AROUSED TO FURY

Attack of Church Heads on Former King Stirs England—New King Would Silence Attacks

LONDON, Dec. 23.—The Archbishop of Canterbury and Bishop of Bradford yesterday rallied to the defence of the Archbishop of York as bitter resentment was expressed in some quarters at the renewal of the drive of church heads against former King Edward VIII. The Coronation of King George VI, it is said, will be made the sign for a revival of religion in the life of the British people.

Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard rebuked church heads for their renewed attack upon the former King.

The Daily Mail expressed opinion that the Archbishop of York's renewed attack at this time was particularly out of place at this season. It urged that the affair of King Edward be forgotten.

The Morning Post wondered what would happen if all churchmen started throwing stones at Christmas time. If they had anything to say it should have been at the time of the abdication and not now.

The most of the newspapers consider the Archbishop of York's attack in poor taste. From Enzefeld, Austria, the Duke of Windsor, aroused to fury, was reported to have telephoned to London with a view to instituting proceedings for legal protection against such attacks.

Queen Mary and King George were reported to be preparing to use their influence to silence the church heads.

PIONEER IS DEAD

Donald McLeod, Here for Twenty-Seven Years, Passes Away At Age of Seventy-Five

Donald McLeod, another of Prince Rupert's well known and highly esteemed pioneer citizens, passed away at 10 o'clock at the Prince Rupert General Hospital. In failing health for some years, his condition had grown steadily worse during the past three months and he had been a patient in the hospital for less than a month.

Seventy-five years of age and born in Lochinver, Sutherlandshire, Scotland, the late Mr. McLeod left the Old Country in 1907 and, after two years at Kenora, Ontario, came to Prince Rupert in 1909, having made his home here continuously since that time. He was engaged in the shoe business. His wife and family came here in 1912 and the family home is at 410 Sixth Avenue West.

The bereaved family, to whom the sympathy of many friends will be extended, includes the widow, four sons, Murdo, William, Alex (Toronto) and John, and three daughters, Mrs. Christina Prendergast and Annie and Netta. There are also four grandchildren—Viola Mary and Donald Matthew Prendergast, Stuart Murdoch McLeod (Toronto) and John William McLeod, the last mentioned having been born only on Sunday. A sister of deceased is Mrs. John McRae of Kelwood, Manitoba, who was called to the city recently and is now here.

The late Mr. McLeod as a Presbyterian and a staunch Liberal. He was also a member of the Prince Rupert Pioneers' Association.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon from First Presbyterian Church.

Leading the World

Britain is leading the world in naval construction, repairing the breaches caused by a long period of neglect of the country's first line of defence. Vigorous measures are also being taken to put the Empire in the front rank in air defences. She is building almost twice as many ships as France and Italy combined. Nothing is so likely to make for world peace as a powerful British Empire. As soon as Britain began to show weakness the jackalls began to snarl and there seemed to be a possibility of a world war.

Good News C. N. R.

Good news was received yesterday in regard to the activities of the Canadian National Railways. The Montreal shops, which are the centre of construction work on the line, are to be speeded up and full time is to be worked for the first time since the depression started. Very soon we shall expect full time to be worked everywhere along the line and the Pacific section should feel the impetus.

A Peace Gesture

Quite in line with the spirit of the times was the peace gesture of the Inter-American Peace Parley at Buenos Aires which has just concluded its first proceedings. Evidently the leaders of the movement have benefitted by the failure of the League of Nations in the drafting of its constitution but at the same time it is an indication that peace is in the minds of all the people of the continent and that there is a clear desire to put the brakes on the war enthusiasts everywhere.

It is to be hoped that the terrible spectacle of what was doing to Spain will be sufficient to deter the dictators who are trying to cultivate war mania in their respective domains. The Americas have now declared themselves and we hope that this declaration is not to be the prelude of a fight.

The first peace conference was called by the Czar of Russia and within a short time Russia was engaged in war with Japan. Prior to the great war, the loudest voice heard in protestations of peace was that of the German Kaiser. Italy brought the ruler of Abyssinia into the League of Nations and then we know what happened there. We hope now that the American nations outside of Canada have declared their allegiance to the Prince of Peace there will be no family row during which blood will be shed.

Canada Stays Out

Canada has not been able to tie up with the American nations in their peace gesture because she is already tied up to the British Empire, which is the most powerful factor for peace in the world. Canada realizes that the weak countries of the world are in danger as long as there is no policeman to keep the peace and the policeman must be strong enough to enforce the rules. Britain had been hoping against hope that the nations would work together through the League but it was a forlorn hope. The tie that bound the nations was not strong enough. It was not any stronger than is the tie that binds the American republics.

While there is more talk of war today than there ever was in all the world prior to this, there is also a stronger movement toward peace and this movement is growing.

Mrs. Simpson in France When Monarch Abdicated

The King gave up the throne of the greatest empire on earth for this beautiful woman, Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, American-born society leader, who left England for Southern France when the crisis caused by former King Edward's desire to marry her became acute. Of the many photographs taken of Mrs. Simpson this is one of the most recent and one of the best. It is copyrighted by British Central Press.

CANINE IS BARTENDER

Mike of Vancouver Island Unperturbed at Becoming Father

BOWSER, Vancouver Island, Dec. 23: (CP)—Mike, the Bowser bar-dog, was the father of three today but he went about the serious business of serving bottled beer in this Vancouver Island town's only hotel with never a show of nervousness.

So calmly has Mike taken the event that he has never even dropped a bottle of ale while carrying it from the bar to a customer, has brought the bottle-opener and deposited it on the table as usual without a tremor and greeted the thirsty as they entered the little clapboard tavern of the Bowser Hotel with the inevitable good nature that means so much to Hotelman Charles Winfield's business.

Not even the fact that one of the pups was the dead image of his shaggy-jowled, four-year-old father turned Mike's head. He just looked at the offspring, raised the pure white, beaming eyebrows on his black forehead and went back to the bar-room routine.

Hotelman Winfield too, took the event calmly. He sold them a few days ago as soon as they are old enough to be taken from their pure-bred, wire-haired mother—and got a good price for the one that looked like Mike.

"I didn't want to train any of this litter," Winfield said, "but I'm going to keep the next batch and train them." He didn't say whether he was going to have them all working in the tavern at the same time.

Winfield is so used to telling the incredulous about Mike that he does it now as if he were rattling off a recitation.

"When a customer comes in Mike sits on a chair beside him and takes his order. Then he goes to the bar and gets a bottle in his teeth, walks over and deposits it on the table. He makes a second trip for the bottle opener. And that's hot half of it. He takes the customer's money over to the cash drawer and drops it in. Of course

I have to make change for him but he takes it back to the table."

As bottled beer costs 25 cents in these parts, the change is usually in coins easily handled. "Mike has to be extra careful with small change," Winfield explained.

Known For Miles Around

Mike is known for miles around. People come from other parts too, to see the dog in action—"there was a couple from Lethbridge, Alta., last summer and they could hardly believe their eyes."

Winfield treats Mike pretty much like one of the family, lets him sit at the dining table with a napkin tied around his white ruff and says he behaves well. "I have to cut his meat for him though."

Mike's mother was a pure-bred wire-hair which two tourists brought here four years ago. The terror met a sheep dog on an island off the coast while her master was out fishing. The owner gave Winfield one of the pups.

"No, Mike doesn't drink beer any more. He used to when he was a pup but gave it up—same as I did—a few New Years back."

Sure, I've heard of Shakespeare and Milton and Ben Jonson, or do you mean Sam Johnson, isn't that the same man?—and T. H. Johnson of the Cold Storage, uncle of Amy Mollison, and Eddie Cantor. Sure I know 'em all. But who was Douglas Jerrold?

So says today's post-war generation. What they know of the pre-war generations is pathetically little. Poor Douglas Jerrold, the kindest hearted writer that ever was. Such is the fame of yesterday! Yet he spoke truly, for the cock of the hat means a lot—to unthinking people.

CHIPPERFIELD BACK JUST IN TIME AS M.C.C. PLAY N.S. WALES

England's cricket test team has scored two decisive wins over Australia in the first two test cricket matches and needs but one more victory. Prior to the international test, the M.C.C. representatives played selected sides in the Antipodes with marked success. This excellent bit of action took place when the British played New South Wales at Sydney. Chipperfield, N. S. W. batsman, is almost run out by a smart return from Laurie Fishlock of the visitors. He gets back to the crease just as the M.C.C. stumper takes the return.

Last night's scores were as follows:
Montreal 1, New York Americans 3.

NATIONAL FIELDING

Individual and Team Records For 1936 Season Announced

NEW YORK, Dec. 23: (AP)—August R. Suhr, Pittsburgh, leads the first basemen of the National Baseball League for the 1936 season with a mark of .9934. William Herman, Chicago, for the second consecutive year, leads the second basemen, with a percentage of .9753. Joseph V. Stripp, Brooklyn, is the leader among the third basemen, with .9683. Leo E. Durocher, St. Louis, tops the shortstops, with .971. John W. Cooney, Brooklyn, is the leading outfielder, with .994, which ties the league record held by Leonard Koenecke, Brooklyn, made in 1934. Charles L. Hartnett, for the third consecutive year, heads the catchers, with a percentage of .991. By catching 114 games last season, Hartnett increased his record to 11 years of catching in 100 or more games. Seven of these are consecutive, from 1930 and including 1936. Raymond F. Berres, Brooklyn, and Ernest C. Lombardi, Cincinnati, tied for most passed balls, with seven each. It is the second consecutive year that Lombardi had most passed balls.

Seventeen pitchers fielded for 1,000, the leadership being held jointly by Robert J. Reis, Boston, and James O. Carlton, Chicago, with 57 chances for a perfect average.

Alfonso R. Lopez, Boston, by having but one passed ball, established a new league record for catchers. The previous record was two, held by five catchers.

William Herman, Chicago, for the second time in his career, had 11 putouts in a game, on August 1 against Boston, equalling his former mark made on June 28, 1933, and that of three other players.

Stuart Martin, St. Louis, by making 11 assists in the first game of the double-header on June 6, against New York, tied a record held by many players.

Anthony F. Cuccinello, Boston, by participating in 128 double plays at second base, tied his own record made in 1931 with Cincinnati.

Chicago led the league in club fielding with a mark of .976. Boston made most double plays, 175; had most total chances, 6435, and most putouts, 4238.

Brooklyn allowed most passed balls, 13. Pittsburgh had most men left on

MEDAL FOR LOCAL MAN

A. W. Lipsin, Who Was in Theatre Business Years Ago, Among The Remembered

Thirty veteran motion picture theatre men in Canada who were in the film business twenty-five years ago and who played Adolph Zukor's first feature length film, Sarah Bernhardt in "Queen Elizabeth" at that time, will receive silver medallions commemorating the event from Paramount Pictures during the coming month. Beginning January 7, Paramount will hold a year-wide jubilee celebration in tribute to Mr. Zukor, now chairman of the board of Paramount and in active charge of production at the Paramount Hollywood studios, for his quarter of a century of service to the industry.

Those who will receive medallions are: F. Kerr, Edison Theatre, New Westminster, B.C.; J. R. Muir, Strand Theatre, Vancouver; A. Lipsin; John Hazza, Capitol Theatre, Calgary; Alex Entwistle, Strand Theatre, Edmonton; Pete Egan, Palace Theatre, Calgary; S. R. Tyler, Wales Theatre, High River; Joseph Derry, Palace Theatre, Kenora; A. E. Mellon, Elite Theatre, Portage la Prairie; P. W. Mahon, Strand Theatre, Prince Albert; H. A. Morton, Henry Morton Theatres Ltd., Garrick Theatre, Winnipeg; J. Miles, Western Theatre Ltd., Somerset Bldg., Winnipeg; R. Bessler, Park Theatre, Winnipeg; H. N. Jernberg, Province Theatre, Winnipeg; S. Welner, Regent Theatre, Winnipeg; R. McClelland, Capitol Theatre, Toronto; Jule Allen, Premier Operating Corp. Ltd., Toronto; J. J. Allen, Premier Operating Corp. Ltd., Toronto; C. A. Welsman, Brighon Theatre, Toronto; Miss Jane Edmonds, Kent Theatre, Lindsay; B. Whitham, Capitol Theatre, Cornwall; S. Delaney, Deane Theatre, Gananoque; W. L. Stewart, Rex Theatre, London; H. A. C. Osborne, Bijou Theatre, Penetang; F. A. Purcell, Lyric Theatre, Simcoe; Leo Mascioli, Empire Hotel, Timmins; Pete Bardessono, Empire Hotel, North Bay; W. J. Stewart, Madison Theatre, Toronto; Geo. Ganejakos, United Amusement Corp. Ltd., Montreal; Joseph M. Franklin, Mayfair Theatre, St. John, N.B.

During the coming season many Canadians will participate in U. S. tournaments and exhibitions from New England to Oregon, and it is reasonable to assume that before long the trend will be from the other direction in the wake of rapid development of the United States field.

Grant, who lived in Kingston, Ont., when he first won the title in 1933, in Halifax when he won it the second time the following year and last year was playing for a Winnipeg club when he again fixed his way to the top after a year's layoff from sickness, is preparing for the 1937 championships at Vancouver. Threats against his supremacy are cropping up in all parts of the country.

With an estimated 20,000 Canadians now playing the game, the reigning period of a champion becomes more and more uncertain. The accent is definitely on youth, with the major champions of far more tender years than was the case a decade ago. Expansion has stepped up the pace. There is a question if Grant's physical condition will hold him up, even if he did survive the toughest draw in history at Winnipeg last March.

West Coast opposition looms strong for the defender. Dick Birch, runner-up last year and close to the title, will be roused to competition on his home courts. Johnny Smith, 17 years old when he gave Grant his only defeat of the 1935 season, will likely bound back still further improved. Eric Leney, from Duncan, on Vancouver Island, is a difficult performer to overcome, while the veteran Jack Underhill of Vancouver, champion in 1928 and again in 1932, carries such a wealth of tournament experience that he must still be considered.

Material For Stars
Jack Storey of Toronto is typical of the modern trend, young and active, equipped with all the essentials to carry him far in the National. He has the advantage of being able to practice at Toronto with such stars as Roddy Phelan, 1935 winner; Joe Zarko, Jack Sibald and others who constitute the strongest group in the country. Storey is right on the borderline of stardom, just falling fractionally short of upsetting Birch in the quarters at Winnipeg last March. Jack Nash, London golfer, is moving upward.

Likely That Americans Will Visit Dominion

MONTREAL, Dec. 23: (CP)—At a new high point of interest in Canada in 1936, the old British sport of badminton is prepared to invade the United States this season in rather a big way. It's all leading up to international events that some day may be conducted along the lines of the Davis Cup set-to in tennis.

While 1936 belonged to Canada in a badminton way, and so will 1937, officials of the Canadian and American associations foresee a substantial increase in international play. It won't be long before the Dominion's champions aren't merely taking a light workout when they engage the best players in the United States.

Doug Grant, chunky young star from Halifax, and the brilliant Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr., of Toronto, were outstanding among Canadian players in 1936. Grant won the men's singles title for the third time in four years. Mrs. Walton captured the women's singles for the first time.

During the coming season many Canadians will participate in U. S. tournaments and exhibitions from New England to Oregon, and it is reasonable to assume that before long the trend will be from the other direction in the wake of rapid development of the United States field.

Grant, who lived in Kingston, Ont., when he first won the title in 1933, in Halifax when he won it the second time the following year and last year was playing for a Winnipeg club when he again fixed his way to the top after a year's layoff from sickness, is preparing for the 1937 championships at Vancouver. Len Schlemm, Gordon Reynolds and Frank Denis constitute a Montreal trio which might make a definite impression. Winnipeg's ranks are depleted with the departure of Grant for Toronto and the proposed departure of Jimmy Forsyth, but still boasts of ample talent. Tournament interest has waned for Bev Mitchell of Ottawa after a brilliant career in the major events. Prairie cities have many champions in the making. Perhaps this season will see young Alfie Ingalls of Moose Jaw, Sask., crash into the circle of select, or other westerners answer the call. Margaret Taylor of Kelowna, B. C., slipped almost unannounced into the scheme of things in 1935 when her left-handed shots gave her the decision over the present champion, Mrs. Walton. Possibly some other figure will suddenly appear as Alice Boivin of Montreal, aged 18, did to become runner-up in 1933 at Montreal.

Mrs. Walton, Mrs. Anna Kier, Patrick of Vancouver, Ruth Robertson of Ottawa, all have tasted the sweets of victory in the National singles. They remain strong contenders still. Last spring at Winnipeg intimidation was given but their high rating places were hardly secure. Youth was knocking for a chance at the title in greater numbers than ever, and youth, endowed with greater experience, will present an even more serious threat this year.

KITSEGUKLA

Moses Jones is around again. Mr. Jones met with an accident while working his team. He severely sprained one of his legs. He was confined to his bed for a week, but is around now although he uses a crutch.

The School Concert and Christmas Tree was held in the United Church last evening.

A very impressive service was held on Sunday night in the United Church here when the pastor, Rev. Bishop Black, installed the new choir. Twelve officers and a large number of members were given the right hand of fellowship and were duly accepted. The choir officers were elected on the previous Friday night. People here are proud of their new choir.

On Friday night in the church a very fine concert was given by the choir members under the directorship of Mr. Russ, the choir leader, with Walter Wesley presiding at the organ.

Anthems, part songs, solos, instrumental music etc., were effectively rendered, several numbers being requested to return. Refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid and a sale of cakes followed. The proceeds of the evening were very satisfactory and were turned over to the choir treasurer.

XMAS AT SMITHERS

Stores Doing Rushing Trade—Seasonable Weather Hockey Plans

SMITHERS, Dec. 23.—With ideal Christmas weather prevailing throughout the district this town is thronged with shoppers during the last few days before Christmas.

Recent snowfalls have left about a foot of snow on the ground and the weather is just cold enough to be seasonable.

The roads are in fairly good shape for travel and cars from Hazelton and also from points east of town are arriving every day bringing shoppers from the outlying districts.

The stores are well stocked with Christmas goods and appear to be doing a much better trade than has been evidenced for several years.

Skating is quite general and the ice at the skating rink will soon be in shape for good skating and also for the start of the series of games to be played in the Town Hockey League which will be composed of the Legion, the Elks and the Native Sons of Canada as in the last few years.

Teams will soon be chosen for these lodges and the Canadian Legion hope to successfully defend their last year's title to the Bamford Cup.

HAZELTON

CONCERT

Fine Christmas Tree Entertainment by Day School

HAZELTON, Dec. 23.—The annual Christmas Tree and concert was held in the school house last Friday.

The native school is the largest in the Babine Agency, having sixty-one names on the roll for the term ending, with a daily average of nearly fifty.

The school had been tastefully decorated with cedar boughs, paper adornments, pupils paintings and designs, mottoes, colored candles, etc. A large Christmas Tree, gaily adorned, and with over eighty gifts around it, was the centre of attraction.

The scholars, trained by their teacher, Rev. B. Shearman, opened with "O Canada." There was a school full of parents and friends. These joined in the patriotic chorus. Then followed "Good King Wenceslas." A new empire song, very martial in its composition, was rendered with gusto and much spirit and afterwards whistled.

The four brothers Wale—Clarence, Wilfrid, Wallace and Howard—sang "Merry Sunshine" very nicely. Then little Dixie Oakes sang a solo.

Ellen Clark, Connie Mowatt, Fanny Wright, and Martha Mowatt sang "The Ashgrove" and received much applause. Following, the school sang "Away in a Manger." Then followed "The Orchestra," drum, violin and banjo, by three little girls and boys respectively. Next, unique Christmas and New Year's mottoes were recited by little ones. A song "Sailing, Playing and Workin'" compiled by the teacher, was lustily sung and whistled. The program, as far as the concert was concerned, was concluded by the National Anthem.

Address by Pastor
Pending the arrival of Santa Claus (G. Morrison), Rev. B. Shearman gave parents and friends an address, emphasizing the fact of the incompleteness of the Christmas concert by the regrettable absence of Captain G. C. Mortimer, Indian Agent. Sincere wishes were expressed for his speedy recovery and active return to duty in the interest of the natives.

Santa Claus arrived amid bells, clapping and excitement, and then there was the happy and cheery distribution. Everything passed off most happily.

Rev. Mr. Moore, United Church pastor, proposed thanks to Rev. B. Shearman and compliments on the concert and work shown all around the school. His remarks were responded to by Rev. B. Shearman, who called for three cheers for his wife who had done so much of the organizing and work done.

Final distribution of nuts, candies and oranges brought another school year to a most happy conclusion.

Smithers Cafe Owner Passes

B. F. Stewart Dies on Monday After Lengthy Illness

SMITHERS, Dec. 23.—B. F. Stewart of Smithers, well known proprietor of Stewart's Cafe, died very suddenly at his home here Monday afternoon. Mr. Stewart had been in poor health for some time but his sudden passing was quite unexpected. He had been in business in Smithers a number of years and was well known throughout the district. He has been very active in the work of the Elks Lodge since that Brotherhood established itself here a few years ago.

He leaves a widow and his son, Franklin, of Smithers.

KITWANGA IS EN FETE

Huge Celebration Including a Picturesque Native Wedding At Week-End

The village and district of Kitwanga was en fete for the past few days.

On Saturday evening Santa visited the local white school with his bag of toys and other good things. The children, under the direction of their teacher Miss Davis, rendered a fine program. After the children's function the old folk made merry until the "wee sma" of Sunday morning.

On Sunday the St. Paul's Church Christmas services were observed. The music under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Sampson and Solomon Bryant was an outstanding feature. Besides a number of well known Christmas hymns the choir rendered Beilly's "Glory to God," Kirkpatrick's "Jubilate Deo," and the "Hallelujah Chorus."

There were four baptisms during the day. On Monday, attended by the clanging of bells, brass bands and waving flags, the marriage of Arthur Matthews and Kathleen Robinson was solemnized.

The bride, beautifully clad in white satin with lace insertion, entered the church on the arm of her uncle. She was preceded by two little flower girls while two others carried the long train and flowing veil. There were six bridesmaids while an equal number of men attended the groom.

The witnesses were Mrs. David

Wells and Matthew Bright.

Mrs. R. Sampson presided at the organ—the hymn being "Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah." Canon Rushbrook officiated. After the ceremony adjournment was made to the spacious village hall where the tables were literally heaped with all manner of good things and what a person could not eat he was expected to carry away with him. Needless to say, everything disappeared—even to every scrap of the huge wedding cake, if not into stomachs, and there were well over 200 of them, then into baskets, sacks, handchiefs or convenient skirts.

The occasion did not lack native coloring—there were some twelve speeches, witty, humorous or admonishing, a remarkable chief in which all the best of the forest—the fruits of the mountains and the fishes of the sea brought their offerings to the wedding. The rhythm of the dance had a thrill that the young had never before experienced. In the evening the young re-assembled and spent the night in dancing and games. This closing act of two perfect enjoyment was marked two or three joy killers and whiskey.

FOXES ARE CRAZY

FARMER HAS CLOSE CALL

UXBRIDGE, Ont., Dec. 23: (CP)—Joseph Wright gets his big game thrills right at home. Hunting a halfer, gone wild, he wounded it when it charged him. He rushed for a tree, collapsed at the base and was found unconscious with the halfer six feet away stone dead.

Makes Business Dressing Dolls

Missouri Woman Will Build Factory For Making Tiny Clothes

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 23: (CP)—Mrs. Nelly Upp designed her first doll clothes when she was less than three years old. Now a mother with two grown sons, she has founded a profitable business—and career—in dressing dolls.

Five years ago Mrs. Upp accompanied a neighbor who tried in vain to purchase a dress for her daughter's doll. Store after store reported it had none in stock. Returning home, Mrs. Upp fashioned several doll dresses of standard size and took them to the head of a department store. He bought them all and gave her an order for more. Since then she has had more business than she can handle.

Last year, with the approach of Christmas, she hired five women to design a factory and plans to begin manufacture on a national scale next spring. Mrs. Upp expects quintuplet doll clothes will take first rank this year although the greatest demand in the past has been for Shirley Temple outfits.

ANOTHER ASSISTED

How Army Helps in Case of Need—Campaign Nears Close

The mines had closed down. What else could he do but join the hundreds of men who were leaving the little mining town to seek employment elsewhere? He had been grateful for the fourteen months of steady work after being on relief so long a time. A steady income had enabled him to give financial assistance to his widowed mother. His own wardrobe boasted of a new "best" suit of clothes as well as a good outfit of working clothes. Previously poverty had taught him the value of money and so, with his savings carefully guarded, he headed for the south, travelling the cheapest way possible. Weeks of tramping around in the interior of British Columbia as he searched for employment brought no success. His savings had dwindled until he had scarcely sufficient to book steerage passage to Prince Rupert. This case being known to the local officers as genuine, every assistance possible was given to help the young man keep his self respect as he again struggled with adversity. Once again he has won out and is grateful to the Army for help received in time of need.

Support the Army's Christmas appeal! Don't delay longer! One of the most acceptable donations to the Salvation Army this year was brought to the headquarters on behalf of a local lad, Forbes H. Lee, who had been saving his pennies for a long time and finally they were taken in a brown paper sack amounting in all to $2.72 and turned into the Christmas Cheer fund. The Army officers were delighted at the gift and asked that it be specially mentioned and the donor thanked.

A donation was received from the Q & S Grocery of 100 pounds of sugar. Cash donations were: Previously acknowledged $239.00 McKenzie Furniture 2.00 City of Prince Rupert 25.00 C. L. M. Giggey 5.00 Junior Moose Lodge 5.00 Forbes H. Lee 2.72

Goes Where Men Never Set Foot

Woman Artist Finds Wild Men And Bandits Courteous

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 23: (CP)—Bandits and wild men in most of the uncivilized places of the world hold no terror for Miss Amy J. Drucker, a young English woman who for 10 years has led the sort of adventurous career most men dream about but few realize.

Miss Drucker, a water-color artist and painter of considerable distinction, is visiting in Cambridge. She expects to continue her adventures shortly on a trip into Brazilian jungles. Alone, except for native convoy, Miss Drucker has penetrated where white men, let alone white women, never had been seen.

To an interviewer she told of one of her most thrilling adventures. It happened in Ethiopia a few months before the Italian invasion of Emperor Haile Selassie's empire. Accompanied by three natives and with two pack mules, one of which she rode, Miss Drucker went into wild country to the east of Addis Ababa to paint some of the savage tribes in water colors.

For the most part she was treated with great courtesy as she set up her easel while the almost nude natives posed for their pictures. One day just as she had finished painting a particularly savage looking individual said had shown him the finished work, he took it away from her and started to walk away.

She got it back by shaking the British flag under his nose. He dropped the water color and ran. Returning to Addis Ababa Miss Drucker met the then proud emperor of the Ethiopians and painted him in oils. She spent several days in the palace and met the empress, whom she considered a very charming person. She said Haile Selassie expressed the hope the League of Nations would go to the rescue of his people.

From Ethiopia Miss Drucker went to China where she spent several months making water colors and painting all sorts of individuals, including many bandits. She was treated with courtesy even in the wildest sections of China, she said, and found the Chinese variety of bandit very vain and when, as sometimes happened, one would ask to keep the painting she had made, she would indicate that it was to be shown to "all China." That satisfied him and he would walk away smiling, without the painting.

Synopsis of Land Act

FREE-EMPTIONS

VACANT, unenclosed, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 15 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement.

Partial information concerning pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands and Surveys, Bureau of Provincial Information, Victoria, or any Government agent.

Records will be created covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes within reasonable distance of road, school and marketing facilities and which is not "improved," i.e. carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre east of the Coast Range and 2,000 feet west of that range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division in which the land applied for is situated, on printed forms obtained from the Commissioner.

Pre-emption notices are issued for five years and improvements to the value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

Pre-emption carrying part time conditions of occupation are also granted.

PURCHASE OR LEASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unenclosed Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes. Minimum price of first-class surveyed land is $1 per acre. Second-class surveyed land, $2.50 per acre. Partly improved land is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Service, Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands.

As a partial relief measure, reversed lands may be acquired by purchase in ten equal instalments, with the first payment suspended for two years, provided taxes are paid when due and improvements are made during the first two years of not less than 10% of the appraised value.

Mil. factory or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 30 acres, may be leased as homesteads, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtained after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under grazing regulations amended from time to time to meet varying conditions. Annual grazing permits are issued based on certain monthly rates per head of stock. Priority in grazing privileges is given to resident stock owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management, or partially free permits available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

NEWS OF THE MINES

Owen McFadden Leases Stewart Property—Annual Report of Wellدون Company—Mrs. Mandy Tells About Northern Mining

Owen McFadden and associates of Stewart have taken a lease on the Lucky Boy property which is part of the holdings of the Glacier Creek Co. and is situated about three-quarters of a mile up Glacier Creek from the Dunwell mill. McFadden has opened up a very interesting shoot of ore and early in the spring expects to start shipping. Transportation will not be a very serious problem as a tram to convey the ore across the canyon has been installed. It will put the shipments right on the road.

The first annual meeting of the Wellدون Mining, Milling & Power Co. was held at Stewart on Thursday of last week. L. S. Davidson, manager, in his report, revealed that a total of 4071.67 tons of ore was mined from the old Dunwell workings during the year, 3780 tons of which were gained on a tonnage basis plus grade contract. This ore came from a new lens opened up this season in the hanging wall section over the old stopes between No. 3 and 4 levels. From the Ben Ali, on which considerable opening up work was done, thirty-nine tons of ore was shipped to smelter, assaying 2.14 ounces in gold, 20.57 ounces in silver and 1.13 percent copper. The rest of the ore was left for milling. The experiment of using the Wellدون mill for customs shipments was a failure, Mr. Davidson declared, the shipments having been negligible in quantity. The mill operated 202 days, averaging 22 tons per day.

The northwestern mineral survey district produced nearly $160,000,000 of mineral wealth during the last twenty years, according to an article by Mrs. J. T. Mandy which appears in the December number of "The Miner." The article, to a large extent of historical nature, is both informative and interesting.

DIVISION OF UNION

Dispute Arises Over Which Organization Shall Have Jurisdiction in Fisheries

Some difference of opinion has arisen as to which union organization shall have jurisdiction over British Columbia fisheries workers. The Fishermen's and Cannery Workers' Union is seeking a charter. This is evidently being resisted by the United Fishermen's Federal Union.

"It's news to me," declared Percy Bengough, secretary of the Vancouver and New Westminster District Trades and Labor Council, when submitted the assertions on the preferential rights of an international organization with consequent assumption of the powers of a federal union for a statement.

"So far as the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada is concerned, it is the official head of trade unionism in Canada and operates in Canada in the same way as the American Federation of Labor does in the U. S.," Mr. Bengough said.

"Here is a case where that body has conceded to the United Fishermen's Federal Union and to the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union of Prince Rupert the full jurisdiction over the fishing industry in all British Columbia.

"The granting of a branch charter by the Astoria local is done after the other organizations were formed, of course, and it would be them that are causing the division or endeavoring to cause a division."

STORY OF MOUNTIES

George O'Brien has Leading Role in Thrilling and Romantic Picture of Canadian Police

"O'Malley of the Mounted," an exciting mountie picture starring George O'Brien, and "The Winning Ticket," a rip-roaring comedy with Louise Fazenda, Leo Carrillo and Ted Healy, comprise the two features of a double bill picture program at the Capitol Theatre this mid-week.

With tense excitement, glamour of outdoor action, tenderness of romance and crashing drama "O'Malley of the Mounted" is the story of the hero who deliberately has himself jailed so that he can escape with a member of a dangerous border gang. Romance and plenty of adventure ensue, culminating in a strong climax and happy ending.

"The Winning Ticket" deals with the adventures of an Italian barber who has an Irish wife and shiftless brother-in-law. Complications follow complications, and the whole affair is said to be very entertaining.

STALIN IS QUIET NOW

MOSCOW, Dec. 23: (AP)—Less and less the name of Stalin is being featured in the development of Soviet Russia. That is the way Stalin wants it. Although this has been apparent for many months, it was brought home most strikingly by the absence of Stalin's name from the 35 slogans approved by the Central Committee of the Communist Party for use in the November celebration of the revolution.

Many reasons why such a move is in order are apparent to those who have followed recent developments here. There is no one who believes the move means Stalin is releasing any of his great power, but rather that he has turned to a more removed and less advertised means of governing the nation.

One of Stalin's reasons is the accusation especially abroad, that he was only aping—belatedly—the tactics of Mussolini and Hitler. He also realizes that dead heroes like Lenin inherently command greater attention from the people than contemporary politicians and executives.

Foreign rumors that Stalin is seriously ill, and that the move proves the open displeasure of his own party, are wholly discounted here. It is felt the leader of the Bolsheviks has yet lost no single shred of his power. Stalin has never been bombastic, but there are many events and policies of contemporary Russians that leave him open to such a charge.

The recent skywriter who etched the word "Stalin" in letters a mile high for the edification of 1,000,000 spectators watching an aviation meeting on the outskirts of Moscow suggested the trend of things only as recently as last August.

No sky writer tried to print Lenin's name on the clouds. There were criticisms heard of this, as well as the stunt of the stratosphere balloon which took off carrying a gigantic picture of Stalin, but not of Lenin.
