CHAMBER MEETING

Business Largely of Routine Nature And Not Very Important At Last Night's Session

Radio Reception

Committee Asked to Get Busy On Matter—Four New Members Are Admitted

Business at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night was of routine and inconsequential nature. The attendance was small, a bare quorum being present.

The only question that engaged discussion of the members was that of the recent deplorable condition of radio reception in the city. This discussion was quite brief and the outcome of it was to have the radio committee of the chamber, D. C. McRae, chairman, go into the matter with a view, if possible, to having something done about it. General agreement seemed to be that the Falls River transmission line was the cause of the trouble. The matter was brought up by the president, W. M. Blackstock, who told of complaints which had been made to him. In the course of the discussion, reference was made to the hissing that could be almost constantly heard emanating from the power line along McBride Street. The radio inspector, on a recent visit here, it was said, had found leaky insulators all along the line to Falls River. It was also said that the power company had agreed to make repairs to insulators.

Dr. J. H. Carson, J. L. Roaf, A. W. Newman and R. Brasell were elected members of the chamber. The special committee on building improvement loans reported that there had been some inquiries from interested local persons. Some had thought that the rules of the loans were too strict. More interest might be taken next spring, it was thought, as this was not a very favorable time for building. The city commissioner reported some interest being taken in acquiring reverted lots by prospective home builders.

A letter from Peter Lakie, district freight and passenger agent of the Canadian National Railways, said that the proposal of the chamber that special excursion steamship fares between here and Vancouver be made returnable on any line was being taken up at company headquarters.

Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena, wrote that he had taken up the question of Prince Rupert's position in regard to coast defence with the minister of national defence. The strategic value of Prince Rupert's position was fully realized including its proximity to the Capt. Dan McKinnon who has been assigned to Prince Rupert.

PILOT HERE APPOINTED

Capt. Dan McKinnon New Addition to Service, Has Headquarters Here

VANCOUVER, Dec. 5.—On the eve of his departure from service with Canadian National steamships, Captain Dan McKinnon was yesterday afternoon presented by Thomas Loudon, superintendent of Canadian National Steamships, with the parchment of the Royal Humane Society.

The scroll was in recognition of his bravery displayed some time ago when Capt. McKinnon jumped from the dock fully clothed into Burrard Inlet to save a shipwright who had fallen from a scaffold while working on the side of ss. Prince Charles.

Captain McKinnon yesterday received notification from Ottawa of his acceptance into the British Columbia Pilotage Service, thus bringing to a close 25 years of valuable service in the Canadian National steamships during which time he rose from able seaman to master. He is well known all along the coast, particularly on the Queen Charlotte Island run.

In the presence of the dock and office staffs, superintendent Loudon told Captain McKinnon that, while they regretted his leaving the service, the entire organization on land and sea was proud of his accomplishment both in receiving the Humane Society's award and joining the pilot service.

Captain McKinnon will make his headquarters at Prince Rupert and leaves for there Monday night on the steamer Prince Rupert.

POPE PIUS STRICKEN

Paralyzed in Both Legs and May Never Walk Again

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 5: (CP)—Pope Pius was stricken with a slight form of paralysis in both legs today, High Vatican officials reported. Persons close to the Holy Father disclosed that the paralytic condition first noticed in his left leg had spread to the right. High prelates asserted the Pontiff could move his limbs somewhat but was unable to lift them. Other parts of his body were weak. Nevertheless, the Holy Father's spirits remained excellent.

Some prelates say the Pope may never walk again. Today was the first day he had spent in bed since becoming Pope fourteen years ago.

OFFICIAL ENGLAND SEEMS AGREED THAT ABDICATION OF KING IS COMING SOON

Edward Would Rather Renounce Throne Than Defy His Ministers or Give up Mrs. Simpson, it is Believed—Monarch Has Some Measure of Sympathy

LONDON, Dec. 5: (CP)—There seems to be agreement in official circles that the abdication of King Edward VIII will be announced very shortly, possibly Monday in the House of Commons. Opinion in better informed circles today is that the King will not renounce Mrs. Wallis Simpson but will go through with his marriage to her. Nor is it believed that he will defy the government, which has clearly expressed its opinion on the matter, and marry the American divorcee and at the same time endeavor to retain the throne.

With members of the Royal Family as his sole witnesses, King Edward will within the next few days, it is expected in usually well-informed quarters, sign a declaration of voluntary abdication. His only alternative is to renounce his proposal of marriage to Mrs. Simpson. The middle course is the morganatic marriage which has been ruled out by the government. The King has not yet reached a final decision but authoritative quarters see little hope of the King changing his intention to marry Mrs. Simpson.

Mrs. Simpson's departure for France has been taken by some, however, as an indication that the affair is breaking up. London morning papers, in banner headlines today, said that no marriage was likely and that the possibility of abdication seemed more remote. Some of the papers said that Premier Baldwin would soon be able to announce that the King had no intention of marrying in the near future.

After another conference with the King last night, Premier Baldwin went into session with Sir John Simon, Home Secretary. No statement was forthcoming after the conferences.

It was reported today that the Archbishop of Canterbury would pray on Sunday that the King and his ministers be given the guidance of God in the crisis.

Some public channels predict that the King may within forty-eight hours take advantage of the facilities of the British Broadcasting Corporation to talk to all his subjects.

Informed quarters indicate that the King did not want his proposed marriage to upset succession rights of the Duke of York and the Duke's children. This is believed to be why he proposed to marry Mrs. Simpson without her becoming queen.

Sympathy With King

In some sections sympathy appears to be with the King. There has been more than one demonstration of affection for the present ruler since the constitutional crisis came into the spotlight a couple of days ago. Yesterday during the ceremony of the changing of the guard outside Buckingham Palace a watching youth called for "Three cheers for the King." A dozen companions responded heartily and sang the National Anthem. Others in the crowd joined in the singing and, finally, the whole throng sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

During a Laborite parade yesterday there were shouts of "We want Edward. He is our King." Meantime Mrs. Simpson, who had arrived there yesterday from England, is still at Cannes from where she is said to have telephoned the King last night. She had landed Thursday night at Dieppe after crossing the English Channel in the steamer New Haven and motored to Rouen. Informed quarters here say that Mrs. Simpson herself urged her removal from the scene after which she left Fort Belvedere in a big car which raced through the darkness to the south coast of England where the boat was caught.

Queen Mary Opposed

It is known that the King has met with strong opposition from members of his own Royal Family in his plan to marry Mrs. Simpson. It is suggested that Queen Mary may go into seclusion for the rest of her life if he goes through with the marriage.

Premier Baldwin was understood to have been in long distance communication last night with the heads of the Dominion governments on the matter of the proposed marriage. Australia has decided to support the government's stand against a morganatic marriage. Prime Minister J. A. Lyons said at Canberra today that the Australian cabinet was in complete accord with the British government.

The Duke of York would succeed King Edward in the event of his abdication.

Cabinet Meets Today

The cabinet held a forty-minute session this morning. No announcement was made and the ministers dispersed to their country homes for the week-end but were keeping in touch with London.

Twenty ministers attended the session of the cabinet. As some were leaving Downing Street automobiles bearing banners urging the King not to surrender appeared in nearby streets. "Confound the clerics," said a sign on one of the cars. "A free country and a free King," declared another.

Parliament is undoubtedly lined up strongly behind Mr. Baldwin on the constitutional aspects of the question, said the Associated Press today. Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill is actively supporting the King's position but few members of Parliament believe he could command necessary support in the House of Commons or from the electorate in a general election that would inevitably follow his selection as Premier should Mr. Baldwin resign.

A number of morning newspapers stress that Premier Baldwin should reveal the whole facts of the opposition in the Dominions to the King's proposed marriage. It was officially announced from Buckingham Palace today that "all of the King's official engagements have been cancelled for the present." The words "for the present" were received joyfully by those of His Majesty's subjects who hope that he will not abdicate in order to marry. The formal announcement was taken in informed circles that the King wishes to devote all his time to the present crisis.

Prime Minister Baldwin will soon be able to tell his colleagues that King Edward has no immediate intention of marrying Mrs. Simpson, the Daily Herald declared today as

FAMILY BURNED TO DEATH IN QUEBEC

CHICOUTIMI, Que., Dec. 5: (CP)—Seven children and their convalescing mother, Mrs. Avenia Brassard, aged 39, who died in a vain attempt to rescue her family, were burned to death last night in flames from a gasoline explosion that razed their little farm home in the village of St. Ambrose, twenty miles north of here. The father, an 18-year old daughter and a two weeks' old infant were saved.

DISPUTE SETTLED

Cconciliation Board Between C. N. Steamships and Employees Meets With Success

OTTAWA, Dec. 5: (CP)—Activities of the conciliation board headed by R. O. Campney, chairman of the National Harbors Board, have been successful in bringing about adjustment of the dispute over wages and working conditions between the Canadian National Railways and its purser and steward staffs engaged in Pacific Coast steamship services.

Announcement of a settlement was made today by the Labor Department.

Other members of the board were Rev. C. D. Clarke of Prince Rupert, representing the men, and Commander B. L. Johnson of Vancouver, representing the company.

The settlement provides for some, but not general, wage increases and brings the classes of workers specified under working agreement for the first time.

FIRST SNOW HERE TODAY

Cold Weather Continues Throughout North Country—Sub-Zero Readings in Interior

With sub-zero thermometer readings at interior points and Prince Rupert in the throes of a cold blizzard which brings the first snow of the season here, the whole north country was in the grip of the winter's first cold snap today. The day's weather forecast is for continued snow and sleet but the barometer is dropping and there was a suggestion this afternoon of becoming milder here.

The daily weather report showed readings as follows:

Triple Island—Overcast, snowing, sea choppy.
Langara Island—Snowing, easterly wind; barometer, 29.78; sea rough.
Estevan—Clear, calm; barometer, 29.92.
Vancouver—Cloudy, calm; barometer, 30.50.
Terrence—Strong northeast wind, 11 above.
Anyox—Cloudy, north wind, 12.
Stewart—Cloudy, north wind, 13.
Hazelton—Cloudy, east wind, 4 below.
Smithers—Cloudy, east wind, cold.
Burns Lake—Cloudy, calm, 12 below.

ALF ADAMS PRESIDENT

Re-elected Head of Native Brotherhood at Port Simpson Convention—Next Meeting At Bella Bella

At the annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia at Port Simpson this week, Alfred Adams of Massett was re-elected President by acclamation. Thomas Gosnell of Port Simpson was re-elected first vice-president and Edward Clifton of Hartley Bay, second vice-president. Henry Bailey was re-elected general secretary; Caleb Williams, treasurer, and Richard Carpenter of Bella Bella, recording secretary. Ivan Adams of Massett was elected publicity agent.

The 1937 convention will be held at Bella Bella on November 22.

Salvation Army Appeal

Once more the Salvation Army in Prince Rupert is asking the people of the city and district for contributions toward providing a happy Christmas and a pleasanter winter season for people who otherwise would be suffering. While other organizations do good work along somewhat similar lines, the Army seems to get right down to those who are most in need and through their organization and experience can expend the money to the best possible advantage and at the same time bring to them words of cheer and hope.

We hope that this winter the support of the Salvation Army fund will be as large and as prompt as ever. In the past the response has been immediate and doubtless it will be the same this year. The need is just as great.

Contributors may send their money to the Daily News or to any officer of the Salvation Army. All money so contributed is acknowledged through these columns, the whole being paid into the Daily News and a check for the full amount without any deductions whatever is turned over to the Salvation Army at Christmas. The use of these columns is given absolutely without charge of any kind.

Pilotage Appointment

According to word received in the city, Captain Dan McKinnon has been appointed a pilot to be stationed at Prince Rupert. If this is true, and we have no reason to doubt it, there must be more expectation of shipping in the coming year than there has been in the past. It is something for which Prince Rupert has been asking through the Chamber of Commerce. It fits in very nicely with the general feeling that there is to be more commercial use of the local harbor than heretofore.

Captain McKinnon is so well known here that any mention of him and his work seems superfluous, except to say that he is favorably known. Captain Mounce, another appointment to the pilotage, but not for Prince Rupert, is also well known as one of the able skippers of the Union Steamship Company.

An Undesirable Job

Any public position in the city of Vancouver would seem to be a most undesirable job. Evidently people have had reason to be suspicious of their officials in the past and the forces trying to draw them aside from the straight and narrow path are so great that it has become an accepted axiom that all officials must be corrupt. The people seem to expect it. Take as an instance the position of mayor. It is so big a job that it is almost impossible for a full time man to keep his fingers on everything. How much more difficult then for a part time man to know all that is going on.

Sees No Good

There are certain people in the country, and they are represented in Prince Rupert, who see no good in anything. They are constantly belittling their country, their government, their friends and neighbors, their city and every person who holds any position of responsibility. It is a state of mind that has developed of late years as a result largely of propaganda, particularly through a type of so-called newspaper, which harps on the badness of others week in and week out until the impression gains ground that the whole world is bad and that most people are oppressed or robbed or injured.

Part of the success of the Fascist regimes in different countries of Europe comes from the fact that they suppress with an iron hand such propaganda, just as they would suppress a contagious disease as something injurious to body and soul. On the other side subversive propaganda is suppressed with just as firm a hand in Russia. Everyone is expected to be for the government with none against it. The positive state of mind is cultivated and the negative suppressed.

SCHOOL IS NOW OUT

British Columbia's Timber Stands And Streams Alma Mater For Youth

VICTORIA, Dec. 5: (CP)—School is out for 750 youths whose college campus stretches across the breadth of British Columbia, whose class-rooms are the high timber stands and gold streams and who use axes and gold pans instead of the conventional fountain pen.

It's a real college, this alma mater of these 750 new graduates, even if they do wear work-shirts instead of scholastic gowns. They study a carefully drafted curriculum, adhere to strict discipline and get diplomas if they make good. And they get paid for studying their lessons.

Close to 500 lads scrambled to the registrar at the provincial legislative buildings last spring to enrol in the forestry department in technical education. Of these 115 won prizes—jobs in the forestry service and lumber camps.

Nearly 300 took up the mining course, hearing lectures from expert instructors during the first half of the term and putting what they had learned into practice by panning gold from streams in the second.

It was in an effort to solve the problem of unemployed youth between the ages of 18 and 25 that prompted the British Columbia government to establish its college. And it has worked well.

Last summer nearly 100 pupils left the forestry camps before their training was over to take jobs. Others found employment after graduation. All received $1.75 a day and paid back 75 cents to the government for board.

Varied Work
Curriculum of the forestry class, designed to train young men for forestry development work, includes everything from sharpening an axe to building a bridge. Their teachers are expert foresters, selected by the government forestry branch who instruct them at permanent stations before sending them out in groups headed by experienced foremen.

Strong bridges of rough-hewn timber, reservoirs to supply water to dry timber areas and trails through uncharted timber are built by the forestry class of '36. And all their work is backed by a thorough knowledge of the technical side of forestry before they start out to various parts of the province.

Most of the young forest rangers live under canvas after their preliminary training is over, wrapped in blankets supplied by the department of national defence and take turns in cooking meals for the rest of the crew in utensils supplied by the same department.

Mining Division
Gold trophies in the form of yellow dust from the British Columbia streams—as well as diplomas—go to the best students in the mining division. Their curriculum covers a broad list of subjects, from self-reliance and resourcefulness to blacksmithing. If they graduate with good marks they receive a government certificate saying the man has "knowledge necessary to qualify him for prospecting."

Promising pupils of the mining school after a complete technical course and practical instruction are given three months' grubstake by the government. One group, prospecting in the Zeballos River country, turned in $100 worth of coarse gold in six weeks.

Eighty percent of the 280 youths who completed the term last summer earned certificates while 20 percent graded "fair."

Prospecting students get 75 cents a day clear of board and their equipment is supplied when they go out in groups of four and five after their preliminary training. All pupils accepted must have lived in British Columbia at least five years.

Free Wheeling

VICTORIA, Dec. 5: (CP)—No bicycle fee may be charged in Vancouver the British Columbia legislature's private bills committee has decided. They accepted the dictum "the kids can't pay 50 cents" and deleted a clause authorizing such a charge from the Vancouver. Bicycles must be registered, however.

The Daily News has an audited circulation. Play safe!

Telephone Bridge Last Evening By Rotary Members

The Rotary Club had a telephone bridge last evening, each member having at least one table at his home. The prizes were awarded in an unusual manner all the high scores being put in a hat and drawn and all the lows similarly. The winners were: first, Richard Mortimer; second, Mrs. J. A. Hinton; consolation, C. Brind.

ROYAL CRISIS IS STILL DEADLOCKED

an anxious press urged rapid solution of the deadlock.

The King, has been strongly urged by a small group of friends in whom he has the greatest confidence not to make an irrevocable decision but to let the matter of the marriage simply drop for the time being, the Herald added.

These friends point out that Mrs. Simpson cannot marry for nearly five months, the time needed for the divorce decree to become effective, the newspaper continued.

King Is Determined
Associated Press said that highest sources asserted that the King is determined to marry Mrs. Simpson and that this information was conveyed to the cabinet today. The government has been promised the King's final word within forty-eight hours, it is understood.

The Duke and Duchess of York and their children left their Piccadilly residence for the usual week-end at their estate at Windsor Great Park, an indication to some that the tension had relaxed.

Lord Rothermere, the British newspaper publisher, in an interview printed in the London Evening News today, said that a "concerted effort" is being made to hurry King Edward off the Throne this week-end. "You cannot smuggle the greatest living Englishman off the throne of England during a week-end," he declared.

Lord Dawson of Penn, the King's physician, said today that His Majesty was in "excellent health" despite strain and lack of rest. A special meeting of the cabinet has been called for tomorrow morning, it was learned today.

Orient. In the event of air strength development, Prince Rupert would receive attention.

The Bird Season

Representation from the Smithers District Chamber of Commerce stating that the migratory bird season closed too early and proposing that, if necessary, the opening date be deferred in order to permit of a later closing was referred to the Rod and Gun Club.

Reference was made to the special railway excursion of interior people to the city next week but it was felt that this was something in which the retail merchants were more directly interested.

On motion of City Commissioner W. J. Alder and Max Heilbroner, it was decided to have a letter of congratulation sent to B. T. Chappell, general superintendent of the Canadian National Railways, on his promotion to the general superintendency for Manitoba.

Other correspondence before the chamber included a letter from the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada with regard to questionable business practices. This had received attention from the Prince Rupert Retail Merchants' Association. The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada also sent a list of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce from which it received support and co-operation.

The Department of Trade and Commerce sent advice that tenders were being called for a monthly steamship service from the British Columbia Coast to South African ports via the Straits of Magellan, an 8,000-ton vessel being required.

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce sent a review of its activities of the past year. B. C. House at London sent its monthly letter, giving statistical information. From Edmonton came a copy of an address by a prominent lawyer of the Alberta capital on the matter of recent Alberta legislation particularly in regard to financial matters. The League of Nations Society also had a circular report before the meeting.

Present at the meeting were W. M. Blackstock, the president, City Commissioner W. J. Alder, Max Heilbroner, G. W. Nickerson, W. O. Fulton, W. P. Armour, C. C. Mills, R. M. Winslow and John Dybhavn.

SOCCKERITES IN BANQUET

Presentation of Rochester Shield In Junior League—Many Speakers

The annual banquet of the Junior Football Association and presentation of the Rochester Shield and medals took place last evening in the Canadian Legion Clubrooms when, in addition to the guests and the executive, there were present fifty boys—members of the teams taking part in the competition.

After an enjoyable repast, the Rochester Shield was presented to Don Fitch, captain of the King Edward High School team, by City Commissioner Alder in the unavoidable absence of Ex-Mayor H. B. Rochester, the donor of the trophy. Mr. Alder paid tribute to the value of sport and assured his listeners that, as soon as possible more and better playing fields should be provided.

Don Fitch made a very neat reply in accepting the shield on behalf of the team.

The presentation of medals was made by S. D. McDonald. He congratulated the boys on the quality of their play and paid his sincere compliments to the teachers who year after year handled the competition so successfully. The Trades and Labor Council was glad to co-operate and felt well repaid for its efforts by the creditable record of the boys.

G. W. Johnstone emphasized the importance of playing the game in the proper spirit and reminded the boys that they owed a great deal to their instructors.

Hugh Kilin, for the Senior Football Association, was appreciative of the talent developed in Junior circles. He hoped they would continue their good work and be able in senior circles to retain the Hanson trophy against visiting naval ships.

W. M. Brown was glad that he had the opportunity to represent the Canadian Legion and co-operate with the Junior Football executive in the annual presentation. He gave an interesting account of the development of football in the city.

J. S. Wilson, who presided, thanked the members of the executive for their splendid support and then asked the audience to join in applause to show appreciation of the parents who made it possible to have the games played and who also had arranged the banquet so successfully. A special cheer was given for the referees, Andy Horne, Jimmy Carroll and Jack Campbell jr.

Mrs. Stuart

Mrs. D. C. Stuart, for the Parent Teachers' Association, was happy to be present and said that the organization she represented was always ready to assist in the developing of wholesome sport.

The committee in charge of the banquet consisted of Mrs. W. W. C. O'Neill, Mrs. E. B. Baker, Mrs. Vic Houston, Mrs. W. M. Brown and Mrs. J. Judge.

The executive of the Junior Football Association is J. S. Wilson, President; Jack Campbell sr., Vice-President; Miss S. A. Mills, Secretary-Treasurer, and W. W. C. O'Neill, Arthur Sutton and J. Hutchison.

SPORT CHAT

Old-time plains Indians who know the natural habitat of the elk and moose and who guide the tourist from distant places eager to experience the thrill of drilling a bear or jumping deer reflect the prairies are again becoming the stamping ground for big game. Closed seasons and restrictions placed on shooting have brought an increase in herds that were driven into the north. Moose, jumping deer, antelopes, cougars and lions have been reported in the central zones for the first time in years.

Moose have been sighted as far south as Qu' Appelle valley in southeastern Saskatchewan. Mrs. W. Davis, wife of a Blackwood Bridge district farmer, received quite a shock when she spied a splendid bull specimen looking at her over the barnyard fence. Elk have been sighted at Maple Green, 10 miles to the south. Jumping deer and antelope are numerous throughout the valley and in southern Alberta this year. Large herds of the latter, known as prong horn deer, range the Fox Valley and Cypress Hills areas. Special permits are required to track the antelopes which multiplied rapidly in the last three years.

Reports of cougars and lions roaming the southeastern plains have been current for some time. A trail of slain horses, cows, sheep and other farm animals marked their passage through south-eastern Saskatchewan early this fall.

Large packs of timber wolves have been seen in the central areas of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. These animals seldom

Miss Churchill Meeting Brother

LEFT—Dame rumor worked overtime when 21-year old Sarah Churchill, daughter of Winston Churchill, famous British statesman, arrived in New York on the Bremen. The dame with the wagging tongue had it that the British statesman's daughter would wed Vic Oliver, Viennese-American actor, who met her down the bay. But, Madame Rumor got busy again a few hours later, for Miss Churchill's brother, Randolph, blew in on the S.S. Queen Mary and was met, as shown here, by his sister. 'Tis reported he had arrived to solve the vexing problems.

RIGHT—In the event of war the wholesale evacuation of slum areas in British large cities may be necessary because the houses cannot be made gas-proof. London may have to be abandoned as a food distributing centre due to its vulnerability. This composite picture graphically illustrates how London's slums are vulnerable to attack from the air.

London Slums Vulnerable Spot

Tonight's train, due from the east at 10:20, was reported this morning to be on time. The way-freight from Pacific is expected to be in about 6 or 7 o'clock.

ROOSEVELT OPPONENTS

President in Second Term May Meet Strong Opposition From Some Democrats

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 5: (AP)—If the second Roosevelt administration is to have stout opposition in the new congress, much of it must come from its own record breaking party strength in both houses.

For there will not be enough Republican votes in either House or Senate to provide that opposition upon which the framers of the constitution relied for the evolving of legislation by compromise. The lines of cleavage over some Roosevelt policies in the latter part of his first term frequently ran within rather than between the two major party groups.

The voting strength, particularly in the House, of Townsend pension plan endorsees as well as those Republicans and Democrats who were supported by Father Coughlin's national union for social justice remains to be determined. The President might have to reckon with pressure blocs of all kinds in shaping his legislative program.

New Dealers have interpreted the re-election triumph as a vote of approval for a Roosevelt policy designed to occupy a "broad middle ground" between an extreme right and an extreme left in national political thought. In both of his campaigns he repeatedly described his course as being "straight ahead." His intimates frequently have elaborated on those statements by pointing out that if such a course were planned on a wide enough basis it would leave the extreme conservatives and the ultra-radicals too far apart for any effective political co-operation.

No Specific Program

In the campaign Mr. Roosevelt did not specifically outline 'his program for a second term. But he answered Governor Landon's demand that he disclose his intentions with regard to revival of New Deal legislation with the declaration: "Of course, we will continue to seek to improve working conditions for the workers of America—to reduce hours that are overlong, to increase wages that spell starvation, to end child labor and to wipe out sweatshops. Of course we will continue every effort to support collective bargaining, to stop unfair competition and to abolish dishonorable trade practices. For all these we have only just begun to fight."

Will President Roosevelt's fight for some of these objectives bring him into head-on collision with a supreme court majority? The court looms large as a second-term factor on the basis of possible further invalidation of first-term legislation, such as the Wagner labor act, and its attitude on measures passed by the new congress which might be challenged in the courts.

The judicial check on legislative action remains. Probably only a slow process of constitutional amendment, of which there are at present no definite signs, could remove that check. Exceptional presidential powers regarding currency and international trade expire within 30 days to six months from the first of the year. That the new congress with its huge Democratic majorities would refuse to grant a request by the President for extension is considered unlikely.

Another important second-term problem for the President is the make-up of the new cabinet. For months rumors have been flying that wholesale changes in the Roosevelt cabinet circles would mark the second inauguration.

In this gossip only Secretary of State Cordell Hull, whose reciprocal trade pact views apparently were endorsed by the electorate, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau have been rated as fixtures.

Biological Freak

MOOSE JAW, Dec. 5: (CP)—Two goslings have been hatched in the wild animal park here as the result of mating of a blue goose with a Canadian gander. The event is puzzling naturalists. Canada geese usually mate only with their own kind and should anything happen to one of the pair the other goes through life alone.

Encroachment on Coast Fisheries By Foreign Interests Being Dealt With; Reduction Plant Resumes; Native Delegates Here After Convention

Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena, advises the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce that he has taken up the matter of encroachment by Japanese fishermen on waters on this coast with Ottawa as well as the suggestion that territorial waters be definitely defined. This question is receiving attention. Hon. J. E. Michaud, minister of fisheries, has given the chamber assurance that protection of Canadian fishing waters from foreign encroachment will be given proper consideration. This refers to Hecla Straits and fishing therein by American vessels. It has been taken up previously but not with much effect. Unless some American vessel fishing in the way complained of is prosecuted, there seems little chance of bringing the issue to a head.

WELCOME BY CITY

All Ketchikan Joined in Reception To Salvation Army Leaders

Mayor Talbot presided over a civic welcome meeting to Commissioner John McMillan and other Salvation Army leaders visiting Ketchikan at the first of this week. Mayor Talbot was supported by an number of influential business men. Addresses of welcome by Senator Heckman representing the Chamber of Commerce and Senator Walker, representing the Territory of Alaska, were graciously responded to by Commissioner and Mrs. McMillan after which the Commissioner gave a very illuminating address on the work of the Salvation Army.

At various gatherings in the Eagles' Hall the Salvation Army's Kake Band (native) and choirs from the Presbyterian Church and New Metkatala Christian Church, rendered efficient service.

Banquets in honor of Commissioner and Mrs. McMillan and visiting delegates were given in the St. Elizabeth Church, the Presbyterian Church and the Salvation Army Citadel.

The Commissioner met in council with white and native officers relative to the work of the Army in Northern British Columbia and Alaska.

A women's meeting was held in the Army Citadel conducted by Mrs. McMillan.

The final Congress gathering took the form of a musical festival in which the Kake Salvation Army Band, New Metkatala Choir, local artists and delegates participated. Commissioner McMillan ably chaired the program.

Other Promotions

Adjutant M. G. McKay and Mrs. McKay were among those who arrived in the city Thursday afternoon from Ketchikan where they attended the Army Congress.

Mr. McKay, formerly chief, was promoted to the rank of Adjutant at Kitselas.

Benjamin Brown, formerly envoy, was promoted to Captain at Port Essington.

Jeffrey Johnson, formerly envoy, was promoted to Captain at Skeena Crossing.

Joseph Offutt, formerly envoy, was promoted to Captain at Port Simpson.

Wm. Moore, formerly envoy, was promoted to Captain at Canyon City, Naas River.

Trappers Court Weasel

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 5: (CP) —To meet the coronation year demand for white weasel, better known to the trade as ermine, Northland trappers look forward to a busy season. Scarcity of the pelt has brought an increase of 35 percent in London prices.

CHRISTMAS BUSINESS

Seasonal Trade Expected to Be Improved by Industrial Expansion—Interior Visitors Next Week

Due to the general industrial improvement in the district as a result of a better fishing season on the coast, increased mining activity, expansion in logging and sawmilling and healthier agricultural conditions, more progressive merchants of Prince Rupert are looking forward to a greater measure of Christmas trade this year.

To meet the expected increase in volume of business, some of the stores have increased their holiday stocks as compared with last year. Some of the stores are planning to take on additional employees for the rush season.

Speaking generally, there appears to be distinct improvement in buying sentiment.

The special excursion which the Canadian National Railway is offering people of the interior as far as Prince George at the end of next week is expected to bring many shoppers to town for a few days' stay.
