Through Trains Expected to Be Running Monday—Some Details of Trouble

Owing to trouble with the Salvus bridge, there will be no through trains over the local line of the Canadian National Railways before next Monday evening. However, traffic is being maintained to some extent by means of running stub trains between Prince Rupert and Salvus and transferring passengers and mail. A stub train will leave at 5 o'clock tonight for Kwiltsa and will bring in passengers and mail from the train which would ordinarily have arrived here from the east at 10:20 tonight. The equipment of the regular train will be taken back to Pacific and will wait there until it is possible to cross the Salvus bridge and come on here. The present expectation is that the regular train for the east will leave Monday evening.

The stub train, which went out at noon yesterday to meet the regular train at Salvus and effect a transfer of passengers and mail, arrived here at 9:15 last evening. The Salvus bridge, which is giving principal trouble as a result of present high water conditions, is the same one which had to be rebuilt after the floods of early last summer. Driftwood coming down the river at that point has broken the piles, necessitating the replacement of at least eighty-five. This repair work is now being proceeded with as rapidly as possible.

Cause of Flood
W. H. Tobey, superintendent, who returned last evening after a trip over the line as far as Prince George, states that the cause of the floods is excessively high water coming from the headwaters of both Skeena and Bulkley Rivers. The Telkwa River this week took out the westerly approach of the highway bridge across the Telkwa River near Telkwa. For a while last Wednesday morning there was water over the railway tracks at Tatlow between Smithers and Telkwa.

MRS. MANDY IS HONORED

Children's Story Hour Commemorates Third Anniversary

At the conclusion on Friday night of the initial series of classes in story telling which have been conducted by Mrs. J. T. Mandy in Toc H rooms appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Mandy by the staff of the Story Hour. This took the form of a presentation to Mrs. Mandy of a beautiful silver rose basket and bouquet of pink carnations together with an appropriate birthday card and pink cake illuminated by three candles.

Mrs. Mandy, completely taken by surprise, voiced appreciation of the sentiments prompting the gift and stressed the pleasure and inspiration she had received from the encouraging support and interest in the project of the Story Hour from the staff.

In response to an unanimous request from the staff it was announced that classes in story telling would be continued after the New Year, the first of this series meeting on January 18 and on the first and third Mondays of subsequent months.

After a lecture on theory, an impromptu exercise in serial story telling and the presentation an instructive and inspiring evening was brought to a close by the serving of delicious refreshments to the Story Hour staff and guests.

The first Story Hour of the season was held this morning in Toc H Rooms when the new feature of request stories was taken up. Taking part in the program were Mrs. W. D. Grant Hollingworth and Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Mandy. Attendance prizes were presented to Howard Melo and Margaret Sullivan.

Mrs. William Jones called this afternoon on the Cardena for a trip to Vancouver.

GRUESOME EXECUTION

Bungling at Prince Edward Island Gallows Prolonged Life Of Convicted Seaman

CHARLOTTETOWN, Nov. 21: (CP)—Whenever famous, murder trials are discussed in Prince Edward Island, older folk tell the story of the gruesome hanging of George Dowe, Montreal sailor, who three times fell from the scaffold before he was pronounced dead.

It was perhaps the most notable murder trial and execution the island province had ever witnessed.

Dowe, a married man, was enamoured by the attractive Flora McQuarrie, a resident of Charlottetown. He visited her one evening after drinking with other sailors in port. Dowe got into an altercation with John Cullen, and during a scuffle, Cullen was mortally wounded. The Montreal seaman was tried for murder and convicted.

Here we pick up the story from the files of a Charlottetown paper in the middle 70's. "On Tuesday last, George Dowe, who was convicted at the last Hilary term of the Supreme Court, of the murder of John Cullen, suffered the supreme penalty of the law."

"On Monday he commenced writing a history of his life, which he completed on the morning of his death. He arranged all his worldly affairs with the most minute attention to details. He packed up his clothes and put them and the balance of his wages carefully by in his trunk for his wife and mother, to each of whom he wrote an affectionate farewell letter."

His Last Moments

The newspaper describes his last moments with Charlottetown ministers. He emerged bareheaded from his cell and mounted the scaffold.

"Seated on a chair, he began at once to read the history of his life, which he did in a clear and unflinching tone, until he came to speak of his mother, when a slight tremor in his voice was perceptible. No man on the scaffold was more tranquil and self-possessed than the prisoner."

After praying aloud, he bade farewell to the ministers, the sheriff, prison doctor, jailor, the hangman (who was masked) and waved to the 1,500 persons present.

"When the noose was adjusted, the unfortunate man stepped smartly forward to the drop. The bolt was withdrawn but the rope breaking, he fell to the ground, a distance of 15 feet. He was picked up immediately and carried back to jail, where he remained for an hour, while a new rope was being procured. During the interval, though he suffered great pain, he uttered not a whisper of complaint, but devoted himself wholly to prayer and praise to God."

He believed at first that the requirements of the law had been complied with and exclaimed that he had been saved by the interposition of Providence.

"When carried out again to the scaffold, he never murmured or rejoined. And now another mishap occurred. The cleat to which the end of the rope was fastened gave way and the prisoner, who was almost unconscious, a second time reached the ground from which he had to be drawn up by the executioner and his assistants. He died without a struggle, his hands clasped in front of his body, and his wife and mother's photograph pinned to his breast. When life was pronounced extinct, he was cut down, put into a coffin and placed in his cell."

Nazi Statesman Says They Might Unite In War Against Russia

No Hard and Fast Accord But Certainly They Would Co-operate—Moscow is Refusing to Sign Fisheries Agreement

BERLIN, Nov. 21: (CP)—Japan and Germany have much in common in their governmental ideas, a high government spokesman acknowledged today. He denied, however, that there is a "hard and fast alliance between the two." "It is quite conceivable that Germany and Japan, opposed as both are to Bolshevism, may in given situations decide to proceed jointly," the spokesman added. "It is also possible if either become involved in a war with Soviet Russia the other would exercise at least a benevolent neutrality."

Official sources described themselves as frankly puzzled and worried over persistent reports from Russia of a German-Japanese pact aimed at Russia.

Russia Not Signing
MOSCOW, Nov. 21: (CP)—The Soviet foreign office advised the Japanese embassy tonight that it would not sign the new Soviet-Japanese fishing agreement recently concluded here. This is taken as an indication of strained relations between the two countries.

M'LARNIN IS WINNER
Defeated Lou Ambers by Good Margin of Points in Fight Last Night

NEW YORK, Nov. 21: (CP)—Jimmy McLarnin, 144½ pounds, scored a ten round decision over Lou Ambers, 136½, lightweight champion, before 10,229 fans last night.

McLarnin was credited with six rounds and Ambers with two, the other two being even. There were no knock-downs. Ambers' title was not at stake but the winner is to be matched with Barney Ross, welterweight champion.

Banquet For Norwegians

Anniversary Celebrated Last Night With About One Hundred And Fifty in Attendance

The sixth anniversary banquet of the Sons of Norway held last evening in the Oddfellows' Hall proved a great success. About 150 people were present and considerable enthusiasm was shown. One of the features was the first appearance in Prince Rupert of a new vocalist in the person of Mrs. G. Olsen of Digby Island who made a favorable impression.

The banquet was followed by a dance to the pleasing strains of Dave Hadland's Orchestra. This was kept up until 3 a.m. There was a business session in the early part of the evening.

Those in charge of the affair were Mrs. Tillie Garies, Miss Margaret Reinsvold, Miss Hansina Fredheim, Miss Lillian Ytreberg, Miss Inger Murvold, Miss Doris Carlson, Mrs. Lelsvik and Mrs. Hans Underdahl.

The program was as follows: "O Canada." Address of welcome by Gunnar Selvig.

Piano solo by Peter Lien. Vocal solo, Mrs. A. Dybhavn. Reading, Ole Skog. Song, Ray Fossum, accompanied by D. Hadland.

Violin solo, D. Hadland, accompanied by R. Fossum. Song, Mrs. G. Olsen, accompanied by Peter Lien and Dave Hadland.

STUBBORN DEFENCE IS RISING FROM FIRE

Madrid Defenders Claim Victory Over Fascists—Non-Combatants Urged to Evacuate

MADRID, Nov. 21: (CP)—Madrid's gunners rolled their batteries up to University City and began a heavy short range bombardment today of the position held by Fascist invaders. They announced the recapture of the National Institute of Biology to the northeast.

The sinking is reported of a Spanish merchantman off Palamos by Fascist cruisers.

Pressed by increasing food shortage, the government has offered free transportation for the evacuation of women, children and elderly men.

General Mose Mija, defence chief, said that loyalists were maneuvering to crush the foe in a single, decisive battle.

BOUNTY'S PROGENY

Scientists Cite Pitcairn Island People as Examples Of In-Breeding

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21: (AP)—The men of H. M. S. Bounty who mutinied in 1789 and established a colony in 1790 on lonely Pitcairn Island in the South Pacific have provided new scientific evidence that close in-breeding does not necessarily cause a decline in physical and mental vigor of offspring.

Dr. Harry L. Shapiro, biologist, who made an intensive study of the island and its inhabitants, has completed a book on his findings which tends to disprove the popular idea that cousin marriages are biologically harmful.

Accurate and complete records of marriages, births and deaths have been kept by the islanders almost from the day when Christian, Young, Mills, McCoy, Quintal and Adams and the nine Polynesian women who went with them from Tahiti, landed on Pitcairn, Dr. Shapiro declared.

The result is the most extensive record of a human experiment in cross mating between two races and the resulting close in-breeding through six generations which has ever been compiled, according to geneticists of the United States Department of Agriculture who reviewed the material.

Despite the restricted ancestry, with frequent cousin, nephew-aunt, and niece-uncle marriages "the islanders are robust and healthy," he declared. "Their medical record is good, with no evidence of degenerative diseases peculiar to them. Abnormalities of physical structure are practically non-existent on Pitcairn."

While a decline in the birthrate in recent years might plausibly be attributed to the close in-breeding, "other causes might more plausibly be evoked to explain it," he added.

In contradiction of popular ideas, the in-breeding forced on the islanders by circumstance actually resulted in a surprising reproductive vigor. By 1934 the six mutineers who lived long enough to have children had a living progeny exceeding 800 on Pitcairn and Norfolk Island and an additional 200 who have wandered away. Dr. Shapiro pointed out, terming the increase "a prodigious spectacle of human breeding."

Pitcairn is in mid-South Pacific, 3,775 miles southwest of Hawaii. The nearest island is Tahiti, 1,400 miles west of north.

IS RISING FROM FIRE

A. E. Windle, Atlin Newspaperman, Going South For New Plant—Open Fall in North

Bound for Vancouver where he will purchase a new printing plant to replace one which was recently destroyed by fire, A. E. Windle, publisher of the Atlin Nugget at Atlin, was a passenger going south aboard the Princess Norah yesterday afternoon. Mr. Windle was formerly located at Burns Lake where for a time he published the Burns Lake Independent. He was also C. C. F. candidate for Omineca in the last general provincial election.

Mr. Windle lost his entire newspaper plant in the recent fire at Atlin and was himself scorched. The blaze started when a lamp overturned.

Despite the approach of winter, Mr. Windle reports general conditions flourishing in Atlin with the people, as usual, optimistic for the future. Larger mining operations than ever are anticipated next year.

This has been an exceptionally open fall at Atlin, Mr. Windle says. Whereas ice usually starts forming on the lakes of that district about the third week in October, it is now the third week in November and still there is no sign of ice. The weather has been exceptionally mild and the miners have been able to stay on the creeks much longer than usual. The result is that people who would ordinarily have gone outside for the winter long before this are still there. The steamship services closed as usual towards the end of October and, consequently, those coming outside have had to take to the air. Commercial aircraft, as a result, have been having a very busy time.

There is much activity in ship-building at Whitehorse this fall and it will continue into the spring, says Mr. Windle. A new hull has been completed to replace the steamer Klondyke which sank last spring and early in the year a new vessel will be built to replace the steamer Casca, also lost last spring. Engines and machinery of the two sunken vessels were salvaged and will be used in the new boats.

HIS PLANS UNDECIDED

D. G. Stewart and Alex Finnie To Retire From Active Business After Selling Out

D. G. Stewart, founder in 1908 of the Stewart & Mobley wholesale grocery business which has sold out to Kelly-Douglas Co., announces that he will retire but, apart from that, his plans for the future have not been decided upon.

Alex Finnie, other member of the firm, will also retire from active business after the completion of the turning over of the Stewart & Mobley interests.

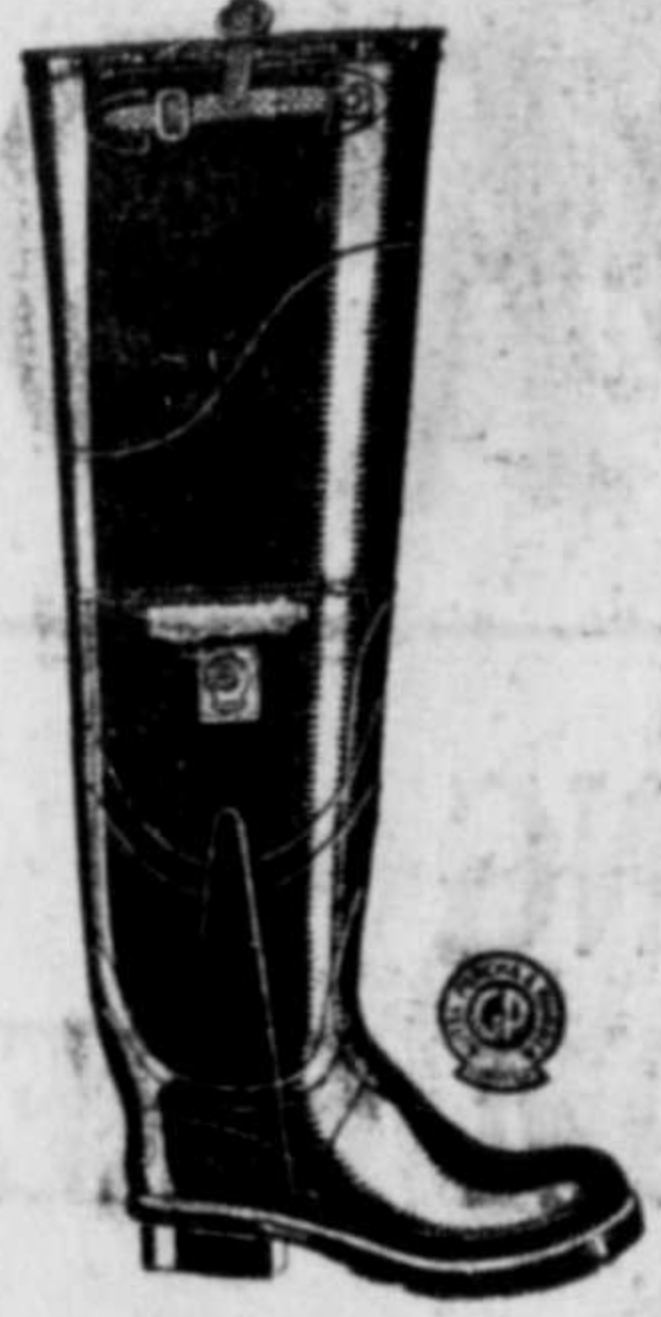

Others interested in the business are the estates of the late Frank M. Mobley and John L. Mitchell who were partners in the business.

Who will be the manager of Kelly-Douglas here is not known. It is understood, however, that as many of the members of the staff of Stewart & Mobley as possible will be absorbed. Officials of the purchasing company are expected shortly from Vancouver to take over.

Mrs. George Alger and child of Usk arrived in the city from the interior on last night's train and sailed this morning on the Princess Adelaide for a trip to Vancouver.

Social Credit Weakening

Judging by the election returns in Calgary it seems as if Social Credit may be weakening. Also there is an organized opposition being formed in the various centres of the province which may be effective in bringing about a change in that province. The longer the delay in putting his theories into practice the less likely is Premier Aberhart to succeed.

We have felt all along that Aberhart should be given every opportunity to test his theories and see if they are workable in Alberta. He had splendid support from the people there and the Ottawa government has done nothing so far to interfere, even though they might have felt it their duty to do so.

Naturally British Columbia people are watching the movement closely and success there would have an effect in advancing the cause here. Excuses why it did not succeed will be of no value.

We still wish Mr. Aberhart well in his effort but we fear for the result. Candidly we are not expecting to see him win out now that he has taken so long in his preliminary measures. It looks to us as if he did not know what he wanted to do when he started and his failure to secure the aid of Major Douglas in working out a practical scheme was a body blow he did not expect. At any rate we are still watching and hope he will be given the opportunity to make good if he can. It is Alberta's problem, not ours.

Thank You, Mr. Asselstine

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, member for Prince Rupert, gives credit to W. J. Asselstine, member for Atlin, for having secured the vote of $25,000 for an ore sampling mill at Prince Rupert to serve not only his district but also the points along the railway where mining is carried on. It would serve the Portland Canal area, Queen Charlottes, Porcher Island and also the interior and it has been generally recognized that Prince Rupert would be the proper location for it.

For many years the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce had asked for such a sampling mill. Its advantages had been pointed out to the successive governments but it remained for a member who knew about mining and who represented a mining constituency to finally close the deal with the government and bring the plan to fruition. The people of the surrounding mining areas will be particularly pleased to hear of this excellent move.

SKI CLUB ORGANIZES

Smithers Has Complete New Set Of Officers This Winter

SMITHERS, Nov. 21.—The Smithers Ski Club got away on its 1936-37 season when it held its annual meeting in the Municipal Hall on Monday evening for the purpose of electing officers and planning the winter's campaign.

A complete change of officers took place and L. Fraser found himself the new president succeeding A. G. Bowie. The office of secretary will be filled by Miss Irene McIntyre while H. G. Windt will handle the finances of the Club as treasurer.

Gunnar Lindquist is club captain, succeeding Smithers' ace jumper, Chris Dahlie. With all new officers taking a great interest in the sport, the retiring officers felt that this was the procedure required to keep up the enthusiasm in the work.

During their term of office the retiring officers had done an immense amount of hard work, having established a Station hill and laid out and cut trails and routes for skiing throughout the valley. They were unfortunately with the weather, however, and found it necessary to postpone the big jump as there was a big blizzard on the day that the tournament was scheduled to take place and this prohibited the carrying out of that event.

It is expected that this winter will show the same enthusiasm among skiers as has been evidenced from the start of this sport in Smithers three years ago.

New Check Room At Capitol Theatre

Owing to the fact that a number of overcoats have been stolen from the Capitol Theatre, the management announced last night that arrangements had been made for the establishment of a check room on the right hand side entering the building. Those not wishing to check their coats and hats can use the cloak room on the left entering the theatre.

The theatre will make no revenue from the check room but has arranged it purely for the protection of the patrons.

Hobby Show By Trail Rangers

Large Gathering of Friends and Parents at Novel Affair

A large gathering of friends and parents of the Hawks' Trail Rangers met last evening in First United Church to witness the boys' first efforts in the form of a hobby show. The exhibits were many and varied and were greatly appreciated as some of them were very interesting to both young and old. The electrical corner held much attention showing a number of appliances such as crystal sets, etc.

Another corner held an array of railway equipment, electric and otherwise, which attracted an audience of young people.

During the course of the evening moving pictures were shown of local scenes and a musical program, included piano solos by Allan Large and Edward Dawes; mouth organ selections by David Jones; violin solo by Elmore Hankinson, accompanied by Miss Nellie Lawrence.

The guests left at the end of the show with a little more knowledge and happier hearts than they had when they came.

As the show was a profitable success the boys intend to have another gala affair in the coming new year.

"Aspirin" tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

At the same time, if you have a sore throat, crush and dissolve three "Aspirin" tablets in one-third glass of water. And gargle with this mixture twice.

The "Aspirin" you take internally will act to combat fever, colds and the cold itself. The gargle will act as a medicinal gargle to provide almost instant relief from soreness and pain. It is really marvelous for it acts like a local anesthetic on the irritated membrane of your throat.

A REQUEST

Editor, Daily News:

To the boys who have destroyed our shack. How much pleasure did you get? Perhaps five minutes fun after we four boys had been working hard for weeks, under great difficulties, saving our pennies to buy nails, etc., the scouting around for pieces of wood, has taken all our play time.

When nearly completed what did you do, on Thursday night, 19th, you pulled it down.

Boys, we will build another playhouse, play the game and be sports, and let us enjoy our simple fun.

How Many Pennies Your Child's Life?

Don't Try to "Save" on Home Remedies—Ask Your Doctor

There is one point, on which practically all doctors agree. That is: Don't give your child unknown remedies without asking your doctor first.

All mothers know this. But sometimes the instinct to save a few pennies by buying "something just as good" overcomes caution.

When it comes to the widely used children's remedy—"milk of magnesia"—many doctors for over half a century have said "PHILLIPS." For Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is the standard of the world. Safe for children.

Keep this in mind, and say "PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA" when you buy. Comes now, also in tablet form. Get the form you prefer. But see that what you get is labeled "Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia." 25¢ for a big box of the tablets at drug stores.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Framework For Addition to Cold Storage Plant Taking Shape—Fisheries Commission Sitting—Alaska Passenger Traffic

Framework of the new addition to the plant of the Northern Fishermen's Cold Storage Co. on the local waterfront is now beginning to take shape. Following completion of the excavation and concrete foundations, heavy timbers of the superstructure are now being erected. Work is going ahead steadily and the new unit, situated just across the road from the main plant and adjoining the railway track, will be ready for use by the opening of the new fishing season.

Lateness of last night's train in arriving caused further postponement from last evening until this afternoon of the public hearing of the International Fisheries Commission. Members of the commission arrived in the city on the train. Conferences are also being held by the commissioners while here with various branches of the industry to hear their views on problems affecting the halibut fishery.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, which was in port yesterday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, was crowded to capacity with no less than 215 passengers. The list included a number of White Pass & Yukon Route employees going south for the winter but the majority of the passengers were Alaskans who were unable to go south on the American ships owing to the maritime workers' strike. Fifteen persons disembarked from the Princess Norah here including some who continued south on the Princess Adelaide this morning.

After making a special run overnight to Ketchikan to pick up some one hundred passengers for Seattle, C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. Henry Anderson, returned here at 9 o'clock this morning and sailed later for Vancouver and waypoints.

Making a special voyage north to handle passenger traffic arising at Alaska points owing to the continued maritime workers' strike which is tying up American steamship services, C. P. R. steamer Princess Louise is due here next Wednesday morning from Vancouver enroute to Skagway.
