Government to Control Manufacture and Export of Canadian Munitions

Some Liberals Vote Against Administration in Series of Appropriation Divisions—Fortifications on Pacific Coast Again Include Prince Rupert

OTTAWA, Feb. 23: (CP)—Greater control of export of munitions from Canada and an increasing manufacture of munitions in government-owned plants were forecast in the House of Commons last night by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence, as a series of attacks on the increased defence program were defeated on standing votes. Thirteen Liberals were listed among those voting against the government on one or another of the motions to reduce defence appropriations to last year's level.

REPORTS CONFLICT

Both Sides Claim Victories In Spanish Civil War—Madrid Still Holds Out

WITH THE INSURGENTS OUTSIDE MADRID, Feb. 23: (CP)—Insurgents rained fiercely up Jarama River in the heaviest fighting in recent months in Spain and were reported to have seized about four and a half miles of Madrid's vital Valencian road. Insurgent officers declared that General Francisco Franco's men were rapidly closing the door between Madrid and the remainder of government-held Spain. The insurgent officers further reported that counter-attacks by Madrid defenders had been repulsed.

Meanwhile from within the city reported General Jose Maíja, chief of Madrid's defence forces, as saying that government troops had advanced in the Jarama River section despite insurgent reinforcements and were still holding the vital Madrid-Valencia road.

Today's Fighting
Madrid's defenders loosed a terrific bombardment in a sudden sweeping attempt today to blast the insurgents from their closely drawn siege lines after reports had been received that the rebels, near Aragon, had cut nearly through to the sea at Valencia.

Reports from headquarters at Gijon to the northwest said that government troops had renewed attacks on San Esteban de la Cruces and Cristo de la Cadenas on the outskirts of Oviedo and had met with desperate insurgent resistance.

Meanwhile from Valencia it was reported that insurgent air fleets had dropped incendiary bombs on the port in two separate raids but had caused only slight damage.

Two Alaskan Pilots Spent Forty-Eight Hours on Isolated Lake

CORDOVA, Alaska, Feb. 23: (CP)—Pilot Bert Lien and Co-Pilot Herbert Larson are none the worse for their experience of having had to spend two days and two nights on an isolated lake near here while on a flight from Cordova to Anchorage. They left Cordova Friday morning and, despite a search by two coastguard vessels for them in heavy fog and snow, nothing was heard of them until they turned up here safely in their own plane yesterday.

Enumeration Of Voters In Progress Now

Under direction of Government Agent Norman A. Watt as registrar of voters, an enumeration of provincial voters in Prince Rupert riding is now in progress with J. A. Allan as deputy registrar and Robert Lahiff and Malcolm McLeod as his assistants. This is in line with the government's undertaking that there would be full opportunity for all voters to get on the list before an election is held. There is also a good deal of activity in the appointment of election commissioners throughout the province, indicating increased interest in political matters as the time when an election may be expected approaches.

Program of House Opening Wednesday Includes Considerable Measures Dealing With Wages and Capital

QUEBEC, Feb. 23: (CP)—Legislation modelled on the European corporative plan and seeking closer relations between "honest capital" and labor will be brought down at the session of the Quebec Legislature opening tomorrow. New measures will be based on recommendations contained in recent papal encyclicals and their aim will be to assure the worker reasonable wages and the investor a fair return on his capital, according to predictions by Labor Minister William Tremblay. Premier Maurice Duplessis has announced intention of the government to "smother the trusts and combines" but has not indicated in detail the nature of legislation he will introduce.

PROTEST AT GRIEVANCES

John M. Imrie of Edmonton Gives The Inside Dope on Social Credit as Seen by A Newspaperman

Future Unknown

Aberhart May Use Big Stick To Force Co-operation of People Of Alberta Province

VICTORIA, Feb. 23:—"Social Credit is a protest against grievances, some real and some fancied. The course of statesmanship is to go below the surface and find what the real grievances are, and take the necessary remedial measures," John M. Imrie, managing-director of the Edmonton Journal, told the Rotary Club at its luncheon here in the course of an address on "What is Happening in Alberta."

With his analysis of the Social Credit scheme, Mr. Imrie put forward a pattern for Canadian government based not on pure reason but on a tolerant understanding of the widely different views and needs of the Dominion's various parts. Such a formula, he said, was still to be found.

Saying that his address was a factual and historical picture rather than a statement of his personal views, he outlined the background of Social Credit as applied in Alberta, an analysis of the legislation the Aberhart government had enacted and a glimpse into the future.

The present Alberta system of government, he said, had no precedent in history or textbook. It was a political, economic and social experiment not partaking of Communism, Socialism or Fascism, but combining elements drawn from these three sources and some from others. Called Social Credit, it was disowned by the founder of that movement and by the leader of the British Social Credit party.

Only a Philosophy

The Aberhart government was elected seventeen months ago through a combination of circumstances—the heavy incidence of the depression in that province coupled with drought and unemployment, heightening the effect of factors already present such as debts, high interest rates, high freight rates and tariffs as well as the feeling left by the Rogers tariff investigation, the Stevens commission and the McPherson and Brownlee cases—and at the time of its election it had no plan, only a philosophy.

Because of that fact the conception of Social Credit in Alberta was in a state of flux, from which arose the enigma, the unpredictability and to some extent the danger of the system.

"In the Alberta situation one is dealing not alone with facts and statistics but with human emotions, aspirations, hopes and psychoses," said Mr. Imrie.

In 1921 the people of Alberta decided by a large majority to do away with the old-line parties and swept the U.F.A., a class party, into power. In 1926 and 1930 they again confirmed that opinion. Aberhart, with his Bible institute in Calgary, had been in a position to build up for his religion. (Continued on Page Four)

HAD POPULATION OF SIX HUNDRED PEOPLE AND WAS CONNECTED BY BRIDGE WITH CAPITAL—STRONG SOUTHEAST WIND RENDERED FLAMES UNCONTROLLABLE.

SEATTLE, Feb. 23: (CP)—The United States coastguard cutter Tallapoosa wireless here today that fire broke out early in the day and virtually destroyed the city of Douglas, Alaska, as a strong southeast wind whipped the flames over the town. The cause of the fire is undetermined. Douglas is on the island of the same name opposite Juneau at the north end of Alexander Archipelago. It had a population of six hundred and had become somewhat of a residential annex to Juneau following the construction of a bridge not long ago to connect the two towns.

IS AFRAID OF RUSSIA

Japan Moderates Its Policy Towards China and Gives Attention to Soviet

TOKYO, Feb. 23: (CP)—The Japanese government, which is reported to be ready to mend strained relations with China, turned its attention today to Russian armament in Siberia and told Parliament that that was the reason for increased military expenditure.

General Sugiyama, minister of war, told the House of Representatives that Japanese forces were decidedly inferior to those of the Soviet's Far Eastern army which he said now totalled fifteen divisions.

The spokesman indicated that the government had modified Chinese policy and was willing to shelve demands for simultaneous settlement of all Sino-Japanese incidents and negotiate separate settlements for each. This modification policy in regard to China is believed to be partly due to the steadily growing strength of the Nanking central government.

The government is putting on double police guards and taking other precautions against the possibility of demonstrations on the occasion of the anniversary of the army revolt of February 26 last year.

Crew of Forty-Five

There is a mine working just across the Straits on Porcher Island with a permanent crew of forty-five. There are also men employed in carrying the concentrates to the smelter. Prince Rupert people have benefitted considerably from the operations of the mine and will doubtless continue to do so.

While we all regret that the transfer of the Surf Point mine, purchased recently by the Reward Mining Co. from the Timmins interests for $75,000 cash, has released the superintendent and possibly one or two others, we are glad to know that by the concentration of effort in that neighborhood the mining operations there should be carried on indefinitely to the advantage of this part of the country.

We hope the recent transfer of the Ecstall River Iron Pyrites property to Texas Gulf Sulphur Inc., one of the largest sulphur companies in the world, will result in another mining activity in this neighborhood. This property was prospected many years ago and has been optioned by different concerns, twice by the Granby Consolidated, but the sticker seems to have been, what to do with the sulphur. Possibly the likelihood of a pulp mill being established here has expedited the selling of the mine to the big sulphur producing concern. Should operations commence soon on this property they would employ a great many more men than the Porcher Island mine. It is developments of this kind that will improve the position of Prince Rupert.

Peace to Prince Rupert

While there is little likelihood that steps will be taken this year to commence the building of the railway from the Peace River country to connect with the Canadian National enroute to Prince Rupert, it is very necessary that the movement be kept to the fore and impressed upon the authorities, so that next year we may possibly see actual movement in that direction. The building of that road is vital to Prince Rupert.

We suggest that when the members of the Vancouver Board of Trade visit Prince Rupert next summer steps be taken to secure their support for the railway.

Vancouver people should support this railway. Almost everything we buy comes from that city and when people here take a holiday they usually go to Vancouver. The development of Prince Rupert therefore means the further development of Vancouver. Doubtless the Peace River committee of the Chamber of Commerce will see to it that this matter is brought before the Vancouver visitors. It will be a splendid opportunity to enlist their support.

The Letter Box

LOOKS AFTER INDIANS

Editor, Daily News:

In view of the publication of certain statements made by the United Church Presbytery at Prince Rupert as published in your issue of the 20th inst. Concerning the work of the Department of Indian Affairs from which it would appear that the natives receive very little consideration in the way of relief and medical assistance it may be of interest to your readers to know that during the past fiscal year 1935-36, the following amounts were expended in medical and food relief alone in the Skeena Agency:—

Relief (food) $ 3,789.36
Medical supplies 1,186.42
Hospitalization (including necessary cases of confinement and complicated cases of tuberculosis) 16,240.00
$21,215.78

Needless to say, the Indian Department is quite competent to look after the best interests of its wards both physically and mentally at the present time as it has done in the past, and must of necessity be permitted to use its own judgment in meeting an ever increasing demand upon its resources.

How thankful we all are to see the beautiful snow disappearing!

Aberdeen Scotsmen are still making jokes about themselves and selling them to gullible Englishmen.

One of the jokes is about a Scotsman who went insane. He bought a scorecard at a ball game and neither team scored.

The ministry of pensions made an error in their records entering a girl as a boy. They received a letter from the fond mother saying: "You have changed my little girl into a boy. Will it make any difference?"

The latest definition of a matrimonial bureau is that it is a set of drawers, each packed full of women's fixings and with one man's collar and tie jammed into a corner.

You have to hand it to the income tax collector. He certainly gets the money about this time of year.

The jokes of the age may not be funny but the age of the jokes is ridiculous.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

February 23, 1912

A meeting of the Prince Rupert Liberal Association was held last night in the Knights of Pythias Hall to name delegates to the forthcoming provincial convention in Vancouver. Dr. W. T. Kergin, president, was in the chair and one of the features of the evening was an address by Duncan Ross. Delegates were named in the persons of Howard Campbell, John Piercy, J. J. Sloan, C. W. Peck, Dr. W. T. Kergin, G. J. Frizzell, J. R. Morgan, G. R. Naden, Fred Stork, C. B. Lockhart, Dan McKinnon, T. D. Pattullo, J. Y. Rochester and A. M. Manson.

The sum of $20,000—$10,000 in grants each from the city and provincial government—is now available for the new extension to the Prince Rupert General Hospital. The construction work is expected to commence shortly. D. G. Stewart, president of the hospital board, appeared before the city council last night to express formal appreciation on behalf of the board for the city grant.

Nations Informed By King's Envoys

Personal Messengers of Royal House Announce Coronation

LONDON, Feb. 22: (CP)—After King George has been crowned at Westminster, foreign nations must be informed of the fact—not by telegraph, but by official messengers. Those assigned to this job are the personal envoys of the King. Other than of his government, this point was cleared up in 1902 when Lord Carrington, afterwards Lord Lincolnshire, was commissioned to announce the Coronation of King Edward formally in France, Spain and Portugal. The peer, a close friend of King

Influenza On Naas Raging

Epidemic Appears to be at Height
New With at Least 350 Cases

Influenza is raging now in the Naas River Valley, the epidemic appearing to be at its height, according to word received at the office of the Indian Agent today. It is reported that there are some 350 cases of the malady among the natives, a letter received today from Kincolth stating that there are 200 cases there alone. On account of the epidemic church services have been cancelled there and other public gatherings called off. The letter from Kincolth also suggests that a shortage of supplies is developing there. The Kincolth correspondent says that the epidemic, which has been in progress there for the past two weeks, is the first there has ever been at Kincolth.

LAI D OFF FROM WORK BY CONSTIPATION

"For four years I suffered from constipation. I had gotten so weak I had to lay off from work. My doctor told me to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since then, my grocery list has never been complete without it."—Mr. A. W. Murphy (address on request).

This delicious cereal will give you the same, sure relief. Laboratory tests prove it's safe. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the intestines. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B which tones the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Serve as a cereal or cook into appetizing recipes. Isn't this natural food better than pills and drugs?

When you're at the grocery store today, get a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Try it a week, and see if you don't feel worlds better. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in London.

Here's the Modern Way to Help END A COLD Quicker

The 3-Minute VapoRub Massage

Massage VapoRub briskly on the throat, chest and back (between and below the shoulder blades). Then spread it thick over the chest and cover with warm cloth.

1. Through the Skin. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

2. Medicated Vapors. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages of the nose, throat and chest. This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation—helps break congestion.

During the night, VapoRub keeps right on working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Avoids Risk of Stomach Upsets
This safe, external treatment cannot possibly upset the stomach, as constant internal "dosing" is so apt to do. It can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.

Now White—Stainless
Thanks to a new process, VapoRub now comes to you in white stainless form. Only the color is removed; it is the same VapoRub—the same formula and the same effective double action.

She Dreaded Going Upstairs

Woman's Fear of Rheumatic Pains

One of the many troubles that afflict rheumatic sufferers is the difficulty of getting up and down stairs. Such was the case with this woman, but now she finds it no trouble. Read what she says:—

"I have been taking Kruschen now for over 12 months, a half-teaspoonful in hot water first thing in the morning, and I feel a new woman. I had very painful rheumatism in my knees and back and also my head was getting very bad. I used to dread walking upstairs, now I am very thankful to say it is no trouble at all and I scarcely have any pains. I feel better in health than I have done for years."

—(Mrs.) G. M.

ious teachings a large following, especially in the southern part of the province.

When he took up economics the same following remained with him. The U.F.A. government, wishing to discredit Aberhart by introducing Douglas, the founder of the Social Credit system from which Aberhart deviated, actually attracted attention to his beliefs in the other parts of the province as yet unaffected.

It was on a feeling that things could not get any worse, and might conceivably become better that the Aberhart government went into power.

Dual Personality

Under the sobering influence of responsibility, a dual personality became apparent in the new government during its first six months in power, said Mr. Imrie.

Aberhart became at once the evangelist, stirred by human suffering to seek a Utopia, and a more conservative personality determined to balance a budget even if it meant increasing that same suffering. As a result the first budget was along orthodox lines, with higher taxation and no sign of Social Credit.

Mr. Imrie traced the steady division of the Aberhart cabinet into three groups; right wing, left wing and in the centre Aberhart himself, and Manning. With the resignation in December and January of the two principal right-wing ministers, the left-wing group chiefly represented by Maynard, a young back-bencher, took the balance of power.

The legislation of the government to date, some 150 acts in all Mr. Imrie divided into six groups. The first group covered the actual introduction of Social Credit itself; the second, directed to what he termed "economic provincialism," sought to make Alberta more self-contained and to provide a better balance of trade; the third aimed at the reduction of public and private debt; the fourth at the control of trade and business through codes, tended to bring both the individual and groups into closer contact with the government; the fifth concerned with substitutes for currency, among them the stamped scrip which had not been successful, and the sixth class removed a certain amount of court protection from the individual.

Eleven-Point Plan

Of the future, Mr. Imrie said that it was impossible to forecast the development of the Social Credit scheme in Alberta even over the next few weeks.

The whole course of events at present depended on the reception at next week's caucus and at the session opening Thursday to an eleven-point plan for introduction of Social Credit.

There was a suggestion in Alberta, said Mr. Imrie, that the Aberhart government, idealists by nature, were beginning to realize that Social Credit could not be put through, as they had expected, by co-operation alone, and that they were preparing to take steps to compel co-operation.

While Aberhart deprecated any bludgeoning of the people, the result would not be known until the opening of the House.

WAS SAVED BY STORM

Sure Death for Chiang Kai-Shek Averted When Airplanes Grounded

EDMONTON, Feb. 22: (CP)—Only a sudden storm saved the life of Chiang Kai-Shek, Chinese generalissimo, while he was held prisoner by the rebellious Chang Hseu-Liang at Sian-Fu, it was asserted here by Dr. Chen Han-Seng, Nanking agrarian agent, a visitor.

The eminent Chinese scholar, his country's delegate to the Yosemite conference on Pacific affairs, said in an interview that during Chiang's enforced stay at Sian-Fu a pro-Japanese group in Nanking used their influence to launch a "punitive expedition" of aerial bombers.

"If it had not been for a sudden storm which interfered with bombing plans as the airplanes approached Sian-Fu, Chiang's life would have been wiped out by friends of Japan," Dr. Chen added. He stated the daring kidnapping of Chiang was engineered by a hot-headed clique who demanded armed action against Japanese invasion.

Dr. Chen, homeward-bound after an extended tour of the United States and Canada, voiced the opinion a nationalist movement with a strong central government over a federation of autonomous provinces might be the combination that would thwart Japanese ambitions on the mainland.

He was enthusiastic about Edmonton's brisk, cold winter weather. "Ah, your weather here! The air is so dry and comfortable—much better than the chilly dampness of Shanghai or the moist heat of south China."

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

Shipments of frozen halibut and salmon and mild-cured salmon have continued steadily from Ketchikan, Alaska, to Prince Rupert for trans-shipment east over Canadian National Railways during the past winter. The volume of this traffic has compared very favorably with previous winters. This has been in spite of the maritime workers' strike which held up American Pacific Coast shipping for three months. Now that the strike is over and the regular ships are moving again, the traffic is beginning to assume even larger proportions.

The reduction plant of the Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd. at Tucks Inlet in Prince Rupert Harbor is again grinding fish. Herring are again being caught in the harbor for the plant although not in very substantial quantities.

Passengers from the ill-fated freighter Zapora, which foundered on Rocky Point, fifteen miles south of Angoon, between Juneau and Hoonah, Alaska, several days ago, were here yesterday bound for Seattle aboard the Northland Transportation Co.'s liner Northland which was in port for several hours discharging frozen fish for trans-shipment east over Canadian National Railways.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 7:45 this morning from Stewart, Anyox and other northern points and sailed at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Vancouver and waypoints.

QUEBEC PLANS GUARDING WORKER INVESTMENTS AT SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

will pilot a bill of this nature at the session.

Promises Further Probe

Unless there occurs a division between the government and Dr. Phillippe Hamel's "anti-trust" group, main attraction of the session will be the public accounts inquiry, where, according to Premier Duplessis, further revelations will be made concerning the 39-year Liberal administration.

Evidence before the inquiry in June, 1936, that Antoine Taschereau, brother of the former Premier, personally benefitted from interest paid on government funds entrusted to his care, was followed by the resignation of Hon. L. A. Taschereau and his cabinet. The interest amounting to more than $30,000 has been returned to the treasury.

Revision of Quebec statutes is another measure which will come before the House and money will be asked for this purpose. The Premier claims there is a large number of obsolete and ambiguous laws on the statute books at present.

First budget of the Union Nationale government will be brought down by Provincial Treasurer Martin B. Fisher. At the emergency session the budget prepared by the defeated Liberal administration was voted, because, the Treasurer said, there was not sufficient time to prepare a new one. Further grants will be asked of the Legislature to supplement the $100,000 voted last session to finance a survey of the province's natural resources.

From Montreal, newly-elected Mayor J. Adhemar Raynault, Union Nationale member for L'Assomption, will seek wider powers for the chief magistrate of the metropolis and a greater share of provincial taxes to replace the city sales tax which he promised to abolish.

Standing in the Legislature when the House convenes will be: Union Nationale, 75; Liberals, 14. Dr. Raouf oulin, Union Nationale member for Beauce county, resigned last November but no by-election has been called to fill the vacancy.

The Liberal opposition will be led by T. D. Bouchard (St. Hyacinthe) in the absence from the Legislature of Adelaar Godbout, party chief. Dr. Godbout, who formed a government after Premier Taschereau resigned, was defeated in his own seat in L'Islet in the 1936 election and is not a member of the house.
