Terrible Holocaust In Manchukuan City While New Year is Celebrated

Many Women and Children Are Among Victims When Dramatic Resort is Razed by Flames—Thirty Other Buildings Also Destroyed

TOKYO, Feb. 15: (CP)—Bodies of eight hundred celebrants of Chinese New Year have been recovered from the ruins of a theatre at Antung, Manchukuo, which was destroyed last night by fire, said dispatches to Domei (Japanese) News Agency today. Some were burned to death, other suffocated and many trampled down in the wild panic. The fire broke out when 7500 persons jammed into the theatre to celebrate the lunar New Year by watching a dramatic presentation.

Most of the victims were Chinese subjects of Manchukuo and many of them were women and children. From the theatre the conflagration spread to thirty other buildings. Antung is a city of about 250,000 persons on the Yaul River between Manchukuo and Korea.

BALKING DIVORCE

New Measure in British House Tightens Early Wedlock

Later Decree

Measure Now Going Through House of Commons in Old Country

LONDON, Feb. 15: (CP)—A quarter-century after a Royal Commission recommended more liberal divorce laws, a bill implementing many reforms advocated has been given second reading in the House of Commons and is now going through the committee stage.

The bill, written by A. P. Herbert, M.P., noted humorist and author of "Holy Deadlock," provides that a petition for divorce may be presented either by husband or wife on the ground that he respondent:

- 1. Has committed adultery. 2. Has deserted the petitioner for a period of at least three years. 3. Has treated the petitioner with cruelty. 4. Is incurably insane and has been continuously a certified lunatic for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition. 5. Is an incurable habitual drunkard and has for at least three years been separated from the petitioner in consequence of habitual drunkenness. 6. Is undergoing imprisonment on a committed death sentence.

In one way the new bill would impose new restrictions on divorce. While with one hand it seeks to sweep away the period of six months between a decree nisi and the making of that decree absolute, with the other it would introduce an entirely new time-limit by making it impossible to gain a divorce on any grounds whatsoever during the first five years of marriage.

In supporting this feature of the bill, speakers argued that during the first five years of marriage young people deserved to be protected from moods and impulses which, if allowed to bear them immediately into the divorce court, might wreck their whole future lives.

After the measure had passed its second reading, its author declared he and his supporters realized the struggle was then only beginning in committee, but that it looked as if the "walls of Jericho were falling at last." The bill went to a "standing committee," the grave of many legislative efforts that ran counter to powerful forces.

Church Much Opposed

For generations the Church of England has been opposed to divorce, and as a rule the nonconformist churches have sided with the established church in the matter. Some of the Anglican clergy have not only declined to marry divorced persons, but have even refused to make an exception in favor of those who have been innocent parties in divorce proceedings.

Prior to 1857 a special Act of Parliament was required for each marriage dissolved. In that year parliament passed an act empowering the courts to act in divorce cases and naming adultery as the ground for such action.

This law, however, set up a "double standard"—unequal rights for women—which stood until 1923.

WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

According to the balance sheet of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association which has just been made public, gross fish sales of the Association for the year 1936 amounted to $152,630.01. The net surplus for the year amounted to $1,698.40. Sigmund Einstoss, the sales agent for the Association, received $7,481.67 in commission.

Helped along by the southeast gale, Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 5:30 yesterday afternoon from the south, the earliest she has arrived for some time, and sailed at 8 p.m. for Port Simpson, Stewart, Anyox and other northern points whence she is due back here southbound Tuesday morning. The vessel brought north a fair sized list of passengers. On completion of the present voyage, the Catala will be withdrawn from service at Vancouver for annual overhaul, the Cardena taking over her run for a couple of weeks.

Making her first call here since before the Pacific Maritime Workers' strike commenced over three months ago, Northland Transportation Co.'s motorship Norco, Capt. Joyce, arrived in port at 9 o'clock this morning and, after discharging seven carloads of fish for transshipment east over Canadian National Railways, will leave in continuation of her voyage to Seattle.

"Man could direct his ways by plain reason, and support his life by tasteless food; but God has given us wit and flavour and brightness and laughter and perfumers."

And to pursue Sydney Smith's logic: you could use other fuel for heat, but God has given us Albert & McCaffery's coal!

For twenty years, Albert & McCaffery's coal has been the best available. It is the best today. Albert & McCaffery's coal gives you the most heat for the least money. And that's what you want. It is the most economical because—it lasts!

Next time you need coal, just phone 116 or 117 to Albert & McCaffery and order Nanaimo-Wellington for furnace and heater. For the kitchen range, ask for Egg size Balkan Minehead—Alberta soteless. It's trade name is "Inferno"—it's hot! And it lasts, too. You deserve the best!

"A LOVELY RICH FLAVOR"

From a letter: "I came to Vancouver nine years ago and was advised to try Pacific Milk by a sister-in-law, and I am never without it now. I use it for rice puddings and all light cakes, and tea and coffee, as it gives a lovely, rich flavor."—Mrs. R. A. D.

GIRL STAR CANADIAN

Deanna Durbin, Born in Winnipeg, Featured in "Three Smart Girls" at Capitol

Featuring Deanna Durbin, 13-year old Winnipeg-born girl, who has achieved considerable note as a singer on Eddie Cantor's radio programs, the comedy drama "Three Smart Girls" comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre as the feature offering at the first of this week. The picture sets forth the hilarious adventures of three young girls intent on saving their father from an international fortune hunting beauty who wants to marry him for his wealth. A triple romance is woven into the narrative. The dialogue is brightly amusing and the song numbers are intriguing. The cast, besides the Durbin girl, includes Binnie Barnes, Alice Brady, Ray Milland, Barbara Read, Charles Winninger, Nan Gray, John King and Mischea Auer.

Romance, comedy and adventure are delightfully blended in "Don't Get Personal," the other end of the double bill program. James Dunn and Sally Eilers, both favorites, are starred. The picture reveals a cross-section of America on a motor trip and is interspersed with smart dialogue and song hits.
