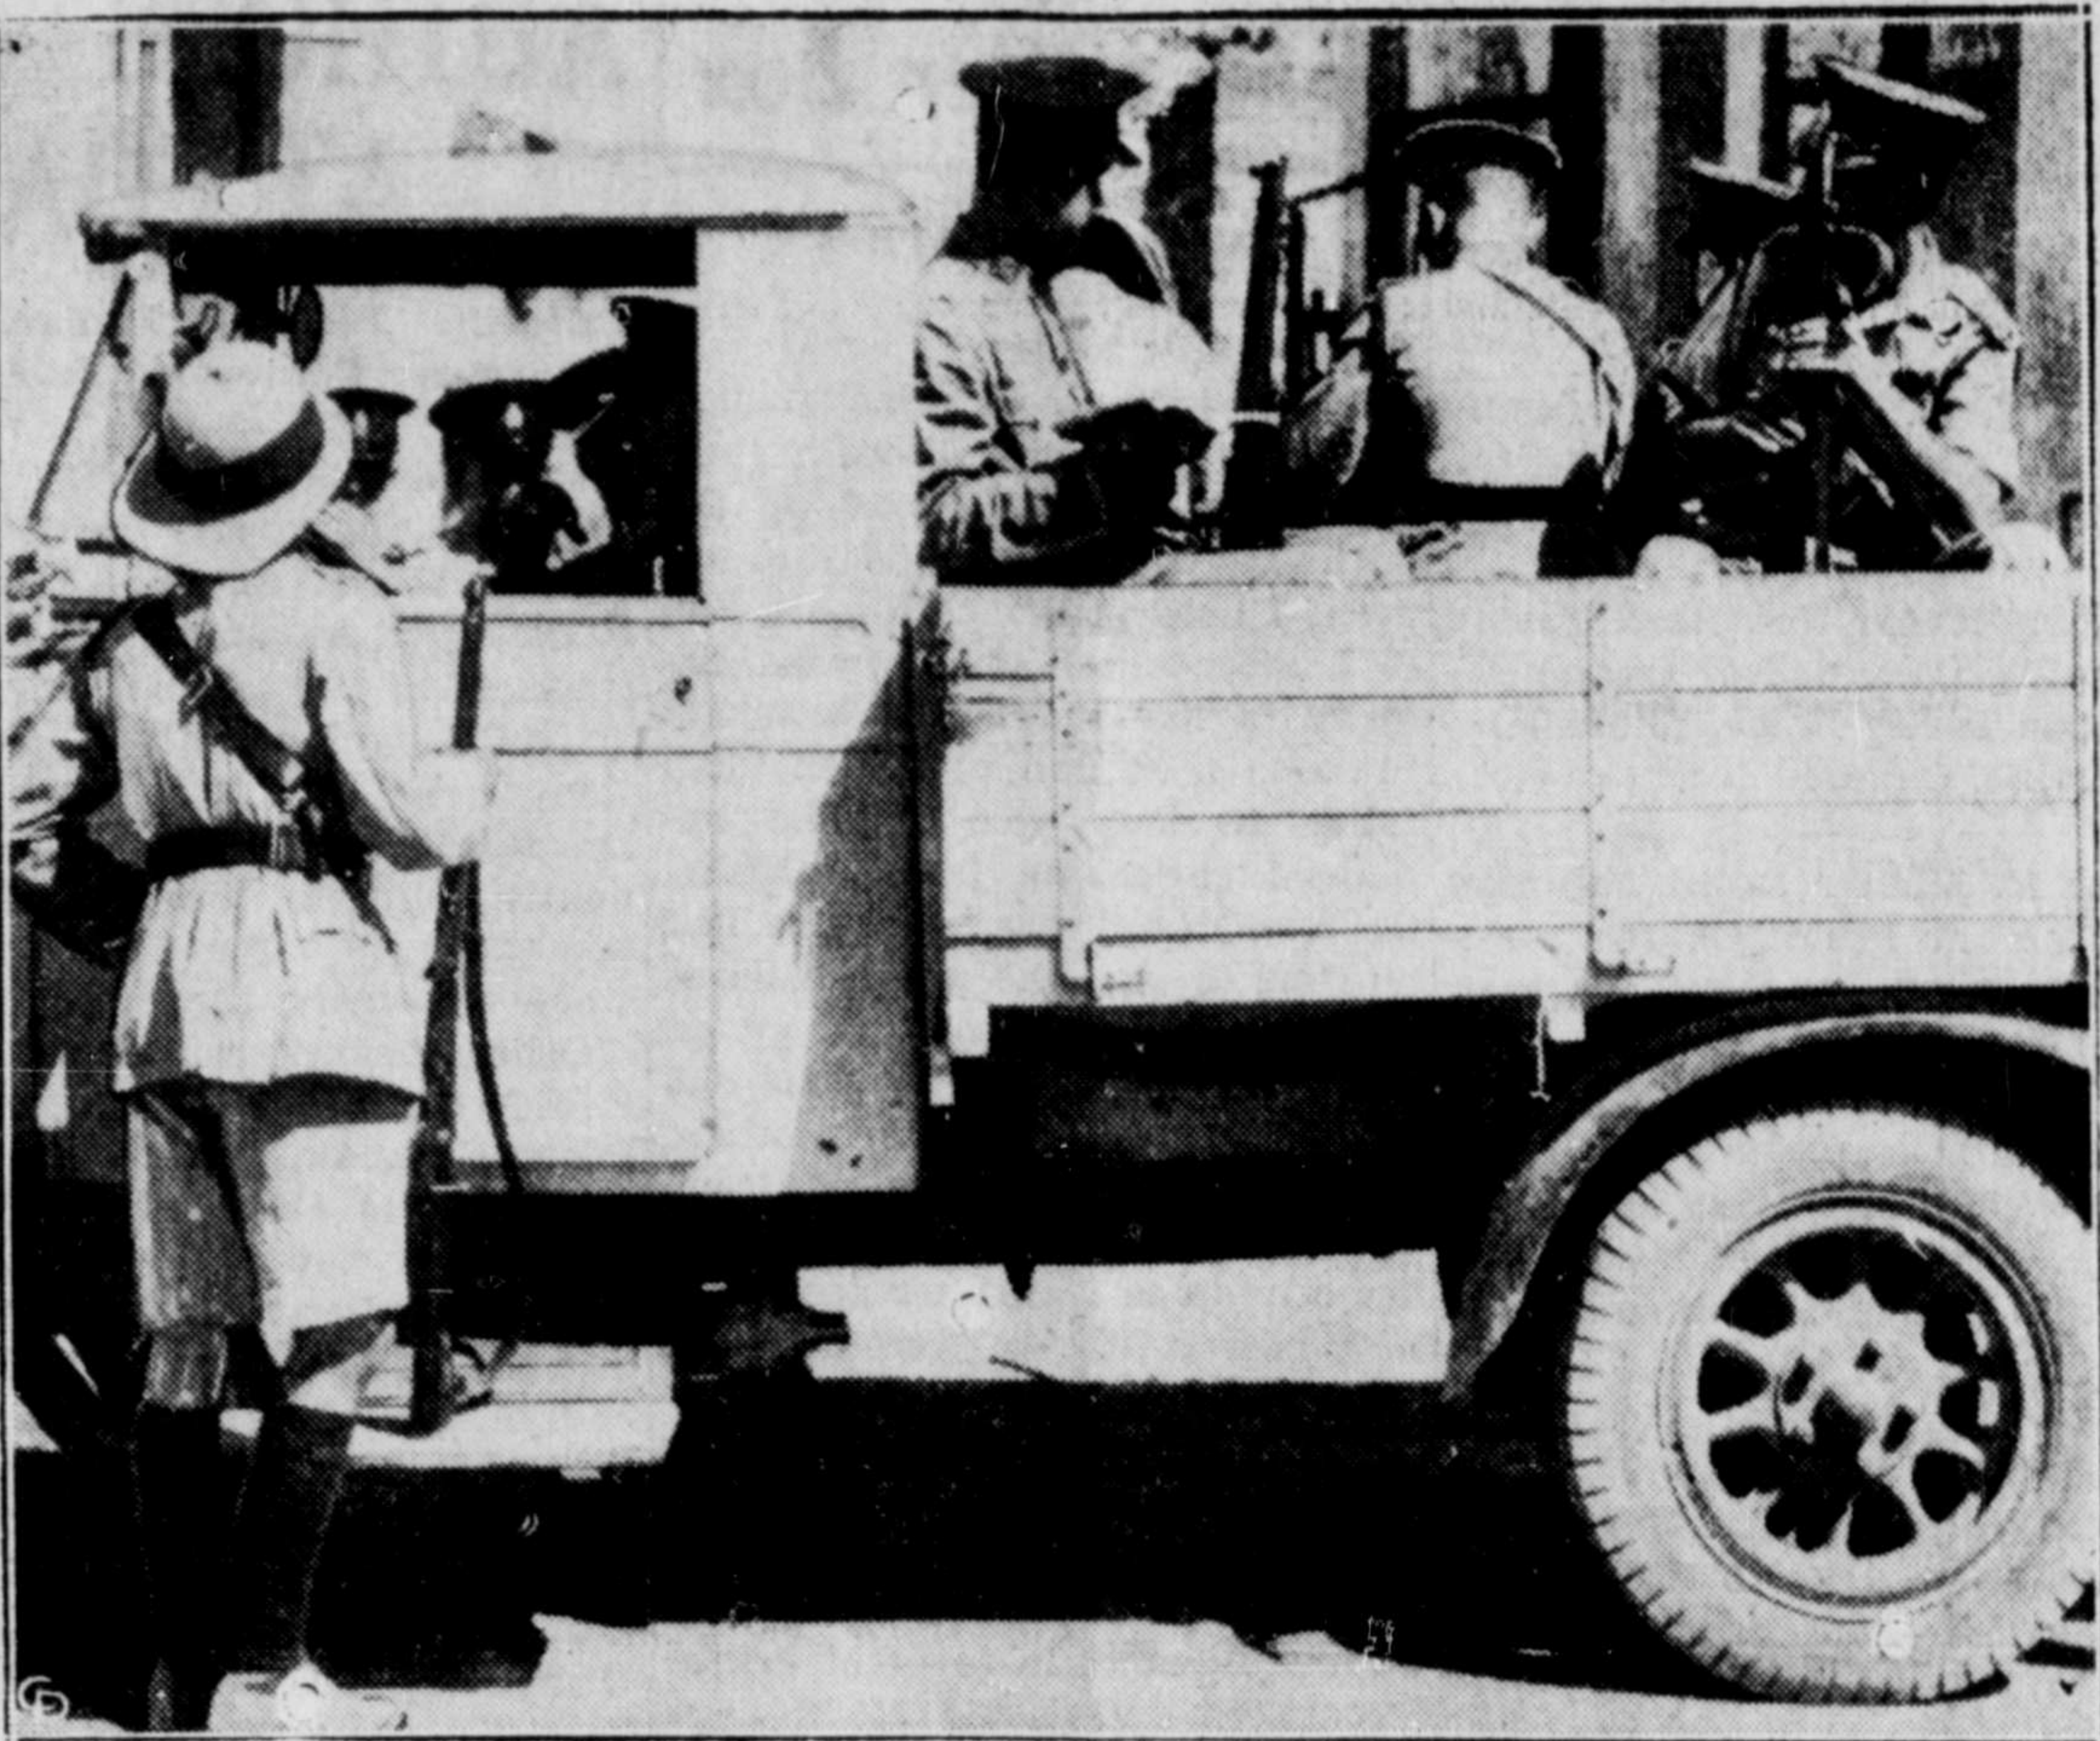

Pilot Charles Elliott returned early yesterday afternoon from a flight to Ketchikan with an independence day celebration party consisting of H. G. Kennedy, Joe Scott, Sam Joy, Miss Louise Zarelli and Miss Evelyn Zarelli and was away again soon on a flight to Hazelton with Col. G. S. Pragnell of Kamloops, inspector of Indian Agencies. The plane proceeded from the interior last evening to Stewart to freight supplies into the Unuk River.

Within forty-eight hours during the past week-end, all vessels of the Canadian National Coast Steamships were in the port of Prince Rupert. For a while Saturday evening, three boats—Prince Rupert, Prince Charles and Prince John—were in at the same time. The Prince Rupert was southbound from Anxox and Stewart to Vancouver, the Prince Charles was preparing to sail for the Queen Charlotte Islands and the Prince John was discharging freight cargo. On Sunday the Prince Robert was in port, the Prince John being still in as she was yesterday while the Prince George was here enroute south from Skagway.

Anchored in Shawatlans Inlet during a week-end fishing trip, Alex McRae's power boat Billie M failed to rise with the incoming tide on Sunday and filled as the water came up. During the night it was brought back to port with the assistance of the Armour Salvage Co.

Armour Salvage Co.'s power tug Daly, Capt. Charlie Edwards, left on Monday for Namu on a 100-day salmon packing charter to the B.C. Packers. The Erne, a 110-h.p. diesel service boat belonging to Capt. McLennan of Vancouver, has been brought north to be attached to the local fleet of the Armour Salvage Co. while other vessels are away on charter. The Daly had returned early Sunday morning from Butedale after pulling the Vancouver tug D. B. M. off Boxer Reef where she had stranded ten days previous. The D. B. M., which was able to proceed south under her own power from Butedale after getting water in her boilers, is no stranger to Prince Rupert. She belongs to the Pacific Coyle Navigation Co. fleet and was here during

British "Storm Troops" Called to Quell Jaffa Riots

A British "flying squad" of Tommies arrives at a scene of conflict in an effort to restore order in the present racial crisis. A call to armed revolt was issued in Jaffa, an Arab city of 50,000, where only 400 British soldiers are encamped. The revolt is again against both Jews and the English and has had repercussions in Parliament. Italians, broadcasting in native dialects in Palestine, were accused of agitating the disorders.

elevator construction days towing gravel from Denise Arm. The crew of the Daly, while around Butedale, had some great sport trolling for spring salmon which were abundant. City Engineer F. N. Good made the trip with Capt. Paul Armour and the other salvors and caught no less than twelve fine springs. Kiddo Fulton was also along.

What is believed to have been another basking shark, such as created a great deal of speculation here a couple of years ago, was taken a few days ago by Joe Kristmannson of Osland while gill-netting at Minktrap Bay on the west coast of Pitt Island. The creature became fouled in the gill net. It measured 23 feet in length and was about four feet in thickness at the widest point. General characteristics indicated it was a basking shark. After being kept a day or so, it was cut adrift.

Gillnetters around End Hill Bay, at the north end of Principe Channel, report that a group of huge sharks last week went through their nets. They had sail fins and were typical sharks. Considerable damage was done to the nets.

Corp. Bob Gibson, provincial police, and George Abbott were among the successful anglers to visit Woodworth Lake at the end of the week. They took a nice bag of thirty or forty fine rainbows.

Frank Warne of the Dominion Fisheries service is nursing a broken right arm. The fracture occurred a few days ago when he slipped and fell while handling a rowboat at the Seal Cove floats. He is able to attend at the fisheries office.

Norman Davidson was able to leave the Prince Rupert General Hospital at the end of the week after having been confined there for a couple of weeks after having fractured three ribs in a fall aboard the Armour Salvage Co.'s power tug Agie aboard which he was working as cook.

Mrs. E. Webster and little daughter, Leona, sailed on the Prince Rupert Saturday evening for a holiday trip to Vancouver.

ENORMOUS APARTMENT

Elaborate Building to House 3000 People Goes Up in London

LONDON, July 7: (CP)—To accommodate more than 3000 people, the largest block of flats—1250—in Europe is being built near the Houses of Parliament.

They will be smokeless and sound-proof, with a private swimming bath, a gymnasium, squash courts, and will surround a garden of four acres. Rent-free telephones and wireless will be connected throughout and under the garden a centrally-heated garage for 400 cars is being built. The flats will have their own shops, valeting and laundry services, beauty parlor and theatre-booking office.

It is stated that 1000 loudspeakers could be in use at the same time in Dolphin Square—the name of the new block—without one being heard in the next apartment. This is because the interior walls are of pumice blocks and every ceiling is lined with cork.

Dolphin Square is being built in 16 houses and in the recesses by each house, gardens of different nations will be laid out. Across the road, at the riverside, the old wharfs will be demolished and waterside gardens substituted, with a river taxi pier for the flat-dwellers.
