GERMANS ARE DISAPPOINTED IN HITLERISM

Military Control Liable to Replace Nazi Control and Next Move Is to Recover Lost Territory

The great appeal of Hitler and the Nazi party to the young men of Germany was the thought that they would throw off the oppression of the Treaty of Versailles and Jewish control and make a new nation in which the young men would have a chance.

Since the blood purge of June 1934 the power of the Nazi party had been waning until today the country was being controlled very largely by the military. Hitlerism received a boost as a result of the return of the Saar and by the wavering policy of Britain and France but lost ground as a result of the shock of the blood purge and the Dolfuss assassination.

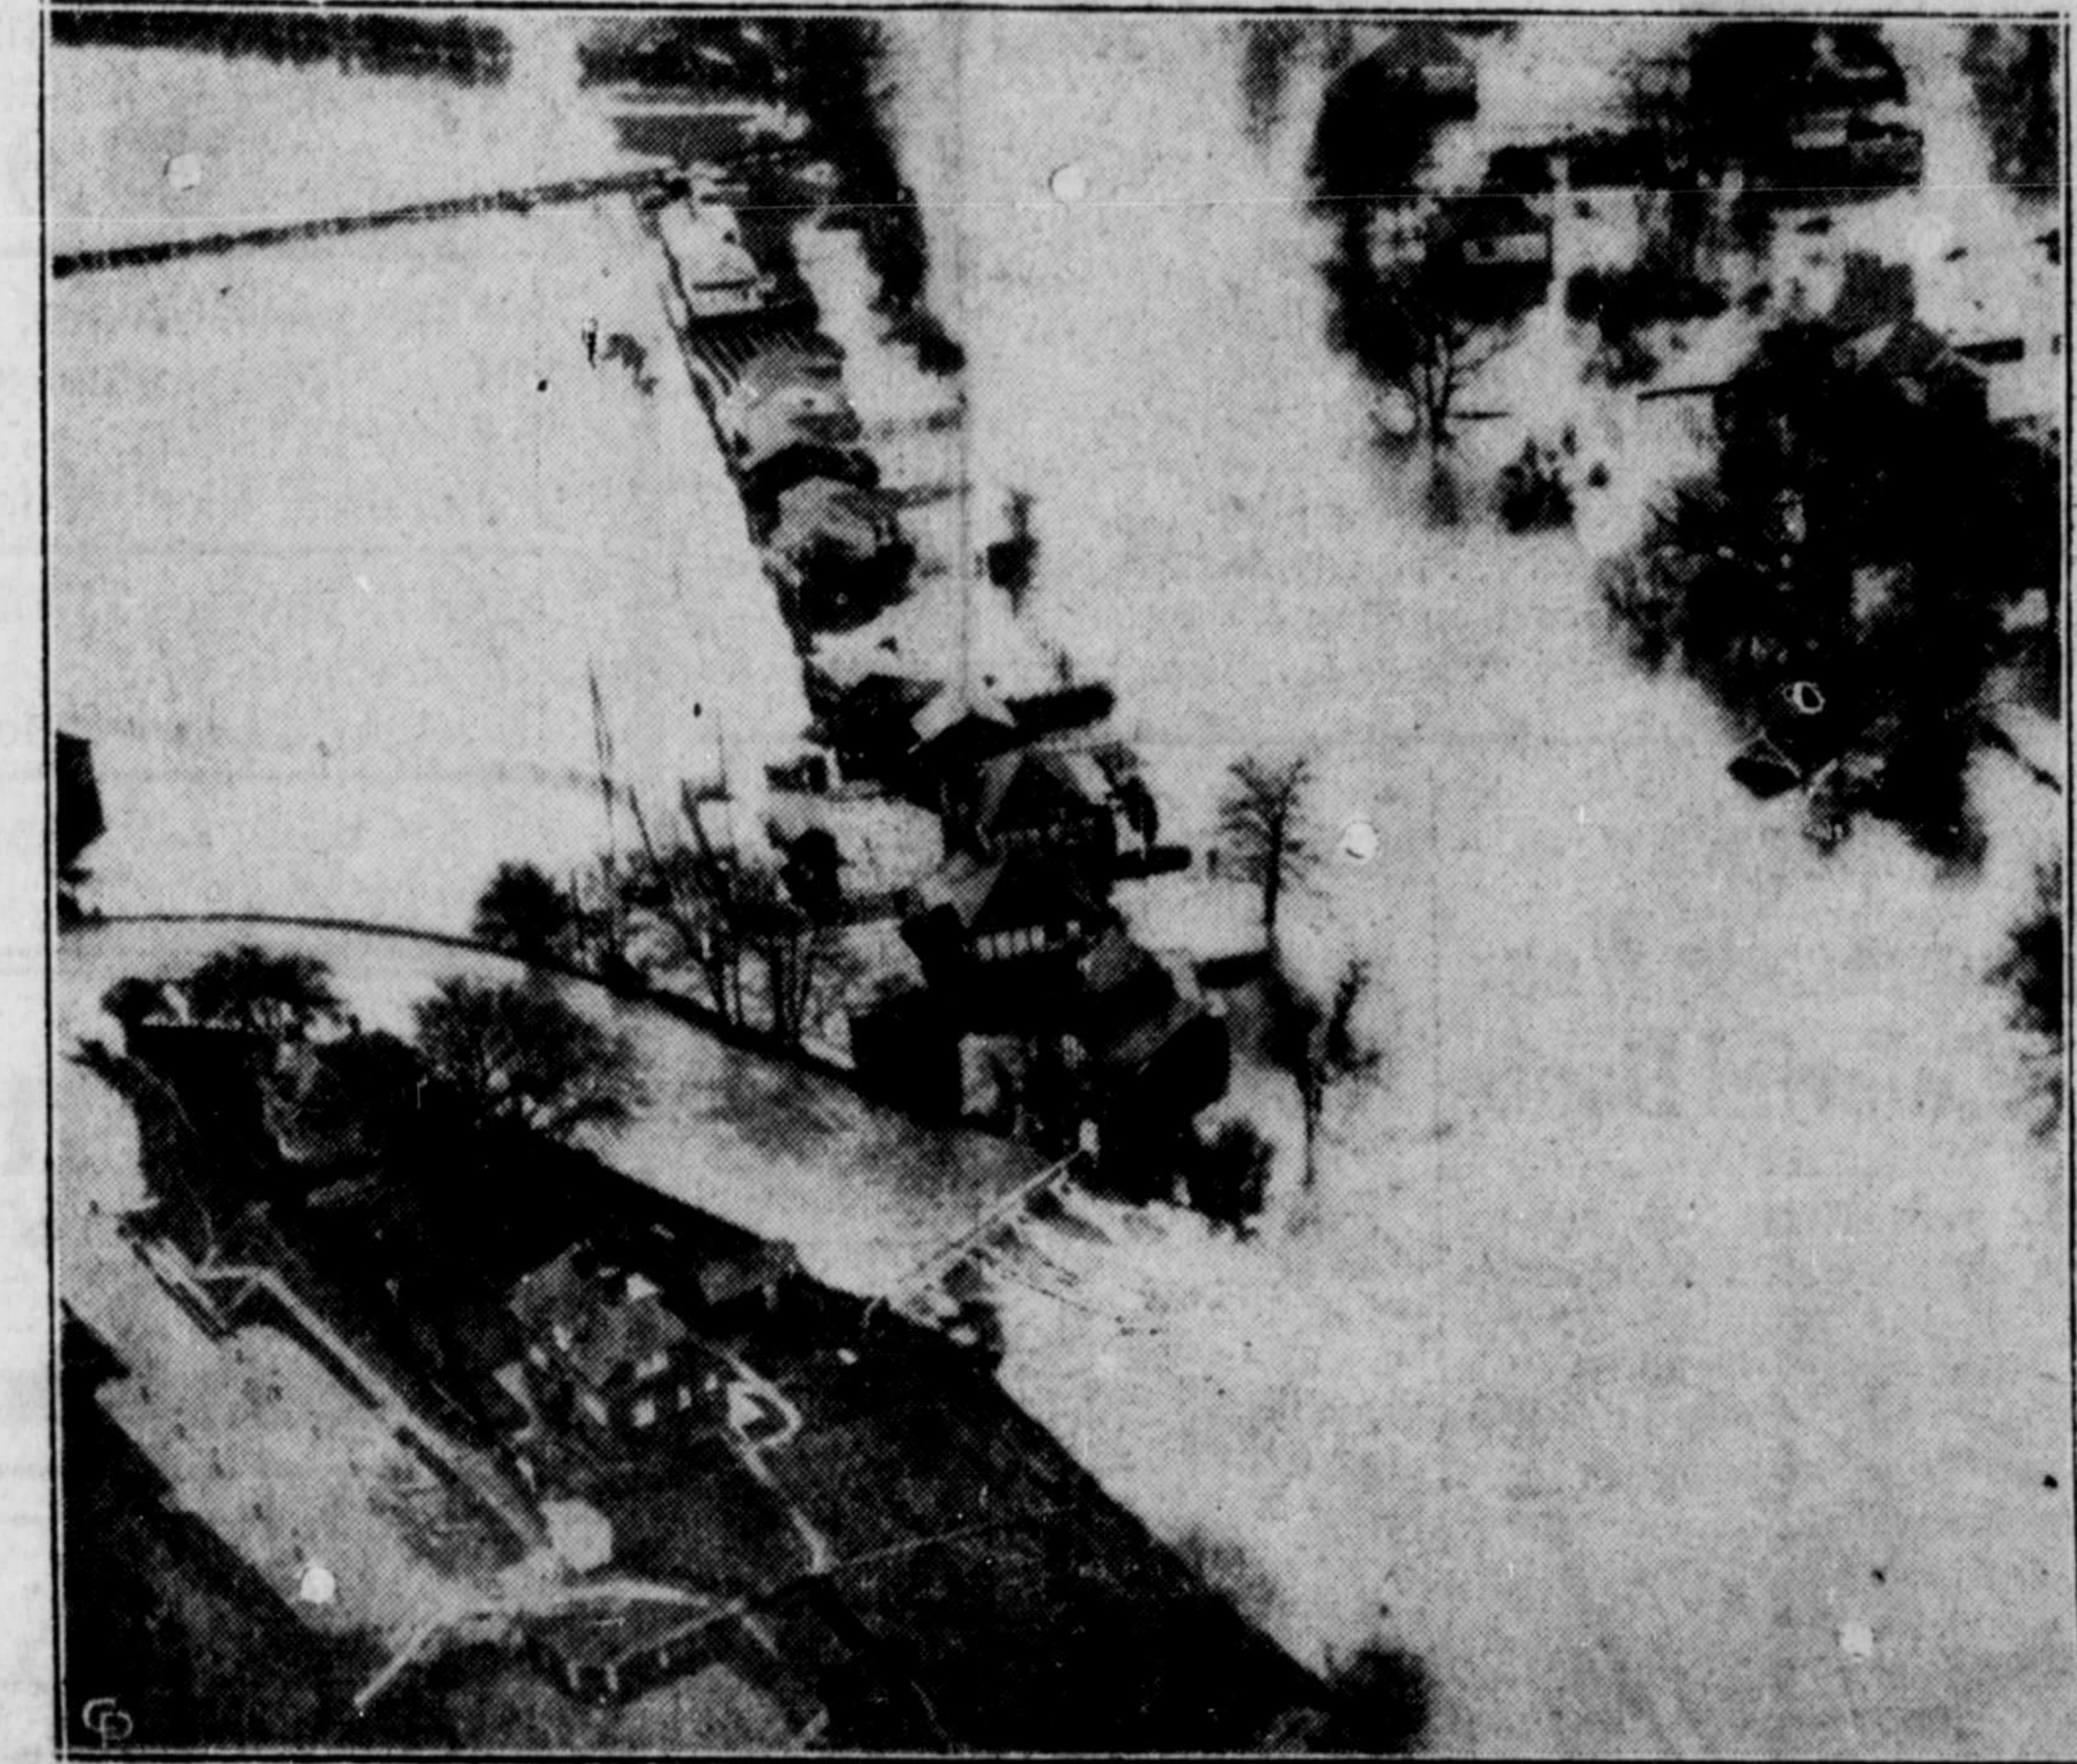

Progress in Diplomacy The speaker showed how Germany had made progress in diplomacy. Their leaving the disarmament conference was for the purpose of showing their own people that they were now independent.

SKIDEGATE MEMORIAL

White and Natives Joined in Impressive Service For Late King George V.

SKIDEGATE, Jan. 31:—A. R. Mallory of Port Clements, representing the provincial and federal governments, and Matthew Williams, chief native councillor, gave the addresses at a joint memorial service by whites and natives of Skidegate Inlet which was held in the hall at Skidegate Mission on Tuesday of this week in respect to the memory of the late King George.

The Skidegate Concert Band played "The Dead March" and the United Church choir sang the late King's favorite hymn "Abide With Me." Following Mr. Mallory's discourse on the life of the late King and that of his successor, all joined in singing the National Anthem and, after Mr. Williams' speech, the meeting closed with the singing of "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

The death of King George came as a great shock to all the Queen Charlotte Islands, many of the old timers among who had seen and met him when he visited Vancouver many years ago as the Duke of York.

CLASS ENEMIES

In Russia those opposed to the ruling class, the members of the Communist party, are set to work on huge public undertakings. They are slaves of the state, being forced to work at the point of a bayonet.

It is just as if the ruling capitalist class in this country were to seize all those anti-Communist sympathizers and them to work on the highway between here and Terrace and keep them at it, having soldiers here and there with rifles and bayonets to prick them occasionally if they slackened in their labors.

These men would not be tried in the courts and there would be no writs of habeas corpus allowed to get them free. All that would be necessary to have them join the gang would be for the police to inform the authorities that they believed these persons were dangerous to the well-being of the state.

LECTURE INFORMATIVE

In his lecture in the Royal Memorial School Wednesday Wilson Woodside mentioned only lightly the "class enemies" but he said he had walked a few miles out from Mission to see them working on the building of a big ship canal. The lecture was the most informative yet heard because the speaker gave both sides of the picture and did not spare Canadians in his comparison of the educated youth of Russia with his hopeful, purposeful outlook compared with the dejected college graduates coming from the Canadian universities. Yet Mr. Woodside said it was "glorious to be once more in a free country," away from all the deprivations of Europe.

Mr. Woodside also emphasized the step toward a person made when he lived for a "cause" such as that of building Russia along Communist lines rather than living from hand to mouth, being to eat and eating to live without any thought of what he could do for his country, his community or his fellows. He did not use these words but the inference was there. He mentioned the Russian peasant as doing it that way under the poorest conditions.

We wonder how many people in Canada give thought to how they may become a factor in the life and improvement of Canada, rather than living just for the enjoyment of the hour. The Communist who believes in his mission to make Canada a better place, mission though he may be, is on a higher plane than the selfish man who thinks of nothing but himself. The C. C. F. worker who hopes to make Canada "a land of milk and honey" and who will do anything to help bring it about is on a higher plane than the Liberal or Conservative who cares for nothing but his own selfish ends and who is willing to be contented merely as they are with the underprivileged people subsisting on relief, starving both body and soul.

SENDING LETTERS

Once more we must draw attention of correspondents to a rule that all letters to the editor intended for publication must be signed by the writer. If there is nothing of a personal nature in the letter and it is considered of general interest a non-declared name may be published in place of the writer's name but the name must be signed in the first place so that the editor may know from whom the letter comes. Two unsigned letters arrived this morning and cannot be published because not signed. If the Port Hope station man who wrote in regard to the fishermen will let us know who he is, we may publish his letter.

Timely Recipes

GENUINE BREAD
Cooks of long ago didn't worry about accuracy. They couldn't have stood in a kitchen and told the whole truth and nothing but the truth about their recipes because they didn't know it. They cheerfully said "two eggs of flour" and meant that no other ingredients used exactly the same cup the measuring, and that other cooks used different kinds of flour, made different kinds of wheat. They just said "two eggs of flour" and meant that no other ingredients used exactly the same cup the measuring, and that other cooks used different kinds of flour, made different kinds of wheat.

PORTLAND, Jan. 31: (CP)—Portland Buckaroos, playing on their home ice last night, moved up from fourth place in the Northwestern Hockey League into a tie with Vancouver Lions for first place by virtue of an easy four to one victory over the Lions.

The standing to date:

HOOP GAME IS THRILLER

Moose Had Only One Point to Spare in Beating Lambie & Stone

A good sized crowd of fans saw a thrilling game on senior basketball last night between the Moose and Lambie & Stone, the Moose team winning by one point, 39 to 38. Half time score in the Moose favor was 19-13.

The second half started with Armstrong and Lindsay going on a shooting spree to put Lambie & Stone in the lead. Then the Moose started feeding the ball to Mitchell and Wingham who soon had the team in the lead again.

Moose—Stiles (9), Wingham (12), J. Morrison (2), Mitchell (8), Smith (2), R. Morrison (6); total, 39.

Lambie & Stone—Johnson (4), Calderone (6), Armstrong (11), Lindsay (17), Arney, D. Morrison; total, 38.

SPORT CHAT

For the first time in years, National League hockey is without a single super-star who is performing as super-stars are supposed to perform. The names are there in the programs—and that is all. The goals of the sport aren't fooling anybody. Just a few seasons back there were Morenz and close behind him were Bill Cook, Boucher, John Shore, Clancy, Chuck Gardner. There was a day when Bill Cook topped them all, another when Morenz stood out as hockey's greatest. For the last two or three years super-stars have been Charlie Gardner, Harvey Jackson, Shore, and nobody else. But in this hard-fought campaign, Conacher, Jack Shore have seldom pushed their heads above the crowd. The Toronto "kids," still as formidable on the back as any forwards in hockey, have been merely excellent wing-men. Others have scored as many, almost as many goals, Shore, a numerous figure in his own Boston, had to score a goal for more than two months, although he remains probably the best defenceman in the world. Babe Siebert, Shore's partner, has been more active offensively and just about as effective in an all-round way.

It has come to a point where names don't count. A sophomore from Calgary, Sweeney Schriner of the New York Americans, moved up to the head of the scoring class in January, although critics are reluctant to call Schriner a great player. They concede readily that he is a fast thinker, a deadly shot from close range. Showing scant respect for the super-stars, Paul Thompson and Doc Domnes of Chicago Black Hawks, Bill Thoms and Earl Boff of Toronto, Leroy Goldsberry of Montreal Canadiens and others have come along to establish themselves as equals. Little Aurel Joliat of Canadiens, veteran of 13 seasons, is up with the leaders. Only a year ago Charlie Conacher was hockey's No. 1 individual. Today he is top-salary man of the team who is finding the going tough. He shoots harder than anyone else but he's checked under than anyone else, too. He is as good a backchecker as, for instance, Thoms, Boff or Thompson.

When sports writers are called upon to name an all-star team, what a job they will have! Is there an outstanding goaltender among the Thompsons of Boston, Roy Johnson of Americans, George Sweeney of Leafs, Bill Beveridge of Moose, Will Cude of Canadiens or the sensational rookie, Mike Gorman of Chicago? Well, maybe. Conacher and Thompson probably will get the majority of votes. Best defencemen are Shore, Siebert, Cy Conacher, Lionel Conacher and Earl Evans of Maroons, Ebbie Calder of Detroit, Earl Selbert of Chicago, Red Dutton of Americans, Ching Johnson of Rangers, Arthur and Happy Day of Toronto. Shore, it seems, still heads the group. Frankie Boucher of Montreal remains one of the best, but he has scarcely showed himself this season as the superior player. Cooney Welland of Boston, Marty Barry of Detroit, Rommie Chicago or Art Chapman of Americans, Conacher and Jackson compete with these aces for the top. Schriner, Joliat, Boff, Conacher, Johnny Gottselig of Montreal, Dit Clapper of Boston, Charlie, Herb Lewis and Syd Selbert of Detroit, Cecil Dillon of Toronto. There may be others. It will be a close vote from end to end of the line-up.

HAWKS IN LEAD NOW

Displace Red Wings From Top Place in Hockey League

DETROIT, Jan. 31: (CP)—Chicago Black Hawks displaced the Detroit Red Wings from the leadership of the American section of the National Hockey League last night by defeating the Red Wings 4 to 3 in a hotly contested game on Detroit ice.

Montreal Canadiens, playing at home, blanked the long-suffering Toronto Maple Leafs three to nil and took exclusive possession of third place in the international section. The Americans, playing at New York, were left in the cellar by losing 3 to 2 to the Montreal Maroons in a keenly contested match.

"It's the Tobacco that Counts!"

NO matter what form your tobacco preference takes—convenient cigarette, mellow cigar, comfortable pipe—your smoke satisfaction begins with the glossy green leaves waving gracefully across hundreds of thousands of broad acres in many lands.

This Company has to deal with an all-time purchasing problem that is, perhaps, the most difficult in industry. Our tobacco leaf is bought three years before the finished product is marketed, and then aged "in the wood" for an average of thirty months. This year's crop will not be smoked until 1939.

Tobacco is "temperamental". Crops show variations from season to season, even in the same localities. Hours of sunshine, inches of rainfall, changing soil conditions affect leaf quality.

The Company's leaf experts must know, before the buying season opens, where the best grades of different types are to be found. They must be instructed, after careful estimating, what quantities are to be purchased to meet manufacturing requirements of three years later.

Field scouts report local crop conditions. Upon these reports buyers base their plans. Their operations are world-wide. Cuba, Turkey, Virginia, Kentucky, Java, Sumatra, Ontario and Quebec all contribute their shares of different leaf types.

It's expensive, of course. Accurate advance information, the services of a corps of expert buyers, cost money. Large companies, such as ours, are compelled to keep millions of dollars tied up in tobacco in storage—all the time.

No room for guesswork here! By solving these problems year after year we have built up a reputation for unvarying high quality for our cigarettes, cigars and tobaccos. We are jealous of our good reputation and you can rely on our unstinted efforts to guard against any deviation from this acknowledged high standard.

EAGLES HAVE BURNS NIGHT

Splendid Banquet Held Thursday Night by Local Lodge

Happy hours were spent at the Eagles' Hall on Thursday night when, following a business and initiation session, members of the lodge to the number of fifty sat down to do honor with a banquet to the 177th anniversary of the birth of Robbie Burns. There was an excellent toast list and program and it was well along in "the wee sma' hours o' the mornin'" before one of the best entertainments ever staged by the lodge was brought to conclusion. One of the features of the proceedings was the piping in of "The Haggis" by Pipers S. H. Leslie and Alex Macdonald, Wilfrid Gardner carrying the steaming national delicacy aloft while members of the lodge fell in behind and marched twice around the tables. "The Address to a Haggis" was recited by William Robb who also said the Burns Grace. Peter Gamula was chairman and toastmaster and kept the proceedings moving along with vim and enthusiasm. There were toasts to "The King and Royal Family" and others as follows:

"The Town We Live In," responded to by J. J. Willington. "The Immortal Memory," A. Astoria. "The Lassies," Robert McKay. "The Imperial Forces," Fletcher Hemmons. "The Toastmaster, Pipers and Pianist," Fred Hunter. "The Punchmaster and Refreshments," Lee Dell. The musical program included: vocal solo, "The Star of Robbie Burns," Fred Hunter; "Burns Stories," J. Gibson, Hughie Brown, W. Robb, A. Phillips, Robert McKay, Lee Dell, comic songs, H. Astoria, Bagpipe selections, S. H. Leslie and Alex Macdonald; song, "Allouette," A. Astoria; songs by Butchers' Quartette (F. Ellison, A. Astoria, R. McKay and Clifford Cameron); mouth organ solos, Harry Astoria; song, Percy Smith; community singing, C. Cameron, P. Smith, A. Astoria, F. Ellison; votes of thanks, Fletcher Hemmons; addresses by J. J. Willington and George Lawson; recitation, "Man was made to Mourn," Alex Macdonald. Pianist was Clifford Cameron. The general committee in charge consisted of J. J. Willington (convenor), W. Robb, P. Gamula and F. Hemmons. The refreshment committee consisted of W. Hutson (convenor), C. Phillips, W. Gardner, F. Hunter, J. J. Willington.

Passing of King George Mourned

Memorial Services Held by Various Churches in Smithers

SMITHERS, Jan. 31.—The passing of his late Majesty King George V was fittingly recognized by appropriate services in the various churches at Smithers. On Tuesday morning a Solemn Requiem Service was held in St. Joseph's Church by Rev. Father W. Byrne Grant O. M. I. This service was largely attended and was very impressive. In the evening there was a service in St. James Anglican Church by Rev. L. J. Hiles, assisted by Rev. D. Donaldson. Ex-service men met at the Legion Hall and paraded to the church in a body. The church was completely filled, some of those attending being unable to obtain seats, so large was the attendance for this service. The service was conducted by Rev. L. J. Hiles. The choir consisted of the following: J. J. Willington, W. Robb, P. Gamula and F. Hemmons. The refreshment committee consisted of W. Hutson (convenor), C. Phillips, W. Gardner, F. Hunter, J. J. Willington.

Sheffield United Defeats Preston Northend Thursday

LONDON, Jan. 31: (CP)—Sheffield United defeated Preston Northend by a score of two to nil yesterday in an English Cup, Fourth Round, replay to enter the fifth round against Leeds United. The game was played at Sheffield. Playing at Nottingham, Leicester City defeated Notts one to nil in a Second Division, English League, match.

Canadian Legion Crib Champs Of Smithers District

SMITHERS, Jan. 31.—In the play off in the Cribbage League for the championship of Smithers and district Wednesday evening, the two teams having tied at the finish of the league games, Canadian Legion and Driftwood played a strenuous series of games with the Veterans finishing on the long end of a 30 to 34 score. The soldiers jumped into the lead in the first round and won by virtue of that first round as the rest of the games totalled a tie. The farmers still consider themselves equal to anything in the district and, but for the handicap of losing some of their best players during the winter, they feel they would have won the championship. They are looking forward to next winter when they plan revenge.

SPACE
MR. ADVERTISER?

Space in a daily newspaper possesses a power that is lacking in the lineage of other advertising media.

It is not only more economical... which is a matter of easy computation... it is not only more flexible, it is not only more timely and rapid, but also it is the advertiser's unflinching point of contact with the mass market and every spot market of the Dominion of Canada.

The Daily Newspaper possesses a power by means of which an advertiser, who knows how to use it, can reach and move to action all or any part of the Canadian consuming public.

In this North American continent there was spent during 1934 in the columns of the daily newspapers more than $500,000,000. The strongest of all supplementary media was used to the extent of $114,000,000. Why?

Because for prompt action on sales plans... for quick consumer influence at minimum cost... for willing co-operation from the retail trade, the daily newspaper is today, as it always has been, the outstanding and most economical basic advertising medium.

LILY PONS ON SCREEN

"I Dream Too Much," Outstanding New Picture This Week-End At Capitol Theatre

Lily Pons, entrancing young coloratura soprano, who soared to fame with the Metropolitan Opera Company and has won world-wide acclaim, is featured in the picture "I Dream Too Much," which comes as the week-end attraction to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here. Henry Fonda, newcomer to the screen, who has been a virtual sensation in the few pictures in which he has so far appeared, plays the male lead opposite Miss Pons. Osgood Perkins, veteran star of the New York stage, and Eric Blore, English comedian who scored with Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in "Gay Divorcee" and "Top Hat," are the other principal players.

The story "I Dream Too Much," written especially to fit Miss Pons, concerns a little French girl who, hungering avidly for life and love, would gladly escape from the fetters of fame woven by her superb voice to be just a plain wife and mother. The manner in which she escapes the fetters of her talents in order to attain her ambition is novel and amusing and is charged with poignant heart appeal. The drama is absorbing. Naturally, music plays a dominant part in the picture. Miss Pons combines two grand opera arias and four popular songs.

a mere an duntiated man, look like nothing so much as an earnest attempt to help every part of the textile industry simultaneously."

The masculine critic does not like fashionable hats. "These monstrous (albeit fashionable) masterpieces perched precariously on a corner of a lady's coiffure are what make hermits."

He intimates that the Hollywood influence on fashions is gradually losing its power. Experts have explained to him that movie clothes are designed for the films to interpret a mood, a character and a "scene." The film people are very particular about the well-groomed appearance of their stars.

Movies Losing Fashion Leads

New York Writer facetious About Stars' Color Schemes

NEW YORK, Jan. 31. (CP)—Edward Adolphe in the Herald-Tribune does a little amusing analysis of the clothes the movie stars wear. He says "it is discouraging to a mere male that Hollywood, otherwise so cautious a guardian of realism, should go so far off the deep end in the costumes it selects for its lady lights. It is more than discouraging; the practice ranks with hat-check girls and orchid corsages among the enemies of man."

"Undoubtedly it is pleasant to gaze for an hour or two at a favorite star marching through a wardrobe of creations that would make a Ziegfeld chorus look like last night's dress shirt. But those exotic and gorgeous dresses must be indicted on two scores: They are not true to life as it is lived by the bulk of the motion picture audiences, and—much more serious—they have been known to give otherwise reasonable young-women ideas."

Mr. Adolphe, speaking of a prominent star, says "the designers of her cinema raiment must be descendants of that species that passed most of the prohibition years finding new cocktail concoctions, using every ingredient in the pantry. Her clothes, again to
