Huge Iceberg Endangers Shipping in North Atlantic

The iceberg season on the North Atlantic is starting much earlier than usual this year. Reports from Cape Race, Nfld., state that a huge 'berg, 700 feet long and 200 feet high, was sighted by the Swedish motorship Sorvard. Such an iceberg must be of tremendous proportions when it is recalled that only about one-ni 1th appears above the surface of the water. Icebergs constitute a grave source of peril to Atlantic shipping, and by international ag eement, the North Atlantic is patrolled by special lookout sh.ps to guard shipping lanes. Above shows two smaller icebergs in

SMITHERS ELECTION

Evidently the people of Smithers have been taking their civic politics quite seriously and have turned out in larger numbers than ever before to vote for their favorite candidates. L. H. Kenney, who headed the poll, is well known in Prince Rupert and the other two members of the new council are businessmen with a reputation. We hope they will have a successful year and that Smithers will make progress during their term of office.

THE KING'S POSITION

There are disadvantages in being a king. For instance, he is supposed to wed a princess of the royal blood and L. Arrol. there are only a very few eligible. The result may be that McLachlan he will not marry or that the British constitution may be Geo. Johnson changed to allow him to choose a commoner or some other D. Burnett than a princess. Some people have hoped that he would Clausen choose an American girl and that Parliament would le- Totals galize the match. Mother of Many at 101 Tells Of Early Life in Ontario Town

MILTON, Ont., Feb. 4: (CP)-One of the grand old mothers of Halton County, Mrs. Thomas (Elizabeth Menary) McDowell of this town, is preparing to celebrate her 101st birthday tomorrow. Among the county centenarians, Mrs. McDowell shares honors with Mrs. Miranda W. Hillyard of Oakville, who was 105 November 26, 1935.

"I've always worked hard," Mrs. McDowell offers as her recipe for 100 years of abundant and healthy life. "I'm a good cook," she added with pardonable pride as she helped make the cakes last Christmas. She has four children, 25 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren; has her own house in Milton but spends the winters with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur D. Bradt of Hamilton.

Oldest ratepayer in Milton, Mrs. McDowell remembers when, at the! age of seven, she arrived from Ireland in 1842. She attended the first school at Ligny, Ont., and at the school reunion last summer received a prize as the senior ex-pupil present. Mrs. McDowell was able to tell many of the old boys and girls a lot they didn't know about their ancestors. The original school of about 1830, she revealed was a log structure chinked with mud and rejoicing in a big open fireplace.

Mrs. McDowell has lived in the reign of five sovereigns, starting with William IV. She was confirmed by Bishop Strachan. Her father helped to build the first Church of England here (still used as a Sunday School) and she was the first married in it on December 26, 1855. Her first husband, Henry Farrell, died in 1860 and she married Thomas McDowell in 1862. Her two sons are Thomas McDowell of Calgary, and Robert of Victoria Harbor, Ont. and her daughters, Mrs. Hugh Ross 7 p.m of Port Stanley, Ont., and Mrs.
