HUGE SUM FOR TIMBER

VICTORIA, Sept. 16: (CP)—Fourteen thousand acres of timber land on Vancouver Island was purchased today by the Alberni-Pacific Lumber Co. Ltd. from J. D. Rockefeller jr. at a cost of $2,500,000.

It is the duty and purpose of the International Fisheries Commission to see that the yield of halibut from the banks is maintained and that it is increased at the earliest possible moment. This it is doing in the only manner possible; namely, to allow the fish a proper period of growth and to allow the production of sufficient spawn to prevent the decline which has gone on for so many years.
The poundage taken at present is all that the banks can supply. If more is taken this year it will injure the stock so that less will be grown on the grounds next year and thereafter. This is made absolutely clear by the past history of the fishery in both Areas 2 and 3. Three times in the history of Area 2 have the number of boats and amount of gear fished shown sharp increases. Each time the total taken annually has been less in the end, even though for the first year or so the total was greater.
These three periods of increase in the Area 2 fleet were: first, between 1910 and 1913; second, between 1918 and 1921, and third, between 1927 and 1929. In the first period, 1910 to 1913, took place the first great increase in the amount of gear fished in Area 2, and the total taken from the banks fell from 60,000,000 pounds a year to about 30,000,000. In the second period, 1918 to 1921, the total catch rose for a year or two while the banks were being further stripped. Then the yield fell from 37,000,000 to 25,000,000, over 5,000,000 below the previous low point. In the third period the story was repeated with the great increase in the amount of fishing in 1928, and the total

OTTAWA, Sept. 16:—Under the new federal scheme for the handling of the unemployed, single men will be placed in large numbers with farmers for whom they will be required to work for their keep. The government will pay $5 per month to the farmers for each of the men who, in addition to their keep, will receive $5 for the first month, $7.50 for the second month and $10 for the third. This, it is claimed, will provide for the men and will enable the farmers to have help at a reasonable cost.
The plan provides for the federal and provincial governments to share in the cost.
The British Columbia government has alternative proposals, not being in favor of the farm plan.

A CANADIAN SERVICE

Parliament has on more than one occasion gone on record as favoring a strictly Canadian radio broadcasting service. United States radio broadcast corporations have made efforts to secure this control and to some extent have succeeded but the new control is expected to follow out the recommendations of the Royal Commission which reported in favor of retaining the radio as a strictly Canadian institution under government control.

We are being Americanized to an extent scarcely realized in some quarters. Our geographical situation is such as to make it difficult for Canada to retain her national entity in face of the various forces penetrating from the south—commercial, labor and social. We have been listening nightly to American radio broadcasts and shall continue to do so to a large extent but we can prevent total absorption by retaining a strictly Canadian system of broadcasting that will disseminate both to Canada and the United States a strictly Canadian viewpoint in culture and enlightenment. From the south we get the United States viewpoint on conditions in Canada. Our own radio system with powerful stations along the border can not only advertise Canada to Americans but can tend to unify the nation as no other force possibly can hope to do. By insisting on a purely Canadian news broadcast with Canadian interpretations we can keep our own people informed while at the same time they will have an opportunity to keep in touch with other viewpoints through the southern systems. Discussing this, "The Canadian Unionist," organ of the "All-Canadian Congress of Labor," says in part:

"Changes in administration of the national broadcasting service have been recommended by this year's committee of the House of Commons and an act has been passed by Parliament to carry them out, but the policy of public ownership and operation remains unimpaired. The adherence to the principle of public control of a public utility which tends to become a monopoly far outweighs in importance the modifications that have been introduced in matters of detail. It is a heartening sign of our legislators' realization of their duty to protect from private profiteering a realm of public communication which belongs to the people by reason of the social effort which discovered it and the social interest which it serves."

HEAVIER FISHING MEANS SMALLER ANNUAL TOTAL CATCH, SAYS THOMPSON

being stripped of what spawners are left, but even during that time the building up of the fleet and the increase in the gear it has run has always left less poundage for each vessel and each man than before.

These facts are a simple matter of history, not complicated science. But every step in the process of overfishing the banks has been checked by most careful scientific work and by the collection of all available statistics. The scientific findings are clear and convincing. They are as true of Area 3 as they are of Area 2.

In the face of these facts no commission, nor any other body, could deliberately adopt a policy counter to experience and scientific research. It is too plain that such a policy will lead to a reduction in the production from the banks, a reduction to a point where the present fleet could not exist. Elsewhere in the world whole fleets have been driven out of their business and replaced by larger more modern and efficient boats which can go greater distances to newer banks. The duty of a commission charged with preventing the destruction of the local fishery and fleet is clear.

Restriction Needed

In accomplishing this duty the commission has demonstrated that the total catch from Area 2 can be maintained and decline prevented by a proper restriction of the fishery. This has meant a shorter season to the fleet but not a reduction in the total poundage allowed.

Common sense indicates that it is better to preserve the fishery even though the season is somewhat shorter.

The commission has had the fishery and the stock of halibut under close and continued observation. It finds that although there was some spawning and production of young before 1930, neither the decline in total catch nor in production of spawn was stopped by the closed season. The changes which have occurred have been entirely different from those which should have taken place if the close season had been effective alone. Since 1930 the stock of fish on the banks has increased, the decline in total catch has been stopped, a larger number of the halibut on the banks grow to breeding size, and the production of more spawn has apparently already begun. The banks are once more in a healthy condition, and although this is as yet due entirely to more rational treatment of what young have been produced by the depleted banks, yet as soon as these young commence to increase, the total catch can also be increased.

Fleet Was Warned

The shorter season was foreseen by the commission, and the fleet warned that some means of curtailment to spread the catch would be advisable. Three years ago at the request of the fleets themselves, the commission prepared an amendment to the treaty which would allow it to take responsibility for legally supporting curtailment so that this curtailment would apply to all boats. This amendment was refused by the Seattle vessel owners, and the responsibility for the shortened season and the failure of curtailment to apply to all boats is entirely with this fleet. To the best knowledge of the commission, this amendment still reposes in Washington and Ottawa, awaiting action at any time the fleet may desire.

In other words the total poundage permitted the Area 2 fleet has been maintained and not reduced, and in addition they have been given time to engage in other fisheries which have been shown to be productive by actual figures as to the shares received.

The heavier the fishing the less the total catch.

WHAT YOU EAT HAS A LOT TO DO WITH HOW YOU FEEL

Correction of Constipation* Is Often a Matter of Menus

For years, the medical profession has insisted that proper diet is more effective in promoting health than the indiscriminate use of patent medicines. Today, they are seeing their teachings bear fruit.

For instance, millions of families have learned that common constipation is largely due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. Many of them correct this condition by the regular use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

This delicious cereal supplies generous "bulk" in effective form. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently this clears out the intestinal wastes.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and contains iron. It may be served as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked into tempting muffins, breads, etc.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN oftener. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all"—but it does correct common constipation.* It is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

TOLD ABOUT PILGRIMAGE

Toc H Stirred Last Night by Address of Inspector Hall

Most Impressive
Various Incidents on Great Trip To Europe Are Described

Toc H, at its regular meeting Tuesday night, had the privilege of hearing an address by T. W. Hall, inspector of schools, on the Vimy Memorial unveiling. He took his listeners with him from Canada to France and back to England for the garden party of His Majesty the King at Buckingham Palace. It was an address that had to be heard to be fully appreciated.

Mr. Hall paid a tribute to the wonderful organization of the whole trip—the courtesy and help of train and dining car crews, also ship's officers and crews and the splendid work of the Canadian Legion.

Mr. Hall spoke of the "wonderful silence" during the sounding of the "Last Post." Even the children in arms seemed to know and understand that something unusual was taking place. It was a silence of nearly two hundred thousand people.

King's Thoughtfulness

The speaker then told of the arrival of the King and his speech, after which he mingled with the pilgrims and noticed an elderly lady sitting on a stool, wearing miniature medals on her breast, having lost five sons in the war. The King asked where she was from. "Calgary," she said. "Oh, then you must be Mrs. Ward," said the King, asking her to be sure and come to his garden party at Buckingham Palace.

Neither did he forget the invitation. Mrs. Ward was met and taken special care of.

The cemeteries were not just a lot of crosses in rows, but each grave had an individuality, with roses and flowers growing in profusion.

"Oh Canada" was sung as it was never sung before, right from the heart.

The never to be forgotten march of the pilgrims to the cenotaph at Whitehall was described. London turned out in full force to see it, a crowd of nearly a million packed from Nelson's Monument at one end to the Houses of Parliament at the other end. It was so orderly and quiet that one could hear the cooling of the London pigeons and the splash of the water from the fountains in Trafalgar Square.

Finally at the garden party was the arrival of the King. The pilgrims formed a circle round him, breaking spontaneously into "He's a Jolly, Good Fellow." There was a feeling that he was more than king, that he was the friend of every one there.

Salmon Trolling on Islands Nears Close—Charlie Haan High Seiner—Naas Cannery Managers Leave.

Most of the salmon trollers have now left Langara Island and the trolling grounds on the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands. Taking it on the whole, the run of springs in that area this year has been disappointing. A few boats are still trolling at Cumshewa Inlet where Nelson Bros' Fisheries Ltd. have a packer and an oil supply station. The coho trolling there has been only fair. On Skidegate Bar there has been little, if any, fish so far and the outlook for chum seining is poor. The B. C. Packers and the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. are buying chums and cohoes. The Cold Storage packer Grier Starrett, Capt. Inge Valen, is paying 6c per pounds for cohoes and chums.

Capt. Charles Haan of Queen Charlotte City, with his boat Beatrice H., is reported to be the high seiner for Massett Inlet this season.

Large schools of pilchards are reported to have been seen recently in Cumshewa Inlet.

Capt. Peter Haan, who has been in the fisheries patrol service on the Queen Charlotte Islands this season, has returned to Queen Charlotte City from Massett and will continue a little longer in the service.

Managers and accountants of two Naas River canneries which have closed down for the season were passengers aboard the Catala yesterday afternoon going through to Vancouver to spend the winter. They were W. E. Walker, manager of Arrandale Cannery, and C. F. Griffin, accountant, and George F. Harris, manager of Mill Bay Cannery, and V. J. Foss, accountant.

C. N. R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived in port at 10:45 this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls with a fair sized list of passengers and will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Anox and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound.

Armour Salvage Co.'s power tug Daly, which is under charter to the B. C. Packers, was in port last night bound from the West Coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands with a large load of salmon. A new run of fish is reported to have developed on the West Coast of the Islands.

The Pachena, which has been under charter to the Fishermen's Co-operative for salmon packing during the past summer from

Eventful Day In Teachings British Israel

According to the teachings of British Israel, this is an eventful day. One of the high officials of the organization writes:

With reference to the much discussed date, September 16, the next date in the measurements of the great Pyramid of Gizeh (not by any means the last date), it is perhaps necessary to point out that the British-Israel World Federation does not prophesy any particular event to take place on this date, nor on any other date.

The federation does not prophesy at all, but simply endeavors to interpret the Scriptures and the measurements of the Great Pyramid in accordance with Bible prophecy. So critics do not appear to have made the least study of either British-Israel teaching as a whole or that of the Great Pyramid. I suggest that before making further criticisms they should study for themselves, when they will find that in accordance with prophecy many eventful happenings of national importance must and will take place in the near future.

Such statements as: "The end of the world, or the translation of a favored few, or the Second Advent of Christ, taking place on September 16 or any other specified date, are most emphatically not British-Israel teaching."

District News TERRACE

W. T. Read, railway inspector, paid Terrace an official visit last Wednesday.

Fresh snow appeared last Thursday high up on the slopes here, above 3000 feet, far enough above people's heads to be a delight to those who appreciate the fine scenery of the Skeena Valley. The brilliant sunshine which has come lights up the distant "Alps" to form an impressive background to the scenes of harvest as the local farmers and orchard men garner their crops.

Banks Island and Squadaree into Prince Rupert, returned to port last night, having completed the towing in of camps and other work.

THIS PLAY IS MODERN

"Wife vs. Secretary" and "Charlie Chan at the Circus" At Capitol Theatre

The ultra-modern metropolitan conflict of a millionaire husband caught between the loves of two women—his wife whom he adores and his secretary whom he respects—is the theme of "Wife vs. Secretary" which is the middle of the week feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here together with another Charlie Chan detective thriller "Charlie Chan at the Circus."

Three popular stars—Clark Gable, as the husband; Myrna Loy, as the wife, and Jean Harlow, as the "other woman"—comprise the triangle in "Wife vs. Secretary." The drama swings from New York to Havana. The outcome of the plot makes for drama which reaches stirring emotional heights. The supporting cast includes such competent actors as May Robson, Hobart Cavanaugh, James Stewart and George Barbier.

In the companion picture Warner Oland plays his eleventh Charlie Chan role. The setting is the huge permanent winter quarters of a large circus outfit where a baffling mystery is unfolded, the Chinese wily Oriental detective solving a strange murder incident under the big top.
