BENNETT ATTACKS OWN TREATY PLAN

Conservative Leader Has No Good Reason For His Criticism

So Says Minister of Finance in Defence of Canadian-American Trade Pact—Many of Terms Were Very Ones Which Former Premier Offered

OTTAWA, March 4: (CP)—Hon. Charles A. Dunning, minister of finance, in the House of Commons Tuesday, waved a letter written in November 1934, by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Leader of the Conservative Opposition (then Premier), as his basis of negotiation with Washington for a trade treaty and published last fall during the election campaign. Dunning concluded a defence of the Canadian-American trade treaty by referring to the letter and saying: "The man who wrote it is forever stopped from criticizing the treaty which this government has entered into."

Mr. Dunning used the letter in an effort to show that Mr. Bennett offered Washington many of the terms embodied in the treaty which he now attacks.

BOYS ARE SPEAKERS

Robert Manson and Bertie O'Neill Heard by Junior Chamber On Education Subjects

Much Business

Peace River Essay Contest And Museum Campaign are Under Way

Interesting deferred Education Week addresses by two King Edward High School boys—Robert Manson and Bertie O'Neill—featured last night's regular monthly dinner meeting of the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce in the Knox Hotel banquet hall. The former spoke on "The Need for Technical Arts on the Curriculum of the Prince Rupert High School" and the latter on the subject of "The Accrediting High School." The youthful speakers were introduced by R. H. Gordon of the King Edward High School teaching staff.

A rather extensive agenda of business was taken up at the meeting. S. J. Jabour reported arrangements well under way for the essay contest to be held this summer among pupils of the Peace River district on the subject of "Prince Rupert, the Logical Outlet for the Peace River."

The drive for funds for the Prince Rupert Museum Board was reported upon by C. G. Ham, who announced that circulars on the subject had already been prepared and would soon be in the mail.

The matter of rehabilitation of the Prince Rupert Boys' Band, upon which Cliff Bartlett reported, was another subject which came in for considerable discussion, the result of which was the decision to appoint a committee to assist in a central campaign of representatives of various organizations.

The giving of immediate financial aid to radio station CFPR in connection with the improving of its broadcasting facilities was also decided upon after a discussion of some length.

President Lee Gordon was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members with guests in the persons of Wilbur Hicks, C. W. Dawson and Harold Alder. During the dinner hour, there was radio entertainment with a special skit from station CFPR by Jack and Bruce Stevens.

The Boy Speakers

Robert Manson discussed the need and advantages of technical training in the High School from the angle of both boys and girls. As for the boys, many were more adapted to technical than academic training but to all such training was of inestimable value in later life. A knowledge of woodworking, internal combustion engines, etc., was always of use even to those men in the professions. Of prime importance to all girls was the matter of home economics and household arts in their various phases. The present lack of technical training facilities in the local High School, the young speaker informed his audience, prevented pupils from obtaining full standing.

Bertie O'Neill was strong in favor of the accrediting instead of the government examination system of promotions in High School. The latter created nervous strain and drudgery through cramming, causing many pupils to act—

Selassie's Surrender Imminent

With the Italian High Command in Ethiopia, March 4: (CP)—Emperor Haile Selassie's surrender to the victorious Italian armies is regarded as an imminent certainty here today as long range artillery mercilessly pounded falling remnants of Ras Imrus' army routed in a four-day battle near the Eritrean border with reported loss of twenty thousand men while other Fascist forces smashed the armies of Ras Seoum and Ras Kassa in the Tembien Mountains.

Cold Weather Is Cause of Brief Mine Close-Down

Work on the Skidegate Sunrise mine on the Queen Charlotte Islands has been closed down temporarily by Foreman W. Barrie owing to the cold weather and water shortage but is expected to be resumed as soon as there is a sufficient moderation. It is reported that plans are being made to install a mill on the property this year. Good results are said to have attended recent work on this mine and everything looks encouraging.

Activity on the Halda and Cumshewa mining properties is also expected this year.

Smithers Cold Snap Appears Almost Ended

SMITHERS, March 4:—After a heavy fall of snow here Wednesday last the weather settled down to a very fine, bright and mild condition and it is a big relief and a big contrast from the experiences of the month just passed. ## ADDRESS IS INTERESTING

Telegraph and Other Communication Developments Subject Of Gyro Club Discourse

Official Speaks

J. G. Davies, C. N. R. Telegraph General Superintendent, Is Here

The remarkable strides made in methods of communication were told in a most interesting manner to the Prince Rupert Gyro Club today by James G. Davies, general superintendent, Canadian National Telegraphs, Western Region, Winnipeg, who illustrated his address with lantern slides. He took as the subject of his address, "Transmission of Intelligence by Means of Electricity."

Going back to the year 1267 when Roger Bacon first made public the theories of electricity by discovery of what he called a "lodestone" and hinting at the first directing thought of the use of electricity for communication and being jailed for "black magic," Mr. Davies took his audience right through the entire evolution of electrical communication to the present day.

The pictures were exceptionally interesting for they showed the progressive steps made through the years in electrical communication, from the first crude instruments of telegraphy and telephone up to the present day world-wide contact by wireless and radio.

It was interesting to see the development in telegraphic communication from the time that 26 wires, each being used for a letter in the alphabet, to send out a single message to the present time when it is possible to send forty-nine messages over one pair of wires.

It was in 1650 that Otto Von Guericke evolved the first electricity producing machine and in 1726 when Wood, an Englishman, discovered that electricity could be conveyed by pieces of metal. Three years later Stephen Gray conveyed it a distance by insulated wire and in 1758 a Scotsman, Charles Morrison, brought out the first practical suggestion by having a separate wire for each letter.

The Sage in Geneva carried out Morrison's idea, attaching a plith ball electroscope to each wire in 1774.

Before and after the year 1790, Claude Chappe built semaphore systems in France by which adjustable arms were moved to give visual signals in code from one tower to another.

In 1820 Ampere placed small magnets at the ends of 26 wires to signal the letters of the alphabet. Others followed, using needles to swing right or left upon receiving pulsations.

First Telegraph Instrument

In 1837, Mr. Davies said Samuel Morse exhibited the first telegraph instrument at New York University and in 1842 his first message "What God has wrought" was transmitted from Washington, D.C. to Baltimore, Md. Then developments came swiftly. In 1858 the first Atlantic cable was laid and five years later came the transcontinental telegraph communication from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In 1895 Marconi invented wireless.

Mr. Davies then passed on to radio communication and it was somewhat startling to learn that—

MAYOR NOT SATISFIED

Charles L. Smith of Seattle Not Accepting His Elimination Without a Fight

SEATTLE, March 4:—Defeated in the mayoralty primaries here a few days ago, Mayor Charles L. Smith, candidate for re-election as Seattle's chief magistrate, has charged fraudulent counting of votes. The city election board will decide whether or not a recount is warranted.

In the primary Arthur B. Langlie, carrying the banner of the Order of Cincinnati, an organization of voters between the ages of 21 and 35, pledged to economy and efficiency in government, scored a smashing victory with 21,149 votes to head a field of fourteen mayoralty candidates. Ex-Mayor John F. Dore was second with 15,933 votes and Smith third with 14,941.

Dore also expresses dissatisfaction with the manner in which the primary voting was counted.

Unless the primary result is upset, Langlie and Dore, as two highest men in the primary, will contest the mayoralty in the election on March 10.

THE PEACE OF THE PACIFIC

It is probably a good thing for the peace of the Pacific Ocean that the United States navy is strong and that it is the intention of the American government, backed up by the people, to keep it strong and even increase its strength. It is a good thing because United States is the keeper of peace in the Pacific.

The nations that are particularly interested in the United States navy are Canada, Australia, New Zealand, all British Dominions, as well as the South and Central American countries and Mexico. Practically all of these are dependent for their defence on the United States navy. None of them have navies of their own of any importance and none could afford to undertake any great armament scheme. The United States, as the dominant power on this side of the Pacific, could not afford to allow any other country to enter on a campaign of conquest starting with any of these countries. The Monroe Doctrine covers all nations on this continent and an attempt to take Australia or New Zealand would be looked upon as endangering the United States and an unfriendly act.

Possibly it may be wondered why the British navy has not been mentioned. While it would, undoubtedly, be an important factor in the situation, the great part of that navy is at present in the Mediterranean Sea and is usually centred in European waters where it is required. Even if part of it were moved to the Pacific on the outbreak of hostilities it might be too late in arriving to be effective. On the other hand a large part of the United States navy is already on the Pacific and there is talk of increasing the strength on this coast. The ships are at once available for all emergencies and, acting in conjunction with the British vessels on the North China coast, at Hong Kong or Singapore, would provide a predominant fighting force that would be effective against any power that might threaten any of the British Dominions on the Pacific.

It is possibly wise for Canadians to remember where her strength lies because she has no defences of her own and it may pay well to cultivate the goodwill of the neighbor which saves her millions of dollars in defences and whose navy is the only effective protection this country has on this coast.

Sport Letter Box

TELKWA HEARD FROM

Sports Editor, Daily News:—

In a recent article in your paper it was stated that the Smithers junior hockey team had "cleaned up" on the Telkwa junior hockey team. That was a very unfair statement. The following is the list of games played this season:

Smithers, 10; Telkwa, 4.
Smithers, 3; Telkwa, 2.
Smithers, 1; Telkwa, 11.
Smithers, 5; Telkwa, 5.
Smithers, 1; Telkwa, 4.
Smithers, 4; Telkwa, 1.

That is a total of 24 goals for Smithers and 27 for Telkwa. This, however, does not count in deciding the best team and the official standing so far gives Smithers seven points and Telkwa five on the basis of games won, lost and drawn.

As a win means two points and we still have games to play, it isn't fair to say that the Smithers boys have cleaned up on us.

ADDRESS IS INTERESTING

only fifteen years ago, 1920, came the first broadcast by Westinghouse, Station KDKA, Pittsburgh. In 1923 radio was first installed on Canadian National Railway trains and in 1925 the development had been such that radio communication became transcontinental, broadcasts being carried over systems of the railway wires in Canada. In June, 1934, the Canadian National Telegraphs inaugurated the first direct cable service from London, England to Toronto. It is now easily possible, and has been successfully carried out for some little time, to communicate the spoken voice across the Atlantic and have two way conversation from trains moving at the speed of sixty miles an hour.

Further development came to light January 1, 1935, when it was announced by the Associated Press that a new system had been perfected to handle telephoto and it was illustrated by the fact that photos were taken at the Rose Bowl rugby game at Pasadena. As a result of this new telephoto service, pictures were printed in 38 newspapers in 24 cities the next morning alongside the news story.

This all seemed a far cry from barely sixty years ago when Alexander Bell invented the telephone.

Mr. Davies showed pictures of all the latest equipment now being used in Canada for communication purposes including the modern teletypes, automatic printers and machines which give instantaneous service for all stock exchange offices in the country, also the latest development in the communication field, the facsimile transmission equipment. This equipment is being used by the Western Union between New York and Buffalo and reproduces an exact photographed copy of the message as submitted for transmission by the sender.

Communication Troubles

The speaker revealed the troubles that communication companies have in maintaining service in a country such as this where sleet storms, etc., play havoc with line systems, but even for this they have invented detectors and other ingenious equipment that helps them get at the root of the trouble.

Moose Legion Has Banquet

Enjoyable Affair Last Night With Good Crowd in Attendance

Moose Legion, with full membership attendance, held a very enjoyable banquet in the Boston Cafe last evening. Speeches and witticisms added to the merriment of the occasion. Community singing was enjoyed with Norman Davidson at the piano.

Committee in charge consisted of Gillis Royer, Wm. Grey and A. K. Nelson.

A meeting of the Moose Legion was held following the banquet, routine matters being dealt with. Another banquet will be held April 7.

A mystery prize was won by Fred Scadden for the best rhyme.

Great North Moose A. K. Nelson was in the chair.

In short order. The pictures shown of lines disabled by sleet storms were very graphic and indicated that nature provides much handicap despite every advancement of science.

George W. Laidler, who has been here for the past week on business in connection with the W. H. Malkin Co. whose local manager, W. G. Middleton, is seriously ill, will leave by this evening's train on his return to Vancouver via Jasper Park. Mr. Laidler was formerly local manager for the company.

Gunnar Loge of Prince Rupert, who has been up in the Burns Lake and Francois Lake district for the ski season, returned to the city on last night's train. He says there was a big thaw in the interior at the week-end, the snow sinking from four to two feet in depth.

As previously intimated, it is expected Mr. Justice D. A. Macdonald will be the judge to be assigned to the Supreme Court hearing here next week of the appeal of A. J. Prudhomme against the civic assessment of the Savoy Hotel lots in the event of the matter not being settled in the meantime.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

ually detest certain subjects. The former created interest and enthusiasm and made possible better development of the pupils and a higher standard of accomplishment.

Various Activities

In regard to the Peace River essay contest, it was decided to offer as a first prize a free trip from the Peace River to Prince Rupert or an optional cash prize of $50. Second prize will be $25 with five other prizes of $5 each.

The essays will be from 1000 to 1500 words in length and the contest will be open for pupils from Grades 7 to 12. With the co-operation of William Plenderleith, school inspector of the Peace River district, three essays from each school will be sent here for final adjudication by a committee of judges consisting of T. W. Hall, W. M. Blackstock, Col. J. W. Nichols, H. F. Pullen and W. J. Raymond.

It was decided to abandon the idea of a personal canvas in connection with the campaign for museum funds and, instead, the city will be circulated for voluntary contributions.

A rather dismal picture of the situation as far as the Boys' Band was concerned was presented by Cliff Bartlett. Of 37 instruments, only two were fit for use and one of these was privately owned. It would need at least $2000 to rehabilitate the band. There had been a meeting of representatives of various organizations at which it was proposed to hold a carnival at the end of April or early in May under the leadership of the Gyro and Rotary. Cliff Bartlett will continue as chairman of the Junior Chamber's committee on the Boys' Band.

cation and recreational centre, it was decided to continue efforts to obtain assistance from the Confederation Diamond Jubilee committee for the installation of additional equipment. It was disclosed that efforts were being made to obtain the Boston Hall to augment the present old armory quarters which have become cramped.

Bert Bartlett and Clarence Insulander told of broadcasting improvements which were contemplated by station CFPR and for which financial assistance was required. It was decided to give this assistance for which value received will be accorded by the station. George Rorie was appointed chairman of the Junior Chamber's radio committee.

J. E. Wickett was instructed to proceed with the getting out of a tourist pamphlet.

Clean-up Week

A letter from the Senior Chamber of Commerce enclosed a check for $48.39, being the balance from the unemployment service campaign of last year which it was suggested be used in conducting a clean-up campaign this spring. The check was ordered acknowledged with thanks.

H. Capstick, in a letter, sought the co-operation of the Junior Chamber in connection with the moving of a street light on Tenth Avenue to a more advantageous position. The matter was referred to the city commissioner.

Johnson Russ of Greenville and Herbert Morven of Alyanah had letters before the Chamber offering the services of the bands of these two native villages if a carnival was held.

Miss Dorothy Rushbrook had a letter before the Chamber expressing appreciation for the recent opportunity of putting library matters before the public over the air.

Future Activities

Speaking of appeals for assistance which had been made by many organizations to the Junior Chamber, C. G. Ham thought these should be disbursed and the organizations encouraged to stand on their own feet.

J. C. Gilker brought up the movement of Vancouver and Halifax to be created "free ports." This, he thought, might affect the fish business of Prince Rupert. He thought the Junior Chamber might interest itself more in national matters.

Harold Alder congratulated the Junior Chamber on the progress it was making, its enthusiasm and valuable function in the community.

Future activities under contemplation by the Junior Chamber include the production of the Daily News for a day and the holding of a week end excursion.

At the next meeting of the Junior Chamber G. W. Nickerson will discuss the effect of federal tariff changes on the British Columbia fishing industry.

TERRACE

T. W. Hall, inspector of schools, and Charles Graham, mining inspector, were visitors here a few days last week on official business.

The prolonged cold weather has had the effect of paralyzing the village water system. The village commissioners are being hard put to it to reopen the frozen connections. Much inconvenience has been experienced by stores and hotels and the old world ways are again in order by which those who want water must take a pail to the nearest pump.

WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

The two big Canadian National Coast Steamships liners Prince George and Prince Rupert are both tied up alongside the company's local wharves today. The Prince Rupert, having come off the pontoon at the local dry dock Saturday following her annual overhaul, was outside the harbor yesterday on a trial run for compass adjusting, etc. after which she took up berth at wharf No. 1. The Prince George arrived on time at 10 o'clock this morning from Vancouver. Powell River and Ocean Falls and is moored at her regular berth. She will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Anyox and Stewart and, on her return to port tomorrow evening from the north, will be withdrawn from service for annual overhaul here, the Prince Rupert taking over the run with the sailing for the 7th. Capt. H. E. Neddin and other officers and members of the crew will transfer from the Prince George to the Prince Rupert. Capt. Edward Mabbs has been standing by the Prince Rupert recently and will go over to the Prince George.

Northland Transportation Co.'s motorship liner Northland, Capt. Len Williams, arrived in port at 7:45 this morning from Ketchikan and, after discharging five carloads of frozen fish for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways, sailed in continuation of a regular voyage to Seattle.

The auxiliary sailing ship Maid of Orleans, which stranded in a snowstorm last week at Boat Bluff Point and has been at Klemtu for the past few days being patched up by the Armour Salvage Co. following her refloating, is expected to arrive here possibly by tomorrow in tow of the salvage boats Algie and Daly.

Capt. J. M. Morrison and Capt. Ole Stegavig, who represented the Canadian Halibut Boat Owners Association at recent conferences in Seattle with the International Fisheries Commission and representatives of other coast halibut fleets, returned to the city from the south on the Prince George this morning.

FINE MUSIC IN PICTURE

Lawrence Tibbett Starred in "Metropolitan" at Capitol Theatre Here Tonight

For sheer musical merit, it is said that no more distinguished picture has come from Hollywood than "Metropolitan," starring Lawrence Tibbett, which is being presented at the Capitol Theatre here tonight. The picture, which presents Tibbett in selections from such operatic favorites as "Pagliacci," "Carmen" and "The Barber of Seville," also has a well-rounded plot, an engrossing love story, drama and a full share of comedy. The supporting cast includes such well known favorites as Alice Brady, Virginia Bruce, Cesar Romero and Luis Alberni.

The other feature of a double bill program tonight is "Under Pressure" in which Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe are reunited. The background is furnished by tunnelling operations beneath a New York river and the two stars are seen as "sand hogs" battling perilously against the black waters which surround them. Owing to the nature of the work, they can spend but one hour a day at it with plenty of time in the other twenty-three for life, love and laughter. The cast also includes Marjorie Rambeau, Charles Bickford, Roger Imhof and others.
