NEW ERA PROMISE

R. L. Maitland K. C. of Vancouver, speaker at Principal Meeting of Conservative Election Campaign

Gov't Flayed

No Promises Made Except Clean and Businesslike Administration—Candidate Is Also Heard

Playing the Pattullo government for a regime of waste and extravagance and giving assurance that the Conservative party, if returned to power at the provincial election next week, would institute in British Columbia a new era of sound and honest government based on the principles of economy and service, R. L. Maitland K. C. of Vancouver delivered an able address before a public meeting last night in the Moose Hall in support of C. V. Eviitt, Conservative candidate for Prince Rupert. An attentive audience possibly in the neighborhood of three hundred persons was in attendance and gave a responsive hearing not only to Mr. Maitland but also to Mr. Eviitt who spoke briefly. It was the principal meeting of the Conservative campaign. J. T. Harvey was chairman. Mrs. J. DeCarlo's orchestra was in attendance.

In opening, Mr. Maitland said that he felt himself no stranger in Prince Rupert. During the past year he believed he had been here often than the Premier. Mr. Maitland took several sallies at G. O. McGeer K. C., M. P., against whom he made suggestions of undue boastfulness and inconsistency. He mentioned how not long ago Mr. McGeer had been severely critical of the Pattullo government. Now his attitude seemed to have changed. At the outset and throughout his address, Mr. Maitland referred frequently to the Daily News.

Mr. Maitland referred to the re-organization of the Conservative party since 1933. He himself had urged that the party should be actuated by a desire to serve the people above everything else. This was now the principle upon which the party appealed for support. There were no cliques and no interests. Possibly the lack of political experience of the leader, Dr. Patterson, was his highest recommendation. Never had there been so much new and young blood in the ranks of the party. All were determined to bring back good government.

"No matter what you may be told, there will be no such thing as a return of the Pattullo government," declared Mr. Maitland. "I defy anyone to show where that government can win 25 seats required for a majority on June 1." Never had he seen campaign funds being so lavishly spent as they were today in Vancouver, said Mr. Maitland. There was a decided Tammany tint to things. He wondered where the money was coming from. There could not be barrels of money without obligation to some interests. These interests would expect and would demand returns.

"Great Opportunity"

Mr. Maitland dealt with what he termed "the great opportunity" the Pattullo government had had to render service when it assumed office in 1933. Caught during the dark early years of depression following the era of lavish expenditure, the Tolmie government had been faced with the most serious situation in the history of the province. Industries had closed down due to the failure of world markets and government revenues had been shut off. Then had come, through the initiative of R. B. Bennett, the Imperial conference which had saved the Empire trade situation and paved the way for an improvement in world conditions. With consummate courage, the Tolmie government had instituted economies by lopping off $7,000,000 per year from appropriations although still meeting running ex-

Persons Leap From Windows As Block in Powell River Suburb Is Destroyed by Fire

POWELL RIVER, May 27: (CP)—Six persons were forced to jump from windows to safety when fire early today destroyed the frame Davenport Block in Westview, a suburb a few miles south of Powell River.

expenses. Revenues had started to increase. Then came the election of 1933 and the Pattullo government had assumed office. The hard and courageous part having been done by the Tolmie government, the new Liberal administration started out with a great opportunity to put the province on a clean and sound basis. There had been no necessity for further borrowing or further deficits, declared Mr. Maitland. It was up to the government then to pay sinking funds, reduce the debt and restore financial confidence in the province. Instead of that there had been greater borrowings with extravagance and waste. The country districts had been starved in the matter of road building while the government had concentrated on the building of a $4,000,000 bridge at New Westminster. Then on the eve of election had come a campaign of road building on borrowed money. Mr. Hart had not divulged where this money had been borrowed from. Mr. Maitland criticized the Pattullo government for having borrowed $12,000,000 but reminded the audience that it had been loaned by the Bennett government.

The Conservatives had no intention of cutting out social services, said Mr. Maitland. They were something that must remain. Waste and extravagance, however, must be stopped and confidence restored.

Mr. Maitland proceeded to cite certain extravagances of the Pattullo government. Departmental expenditures had increased unnecessarily all along the line.

Health insurance was necessary but it should be along careful, diligent, proper, honest and intelligent lines. The Pattullo government had spent over $130,000 to formulate a scheme which had been eventually abandoned and put into cold storage although members of a highly paid commission still pulled down their salaries. There was waste and extravagance in having two sessions of the legislature in one year.

The Conservative party felt that the time had come for a highway commission to put road work in the province on a permanent, honest, systematic and business basis instead of a basis of political expediency.

Mr. Maitland was critical of the Yukon deal. He scoffed at the idea of Mackenzie King "giving" Pattullo something which was losing $300,000 a year.

"We intend to reduce expenditures, retire debts, cut down taxation and put road building on a business basis," declared Mr. Maitland. "That done, we will have gone a long way towards restoring confidence in this province. We say borrowing, waste and extravagance must stop. We make no rash promises and we do not offer anything but service to the people of British Columbia. We do promise a new kind of government in a new way. We intend to practice economy, restore confidence and thereby encourage capital. The public does not want a dictator. Nor do we. If you wish the things I have outlined, it is up to you to support the Conservative party and place in office men of such a high type as you are offered here in Mr. Eviitt. The God-fearing people of this province will speak in this province on June 1. Vote according to your consciences which I am sure will not allow an-

Series of Parlor Shows Planned By Horticultural Society To Be Held at Homes Of Members

At a meeting of the executive of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Carter last evening, Charles P. Balagno was elected president for the coming year. Staff Sergeant G. H. Greenwood was chosen vice-president and Frank Warne, secretary and treasurer.

It was decided to hold the usual flower show, probably about the first week in August, at a date to be set later by the president and secretary, and to be a date when there are several large tourist boats in port. As the season is rather backward the show may be held a little later than last year, it being the opinion of the executive that the show should include in addition to roses, such flowers as sweet peas, gladioli, delphiniums and other summer flowers.

In addition to the annual flower show, the executive decided to initiate a series of parlor shows to be held at the homes of members, the first to be in charge of Mrs. R. M. Winslow and to be held as soon as convenient after her return from the south. If they prove a success it is expected to hold them once a month. Mrs. Carter made the suggestion and told how successful they had been in one section of Vancouver.

A committee of ladies consisting of Mrs. R. M. Winslow, Mrs. Neal Carter and Mrs. C. J. Norrington was appointed to have charge of the arrangements for the series. The same three ladies, with Mrs. Norrington as convener, was appointed a membership committee for the year. They are expected to very largely increase the membership of the society.

Romance and Opportunity Of Coast Envisioned; Attraction Should be Broadcast to World

"We live by the sea and our sea lore, with all its history and romance, is something about which the whole world should know," said R. L. Maitland K. C. of Vancouver yesterday in addressing the local Gyro Club. "Vancouver and Prince Rupert are utterly failing to proclaim to the world that on this coast is offered the finest coast water trip in the world. Much more commercial advantage should be made of it. Particularly here in Prince Rupert could the longer days be capitalized."

Mr. Maitland, who spoke entirely extemporaneously, had found his inspiration in an air trip from Vancouver which he had completed earlier in the day. He had travelled this coast very often, he said, but from the air he had seen beauties and potentialities of which he had never dreamed before. It gave one an entirely new feeling and was the cause of reflection along new lines. It imbued one with fresh courage. Surely great opportunities were being neglected. Who knew of the wealth that lay hidden in those countless mountains which one could see flung out as far as vision would permit? How many great industries, huge terminals and big cities might some day spring up?

People in Prince Rupert today might wonder if there was a chance for better things. If one looked back three hundred years what chance might have been seen anywhere in this country? The pioneers had courageously hewed their homes out of the wilderness. Possibly fifty or one hundred years from now the pioneer spirit of the people on the coast today might be also admired. Courage, ingenuity, enterprise and skill were the great chance.

He had been thrilled and inspired by the air trip, Mr. Maitland said, but, when in the distance far below he had seen the familiar red and black stack of a Union boat, he had found that, after all, it was with that little ship where his heart really was. This caused him to reflect on the romance and courage of the coast navigators from the early days, when no such modern devices and aids as were known today existed, up to the present time. There was courage and romance in the life of the coast navigator. The city dweller would start out with his car on a foggy evening, fearful of being out even on a city street, and board a coastal vessel where there was a sense of complete security in that one man who was complete master of the situation and on whose skill, knowledge and judgment all relied.

A Great Asset

Sea lore was an integral part of British Columbia. It was something that should be developed, proclaimed to the world and exploited commercially. Pending the development of the more material resources, it was something that could and should be made a great tangible asset—something which, if better known, could attract the whole world.

Dr. H. N. Brocklesby, president of the Gyro Club, was in the chair and fittingly thanked Mr. Maitland for his inspiring talk. There was a full attendance of members and several guests including G. W. Nickerson, W. P. Armour, F. A. MacCallum, W. R. McAfee, J. T. Harvey, Walter Hume, L. H. Harworth and Earl Gordon of Prince Rupert; A. W. Artindale of Vancouver; Dr. J. J. Gibson of Port Simpson; D. Fong stopped Cameron and Bird cleared from Gomez. Borden pressed and Smith's penalty went through though Zbura got his hands to it. Smith later went through but his shot went across the goal. Many Magicians

During an election campaign there spring up many magicians who try to gull the people with statements that if they are elected they will do wondrous things. Then there are others like Premier Pattullo, who have been really doing things for the province, who throw off childish or venomous attacks with contempt.

Premier Pattullo relies on the good sense of the people of his constituents not to be led astray by those who twist facts to suit their own ends and who are determined, if possible, to defeat the man who has brought the province through the most trying time in its history and has fought its battles in the east with wonderful success.

Prince Rupert citizens are noted for their good sense. They are able to sift the false from the true. They realize a good thing when they have it. At the present time they have the power to re-elect Premier Pattullo to carry on his good work or they have the power to put in a member who has no interest in Northern British Columbia except the desire to catch a seat in the Legislature. A third choice is to elect a man who is a novice and who will have to spend a session learning how things are done.

There is nothing against any of the candidates, so far as we know. They are all excellent men. Either might make a suitable member even if some of them are not acquainted with Northern British Columbia's problems. It comes back to a question whether it is wise to turn down a tried warrior who can lead the province to greater heights in favor of an untried man.

A United Front

Those who wish to see Prince Rupert advance during the next four years should make a united effort to return Premier Pattullo once more to set the province on the road to the greater prosperity British Columbia has ever known. We all want prosperity. There never was a time like the present, when we may secure it by means of our votes. Strenuous efforts are being made to undo the good work of the last term of the legislature. Supporters of the Liberal candidate can meet these efforts by making equally strenuous efforts on behalf of their candidate. It is a crucial time and means everything to Prince Rupert.

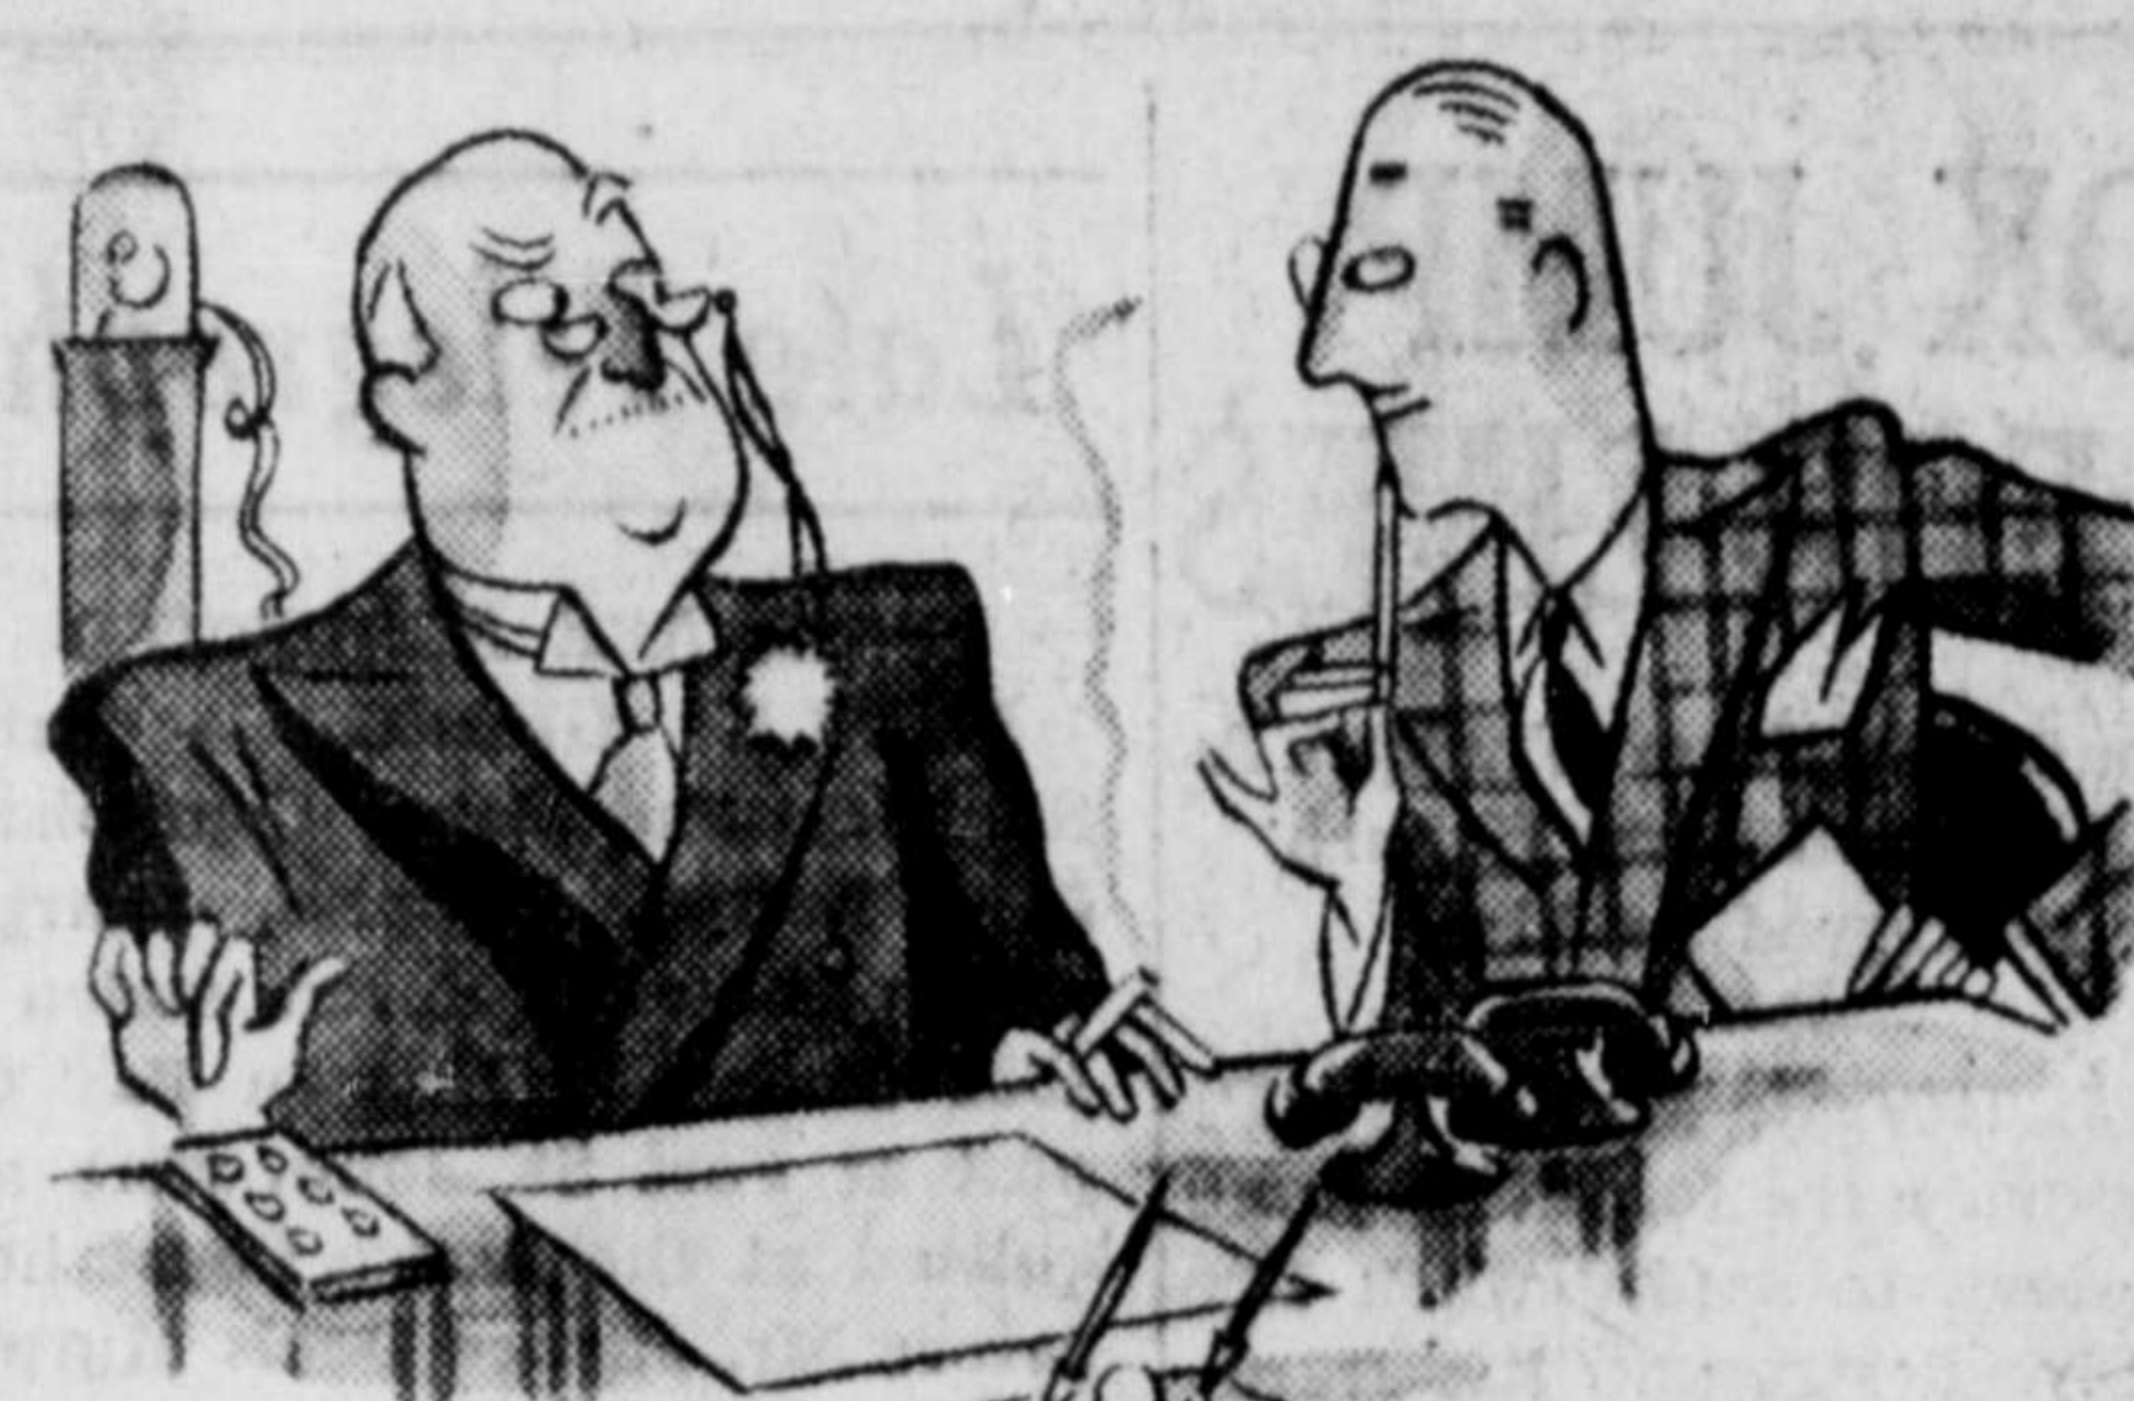

Don't Set British Columbia Back

British Columbia is making remarkable progress. The recovery of the province under the Pattullo administration has been greater than that of any other province in the Dominion. We all want that progress to continue until every man is employed in some gainful occupation.

Should Premier Pattullo be defeated it would mean a setback which it would be difficult to overcome. If the C. F. should win, it would be a sad blow to our pulp mill aspirations. Should the Conservatives win it would mean that the people want to return to the conditions which obtained under the last Conservative administration. There is no guarantee that Dr. Patterson is a better administrator than Dr. Tolmie.

The government of Premier Pattullo is making excellent progress. The probability is that it will be allowed to carry on its good work.

J. T. Harvey supports Conservative Candidate C. V. Eviat at 6:45 this evening over Station CFFR. (11)

Suffering from a leg infection, City Solicitor E. F. Jones is a patient at the Prince Rupert General Hospital where he is reported to be doing favorably.

A tea will be held under the auspices of the Conservative Association in the Oddfellows' Hall on Friday, May 28, from 3:30 to 6 p.m. Everybody welcome. (122)

City Commissioner W. J. Alder has received a communication from the Japanese Consul at Vancouver confirming the announcement published last week that the Japanese training ship Kaiwo Maru is due in Prince Rupert about June 25 for an eight-day visit.

Whist drive and dance C. L. D. L. Hall, Friday, May 28. Snappy music, Mrs. DeCarlo's Orchestra. (122)

Rt. Rev. E. M. Buno O. M. I., Roman Catholic bishop of Northern British Columbia and the Yukon, left on last evening's train for a trip to Burns Lake on ecclesiastical duties.

Owing to the Victoria Day holiday, the regular fortnightly meeting of the Prince Rupert branch of the British-Israel Society, scheduled for that evening, was cancelled.

Pattullo's Health Insurance scheme and his attempts to force it upon the public have cost us $150,000 to date, and nobody except those responsible for its organization has benefitted to the extent of one five-cent piece. (11)

Connie Moody, Indian, charged with vagrancy, and William Spalding, also an Indian, charged with drunkenness, are appearing in city police court this afternoon before Magistrate McClymont.

George Little, prominent pioneer Terrace timber operator, will arrive in the city from the interior on tonight's train and sail aboard the Prince Rupert for a trip to Vancouver.

Dr. J. J. Gibson arrived in the city yesterday from Toronto, being on his way to Port Simpson where he will assist Dr. A. E. Perry, medical superintendent of the Port Simpson General Hospital for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Benner of Oakland, Cal., are visitors in the city. They drove by car as far as Hazelton and came from there on Tuesday night's train. They will be going back to Hazelton on tomorrow evening's train to resume their trip for the return south.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kuchel of Adelaide, Aust., arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert yesterday from Vancouver in the course of a visit to Canada. They will proceed by tomorrow evening's train to Halifax where they will remain for a while before proceeding to England.

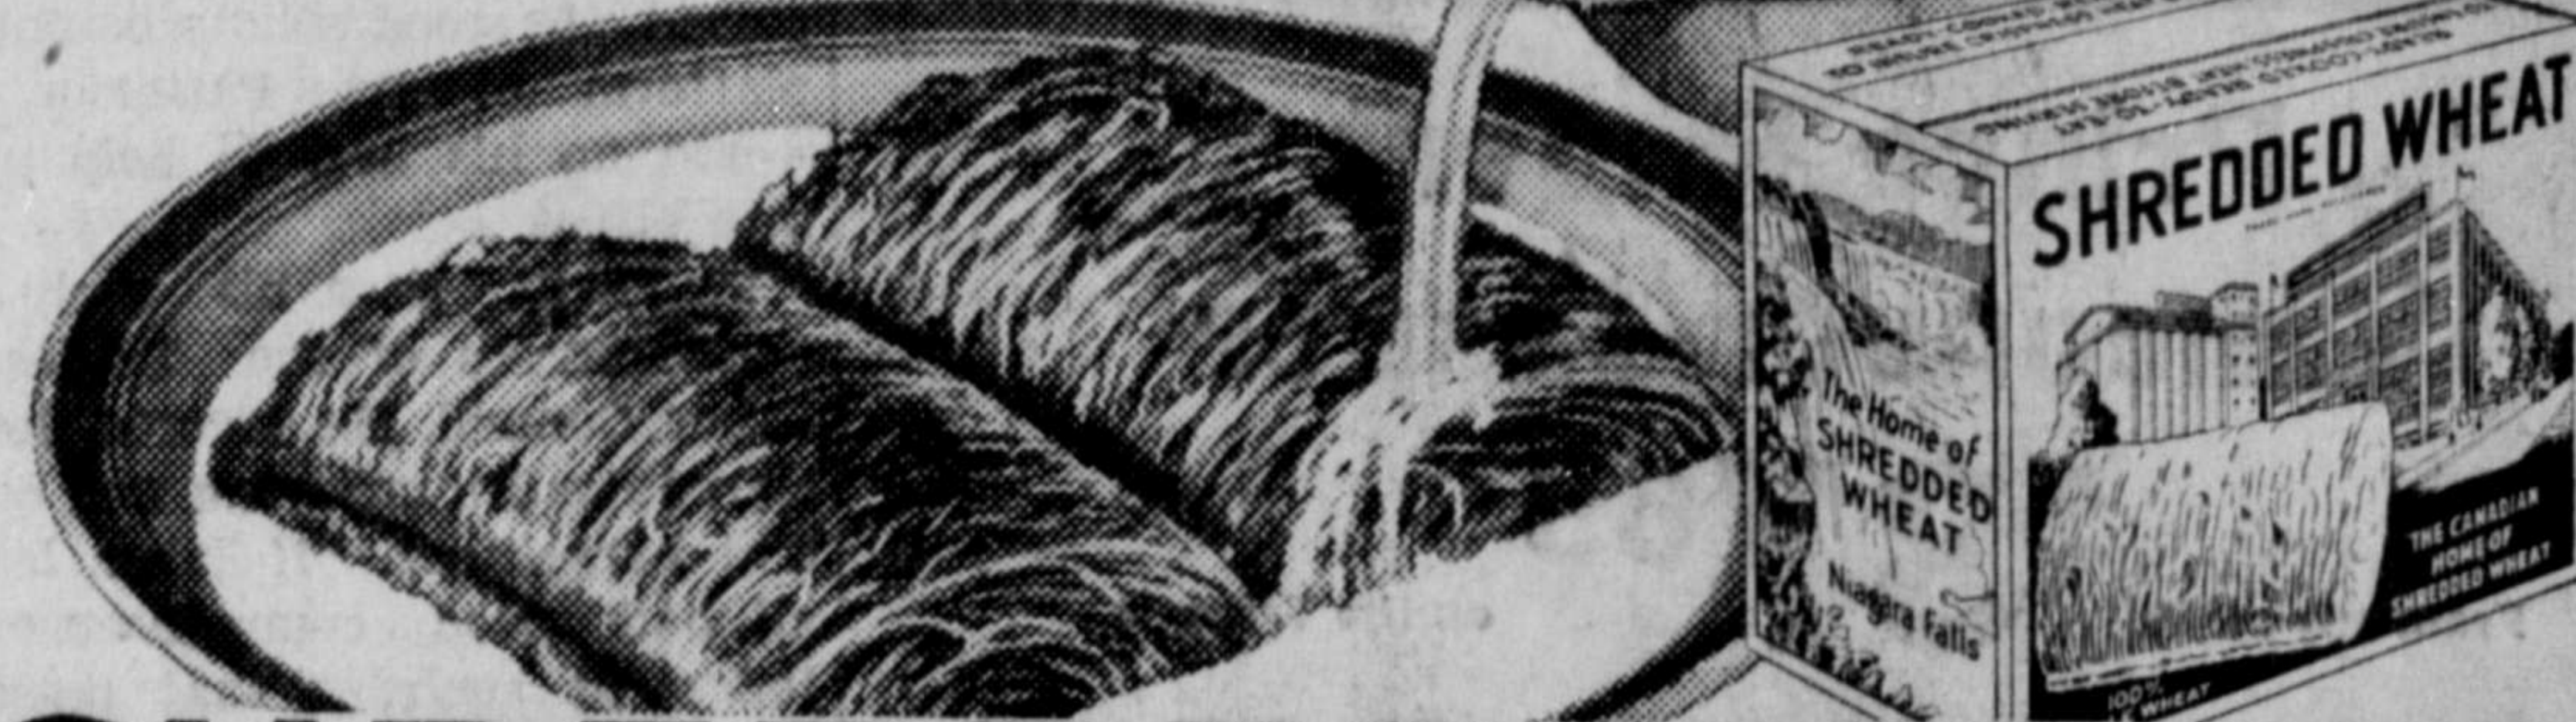

If, as stated in yesterday's press, the Patterson-Maitland set-up is only the old crowd with a new coat of paint, it may safely be averred that the Pattullo lay-out is the old crowd without anything new at all. New paint infers reorganization and new policies. Pattullo offers you nothing new except the Yukon Territory and steadily increasing debt. (11)

A. J. Prudhomme will sail tomorrow night on the Cardena for Vancouver enroute to San Francisco where he will embark on the steamer Virginia for a trip through the Panama Canal and via the West Indies to New York and Montreal. Before leaving on the Cardena, which he will probably join at Claxton, Mr. Prudhomme will be at Port Essington tomorrow night with T. W. Brown and Dr. J. H. Carson to address a Liberal election campaign meeting.

Dominion Constable A. J. Watkinson returned to the city with the departmental cruiser Naskeena last night from Port Simpson. He brought in an Indian, Solomon Spence, who will serve thirty days' imprisonment as an option to paying a fine of $20 for drunkenness.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

other four years like the last four have been."

Mr. Evitt stressed the necessity of reducing the debt of the province, ceasing excessive borrowing, practising economy and lowering taxation. A highway commission would be a good thing both financially and morally. The civil service should be lifted out of politics. There should be a health insurance scheme which would benefit the class which needed it—the unemployed. He stood solidly behind the platform of Dr. Patterson and would do his best to help put it into effect.

Mr. Evitt gave his reply to a questionnaire of the Trades and Labor Council. He favored, he declared, trades unionism and collective bargaining. "If labor leaders all had good commonsense and judgment such as that possessed by the heads of the Prince Rupert Trades & Labor Council, there would be no labor troubles," asserted the candidate.

Mr. Evitt also promised that, if elected, he would each year after the session of the legislature hold public meetings at Prince Rupert, Port Simpson, Massett, Port Clements and Queen Charlotte City to give account of his stewardship. "I promise to represent all if elected," concluded Mr. Evitt. "I ask your support as a plain business man who will give you conscientious representation."

Mr. Harvey, the chairman, thought the Conservatives had a distinct advantage in presenting to the electorate here the only candidate who was an actual resident. He was fitted admirably to be the member. The Liberals may not have "fouled their nests" but it looked like some of them might have "feathered their nests."

Not once throughout the meeting was the C. C. F. even mentioned, the entire fire being against the Liberals.

DRAMA IS POIGNANT

"Winterset," Famous Stage Play, Seen Here, Featuring Same Actors as on Stage

A breath-holding and heart-pounding drama which proved a great hit on the Broadway stage, "Winterset," with three leading members of the original cast in the screen version, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here as the mid-week feature offering. The story revolves about the search of a young man for evidence to clear the name of his father who had been electrocuted years before although innocent. In a waterfront district, he discovers one of the real participants in the crime but becomes enamored of the guilty man's sister. Through a series of suspense-laden events, the tale mounts to a sensational climax.

Murder, mystery and merriment among the ancient tombs of Egypt provide the background for Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey in a lusty satire on terror type of mystery chiller entitled "Mummy's Boys" which rounds out the double bill with "Winterset."

The Queens' Birthday

THREE YEARS OLD! Babies no longer—in fact, quite the young ladies, these quintuplet queens of Callander. And very sturdy, healthy-young ladies, too.

Two and a half years ago the Dionne Quintuplets received their first feedings of Carnation Milk—the evaporated milk they use still. Through some of the most important months of their lives, Carnation was the main food in their diets.

Less widely heralded, but just as effective, is Carnation's use in literally thousands of homes where babies are growing to sturdy childhood on this good milk. Carnation is pure, nourishing, super-digestible. It is irradiated, adding valuable bone-building "sunshine" vitamin D to the diet... And it is just as fine for cooking and creaming as it is for babies and children.
