All seemed very happy and enjoying the trip. They broadcast at most of the centres and in this they are aided by Betty Roberts, the well known broadcaster, who is now with the party.

Mr. Buchanan, who is in personal charge of the party, says girls find it easier to raise the money for the trip than boys. The earning power of women is rising and that of men on the wane, he suggests.

Drastic Punitive Campaign Initiated as Chinese Delay Withdrawing Troops From Peiping Area of North China

TIENTSIN, China, July 26.—Japan's army rekindled the military fires of China with air bombs and bullets and demanded in a formal ultimatum that Chinese troops quit the city of Peiping and its embattled environs quickly or face a drastic campaign of punitive action.

Japanese military planes blasted the barracks of the 38th Chinese army division at Langfang between Peiping and Tientsin and strafed fleeing units of Chinese infantry.

At Nanking, the Chinese Foreign Office officials expressed indignation at the "Japanese action."

Lieut.-General Kioyshi Katsuki, the Japanese Commander-in-Chief in North China is declared to have served an ultimatum on the Chinese demanding that all the 29th army be withdrawn from the Peiping area by noon Wednesday.

At Tokyo the Japanese Government expressed fear that a major armed conflict between Japanese and Chinese was unavoidable.

There is said to be little cause for optimism in regard to the international situation here. Japan's declaration of policy of hand off North China and the Nanking Government's reaction indicates that a life and death struggle is probably about to take place.

Man Who Was Knighted for Developing Marquis Wheat Died Yesterday

TORONTO, July 26.—A year today after his wife's death, Charles Saunders, 71 years of age, won knighthood for contributions to Canadian agriculture, died at his home here yesterday. He is best remembered in connection with the development of the well known Marquis wheat.

Thousands of square miles of golden wheat fields spread over the western half of the North American continent will stand as a monument to Sir Charles Saunders as long as men eat bread. A retiring, grey-bearded man with a flair for music and a passion for science, Sir Charles was directly responsible for adding more new wealth to the domain of his own country than perhaps any other individual. Incidentally he added greatly to the agricultural riches of the United States.

Sir Charles in his early years as Dominion Cerealists developed Marquis wheat—already originated by his brother—an early ripening variety which made the prairie provinces of Canada the granary of the world and established Canadian hard wheat as the standard by which all others are judged.

Marquis wheat came on the scene so far as farmers were concerned in 1909 and within a few years it was the principal variety of the grain grown in Canada and the United States. It made possible the growing of wheat in wide areas of Western Canada where other varieties were unsatisfactory, gave increased yields and high quality. Charles Saunders picked a single ear of Marquis wheat in 1903 and 12 years later 300,000,000 bushels of its progeny jammed the elevators of two countries. In the five years from 1914 to 1918 it was estimated Marquis wheat brought an average yearly increase in income to Canadian growers of $20,000,000 and in 1923 it was reckoned Canadian wheat production was worth at least $50,000,000 more than the nearest competitor of Marquis would have produced.

GETTING IT RIGHT

Last week this paper published a little item about two or three local people and their movements and it was incorrect. This little gossip item had been corrected no less than three times before it went to press, each time being changed to accord with the views of three different people in regard to the subject matter, and even then it was not correct. That illustrates one of the difficulties in newspaper publishing.

There is an old story told of a publisher in a western mining town in the old days. A tough guy with a drooping mustache, ten gallon hat and two pistols, stamped into the newspaper office and demanded of the busy little man at the desk who was running that blankety blank newspaper. "I am," said the little man without looking up. "Well then," said the visitor, "perhaps you are the guy that wrote that article saying that William H. Mudge is an ex-jail bird, a counterfeiter, blackmailer, gunman, kidnapper and desperado, eh?" Again without looking up the little man said "Sure, I'm the fellow, what about it?" "Well just this," said the man of shady reputation, "I'll have you understand that I am William K. and not William H. Mudge and by blankety blank if you have got anything further to say about me I'll thank you to get my name straight. Good day."

GIVE THEM A CHANCE

At the week end the managers of the British tennis team that met the Americans for the Davis Cup at Wimbledon decided that the American crack player must be allowed to win the first round so he would meet his only worthy opponent, Bunny Austin, in the second round. They put up a young lad who had been playing well but with no expectation that he would make a showing against the western ace. What was their surprise and the surprise of everybody at Wimbledon to see this lad, Charles Hare, hold down the American in the first set and give him the scare of his life. He stole the show on the first day's tennis play although he was finally beaten. From now on Hare will be a force to be reckoned with in tennis circles. He was given a chance and he made good.

Many a young man could make good if he were given a chance to do so. That is as true in business as in sport, and in fact in all walks of life.

PATCHED UP DISPUTE

The dispute between British and American golf players has been patched up but it still leaves a nasty taste in the mouth. It will be several years before the players on either side or the sport-loving public will feel just the same as before. Those unpleasant remarks made by the American players on their return from winning the cup cannot be recalled. They brought forth unpleasant reports which will also rankle in the minds of American sportsmen.

If you have something to sell, a classified advertisement in this paper will soon let you know if there is a buyer in the city.

Man in the Moon

Good day. Its beastly hot!

The weather man's the goat Tho' the day be fine or wet He never is able to satisfy The people who fume and fret They curse if there's too much sunshine They curse if its too wet They curse if the wind is blowing They all love to curse and fret.

It was a good idea to bring the circus to town at a time when everybody was out of town except those who were dead broke.

Jake says he has had to borrow money every day since the show arrived to find out what sort of weather we were going to have and who he was going to marry when his wife died. Now he is beginning to wonder if the Egyptian Prince is telling the truth.

"What's the difference between learning to play golf and learning to drive a car?"

"In learning how to play golf you don't hit anything."

Someone wrote to Mary Lemon and asked for instruction in the writing of funny paragraphs.

Lemon replied: "It is not at all hard to write funny paragraphs. All you have to do is to procure a pen, some paper, and ink, and then sit down and write them as they occur to you. It is not the writing, but the occurring that is hard."

AMERICANS WON TODAY

Have Now Two to One Lead Over British in Wimbledon Davis Cup Series

WIMBLEDON, July 26: — Overcoming stubborn resistance Don Budge and Gene Mako defeated C. R. D. Tuckey and F. H. D. Wilde in doubles 6-3, 7-5, 7-9, 12-10 and gave United States a two to one lead over Great Britain in the Davis Cup challenge round today with two more singles matches yet to be played. With that one point advantage American supporters now hope Budge will beat Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin in the final singles tomorrow for the clinching point, if Frank Parker bows to Charles Hare in the openers. It was Wilde's weak play that allowed the Americans to win. When the English players won the third set the fans here hoped against hope that they would make a tie in the fourth and they came very near doing so as the final score shows.

MANY VISIT GIRL GUIDES

Enjoyable Time Spent at Hospital Island, Dodge Cove, Yesterday Afternoon by Parents and Friends

Under most delightful weather and other conditions a number of parents and friends of the Girl Guides camped at the old isolation hospital at Dodge Cove paid a visit there yesterday, being conveyed across by Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Stephens and Mr. and Mrs. William Reid in their respective yachts. They were received by Mrs. R. Cameron, who is in charge of the camp and after inspection of the island and the building, a program of sports was arranged with R. Cameron starter and William Brown, W. Reid John Bremner and A. J. Squires stewards of the course. Mrs. D. G. Borland, president of the Girl Guides Association, had charge of the general arrangements for the party. The sports winners were:

- Junior girls—Rosie Christian-sen, Betty Pullen.
- Girls under 14—Bee Ritchie, Zilla Sherman.
- Girls over 14—Jean Cameron, Kitty Cameron.
- Three-legged race—Jean and Kitty Cameron, Joan Squires and Betty Bremner.

Girl's Doubles—Amy Winboug and Edith Ritchie, Kitty Cameron and Joan Squire, Helen Brown and Betty Borland.

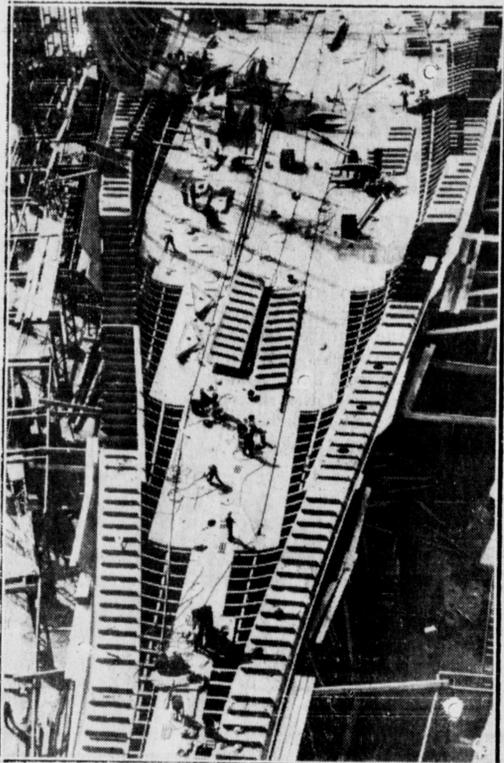

Following the sports a picnic supper was served on the lawn in front of the building, coffee and tea being supplied through the courtesy of Mrs. Johansen, who has charge of all the culinary arrangements for the camp. Ice cream was served and the visitors returned to the city just in time to get out on the tide. The visitors expressed themselves as particularly pleased with the arrangements at the camp and the beauty of the spot. The camp was particularly clean and tidy and evidently well conducted. Among the visitors for the day were Patrol Leaders Brewerton and Silversides, neither of whom were able to go into camp with the girls this year on account of other duties.

Sea Cadet George A. Greenwood left on board the SS. Prince Robert for the round trip. He is employed as bridge boy and will represent the Prince Rupert Sea Cadets. This will probably mean that more of the local Sea Cadets will in future find employment on the C.N.R. Steamships during the summer months.

GAY AND ROMANTIC

"Cafe Metropole," With Loretta Young, Tyrone Power and Adolphe Menjou, at Capitol Theatre

A gay and lightsome continental romance, "Cafe Metropole," with Loretta Young, Tyrone Power and Adolphe Menjou in the starring roles, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre as the feature offering at the first of the week.

The lively course of "Cafe Metropole" begins in the swanky Parisian resort of that name where suave and sophisticated Adolphe Menjou presides. Winning at baccarat a large sum of money he needs to cover his accounts before the auditors arrive, Menjou finds that the young man from whom he is supposed to win is really penniless. Under threat of exposure, Menjou forces the young man (Tyrone Power) to masquerade as a Russian prince in the hope of winning the hand of Loretta Young, a rich visiting American heiress. Amusing and unexpected events ensue, mounting in a hilarious procession to a surprise finale which provides a novel solution to all the problems. Charles Winninger and Helen Westley are important members of the supporting cast.
