Canada Supreme Court Confirms Sentences Of Death on Four B.C. Men

Richardson, Eneas and Alex George, Canford Indians, And Charles Russell, Vancouver Bank Bandits, Lose in Fight For Life

OTTAWA, Oct. 30: (CP)—Appeals of four men convicted of murder in British Columbia courts were dismissed today by the Supreme Court of Canada. The men are Richardson, Eneas and Alex George, three Indian brothers convicted of murdering Dominion Constable F. H. Gisbourne at Canford Indian Reserve, and Charles Russell, convicted of the murder of William Hobbs, Vancouver bank teller. The court did not pass judgment on Earl Dunbar, convicted with Russell.

Argentina Dumps Old Wheat; Mart Shows Reaction

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30: (CP)—Reports of Argentina putting large quantities of old crop on the market yesterday caused a marked decline in wheat prices both here and in Chicago. Winnipeg prices fell back from 2 1/2c to 2 1/4c with October closing at $1.09 1/2. The Chicago prices dropped 1/2c to 1 1/4c with December closing at $1.14 3/4.

AIRPLANES ONLY MODERN FEATURE OF SPAIN'S WAR

Fighting Mostly Guerilla Pot Shooting With Weapons Of Old Vintage and Ancient Shells Falling as Duds

FRANCO-SPANISH FRONTIER, Oct. 30: (CP)—Guerilla warfare is the rule throughout the Spanish conflict and the battles are little different from those of a century ago. Anyone who tells you Spain is the proving ground for the next "world war" simply hasn't seen a battle. Radio stations announce hundreds of thousands of men locked in combat with the latest equipment—but the radio search at Hendaye, France. The geography of Spain, that feat of nature which stopped many a good general, including Napoleon Bonaparte, simply doesn't lend itself to the use of modern methods. There are so many natural barriers that invaders, to capture them, must use assault by the good old infantry. Trenches were used for the first time at Irun, and were so badly dug by both sides that they proved unusable. Near the end of August, after six weeks of war, this correspondent watched the insurgents attack government positions at San R...

WARNING TO REDS

Sir Samuel Hoare Urges Moscow Organizations Not To Meddle With Affairs of Britain

LONDON, Oct. 30: (CP)—Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty, today issued a warning to the Moscow Comintern (Communist international organization) not to interfere with the affairs of England, declaring: "It is almost always disastrous to interfere in the affairs of other countries. I recommend that observation to agents of the Comintern. They will find the more they interfere in domestic affairs of this country, the worse it will react against their activities."

Sir Samuel was addressing a west end meeting.

Smashed Record

British Aviator Accomplished Aim Of Making New Mark For Atlantic Crossing

HARBOR GRACE, Nfld., Oct. 30: (CP)—The hop-off of Captain James Mollison from here at 3:40 Eastern Standard Time yesterday afternoon in continuation of his projected speed flight across the Atlantic Ocean from New York to London was in spite of adverse weather reports but thirteen hours and thirteen minutes later he arrived safely at Croydon, England, after the 2100-mile hop. He landed at Croydon at 9:53 a.m. Greenwich time (1:53 a.m. Pacific Standard time).

It was Mollison's fourth Atlantic crossing but the first time that London, as the eastern goal, had been reached without a forced landing enroute.

Mollison left Harbor Grace so hurriedly at 3:40 yesterday afternoon that he neglected to clear the customs, thereby making himself liable to a fine. He had hoped to cover the distance in ten hours.

His estranged wife, Amy Johnson, was not on hand to welcome him when he landed this time but from the country, where she is recuperating from the effects of the recent plane trail-out crash, she sent a telegram of congratulations.

Only a dozer, spectators welcomed the near-exhausted flier who shattered all records for Atlantic crossings with 19 hours and 59 minutes from New York to London. He plans only a few days rest before attempting to break the record to South Africa.

PECULIAR SITUATION

Ontario Youth Admits Killing Of Grandfather After Being Acquitted

WALKERTON, Ont., Oct. 30: (CP)—Earl Leffler, aged 19, who two years ago was acquitted on a charge of murdering his 65-year old grandfather, Philip Stroh, has confessed that he accidentally killed his grandfather with an axe during a quarrel. He cannot be tried again for murder unless a crown appeal for a new trial were granted. The crown did not appeal his acquittal.

Leffler is being held in Bruce County jail after pleading guilty to creating a public nuisance by accusing his grandmother of the slaying. The new charge carries a maximum possible sentence of life imprisonment.

Oriental Plants For Stanley Park

VANCOUVER, Oct. 30: (CP)—Two hundred rare Oriental plants and shrubs, transported here for the Chinese village, a feature of Vancouver's Golden Jubilee program, have been donated to Stanley Park for permanent planting. The federal department of agriculture granted permission for the transfer provided the roots were cleaned of their native soil and properly fumigated.

Bishop Rix Expects to See Highway Completed Shortly From Vanderhoof Into Peace

The highway from the Peace River has been located by surveyors to connect with the road now being constructed from Fort St. James northward and, before very long, it seems as if the Peace River country will be connected with the Canadian National Railway at Vanderhoof, according to Right Rev. G. A. Rix, Bishop of Caledonia. In an address to the Rotary Club at a weekly luncheon in the Commodore Cafe yesterday.

The Bishop told of having spent a month in the Peace River district this year and of the huge crops harvested there averaging about 35 bushels to the acre and running up to fifty bushels. He also pictured the situation with the large trucks filled with grain coming into the elevators at Dawson Creek and other points, most of it grading "No. 1 Garnet."

The spread between the price of wheat at Fort William and at Dawson Creek was 27 cents a bushel but the farmers could make money at 50c a bushel, net. The great cry in that country was for a road to the south and this was now being constructed northward from Fort St. James toward Finlay Forks part of the way and would, doubtless be continued very soon. Already 130 miles were either built or contracts let for construction. This road would be vastly important to the Canadian National Railways.

CONNELL SPEAKER

Offers His Group of Four as Nucleus of Movement Toward A New Economic Order

VICTORIA, Oct. 30: (CP)—Rev. Robert Connell, M.L.A. for Victoria, yesterday offered his official opposition of four in the British Columbia Legislature as the nucleus of a group or party of men and women who would be united by a definite principle of action directed toward the establishment of a new economic order.

Speaking in the debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne, Mr. Connell urged that such a group, proceeding by a clear-cut policy of constructive co-operation, was required in this province.

Pacific Coast Shipping Crippled With 118 Ships Caught Between San Diego and Seattle—Tie-up Is Spreading Quickly

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30: (CP)—A general maritime strike crippled United States Pacific Coast shipping today, quickly spread to other industries and brought repercussion in Atlantic and Gulf ports. Thirty-seven thousand dock workers were ordered off their jobs at midnight when efforts to set up new working agreements between ship owners and seven federated unions failed. From Seattle to San Diego men began picketing wharves, expecting that their numbers would be swelled by incoming men aboard ships from the Orient and Alaska. One hundred and eighteen ships are caught along the coast in the strike.

WATCHING ELECTION

Reciprocity and St. Lawrence Seaway Matters of Concern To Canada

OTTAWA, Oct. 30: (CP)—Two matters of outstanding interest to Canada are involved in the United States presidential election next Tuesday. One is that of the reciprocity trade treaty and the other the St. Lawrence seaway.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, of course, favors continuation of the trade treaty and has stated that he would revive the St. Lawrence seaway project.

Governor Alfred M. Landon has attacked the trade agreement with Canada. He considers imports of Canadian cheese and cattle to the United States particularly harmful. The Republican candidate has said that the St. Lawrence seaway is needed by United States but has not promised to revive it.

Socialists Advancing Along All Fronts—Eden Reiterates British Stand of Strict Neutrality

TORREJON DE LA CALZADA, Spain, Oct. 30: (CP)—Spanish Socialists sent columns of infantry supported by artillery, airplanes and tanks as they continued to press forward in an effort to drive the insurgents back "at least to Toledo." Along all fronts the Socialists were reported to be advancing today.

Britain To Be Neutral

LONDON, Oct. 30: (CP)—Speaking in the House of Commons last night, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declared that Great Britain intended to continue its policy of strict neutrality in connection with the Spanish civil war. He refused the demand of Labor that aid be sent to the Madrid government. The Foreign Secretary defended Portugal's government against charges of violating the non-intervention agreement, declaring that the international committee had unanimously agreed that not a single charge by Russia of such violation had been proven. France, he pointed out, was one of the nations absolving Portugal. Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada was among those in the gallery while Captain Eden was speaking.

Rome Denies Charge

ROME, Oct. 30: (CP)—The Italian government last night vigorously denied a charge that eight Italian warships were standing by ready to engage in a blockade of the Catalan coast of Spain.

WAS GREAT WESTERNER

Hon. T. C. Norris, Six Years Premier of Manitoba, Was Long In Public Life

Very Able

His Government Led Way In Canadian Social Legislation

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30. (CP)—For a generation one of the outstanding figures in Manitoba's political realm, the name of Hon. Tobias Crawford Norris, ex-premier of Manitoba, who died yesterday in Toronto, was associated with those stirring party struggles which entertained the province and the rest of Canada for some 20 years prior to the outbreak of the war. His premiership, while it lasted only six years, was marked by a long series of advanced legislation which included prohibition, women's suffrage and minimum wage laws. His government fell in 1922, a victim of the wave of popularity which greeted the agrarian political movement following the close of the Great War.

Coming to Ottawa in 1928 as a member of the Board of Railway Commissioners, Mr. Norris applied himself with characteristic thoroughness to his new field of activity. He studied the various railway problems brought before him from every angle and his views carried great weight with the other members of the board.

Born in Brampton, Ont., in 1861, of Irish parentage he came west as a young man and settled on a farm near Griswold, a little town close to Brandon. Always a successful farmer he developed a great interest in livestock and at first in an amateur way he presided at a number of auction sales. Later he entered auctioneering as a business in which capacity his services became greatly in demand all over Western Canada for big cattle sales. His platform facility, general disposition and the presence made his entrance into politics an easy step.

The west first heard of Mr. Norris politically in 1896, in which year he was elected as a Liberal supporter of the Greenway administration for the constituency of Lansdowne. From the outset he showed great promise and soon became one of the keenest debaters in the House. When the Greenway administration was defeated by the Conservatives under Hugh John Macdonald in 1899, he was one of the fighting minority returned by the electors. Following this his political tuition was of a stern character but his general effectiveness in the Legislature designated him as the natural leader of the Liberal party.

In the election of 1903 the Conservative government under P. R. Roblin won a decisive victory and one of the victims of its political artillery was Mr. Norris, who was defeated in Lansdowne by 11 votes. A four years' vacation from parliamentary worries followed, but in 1907 he was again elected in Lansdowne by a majority of 100. On his return to the Legislature, however, he found the government strongly entrenched, and consequently when he was elected as leader of his party in 1910, his position was a difficult and in many respects an unenviable one.

An indefatigable worker and a keen critic Mr. Norris soon developed an effective opposition and its following throughout the province steadily gained in strength. The critical election of 1914 found the Roblin administration returned to power but with a greatly reduced majority which appeared to make their political demise a certainty in the near future. The Liberal party came back to power with a majority of the popular vote and with almost as many members as the government. Following the exposure of serious irregularities in connection with the construction of the new parliament buildings the Roblin government resigned in 1915, and in the election which followed the Liberals were returned with almost no opposition.

Under the premiership of Mr. Norris Manitoba gave women the franchise in 1916, being the first Canadian province to remove the sex disqualification. In the same year Manitoba adopted prohibition to the limit of its powers. It abolished bilingualism in the schools and enforced the atten-

Man in the Moon

Good afternoon, it seems that Prince Rupert should be excited just now but curiously there is no sign of it.

And perhaps it's best not to get too optimistic about anything. Just hope and pray and rustle but don't bet.

There was a meeting in the Cariboo district this week of the "Grasshopper Control Committee." That's one thing we don't have in a bridge, for at least light traffic, Prince Rupert. Can't we form a humber control committee with power to act?

Jake asks how far it is between stagnation and prosperity. My answer is that it is the same as the distance between "to and fro."

Whenever there is a nip in the air we begin to think about Christmas. Last year a young man stepped into one of our local stores that handle Christmas cards and bought six with the inscription "To the only girl I ever loved." As long as he behaves himself I shall not give him away.

If Joseph Stalin should die there'd be a rush of applications for the job. Being a technocratic country, possibly the engineers will make the appointment.

Jake says engineers are all right for building pulp mills and such things. Beyond that they're just people.

I am planning a trip to Victoria to get some lessons from Hon. Jack Hart on finance. My weekly dole never seems to give me a surplus.

Joachim von Ribbentrop says Communism is the only real danger to peace. But I had an idea that possibly Hitler and Mussolini and a few of the other dictators were the real danger. What do you say Joa?

Smithers Pioneers Have Moved Out

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carr Leave For Vancouver—Honored By Friends

SMITHERS, Oct. 30.—A pleasing event took place in the Anglican Hall here Thursday evening when the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carr and family gathered to wish them good-bye and good luck in their departure from Smithers to take up residence in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr are among the earliest settlers at Smithers, having located here before the railway was built and their family of three daughters and one son were all born in Smithers and grew up here.

They were presented with a silver tea service in a happy speech made by J. W. Turner.

They left Smithers yesterday with the best wishes of a host of friends throughout the Bulkley Valley where they are so well known.

Kitzegucla Folk Rebuild Bridge

Temporary Span Being Provided To Replace That Washed Out

KITZEGUCLA, Oct. 30.—Work has already begun on the construction of a temporary bridge over the Kitzequcla River. For nearly a year following last fall's floods the people have been deprived of transport, other than packing things over on one's shoulders. They hope soon to have a bridge, for at least light traffic, if not for cars.

Great hopes are entertained that the government will build a permanent structure in the early spring.

Developing Seaport

With logs and wheat being shipped out of Prince Rupert and with other shipping prospects in view, it seems evident that the port is on the way to development of its deep sea shipping. Workmen are getting much benefit from the visits of the ships and business houses sell them supplies. It is by gradual steps that seaports are built up. The more industries we have, the more likely is there to be shipping out of the port.

Road Up Naas River

Prince Rupert people may think this is the only community that really needs a road, but that is not so. Every community in British Columbia has its own road problem and each thinks its own the most important. The Naas Valley has its road needs. There is a grade across the lava plain about eight miles in length starting at or about Canyon City as far as the Sixx River but it is not fit to drive over being much too rough. What the settlers need in that part of the country is the surfacing of this piece of road. They say that directly this is done there will be a good boat operating from Canyon City to the mouth of the river and people will be able to reach Aiyansh without endangering life and limb, and freight will be taken in at much less cost than at present. As it is today the produce of the Naas Valley cannot be shipped out, owing to the cost and the needed supplies cannot be brought in without making the cost of living so high as to be out of the question.

With the development of the Alice Arm mines there will be a ready market for part of the things the Naas River people grow, so the development of the Naas Valley is to the advantage of the whole district. In the past most of the white settlers have had to leave the district owing to the lack of transportation facilities.

Highway to Peace River

According to Bishop Rix the highway connecting the Peace River district with the Prince Rupert to Jasper highway is already well under way and should soon be an accomplished fact. This is one more reason why Prince Rupert should connect up as soon as possible with the same highway, enabling Peace River people to drive through to the coast at this point.

Prince Rupert people are being taxed for the campaign to attract tourists to British Columbia and yet tourists cannot drive into Prince Rupert. Some of them try to do so but they get as far as Hazelton only to be disappointed. They cannot get farther without paying a large fee for transportation of their cars.

Thanksgiving At Kitzequcla

KITZEGUCLA, Oct. 30.—On Saturday evening last the annual thanksgiving service was held in the Kitzequcla United Church. Gifts of various kinds were on display which were later sold.

After the opening exercises and a short address by the pastor on the theme of Thanksgiving, a social hour was spent commencing with coffee and cake served by some of the members of the Ladies' Aid. During the evening a solo was sung by Douglas Wesley which was appreciated by all.

A sale followed of the gifts presented at which Peter Mark acted as auctioneer, assisted by Moses Jones, with Walter Wesley acting as temporary clerk.

A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all and the proceeds which amounted to about $24 were handed over to the acting church treasurer.

SNOW AT SMITHERS

Ground Covered With Several Inches—Fall Ploughing Well in Hand

SMITHERS, Oct. 30.—The long spell of exceptionally fine fall weather that has prevailed throughout this district for the past month came to an end here Thursday night and local people awoke yesterday morning to look out upon a ground white with snow which was still falling heavily. Several inches of snow covered the ground and the indications were that there would be considerably more before it was through. While there was snowfall in parts of the district about a month ago there was none fell in the town at that time and this is the first fall of the season so far as Smithers is concerned. It looks as though it might stay unless the weather gets mild enough to take it all away again.

Hunters who have been waiting for snow so that they can more easily track moose and deer will welcome the snowfall as will the younger generation who derive so much pleasure from the use of their sleds but to the great majority it means getting out the old snow shovel for several months of intermittent but none too easy work in keeping sidewalks cleared. Most of the farmers throughout the valley are well along with their fall ploughing which will give them an early start on next season's work and certainly none of them can complain that they have not had a spell of weather which gave them every opportunity to get ready for the winter.

fael, with the tall buildings of Madrid plainly visible on the skyline. A young lieutenant borrowed my field glasses to correct the fire of his battery of 155's. It was the first pair he'd ever used. Precious practice had been to shift the gun to change its direction of fire.

Aged Munitions

The insurgent battleship "Esparana" shelled San Sebastian with munitions manufactured in 1903. Most of the shells failed to explode, to the consternation of rebel leaders who declared they had purchased the shells from an English firm as "guaranteed goods." At Irun, this correspondent accompanied a young French reserve officer on a survey of government positions. The officer advised barbed wire to protect a farmhouse from rebel assaults. When he returned the next day the barbed wire had been strung behind the farmhouse.

One of the chief reasons for the loss of Irun by the Popular Front was the insistence of the anarchists that they be permitted to leave the lines to go home for lunch. General Francisco Franco and General Emilio Mola planned their insurgent campaign on road maps, distributed free to Spanish tourists by a French tire company.

An Associated Press correspondent watched an insurgent six-inch gun hammer away at a farmhouse less than one mile away. It took 11 shots to hit the farmhouse and six more to hit it a second time. However, a Spanish Army may come out of the present conflict that will be a force to be reckoned with in international affairs, insurgents assert.

With proper guidance, they say Spain may be able in a few years to put at least 2,000,000 men into battle, most of whom will have had some form of military training. At least 500,000 now wear the uniforms of fascists or Carlist (anti-Bourbon monarchists) in territory the nationalists, or insurgents, have occupied. Many have had little training, but they provide a nucleus for military development with the regular army. Under a military regime, such as Spain may have if the nationalists win, it is assumed the regular army would be built up, with the fascist and Carlist groups used as reserves.

HARBIN IS DULL NOW

Gone is Galety of City at Asia's East Gate

HARBIN, Manchoukuo, Oct. 30: (AP)—After spending a week here once, the late Will Rogers declared this Manchurian town, situated at the crossroads of the world, where the east exchanges drinks with the west, was one of the wildest, gayest and most reckless cities in the world.

But Harbin has lost its reputation as the "city of love, life and laughter," and has become almost a city of sighs and tears. Gone are its gaiety, its beautiful girls, its carefree jovial spirit.

Populated in the old days by generous, jovial, joy-loving Russians and smiling, joss-pigeon Chinese, Harbin was regarded as a sort of international roadhouse, where all the world's races, regardless of color, caste or nationality, could hang up their hats, banish their cares, refresh themselves, gamble, drink, dine, or flirt with the lovely Russian girls, who gave Harbin much of its glamor and lure.

Today all this is changed. Many of the 30,000-odd Russians who still remain here say they have a wretched existence under the Japanese regime. Their only other choice is to return to Soviet Russia, where they fear their lot under the Bolsheviks might be worse.

With the sale of the Chinese Eastern Railway by Soviet Russia to Japan, the chief source of revenue to Harbin ceased. That railroad employed nearly 25,000 Russians in Harbin alone. They furnished not only most of the city's trade, but much of its prosperity and gaiety. Almost all these Russians, unable to make a living under the Japanese regime, have returned to Russia.

The 30,000 Russians who remain, mostly "whites," are too impoverished to support themselves. With Manchuria's former "open door" closed forever, foreigners no longer come here. The Japanese themselves are too bent on making Manchoukuo a political and economic success to spend any time on dancing, drinking, or nocturnal revels, and gambols which once gave Harbin so much of its special character as a sort of Asiatic Monte Carlo.

Girls Hard Hit

Especially hard hit are the thousands of pretty Russian girls, who once made this city famous the world over for its feminine beauty. In former days Harbin was a great clearing-house for women and girl refugees fleeing from Soviet Russia into China. Among them were princesses, countesses, baronesses and other members of the old Russian nobility and aristocracy, seeking to make new lives for themselves.

Left without employment by the abandoned cabarets, restaurants and dance-halls, these girls have gradually scattered to other parts of the Orient, particularly to Shanghai, Tsingtao and Chefoo, where they pursue a rather precarious existence entertaining the officers and sailors of Asiatic fleets when they come to these ports.

The more fortunate ones have landed husbands among these sailors. But many have wound up in the streets. Without a country, without home, without money, no country wants to receive them.

The "open door" in Harbin is now closed, jammed and locked forever, the key is lost, and would-be visitors can only dream of the days when Harbin was the centre of revelry, romance and recreation. The beggars that haunt the streets, the empty stores, the thousands of Russians without work, are evidences of the change in the city, which was once Asia's playground.

AS A BABY he was raised on BORDEN'S ST. CHARLES, the better Irradiated Evaporated Milk. Now, as a result, he is growing into sturdy childhood. And his whole life will mirror those early steady gains he made on this fine pure milk.

There are many reasons why so many thousands of bottle-fed babies are thriving on ST. CHARLES. Most important—it is simply the finest pure fresh country milk, evaporated and homogenized to make it more digestible. And the experienced care which BORDEN exercises from dairy farm to the tin you buy, is your assurance that ST. CHARLES quality is never surpassed.

Every drop of BORDEN'S ST. CHARLES is irradiated for extra Sunshine Vitamin D, which helps build straight limbs, sound teeth, a strong back and resistance to childhood ills. This makes ST. CHARLES the last word in modern nourishment for your baby... and for the rest of the family, too. Ask your Doctor for advice on feeding your baby.

SPORT CHAT

At the reception in Bombay to India's Olympic team it was announced a specialist who examined men from all over the world found the Indian athletes had the most perfect spines.

G. H. Simpson-Hayward, former Worcestershire cricketer, and one of the few players who have achieved success in the first-class game with underhand bowling, is dead at Stow-on-the-Wold, England.

James Kerr, trainer of Heart of Midlothian, first division club in the Scottish Football League, has resigned. He is entering the business for himself.

Twenty-two of the Marquette University gridiron squad are of German ancestry, eight Irish, five French, two English and a sprinkling of other nationalities.

It was a headache getting a uniform for Blake Garnett, 300-pound linesman, in a South Carolina high school eleven, but Furman University loaned one and Blake is now on the job.

South African sport has suffered a loss through the death of R. K. T. Dunbar, Western Province swimmer and rugby player. He was killed when a falling timber struck him on the head.

CARD OF THANKS

On behalf of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association we wish to thank the many citizens and organizations that contributed to our solicitation for funds. Their generosity has enabled us to start with a clean slate and face the new season with renewed enthusiasm, which predicts a most successful basketball season.

EXECUTIVE.

Crypt Extension To Assist Work Of Noted Church

LONDON, Oct. 30: (CP)—Extensions to the crypt of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, celebrated old church in Trafalgar Square are to be made to meet the demands on the Church's social welfare service, a system of charity and help with such ramifications that it is famed throughout the world.

Canadian soldiers, during the war, found the church, situated as it is in the very hub of the Empire's capital, a convenient place of worship and thousands of veterans enjoyed the hospitality of St. Martin's Fellowship rooms during their trip to the unveiling of Canada's National War Memorial at Vimy Ridge in July. The Canadians visited the crypt where they gained first-hand knowledge of the social work being conducted.

The King's parish church has another intimate connection with Canada. In September, Rev. Pat McCormack, vicar of the famous church, officiated at the marriage of his daughter, Patricia, to Rev. John Frank, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Toronto, formerly on the staff of St. Martin's. Mr. and Mrs. Frank have returned to Toronto and entered enthusiastically on work in the old downtown church that is similar in character to that conducted at St. Martin's.

Mr. McCormack recently opened a Million Shilling Appeal Fund to raise the necessary funds for the extensions. At present the service not only offers homeless men and women beds and shelter for the night but it takes care of them afterwards, builds them up and often finds them jobs. As many as 55,000 persons have been given shelter at St. Martin's during a single year.

Work will begin on the extensions at the end of October. Walls of the vaults will be demolished and coffins and bones hundreds of years old will be transferred at midnight to consecrated ground on the outskirts of London, where they will be re-interred. In place of the catacomb of vaults there will be two or three bright new rooms to be used for welfare work. The vaults have been sealed since 1859 when they were opened for the re-interment of centuries-old coffins and bones from another part of the church.

St. Martin's is the King's parish church at Buckingham Palace the royal residence, is situated in the same parish. For centuries in fact it has been closely associated with Kings of England. When the present church was completed in 1721 King George I laid the first stone and became the first churchwarden. Ever since the 12th century a church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, has stood on the present site.

BAPTIST BAZAAR CARNIVAL
Men of the church united with the ladies last Saturday for the annual bazaar of First Baptist Church which was held in the Moose building, some carnival features being added on this occasion. There was a good measure of patronage and the affair was quite successful.
