Mentally Deficient Girl, Almost Naked, Is Kept in Basement

Police and Health Officials in Vancouver Investigating Affair Involving Kitsilano Nursing Home—Detectives Found Unfortunate Child

VANCOUVER, March 26: (CP)—Police and city health officials are today investigating the case of a mentally deficient child which has been found in the basement of a Kitsilano nursing home. As a result of an anonymous telephone call detectives went to the home and reported that they had found a girl about seven years old, clad only in napkin and shirt, in the basement. The child was unkempt, and the surroundings unclean, they said.

Investigation revealed that the child had been turned over to the home by a health clinic about a year ago and $20 a month was being paid for its board.

CREDIT IS DISCUSSED

W. M. Blackstock Speaker Before Local Gyro Club at Luncheon Yesterday

"According to many theorists, banks have the power to create credit by the stroke of a pen but I take exception to that statement," said W. M. Blackstock, manager of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in an address before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at its regular weekly luncheon yesterday on the subject of "Credit." The only ones who can create credit are producers and, only when they transfer their credit to a bank, does the bank begin to function. First there must be capital, then production and then credit. Let me explain. A fisherman's capital is his boat, his nets, his gear—maybe all borrowed because an outfitter has confidence in him. He goes to sea and comes back with a catch of fish which he sells to the buyer who, in turn, may not have sufficient money to pay for all the fish but who goes to the bank, pledges the fish and receives credit to pay the fisherman. The credit, you see, is based on the fish—consumption goods. It is said that banks can go on doing this indefinitely because, in effect, no money is involved for very likely the whole transaction was completed by check.

"The power of the bank to grant—not create—credit is limited by the amount of credit entrusted to it by the public. We cannot lend more than is given to us although, over many years of experience, the banks know that the demand for actual cash is limited to a percentage of the deposits and they do not find it necessary to hold large amounts of cash, the balance deposited with them being invested in bonds, stocks and loans to the public. The banks mobilize credit by taking a lien on wealth which is not liquid—logs, lumber, fish, cattle, sheep, paper, etc."

Three Economic Stages
By some authorities, said Mr. Blackstock, economic history has been divided into three stages—barter, money and credit. In order to facilitate barter, the need had arisen for a commodity which could be exchanged easily, was not bulky and the value of which could easily be determined. Thus arose the use of tokens or coins—money—of bronze, brass, silver and gold. It must be understood that money itself was a commodity and of no use except to be spent. It represented a postponed satisfaction in obtaining some other desired article.

UNCLE SAM MORE ALOOF THAN BEFORE LAST WAR

Washington Observer Tells of American Reaction To Clash in Europe—Might Have Political Repercussions

WASHINGTON, March 26: (AP)—Whatever destiny may hold in store for the world in the wake of German military reoccupation of the Rhineland in defiance of treaty, American aloofness from the new European crisis is distinctly greater than it was in those fateful mid-summer days of 1914. It has been bolstered by experience and buttressed by law.

Yet it cannot be said that the march of re-armed Germany to resume "The Watch on the Rhine" may not have political repercussions in this country. If war is to come of it, the factors now shaping to frame the impending presidential election here could all be completely changed. For America no less than the nations immediately involved abroad, external policy rather than internal could become the major domestic issue.

It requires no recapitulation of the controversy in congress over the shaping of neutrality legislation to foretell a bitter clash of opinion over whatever executive steps might be necessary at any stage to implement that national policy. Even excluding weapons and direct war munitions from the consideration, as they are excluded by law, there are rich possibilities

FELL INTO POLICE NET

John Major, Aged 23, Arrested In Vancouver While Accepting Dummy Blackmail Parcel

VANCOUVER, March 26: (CP)—John Major, aged 23, was in city jail here yesterday charged with attempted extortion after being arrested in an interurban street car at New Westminster Tuesday evening as he allegedly accepted a parcel supposed to contain $5000. He appeared in police court yesterday and was remanded for one week.

The police revealed last night that a Vancouver Chinese business man had received threatening letters demanding $5000 and instructing him to wrap up the money in a parcel and hand a car for New Westminster. The police were informed and an officer secreted himself in the car with the motorman. When the car reached New Westminster, the man approached and gave the password mentioned in the letters and accepted a dummy parcel. The officer came out from his hiding place and made the arrest.

Locarno Treaty Will Be Backed up by Britain

Warns Both France and Germany That Obstinacy Will Only Menace Peace of World—Cannot be Aggression Between Three European Powers

LONDON, March 26: (CP)—Capt. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, told the House of Commons today that the British government would back up the Locarno Pact, pointing out to questioners that Britain was obligated under the Locarno treaty that there would be no aggression between Germany, France and Belgium.

Capt. Eden had frank and unmistakable words for Germany, France and his own countrymen. To France the British foreign secretary declared peace could not be insured unless the French government was ready to approach with an open mind problems over which she differed with Germany. To Germany Capt. Eden said: "How can we hope to enter into negotiations with any possibility of success unless you are prepared to do something to allay the anxieties in Europe which you have created."

BUILD SHIPS HERE

The steamship Queen Mary is so long that it was with the greatest difficulty she was able to float out of the River Clyde into deep water. This means that vessels longer than her cannot be built in the Scottish shipyards.

What we suggest is that the Clyde be abandoned as a shipbuilding centre, that the shipbuilders be transferred to Prince Rupert where ships could be built on the shores of the harbor without any risk in getting them to the open sea. We could find room for all the workers even if they brought with them their Scottish brogue and their radical tendencies.

The difficulty is that somebody would be sure to object unless he got a job as foreman on the work or some other responsible position and that would upset the whole scheme. On the other hand the scheme would secure considerable support from those who would like to see a football game once more. Soccer would again flourish if there were a good importation of boys from the south of Scotland.

ARE WE DETERIORATING?

Of course someone will ask if it is true that people who come here from the Old Land deteriorate after being here a number of years. At one time Prince Rupert had a number of good football teams and fans could get excited watching the matches and listening to the Scottish exclamations and seeing the English players grit their teeth and bite their lips when pressed hard by opponents, the harmony of the occasion being increased by an occasional Welsh gutteral or an Irishman giving someone a jolt. This sort of thing seems to have passed into history. Possibly the fault lies with the young boys not following in father's footsteps. At any rate football as it was played, is played here no longer and the young men are becoming soft. We need new blood from Scotland or England or Ireland to pep us up.

This spring has been very disappointing to gardeners. The weather has made it difficult to do more than clean up. Yet those in dry locations have done a certain amount of spring digging. There is sloppy snow on the ground as I am writing this but I am hoping that, before the week-end, there will be signs of spring.

Complaint is made that the winter has been worse than the average for dry walls, many of which will have to be rebuilt. Bulbs and shallow rooted perennials have been lifted from the ground and the frost of the last week has been

There is a difference of opinion about whether or not to grow phlox Drummond. The tall, perennial phlox does well but the annual does not always give good results. It requires more sun than we sometimes have to offer. If grown they should be given good soil in a well drained position with lots of opportunity for the sun to

PHLOX DRUMMONDI.

Word has been received from Toronto that the slides of the Holland Bulb farms will be here in time for the annual dinner of the Horticultural Society on April 14. This means that there will be a good program of flower pictures as we are also getting pictures of Victoria gardens and Vancouver Island seed farms. The slides are all said to be beautifully colored and should prove a great attraction.

Many people are not aware that the gardener at the C. N. R. Totem Hill Park supplies the dining cars on all the trains with cut flowers during the summer and sometimes the trains are looted at Jasper to supply the train between Jasper and Vancouver. This is a perfect refutation of the old idea that flowers cannot be grown successfully in Prince Rupert.—H. F. P.

atal to flowers which have stood the real winter cold.

About three days ago I put some of my broad beans in a bowl of water to start. Already they fill the bowl and in a few days will be bursting with bud. I knew I was taking chances when I put them into the water and, if the weather does not clear soon, I shall not know what to do with the beans. I think I shall spread them over the bottom of a box and cover with sphagnum moss.

Two flowers that do well in Prince Rupert are the clarkia and the godetia, both hardy annuals. They may be sown outdoors soon or, better still, sown in a box indoors and put out in May.

I understand that a good many people plant their gladioli in April while others wait until May. If the

RETURN OF COLD ERA

Scientist Claims Small Drop Would Make This Continent Uninhabitable

SASKATOON, March 26: (CP)—Return of the glacial ice age, covering the continent with ice thousands of feet thick, would result if the mean annual temperature of North America dropped only nine degrees, Dr. J. D. Mawdsley told the Saskatoon Archeological Society in an address here.

Dr. Mawdsley, recently elected Fellow of the Geographical Society of America, said an increase of precipitation would have the same effect.

Discussing the coming of man to the North American continent, the scientist claimed this probably happened 20,000 years ago after the fourth glacial period, when a natural land bridge connected America and Asia. At that time the climate was warmer and mammals were plentiful.

The ancestor of the horse was present on this continent before it moved into Asia, although the Spaniards found no horses in early American explorations. Elephants and mastodons abounded.

During the last glacial period neither Asia nor Alaska was covered with ice. At that time an open path southward lay through the Mackenzie Valley between eastern and western glacial masses. Man probably came to America from Asia by this route.

Human Migration

If the first humans to this continent moved entirely by land, Dr. Mawdsley fixed the period of their arrival at more than 9,000 years ago, because after this date the seas rose as the ice melted and submerged all land connecting continents.

The first humans followed migrations of animals as they hunted. The Cro-Magnon man, he explained, had a brain capacity as great as or exceeding our own.

The scientist questioned whether man was responsible for destruction of mammals that survived the last ice age. Most of the mammals became extinct in the last 20,000 years. Possibly man had thrown them out of adjustment. The remains of man were still found in conjunction with many extinct species, together with pieces of Mayan pottery.

Doctor Mawdsley showed views of the peculiar "Fulsom type" spear heads of 10,000 years ago, carrying a groove in the middle to fit a cleft spear. The scientist suggested members of the Saskatoon society might find spearheads of this type left by the first peoples as they moved southward through the great western plains.

CLOTHING MANUFACTURER: "In my opinion, Mr. Smith, if manufacturers would consult their bank before taking any important new step, they would be more likely to avoid undertakings that could not prove beneficial and which, if carried out, might even damage their existing business."

MACHINERY MANUFACTURER: "On the other hand, I know from experience at the Bank of Montreal that the banker may be able to advise what to do, as well as what to avoid. For instance, the Bank helped me to size up the outlook correctly and assisted me with loans for raw material and to establish distribution which increased my business and profits."

FURNITURE MANUFACTURER: "For years after we bought our plant we discounted our trade paper on the Bank. We needed more money, gave security and got it. Business was so good that we wanted to reach out further, but the Bank said 'No.' It proved most fortunate, for you know what happened to sales. The decision saved our company. I have come to realize that the Bank has extensive sources of information not available to me nor to any company I know. The advice has not always appealed to me at the time, but I am now convinced that it has been backed by exceptional information, coupled with experience."

This Bank has ample loanable funds and welcomes new accounts.

Its facilities include: Extensive market and credit information; commercial credits for foreign imports; exchange against goods exported; special wire services to important markets; branch and agency connections throughout Canada and foreign countries; letters of credit for use of company representatives.

Actual cash had its limitations in serving the ever-increasing trade of the world and the third stage—credit—came into being. Credit had been defined as "a postponed payment of money." The word was employed in ordinary usage as the ability to borrow. Goods were traded for credit, credit was traded for money and money was exchanged for goods. Actual money was not used to any great extent in the business world today, credit having become the medium of exchange. When a man went down the street and bought a hat, issuing a check in payment, he was, in effect, exchanging credit at the bank for the hat he desired. Thus it was in the majority on transactions large and small. Behind it all there was something tangible. The speaker referred to the importance of confidence in ordinary trade and credit.

Dr. R. G. Large, president of the club, was in the chair and thanked the speaker for his interesting discourse.

Ancient Greeks Knew Socialism Says Professor

SASKATOON, March 26: (CP)—Modern social trends had their counterpart in early history, said Prof. W. G. Sullivan, of the University of Saskatchewan, in an address here. In the fifth century B.C., he said, the Greeks developed a socialistic scheme very similar to the present movement.

In one play the Athenians started a suffragette movement which caused women to seek control of the city's government.

Even the Romans had their relief problems, he stated. Julius Caesar aroused resentment by cutting the number of relief recipients from 325,000 to 150,000. A great fire in 390 B.C. destroyed the city which then had a population of 1,000,000.

"But a night club would not have been a success in Rome," the speaker said. Human nature was much the same as today, but climatic conditions and poor artificial lighting caused the "early to bed and early to rise" maxim to be strictly observed.

Medicine and surgery reached an advanced stage in Rome during this period. Free clinics and dispensaries were available and many amazing operations were performed.

Beauty parlors for women were established throughout the city.

Chariot racing was a favorite form of amusement, and some professional charioteers received huge salaries. In some years 135 days were public holidays. Slaves did all the work.

Former Western Farmer Citizen Black Sea Port

LLOYDMINSTER, Sask., March 26: (CP)—William Truscott, once a resident of this district, is now a member of the Odessa City Council and in a letter to a friend here says he has found happiness in the Soviet Union.

Formerly a British shipyard worker, Truscott migrated to Canada 20 years ago. In 1923 he made his way to Odessa and returned to his former trade in that Black Sea port.

His letter says Russia was becoming prosperous and the need for exporting produce was diminishing each year. Gold production had exceeded estimates and was bringing untold wealth to the country. Russian refineries could not handle the heavy volume and gold quartz and sand had to be sent to foreign refineries for extraction.

Mr. Truscott expressed the opinion Russia would never export foodstuffs on a competitive basis, and said the chief difficulty in carrying out the five-year plan had been fear of attack by Japan.

He was anxious to know current prices paid for Canadian farm produce.

PLANT MILLION TREES AMARILLO, Texas, March 26: (CP)—From 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 trees will be planted on soil conservation service demonstration projects in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado this spring.

CHILD KILLED IN CHURCH DNDEE, S.A., March 26: (CP)—When one of the walls of a church here collapsed during services, one child was killed, a woman critically injured and five others less seriously hurt.

EUROPEANS INCREASE CAPE TOWN, March 26: (CP)—The office of Census and Statistics reports that in the decade 1923-34 there was a net gain by migration in the Union of 20,550 Europeans.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

Another switch around among the engineering staffs of Canadian National Coast Steamships is about to take place. Chief Engineer W. E. Baillie will be going off the Prince Rupert in two weeks to join his regular ship, the Prince Rupert, which will be preparing for service again this summer on the Alaska route. William Ballantyne, at present chief of the Prince John, will go over to the Prince Rupert and George Davidson, now second on the Prince Rupert, will become chief on the John. Alex Forbes and William Thompson, second and third engineers respectively on the Prince John, are transferring to the Prince Rupert here tonight. Reginald Williams and N. McFarlane going over from the Rupert to take their places on the John.

Making her first call at this port since last fall, Northland Transportation Co.'s big liner North Sea, Capt. A. W. Nickerson, arrived in port at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Alaska and, after discharging two carloads of fresh halibut from Ketchikan which was trans-shipped, east on last evening, the train, sailed at 6 p.m. in continuation of her voyage to Seattle. The North Sea had on board fifty-eight passengers all of whom went through to Seattle with the exception of Norman L. Freeman who disembarked here. This is the second voyage of the North Sea to Alaska after having been tied up for the winter at Seattle. It is expected she will be a regular caller here southbound during the coming summer.

The local halibut boats Bayview and Fenella are in with catches of 4,500 and 6,000 pounds respectively and are holding over until tomorrow for sale.

Sigmund Einstoss of New York and Seattle announces that he has signed up 300 local rollers for the co-operative marketing of their fish. The plan is to make a down payment and distribute the rest of the proceeds after the fish are sold. Mr. Einstoss, after spending the week in the city, will leave Sunday on the Princess Norah for Ketchikan.

Forest Ranger J. B. Scott, with the departmental cruiser Lillian D., arrived at Skidegate Inlet recently after a rough trip from Prince Rupert through a heavy southeast storm. He will be returning to Prince Rupert soon.

Vancouver Wheat VANCOUVER, March 26: (CP)—Wheat was quoted at 80½c on the Vancouver Exchange yesterday and was unchanged today.

AGAINST FLOOD LEVIES WASHINGTON D.C., March 26: Congress decided yesterday against farm products processing levies.

THIS NATURAL FOOD GENTLY REGULATES YOUR SYSTEM

Furnishes Needed "Bulk" for Regular Habits

Your doctor will tell you that keeping healthy depends far more on proper diet than on drugs, that common constipation is usually due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, and that patent medicines give you only temporary relief.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies gently acting "bulk" which corrects the cause of common constipation. This "bulk" takes up moisture, forming a soft mass which helps to cleanse the system.

ALL-BRAN gives your body the regular internal exercise it needs to prevent sluggishness. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Careful studies on men and women have shown that this delicious cereal is perfectly satisfactory. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. ALL-BRAN is much more effective than part-bran products. Avoid disappointment—get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Bamboo Grove Tropic Touch In Esquimalt

Retired Government Man Raises Plants and Claims They Will Thrive on Island

VICTORIA, March 26: (CP)—Basil Keys, local horticulturalist, is successfully growing bamboo trees and believes the time will come when Vancouver Island will be covered with tropical trees.

After spending ten years in the tropics, Mr. Keys returned to his bachelor's cottage atop Four-Mile Hill, overlooking Esquimalt and began his experiments. Today his home is surrounded by bamboos 15 to 20 feet tall. He has found a dozen varieties will grow on the island.

Bamboo, Mr. Keys explained, is nothing more than glorified grass—closely related to corn, wheat barley. The tree requires from 50 to 100 years to flower, after which it immediately dies. But the plants spread by means of their roots and one plant would in time form a grove.

The giant timber bamboo being grown successfully by Mr. Keys is expected to reach a height of around 70 feet in 15 years. The new shoot of a 15-year old tree of this type, he says, will grow at the rate of 10 feet a week, and in China some shoots grow two or three feet daily.

Besides their decorative qualities, some of the trees are highly valuable commercially. A black bamboo with canes shining like polished jet is highly prized for walking-sticks and furniture making. One species of bamboo in his grove is edible. The young shoot, peeled and boiled, is a great delicacy among natives and whites in the Far East.

DREAMS OF COME-BACK

Max Baer, Former Ring Champion, Ranches and Delves in Scrap Book Memories

ROSEVILLE, Calif., March 26: (AP)—There are whispers that Max Baer, the forgotten man of the ring, may come back to the leather-pushing wars.

For the present, however, the former heavyweight champion who went down and out under the furious onslaught of Joe Louis last September is taking his ease among the rolling hills of the Sacramento Valley, where the moon and stars provide most of the bright lights for this alumnus of Broadway.

To the environs of this little railroad town he came five months ago and started life anew on the 40-acre "ranch" owned by Anell Hoffman. Since then Max has played a lot of golf, dabbled at ranching, attended the movies regularly. He occasionally referees a wrestling or boxing bout and he's put on weight. He scaled 231—20 pounds over ringside normal.

Lounging back in a chair, watching the sunset, Baer exclaims: "This is the life." He seems to mean it.

The 26-year old one-time playboy is not ready to settle down forever on the ranch. He and Hoffman are dickering with Hollywood and Max is studying English and speaking.

Wife Says "No"

Will he ever fight again? His wife, the former Mary Ellen Sullivan, says no. But Baer likes to toy with the idea that he might be the "white hope" if Louis erases Jim Braddock—and Max says Louis will do that. However, right now Max is not looking far past the movies, golf and the ranch.

Baer speeds upstairs and hauls out a stack of scrap-books filled with thousands of newspaper clippings. His eye lights on a picture of Dempsey. "There's a great guy!" he exclaims. What would have happened if Jack met Louis in Jack's hey-day?

"Jack would have killed him," says Baer. "I may not be so hot, but the guy who taught me how to murder Louis, Dempsey is as rough as they come."

Baer flipped the pages to headlines screaming his startling loss to Braddock. "Boys, I was the biggest Santa Claus of 1935.—I gave Braddock the title! I'm only 26 but I've sure lived a lot," he muses as the pages of the scrap-book stir the depths of his memory. "And I'm going to live a lot more."

A comeback—the movies, radio, master of ceremonies or even wrestling, maybe somehow Max expects to climb back into the thick of things.

SPORT CHAT

Nearly 4,500 boys and girls who might be viewing sport from the sidelines are engaging in themselves as a result of work of the Physical and Recreational Education department of the British Columbia government. The department was created in 1934 to see that every boy and girl who so wishes, especially unemployed and part-time workers, has opportunity for recreational training in idle hours. The scheme was sponsored by Hon. G. M. Weir, minister of education, and developed by Ian Eisenhardt, director.

Ages of the youths enrolled range between 16 and 24. They are trained by instructors in callisthenics, volleyball, basketball, softball, handball, boxing, wrestling, archery, track and field sports, gym hockey and table tennis. Other games played if equipment is available are English and Canadian rugby, grass hockey, badminton and soccer.

Participants need not be outstanding athletes, but to train the many to a general understanding of all sports and to become sufficiently skilled for their own enjoyment.

If outstanding athletes are developed the department hopes they will be recognized by private clubs able to devote time and equipment to their coaching. Each centre has weekly sessions where the classes compete among themselves. On scheduled dates all centres stage a mass meet in one particular sport, featuring athletes from one centre against other centres for an aggregate point total. Prizes consist of medals and certificates.

The department staged a novice boxing championship and swimming gala in Vancouver, and held their first annual indoor track and field meet in New Westminster early in February. Weightlifting championships were held recently with athletes from Vancouver and its suburbs, New Westminster and Nanaimo taking part. Other events on the program concluding at the end of March are the second annual cross-country road race at Stanley Park, gymnastic competitions and a mass display by all centres.

Even after some of the boys and girls find positions in the commercial world, the enjoyment they received in endeavoring to develop their bodies keeps them coming to the sessions. Enrollment has increased from 2700 in 1934

PHYSICAL DISPLAY POSTPONED

Editor, Daily News:

At the personal request of Ian Eisenhardt, provincial director of Recreational and Physical Education, the display program of the local centre, originally planned for April 4 in the Exhibition Building, has been put off until Saturday, April 18, to enable Mr. Eisenhardt to attend it, and to address the centre's numerous members, their friends, and the interested public in general.

It is hoped that the extra two weeks will not only result in a more polished demonstration of the centre's various activities, but will also enable more people (many of them still recuperating from prevalent illnesses) actively to participate in it. Accordingly the rehearsal scheduled for this Saturday (March 28) in the Exhibition Building has been cancelled until further notice.

Arrangements for the seating of the spectators in the Exhibition Building are in the capable hands of the City, while the Provincial Government Public Works Department has kindly offered to look after the transportation of the necessary gymnasium equipment to the Acropolis Hill for the occasion.

I should like to take this opportunity, Sir, of thanking publicly the civic-minded Jubilee Fund Committee for their generous donation of $100 towards gymnasium apparatus, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce for acting as a most gracious intermediary. Already a new vaulting box and gymnasium springboard adorn the centre, and other equipment is on the way up from the south—a fact which should not only enhance the display itself, but should surely tend to make the local gym more efficient and effective in the future.

Please accept my sincere thanks for affording me this valuable space in your esteemed publication.

Yours very truly,
PAUL P. KOZOLIN,
Instructor

MRS. CORBY INTERESTS

Addresses I.O.D.E. Members and Friends on "Rambling Recollections"

Mrs. P. E. Corby, provincial organizing secretary of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire who is spending a few days here on organization work for the order, gave an interesting address before members of the order and friends at First United Church last night on the subject of "Rambling Recollections of the I.O.D.E." Mrs. Orchard McLeod, the local municipal regent presided and introduced the speaker who conveyed warm greetings from Provincial Chapter to the order in this city. There was an acceptable musical program.

The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada," and, after a pianoforte duet by Mrs. H. B. Rochester and Mrs. William Brooksbank, and a vocal solo by Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. P. E. Corby was heard. With her wide experience as a Provincial officer and as a delegate from British Columbia to the annual meeting of the National Chapter in Ottawa, her subject gave Mrs. Corby an opportunity to instruct as well as to inspire her listeners with the achievements of the order throughout the Dominion. While her remarks were of special interest to the members of the I.O.D.E., they also impressed the guests who were present, as she dealt briefly with the various branches of the work—education, child welfare, Navy League, etc.

In their efforts to raise funds for these activities, Mrs. Corby urged the members not to lose sight of the real aims and objects of the order, and the ideals for which it stood, mentioning especially "to draw women's influence to the bettering of all things connected with our great empire, and to instill into the youth of their country patriotism in its fullest sense." Stressing the need, in these days of unrest for loyalty to their Motto, "One Flag, One Empire," Mrs. Corby closed her address with a stirring appeal to the patriotism of the members themselves, reminding them that before they could hope to institute it in others, they must be truly patriotic themselves—not content with mere superficial observance of national anniversaries etc., but ready to live in the service of their country.

On behalf of the members, Mrs. H. L. Landrey thanked Mrs. Corby for the pleasure and inspiration she had given them.

After a solo by Mrs. E. Andrews, accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Cullin, the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary Banquet Enjoyable

A very enjoyable banquet was held by the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion last night, about 60 being present. The banquet opened with the singing of "O Canada" followed by two minutes silence and grace by the chaplain, Mrs. Henry Smith. A bountiful supper was served, the tables being daintily decorated with daffodils. Mrs. Hugh Killin, president, in the opening speech, heartily welcomed those present.

Those responsible for the arrangements were Mrs. Oden convener, Mrs. McGreish, Miss M. Robertson, Mrs. William Rance, Mrs. A. Guyan and Mrs. Nesbit, committee.

A musical program followed, the artists being: Mrs. V. Grimson, song, Mrs. F. Barker, recitations, Mrs. F. Hunter, song, Mrs. Frebourg, recitation and Miss M. Robertson, song.

Games and dancing brought a very enjoyable evening to a close with the singing of "God Save the King."

Members of the Canadian Legion waited on the ladies during supper.

Rev. Bishop Black Honored by Parishioners at Queen Charlotte

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY, March 26:—Last Thursday evening a very pleasant surprise was given the Rev. Bishop Black B.A., B.D., when the people of the community gathered together at the Manse. Games and other amusements led successfully by B. Munro and G. H. Jolliffe were enjoyed by young and older people until a late hour. Later delicious refreshments were served by the ladies present and prizes were distributed to the successful contestants. Over forty people gathered from all over the district, representing both Queen Charlotte and Skidegate. Others expressed their regret at unavoidable causes preventing them attending.

Perhaps it is a long time since the Manse resounded with so many happy voices as the crowded guests jostled each other as they passed from room to room. Certainly the minister was pleased with the joyous spirit displayed by all present.
