Surplus Shown in Budget For Year, According to Finance Minister John Hart in Legislature This Afternoon—Unemployment Relief Cost is Eleven Million Dollars For Year

VICTORIA, March 11: (CP)—British Columbia's revenues for the last three years have exceeded the amounts estimated and the expenditures have been below the appropriations, Hon. John Hart told the Legislature in his budget speech today.

Mr. Hart said. This improvement was greater than anticipated at the beginning of 1935 and would continue during the coming year, he forecast.

No new taxes are called for in the budget. The gloomy cloud upsetting an otherwise bright financial picture, he said, was the cost of unemployment, the total bill for which in British Columbia last year was $11,000,000, of which the province's share was over $5,000,000 and the heavy burden of debt redemption charge.

Announcements regarding the fiscal policies of refunding, taxation field rights as affecting the Dominion, the province and the municipalities and loan control were withheld pending consideration of the Ottawa Conference ruling.

Al Wole, arrived last Sunday from Vancouver, where she spent the winter, and will leave for the grounds next Sunday.

Clearing of Debris in Skeena So Spawning Salmon May Pass Is Being Asked by Victoria

VICTORIA, March 11: (CP)—The fisheries committee of the Legislature yesterday adopted a recommendation that Ottawa be asked to clear the Skeena River of debris to enable salmon to reach the spawning grounds. E. T. Kenney, Liberal member for Skeena, told the members of the committee that the river was choked so badly that the fish were unable to proceed upstream and Dominion spawning hatches located on it would be useless unless the debris was cleared away. Mr. Kenney suggested that the unemployed be used for the work.

G. J. Alexander, deputy minister of fisheries, said he had gone into the matter of fish net prices and had been told by net manufacturing agents that, if the cannery and fishermen got together and standardized nets, they would be much cheaper. After a discussion concerning

DIES AT McBRIDE

Louis C. Jamieson, Hotel Proprietor, Was Well Known Pioneer Of Interior Country

Word has been received in the city of the sudden death early yesterday morning at McBride of Louis C. Jamieson, well known pioneer hotel proprietor of that interior point.

The late Mr. Jamieson had been a resident of McBride since railway construction days, having come in there from the United States as a brakeman on the Grand Trunk Pacific. Later he established stores at McBride and Tete Jaune and eventually went into the hotel business. Deceased, whose death will be regretted by many friends throughout the interior, was about sixty years of age. His wife died last summer. He leaves two sons, Thomas Jamieson, who is in the service of the B. and N. Department of the Canadian National Railways at Tye near here, and Lyon Jamieson, at McBride, and a married daughter in Seattle.

Visit to Alberta Would Be Premature States Douglas; Groundwork Needed First

EDMONTON, March 11: (CP)—Major C. H. Douglas, originator of the Social Credit plan, in a cable yesterday from London to Premier William Aberhart, said that a visit to Alberta by him "would be premature" until such time as the provincial government's main policy had been agreed upon.

Major Douglas' reply to Premier Aberhart's request that he come to Alberta by March 30 was: "Early reduction of taxation on individuals and property, rejection of the federal loan council, redemption and eventual extinction of Alberta's debt by Alberta's credit as explained are not details but are urgent, primary and essential steps in social credit and social dividends. Until the main policy is agreed upon a visit by me would be premature."

EUROPEAN SITUATION

The European situation is very puzzling with the signatory nations of the Locarno and Versailles Treaties divided among themselves. Doubtless, Britain feels diffident about starting another world war and plunging her people into all the horrors of armed conflict for a cause which is hers only indirectly.

At the present time Germany is suffering from being in the hands of a dictator. Should anything happen to Hitler, it is possible that conditions in Germany provocative of war might change to such an extent that war may be unnecessary. Probably the real reason for military occupation of the Rhineland is to continue the solidarity of the Hitler regime.

A second reason for Britain refusing to become a party to a European war is that the present tension with Italy makes it undesirable that the country involve itself in differences with another country at the same time. Hitler must have banked on that when he moved his troops into the Rhineland. He probably assured himself that Britain was out of the picture and that France and Belgium would not move alone. Italy has her own problem to solve and the smaller countries do not much matter. Russia would not move without a better chance of winning than that indicated in the present line-up.

All this is not a pleasant condition to contemplate. While we feel fairly confident there will not be any general European war, yet it seems that the nations, including Britain, are playing a big game in which international strategy is an outstanding feature. No nation wants to fight if it can possibly be avoided. It is doubtful even if France wishes to fight, but that nation lives in constant fear of the Germans and military occupation of the Rhineland seems to them like a step toward another conflict in which she will be involved, possibly under less advantageous conditions than heretofore.

Maroons and Maple Leafs Again Tied For Leadership in Hockey League Standing

MONTREAL, March 11: (CP)—The Maroons played a scoreless draw with New York Rangers in Montreal last night but it was sufficient to put the Maroons into a tie for the leadership of the international section of the National Hockey League with the Toronto Maple Leafs who lost a close three to two decision to the Americans at New York. In the third scheduled National Hockey League game last night the Boston Bruins, playing at home, needed but one goal to defeat the Detroit Red Wings whose disastrous losing streak continues.

BELFAST, March 11: (CP)—Ireland defeated Wales by a score of 3 to 2 in an international soccer fixture today, leaving the championship to be decided between England and Scotland at Wembley on April 4.

CAMERON IN FINAL

Had No Difficulty in Disposing of Carey in Billiards Last Night

In the second game of the city billiard championship series last evening at the Canadian Legion Clubrooms, Neil Cameron, city champion, had little difficulty in winning from M. Carey, the final score being: Cameron, 502; M. Carey, 360. Cameron and Don Brown will meet in the final opening tomorrow night.

Cameron always had the game well in hand. Carey made his best showing with round the table cannons but he frequently left himself poor position for the next shot. His best breaks were a 23 and a 22. Cameron played three spectacular "draw" shots while his "long jennies" were played very confidently. His best break, however, was only a 31. He had a 22 and a 20.

The first block of 500 points in the final will be played on Thursday when Cameron and Brown meet. The second and concluding block of 500 will be played on Friday evening.

In practice games recently there has been very little to choose between these two players and if Brown just produces the same form, Cameron should be given a good run.

The series is arousing considerable interest and there was a large attendance of spectators last evening.

SPORT CHAT

Manitoba curlers retained the Macdonald Brier Cup, emblematic of Dominion championship, by winning the final at Toronto.

Cincinnati Reds defeated Philadelphia Athletics by a score of 5 to 2 at Miami for their second victory. It was the fourth straight win of the Reds in spring training exhibition games.

An unprecedented incident occurred at the Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens last Saturday night before the start of the National Hockey League game between Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens when a one-minute silence was observed by the assemblage of ten thousand puck fans in honor of the late Lou Marsh, highly popular and widely known Toronto sports editor. Marsh, who had died on Wednesday, was buried on Saturday afternoon.

Douglas Grant of Winnipeg, former champion, regained the Canadian men's singles badminton championship by defeating Dick Birch of Vancouver in the final at Winnipeg. Mrs. W. R. Walton jr. of Toronto, who was a finalist last year, captured the women's singles title by winning over Margaret Taylor of Kelowna, defending champion.

PIONEER BANQUET

About Eighty Persons in Attendance at Annual Affair Celebrating Anniversary of City's Incorporation

While the attendance might have not been all that was hoped for—about eighty persons being in attendance—the annual banquet and dance last night of the Prince Rupert Pioneers' Association, commemorating the twenty-sixth anniversary of the city's incorporation, was an enjoyable affair for all present. It took place in the Oddfellows' Hall.

After full justice had been done to an excellent spread of home cooking, for which Mrs. P. W. Anderson, Mrs. H. B. Eastman and Mrs. J. G. Viereck were responsible there was a program of speeches and impromptu music. Robert McKay was toastmaster and the speakers of the evening were City Commissioner W. J. Alder, proposing the toast to the city; Ex-Mayor M. M. Stephens, responding; A. J. Prudhomme, proposing the toast to the ladies; Miss E. M. Earle, who responded, and Rev. W. H. Pierce, who related some reminiscences of the very early days, particularly among the natives. All speeches were of a reminiscent nature. The City Commissioner referred to the present financial standing of the city and expressed confidence in respect to the future, particularly from an industrial standpoint including the pulp mill.

During the evening tribute was paid to the pioneer dead.

The evening's program included vocal solos by Rol Judge and Gillis Couture, and recitations by Harry Astoria and Mrs. Angelin, the latter giving Kipling's poems very effectively. Community singing was also enjoyed including Prince Rupert's theme song "We're Here Because We're Here."

For the dancing which followed until 1 a.m., music was provided by Mrs. S. J. Black's Orchestra with Mr. McKay acting as master of ceremonies. Fred Riffou and J. E. Jack presided at the door.

RESTORATION OF SALARY CUTS TO BE RESTORED IN LOWER PAID POSITIONS

from $137,951,039 to $145,851,832 or by $7,900,793.

Validation of a number of taxes which may be open to attack is being sought. Among these are the fuel tax, gasoline tax, amusement tax, coal and coke tax, gross income taxes on insurance companies, trust and loan companies and public utilities companies and probate and succession duty.

In computing the net debt no cognizance was taken of revenue-producing debts amounting to $18,408,639 until definite values can be established. The value of sinking funds established for retirement of direct obligations and the P. G. E. guarantee amounted on November 1 last to $33,656,935, or an increase of $1,705,102 over the same date in 1934. Excepting instalments in connection with inscribed stocks in London, no appropriations were made for sinking funds during the year, with the result that funds were short on November 1, 1935 by appropriations amounting to $7,575,159. In connection with this debt Mr. Hart said that in the gross debt there are items of a revenue-producing nature which more than offset this sum and that British Columbia's sinking funds total more than twice those of Quebec and are far in excess of the combined sinking funds amounting to $29,244,000 held by Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan against their debts aggregating $467,314,000.

The balance sheet of the province as at March 31, 1935, shows a total of provincial assets of $207,637,824 and total liabilities of $187,709,258, leaving a surplus in assets over liabilities of $19,928,566.

2 Things to Do TO EASE COLD INSTANTLY

Discomfort and Ache Go Almost Instantly This Way

1. Take two "Aspirin" Tablets. Make sure you get "Aspirin."

2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

Instead of taxing your system with strong medicines for a cold, try the way pictured above—the modern, easy way. Your own doctor will approve it. And it takes hold of even a bad cold almost immediately. The "Aspirin" you take will start combating your cold internally at once; if throat is sore, crush and stir 3 "Aspirin" Tablets in a third of a glass of water; gargle twice. Do not rinse mouth.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

DEMAND AND GET "ASPIRIN" Your druggist is featuring Aspirin NOW because it relieves Pains FAST! SAFE!

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

With a fair sized list of passengers, C. N. R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. H. E. Nedden, arrived in port on time at 10 o'clock this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Anyox and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound.

Big catches of herring were still being made over the week-end both in the harbor and at Butler's Cove. The Gammon & Watt seineboat Zenardi was busy across the harbor taking the fish for the Tucks Inlet reduction plant while Ole and Eli Skog were hauling the fish in at Butler's Cove for delivery to the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. plant for halibut bait store. There is said to be a large run of herring outside the harbor extending fifteen miles from Eddy Pass to the mouth of the Skeena River. It is also said that there is quite a run of salmon outside.

C. N. R. steamer Prince John, Capt. Neil McLean, due today from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands, has been delayed by snow in Massett Inlet and will not be in before tonight. Latest report from the vessel was that she was to leave Massett at noon today for here.

Fire Destroys Home on Naas

Dwelling of William Moore Swept by Flames During His Absence

AIYANSH, March 11:—Considerable damage was done to the home of William Moore at Canyon City, about ten miles below Aiyansh, by fire which broke out recently on the roof. Moore was not at home at the time, nor were any of the men of the village, all being out hewing wood. The women were able to do little and the house was pretty well consumed. Some clothes and food supplies were, however, saved although furniture and most of the contents were lost.

EARL DAVID BEATTY PASSES

his advancement to flag rank. "A grim personality, a doughty fighter, certainly not rash and impetuous but leaning rather to coldness and calculation. He inspired in those around him confidence rather than affection. He was more masterful than genial, more dour than breezy."

This estimate of the character of Admiral of the Fleet Earl Beatty was offered, by one who knew him intimately, soon after his retirement in 1927 from the post of First Sea Lord and chief of the naval staff.

When Beatty left the Admiralty at the early age of 56 he could look back upon a career in which he had brilliantly realized every ambition that could reasonably be entertained by an officer of the King's Navy. He had won honor and promotion for acts of personal gallantry ashore as well as afloat.

He had been in command of the advanced forces during one of the most tremendous sea fights in history, the Battle of Jutland, winning therein the unstinted gratitude of his country and the enthusiastic devotion of all ranks of the service. In person he received in 1918 the surrender of the most powerful and dangerous enemy that ever menaced Great Britain on the blue water. And, to climax his career, he held the highest service position at the Admiralty during the most critical phase of naval administration that has ever occurred in time of peace.

Before the war was a month old he made his dashing and successful operation into the Heligoland Bight, where he sank three cruisers and one destroyer, his own squadron suffering no loss. In January 1915, there was the terrific action of the Dogger Bank in which, it is true, the British forces paid heavy toll, but which nevertheless put an end to German "cut and run" raids on English coastal towns. In that year Beatty was made vice-admiral.

His fame reached its highest peak in the first phase of the Battle of Jutland. Over this fight controversy has raged ever since and is certain to continue. Of Beatty it may be said without question that it was at Jutland he reached the height of his fame in popular estimation. Everybody's imagination was fired at the manner in which Beatty, after his advanced squadron had suffered shattering loss, continued to fight on in the determination to lead the enemy within the reach of the guns of the Grand Fleet. The escape of von Scheer from the trap laid for him will furnish a topic of high argument for years to come, but Beatty's reputation is secure for all time.

Jutland Question

Argument following Jutland centered around the point whether Earl Jellicoe, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Fleet, should have closed with the enemy's main body in the fading light. Jellicoe, acting on a prearranged plan approved by the Admiralty, declined to risk the safety of the fleet on an undetermined chance of complete victory. His action has been praised and damned, and the chances of triumph hotly discussed. Had Jellicoe closed and the fleet been shattered, some naval experts said, it would have meant "losing the war in a day." Actually, indecisive though the action may have been, the German High Seas Fleet never gave battle again.

Beatty was married May 22, 1901, to Ethel, daughter of Marshall Field of Chicago. She died July 17, 1932. There were two sons, the heir being Viscount Borodale, David Field Beatty, who was elected a member of Parliament in 1931. The other son is Peter Randolph Louis Beatty.

ROBBERY ATTEMPT

Royal Canadian Mounted Police Uncover Elaborate Plot to Loot Royal Bank on Kingsway

VANCOUVER, March 11: (CP)—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police have uncovered an elaborate plot to loot the vault of the Kingsway branch of the Royal Bank of Canada. Three men are being held for investigation.

A tunnel was run from a bin in the rear of a vacant store near the bank under an adjoining store building through the bank building foundations and ended under the vault. It was approximately thirty feet long.

The vacant store bore a sign announcing its opening shortly as a vegetable store and a bin, apparently prepared for mushroom growing, was used, officers believe, as a blind. The bin had a sliding panel revealing a trap door to the tunnel.

DRAMA AND ADVENTURE

"Pursuit" and "The Melody Lingers On" at Capitol Theatre

"Pursuit," a lilted comedy romance with thrills and drama, and "The Melody Lingers On," a stirring romantic drama with music, comprise a double bill program being presented at the middle of this week at the Capitol Theatre.

"Pursuit," starring Chester Morris and Sally Eilers, deals with the adventures of a young couple who are trying to smuggle a child, object of a guardianship suit, out of the state. Pursued by private detectives, crooks and all kinds of enemies, they hide out in auto camps and farms and, in a clever denouement, get to the Mexican border. Dramatic highlights include a plane accident, hiding of the fugitive car in a truckload of hay, the ruse by which the couple when hand-cuffed together escape from an auto camp, pursuit of the crooks who seize the child, hair-breadth adventures at the Mexican border, the comedy episode of a dog and an hilarious climax in Tia Juana.

"Melody Lingers On" is the story of a woman who discovered that the world's applause could not compensate for the loss of the man she loved and the love of the son she could never claim. Josephine Hutchinson has the leading role.
