A number of ships flashed distress signals as the gale reached a velocity of 100 miles per hour. Air services to the Continent were cancelled and telegraph and telephone services disrupted. Accompanying heavy rains increased the flood damage in many parts just as they were recovering from the serious floods of a few days ago.

SMITHERS MAN IS BURNED TO DEATH

GERMANY IS DISTURBING

Largely Responsible For Present Chaotic State of Affairs In Europe, Says Speaker

Heading Her Off

Interesting Talk Consists Mainly Of Enlightening Interpretative Review

Germany's obvious preparation under Adolf Hitler for conflict was described as one of the principal causes of the present chaotic state of international affairs as far as Europe is concerned by Dr. F. H. Soward, professor of history at the University of British Columbia, in speaking before an audience which taxed the capacity of the city council chamber last night. "However," observed Dr. Soward, "it takes time to re-arm under the present specialized methods of warfare. Reliable opinion says that it will take Germany at least two years to bring her military machine to a state of efficiency comparable with that of Great Britain, France or Russia. This may afford time to organize among the powers a collective system in the meeting of their economic problems, an acceptance of the spirit that no nation should impose its will upon another by force and a general belief that peace must be guaranteed before justice can be obtained. Bar unforeseen circumstances, it may yet be possible to check the menace of Germany."

VOICE NOT SUITABLE

Talking Pictures Ended Screen Career Of Late John Gilbert

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 10: (CP)—John Gilbert, who died at his home here yesterday from a heart attack, became known during the old silent picture days as the "Great Lover of the Screen." One of the most popular of stars before the advent of the talkies, the new moving picture technique spelt doom for his career, largely on account of a peculiarity of his voice which did not record well. He made few appearances on the screen since talking pictures became the vogue. His romantic career was a hectic one and he had been married several times. Thirty-eight years of age, Gilbert was taken ill only a few days ago but no fears were entertained until yesterday morning when his condition became alarming with death soon ensuing.

The Chinese woman's husband, Fong Chin Lap, is charged with attempted murder following an early morning affray in their Keefer Street house. A trail of blood from the blood-spattered bedroom led the police to the point where the woman collapsed on the sidewalk.

PREMIER IS DEAD

Hon. Walter M. Lea, Head Of Prince Edward Island Government, Passes

Won Every Seat

First Prime Minister in Current British History to Have No Opposition

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Jan. 10: (CP)—Premier Walter M. Lea of Prince Edward Island died this morning in Charlottetown of double pneumonia at the age of 61 years. In ill-health for some time, he became seriously ill a few days ago.

Mr. Lea was the first political leader in current British history to head a party which won every seat in parliament, completely routing the opposing forces.

In the Prince Edward Island general election, July 23, 1935, Mr. Lea, as leader of the Liberal opposition party, carried on the campaign from his Victoria home where he lay ill. The Island's first farmer premier was able to attend only one political meeting in his own constituency. But the success of his campaign for rigid economy was overwhelming and the Conservative government lost every one of its 16 seats. The premier-elect found himself in the unusual position of leading a houseful of 30 supporters.

Born February 10, 1874, Walter Jaxfield Lea was educated in the public schools of Prince Edward Island and spent all his life on the farm. His fame as a breeder of Holstein cattle and Percheron horses was widespread. For 10 years he was a director of the Holstein Breeders' Association of Canada.

Followed Father's Steps

His father, William C. Lea, was in the legislature before him, being a contemporary of Coles and Whalen, fathers of responsible government in the Island province. Walter Lea's first political victory was in 1915, in the fourth district of Prince. Re-elected in 1919 he was appointed to the cabinet as minister of agriculture and provincial treasurer.

The 1923 election was disastrous to the Liberal party. Only four of its candidates were re-elected. Mr. Lea went down to defeat. But in 1927 he came back and assumed his former portfolio of agriculture in the government led by Hon. A. C. Saunders.

On the elevation of Premier Saunders to the Supreme Court in 1930, Mr. Lea became premier. But the farmer premier was allowed but a year in office. His party was then routed by the Conservatives under Hon. J. D. Stewart. Mr. Lea remained leader of the opposition until he turned the tables so completely in 1935.

In the cabinet sworn into office August 15, 1935, Mr. Lea was premier, president of the council, provincial secretary - treasurer and minister of agriculture.

Progressive Farmer

As a progressive farmer, Mr. Lea was one of the first promoters of the co-operative cream gathering system on the Island. He was a firm believer in mixed farming as against specialization in potato raising. He travelled to Europe several years ago studying Danish, Scottish and English systems of farming and on his return spoke in every part of the province, adding to his fellow agriculturalists' know-

SMITHERS, Jan. 10:—Olof Skrove was burned to death when his building at the edge of the town was destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock this morning. It is not known how the fire originated but it had a good start when first seen and the alarm was sounded. The chemical engine was soon at the fire and a hole was cut through the wall of the building and the body of the unfortunate man was removed. Mr. Skrove had lived in Smithers for quite a long time and was a bachelor about sixty years of age.

HALIFAX REACHING OUT

A new year special number of the Halifax Herald has just come to hand. It is a 54-page edition full of information about the capital city of Nova Scotia, Canada's great Atlantic seaport. It is a credit to the publishers and the people of that city.

What interested us in the special number was a full page advertisement inserted by the Halifax Tourist Bureau in which was some sound advice to the people there and which would be just as applicable to us in Prince Rupert. Here is an example:

"Every great city derives its driving force, its progress, its vision from civic pride and community spirit."

"Send in your ideas, prepare your homes, business houses, dress them up—plan, paint, clean—let Halifax have a clean and sparkling face for 1936."

"Think carefully of the many attractions this city possesses, the great sea at her door, the beautiful shore drives, the beaches, the parks, the gardens, the fishing, the game shooting—think of the water carnival and the crowds that lined the North West Arm in the summer of 1935—think of these things and thrill to the future possibilities. Lend your vision, your energy, your plans, your services to the organization that plans great things for Halifax this year. It is your city."

dens in the way of reparations undertakings, etc. which had caused Stress-man to be reviled later by his own countrymen.

Honest, bluff, sturdy, obstinate and unflinching in devotion, the aged Paul von Hinderburg had been called out of his retirement to become President in 1925. A monarchist by conviction, he was a republican by circumstance. Unwittingly, during the latter part of his regime, he had been a tool in the hands of the Nazis and under him arose Hitler.

Came the depression and in 1930, with strong leadership required, Heinrich Bruening became chancellor. He had followed a policy of deflation and discontent became more intense, all of which was exploited by the Nazis. Eventually Bruening was dismissed and Franz von Papen, ally of Hitler, came into power in 1932. Then came Kurt von Schleicher who gave way in 1933 to Hitler following the "unholy alliance" of big business and Nazis.

With the death of the aged Hinderburg, Hitler, already in virtual control, assumed both presidency and chancellorship. Due to intrigue, depression and propaganda, Nazism was at last firmly in the saddle. The old parties soon collapsed, opposition was completely destroyed and Hitler was in possession of a greater measure of power than any other ruler had ever had in Germany's history.

The speaker gave a brief sketch of Hitler's personal career. Forty-eight years of age now, he was not a German but an Austrian by birth. Not a "gentleman," in the sense of the word known in Germany, he was son of a middle class civil servant and his mother was said to be a Slovak, although this was not openly admitted. A man of scanty education, he had ever distrusted trades unionism and socialism. He had come, while living in Vienna, to hate cosmopolitan life and had intense hatred for Jews. He had left Austria for Germany and served in the army of the latter country. Quite by accident, he had found himself to be possessed of an extraordinary power of oratory with a tremendous hypnotic influence. He had promised wealth and opportunity and had fostered hatred of the Treaty of Versailles. His doctrine was one of racial consciousness and not of rational appeal. Only pure Aryans should rule Germany, he contended. His idea was to bring all pure Germans together as one great power, absorbing neighboring Aryan states such as the Ukraine in Russia, Austria and German Czecho-Slovakia. A strong unsheathed sword was the keynote of his policy. He did not believe in international co-operation and had withdrawn from the disarmament conference and the League of Nations.

Events of Hitler Regime
Events of the Hitler regime were sketched by the speaker. In the blood purge of June 30, 1934, the left wing of the Nazi party had been rounded up, von Schleicher being among those to lose their lives. The murder of Engelbert Dollfuss, the Chancellor of Austria, who had fought against absorption by Germany, had been engineered by German Nazis. An intensive program of re-arming had been embarked upon. Boys who were born in 1914 were now being trained for another Great War. However, an axiom of Hitler's was that Germany should not embark upon a war until it was sure of its allies. Separate treaties between Britain and Germany, such as that on naval strength, Dr. Soward suggested, had been but an effort on Britain's

BASKETBALL DREW MANY

Large Crowd Sees Opening of Second Half—Lambie & Stone Beat Moose

Before a capacity house, Lambie & Stone, senior hoopsters, started off the second half of the season by defeating the Moose Lodge eagers 50 to 35 last night. The game was one-sided but the fans were treated to one of the greatest displays of basketball seen this season with the Clothiers doing the displaying. They were sinking them from most any place on the floor. It was hard to realize that the first half champs were the ones that were playing last night. In the first period they were completely out of the picture as they only scored 13 while Lambie & Stone ran up 35 points.

It was in the second half that the Moose started to score a few but the Ready-to-Wear merchants had too big a lead for the fraternal squad to overcome. It might have been that they were without the services of Sonny Stiles but then no team could have touched the Clothiers. Final score was 50 to 35. Brick Skinner turned in a fair game on the whistle.

Intermediate League

The mighty Canadian Legion machine ran through the High School in the Intermediate League to win as they pleased 35 to 13. The forward line of the Canadian Legion was good to watch. The Students were also fighting all the way after half time when the score was 17 to 5 in favor of the Vets.

The second half was the same as the first with the Vets doubling their half time score as the Students ran in another eight points.

Ladies' League

The Grotettes spared a lucky win over Annettes in the Ladies' League game, 6 to 5. At half time the score was 4-2 in favor of the Grotettes. With two minutes to go in the last quarter, Enyd Morris sank a penalty to tie up the game, but Lefty Beale of the Grotto scored another penalty shot with 45 seconds to go to win the game.

Junior League

The Junior League curtain raiser between the Boy Scouts and Scythians was a ragged uninteresting game. Half time score was 11 to 2 in favor of the Scouts who won 21-8 as the Scythians spent more time tripping and holding than playing basketball.

Individual scoring:

part to limit Germany's re-arming. However, there had been no success in an air treaty, Hitler insisting on air supremacy.

No nation in Europe could forget the enormous power of the German Army during the Great War and the capacity of the German people to support it. Today saw practically all the other powers of Europe forming alliances in fear of another German drive. To meet these alliances, Germany had so far, apparently, done little except for the alliance with Poland. Now, it was believed that Germany was attempting to ally herself with Hungary. The latest rumor, and one that seemed to be quite reasonable in view of their mutual hatred of Russia at whose expense both sought to expand was that Germany was angling for an alliance with Japan.

Real Disturbing Element
Germany was, indeed, a disturbing element in Europe today. She appeared to be heading towards a great conflict although, of course, there was still a chance that something might be done internationally to head this off before the country considered itself in a position to effectively take up arms again.

The meeting was presided over by Lee Gordon, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who, at the conclusion of the address, tendered Dr. Soward a hearty vote of thanks which was concurred in by the audience with enthusiastic applause.

Dr. Soward was introduced by City Commissioner W. J. Alder.

It was announced that Dr. Harry Warren, professor of geology at the University of British Columbia, would be here on February 26 and 27 to give lectures, on geological subjects, the first on the topic "Mining and the World Crisis" and the second on "Mining and the Search for Gold."

Story of the Mines Reads Like A Tale From Fairyland, Says Mandy In Address Before Rotary Club

Prince Rupert people should know their own city and its potentialities and, in order to do that, it is necessary to extend the vision beyond the immediate boundaries of the city to the extensive mining developments going on in almost all directions. It is an inspiring picture of a northern empire, practically in the front garden of the city. That is the way it was put to the members of the Rotary Club and visitors at the luncheon meeting yesterday afternoon at the Commodore Cafe by Dr. J. T. Mandy, district mining engineer, who spoke enthusiastically of the mineral wealth of the northern section of the country and showed pictures illustrating its wonderful scenic possibilities.

Stewardship Of Christians Was Subject of Talk

The Pentecostal Assembly Hall was well filled for last night's meeting in the Universal Week of Prayer which was led by Pastor E. J. North. After the opening hymn, there was prayer by Very Rev. James B. Gibson, dean of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral. Rev. Canon W. F. Rushbrook, rector of St. Peter's Anglican Church, who was the speaker of the evening, read from the third chapter of First Corinthians as the Scripture portion and then offered prayer.

Canon Rushbrook's topic was "Obedience and Service" and he based his thoughts on the first two verses of the fourth chapter of First Corinthians. Prefacing his address with a few general remarks, he informed his audience that this was the nineteenth birthday of the Week of Prayer. The movement had spread until it was now international. Protestant churches the world over uniting in its observance.

The Canon gave a helpful and forceful talk on the stewards' obedience to God and service to mankind. Christian responsibility excluded no one. Christian stewards must guard carefully the divine property which had been put in their charge. The right of Christians to know the precious mysteries of God was enlarged upon. "To forget we are Christians," declared the speaker, "means failure and defeat."

Passing reference was made to the sufferings of the early Christians. Canon Rushbrook stressed the fact that never was there a time in the history when it was more necessary than at present to be loyal to Christ. Professing Christians, with keen, brilliant and clever minds, were solving material problems with intensity and enthusiasm but were lax in the things that really count. With much earnestness, the Canon urged faithfulness in Christian stewardship.

There was a session of voluntary prayer followed by the closing hymn and the benediction by Rev. Dr. F. W. Dafoe, pastor of First Baptist Church. Miss Ruth Scherk was pianist.

Topnight's meeting will take place at First Baptist Church with Adjutant Eva Laycock, Salvation Army, as the speaker on "Dedication." There is also to be a meeting at St. Peter's Anglican Church with Rev. E. J. North of the Pentecostal Assembly as speaker.

Ernest Wilding has returned to the city from a vacation trip to Vancouver and Edmonton.
