COSTS TOO MUCH NOW TO CONTINUE POLYGAMY

Mormon President Joseph F. Smith Says the High Cost of Living and High Cost of Hats and Gowns Makes Monogamy Preferable

Washington, Nov. 8.—Polygamy no longer is practised by Mormons, and the man who is caught taking a plural wife is promptly excommunicated, says Joseph F. Smith, venerable president of the Mormon Church. President Smith says that he still supports, but does not live with the wives he married prior to the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States that polygamy was unlawful, and before the church issued its manifesto forbidding plural marriages. Since his elevation to the presidency, his efforts, he said, had been directed toward inducing his followers to practise monogamy. Asked if he thought it best for a man to have but one wife, the husband of five wives and the father of forty-three children replied: "In these days of the high cost of living, there is no doubt that the average man is much better off with one wife. If a man cannot support one wife decently, it would obviously be impossible for him to support more. The women of today all demand that they be dressed and fed and housed as well as possible, and the man with an average income would be in terrible straits if he had several wives on his hands, allowing for the latest thing in hats and gowns."

A NARROW ESCAPE

Two Aviators Have Collision in the Air—Escaped With Bad Bruises.

Minneapolis, Nov. 7.—Two aeroplanes collided in mid air during an exhibition flight here yesterday. Both machines were smashed but the aviators escaped with only bad bruises.

MONTREAL'S BIRTHRATE EXCEEDS ALL THE WORLD'S GREAT CITIES

Montreal, Nov. 8.—The remarkable increase in the population of Quebec shown by the recently published census figures is explained by the birth-rate figures for Montreal which are published today. These show that Montreal has not only the highest birth rate of any of the large cities of the world, but has also a death rate only exceeded by one. The following table has been prepared by Dr. Ward, of the Civic Health Department, calculated on the per thousand of population:

City	Births	Deaths
Montreal	36.45	22.40
St. Petersburg	27.8	24.1
Berlin	25.5	14.7
London	23.6	12.7

Rome..... 23.6 18.5
Milan..... 23.3 17.1
Paris..... 18.0 16.7
Brussels..... 16.8 13.6
The general birth rate for England has fallen to 24.8. Six years ago it stood at 27.2. It reached its maximum in 1876 when it stood at 36.3 per thousand.

KYRLE BELLEW PASSES AWAY

Famous English Actor Played Many Parts on the Stage of Life—End Came Suddenly.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 8.—Kyrle Bellew, one of the foremost actors of the stage, author and explorer, died here shortly after 5 o'clock this morning of pneumonia after a brief illness. His body will be taken to New York at noon today, accompanied by the members of the "Mollusc" company in which Mr. Bellew was playing at the time he was taken ill.

Kyrle Bellew's private life was varied and adventurous as the roles he played. Born at Calcutta, in 1857, of English parentage, his father being the chaplain of Calcutta cathedral for seven years, he was a cadet in the British navy, but the discovery of gold in Australia turned him from the service and he spent a number of years in Australia working as a miner in Ballarat and as a reporter on Melbourne papers. He made his stage debut at the Theatre Royal in Brighton, England, in the early '80's and achieved immense success.

In 1900 he again felt the call of adventure and headed an expedition into North Queensland which extended over two years. He returned to the stage in 1902 at the head of his own company. His work as an explorer gained him a fellowship in the Royal Geographical Society and he was a member of many clubs.

Mr. Bellew was unmarried and is survived by a sister known as Sister Mary Monica, now living in the convent of Fourpares, Nottingham, England. Mr. Bellew always maintained his British citizenship, his home being at Thamesfield Bray, Berkshire, England.

ICE-COLD DIP AT G.T.P. SLIP

Not Poetry, but the Chill, Cold, Hard-frozen Truth as Proved by M. M. English Who Fell in the Soup Last Night.

Last night as he was landing from the launch "Agnes" at the Grand Trunk boat slip, M. M. English, manager of the B. C. Packers' Association on the Skeena River, slipped on an ice sheathed plank and plunged into the ice-cold water. He sank out of sight, and but for a sturdy heart action might have sunk to rise no more in the freezing water. But companions around, and Captain Letnes of the Agnes, hurried to his rescue and jabbing a boathook into his coat when he rose to the surface and swam within reach of them, yanked him near to the slip. He was endeavoring to scramble out, when he slipped backwards again out of the grasp of his rescuers, and went over the head again. The steel barb of the boathook stuck firmly through his coat collar prevented a recurrence of the risky pastime, and Mr. English once ashore made swift tracks towards the best going stove within reach.

"WHITE SLAVE" LECTURES Continued Interest Excited in the Majestic Series

Last night at the Majestic Theatre the illustrated lectures on the White Slave Traffic again attracted large crowds who were impressed with the substance of the lecturer's subject. The pictures showing the methods of those who take part in this nefarious business were remarkably effective. Tonight an entirely new series of films showing the sequel to the evils first illustrated will be exhibited and the lecturer will deal with this aspect of the subject in his interesting, and instructive lecture and warbling.

J. F. McDONALD LOST CASE

Judgment Given Against Him in Lawsuit Involving $504.78 and Costs. Harvey & Briggs vs. Prince Rupert Wholesale Liquor and Supply Co.

Before Judge Young in this morning's session of the County Court the case of Harvey & Briggs vs. J. F. McDonald was decided against defendant, J. F. McDonald. The action is over a promissory note, the amount of defendant's liability being $504.78 and costs. W. E. Fisher appeared for plaintiffs. Defendant was unrepresented.

WELCOME RETURN VISIT

Sherman Cleveland Opera Co. Made Good Here in August—Is Welcome as the Flowers in May.

On Saturday night in "A Stubborn Cinderella" Prince Rupert will no doubt again prove the Prince Charming of the Sherman Cleveland Opera Company. This company of talented artists did so well in August when they presented many different highly successful and amusing musical comedies, that the certainty is that they will draw bumper houses on this return visit. The company brings with it an entirely new repertoire, but some of the old favorites will very likely be staged by request. Not only the capable and effectively hard working principals of the company, but also the heartily energetic and good natured chorus will be welcomed by Prince Rupert. The girls worked with a will and to the appreciation of full houses in song, dance, and merry patter last August and will surpass themselves in "A Stubborn Cinderella."

ALD HILDITCH LOVES US SO

Chairman of Public Works Department is so Fond of Prince Rupert's Press That He is Coming to Live on Newspaper Row Near the Daily News Office.

Alderman Hilditch has purchased the store building and residential quarters formerly occupied by Messrs. Schriber and Co. on Centre street near the Anglican Church. He is to remove the building entire from its present site and take it to a new site on Third avenue near the Daily News office. Here Alderman Hilditch will take up residence, re-fitting the residential part of the building in modern manner to suit his household requirements. Possibly either now or at a later date the store premises below will be let to take advantage of the growing importance of Third avenue near McBride street as a business centre. Alderman Hilditch has made arrangements for the disposal of his house and property on Ambrose street which is rather far out of the business centre for a man of affairs like the Chairman of the Public Works Department.

Not the Millionaire

J. H. Rogers, who protested in council recently in the effort to get a clear sidewalk between his Steamship Office on Second avenue and Sixth street, is not M. K. Rogers. He wishes he was. M. K. Rogers is a mining man and reputed millionaire. Curiously enough, however, he has a brother J. H., but not our J. H.

NO WHITE HOPE BUT A BLACK

Has 112-Inch Reach and Weighs More Than Three Hundred Pounds.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—A modest colored lad, seven feet and seven inches in height, reached Chicago today on the trail of Jack Johnson. The "tar baby," who makes the white hopes look like dwarfs, gave his name as George Bell, but let it be known that he prefers to be called the "black prince," as the latter name is much more attractive he thinks.

Bell, who is but 19 years old, says he hopes some day to grow up and be a full-sized man. Whether or not the "black prince" ever achieves his full growth, he intends to attempt to spank Jack Johnson when he learns to use his pile-driver-like hands to a little better advantage. Just at present he is taking an elementary course in boxing and thinks he has the A. B. C.'s of the fist business learned.

George, unlike most tall men, is well proportioned. He weighs 327 pounds and possesses a pair of shoulders that speak of great hitting power. His reach is 112 1-2 inches. Jack Johnson boasts that his arms, extended, measures 76 inches.

The "black prince" was discovered picking cotton at Zebula, Ga., by an industrious boxing promoter, who persuaded him that it was much easier picking lemons in the ring and dollars at the box office.

NEW BALL GAME LEAGUE

Meeting Tonight in Police Court Room to Form a Fresh League to Fight for the Manson Cup.

There is to be a meeting tonight in the police court room of members of the first indoor baseball league of Prince Rupert, and all interested, with a view to the starting of another league for the exciting game. The Manson Cup which is held at present by the Royal Blue Ribbons, is a biennial trophy, and must be won twice before it can become the property of any team. Therefore the new league will have an exceptionally interesting aim in view. To wrest the trophy from the Royal Blues means going some. Be at the meeting tonight at eight p.m.

Mr. Euclid Demers, lat: of the Royal Bank, has joined the staff of the Daily News. Mr. Demers is one of the youngest "old-timers" in the city, landing here three years ago in the company of his father, Mr. Numa Demers.

RAN NIAGARA RAPIDS IN A FIFTEEN-FOOT LAUNCH

Capt. Klaus Larsen Has a Thrilling Trip Through the Great Whirlpool—Had no Mishap, But "Never Again" Says the Captain

Niagara Falls, Nov. 8.—Captain Klaus Larsen, who last year navigated the Whirlpool Rapids in the motor boat Ferro, has repeated the feat by covering the seven miles between the Falls and Lewiston in thirty-one minutes in the Niagara, a fifteen-foot motor boat. The entire trip was made without a hitch, the ten horsepower gasoline engine forcing the little craft through the rapids at sixty miles an hour.

Instead of sticking close to the Canadian shore, as he did last year, Larsen kept well in towards the American shore till he reached the head of the rapids. Striking the first giant wave of the rapids fairly, the little motor boat rose thirty feet into the air on its crest and dropped out of sight into the trough. For a second or so it looked to those ashore as if the boat had gone to the bottom. Then she bounded up on another wave, and was tossed on her mile-a-minute course down stream. She rode the waves like a cork, but came near capsizing once in spite of the seven hundred pounds of sand ballast in her hold. In the whirlpool the suction of the maelstrom was so great that for about two minutes it threatened to pull the motor boat into the swirling mass of logs and rubbish held in the water's grip.

Larsen brought his craft about sharply, and headed direct for the American shore. With his engine racing at full speed, the current tugging in the opposite direction like a giant, the Niagara stood still for what seemed to the watchers to be an eternity. Then with a leap the little craft broke nature's grip and sped out into the stream.

"I'll never make that trip again. This is the second time I've done it, and that's enough, believe me," Larsen declared after the trip. The Niagara is fifteen feet over all, five feet six inches beam, four feet eight inches deep, propelled by a ten horsepower four cycle Scripps engine. She is built of five-eighth inch pine.

MAINS FROZEN

Water Scarcity Across Creek This Morning. Even Stand-pipes Were Out of Business.

Owing to the sudden and unexpected onslaught of the Frost Fiend this week many householders are engaged in the task of solving the water problem. "Pipes Friz'?" is the morning compliment now quite "de rigueur." Across Hays Creek today even the mains have gone out of business, and the stand-pipes simply stand. There's nothing else doing from them.

PRESBYTERIANS ELECT OFFICE-BEARERS OF CLUB

Frank Ellis is President, Miss Mackenzie Vice-President, W. D. Black, Secy-Treas.—Short Discussion on Municipal Government by Commission

Officebearers were elected at the meeting of the Presbyterian Church Club last night after a short discussion on the subject of Municipal Government by Commission led by Rev F W Kerr and Mr H F McRae. Following are the officers elected:

President, Frank Ellis. Mr Ellis was not present last night, but he is to be approached by a deputation of club members informing him of his election, with a view to overcoming any "lack of time" plea which he may possibly put forward. The advantage of having so energetic a young man in this position is appreciated by pastor and members very highly. Vice-President, Miss Mackenzie. Miss Mackenzie was elected after a close contest with Miss Barker, Miss Matson, Miss Scott, and Miss MacDonald. The election was a popular one.

As Secretary, Mr. W. D. Black was appointed. He was nominated for president, but declined the nomination. Though persuaded not without difficulty to accept the appointment of secretary Mr. Black is certain to do excellent and conscientious work for the club in the position.

Owing to the sudden extreme cold, the club meeting last night was not so well attended as usual, but as soon as the members appreciate the fact that the new hall is a cosy and comfortable gathering place very different from the old shack on the reserve, cold nights will not reduce the attendance.

In the discussion on Municipal Government by Commission, no aspect of the question was broached, though the Council method found a staunch defender in W. G. Dennis who remarked that if the best governed cities in the world were governed by Council he saw no valid reason for any change. The whole matter, he said, depends on the people themselves. Good people, good government, bad people, bad government.

Rev F. W. Kerr gave a brief resume of the whole subject, emphasizing the opinion that Commission Government is best because it tends to eliminate politics, a very desirable thing. Mr H F McRae would support Commission Government because it is a sign of progress and advance, if for no other reason. He pointed out the futility of the slavish "let well alone" policy which if it had been adhered to by all would have kept the world where it was two thousand years ago.

W. Reiley gave an address on the council side, stating that he had had to do with a commission government movement before which was ending in a swing back of the pendulum he believed today. Others, however, in their short addresses showed how strong is the general opinion that Commission Government is the best system yet.

Next Wednesday night there will be a Mayoral Contest. Three contestants, to be named later, will be put up, will make speeches, and have their supporters with them. They will go up for the verdict by vote of the company present, and the successful "Mayor" will enunciate his views on immediate municipal reforms.

IS THIS THE ACTUAL STONE MOSES DREW WATER FROM?

Archdeacon Wilberforce Arouses a Great Controversy in London Over the Stone in the Coronation Chair—Points to the Cleft for Proof

(Colonial Press Despatch) London, Nov. 8.—Is the big stone in the coronation chair of Great Britain, the actual stone that Moses smote, when in anger he ordered water to come to quench the thirst of his dissatisfied followers?

Archdeacon Wilberforce implied his belief that it is in a recent sermon in Westminster Abbey, and thereby brought down on his head the scorn of the scoffers. But the archdeacon is not perturbed. He points to the cleft in the back of the stone and says that he has it on the word of "a well known archaeologist," that the in the rock was made by the staff of Moses, when he struck the rock. The question as to whether or no the coronation stone is the stone that Moses knew, promises to become the "silly season topic" for London this year.

An old Scottish legend that came with the stone, says that it was the original stone on which Jacob pillowed his head at Luz, when he saw the vision of the angels ascending and descending from heaven.

"COUNCIL-MANIAC GOVERNMENT"

Singularly Appropriate New Word Coined at Presbyterian Club Meeting Last Night.

In the course of a few remarks on Government by Commission in the Presbyterian Club Hall last night a speaker stumbled a little over the phrase "Aldermanic" and "Council Government." He combined the terms conveniently in the phrase "Councilmanic" but to a reporter present, whose recent experience may have colored his imagination got the word down "Councilmanic" form of Government. "Councilmanic" seems too good a term to lose.

THE EXPERIENCE OF OKLAHOMA CITY

Oklahoma City is another of the larger cities of the United States that has been led to adopt commission government, in its endeavor to eliminate boss rule, machine politics and ring methods from its civic life.

Its experience of commission government dates only since June last, but already the benefits of business methods in municipal corporation affairs have proved themselves. The city has a commission of five. The Mayor acts as president of the commission.

The following letter from Mayor Whit M. Grant gives a hint of what Oklahoma City had to face to secure commission government, and of the success which has followed its endeavors:

"This city has been under commission government since June 8th last passed, which form of government was attained by the people after having four consecutive defeats at the polls due to election corruption and administrative control of the election machinery.

"Since the inauguration of the present form of municipal government in this city, many reforms have been put into effect; much of the people's money has been saved and the proposed plans to be inaugurated by the commissioners look to still greater savings, notwithstanding the fact that the commissioners have been harassed at every turn by the old political ringsters, within and without the party, who have used every endeavor to make the new form of government a failure, partly to cover up the radical shortcomings of their old form of aldermanic government.

Respectfully,

WHIT M. GRANT, Mayor

THE Pillar of Light

By Louis Tracy

Constance laughed. "Perhaps she knew dad years ago," she said. "What do you think Mr. Pyne said about her?" "How can I tell? Did you speak of her to him?" "I told him she had fainted when you delivered his message. He said: 'Guess she can faint as easy as I can fall off a house.' Isn't he funny?" "I think he is splendid," said Constance.

The wren was now wholly demolished. The first big wave of the retreating tide enveloped the lighthouse and smote it with thunderous silence. Screams came from the women's quarters.

"Go, Enid," said Constance. "Tell them they have nothing to fear. They must expect these things to happen for nearly two hours. Tell them what dad said. Twenty-five years, you know."

Brave hearts! What infinite penetration inspired the man who first said "Noblesse oblige!" Constance looked in at the kitchen. Pyne loomed through a fog of steam. "You need to be here—she was interrupted by another mighty thump and cataract roar—"these blows of Thor's hammer," she cried.

"Play me for an anvil," he returned. She descended to the depths, to reassure the men. Talking with shrill cheerfulness at each. "It's not with fear, she was proud of the lighthouse, strong in the knowledge of its majestic strength. Nevertheless, in this place, the source of her own sense of security, she found uneasiness among the men. They were all sailors in this lowest habitable region. Their preconceived ideas had been rudely reversed. The swept storm by yielding to its utmost fury, had for them no terrors. But the stark pillar which flinched from no assault bewildered them. It was impossible to believe that it could withstand the strain. Ha! Listen to that. The battering-ram of ocean applied to a thin shaft of stone. Surely it must be pounded into fragments.

"By Jove!" he said. "What's to be done?" "In the first place, you must help me maintain our discipline and leave the rest to me. Tomorrow will be an absolute impossibility. On the next day, with luck and a steady moderation of the weather, we may devise some desperate means of landing all the active men or getting fresh supplies. That is in the hands of Providence. I want you to warn your officers, and men, who you can trust, of the salors or civilians. Better arrange three watches. My daughters will have charge of the stores. By going through the lists in the store-room I can portion out the rations for six days. I think we had better fix on that minimum."

"Of course I will back you up in every way," said Mr. Emmett, who felt chilly during the night. "I know you are acting wisely, but I admit I am scared at the thought of what may happen—if those days pass and no help is available."

Brand knew what would happen, and it was hard to lock the secret in his heart. He felt the one thing carved in stone upon the tablets of his brain, a thing to be fought out behind barred door, revolver in hand. Whatever else took place, if men and women, perhaps his own sweet girls, were dying of thirst and starvation, the light must shine at night over its allotted span of 80 chains. There, on the little table beside him, lay the volume of Rules and Regulations. What did it say?

"The keepers, both principal and assistant, are enjoined never to allow any interests, whether private or otherwise, to interfere with the discharge of their public duties, the importance of which to the safety of navigation cannot be overrated."

"There was no ambiguity in the words, no halting sentence which opened a way for a man to plead; thought it best. Those who framed the rule meant what they said. No man could bend the steel of their intent."

To end the intolerable strain of his thoughts Stephen Brand forced his lips to a thin smile and his voice to say harshly: "If the worst comes to the worst, there are more than three thousand gallons of colza oil in store. That should maintain life. It is a vegetable oil."

Then Constance thrust her glowing face into the lighted area. "Dad," she cried, cheerfully, "the men wish to know if they may smoke. Poor fellows! They are so miserable—so cold and damp and dreary down there. Please say 'Yes.'"

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

The truth of the old adage is brought home to us forcibly every day of our lives. Whether it be the stitch in time or the clever expedients of which many of us know, the ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

A Dozen Different Hints Where the Old Adage Comes in Handy.

If you have added a ribbon top to your silk stocking, for instance, you would still have silk hose. The openwork results of a lack of foresight must be thrown away and your economical sense must suffer. So let us look into a few hints that will help us to prevent the little disasters that irritate and annoy.

Does your low slipper or pump slide away at the heel? Here is a suggestion: Put in at the back a piece of chamois or velvet. The soft pile must be placed so that it will touch the stocking and cling to it, thereby holding the shoe down. Surely this is easy adjusted! Think how many heels—both of stockings and of wearers—can be saved!

"If I had only taken an hour to shrink the linen before making" wailed a woman the other day. She had a suit fitted and made. It is now too small. If we can pass her wool to you for your profit then she has not regretted in vain.

Always shrink linens. It is easy. Thoroughly immerse the material in clear water, keeping it in the smooth folds. Hang up, still in the folded condition on a line. When dry you will have no misgivings in the making. Here, indeed, is a valuable ounce of prevention.

To prevent a gaping skirtband, why not sew eyes on the band of the blouse? Hooks on the waist will then keep the line at the waist unmarred by rising belts. The neatness here is a sign of the well-dressed woman. Is the ounce of prevention worth a few minutes of your time?

To prevent a shiny appearance on serge, rub it with fine emery paper. This raises the nap and destroys the unwelcome sheen. Do this on pressing days. You will repeat the dose. It is too easily given, and the results are too apparent.

Shoes that you wish to prevent from cracking should be treated to a coating of olive oil. Rub the liquid into the leather and remove all superfluous oil with a soft flannel. Enough will be absorbed to soften the grain and render it pliable, with little possibility of cracking. There is no excuse for broken and split leather if you treat shoes with care.

A little piece of cotton placed in the finger tips of gloves will prevent the nails from cutting the ends. Do not overdo the matter, but give enough to protect without padding. You never thought of that, did you? This hint is especially acceptable to the woman who prefers long finger nails, try it.

TAILORED FROCKS

Today's Designs are Delightfully "Different"

The tailored frock of today is in many respects entirely different from the tailored frock of last spring. The absolutely plain, two-and-a-half-yard-wide trotter skirt of the present day, of silk cashmere, or fine wale serge in taupe, sage green or slate blue, has no visible opening, and its normally placed belt is attached to a blouse of taffeta, striped in two tones, and trimmed with a shoulder collar of the same material as the skirt. The sewed-in conventionally shaped sleeves are absolutely plain, fit closely about the wrists, and cover almost half of the hands; they are an excellent type of the sleeve to be generally worn in the very near future.

Cadron Punch

The juice of one dozen oranges, six lemons, and one pineapple. One-half cup syrup of ginger, one pound of sugar dissolved in a cup of boiling water, and allowed to cool. A cup of tea of strong brew. Mix and set away to ripen. When ready to use, add four bottles of ginger ale, and enough carbonated water to make the desired quantity. A few candied cherries may be put on top if desired.

Tobacco is King

F. R. Gregory of Leamington states that the following prices were paid to Kent County farmers for their tobacco crops:

H. W. Arnold, nine acres, $2,400; George Blackburn, nine acres, $2,350; W. Pickering, seven acres, $1,680; George Stephens, 100 acres, $1,800; Wm. Snow, 28 acres, $6,500; W. R. McGregor, 22 acres, $5,500; Neil Campbell, 12 acres, $3,200.

Horde of Immigrants

During the second quarter of this year, says a White Paper issued, 138,744 alien immigrants landed in the United Kingdom, making the total for the first half of the year 22,888. Aliens leaving numbered 29,535, and during the quarter 129 expulsion orders were made.

Church While You Wait

Woman Pastor Shows Others How to Hustle

Mrs. Martha S. Trimble is a minister of a church at Gary, Ind., and recently she superintended the building of a new church that went up like magic. The first stake was driven at 1.30 o'clock and at 2 the floor was being laid. As soon as the walls were up the electricians began to string the wires at 4 the roof was being shingled soon after the molders were perfecting the baptistry, and at 8 the finishing touches were being put to the church and the minister was holding the first service.

French Cookies

Two and one-half cups sugar, three eggs well beaten, two-thirds cup melted butter, one-half cup sweet milk, three level teaspoonfuls baking powder, add caraway seed or ginger. Roll thin and bake quickly.

Egg Plant

This is often a difficulty with an ordinary cook. The following I got from a tropical home, where we grew egg plants as big as huge cannon balls: Peel and cut in slices half an inch or three-quarters of an inch thickness, soak in salt and water for an hour; take out

Boiled Chocolate Icing

In a saucepan melt two cups of sugar and one-quarter pound or four squares of chocolate and one cup of hot water. Cook until the syrup will form a thread. Take from the fire and stir until the top begins to coat over with a thin skin. Use at once before it cools any more.

Edict Against Long Hatpins

Berlin's police president has issued an edict against long unprotected hatpins. This came after an unsuccessful appeal to the women of the city to lay aside the hatpins. When the appeal was made after several serious accidents had occurred little attention was paid to it by the fair sex. Then came the edict.

Two Years Penalty for Women Who Cause Hatpin Hurt

The strong measure states that any woman who inflicts an injury upon another person with her unprotected hat pin will be liable to serve two years in the penitentiary pay a fine of over two hundred dollars and damages to the injured person amounting to fifteen hundred dollars.

FREE TRIP ROUND THE WORLD

We have just arranged with one of our clients to place forty-two lots on the market under exceptional advantages to the purchasers. The lots are some of the best in Sections 7 and 8. The prices are as low as any on the market, and the terms so easy—monthly—that anyone can buy. Along with this exceptional offer, each lot admits the purchaser to a drawing for a FREE TRIP ROUND THE WORLD. If you hold the lucky ticket the trip is yours; or you can surrender it for a cash consideration. The chances are good—one in forty-two. Come in and investigate.

CHILDREN OWN A STREET

Need for Proper Playgrounds in Chicago Has Occasioned Novel Move.

The city of Chicago has come to the rescue of children and has turned a street in the crowded Italian colony on the north side into a playground. Mayor Harrison closed Gault court to everything except the necessary traffic after a committee of settlement worker and playground secretaries had called on him. For the remainder of the summer and through the warm bright days of the autumn, all auto trucks, delivery wagons and speeding automobiles will be barred from Gault court and the street will be turned over to the children from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. every day.

On these hours the only vehicles that will pass the policemen on guard at each end will be the delivery wagons with goods destined for homes along the street. Mayor Harrison was told that there are 2,670 children in the two precincts through which Gault court runs, and that late in the afternoon of July 7 there were 19 playing in the street in one block. Many accidents have resulted from the joint use of the street by the children and heavy traffic vehicles. It is the only place the "kids" have in which to play.

Applications will be received up to November 25th, 1911, by the Board of Directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital Association from women wishing to take a full course of training in nursing.

Warm gloves and mitts—Wallace's.

SPORTS

Talking about champions and the purses they get, why should Ad Wolgast get $22,000 and Matt Wells only $10,000? Both are champions. Wells is champion of Great Britain and Wolgast of America, although he is credited with being the world's champion. However, a boxer must beat the world's best to become world's champion and Wolgast has never beaten Wells. There is nothing fair about the proposition and it hurts the game.

The candidacy of Allen T. Baum, as president of the Pacific Coast League, to succeed Thomas F. Graham, resigned, is endorsed by J. Cal Ewing, father of the league, who has just returned from the east. This means that Baum is practically certain to be head of the organization next year.

Bob Fitzsimmons was a journeyman blacksmith working hard for his daily bread at Timaru, New Zealand, when he entered Jim Mace's boxing competition in 1880. He defeated four men and won the middleweight amateur championship of that country. The following year he won the same competition and then decided to put up his hands as a means of livelihood.

It is said that the new four club lacrosse league for next season is an assured fact. The four teams will be:

Tecumseh of Toronto.
Torontos of Toronto, the present team.

Montreal of Montreal.
Nationals of Montreal.

The proposition is to have a triple schedule, giving each team nine home games.

The Toronto Street Railway Company will still control the Toronto franchise.

Will Billy Marchant, the English featherweight, accomplished what many boys from across the pond have failed at—wrestling the title from Abe Attell?

"Lightning Billy" as the Britisher is known at home, is said to be as clever as Jim Driscoll, the champion of Great Britain.

Marchant was picked by Will Ames, the London manager of boxers, to meet the best boys in America. Manager Ames has the greatest confidence in Marchant to win the championship of the world and for that reason wants to arrange a match with Abe Attell. Ames will go after the featherweights with the ultimate object of getting Attell. Already he has matches booked at New York and New Orleans.

Marchant has had many battles the past year and has won all of them, going pitted against some very clever English lads. If he is as good as Jim Driscoll, or anyway near as good, he will create a sensation, for there are few boxers living who compare with Driscoll.
