TWO KILLED IN TRAIN DERAILMENT

TERRACE IS BUSY

Interior Town Looks More Prosperous Than for Years—Work For Everybody

Looks Cheerful

Millers Have Orders for all Summer—More Poles Being Taken Out

(By H. F. Pullen)

TERRACE, April 28:—This town seems to be busier than it has been for many years. The mills are working and the operators say they have orders on hand to keep them going all summer. More poles are being taken out than last year and it seems likely there will be some activity in mining.

Everybody in Terrace seems happy about the prospects. Connable McKenney of the provincial police says there is work in the camps for everyone that wants it. A few people with families are still drawing relief but from inquiries made around the place it would seem as if everyone will be working very soon. Road work is starting up in a few days and will continue all summer.

There is as yet no definite information as to what is to be done this year on the Omineca-Quartz but it is the general understanding that operations will continue there. Columario at the mine is still closed but the liquidators are refusing to sell the outfit and the opinion is that a reorganization will be arranged and the mine worked again.

George Little, who has in hand plans for export timber operations next year, is also mining on property near the Columario and some good ore is being shown in Terrace from his mine.

It is too early to tell what the fruit prospects may be. So far everything looks promising. The gardens are about a week later than those in Prince Rupert. Hamlin & Thompson plan to commence shipping asparagus to the Prince Rupert market in a few days. It is coming on well and will be followed by other garden produce.

It is quite cheering to visit Terrace just now. Everybody seems happy and full of optimism. The pessimists have been put to rest and the future looks rosy.

ALICE ARM MAN DIES

Gus Carlson Succumbs in Hospital Shortly After Arrival From Northern Camp

Within a few hours after having reached the city from Alice Arm aboard the steamer Catala yesterday afternoon, Gus Carlson, pioneer prospector of Alice Arm, passed away at 7 o'clock last night in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. A sufferer from asthma for years, Mr. Carlson was in a critical condition when he landed here. He lost consciousness while being removed from the steamer to the hospital and expired without regaining it. Coronary thrombosis was diagnosed as the immediate cause of death.

The late Mr. Carlson had been located at Alice Arm for some twenty-five years or so and was associated with some of the early mining discoveries in that camp. He was a native of Sweden and was about seventy years of age. He was unmarried.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of B. C. Undertakers.

Burns Lake Man And Stranger From East Die Near Pr. George

Eight Freight Cars Leave Tracks at Chilako—Poles And Fish Shipments Suffer—One of Victims Known in Prince Rupert

Two men—Gunnar Logie, aged 40, Burns Lake, and Tador Pickmin alias Theodore Paquet, aged 55, Montreal—both said at railway offices here to have been trespassers, were killed when the Canadian National Railway eastbound mixed train which left here Monday night was derailed at 4:15 Tuesday afternoon at the east switch of the siding at Chilako, third station west of Prince George, and thirteen miles from that city. Eight freight cars, six laden with poles and two with fish, left the tracks. One of the cars turned over. The train was subjected to a twelve hour delay. Some of the poles slid off the open cars into the Nechako River. One car of frozen fish had to be transferred. The passengers were taken into Prince George and the train was today consolidated with a fish extra which left Prince Rupert Tuesday evening and proceeded east.

Visit to Museum Causes One To Ponder on Early History Of Natives in These Parts

(By Mrs. J. B. Gibson of the Museum Board)

During a visit to the Northern British Columbia Museum, where stone adzes, pestles and mortars, bows made from the finest of yew woods and many other specimens of primitive native art and craftsmanship are to be seen, the thoughtful observer ponders a moment and considers just what is the background of the people who so painstakingly carved these implements and from whence came they?

It is only recently that Dominion ethnologists have ascertained the probable origin of the British Columbia Indian. Through means of extensive research in the language, mythology, music, arts and crafts of these people and the comparing of this knowledge with similar information pertaining to the inhabitants of Siberia and Mongolia it has been possible to trace their movements from Asia to British Columbia.

D. Jenness, of the Victoria Memorial Museum, Ottawa, is of the opinion that the Indians came from Asia "crossing in successive waves, with great intervals between invasions." He spent months in investigation and believes that the British Columbia races were once Sun-worshippers. The legend of "The Sun House" that is related by the Kitkatla lends considerable strength to this hypothesis. Dr. Marius Barbeau, of the archaeological department at Ottawa, informs us that Asiatic peoples were crossing the Bering Straits into Alaska and down to British Columbia as late as 1300 A.D. He himself has been able to trace a tribal migration of 1,000 miles in a space of 150 years.

The native tribes known as the Tsimpsians, are to be found living in the valleys and coast areas between and adjacent to the Skeena and Naas Rivers. They are divided into three main groups and are called by the dialect they speak—the Nishgas, the people on the Naas; the Tsimpsians, the people on the coast; and the Kitiksians, those on the Skeena. The Kitiksians have a legend which explains how it is we find these three peoples speaking languages having a common root. It is not unlike the story in Genesis of the tower of Babel and the confusion of tongues.

Thought Them White
Though the Tsimpsian tribes were in closer proximity to Fort Vancouver than those in the interior directly east of them, their territory remained untouched by any real contact with the white man for a considerably longer period. This was accounted for by the monopoly of the trade which they had with the neighboring tribes. Simon Fraser was amazed to hear the Dene nation speak of the Tsimpsians as "white men." This was afterwards dis-

TESTING TESTERS

Outside Assistance Secured By Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station

To Judge Fish

Is Part of Program Designed To Improve Halibut Handling Markets

In connection with a special program which has been undertaken by the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station this summer with a view to determining methods of improving ways of handling of halibut in storage and shipment, services have been obtained of representative Prince Rupert people as testers twice a month for a year of the quality of samples of frozen fish being kept at the station under conditions as far as possible paralleling the conditions they would meet under shipment and storage. A panel of five persons is being chosen to give this assistance and yesterday afternoon a dozen gathered at the station to take tests of senses of taste, smell and other abilities to act in this connection. The twelve from which the choices are to be made are Mr. and Mrs. F. A. MacCallum, H. M. D. Lambe, James L. Lee, Dr. L. W. Kergin, Miss Ruth Gillies, Col. J. W. Nicholls, Mrs. W. A. Riddell, Mrs. N. M. Carter, Miss Winnie Tucker and Mrs. W. E. Drake. The selections will be announced after compilation of the data sheets has been completed.

A preliminary scanning of the data sheets indicated that the women had the edge over the men in the tests of sensitivity of taste in such factors as saltiness, sweetness, bitterness, aromatic principle and fish taste with and without salt. Ability to judge texture and appearance also entered into the tests. The ladies struck the right answers more often than did the men. They appeared to have the most discriminating reactions. Practically all were able to detect which fish samples had been air frozen. There was difficulty, however, to distinguish quick brine frozen fish from the fresh fish.

In the periodical tests of the fish which are to ensue judging will be made on the basis of texture, cooking, appearance, flavor and odor. In the cooking of the fish for the purposes of the tests a method of broiling devised by the late Mrs. Evelyn Spencer with a particular view to conserving the flavor is to be used. Particular attention will be paid to determine the time when the fish begins to lose its finest quality. Suggestions as to possible methods of improvements will also be carefully watched for.

These particular tests are being looked after by O. C. Young, mechanical engineer of the experimental station staff.

Let's Stay Good Friends

We will soon be in the throes of another political campaign. The most of us are glad that it will be comparatively short. With April nearly over, only May is left for the orators and the campaigners to get in their work. As for Prince Rupert, the business of nominating candidates has not even yet been done, although we may have a good idea as to who some of them may be. That means the campaign, except for preliminary organization of the parties, will not be under way until well into May—making the fight here that much shorter.

We are hoping that the people who will have things to say and do in this campaign with a view to electing candidates will keep in mind at all times that they may have to live here after the election is over and to endeavor, as far as possible, to keep their utterances and statements, whether they be spoken or written, within due restraint. We shall try ourselves in the course of the campaign to keep to issues and facts, avoiding personalities and innuendoes.

Too often the campaigners, in the enthusiasm of expounding their causes, forget that they should be trying to win votes rather than lose them. Instead of cultivating bad friends, as they often do, election campaigns should be a time to endeavor to make good friends. The campaigners should remember that it is not those of whose support they are already assured that they should cultivate. Their potential field should, it appears to us, be among those who might today be on neutral ground or opposed to them politically. To win their votes is the important thing. Browbeating, abuse, prejudice and intolerance will not win many votes. Tact, forbearance and tolerance of the other fellow is a much more effective means of persuasion.

We would like to see this election campaign made an exemplary one in Prince Rupert. No one can object to hard hitting with facts, policies and even philosophies. But we can object to calling names, imputing motives and reflecting upon each other's intelligence or capacity. Nothing but bad friends can be made that way and, after election day is over, there will be a bad taste left.

We can see no good reason why election campaigns should be so productive of pettiness and misunderstanding. Let us be a little more broadminded and tolerant in this one and leave the road open for every one to pull together in the public interest after it is over. Let us work towards a real united front rather than a divided force. Let us all realize too that we may have faults ourselves and that it would be better if we started in correcting our own before we start abusing the other fellow for his. If we start on that ground we are more liable to get places than to begin on the premise that we are faultless and that our opponents have no good in them. Let's observe a few elementary rules of good sportsmanship in this election campaign.

KINGFISH HUMBLED

Jack Doyle of Ireland Beats Levinsky to Pulp for Decisive Twelve Round Win In London

LONDON, April 28:— Jack Doyle, 215-pound Irish heavy-weight, pummeled 223-pound King Levinsky of Chicago for an easy twelve-round decision before a crowd of 12,000 fight fans in a London ring last night. Doyle took eight of the twelve rounds and administered upon the Kingfish the soundest beating of his career. It was a case man sort of fight with many wild swings and a lot of clinching. However, there was plenty of action too and, while it may not have been a very stirring exhibition of the fine points of the game, the crowd got good value. Levinsky, who is generally recorded as being all washed up but who came over here with a view to starting a come-back campaign, was battered to a pulp but was still game at the finish.

Athletic Club At Kitzegukla Has Pie Social

KITZEGUKLA, April 28:— On Saturday night Kitzegukla Athletic Club sponsored a pie social in the McDemary Hall. Arthur Sampare, the honorary president of the band, acted as chairman.

There was some competition among the boys, many of the pies selling for over a dollar. After the sale coffee and tea was served and the pies, in addition to other refreshments, were served to the guests.

Proceeds, which amounted to over $20, were turned over to the treasurer of the club for future expenses.

SPORT CHAT

Cleveland's Bob Feller, new Walter Johnson of the ball diamond, is to be exploited this season like no other box office attraction in sport history—Babe Ruth not excepted. His immature right arm is figured to net the American League $500,000.

Feller's pitching assignments for 1937 have been mapped out tentatively by Alva J. Bradley, club president; Cy Slapnicka, strategist, and Field Manager Steve O'Neill. The choicest dates on the Cleveland schedule have been put aside for him, and it is planned to send Feller to the mound on days when he has the best chance to fill the ball parks.

Bradley, who has blown $300,000 since 1932 with the Indians, not only hopes to recoup his losses, but counts on a sizable figure for the right side of the ledger as well. The club's coffers will be enriched $250,000 by Feller's pitching alone, it is estimated. An American League official says that only an arm injury to Feller can prevent the magnates from cashing in on his Fan Appeal.

According to present plans, Feller is slated to start seven Sunday games at League Park, Cleveland, as well as Decoration Day, July Fourth and Labor Day, home holidays. One of the Sunday games will be against the Yankees. Feller also is scheduled to hurl three other home games

His spots have been well selected on the road. There will be four starts for Feller at Yankee Stadium, including two Sundays. Boston is another city which will get to see him on several occasions. However, save for a chance where he can boost his average considerably, the Van Meter town, mound phenom's appearances in such cities as Philadelphia and St. Louis will be few and far between.

4 WAYS TRITON Saves You Money!

1. SAVES CARBON SCRAPES

"A"—cylinder head of car driven 6,000 miles with other oils. Note heavy carbon causing car to "ping" badly. "B"—same cylinder head 3,000 miles after motor was switched to Triton. Most carbon has burned away. Knocks have stopped.

— Gives you BETTER LUBRICATION plus FREEDOM FROM CARBON KNOCKS!

ALL too often... you only begin to pay for motor oil when you put it in your crankcase. And here's the reason: many oils form excessive carbon and sludge. Carbon causes your motor to knock. Knocks reduce power, waste gasoline with every mile and are damaging to your motor.

2. SAVES GASOLINE

Many cars have spark retarded to suppress carbon "ping." Triton allows correct advance setting of spark — without "pinging." Result: You get the mileage, power and efficiency your motor was designed to give.

Sludge gums piston rings, sticks valves, plugs oil lines and causes excessive wear. Triton cannot form harmful carbon or sludge because it contains none of the low-grade materials that cause a motor oil to break down in use. Triton is Propane-Solvent refined... 100% PURE Paraffin-base... 100% PURE lubricant... so pure, motors easily burn away the small amount of carbon formed. It gives the finest type of motor protection money can buy—PLUS freedom from carbon knocks and all the waste and damage knocks cause.

3. SAVES OIL DRAINS

Triton saves oil because it has extreme resistance to "breaking down." It is a safe, full-bodied oil long after many oils are worn out. Should you neglect to drain crankcase at customary time, don't worry about Triton.

Put Triton in the crankcase and forget your lubrication worries. It will save you money—give you a better-running car!

4. SAVES MOTOR WEAR

Hundreds of fleet operators, private individuals, and technically-minded persons, who keep accurate cost records, report Triton saves them money—reduces motor wear, minimizes repairs, gives freedom from carbon troubles.

Navigation Aids Subject of Talk

Dr. Neal Carter is Interesting Speaker at Luncheon of Gyro Club Today

"Some of the Newer Aids to Navigation" proved the interesting subject of an address given before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at its regular weekly luncheon today by Dr. Neal M. Carter, director of the local fisheries station. Dr. Carter referred to and described such modern devices as radio signals from ashore, automatic sounding, automatic radio replies, automatic helmsmen, gyro compass and gyroscopic stabilizers all of which went to make travel at sea today more comfortable and safer.

Dr. H. N. Brocklesby, president of the club, was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members with a few guests including S. J. Jabour and Rev. W. D. Grant Hollingworth, former members of the club, now living in Vancouver.

covered to be a term used by the Denes for those who traded in axes, knives and other articles manufactured in Europe. It is thought that most likely these wares were received by the Tsimpsians from tramp vessels of American or Spanish tonnage and also from the Russians to the north. Alexander McKenzie writes in his "Journal" that "the inhabitants (Tsimpsians) built houses, lived on islands, and were a numerous warlike people."

The Hudson's Bay Company, to offset the inroads made by the Russian traders in Alaska, decided to tap the resources of the valleys of the Naas and Skeena themselves by establishing a trading post nearer to the natives of that district. Consequently in 1843 they built a fort about half way between the mouths of the two rivers. This they called Fort Simpson. The Tsimpsians, attracted by the glamour surrounding "the habitation of the white man, abandoned their old encampments at Metlakatla and along Venn Passage (Metlakatla Passage) and moved up to Fort Simpson. In 1857 when William Duncan, the first missionary to work among these people, arrived from England it was estimated that there were three thousand natives encamped at the Fort. Five years later Mr. Duncan persuaded fifty of them who had embraced christianity to return with him to their ancient encampment at Metlakatla, where afterward's joined by other members of their tribe, he formed the present Christian village.

The labors of the early missionaries have been richly blessed. The Tsimpsians have renounced their heathenism and adopted the higher ideals of the Christian religion. They have passed from primitive untutored people to that of the enlightened present day civilization in less than one hundred years. In them we have evolution exemplified, for "the old order changeth, yielding place to new."

Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray Top Cast in "Swing High, Swing Low"

Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray are together again in "Swing High, Swing Low," a musical romance with music, which is the feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here this mid-week. The story is that of a night club entertainer in Panama who falls in love with a trumpeter recently released from the army. She helps him to success and then loses him to another woman. Her role gives Miss Lombard an opportunity to sing and dance, the first time she exhibits her talents in these fields. MacMurray plays the trumpet, also for the first time in pictures. The action takes place in the night clubs of Panama and New York.

The cast also includes glamorous Dorothy Lamour as the "other woman" with whom MacMurray falls in love. Charles Butterworth, in a comedy part, Jean Dixon, Harvey Stephens and other well known feature players complete the cast.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harshness and gastric troubles make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. See—

"You will really enjoy cooking on an ELECTRIC RANGE!"
Cooking by old-fashioned methods is work—hard work—even for the best of cooks. The kitchen is hot; fires get mean and sulky; there's the constant running back and forth to see that everything is getting along just right.
An electric range ends all that. Your kitchen is cool and comfortable. You have dependable, even cooking heat at the snap of a switch—for just as long as you want it. And there's never any worry about results—every dish is perfection when cooked electrically; its full flavour and nourishment value retained to make every meal a treat and a real economy. Ask about our convenient payment plan.
