Five men died later at Three Rivers, twenty-five miles away, and here. Six more are in hospital with varying chances for living and six others are receiving treatment.

TERRACE

Mr. and Mrs. John Loen held a birthday party at their present home on the Keith Place. There was a large gathering of friends and relatives. Dancing, cards and games were enjoyed. There were no less than four birthday cakes, adorned with the requisite number of candles in observance of four birthdays.

Tuesday evening's train presented a lively scene at Terrace Station as the many excursionists and Prince Rupert Elks returning from Smithers stepped on to the platform for a few minutes' stroll. Conductor W. D. Moxley was among them, meeting for a brief chat many friends here.

Miss Betty Anderson has been visiting her parents here for the past week. She has for some months been at Vernon, where she has a position. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and Miss Betty took the train Thursday to Hazelton whence they will motor back to the Okanagan.

'SPORT'

SPORT CHAT

Miss Kay Stammers, England's No. 1 woman tennis player, is to have a film test. It will not deal with tennis, to avoid conflict with the amateur rules of the Lawn Tennis Association.

Believed to be the world's oldest lawn bowler, Thomas Carey, 103, died recently in Maryport, Southampton. He joined the Maryport club at the age of 30 and played every season for 72 years.

B. Schubert of Sydney was credited as the first Australian golfer to make a hole-in-one this year. His tee shot on the first hole was a mighty wallop, so much so in fact, it landed into the cup on the second green.

So elated was Catcher Ray Hayworth of Detroit Tigers when he clubbed his first home run in eight years in his home ball park that he called the press box by phone to lay the facts before the scribes.

A friendly soccer match ended in Johannesburg, South Africa, with players and spectators participating in a minor free-for-all. It all started when a spectator who had committed a foul during the game.

F. W. Berridge, winner in 1934, regained the One-Armed Golfer's championship recently when he beat the holder, R. McKarell, 4 and 2 in the final round at Prestatyn, England.

Shouting of "fore" seems essential to golf players in the danger zone. An erring golfer at Capetown forgot to yell and the ball hit a player on the 13th green. He was knocked down but continued unhurt.

Preparations are being completed for an eight-day, $12,000 automobile race over the 1,952 mile, highway from Montevideo, Uruguay, to the capital of Brazil, Rio de Janeiro. The race starts in Montevideo November 29 and ends December 6.

During a soccer game at Bloemfontein, South Africa, between Pirates and Mental Hospital, the former team asked the referee to cancel a "freak" goal scored by them. A minute later the hospital team scored and won.

Although not competing in the Olympic Games, a Turkish national soccer team was sent to watch the matches—and perhaps get a few pointers.

Following the women's field hockey tournament at Capetown recently when several players were injured, a young man wrote to a newspaper "I always associate women hockey players with ungainly figures and awkward carriages."

Manager of the Levin Sportsmen, a semi-pro baseball club in Atchison, Kansas, will think twice before lending his bats again. His team beat the St. Joe Stockyards 5-4 recently and in a return engagement lost 21-3. The St. Joe team forgot its bats and the clubs were shared.

Man in the Moon

Good afternoon. How about an parasol parade tomorrow

I have heard of places where men are so scarce that the girls had to take their swimming lessons out of a book.

Gossip is telling harmless little facts about your neighbor. Scandal is guessing things that are not right and passing them on in whispers.

The summer season for weddings is about over and now the young couples are finding out that two cannot live as cheaply as one. Possibly next year they will find that three cost more to keep than two.

Rev. Robert Connell has been expelled from the C.C.F. and now I am wondering if he feels so very badly about it.

A political parson Connell With his party did not get on well

They just hit him a swat And said you are not Our leader so get you to ----.

But Connell came back with a swoop,

And a whiz and a bang and a whoop; He said I don't need That old party to lead I'll form my own C.C.F. troupe.

Theo Collart At Buckingham

Theo Collart, writing from London, says that on the day of writing he was at Buckingham Palace and got a picture of King Edward VIII who came to see the pilgrims and received a tremendous reception. Unluckily, a heavy shower of rain broke up the party. The King spoke to them from the balcony saying he was sorry for the rain but they must not blame him for it. Mr. Collart says he is enjoying every minute of the trip. He was leaving that week for Paris. He remembered the Prince Rupert flower show and said he hoped it would be a success. The country in France and England he found lovely with flowers everywhere.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS

"How old is this city?" inquired a visitor this week of a local resident. The reply was that it was about a quarter of a century ago that the city was incorporated.

"And how much highway have you had built by your government outside of the city?" was the next question. The local resident was forced to admit that about ten to twelve miles was all the road there was except the part built by the Prince Rupert city with borrowed money, a borrowing which eventually forced the city into bankruptcy.

The visitor, who happened to be a resident of Southern British Columbia, expressed the opinion that half a mile a year for twenty-five years was pretty slow work and the local residents had every cause to complain of the treatment accorded it by the various governments at Victoria.

The visitor suggested that the reason Prince Rupert people were discriminated against was because they were not a unit in demanding in season and out of season that their complaints be heard. They were easy-going in regard to this. There was no roar made when it was suggested the Alaska Highway might take precedence of the Skeena Highway nor was there a strong protest when the Chamber of Commerce urged that the highway the other side of Terrace should take precedence of that connecting this city with the first village east. He felt they were too much dominated by politics and by powerful interests to fight like they did in the Maritimes in the east for what they thought would be in the best interests of the people.

The suggestion was made that the people here should organize an "On to Terrace Highway Association" that would bombard Victoria to such an extent that the residents of the south would realize that here was a real necessity that the people here were determined to have if they were to remain a part of the province of British Columbia. While our members would, doubtless, do their best for us, there had to be a campaign of publicity that would back up their efforts and would influence public opinion in favor of developing the north. It was useless, the visitor said, to blame the Legislature or any members. They were bound to a very large extent by public opinion. Prince Rupert should create a new sentiment in the south toward opening up the north and that sentiment should include the connecting up of Prince Rupert with interior points and the admission of tourists to the city streets with their own cars.

ferent and gave the visitors a good opportunity to make many photographs. Considerable time was spent here. The party being quite fascinated by the unusual sight. The visit was continued from here to Lake Mildred when the visitors returned to the Lodge and showed keen interest in the immense size of the main Lodge, which is one of the largest log buildings in the world. His Excellency was most enthusiastic. "An absolutely charming place in a magnificent setting" he said to manager John O'Brien as he stepped from the front door.

Unfortunately the weather man did not rise to the occasion and had most of the mountains covered with intermittent showers during the day. There were just enough breaks however to give His Excellency an idea of the scenic splendor which lay beyond. Following the inspection of Jasper Park Lodge His Excellency and party returned to Jasper town where they visited one or two of the shops and also stopped to look at the famous original totem pole at the east end of the station. The car which carried Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir was driven by Don Millar, of Vancouver, who is a fourth year medical student at the University of Alberta. His Excellency kept up a running conversation with the young driver and at the conclusion of the drive shook hands with him and thanked him for a most interesting trip. He presented Millar with a sterling silver lighter upon which was engraved the Tweedsmuir crest. Millar is now the happiest man at Jasper Park Lodge. Accompanying Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir were their two sons, Hon. Alistair Buchan, and Hon. John Buchan, and members of their personal and secretarial staffs.

ORME IS HONORED

Handsome Gift Made by Prince Rupert Conservative Association Last Evening

Members of the Prince Rupert Conservative Association, more especially the pioneer ones, gathered last evening at the Canadian Legion rooms to the number of some twenty or thirty to honor Cyril H. Orme, long a prominent, active and popular member of the party here, with a farewell presentation on the eve of his departure for Victoria to reside. The presentation was made by the president, George Hill, to Mr. Orme of a handsome gold wrist watch, suitably engraved. Mr. Hill made suitable comment in making the presentation and Mr. Orme expressed his great appreciation in reply. Other speakers included George J. Dawes, Ray Love and D. C. Stuart, each of whom expressed comment suitable to the occasion, voicing the general regret at Mr. Orme's departure.

Mr. Orme and son, Eric, will sail for Victoria on the Prince George Monday afternoon. Mrs. Orme and daughter, Mary Helen, sail this evening on the Prince Rupert.

Former Officer Of Army Here Is Wedded in South

Adjutant Eva Laycock, local commandant of the Salvation Army, returned to the city on the Prince Rupert yesterday from Vancouver where she went to attend the marriage of Lieut. Hilda Bridge, until recently her assistant in the Army work here, to Capt. Lawrence Hansen of Port Alberni.

The Salvation Army Citadel of Vancouver was the scene of the impressive ceremony on Tuesday last. Lieut. Bridge is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Bridge of Vancouver. The ceremony was performed by Brigadier A. E. Dalziel, Divisional Commander for Southern British Columbia.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the regulation Salvation Army uniform, as did the bridesmaid, Adjutant Eva Laycock. The groom was attended by Capt. Peter Gorrie of Vernon.

A reception was held, following the ceremony, among the guests being the Misses Pierce of Prince Rupert.

Capt. and Mrs. Hansen left for Shawnigan Lake where they will spend their honeymoon before proceeding to their appointment at Port Alberni.

Many beautiful gifts were received by Lieut. Bridge at a bridal shower held in her honor at her home in Vancouver the day preceding the wedding. The rooms were prettily decorated in pink and white. Forty-six guests spent a very happy evening with a buffet luncheon. Mrs. Bridge, mother of the bride-to-be, poured tea. Adjutant Eva Laycock of this city poured coffee.

Mrs. Hansen, who has been the assistant officer of the local Corps of the Salvation Army for the past two years, has the best wishes of all who knew her.

Halibut Boats Uncertain—Sockeye Run Virtually Over—Gales Affect Trolling

There is some uncertainty following the closing of Area No. 2 as to how many vessels of the Prince Rupert fleet will continue fishing in the fall in the more remote Area No. 3. There are eighteen vessels still out at this time, some of which are believed to be rounding off their final halibut catches in Area No. 2 with black cod. Some of the smaller halibutters will turn to salmon trolling for a time, it is expected, while there is the possibility of charter work being available for a limited number. Quite a few of the larger vessels will, of course, continue halibut fishing as long as the season in Area No. 3 remains open.

While the date for the closing of fishing with sockeye nets in Prince Rupert district was extended this week from August 14 to August 21, it is expected to make little difference to the actual fishing for this variety. This week the run has fallen off to three or four sockeye per boat and during the extra week practically none are likely to be caught. The pink run is also showing definite signs of falling off and the canning season on the mainland is gradually tapering off to a close except for a few of the plants which will continue in operation to pack fall fish.

Southeast gales during the past week or so have seriously affected salmon trolling operations around the Dundas and Stephens Islands and Rose Spit fishing grounds outside of Prince Rupert although there is still a good run of coho on. There are quite a number of boats in operation around Milbank Sound where a substantial run is reported.

Members of the local staff of the Imperial Oil Limited and their wives spent a happy evening on Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Rix, Westview, when they gathered in a farewell party in honor of Miss Gertrude McKenzie, a popular member of the staff, who is leaving for Vancouver.

The feature of the evening's proceedings was the presentation to Miss McKenzie of a beautiful sterling silver brush, comb and mirror handsomely designed in the new Princess Marina pattern. The evening was enjoyably spent in dancing, singing and games after which delicious refreshments were served.

Miss McKenzie, after having been a member of the local staff for eleven and a half years, has been transferred to head office in Vancouver. She will be greatly missed by those who have worked with her as well as by numerous friends. She leaves this evening on the Prince Rupert.

Farewell Party Held Thursday

Members of Staff of Imperial Oil Honor Miss Gertrude McKenzie

The frequent visits to town of late of Oscar Haveroy when one would think that he would under normal circumstances be spending the most of time on the high seas in pursuit of his fisheries duties together with the little time he has these days to associate with his old friends combine to substantiate the report that Oscar is having an affair of the heart. It seems that a Norwegian lady, through whose veins royal blood flows, recently arrived in town and that Oscar has been paying court with a measure of success. Anyhow, there is something strange afoot in Oscar's life just now and the information we have been able to glean would seem to be as reasonable as any. Next thing we expect to hear will be the setting of the date. Nice going, Oscar!

Halibut Landings

With many of the smaller Canadian vessels landing their final catches of the season following the closing of Area No. 2 to fishing for the year, halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the past week totalled 442,700 pounds of which 357,200 pounds was from Canadian vessels and 85,500 pounds from American. This brought the total for the 1936 season to date up to 7,938,800 pounds as compared with 7,165,150 pounds at a corresponding date last year. The total for Canadian boats so far this year is 4,549,700 pounds in comparison with 3,311,650 pounds at a similar date in 1935. American total this year so far is 3,389,100 pounds as against 3,853,500 pounds a year ago. Princes during the week showed a higher tendency than for the week previous. For Canadian fish the high price of the week was 8.1c and Cedar timber taken out along the new Skeena River highway towards Cloyah Bay and to be used in construction of a bridge at Oona River on Porcher Island was trucked into the government wharf during the last few days and will be taken aboard a scow to Oona River.

There were 191 passengers in all aboard the steamer Princess Alice which was in port yesterday northbound from Vancouver to Skagway. Of these 165 were round trippers. There were no passengers for Prince Rupert aboard the vessel which took two from here.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. Henry Anderson, arrived in port at 8:30 last evening
