GRAIN PROBE SCOPE WILL BE SEARCHING; EMBRACES ALL ASPECTS OF TRADING

WINNIPEG, Dec. 3: (CP)—Opinions on various modes of marketing Canada's grain—open competition, pooling and through a wheat board—are expected to be submitted to the Turgeon Royal Commission investigating the trade which has opened at Winnipeg and will travel to other western points. Open competition for the farmer's grain has been offered on the grain exchange since its founding in 1887 and co-operative, producer-owned grain companies and pools have found birth in farm movements. Grain boards have been tried out in various forms.

WEATHER IS MILD

Canada's first experience with a grain board came in 1916—during the great war—when the Board of Grain Supervisors was appointed to handle the Dominion's crops and the Winnipeg Grain Exchange closed. The price of wheat was fixed at $2.21 and $2.24 a bushel, basis No. 1 northern Fort William for 1917 and 1918 respectively.

The Canadian Wheat Board came into existence with the marketing of the 1919 crop and its operations were guided by James Stewart and F. W. Riddell of Winnipeg as chairman and vice-chairman respectively. The wheat price was fixed at $2.63 a bushel basis No. 1 northern Fort William. The board was in control from August 16, 1919 until August 31, 1920, when trading in wheat futures was resumed on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

It was during these years, from 1919 until 1924, that the farm organizations raised their voice for appointment of a permanent wheat board and also in support of the wheat pools. Farm organizations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta led the campaigns and carried their case to the governments. The federal government in 1922 passed legislation providing for appointment of a wheat board but called upon Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta legislatures to pass enabling legislation and share the responsibility in the venture. Alberta and Saskatchewan passed legislation in 1922 but the Manitoba assembly, in 1923, defeated its bill 24 to 21 on second reading. The federal legislation provided for the establishment of a board if and when two of the three provinces passed the necessary legislation. Unable to find men to direct the board and with Manitoba talking, the board plan was abandoned by Saskatchewan and Alberta. The campaign for wheat pools gained momentum and the Alberta pool started operations in 1923 with Saskatchewan and Manitoba pools the next year.

Agitation of Board With the pools organized and operating, agitation for a Dominion wheat board faded for a while but never died away. When the pools faced financial difficulties in 1930, John I. McFarland of Calgary was called to become general manager of the pools and to act as government agent in federal price stabilization operations.

Appointment of a wheat board in 1935 by the federal government brought Mr. McFarland to the chairmanship. He directed the board's operations along with David L. Smith of Winnipeg and Prof. H. C. Grant of the Manitoba Agricultural College until December of the same year when the new federal government appointed a new board. James R. Murray of Winnipeg was chosen to head the new board and with him as members are George H. McIvor of Winnipeg and Dean A. M. Shaw of the faculty of agriculture at the University of Saskatchewan. When the board under Mr. McFarland was established it was authorized to purchase wheat from the producers at 87½¢ a bushel, basis No. 1 northern Fort William. The same purchasing policy was kept in effect under the board headed by Mr. Murray until last August. At that time the regulations were changed and the board is now purchasing wheat from producers. It is prepared to purchase from the producers at 87½¢ a bushel if and when the open market price goes as low as 90¢ a bushel. Because of the extensive discussion on the various forms of marketing, it was believed here many of the briefs to be submitted to the commission headed by Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon would express opinions on the benefits and disadvantages of the various systems.

Building operations have continued uninterrupted throughout the district. One great benefit that has accrued from this spell of mild weather is the saving of fuel bills, as there has been no greater consumption of fuel during the past month than there would be in September.

Weather Forecast (Furnished through the courtesy of the Dominion Meteorological Bureau at Victoria and Prince Rupert. This forecast is compiled from observations taken at 5 a.m. today and covers the 24-hour period ending 5 p.m. tomorrow.) Pressure is low on the mainland and showers have occurred on the coast. Prince Rupert District—Fresh north winds, becoming colder with scattered snow flurries. Queen Charlotte Islands—Fresh north winds, rather cold with a few scattered showers. West Coast of Vancouver Island—Moderate to fresh westerly winds, mostly fair and mild.

"Some Guarantee of World Peace" was the subject of Bishop G. A. Wells of Cariboo yesterday afternoon in an address before a largely attended gathering of the Women's Canadian Club at the Boston Hall. Miss Lillian Halliwell, the president, was in the chair. A vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker by Mrs. J. R. Morrison. Mrs. C. E. Cullin presided at the piano to accompany "O Canada" and "God Save the King."

LOG CAMPS CURTAILING

Usual Seasonal Close-down Over Christmas and New Year At Queen Charlotte Island

Queen Charlotte Island logging camps are now curtailing their operations for the winter as is usual at this time of the year. The T. A. Kelley Logging Co.'s camp at Atlin Inlet closed some time ago. Now the A. P. Allison camp at Cumsheva Inlet and the J. R. Morgan Logging Co. at Sedgewick Bay are closing down partially. A crew of some thirty-five men will be kept working at the Allison camp. It is expected, and ten or fifteen men will continue in employment at the Morgan camp. The camps are expected to resume full operations early next year.

STRONG AND UNITED BRITISH EMPIRE GREATEST GUARANTEE OF WORLD PEACE SAYS BISHOP

Scorns Canadians Who Would Shirk Imperial Responsibility and Shelter Behind United States—Importance Of King in British Solidarity

"I believe that the greatest stabilizing power and the best guarantee of world peace lies in a strong and united British Empire with every part assuming a reasonable share in preparation," declared Rt. Rev. G. A. Wells, D.D., Bishop of Cariboo, yesterday in delivering before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club one of the most stirring and inspiring addresses it has heard in considerable time. Bishop Wells spoke scornfully of those Canadians who suggested that Canada should detach itself from international complications in which Great Britain might become involved. He could not understand the viewpoint of the Canadian who would shelter behind the United States and the Monroe Doctrine. "If we are worth anything at all, we should carry our full burden in the British Empire," he declared. "We ought to make it known that anything which involves the British Isles at once involves Canada and that we are prepared to put up all our resources with the Mother Country to the end of preserving world peace. Bishop Wells went on to suggest that, as an alliance in the end of preserving world peace, Great Britain might have an arrangement with Germany and Japan together with the closest possible friendly relations with United States. Intense Nationalism The speaker, at the outset, dealt with the intense spirit of nationalism which had developed in the world during the past twenty years. This had been in spite of the fact that the hearts of the nations, immediately after the World War, had seemingly been intent on world friendliness and peace. Whatever people might think about dictatorships, it could not be denied that Mussolini, in raising Italy from a third class power to the forefront of the world's nations, had done more for his country than any one since Caesar. In a similar way, Hitler had done much for Germany. In countries which had professed to be the home of democracy, great autocracies were to be seen. From all this Bishop Wells deduced that the world was not yet ready for international peace without force of arms. The League of Nations was absolutely helpless unless it had the power to enforce the laws it made. He referred to

Customs Revenue This Year Ahead

Customs and excise collections at the port of Prince Rupert for the calendar year 1936 to date have totalled $210,909.59 as compared with $196,678.83 in the first 11 months of 1935. November collections, totalled $6,952.25, as against $6,045.89, showed the usual seasonal fall slump.

Monarch's Abdication Or Govt. Resignation Said to be Imminent

High Authority Says That Ruler Has Decided to Keep Both Throne and Mrs. Simpson—Will Not Surrender to Prime Minister

LONDON, Dec. 3: (CP)—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin declined today to explain the issue between King Edward and the cabinet. When questioned in the House of Commons this afternoon Mr. Baldwin said he considered it expedient that he should not be questioned at present. Meantime the country seethes with reports, one of the most persistent being that within forty-eight hours either the abdication of the King or the resignation of the cabinet may be expected. One of the highest sources in the Kingdom told the Associated Press today that the King has made up his mind to keep both his throne and his friendship for Mrs. Wallis Simpson. At Fort Belvedere with Mrs. Simpson and the Duke of York, King Edward let it be known that he will not surrender to Premier Baldwin, the Associated Press was told. The King would fight to a finish on the constitutional issue which has been raised by the Premier's insistence that he renounce his twice-divorced American friend. Persons who know the King expressed the opinion that even the possibility of abdication would not break up the friendship with Mrs. Simpson. Whatever the outcome of the issue, it was learned on excellent authority that Mrs. Simpson will probably leave England soon and seek seclusion on the continent or on an ocean voyage. It was stated last night that she planned leaving for France today and that the King might accompany her. No statement is obtainable from Mrs. Simpson herself. Mrs. Simpson's friends said that she was deeply concerned lest her friendship with the King affect adversely either his personal interests or the welfare of the British realm.

BUILDING PERMITS

Major Construction Projects Of Year Will be Recorded During Month of December

Permits covering the new Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve building, contract for which was recently let at a figure in the neighborhood of $8,000; the $10,000 addition to the plant of the Northern Fishermen's Cold Storage; the extensive new unit of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. and recently completed improvements at the fishermen's floats are expected to be taken out during the month of December and will bring the building list for 1936 in Prince Rupert to a figure very likely exceeding the 1935 total. In view of the fact that permits for none of these major building undertakings have yet been issued, the true building value for the year in Prince Rupert is not indicated by such permits as have so far been taken out. The permits taken out to date this year have aggregated $15,163 in comparison with $43,245 in the first eleven months of 1935. This November's permits amounted to only $275 as against $3305 in the same month last year.

Larger Lumber Cut

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Dec. 3: (CP)—Lumber operators estimate the cut in Saint John County this winter will be 25,000,000 feet, almost double the amount cut during winter months of recent years. About 1,500 men will be employed in the woods and mills.

on the relation of the King to his ministers and his readiness to be guided. The Guardian, like the other papers, was obviously commenting on the constitutional issue believed to have been raised in some quarters from the King's friendship with Mrs. Simpson. Yesterday was the first time that London newspapers had alluded to the King in reference to Mrs. Simpson. Premier Baldwin and Sir John Simon are the two ministers directly concerned and both are said to frown upon such a match. It was reported that Premier Baldwin had given the King forty-eight hours to declare himself in regard to the American divorcee.

The Manchester Guardian said editorially: "One cannot think that our King, mindful as he is of the nationally beloved example set by his father, would seek in any way to disturb relations between the monarch and his ministers as they existed during the twenty-five years of the last reign." There was reason to believe that a hastily summoned cabinet meeting on Friday concerned the domestic problem involving an important constitutional issue bearing

Next Provincial Election

There is considerable speculation among politicians as to when the next provincial election will take place. The average person does not care when it takes place or if ever it takes place as long as he does not have to pay more taxes and as long as there is employment for everyone willing and able to work.

It is curious to read the southern newspapers. If Premier Pattullo goes to Ottawa it is to secure money for the election or in some way to prepare for the election. When Hon. John Hart goes to New York, it has political significance in connection with the election. Government leaders cannot take a holiday because they would be taking a rest preparatory to the big election fight. There is never a suggestion that the government leaders might be working in the interests of the province as a whole. How could they? There is an election in sight within the next two years.

Members of the Legislature well know the object of Premier Pattullo's visit to Ottawa. He told them all about it in that quiet talk he gave them at the close of the session. He is there to urge a line of federal policy which will be just to British Columbia and beneficial to the whole of Canada. Such a policy would of course be good election material but the election has nothing to do with the visit or with the object of the visit. Premier Pattullo would be working for British Columbia just the same if there were no election within forty years.

No Reason For Election

Just now there is no good reason why there should be a provincial election. The affairs of the province are being administered without friction, conditions are improving, work and wages are being provided for most of the people and the remaining fraction will soon be working too, if it wishes. At the present rate of progress there should be no unemployed next summer. Industries are flourishing to a greater extent than ever in the past. Steps are being taken to meet the demands for better roads. Under these conditions governments are usually returned to power, so opposition groups are not clamoring for an appeal to the people. They wish to become better organized and would like to find some better reason for asking the public to intervene and stop the progress movement. The spirit of content is more manifest in British Columbia today than it has been in many years.

green, the cross of St. George, a Maple Leaf and the Union Jack in a corner.

A common language was another great bond and, in speaking of languages, Bishop Wells suggested the possibility of nations on some occasions being unable to understand each other because of different languages.

A common respect for religion was another factor in binding the British Empire together. Religion the Bishop considered an all-important element in human society. Only through the teachings of Jesus Christ could world peace be brought about, he believed. The unselfishness service of the church he commended to his listeners as a means by which the power of such an organization as the Gyro Club might be increased ten-fold.

The luncheon was presided over by Dr. R. G. Large, president, who extended to Bishop Wells a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the club. Guests, besides the speaker, were Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix, Bishop of Caledonia; Very Rev. James B. Gibson, dean of St. Andrew's Cathedral; Norman A. Watt, F. A. MacCallum and George Dibb.

Charles Graham, inspector of mines, sailed yesterday afternoon on the Prince Rupert for a trip to Stewart district on official duties.

Left $50,000,000 But Made No Will

Linoleum Magnate Depended On English Surrogate Law to Divide His Estate

LONDON, Dec. 3: (CP)—The largest fortune ever left in Britain with no will to decide its disposition, has been recorded at Somerset House, when it was announced that the estate of the late Lord Ashton had been re-estimated at approximately $50,000,000.

Lord Ashton died in 1930, aged 87. As James Williamson, he inherited a linoleum business at Lancaster from his father. He developed it enormously. Married three times, he left two daughters but no son. Countess Fell, a surviving daughter, still takes a keen personal interest in the linoleum company.

Under English law when a man dies, leaving estate in excess of $5,000, without making a will, the widow receives $5,000 free of duty and the personal effects, and a life interest in one-half of the remainder of the estate, says the News-Chronicle. The children, if of age, take the other half absolutely and at the death of the widow the latter's half reverts. Where there are no children the remainder of the residuary estate is held on trust for the widow for life.

Kept in Bed By Backache

Now—Thanks to Kruschen—Not A Trace of Pain

This woman's life was made a misery by the pains of backache. Then her father, who had proved the value of Kruschen himself, advised her to try it. She did, and here is her grateful letter:—

"For years I have been suffering with pains in the back. At times I had to stay in bed for days, I could not walk, or even stand. My father was using Kruschen Salts for the same thing. He, too, used to suffer badly, and Kruschen relieved him. He advised me to try it. I did so, and did not get a pain for three years. I then neglected my daily dose for about six months, and two months ago the pain returned. I tried another remedy—it failed, so I again started Kruschen. Now I have not a trace of pain, thanks to Kruschen."—(Mrs.) H.R.

Pains in the back are usually due to impurities in the blood—waste products which the internal organs are failing to expel from the system. The numerous salts in Kruschen assist in stimulating these organs to healthy, normal activity, and so help them to keep the system free from harmful waste matter.

Lecture Given By Mrs. Mandy

Interesting and Educational Discourse at First Presbyterian Church

Under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of First Presbyterian Church a highly interesting and educational lecture was given by Mrs. J. T. Mandy in the Church Hall last evening. The subject matter, "Nine Thousand Miles and Back," a descriptive account of a trip made by Dr. Mandy and herself through the United States which was handled in Mrs. Mandy's usual very effective manner. Her word pictures of the many places visited, more especially of the Grand Canyon and the Painted Desert, were exceptionally realistic. The audience was made to realize from the illustrations given that there were vast possibilities which could be developed at our own door. Particularly of note was that wherever they went, they found the people of the United States Alaska conscious and one of their special beliefs that British Columbia was part of Alaska. This was purely due to advertising as not only did Alaska advertise herself bit Canada, through the medium of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway also advertised Canada throughout the United States.

Other items on the program were songs by Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby and J. A. Teng and a piano-forte selection by Mrs. J. C. Gilker. Mrs. E. J. Smith was accompanist.

CRIME IN TOYLAND

Justice Agents Taking Stock Of Santa's Prospects in Gotham Shops

NEW YORK, Dec. 3: (AP)—Uncle Sam's Justice Department is keeping an eye on Santa Claus these days. G-Men are taking no chances on his smuggling a crime wave into toyland in his Christmas pack.

They were particularly suspicious of the newest thing in toy typewriters. These machines, part of the annual display of the toy manufacturers of the United States had to be registered with the Federal Government before they could be offered for sale it was disclosed.

There was ample ground for the precaution, for a toy typewriter was once used to type a kidnap extortion note. In that case, police were baffled because they could not recognize the make of typewriter although they had records of the type faces of all known machines.

Since then the type face of new toy machines has been added to the Justice Department files. Right behind the G-Men on Santa's trail were the Secret Service.

Toy money, used in toy cash registers which really ring up change, must meet the specifications of the Treasury Department. Coins that look too much like the real thing might be used by counterfeiters.

Toyland may thus appear plagued with embryonic public enemies, but as a matter of fact crime detection is a more popular subject for toys than is crime.

The manufacturers' Christmas display included fingerprinting sets, handcuffs, "G-Men" suits, pint-size patrol cars complete with siren and clanging bell, and games in which the agent always gets his man.

TRURO, N.S., Dec. 3: (CP)—The Truro Daily News vouches for this one. Part of an obituary received there read: "He had no enemies. He was never married."

SPORT CHAT

A verdict of "accidental death" was returned by a coroner's jury investigating the death at Kibworth, England, in a motor accident, August 25, of R. P. Northway, Northamptonshire cricketer.

As a result of language addressed to a referee in a rugby match between Lichtenburg and Coligny in South Africa, recently a player has been warned off the field for life.

Anita Lizana, smiling Chilean tennis star, has been granted permission by the tennis association of her native country, to stay in England this winter to prepare for next year's Wimbledon play.

Fighting which broke out between players of the Swansea and Llanelly rugby teams in a recent match led officials, on the spot, to suspend future fixtures between the clubs, who have been meeting regularly for about 50 years.

MISSION GOES ON

Call to God's Service Sent Forth By Bishop Wells

Continuing the theme "Thy Kingdom Come," Bishop G. A. Wells conducted another special mission meeting at St. Andrew's Cathedral last night.

More than brains were required to bring about a state of happiness, the speaker said. "The application to our problems of the best that we know will be worth while, but more than that is needed," he said.

The Bishop desired to see more men taking an active intelligent interest in the things of Christ. "Most of us are aiming at nothing and hitting it," he said. Try to work out the principles of Jesus in the community. It may mean that some will turn against you but your true friends will stand by you.

Jesus had said to His apostles they would receive power. When? After the Holy Ghost had come upon them. This was something new. It was a new kingdom within them. This small group was to act as spearheads going out into all the world ordained to the task of setting up the new kingdom.

Where was the power to come from? "After" the Holy Ghost descended upon them. They were fearful men and they hid themselves but at the end of forty days something happened—the Holy Spirit came. They began to speak a different language. They received the gift of tongues to convey the message of the new kingdom to the men of the various nations then assembled at Jerusalem. God never worked a miracle without a reason. The Bishop said he could express all the thought he could gather together in his own language.

These men had been meeting behind closed doors and had no plan but when the Spirit descended, they immediately went out to do the thing that Jesus wanted them to do. The efforts of these insignificant men met with such success that they outdistanced the Empire of Rome. Where the Gospel was accepted and obeyed there happiness and contentment most abounded. The Cross has blazed the trail of civilization across the world. How are we to account for it? "Go ye into all the world." Jesus was not limited in His knowledge nor in His conception of the world. It meant more to Him than the circumscribed Mediterranean world. He said He would be with them "unto the end of the age" — all places and all time down through ages.

God's Plan
God was simply using people to carry out His plan. When God gave

FINE BILL ON STAGE

Exceptionally Fine Program Of Entertainment Being Offered At Capitol Theatre

Featuring Miss Edna Wilkinson of England, whose fine dramatic mezzo-soprano voice and delightful personality completely charmed the audience, and Charles Hovey of Vancouver, who has a splendid baritone voice which is both powerful and mellow, an exceptionally good stage interlude was presented by the Capitolians, under direction of Dr. H. N. Brocklesby, at the Capitol Theatre last night to supplement an interesting double picture bill. The whole bill will be repeated tonight.

Miss Wilkinson's selections were "The Waltz Song" from "Tom Jones" and "Danny Boy." Mr. Hovey sang "The Trumpeter" and "The Kashmiri Song." In each case they were happy selections to which the talents of the two vocalists were well adapted. Charles P. Balagno accompanied both Miss Wilkinson and Mr. Hovey.

The Capitolians presented three excellent numbers which were executed in their usual finished manner. They were "La Golondrina," "Kammenol-Ostrow" and "O! South," the latter a rousing medley of southern airs.

Al Small was, as usual, master of ceremonies. The pictures are "Seven Sinners," with Edmund Lowe and Constance Cummings and "One Rainy Afternoon" with Raymond Federer and Ida Lupino.

CONSTIPATION* MAY CUT DOWN YOUR ENJOYMENT OF LIFE

Long Neglected, It May Even Develop Serious Consequences

Common constipation* keeps you from being at your best. It causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches and loss of appetite. You feel below par, lack your usual vigor.

So many people treat this condition as a slight matter. But it can be the starting point of serious trouble. It contributes to a general run-down condition. With lowered bodily resistance, you are more likely to pick up the first chance infection you meet in your everyday routine.

Common constipation is due usually to insufficient "bulk" in meals. Fortunately, a delicious cereal supplies gentle "bulk." Within the body, the "bulk" in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and cleanses the system.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN oftener. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company as an effective laxative food for constipation. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk"
