HOOVER IS ENIGMATIC

Former President is Hailed Big Riddle of U. S. Politics

No Personal Talk

Keeps Nation Guessing on His Intentions in Coming Election Campaign

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 18:—In an address here, Former President Herbert Hoover while admitting no personal aspirations for another presidential nomination himself, declared that he would fight the New Deal to the very end.

The "great engineer," who rode into the White House on the comparatively placid surge of 1923, has become the "great enigma" in the political whirlpool of 1936.

The inscrutable silence of Herbert Hoover concerning his personal role in the campaign and regarding other Republican presidential possibilities, as well as himself, has made the former chief executive a figure of political mystery to politicians and the public alike.

Elmly outspoken in recurrent blasts at administration "regimentation" and "extravagance," Mr. Hoover has kept his lips tightly shut when it came either to public discussion of a possible attempted comeback by himself or to his attitude toward any other likely candidates for "Grand Old Party" standard-bearing honors.

Political instability Doubtless, he plays his semi-mysterious part in the battle of 1936 with few if any illusions about the constancy of the electorate or the stability of political destiny.

Eight years ago this spring, he was riding the crest of political popularity on his way to a virtually uncontested nomination for the presidency and a subsequently smashing victory over his Democratic opponent, Alfred E. Smith.

Seven months after he entered the White House, the stock market bubble burst and the depression was underway. Thus began the ebb of the Hoover political fortune which culminated in his submergence under a tidal wave of electoral votes for Roosevelt in 1932.

Some political observers hailed the Democratic triumph as spelling "the end of Hoover." But others including many of his loyal supporters contended, even in those darkest hours for the G.O.P., that he alone qualified as the party's commander-in-chief and that he was the logical man to reorganize Republican forces and lead them back to power.

So, early in 1935, when Mr. Hoover returned to the political wars with a "Republican call to arms" and the first of his big bombardments of the Roosevelt regime, his role in the 1936 campaign became one of the major political questions.

Interest in the "Hoover mystery" was further intensified by his emergence from the shadows of political defeat and retirement as a "New Hoover." Buoyancy of manner and expression had replaced his somewhat sombre gravity. The Hoover of 1935 and 1936 seemed to smile more easily and to wince less readily and naturally than the worry-burdened Hoover of 1931 and 1932, or even the Hoover (Continued on Page Four)

COLD SNAP UNABATED

Death, Suffering and Hardship on Prairies and in Mid West

Dispatches from the prairies and Middle West of the United States tell of continued cold weather there with attendant deaths, suffering and hardship. New low temperature marks have been recorded with more snow although an abatement of wind has eliminated blizzards. Devil's Lake, North Dakota, recorded 46 below zero Saturday night which was a new record. Prince Albert, Sask., reported 50 below.

In a Montana town four members of a family perished either from being burned to death or from exposure when a can of kerosene, being used in an endeavor to bolster up a kitchen fire during 40 below zero weather on Saturday, exploded. A fifth member of the family is at death's door in hospital.

Many Roads Impassable on Account of Heavy Snowfall

TERRACE, Feb. 18:—Cold, clear weather continues at Terrace. N. Sherwood, who keeps weather records on behalf of the Dominion government, reports a minimum of eight degrees below zero mark. The snow, which had fallen in a gale and blizzard a week previous, has blown into all low spots with the result that many of the roads are impassable and this in spite of the regular trips being made by the public works snow plough.

DEFENCE OF C. N. R.

The defence of the Canadian National Railways published yesterday proved very interesting to many readers of this paper. It showed that the National Railways has been paying its way and more, which is all that most businesses have been able to do. In Prince Rupert any business that for several years past has been able to pay running expenses and overhead and a very small dividend would have considered itself very lucky. The railway has been doing that. It has paid a small dividend, but not enough to cover interest on its capitalization. In proportion to the size of the business, however, it has paid as well as the rest of Canadian businesses.

NEEDS DEFENCES

Britain tried to set the world an example in reduction of armed forces. The result was that neighboring nations took advantage of the gesture to increase theirs and endangered the safety of the British Empire. With the danger of a general European war confronting her, Britain is now increasing her armaments at a rapid rate and for doing so she is being criticized. There would have been no criticism if she had been defeated in war and much of her territory lost.

When Russia arms she is doing so only in self-defence. When Britain arms she is simply arousing her neighbors to increase their armaments. All depends upon where the sympathies lie.

AN AMERICAN BLOC

As an offset to the somewhat aggressive policy of Japan President Roosevelt is trying to arrange what is to be known as an all-America peace conference with a view to permanently outlawing war in the Americas. While there is no suggestion of this being a defensive alliance, it may easily become that, once there is an established alliance between the American countries. The chief objection to it is the fact that in some of the American countries there is a considerable Japanese population and it is thought that in case of trouble between countries on this side of the Pacific and the people on the other, these settlers would side with the Orient.

Bowling 'em Over

(By Onlooker)

Just to interest you folks, let us tell who won on Sunday. Why, it was the Lodge Men, of course.

And did they play a sweet game? I'll tell the world they did.

Even if the skipper has a bald head, it was a treat to see them play. Those Moose are a fine bunch of men although, of course, the Atlin boys are not too bad—if they would only try some times. They have about the best skipper in B. C. if he'd only quit going half way down the alley when he shoots and bawling his men out. As this is Bill Gray, how about Nels Gunderson? He shoots a fair game but oh that snoose he eats! He should get a practice once in a while.

And there's Knutsen. He's not bad but he forgot his skis and just couldn't find his feet.

Of course, we don't expect much of Sonny Stiles. He's only a boy but he has the makings of a fair player.

Last but not least comes Roy Wicks. He should, with a few years' practice, do fairly well.

Maybe it would help if Skipper Gray and his brave boys wore their gumboots—if they stick to it and don't let a punk team like Tommy Morgan and his Moosers give them such a bad licking again.

SPORT CHAT

Top-notchers in sport and science and a beauty queen are on board the Canadian-Australian motorship Arangi now enroute from Victoria to Australia via Honolulu and the Fiji Islands. All Blacks, New Zealand's famed rugby players, are returning triumphant from a British tour, and fresh from victories against all-star teams of Victoria and Vancouver. The team from "Down Under," before disembarking at Auckland, will meet Professor A. H. Compton, well-known United States scientist, and "Miss Victoria," selected winner in a beauty contest sponsored by the Melbourne Star. Dr. Compton's scientific equipment, a highly sensitive and costly research laboratory, is housed in a special compartment on the deck. He will conduct experiments dealing with activities of the cosmic ray during the voyage. Near it will be stored British Columbia's contribution to the Adelaide Centennial Exhibition. The exhibit, in the form of a building 15 by 10 feet, demonstrates the almost unlimited uses of timber products of the province. Miss Peggy E. Gamble, five feet seven inches tall, weighing 120 pounds, the queen of feminine pulchritude, will add a romantic touch to the southern voyage. The 19-year old girl's beauty and personality have brought her nearly $5,000 in prizes.

Several important changes—in addition to the reduction in the size of the bull's eye, already announced—will be affected in the rules of this year's meeting of the National Rifle Association at Bisley opening Monday, July 16. Instead of purchasing tickets which entitle them to five not more than two practice shots before any competition, competitors will be given the ammunition for two compulsory sighting shots. When these two shots have been fired the competitor may elect to count either the second or both as scoring shots. Owing to the increasing number of competitors, and the difficulty of obtaining a larger supply of ammunition, all the competitions in the Grand Aggregate that have hitherto been 10-round shots have been reduced to seven rounds. These include "The Daily Telegraph" Cup, the "Times," the "Daily Mail," the Wimbledon Cup, the Duke of Cambridge at 900 yards, and the Corporation of the City of London at 1,100 yards. The Alexandria, which is not in the Grand Aggregate, becomes a 10-shot competition at 600 yards, and the Conan Doyle will also be a single-range shoot, 10 shots at 500 yards. In all these competitions those who make the highest possible score will immediately shoot three tie shots.

GRAIN GROWING

HENRY: "James, I can remember Dad telling us that, in his day, they used to thresh their grain with a flail. We couldn't get along that way nowadays; there's too much."

JAMES: "You're right, Henry. We must have mechanical help to produce grain at a profit in these days. But I'm in favour of employing as many men as we can."

HENRY: "That's every sensible Canadian's point of view. Our local Bank of Montreal manager tells me that, if the security is all right, his Bank is willing to lend money for necessary modern implements. By the way, our loan at the Bank has been paid off in full and the manager has promised to advance money against the sale of our wheat to pay for harvest labour. We couldn't get along without the Bank's co-operation. It will be helping us, as usual, when we need money in the spring for seeding—and for that new barn we'll have to build one of these days."

Some of the Bank's services to Grain Growers: Business chequing accounts; savings accounts; money orders and travellers cheques; the cashing of grain tickets and cheques; banking by mail; safekeeping of securities; loans for planting, harvesting and farm equipment.

Lien Recital Much Enjoyed

About One Hundred People Present At Musical Treat in St. Andrew's Cathedral

About one hundred persons were present in St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday night when a very acceptable pipe organ recital was rendered by Peter Lien, the organist of the Cathedral. Very Rev. James B. Gibson, dean of the Cathedral, acted as chairman and Mr. Lien was assisted by Leonard Cripps as vocal soloist. The program of organ solos was as follows: Prelude and Fugue No. 6 from Bach's "Eight Little Preludes and Fugues." Paraphrase on a Norwegian hymn tune by R. M. Forwald; "Cradle Song" by Iljinski; "How So Fair" from "Martha" (Plotow); Schumann's "Traumerel" and "Torchlight March" (Seaton Clarke). Mr. Cripps sang Sullivan's "Lost Chord" and Schubert's "Litany."

Aurora To Be Published By High Students

The editorial board of the "Aurora" met on Monday afternoon to make further plans for the publishing of the annual high school magazine. The board aims to make the magazine self-supporting, the cost of production being met by the proceeds of advertising and sales.

Short stories, poems, limericks, articles, reports of class activities and amusing class incidents are being handed in by the students and the editors expect to be kept busy making selections.

Molly Winslow is editor-in-chief with Betty Parlow as assistant editor. Joe Naylor is business manager with Allen Kergin as assistant. Other editors and reporters are Winnie Cameron, June Armour, Mary Orme, Helen Lakie, Emilie Christopher, Annie Peterson, Phyllis Hill-Tout, Joe Landry, Dan O'Neill, Bert O'Neill and Robert Manson.

A. Sutton is supervising editor and staff representative.

Mining Lectures Attract Crowds

Dr. Mandy's Discourses Continue To be Centre of Interest— Ore Formations and Deposits Discussed

The mining lectures by Dr. Joseph T. Mandy, resident mining engineer for the provincial government, at the city council chamber continue to attract considerable interest and good crowds.

Last night Dr. Mandy dealt with openings in the crust of the earth such as fractures, joints and fissures; the formation of ore deposits such as veins, fissures, replacements, shear zones etc.; minerals that form ore deposits; zonal arrangement owing to temperatures; the relation of values in veins to the concentrations called ore shoots which are commercial mineral deposits that can be profitably mined.

On Saturday night, Dr. Mandy had discussed igneous and sedimentary rocks and the folding of the crust of the earth.

The next lecture will be tomorrow night when geology applied to prospecting will be discussed.

A. H. Waddington of the Forest Branch staff left on last evening's train for a trip to Burns Lake on official business.

Many people are wondering how their roses are going to stand the winter. The fact that the trees started to grow during the mid-spell before Christmas may make them susceptible to the frost. On the other hand they had plenty of time to harden off and the mortality may not be as great as many expect. It is, usually, the spring frosts that do the damage.
 This year Phil Edgecombe, who canvassed the city and sold close to two thousand trees last year, is unable to carry on the agency. However, an even better deal is to be given this year by Alfred Bayne, who recently took over the Glennie business. He has the agency for Eddie's nursery and is advertising named varieties at 25 cents each.

 While he will not canvass the city he is prepared to take orders at his store which should be convenient for everyone. We suggest placing orders early as it may not be possible to get the varieties asked for later in the season. People who have ordered Eddy roses in other years have been well satisfied with them. As it seems that the Horticultural Society will not import roses this year, the alternative will be to ask members who wish the low priced bushes to order through Mr. Bayne unless there is someone else in the field after a share of the business.

This advertisement is given Mr.
 Bayne free because of his evident desire to co-operate with the horticulturists of the city in providing them what they require at low prices. We still would like to see Prince Rupert a city of roses and the best way to secure this is to see that good roses are available to purchasers at lowest possible prices.

Ladies' Aid Of

 Church Affair

NEW HAZELTON, Feb. 13.—A very enjoyable evening was held in the United Church at New Hazelton on Wednesday of last week when the Ladies' Aid held a pre-St. Valentine's sale and tea as a result of which $22.50 was raised for the Aid funds. Considering the cold weather, the temperature was more than 30 degrees below zero, the attendance was very good. The ladies were well gratified with the success of their efforts.

Man in the Moon

Good Day. Business is rushin'.

A man who went into a local restaurant dusted off his plate.
 On being remonstrated with by Chris he apologized, saying he was a baseball umpire and it became a habit with him to dust off the plate.

There's a lot of talk about success these days but only a few people achieve it.

The undertaker's very smart.
 He'll never need the dole.
 For he gets rich when other folk
 Are going in the hole.

A young man went to Australia against his fathers wishes. In one letter home he wrote:

"I have bought a car. First feather in my cap."

In another he wrote: "I have bought a farm. Another feather in my cap."

This went on for some time and always the son's letter finished with "another feather in my cap."

Later, the father received a letter which ran: "Dear dad, I am broke. Please send passage home."

The father replied: "Nothing doing. Take the feathers from your cap, stick them on your back, and fly home."

Father Anthony Mehlenberg, parish priest of the Roman Catholic Church at Stewart, arrived in the city from the north on the Catala this morning for a brief visit to town.

ver of optimistic 1928 campaign days.
 Not only have many persons been surprised at the new sparkle and the wit-shafted sarcasm in the phrase-making of the former President but some radio listeners say they have failed to recognize his voice owing to a strange quality of liveliness, breezy informality and effective inflection.

What Does He Seek??

Meanwhile, the politicians wonder whether Herbert Hoover is seeking the Republican presidential nomination or is intent only upon influencing the selection of a candidate and the writing of a platform. He has been engaged in the most formal and co-ordinated attack on the Roosevelt administration of any of those by men suggested for nomination by the Republicans at Cleveland. In each of the major speeches he has delivered in his "series" of attacks on the "new deal," Hoover has suggested in broad outline the substance of Republican platform planks he may plan to urge.

He has also made each of these speeches a vehicle for a personal defence of his policies and acts as President. This has tended to convince some anti-Hoover elements in the Republican party that the former president, even if he does not seek the nomination, is intent upon obtaining his own vin-dication in the platform.
