B.C. LEGISLATURE OPENS WITH NEW MANDATE; HAS BEEN MUCH SPECULATION

Program Not Disclosed; Believed Budget Will Show Revenues Higher; New Portfolio

By CHARLES NICHOLS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VICTORIA, Oct. 26: (CP)—The government of Premier T. D. Pattullo, holding a brand new mandate, today started the first legislature of its second term with the session's program hidden up its administrative sleeves until the Speech from the Throne is read.

Political observers have been so far left to speculate what would come before the house in addition to the budget and the estimates.

Contents of the budget are kept concealed in the snowy head of finance Minister John Hart, but observers believe it would show revenues more buoyant than before in the history of this province. Some set the figure for total revenues over the last year as high as $4,000,000 over the previous 12 months.

Premier Pattullo, assured of support of 30 members by virtue of his victory at the polls, has little indication of what will be before the 19th legislature. It has, however, definitely excluded any forecast that the end of the session would see enlargement of British Columbia or a new state insurance bill.

Suggested Program
Lacking official forecasts, sources close to the government believed the legislature would be asked to consider:

Legislation setting up machinery for settlement of disputes between employers and employees embodied in an Industrial Disputes Act. An amendment to the Securities Act, tightening it up.

Amendments to the Motor Vehicles Act providing for examination of drivers and an amendment to the Vancouver City Charter enabling examination of all automobiles for safety.

A petition from Vancouver asking for "better terms" from the provincial government in the form of basis money grants restored to the pre-depression basis, larger contributions towards educational costs and a part of the gasoline tax collected by the province.

A report by Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald who investigated the fuel situation in 1934 after coal interests asked protection against intruders into their markets made by the sale of petroleum as fuel.

The session also will see creation of a new portfolio of Trade and Industry. The premier has dropped no hints as to who would be placed in the new cabinet office but has said it "might" be filled by one of the present ministers.

It was considered possible that the legislation might be asked to discuss establishment of a racing commission but what direction such a discussion might take has not been indicated.

While no final action will be taken on either the Yukon annexation or Health Insurance projects—pending the report of the Royal Commission studying Dominion-Provincial relations—both probably will come up for discussion.

Observers believed the Health Insurance Commission, established during the last session, might be asked to continue its study of the project which was endorsed in principle by a plebiscite held simultaneously with the last elections. The plebiscite was called after a compulsory Health Insurance Act, brought out by the last house, snagged upon opposition from the medical profession and other sources on the eve of its implementation. It was never brought into effect.

The Yukon annexation scheme still is subject to negotiations be-

Schacht Drops Out of German Cabinet Following Difference With Chancellor Hitler

BERLIN, Oct. 26: (CP)—The resignation of Dr. Hjalmer Schacht, German minister of economics, was accepted today by Chancellor Adolf Hitler. Schacht remains head of the Reichsbank. ## Tourist Revenue Increase In B.C.

Net Profit From Industry Estimated at $7,000,000

VICTORIA, Oct. 26: (CP)—British Columbia's net profit from the tourist industry during 1937 will probably total between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000, provincial government officials estimated today.

This figure, based on statistics on motor travel through ports of entry from the United States will be about $1,700,000 more than in 1936. In that year, according to federal government estimates, foreign automobile travel was worth $10,687,000 to British Columbia against $6,382,000 spent in the United States, by residents of the province.

The British Columbia estimate for 1937 was based on expectations that foreign cars entering the province this year would total 160,000, compared with 144,108 last year and 116,883 in 1935.

Mrs. A. E. Thompson, Mother Of Mrs. Applewhite, Will Be Laid At Rest in Vancouver

Going south aboard the Catala today for interment in Vancouver were the remains of Mrs. A. E. Thompson, mother of Mrs. E. T. Applewhite of Stewart, whose death occurred last Thursday afternoon at Stewart where she had resided for seventeen years. Mrs. Thompson was born in England in 1880 and settled in 1890 in New Westminster where she lived for many years. In her day she was a popular vocalist in the Royal City as well as an active church worker. Following the death of her husband in 1920, she made her home in Stewart. In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Applewhite, she is survived by a son, Wilfrid Cameron, in Vancouver. Accompanying the remains south today was a granddaughter, Mrs. John Gray of Premier.

SPUD-LADEN TRUCK HERE

Alaska To New York Vehicle Creates Considerable Interest—Takes to Railway

Laden with three and a half tons of potatoes from the Matanuska Valley, which she went to Ketchikan to have put on board, a trail-blazing Dodge truck landed here last night from the Northland Transportation Co.'s motorship liner Northland which arrived at midnight from Ketchikan. This morning, after being equipped with steel flanged wheels, the truck left over the Canadian National Railway for Hazelton where it will be put on the road for the long drive to New York which is the ultimate destination. Being added to the shipment in the interior is a sack of Bulkley Valley potatoes from the farm of Mrs. A. Murray at Doughty.

Driver of the truck is Al Radero of Detroit who has had considerable experience in the past in such sort of stunts.

The truck excited considerable interest here.

SECOND CAR OF PRODUCE

Smithers Has Done Well in Relieving Prairie Drought Sufferers

SMITHERS, Oct. 26:—The second car load of vegetables to be sent from the Bulkley Valley to the drought area of Saskatchewan will leave Smithers today for Ituna, Saskatchewan.

The first car left a week ago for Hoosier, Sask., and it has taken only a week to procure and load the second car.

This fact speaks loudly not only of the productivity of the soil of the Bulkley Valley but also of the generous support and the sympathetic attitude of the people of the north for those who are in distress in other parts of Canada.

Donations have come in to Smithers from nearly every point between Burns Lake on the east and Cedarvale and Woodcock on the west.

CONTROL OF PRESS

In discussing the control of the press, as proposed by Premier Aberhart of Alberta, it is natural for people to consider that editors of newspapers are speaking for themselves when dealing with this subject rather than discussing a subject on its merits from the point of view of an independent critic. That is one reason why we have been slow to say anything about it. However, we have noticed that some people who have favored control are people who would control in their own interests if they once were given the opportunity.

It is only because there is no press control that such newspapers as the Federationist, the Clarion, and dozens of similar papers are allowed to be published. Yet the people behind these ventures all believe in the control of the legitimate newspapers. They would like to see a curb put on publication of views with which they do not agree.

The papers which publish news, as distinct from propagandist papers which publish mostly views, usually devote one column or less each day for the publication of the views of the editor on current topics. The propagandist papers devote practically the whole paper to the one subject, that of supporting the views of the editor or publishers. No attempt is made to deal with the great events of the world from day to day. People who read those papers get distorted and one-sided opinions just as they do in those countries where the press is controlled by the government.

It is probably true that newspapers have found themselves over much biased by the rich with a tendency to gloss over or refuse to discuss the problems of the poor. That has been true to a considerable extent in the past and still may be true to a much smaller degree. Yet, in spite of this, the newspapers in countries such as Great Britain, France, United States and Canada, where there is very little control, give a pretty good cross-section of news interest to the average person. The very fact that they are so often quoted by those who would control indicates that they are on the whole fair. The newspaper that is unfair all the time soon loses ground and finds its subscribers dropping away.

Take this paper as an example. We believe that its predominant position in this district is largely the result of the efforts of its publishers to be fair to all classes in the community.

Let us suppose a Fascist government were in control, we should be obliged to publish only news agreeable to the Fascist authorities. The same would be true if a Social Credit government were in power or a communist government. Judging from the utterances of some of the C.C.F. leaders they would also like to control the press and make it publish only such news as suited their particular fancy.

Control of the press is in every case undertaken for the purpose of retaining power by those who are for the time being at the head of affairs.

EYSTON'S CAR READY FOR RECORD RUN

Here are two of the first pictures to be published in Canada of the 6,000-horsepower racing automobile in which Capt. G. Eyston, British daredevil of speed, hopes to travel at a speed of 400 m.p.h. The car was photographed when it arrived in London, England, from the factory, before being shipped to the United States. At the Bonneville salt flats of Utah, Captain Eyston will seek to eclipse the speed mark of over 300 m.p.h. made by his countryman, Malcolm Campbell. Below is a head-on view of the unusual machine. The huge fin will help hold the car on a straight course.

SPORT CHAT

Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League, has declared that there must be less whistle blowing in league games during the coming season. "It's up to the referees to see to it," he says. All of which means that the players will have to be more careful or they will be spending more time in the penalty box.

Rival promoters are bidding for the English Football Association cup final of 1938. A 21-year agreement with Wembley Stadium authorities runs out in seven years. Alterations at Wembley, where thousands were turned away last year, would cost the English Football Association $300,000. On the other hand, Brig.-Gen. A. C. Critchley, Alberta-born sportsman, has submitted an offer to extend the White City to accommodate 150,000 persons if the F. A. will consider having the game played there. Wembley now holds 93,000 persons.

The angler shook his head. Later that day the farmer appeared again.

WEDDING OF DR. PUGSLEY

Marriage to Dr. Bliss MacQuarrie Takes Place in Ontario

The marriage of Dr. Elaine Bliss MacQuarrie, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. J. MacQuarrie of Keady, Ontario, to Dr. Leonard Irving Pugsley, son of the late Dr. L. Lorne Pugsley, and of Mrs. L. Lorne Pugsley, of Five Islands, Nova Scotia, took place at twelve o'clock on Saturday, October 16 at St. James' Church, Keady, Rev. W. MacQuarrie, father of the bride, officiating.

Autumn leaves and foliage decorated the church and white ribbons marked the guest pews. The bride, who was given in marriage by her younger brother, Callum MacQuarrie of Toronto, wore a floor length gown of royal blue velvet on Grecian lines with long sleeves, a silver clasp of the high shoulder-length blue veil, held in place by a silver halo and she carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The only attendant, Miss Frances Dale of Stratford, Ont., was in the York model of crushed rose velvet, falling to floor length and made on Grecian lines. She wore a matching turban of velvet with a large bow on the right side. Accessories and she carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. Dr. Ernest W. MacQuarrie, of Bramanque, Que., brother of the bride, was best man for Dr. Pugsley and the ushers were Mr. D. A. Smith and Mr. Melville Henderson, both of Keady, Ont.

Mrs. MacQuarrie, the bride's mother, was in a gown of Burgundy crepe with insets of cut velvet at the yoke and sleeves and she wore a matching hat and black accessories and a harmonizing corsage bouquet.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, The Manse, Keady, where autumn leaves and foliage and late fall asters were used to decorate. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by silver candlesticks holding golden candles. Mrs. Dale poured tea, using a silver tea service presented to the bride by the Keady congregation.

Dr. and Mrs. Pugsley left on their wedding trip which will include visits to Montreal, the groom's home in Nova Scotia, Chicago, Winnipeg and across the continent to their new home in Prince Rupert. The bride travelled in a navy and rose all over patterned silk afternoon gown with a dove grey slouch hat and a tailored coat and navy accessories.

Bernice Palmer says . . .

In three months a New York woman has collected twenty-five hundred buttons made from almost every kind of material. Either she hasn't any little children or they all have zippers on their clothes. Zippers are certainly a godsend aren't they? Did you know they can be used over and over long after the original garment they graced has been forgotten? If you have a toddler whose sweaters have become too tight, try opening the sweater down the front and sewing on a zipper. If it is still a bit snug, cut the sleeves out and you will have a sleeveless sweater that will do yeoman service under a coat for another season. However, if you still prefer buttons, this year they are being covered either with matching or contrasting material.

Timely Recipes

FISH CUSTARD

Fish is so easily digested, as well as being nourishing and rich in healthbuilding substance, that it is well suited for use in the diet of convalescents and invalids. It may be prepared in a number of ways, of course, but one of the cookery specialists on the staff of the Dominion Department of Fisheries gives the following per person for an easily prepared fish custard:

Beat one egg (or the yolks of two eggs may be used) and pour it on one-half cup of milk; add a tablespoon of flaked, cooked fish, season with salt and pepper and pour into a greased custard cup. Place the cup in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until the custard has set (when a knife comes away clean and the custard is firm). The custard should be allowed to stand for a while before being turned out as otherwise it may break.

EDITOR IS TRUTHFUL

Candid Wedding Write-up Found—Nuptials of Skinny Little Idiot And Popular Young Bum

One of the most famous columnists on this continent—Alexander Woolcott—who used to make that hour of "The Town Crier" on Sunday afternoon on the radio such an outstanding event, found in a Carolina newspaper a frank account of a local wedding. The postscript goes far to explain the extreme candidness of the report. It was headed: Popular Young Couple Married This Week.

"The groom is a popular young bum who hasn't done a lick of work since he got shipped in the middle of his junior year at college. He manages to dress well and keep a supply of spending money because his dad is a soft-hearted old fool who takes up his bad cheques instead of letting him go to jail where he belongs."

"The bride is a skinny, fast little idiot who has been kissed and handled by every boy in town since she was 12 years old. She paints like a Sioux Indian, sucks cigarettes in secret and drinks mean corn liquor when she is out joy-riding in her dad's car at night. She doesn't know how to cook, sew or keep house."

"The groom wore a rented dinner suit over athletic underwear of imitation silk. His pants were held up by pale green suspenders. His number eight patent leather shoes matched his state in tightness and harmonized nicely with the axle-grease polish of his hair. In addition to his jag he carried a pocket-knife and his usual look of imbecility."

"The bride wore some kind of a white thing that left most of her legs sticking out. The young people will make their home with the bride's parents, which means they will sponge on the old man until he dies and then she will take in washing. The happy couple anticipate a great event in about five months."

"Postscript: This may be the last issue of The Journal, but my life ambition has been to write up one wedding and tell the unvarnished truth. Now that it is done death can have no sting."—Ex.

First Chapters Of Bible Were Speaker's Topic

At the fortnightly meeting last evening of the local British-Israeli Society, Robert H. Bartlett gave an interesting talk on the first ten chapters of the Bible and their fund of scientific lore concerning the Adamic race.

Through the discoveries of archeologists in recent years these early chapters of Genesis could now be clearly understood, the speaker said. The Flood was a vivid historical fact to the ancients. Stories of the Creation, the Garden of Eden, the Flood and the Ark were all told in the tablets recently discovered and threw further light on the original monotheism of the Semitic race and the purpose of the different names of the one true God.

These tablets were lost to history with the collapse of the kingdoms of the Tigris and Euphrates but evidence indicated a very definite knowledge of the Messianic prophecy in these lands and further a similar knowledge in Egypt.

Parts of the sacred record once called mythical were now those that had the best supporting evidence and went far towards the restoration of confidence in the Bible as a whole.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, returned to port at 10:30 this morning from Stewart, Anyox and other northern points and sailed at 1:30 this afternoon for Vancouver and way-points. Before arriving here, the Catala called in at Inverness cannery and picked up R. G. Johnston, manager of the cannery there, and Mrs. Johnston who are going through to Victoria for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sinclair and child were also going through on the Catala from Inverness to Victoria.

According to advices from Seattle last night only two American halibut fishing vessels remain to make port following the closing of the fishing season a week ago. Yesterday four vessels from Area No. 3 marketed catches totalling 142,000 pounds in Seattle. They were: Columbia, 37,000 pounds, Booth, 12,500 and 10,500; Akutan, 40,000, Whiz, 12,500 and 10,000; Sebastian, 12,500 and 10,000; Bananza, 25,000, McCallum, 12,500 and 10,500. The Tacoma, Lively, Eclipse, National and Don landed sable and cod catches in Seattle yesterday.

Northland Transportation Co.'s motorship liner Northland, Capt. Len Williams, spent the night in port, arriving at 12:15 midnight from Ketchikan and sailed at 10:30 this morning for Seattle. The vessel brought in fourteen carloads of frozen fish for transshipment to the United States over the Canadian National Railways as well as one car for cold storage here. In addition she had the Dodge continental truck laden with potatoes from Alaska for New York and several passengers who went east by rail, last night's train being held until 2 o'clock this morning pending their arrival.

There were no halibut arrivals here today and no more are now expected. Some twelve or fifteen vessels of the local halibut fleet are now engaged in cod fishing.

Armour Salvage Co.'s service boat Daly, Capt. Albert Erickson, returned last night from Captain's Cove where she went to put down an anchor block for use in mooring Davis rafts from the Queen Charlotte Islands and left this morning for Dundas Island to bring in a scow laden with 500 tons of clam-shell for delivery to Seattle. The Pachena, Capt. Reg. Green, is at Port Simpson today with a scowload of gravel to be used in connection with the building of a new school there for the Department of Indian Affairs.

Auction Sale Telkwa Farm

Thomas McDonald, Who Has Left District, Disposes of Effects

SMITHERS, Oct. 26.—An auction sale was held last Thursday of the livestock and implements on the farm of Thomas McDonald near Telkwa. Mr. McDonald was obliged to give up farming several years ago owing to his age and ill health and removed to Vancouver where he has been residing since. The farm has been occupied by Ed Stride for the past two years.

Dougal McDonald, son of Thomas McDonald, arrived in Smithers from his home near Mission, to supervise the sale and L. H. Kenney was the auctioneer. After disposing of all the effects Mr. McDonald left the same evening on his return to the Fraser Valley.

"GOOD OLD SOAK" HERE

Another Typical Characterization By Wallace Beery Tops Capitol Bill

Featuring another typical characterization by Wallace Beery, "Good Old Soak" tops a double bill program at the Capitol Theatre here at the first of this week. It depicts a not unusual situation in an average small town family during the era of prohibition. Beery plays the part of the lackadaisical character who quits work to keep up with the speakeasies. When the family fortune becomes missing, he is wrongfully blamed and proceeds to find the guilty persons and knit the family ties with an efficiency that astonishes the townsfolk. Outstanding in support of Beery are Una Merkel, Eric Linden, Judith Barrett, Betty Furness, Ted Healy, George Sidney and Janet Beecher.

The second feature of the double bill is a comedy "Married Before Breakfast," teaming Robert Young and Florence Rice. Young plays the part of a carefree young inventor who becomes emmeshed in a series of laugh-provoking adventures. Sets include a palatial Fifth Avenue mansion, a swanky hotel suite, the interior of a large office building, a middle-class boarding house and a travel agency office.

MEET HELD AT TELKWA

Smithers and District Chambers of Commerce in Session There

SMITHERS, Oct. 26.—The Smithers and District Chamber of Commerce journeyed to Telkwa on Thursday evening to hold its quarterly meeting and to enjoy a very excellent dinner served at the Bus-singer Hotel at that place. Thirty members sat down at the board and enjoyed a fine banquet of which Bulkley Valley beef was the main item.

After the dinner President A. G. Bowie gave an address in which he rehearsed the various activities of the main discussion of the evening centred around immigration for the Bulkley Valley and the meeting was unanimous in the opinion that steps should be taken to bring increased farming population to this district and that it would be desirable to move some of the Canadian farmers from the drought stricken areas of Saskatchewan to the Bulkley Valley. A committee was appointed to take the matter in hand with a view to advertising the advantages of this district.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

SMITHERS, Oct. 26.—Hans G. Mr. Olsen has been on the office staff of the Hanson Timber Co. Ltd. for many years.
