WASHINGTON, D.C., May 12:—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, last night announced the capture in Glendale, Calif., by federal agents of Thomas H. Robinson jr., who has been hunted for the last two years for the $50,000 kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Stoll in Louisville, Ky. Although Robinson was armed with a .38-calibre revolver, he was taken without a shot being fired. He was surprised by officers and not given a chance to shoot.

Later last night Robinson was placed aboard a plane to be taken to Kentucky. He was the last big quarry of "G" men who have made several sensational captures during the past week. The $50,000 ransom in the Stoll case was paid to an intermediary by the husband.

Royal Commission to Hear B.C. Claims For Better Treatment; Omineca By-election June 22

VICTORIA, May 12: (CP)—Premier T. D. Pattullo announced upon his return from Ottawa yesterday that a Royal Commission would be appointed by the federal government to hear British Columbia's claims for more equitable treatment under Confederation. "The terms of the commission have not yet been arranged but they will be when the pressure of business at the Ottawa session is through," the Premier said.

Premier Pattullo said that British Columbia would not consent immediately to inclusion in a national finance council.

The Premier denied the suggestion that a general provincial election would be called this year. He said that the Omineca by-election would probably be held the latter part of June and Vancouver-Burrard probably in September. He said the two constituencies were a long way apart and members of the government could not be in both at the same time. It was intended to give the voters a full explanation of government policies. The cabinet today set June 22 for the Omineca by-election. The seat was made vacant by the resignation last year of Mr. Justice A. M. Manson.

OPEN C. C. F. BREAK

Evidently the C. C. F. party is being broken wide open. The leader, Rev. Robert Connell, found it necessary to make the position of the party clear in several speeches. The Winches and Dr. Lyle Telford were practically ruled out of the party but that wing tried to turn the tables on the official group by endeavoring to capture control of "The Commonwealth," the official organ of the party. A half page editorial article on the front page of that paper tells about it and speaks of a "cabal" of the executive which they charge proceeded arbitrarily to "connive and manoeuvre in order to put 'the paper' out of business." It says:

"Not the least articulate among this group is the esteemed doctor who whoops it up over the radio. May we be forgiven for opining that, if the bulk of these 'airy' utterances can pass as intelligent propaganda or as a means of persuading thinking people that the C. C. F. has any real program for or political place in British Columbia, we have been in the wrong school for a quarter of a century.

"We are quite frank about this matter," continues the editorial. "We are convinced that the C. C. F. will proceed to complete stultification if it is to be pulled around by the fulminations of the Winches or the demagoguery of Telford. We think a much more solid and intelligible menu must be set before the electorate. For that reason we have backed Mr. Connell's position."

Just now there is a by-election in sight in the Omineca riding and it will be well for the C. C. F. members there to consider when they select a candidate, if they do make a selection, whether their man is to be a C. C. F. with Communist leanings, looking to Russia as an example, or backing a constitutional program with Rev. Robert Connell as leader. He must be one or the other. There can be no more subterfuge as has been the case in the past.

JUBILEE DISPLAY

Canadian National Railways Deck Up Ground Floor of Vancouver Hotel

VANCOUVER, May 12—Canada from coast to coast will be on display here this summer to greet the thousands of visitors expected during the period of Vancouver's golden jubilee celebrations.

In the ground-floor windows of its hotel building in downtown Vancouver the Canadian National Railways has placed a series of displays portraying for the benefit of tourists the country's attractions from Pacific to Atlantic. It is the company's contribution to the city's birthday program.

As befits a jubilee celebration one of the exhibits strikes an historic note. It is a full size model complete with cordwood and water barrel of the Dorchester, first locomotive used in Canada on the Champlain and St. Lawrence railway. This first railroad in Canada is now part of the Canadian National system and its centenary is being observed this year. The colorful backdrop for the Dorchester shows the village of LaPrairie en fete 100 years ago.

Most spectacular feature of the display is six huge hand colored transparencies at the building's main entrance. More than 10 feet high these are brilliantly lighted from behind to disclose scenic gems of Jasper National Park and Alaska.

Each Province
One large window holds a series of photographic panels enlarged to a man's height. Each panel contains a picturesque scene from each province, ingeniously identified with a tubular electric figure. In front is the link between each province—a working model of a sleek "Northern" type locomotive used in C. N. R. transcontinental service.

Hunting and fishing are illustrated in a natural setting. Maple leaves brilliant with the colors of autumn carry the theme of the display which consists of record catches of various species of game fish, including B.C.'s own giant Tye and prize heads of Moose, mountain sheep and goat and a mounted black bear.

Flashing neon tubes on a massive topographical map of British Columbia and the Rockies publicize another famed tourist trail—the triangle tour route through the Canadian cordillera by sea and land.

Another part of the empire and one much favored by Canadians is drawn to the attention of the visitor in the West Indies exhibit future.

CANZONERI HAS PLANS

NEW YORK, May 11—Speaking of the future following his conquest of Jimmy McLarnin in a non-title bout last Friday night, Tony Canzoneri says that he has Lou Ambers to get out of the way after which he will be ready to meet Barney Ross. He also says that he will give Jimmy McLarnin another fight if he wants it.

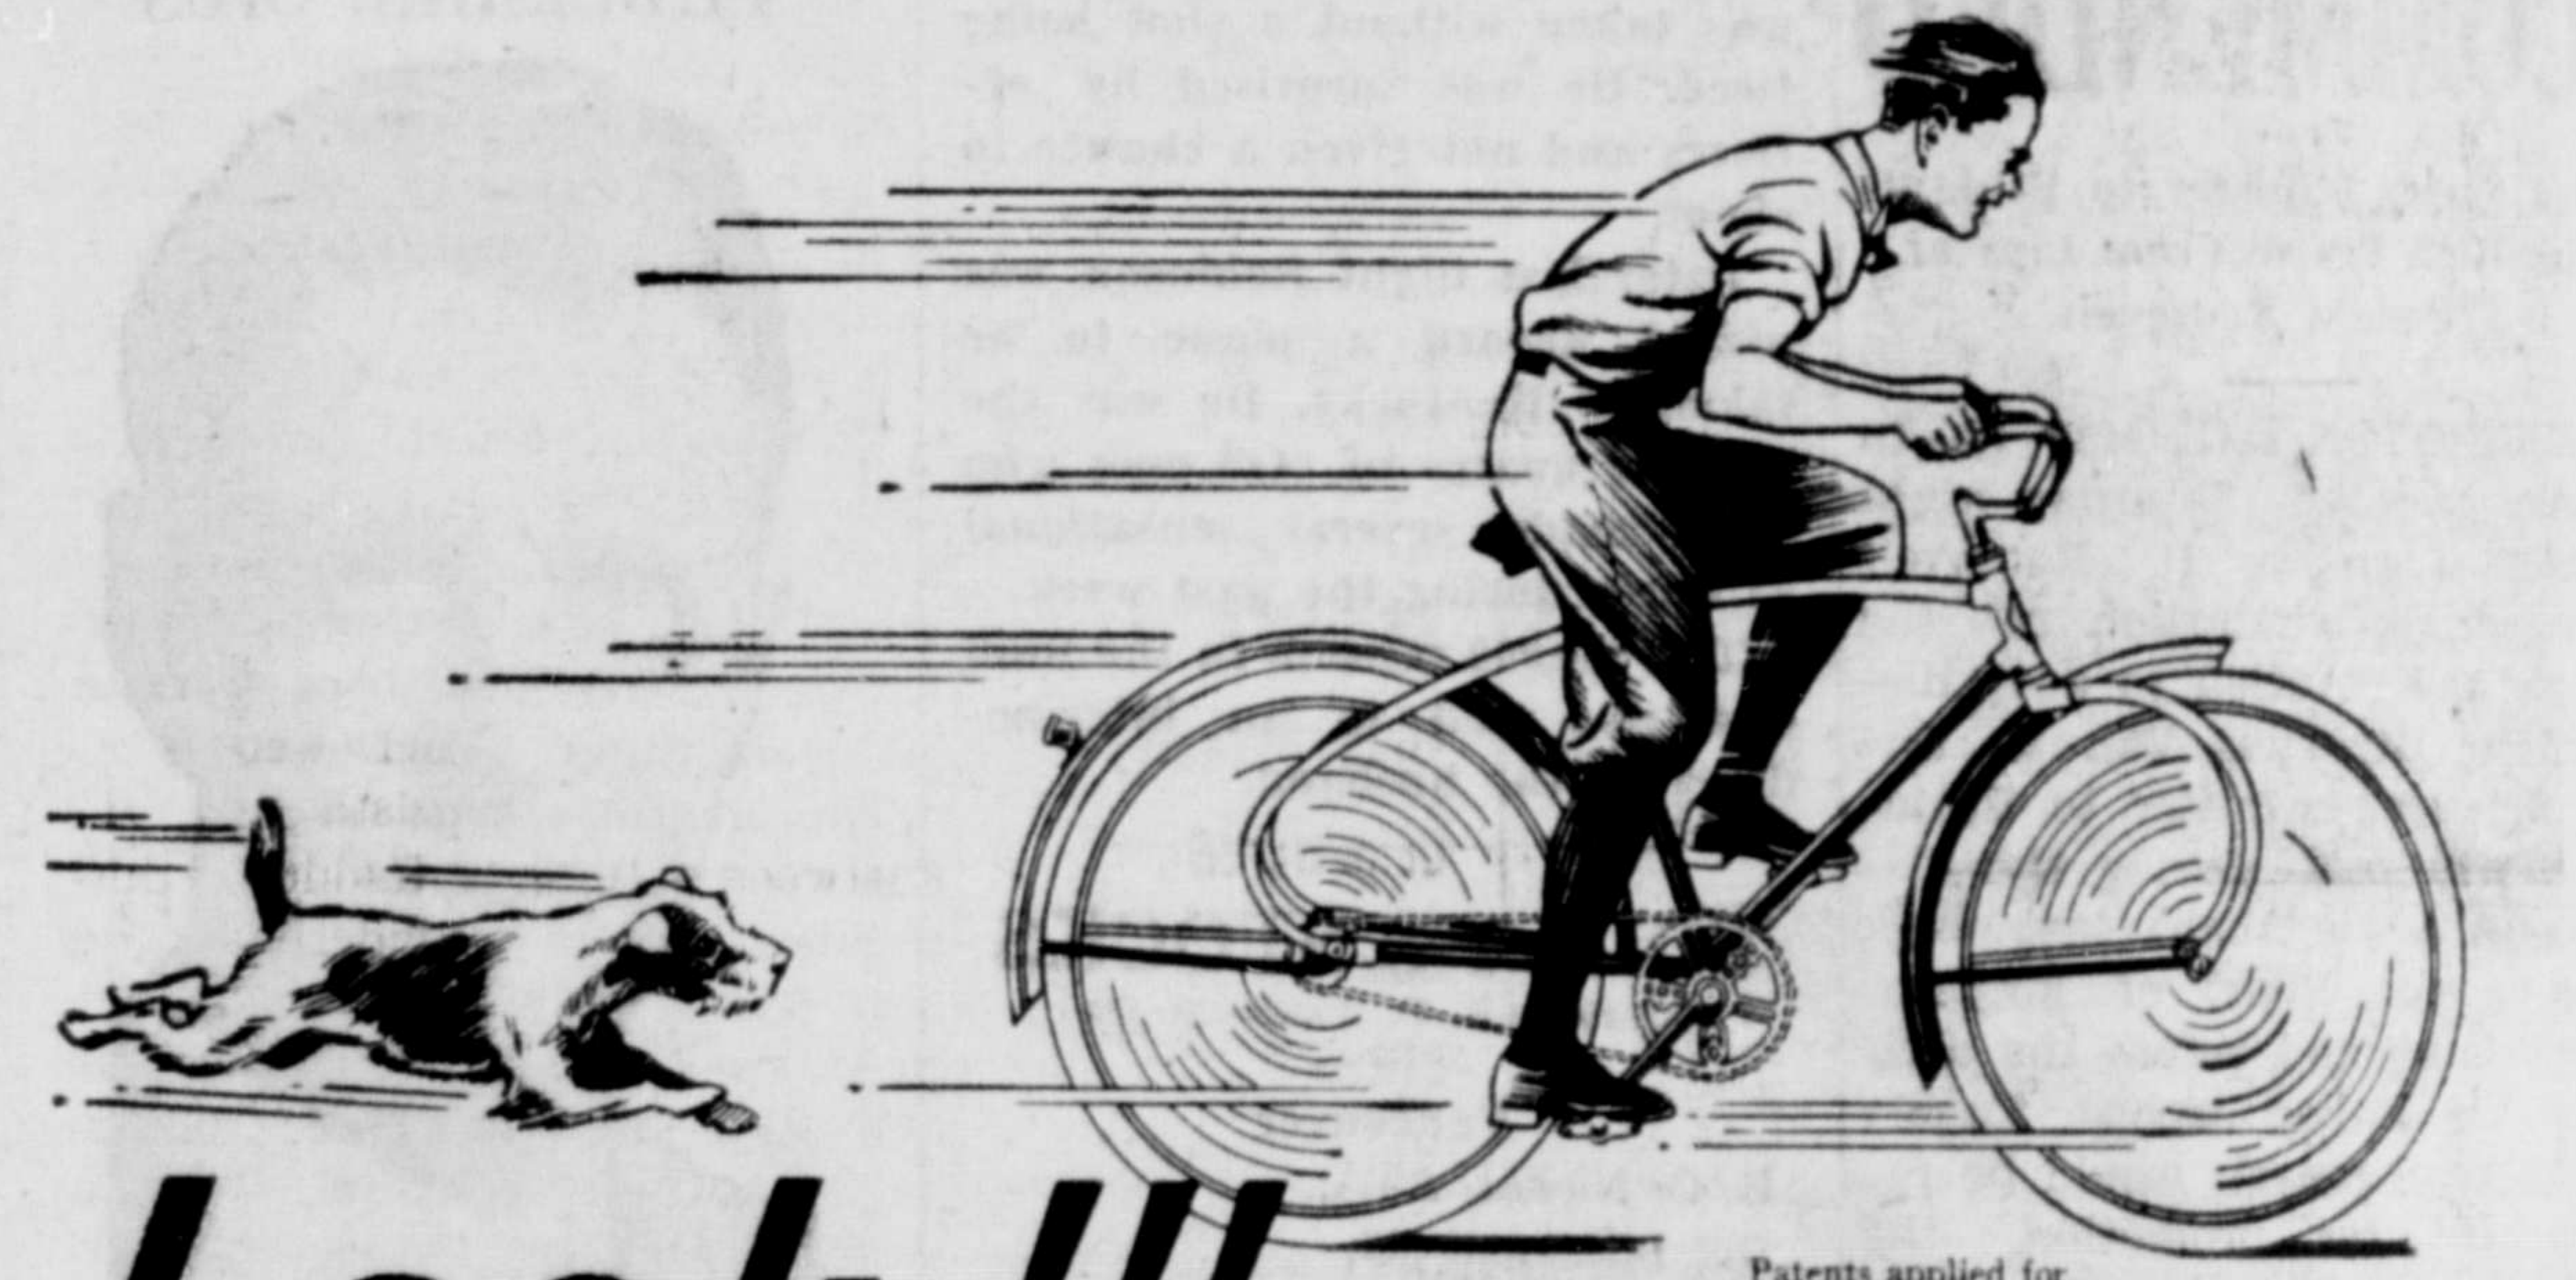

with its coral sands, coconut palms and native curios. Other features of the Canadian National system such as its hotels, telegraphs and express facilities are shown.

With window space available on three street sides the railway company seized a splendid opportunity to advertise scenic highlights of the east and the west so that the visitor may be encouraged to plan further Canadian holidays in the future.

The New C.C.M. FLYTE

HERE, boys, is the most exciting news that you have heard for years—C.C.M. have made a brand new kind of a bicycle, the likes of which you have never seen before. A streamlined bicycle that has all the speedy lines of the new motor cars. It is called the "Flyte" and it looks as swift as a swallow.

The wonderful new "Flyte" has the advantages of the other well known C.C.M. bicycles, but in addition it has a streamlined frame and streamlined front fork (both made of chromol aircraft tubing)—streamlined saddle and special streamline enamelling effect.

The boys who ride "Flyte" bicycles this Spring will enjoy the thrill of their lives, because the "Flyte" is the smartest thing on two wheels and will be the talk of every group of boys in town.

When you go to buy a bicycle this Spring ask the dealer to show you the new "Flyte", and remember it has the famous

C.C.M. Triplex Hanger (the power plant of the bicycle) that makes a C.C.M. go easy to ride. It has the sure-acting, powerful Hercules Coaster Brake and strong wheels with Endrick steel rims and rustless steel spokes. It has the C.C.M. straight-line drive and easy-running ball bearing Gibson pedals. It has Dunlop "Fort" Tires, C.C.M.'s super-Chromium plating and C.C.M.'s baked-on enamel finish. All the working parts are of special hardened steel, uniformly tempered by C.C.M. to give long and trouble-free service.

In these and many other ways the new and exciting streamlined C.C.M. "Flyte" is the smartest thing out this Spring.

The price of the "Flyte" is a little more than some of the conventional styles of C.C.M. bicycles because the cost of manufacturing is a lot more, but it is well worth every cent of its price. The price is $47.50.

Shirley Plays With Children

But Seven-Year-Old Film Star Has to Work Hard for Her $1250 a Week.

HOLLYWOOD, May 11: (CP) — The world's best-known seven-year-old has spent almost half of her life in the movies.

To all appearances, Shirley Temple is yet unspoiled by the extraordinary attention she receives as a motion picture star. She celebrated her seventh birthday on April 23 but mentally she is years older due to her association with adults. But she still likes to play with the children in her block—when she finds time.

The demands on young Miss Temple's time increase daily. Her mother, Mrs. George Temple, tries to make life for Shirley as normal as possible, but there are obligations that go with stardom that no star, however young, can escape.

Photographs, for instance, require at least an hour daily. Shirley's poses average 20 a day, two or three times as many as grown-up stars are obliged to take. Requests for pictures of Shirley are so numerous that an unusual number must be taken. Some of the stills are for advertising tie-ups, which incidentally, are said to bring the Temple family almost as much in royalties as Shirley's salary. Her name helps to sell clothes, shoes, books and dolls. The Temple movie salary recently underwent a secret readjustment. Until the first of this year, her pay was $1250 a week. It has been increased several times.

Shirley must have at least two hours schooling daily. She has two private tutors, one for general subjects and one for French. She takes dancing lessons daily, too, and just before the start of a picture she will devote four or five hours daily to learning new routines. The other day Shirley rehearsed a tap dance with Bill Robinson for five hours without evidences of fatigue.

PETITION DROPPED

Will Be No Extension of Early Closing Bylaw for Local Retail Stores

There will be no further extension of the Early Closing Bylaw for Prince Rupert retail stores.

Following rejection yesterday afternoon, as far as clothing, boot and shoe and jewelry stores are concerned, by City Commissioner W. J. Alder of a petition asking for the compulsory closing of stores at 6 p.m. Saturdays, it was announced this morning by the Prince Rupert Retail Merchants' Association that the original petition covering a number of other lines of business was being withdrawn as it would only lead to confusion and would be ineffective.

The commissioner announced that he was not satisfied that the petition was sufficiently signed as far as clothiers, boot and shoe dealers and jewelers were concerned though he had already found it sufficiently signed with regard to a number of other lines.

Groceries, butcher shops, hardware stores are already required under the Early Closing Bylaw to lock up at 6 o'clock Saturday evenings.

A. Mitchell Palmer, Former Attorney-General of United States, Passes Away

EXCITING CAREER

Came of Quaker Stock But His Life Was Not Quiet—Was Bomb Outrage Target

NEW YORK, May 12.—A. Mitchell Palmer, former Attorney-General of the United States in the administration of the late President Wilson, died yesterday at the age of sixty-four following an operation for appendicitis.

Born of peace-loving Quaker stock, Palmer during the most active period of his life was engaged in one fight after another, with the climax a bomb outrage in which he was the target.

Within the period of eight years—from 1912 to 1920—he led a successful battle in the Baltimore Democratic convention for the nomination of Woodrow Wilson; served as a member of the House; turned down the secretaryship of war; acted as alien property custodian and attorney general; he sought the Democratic presidential nomination; and engaged in a series of unusually bitter controversies in and out of Congress over his work in office.

Mr. Palmer's activities as alien property custodian and as attorney general contributed most to keep him in the public eye. Soon after America entered the war he was called upon to become the first custodian and he seized $700,000,000 in enemy properties. Disputes over the methods of handling the trusts ensued and lasted for years.

It was under his direction that the German dye and chemical patents were seized and later turned over to the Chemical Foundation. His contention always was that the step was necessary to build up an American industry free from German domination, and this was advanced when the government sought to cancel the transaction through court action.

Even after his promotion to the post of attorney general the wrangle over the seized properties continued, and a Congressional investigation finally determined that the charges against him were not sustained. Prominent among his accusers was Samuel Untermyer, the New York lawyer and counsel of a New York legislative committee.

Seeing the light of day first at Moosehead, Pa., May 4, 1872, young Palmer attended school and college in his native state and was admitted to the bar in 1893. He was elected a member of the House in 1908 from the 26th Pennsylvania district, and in the pre-convention and post-convention campaign of 1912 he was tireless in his support of Mr. Wilson.

Upon assuming office, President Wilson offered him the post of Secretary of War, but he declined it because of his religious faith, which opposed war. He continued his service in Congress until 1915, and in 1917 he was called to the post of property custodian soon after the United States entered the World War.

Addressed British-Israel Society at Meeting Last Night

At the semi-monthly meeting of the British-Israelites last evening an interesting paper was read by Sam Massey on the subject of "The Proper Interpretation of Nationalism." President P. H. Linzey was in the chair.

First reviewing nationalism as applied to other countries Mr. Massey showed how many a nation was being caught in the relentless machine of military hysteria spurred on by that fanatical form of government—a dictatorship.

"As applied to ourselves," said Mr. Massey, "the form of civilization under which we now live is not identical in character to that of former generations which produced our race and empire. The only way we as a race can avoid further inroads upon our standards of living is to first get back to the former standards of life while we have the opportunity to do so."

"There has been a vast army of agents at work undermining our national ideals of home life, our belief in the Holy Scripture, especially in the prophecies, our respect for law, order, honor, justice, freedom and righteousness. From this has evolved self-contentment and mug indifference—the two most effective devices of the enemy for blinding our race to realities."

"If we can re-establish Christianity, restore a respect for the better things of life, a deeper personal sense of responsibility, in the home, in the nation, in all humanity, our inherited civilization—which expresses our true nationalism—will see us through any difficulty if the future."

The Society has decided to meet but once a month in June, July and August.

Famous Land Cases

He said then that he had not been a partner of J. W. Zevely, attorney for Harry F. Sinclair, and had not looked after the interests of Albert B. Fall. He denied he had asked Senator Underwood of Alabama or anyone else to bring pressure to bear on Senator Walsh, of Montana, the committee prosecutor, to keep McLean off the witness stand, and defended, under cross-examination, his decision, while attorney-general, dismissing prosecution of the famous Southern Pacific land cases in California.

Mr. Palmer held honorary degrees from Swarthmore, Lafayette and George Washington universities. He was long a resident of Stroudsburg, Pa., where he maintained a summer home, and where he was identified with many business interests. He was married twice. His first wife, Roberta Dixon of Easton, Md., whom he married in Baltimore, November 23, 1898, died January 2, 1922. They had one daughter, Mary Dixon Palmer. On August 29, 1923, he married Margaret Fallon Barrall of Connecticut.

BOOKS NOT CARED FOR

Library May Have to Refuse Some Borrowers, Canadian Club Donation

The monthly meeting of the Public Library Board was held last night. A donation of $25 was received from the Woman's Canadian Club to be used for the purchase of new books. The Board felt that this donation, in view of the scarcity of funds for books, was extremely acceptable.

A communication was received from Mr. Lamb, Superintendent of the Libraries Extension Committee, stating that no provincial aid, or grant could be given to the local library. The matter will be taken up further by the chairman.

Complaint was made by the librarian that many of the new books borrowed were being returned in very bad condition. It was felt that, unless more care was taken, some persons might in future be refused the issuance of books.

The following was the statistical report for April:

Circulation	3,646
Number of days open	19
Average circulation	191.3 per day
Books added	61
Discharged	52
Net gain	12

Number of books in the library, 9020.
Borrowers added, 10.

The Margalice, with 6,500 pounds, and the Dovre B., with 20,000 pounds, are the only halibut boats in today with catches. They are holding over until tomorrow for sale.

Late today in returning from Stewart, Anyox and other northern points, Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, is due in port at 3:30 this afternoon from the north and will sail an hour or so later for Vancouver and waypoints.

John L. Kask and Olaf Erickson, both well known in Prince Rupert as members of the scientific staff of the International Fisheries Commission, left Seattle yesterday aboard the halibut boat Hoover for the Goose Island grounds to engage in halibut tagging for the commission. All fish that are taken which are found not suitable for tagging will be landed at Seattle by the Hoover.
