SCHOOL IS DESTROYED

Walcott Institution of Learning Is Demolished by Fire

Fire destroyed the school building at Walcott in the interior on Thursday evening last at about 7:30 o'clock.

The cause of the fire is unknown as there was very little fire in the stove when the teacher left the building after the close of school and it was several hours later when the building was destroyed.

The building and all the contents, including a piano and most of the books belonging to the pupils, were totally destroyed. It is understood that both building and equipment were covered by insurance but the heaviest loss will be borne by the families who have to buy new books for their children which will not be easy for some of them.

Arrangements have been made already for carrying on school in a building which is being fitted up temporarily for that purpose.

OWNERS OF BOATS MEET

Various Matters in Connection With 1936 Halibut Fishing Up Last Night With Agreement on Some Points

The Canadian Halibut Vessel Owners' Association, at a meeting last night, agreed to accept a proposal of the International Fisheries Commission that, when boats go out in the fall to fish black cod after the halibut fishing has been closed in one area, they be permitted to bring in with the black cod fifteen percent of halibut so long as any halibut fishing area on the coast is still open to fishing.

A ten-day tie-up between trips for halibut boats this season was also agreed upon and the boat owners further agreed to reduce the fishing quota per trip in Area No. 2 from 3000 to 2500 pounds per man. In reducing the fishing quota, the Canadians are complying with a suggestion of the Seattle fleet which is under a quota limit of 2500 pounds.

The idea of a date for closing the issuance of clearances for final trips of the season instead of an arbitrary date for closing of fishing was also approved.

The boat owners further agreed that boats the names of which start with letters A to L should leave for the banks first this season, the boats from M to Z following a week later. This is to be done in the interests of a better distribution of catches arriving on the market.

The meeting of boat owners was presided over by Capt. George Fritz, president of the Canadian Halibut Vessel Owners' Association, and Capt. J. M. Morrison and Capt. Ole Stegavig, delegates to recent conferences in Seattle, presented their reports.

Matters decided upon at the boat owners' meeting are subject to approval by the control board which is in session today.

MAID OF ORLEANS ARRIVES

Famous Old Sailing Schooner Is Brought Here Following Stranding

Not Holed

Extensive Damage Has Been Done, However, by Effects of Water

The Armour Salvage Co.'s salvage boat Algie arrived in port at 8 o'clock last night from Klemtu with the famous old American auxiliary schooner Maid of Orleans which was stranded and sank a week ago on Boat Bluff Point on Sarah Island near Milbank Sound, later being refloated and taken to Klemtu where she was pumped out prior to being brought here. Salvage operations were directed by Capt. W. P. Armour, manager of the company. The vessel may be taken on the dry dock although instructions were being awaited this morning.

After a twenty-hour tow from Klemtu, the Maid of Orleans was jelled here safely by the Algie and is now moored alongside the salvage company's floats, instructions as to what is to be done with the water-damaged cargo being awaited.

Except for a dented forefoot, Capt. Paul Armour stated this morning that the hull of the ship is undamaged and not holed. Extensive damage has, of course, been done to cargo and the interior of the 125-foot two-masted schooner through the effects of water as she was practically entirely submerged after she slid as the tide receded following her stranding. The Daly, arriving at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, brought back the scows and pumping equipment. The fisheries patrol steamer Malaspina, which had been standing by the Maid of Orleans, came in shortly after the Daly.

Before the trip to Prince Rupert could be started the old ship had to be put back on an even keel, battened up and three big pumps were used to take the water out of her.

The Maid of Orleans, which was insured, has a beam of twenty-four feet and is equipped with a 150 h.p. Atlin Imperial diesel engine.

Details of Stranding

The Maid of Orleans was enroute from Seattle to the Aleutian Islands with general cargo when the stranding occurred in a blinding snowstorm early on Wednesday morning of last week. The ship struck on the high tide and for six hours the crew stayed aboard, thinking she would stay firm. With the falling tide, however, she took a list and slid back, filling and rolling over on her beam-ends. Meantime, the crew took to the lifeboats. Some lost all their clothing and effects when the ship went under. Some of the cargo was also badly damaged.

The crew, consisting of thirteen men and two women, were given shelter at Boat Bluff light, a quarter of a mile from the scene of the stranding, by Mr. and Mrs. H. White. When the salvage boats arrived from Prince Rupert the Maid of Orleans was towed three miles into the sheltered bay at Klemtu and beached for pumping prior to being brought here.

Six members of the crew, includ-

No less than six hundred cases of violence were reported yesterday as picketing of buildings to prevent strike-breaking became general.

Arrangement Made by United States Treasury to Purchase Silver Through Canada Bank

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 5: (CP)—The United States Treasury yesterday centralized purchases of Canadian silver by authorizing the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to purchase through the Bank of Canada newly minted metal "in amounts specified by the treasury." It was said the arrangement had no particular significance, being designed merely to create a specific arrangement for the purchase of silver known to be newly mined. Purchases will be made at prevailing market prices.

Previously acquisitions had not been distinguished between newly mined and other stocks of silver.

The Silver Purchase Act, directed by the Treasury, is designed to build up silver stocks to a one-third gold base or until the price has reached $1.29 per ounce.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau said that the agreement was expected to absorb the entire silver output of the Dominion of Canada estimated at sixteen million ounces annually. He said that the Treasury would fix the price rather than be governed by the prevailing New York price which is today a quarter of a cent lower than the Treasury figure. It is available for sale to the United States this year. Under the London that similar arrangements might be negotiated with other American silver-producing countries.

Report Confirmed

OTTAWA, March 5: (CP)—Bank of Canada officials yesterday confirmed the Washington announcement that United States silver purchases would be made exclusively through the central bank. The bank will be notified daily of the United States Treasury offer which will be transmitted to the Canadian producers who may sell through the bank or not as they wish.

The amount which the United States will accept for this year will be determined when final silver production figures for Canada are submitted.

Much of Canada's silver comes as by-product of gold and copper mines but the majority is from the silver-lead-zinc ores of British Columbia.

Dominion government officials said today that they expected fourteen million ounces of silver would be available for sale to the United States this year. Under the London silver agreement which expires next year Canada agreed to buy 1,671,802 ounces of silver from Canadian mines. The Dominion's output in 1934 was 16,415,282 ounces and last year's output figures are expected to be little changed.

A START IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

Great Britain and the Irish Free State have made a joint move in the right direction. They have agreed to a reciprocity treaty under which the duties on cattle entering Britain have been reduced and five shillings a ton has been lifted from British coal entering the Free State.

Like all other wars the tariff war between Britain and the Irish Free State has been a losing game for both sides. In the present agreement both will benefit and probably a greater extension of the reciprocity would still further benefit each country.

Before the world develops to a point where wars will be unnecessary there will have to be tariff reductions on a considerable scale. It is useless for a country to pretend to be friendly with its neighbor and at the same time try to take the bread from the neighbor's mouth. Friendship will have to go beyond ceasing to kill each other. There will have to be other signs of friendship before we settle down to a life of real peace and amity.

WHAT IS HIS OPINION?

If you ask a man what he thinks of Prince Rupert he may tell you that it is a rainy city, lacking both business and business ideals, shut in from the rest of the world and suffering from a permanent cramp that is holding back its progress. On the other hand, he may tell you that Prince Rupert is one of the prettiest little cities on the continent, ideally located commercially and residentially. He may tell you that both merchants and residents try to please visitors and are progressive, broad minded, free from all pettiness and always ready to help a neighbor. He may even say there is no place in which he would rather live than Prince Rupert.

And what is curious is that the person who holds either of these views about this city will hold very similar views about any other place if he lives there long enough to know and be known.

Some people are always looking for the good points about a community and are ready to help improve them. Other people are always ready to criticize and seldom do anything to make the conditions better. You tell what sort of people your neighbors are by the views they hold about their home town.

Prices Reasonable and Quality Excellent—Drop in Eggs Expected

With supplies abundant and quality excellent, orange prices are low these days on the local retail market. The removal of duties on citrus fruits from the United States under the new American-Canadian trade treaty is, of course, responsible for the more reasonable prices.

A sharp decline in egg prices is expected at once following the arrival of milder weather.

The butter market is firm with a slight advance in prices recently but whether or not the advance will hold is questionable.

Four Entries In Billiard Contest

Neil Cameron, Present Champion, To be Opposed by M. Carey, Don Brown and C. Baptie

Four entries have been made for the individual city billiard championship tournament in which play will get under way at the first of next week. The entrants are Neil Cameron, the defending champion; M. Carey, former champion at Anxox, Don Brown and Charlie Baptie.

First round games will be to a total of 500 points and the draw is as follows:

March 9—Don Bown vs. Charlie Baptie.
March 10—Neil Cameron vs. M. Carey.

Brown is getting into form and in a practice game last evening ran up breaks of 49 and 44. Baptie is also getting some practice and the steady, thoughtful game he plays makes him a dangerous opponent. Carey is a more or less unknown quantity. In practice he has shown a good knowledge of the game, his cannons being resourcefully played and although his potting is not as reliable as his round the table play, he gives every indication of giving Cameron a good run for his money. Cameron still keeps the "green table" enthusiasts guessing. Has he shown his best form yet or does he just play well enough to win?

The winners of the two preliminary games will meet in a thousand point match next Wednesday.

The Letter Box

DISPUTE ENDS

Editor, Daily News:—Regarding two letters appearing in your paper dated February 13 and signed by Rev. Bishop Black and M. J. Williams:

May I mention this Memorial Service was not a publicity stunt, but was the sacred duty of all loyal citizens of the British Empire.

It is to be regretted that these letters appeared in your paper, just because certain names were not mentioned.

Rev. Bishop Black, when asked as to who the loyal supporters and subscribers were that were angry because certain names were not mentioned in one of the articles regarding this memorial service were, said that he was a little too hasty in writing this letter and that he should have thought before writing it.

Regarding the letter signed M. J. Williams, this letter was not composed by Williams and does not express the opinion of either natives or whites of Skidegate Inlet.

In conclusion I would like to mention that every one was very much disappointed that A. L. Mallory was not able to attend this service as he was requested, owing to circumstances which cropped up at the last moment, making it impossible for Mr. Mallory to attend.

E. C. STEVENS.

TEACHERS' MEETING

Education Week Success—Convention is Discussed

The regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association was held Tuesday evening with W. W. C. O'Neill in the chair. Appreciation of the whole-hearted support of the various organizations and their members was expressed. The parents who had visited the schools had been very interested in the work done there and the opportunity of seeing the children in their classrooms. There had also been a surprisingly large number of visitors who had no children at school. A large attendance at the public meeting had been indicative of the interest in Education Week.

An outline of the features of the Easter convention to be held in Vancouver was read and as usual a very attractive program has been outlined. Delegates will be kept fully occupied.

Matters suggested for discussion by the elementary teachers' department include the problem of provision for individual differences of the pupils. This constitutes a major and ever-present problem for the teacher. With children of varying capabilities, how best can the teacher complete the necessary work? The solution was, of course, individual attention. And how could a teacher give each of forty or more pupils individual attention? How could he give the bright pupils work that will arouse and maintain their mental activities and at the same time not be too advanced for the slower ones?

The plans for drawing up the new curriculum and the possibilities of testing it partially before finally adopting it present a big problem. The insistent need for a curriculum that will enable a child to develop his particular aptitudes and prepare himself best for life is recognized, but the lack of appreciation of this by the general public makes its accomplishment very slow and difficult of attainment.

MANY HEAR POEMS READ

Edna Jaques Entertains Nearly Eighty Members of Women's Canadian Club at Dinner Last Night

Versatile Visitor

Irish Humor Enlivens Everybody Verses and Keeps Everybody Happy—Miss Halliwell Presides.

Nearly eighty people sat down to dinner last evening at the Knox Hotel to do honor to a little prairie woman now living on Vancouver Island who writes poetry. The guest was Mrs. Jamieson, better known as "Edna Jaques," who has published several books of verse and whose poems appear in magazines throughout the country. The event was under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club and those present were all members of the club or husbands of members. The president, Miss Lillian Halliwell, presided and with her at the head table in addition to the guest of honor were Mrs. J. C. McLennan, Mrs. D. McD. Hunter and Mrs. A. E. Parlow. The guest of the evening read from her own poems, using them to tell the story of her life, the life of a Canadian woman born in Collingwood, Ontario, and moving west to homestead on the wide lonely prairies and later moving to British Columbia. As a matter of fact there were two women entertaining the club last evening. One was Mrs. Jamieson, the humorous raconteur, who provided the connecting links for the poems and kept her audience in roars of laughter with her bright sallies. She told how, after three years of drought on the prairies, without any crop, the C.P.R. had offered her a pass to the coast and return in reward for the publicity received through her verses. She had used the ticket to go to Vancouver Island and had not returned. It was the same woman who told of visiting the Peace River country last year on a lecture tour. Before arriving at Dawson Creek she felt she needed a good dinner prior to giving her first address of the series so she ate heartily on the dining car. What was her horror to find on arrival that a turkey dinner had been prepared in her honor and she was expected to eat.

Idealistic Verses

It was, however, an entirely different woman who wrote the poems which were read. These beautiful verses illumined everything they touched. They were filled with lofty idealism. Everything was idealized by Edna Jaques. She made washing the dishes a pleasure, household duties nothing but joy, pictures of life nothing but inspiration. Even the chore boy with a lantern was etherealized. Then after the reading, the Mrs. Jamieson would again take charge and tell possibly about the planting of potatoes in the drought-stricken area. The tubers were put in deep, well below the loose surface but in the night the wind blew and by morning there were all the potatoes exposed to the sun. Again they were planted, deeper than ever, and the next night the wind blew again in the opposite direction bringing back the dust that had been blown away and covering the potatoes several feet below the surface, too deep to grow. This seemed like a tragedy but she made it comedy just as one of the incidents of prairie life in the dry belt. Mrs. Jamieson told of having travelled eight thousand miles on her tour in 1934 and ten thousand miles last year and she is now on her way home having completed her tour of Canada from east to west and back carrying the message of the west to the people of the east. She told of the splendid reception she got from the people of Ontario, mentioning them particularly because she had been warned that they were different from prairie folk.

Some Quotations

The poem "My Kitchen Window" which Mrs. Jaques read is one that is bound to have a wide appeal. It is taken from her new book of the same name. The first edition of two thousand copies was sold out in less than three months which is something of a record these days. "My kitchen window is above the sink, "With dotted curtains looped in tiny folds, "A pane for mountains and a bit of sea, "And all day long it glows and shines and holds "A hundred pictures for my heart's delight, "People who hurry by—and stars at night."

People who have ever lived on the prairies will appreciate "The Homesteaders:" "Pushing the frontiers further "Back with relentless hand, "Blazing a trail with a plow share "Far in the hinterland, "Holding fast to their birthright, "Born to the realm of toil, "Bearded, grim and unconquered, "Ragged kings of the soil.

Theirs is the dream eternal, "Hills that are rugged and green "Lure of a far horizon, "Prairies wind-swept and clean, "Visioning towns in the making, "Faith in the untried lands, "Holding the country's future "Safe in their calloused hands." At the close a vote of thanks to Mrs. Jamieson was moved and seconded by Mrs. D. McD. Hunter and Mrs. J. C. McLennan and carried with enthusiasm. Mrs. Jamieson will sail tonight on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver.

SCIENTIFIC REPORT FAVORS BRAN

Relieves Common Constipation Safely

Read this statement, taken from an article in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association, pages 133-134, Nov., 1932:

"The inclusion in the diet of a small portion of bran... would seem a very practical way of getting fiber which is not likely to be disintegrated. This bran has the additional advantage of furnishing a considerable amount of vitamin B and of readily available iron."

Exhaustive tests, over a period of five years, have proved Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to be a safe, effective way to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" or fiber in meals. You will enjoy this pleasant way to prevent the dangers of constipation. You can eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream. Sprinkle over salads, soups, or other cereals. Or cook into delicious breads and muffins. Usually two tablespoonfuls apiece daily are enough to protect your family from common constipation. How much better than taking pills or drugs! Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. It is much more effective than part-bran products. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

ROLL CALL WAS HELD

Annual Ceremony on Tuesday Night Followed by Mock Trial

On Tuesday evening Prince Rupert Oddfellows' Lodge No. 63 and Centennial Rebekah Lodge No. 40 held their annual roll call of members, there being one hundred present on this occasion.

After a sumptuous repast provided by the joint committee of Oddfellows and Rebekahs, the chairman, W. Geddes, Noble Grand of Prince Rupert Lodge, called on Mrs. A. Barbe, Noble Grand of the Rebekahs, for a brief address. This was followed by the Roll Call, conducted by H. M. Daggett, recording secretary of the subordinate lodge, and Mrs. J. S. Irvine, secretary of the Rebekahs. After those present had responded to their names and letters were read from absent brothers and sisters, H. M. Daggett, Past Grand, gave a brief history of the institution and progress of the subordinate lodge.

Following this, the tables were cleared away and a mock trial was conducted. The following took part: A. R. Phillips (Judge Andy Gump), A. E. Woods (Clerk of the Court), J. E. Boddie (Constable Bulldog Drummond), H. M. Daggett (Prosecuting Attorney), N. McGlashan (High McTavish Volstead, accused of bootlegging).

Witnesses were: Mrs. Haig (Lizzie Dizzy), Mrs. W. A. McLean (Mrs. Feathers—nee Sally Rand), Mrs. A. Barbe (Mrs. West), A. E. Blackhall (Rev. Am-a-long Smut), W. Geddes (Winsome Churchill), Mrs. G. B. Church (Lady Ashcan de Oscillation).

After a full and complete trial by a jury selected from the audience the accused, who was charged with bootlegging and arrested on McBride Street pushing a baby buggy, was found guilty of almost every offence on the calendar and Judge Andy Gump sentenced him to wash all dishes for the refreshment committee for one month.

The author and director was Chas. Harman of Hastings Lodge No. 29.

MUSIC AND SPECTACLE

"Broadway Melody of 1936" Hailed As One of Greatest "Musicals" Of the Year

Enchanting music, spectacular dance routines set in splendid backgrounds, a pageant of well known and popular entertainers and an intriguing story combine to make "Broadway Melody of 1936," coming to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here tonight, Friday and Saturday, one of the year's outstanding "musicals."

Jack Benny, popular radio star, has the role of a smart Broadway columnist, Kid Silvers, "King of the Stooges," produces many laughs with his droll humor. Eleanor Powell, acclaimed as the world's greatest tap dancer, plays the lead opposite Robert Taylor. Una Merkel is a wise-cracking secretary.

Five popular songs featured in the picture are "Broadway Rhythm," "I've Got a Feelin' You're Foolin'," "On a Sunday Afternoon," "Sing Before Breakfast" and "You Are My Lucky Star." Dance routines and an Albertina Rasch ballet are most spectacular.

Speech on Behalf Of Trekkers Heard Here on Sunday

R. L. Webster of Vancouver Citizens Defence Committee addressed a meeting of about one hundred persons in the C. C. F. Hall Sunday night in connection with the defence of the Regina camp strikers whose cases open next week in the Saskatchewan capital.
