APPEAL OF ARCHBISHOP

Canterbury Urges Church Heads To Forget Recent Unfortunate Crisis—Sounds Call To Religion

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The Archbishop of Canterbury yesterday urged all leaders of the Church of England to discontinue their attacks on former King Edward VIII, to forget the recent constitutional crisis and to turn from the past to the future in teaching the standards as they had been set by Jesus Christ. The Archbishop referred to the drift against religion as indicated by the growing lack of respect for the marriage tie and lack of restraint of the impulses of sex. However, he expressed the belief that there was still "instinctive religion in the common heart."

Edward and Wally ENZEFELD, Austria, Dec. 28.—The former King Edward VIII romped with children at the Rothschild estate in Enzefeld during Christmas Day. Otherwise it was a quiet day for the Duke of Windsor. He had telephone conversations both Christmas Eve and Christmas Day with Mrs. Wallis Simpson. Mrs. Simpson dined in a stylish hotel at Cannes on Christmas Eve and spent Christmas Day quietly with her hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rogers. The former King took part in the service in a small church in Vienna on Christmas Day, reading from the Second Chapter of St. Luke.

ARMY DOES FINE WORK

Campaign for Christmas Successful Beyond Expectations

Mention of Christmas activities in Prince Rupert would not be complete without reference to the splendid work of the Salvation Army.

The campaign conducted by the Army with the assistance of the Daily News was successful beyond all expectations and made possible the carrying of the joys and material blessings of the Yuletide to many who might otherwise have been short thereof.

The appeal met with a generous response from the citizens of Prince Rupert both in cash and goods.

Before the close of Christmas Eve eleven families were supplied with coal and fifty-six hampers were distributed.

On Christmas Day, sixty-eight parcels of new clothing for children in the form of shoes and stockings, underwear and sweaters, individually wrapped, many of them adorned with a Christmas stocking, were distributed from the Salvation Army quarters. The value of clothing distributed was $127.

The hospital was also visited by the Corps officers and workers. Christmas "War Cries" with a dainty arrangement of nuts, raisins, and Christmas candies being distributed among the patients.

High tribute is due those two ministering angels of the Army in Prince Rupert, Major Laycock and Capt. Robertson, who carried out a noble, untiring and zealous work. Many had good reason to say "God Bless the Major and Captain."

ARE HAPPY IN FARMING

Boys and Girls From Five to 14 Spend Christmas on Island Land

VICTORIA, Dec. 28: (CP)—One hundred boys and girls today celebrated the Christmas-New Year season in the open spaces of the Cowichan Valley, 6,000 miles from the scenes of other Yuletides in congested areas of England.

On Christmas Day, when they searched their stockings, ate Christmas dinner and had a visit from Santa Claus himself, they fulfilled the 28-year old dream of Kingsley Fairbridge.

Fairbridge, a Southern Rhodesia Rhodes Scholar at Oxford from 1908 to 1911, decided to devote his life to helping poor boys and girls of Britain and to filling up thinly populated areas of the Empire with healthy British stock.

Without means himself, he managed with the aid of private subscriptions to start his first school at Pinjarra, Australia, in 1912. He died in 1924 at the age of 39, but others continued his work. A drive started in England in 1934 under the patronage of the Prince of Wales, brought $500,000 and one result was the purchase of a 1,000-acre estate 40 miles north of here. Ninety-eight boys and girls have since been brought out by Fairbridge Farm Schools, Incorporated, after they had passed tests for physical and mental fitness.

Ranging in age from five to 14, they will remain in school until they are 16 or over, when work will be found for them. While their training is designed to place them on the land, they also pursue the ordinary studies of British Columbia boys and girls.

After they leave the farm and until they are of age half their earnings will be sent by their employees to the school and will be placed in a savings fund which may be drawn out later. The school will be a life-long home to them when they are out of employment or on holidays.

Two schools have been established recently in the Australian states of Victoria and New South Wales. Another in either Ontario or Nova Scotia is being discussed and others are tentatively planned for New Zealand and Southern Rhodesia.

Lt.-Col. Harry T. Logan, principal of the school, was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford with Fairbridge and was a member of the first Fairbridge Farms executive committee named October 19, 1909. He is a native of Londonderry, N.S., and came to Vancouver with his parents in 1892. His father was the late Rev. Dr. John A. Logan.

ARCHERY RE-BORN

Ancient Sport is One of Principal Recreational Activities

VANCOUVER, Dec. 28: (CP)—The twang of the bow string and the whistle of the arrow as it flies toward the colored circles of the target were heard in Vancouver today as the ancient sport of archery saw its re-birth here.

Under the guidance of Ian Eisenhardt, provincial director of Recreational and Physical Education in British Columbia, classes are being held at an archery range established in a Department of National Defense drill hall, Ed Dermot, Vancouver Bowman of more than average skill, is instructor.

Various attempts since 1929 to establish archery failed until the sport was revived in the summer of 1925 with classes at a Stanley Park range.

Offers from Victoria for a weekly competition by mail this winter, to be climaxed by a British Columbia championship tournament before spring, are being considered.

Archers from the United States make annual trip to British Columbia's hinterland to hunt deer and bear as Indians did before the white man came.

"We may have a try at cougars," Dermot said, exhibiting a vicious-looking steel-headed arrow, "but it might be wise to be backed up by some one with a trusty blunderbuss."

Boys' Band Was Busy at Xmas

Paraded Both Thursday Night And Friday—Presentation to Bandmaster R. Greenfield

The Prince Rupert Boys' Band, under Bandmaster Robert Greenfield, was on parade both Christmas Eve and Christmas Day and played seasonable music at various points of vantage about town including various corners in the business section. The program included such favorites as "The New Born King," "Adeste Fideles" and "Jingle Bells." Many favorable comments were to be heard not only regarding the fine tone and style of the musical performance but also at the smart appearance of the band with the brightly polished instruments. Generous response was made to the collection boxes.

Bandmaster Greenfield, as usual, received a beautiful present from the band, the gift being fully appreciated by the recipient. Mr. Greenfield also received personal greetings from A. W. Delamont, conductor of the famous Kitsilano Boys' Band of Vancouver. Mr. Delamont, who recently returned from a tour of England and Europe with his band, is an old musical associate of Mr. Greenfield's.

Lies are, my dear, the soul of lying; "If half we tell the girls were true; "If half we swear to think or do "Were aught but lying's bright illusion "The world would be in strange confusion. "But, oh! you've wholly lost the youth "The instant when he tells you truth."

The King, when "Stepping Out" a week or so ago at the Capitol, said the same thing in other words, as Thomas Moore, the brilliant Irish poet, said last century—and proved, too, in a few verses.

When the smitten youth calls the damsel an angel; her eyes stars and so forth—you know how it goes—it's not true. She's no angel and her eyes are just like any others. These bright illusions are of course, only regarded as poetic exaggerations. And, after all, how would we get on without them?

When it comes to coal, however, it is a plain matter of fact that Albert & McCaffery's coal has been the best available for the last twenty years. That it is the best today is no poetic exaggeration. It gives you the most heat for the east money. And that's what you want.

Next time you need coal, just— Phone 116 or 117 — to — Albert & McCaffery and order Nanaimo-Wellington for urance and heater; Alberta Soot-ess for the kitchen range. You deserve the best!

Synopsis of Land Act

PRE-EMPTIONS

VACANT, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement.

Full information concerning pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., Bureau of Provincial Information, Victoria, or any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes within reasonable distance of road, school and marketing facilities and which is not timberland, i.e. carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre east of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre west of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division in which the land applied for is situated, on printed forms obtained from the Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

Pre-emption carrying part time conditions of occupation are also granted.

PURCHASE OR LEASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes. Minimum price of first-class arable land is $100 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land, $25.00 per acre. Further information is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

As a partial relief measure, reverted lands may be acquired by purchase in ten equal instalments, with the first payment suspended for two years, provided taxes are paid when due and improvements are made during the first two years of not less than 10% of the appraised value.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

Unreserved areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesteads, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtained after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 500 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under certain regulations amended from time to time to meet varying conditions. Annual grazing permits are issued based on certain monthly rates per head of stock. Priority in grazing privileges is given to resident stock owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partially free permits available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

GOT START IN LEAGUE

How Sea Cadets Have Entered Shipping Service on High Seas

VANCOUVER, Dec. 23: (CP)—Four hundred and thirty-one boys and men sailed the high seas or rested in ports the world over today, placed in the shipping lanes by the Vancouver Branch of the Navy League of Canada.

Some are senior deck officers and others are just starting the climb of promotion, for the number includes those who have been trained for ship apprenticeships since 1918.

Many others in that time have gone to sea through Navy League efforts in other parts of Canada to swell the numbers of Canadians afloat.

The majority of the sea cadets went into the merchant marine and several British lines regularly sign on apprentices here.

After one and one-half years' training in the Navy League the boys serve four years on shipboard under indentures the same as those used 300 years ago. In those days the life of an apprentice was apparently a haphazard one, but now they are systematically taught the fundamentals of seamanship and navigation under more pleasant authority.

After the four years, the young seaman sits for his second-mate's papers.

Quicker advancement in other ship departments is open to apprentices if they do not wish to try for papers immediately but they are permitted to return to the deck if they wish.

To Royal Navy

A tentative arrangement has been made for placing 30 Vancouver Navy League cadets in the Royal Navy, providing Canadian authorities approve, and the local branch has undertaken to supply 15 of these lads immediately and a further 15 next September. If the proposal is sanctioned, the boys will have a chance of ultimately becoming officers.

The elementary training of sea cadets consists of a twice-weekly meeting where they are instructed in physical training, first aid, seamanship, rule of the road, hitches, knots and splices and signalling. In the summer holidays the boys cruise coastal waters in an open boat.

Captain E. Beetham, chairman of the executive committee of the Vancouver branch, reports the corps now in training exceeds 100, and 13 cadets have been placed in sea berths in the past year.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

Union steamer Catala, Capt. John Muir, arrived in port at 7:40 last evening from the south and sailed two hours later for Port Simpson, Stewart, Anyox and other northern points whence she will return here Tuesday morning southbound.

Dan McIntyre of Stillwater, near Powell River, arrived in the city on the Catala last evening from the south. He is a brother of Alex McIntyre, Ambrose Avenue.

HARLOW IS FEATURED

Double Bill at Capitol Theatre— "Suzy" with Jean Harlow Tops First of Week Bill

With war-time intrigue in the background and sacrificing love and courage of a woman as the theme, "Suzy," starring Jean Harlow and with Cary Grant and Franchot Tone sharing the male lead, comes as the feature offering to the screen of the Capitol Theatre at the first of this week.

Miss Harlow appears as an American chorus girl who is stranded in London as the war begins. The girl marries a young inventor who is shot under circumstances that point to her guilt. Believing him dead, she flees to Paris, heart-broken and alone, and there she meets an aviator to whom she is eventually married. Then the first husband re-appears. There is stark drama in the climax which restores the real lovers to one another in a scene of spectacular heroism.

Also on the double bill is an hilarious family farce entitled "Educating Father" dealing with the efforts of children to bring Dad up to date. Joe Prouty, Shirley Deane, Dixie Dunbar, Spring Byington, Kenneth Howell, June Carlson, George Earnest, Florence Roberts and William Mahan enact the featured roles. It is a realistic story of typical American life.
