GO BACK TO WORK

Happy Steel Workers Return To Jobs—No General Settlement

CHICAGO, July 2:—Smiling workers walked unmolested through the main gates of the Inland Steel East Chicago plant yesterday for the first time since May 27 when a strike call closed the mill. The march began several hours before the whistle blew. It was a happy back to work movement. Only a few hours before a city wide celebration had followed Governor Clifford Townsend's announcement that the Inland strike had been settled.

Frank Purnell, president, declared today that Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, object of a C. I. O. strike, "will not enter into any agreement with the S. W. O. C. or the C. I. O. either directly or indirectly."

SPECIAL WEAPONS

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 2:—A Chicago police official told Senate investigators that some of his subordinates might have been armed with special weapons but not furnished by the C. I. O. when they broke up a Memorial Day demonstration of steel strikers.

Sergeant Lawrence J. Lyons had told the Senate Civil Liberty Committee that police may have used "other than regulation clubs" in the encounter which resulted in the death of ten demonstrators.

MORE FISH IS LANDED

Volume of Halibut at Port So Far This Year is Ahead of Last Year

The total catch of halibut landed at Prince Rupert during June this year as recorded on the books of the local fish exchange was 2,314,400 pounds in comparison with 1,638,600 pounds in June 1936. Sixty-nine American vessels landed 1,251,000 pounds this June and 109 Canadian boats, 1,063,400 pounds.

The total of halibut landed at the port so far this season, as recorded at the Fish Exchange, has been 7,026,700 pounds as compared with 5,341,700 pounds up to the end of June last year.

This season to date 207 American catches, totalling 3,306,300 pounds, have been landed here as compared with 158 catches and a total of 2,481,800 pounds last year. This year to date 391 catches for a total of 3,720,400 pounds have been landed by the Canadian fleet as against 271 catches and a total of 2,859,000 pounds last year.

'Frisco Building Service Workers Now on Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2:—Thousands of San Franciscans walked up to work in uncleaned office buildings yesterday after one thousand building service employees carried out their threat to strike. Last minute efforts to halt the strike call failed as Mayor Rossi's moves for negotiations met with indifference.

More Soviet Gunboats Have Made Appearance in Amur Area; Air Is Still Tense in Frontier Region

TOKYO, July 2:—Japanese reports said that five more Soviet gunboats had appeared at Sennufu Island in the Amur River, where an alleged Soviet "invasion" has led to an armed clash between the Russian river craft and Japanese artillery. These advances, together with continued occupation of the Island and what Japanese sources said was Moscow's failure to reply to Tokyo protests caused official apprehension.

They declared that only the evacuation of Sennefu Island and other disputed territory by the Soviet armed forces can bring about a peaceful solution to the problem. As it stands both Japan and Russia consider the other the aggressor.

ENTERTAIN JAPANESE MUSSOLINI OB DURATE

Yesterday the Junior Chamber of Commerce was host to the officers and cadets of the Japanese train ship "Kaiwo Maru."

In the morning the cadets were taken for a drive around the city and to the end of the road in cars owned by the members and their friends. The party was shown over the Dry Dock by G. A. McMillan, superintendent, and other officials.

The officers and cadets were entertained at 1 o'clock at a luncheon in the Knox Hotel. President George Rorie of the Junior Chamber of Commerce extended to the visitors his best wishes and expressed the hope that all might see them at a later date as captains of their own vessels.

Chief Officer S. Nishizawa responded on behalf of Captain Hadano who was unable to attend.

Sadao Suga, on behalf of the Prince Rupert Japanese Association and the Skeena River Fishermen's Association, thanked the Junior Chamber for the assistance given in helping to entertain their kinsmen from over the sea.

An interesting talk was given by Cadet Minami on the life of the members of the crew. He stated that the cruise was the conclusion of a three year course of training at the end of which they would graduate from their college. They would then be taken on private company-owned vessels as apprentices after which, on proving their efficiency, they would be promoted to junior officers when their future progress would depend on their ability.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 2:—The House has sent the administration's $1,500,000,000 relief bill to the White House for approval. It completed congressional action on the measure by adopting the recommendations of conferees on settlement of differences between the House and Senate.

Model Yacht Is Presented To Japanese Ship

Yesterday afternoon a happy event took place at headquarters of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve when the presentation was made to Capt. Z. Hadano of the Japanese training ship of a model yacht made by A. J. Croxford of this city. The model will be later presented on return of the Kaiwo Maru to Japan to the cadet on the ship who makes the best showing. Capt. Hadano and officers inspected the new naval reserve building.

ARE HEADED FOR STRIFE

French Leaders Halt Violent Trend Of Movements Under Various Political Groups

PARIS, July 2: (CP)—A warning that French children are growing up in a civil war atmosphere is being sounded throughout France by political and educational authorities.

Infants lifting chubby hands in the clenched fist of communism or the stiff arm of fascism—children joining rival political bands—youths shouting "La Rocque to the gallows" and "death to Blum"—are cited as tending to put future Frenchmen against one another.

These warnings have come in for grave discussion in the press, in public meetings and in government councils since eight-year old Paul Gignoux was stoned to death April 25 at Lyon by other children.

The fact that the boy's parents belonged to Col. Francois de la Rocque's Nationalist French Social Party and his uncle was president of the Lyon Chamber of Commerce aroused reports his playmates killed him as a "fascist."

An official inquiry established that the boy, wearing his best Sunday suit and riding his bicycle, was called "girl in pants" by urchins who derided his fine clothes and long hair. When Paul answered their taunts, they threw a barrage of stones that broke his skull. Eleven boys were placed under public welfare supervision.

Though this incident turned out to be a boyish but tragic dispute, it became the inspiration for a campaign against violence and divisions among the young. "This tragedy worries us because it is only too symbolic," former Premier Edouard Herriot, president of the National Chamber of Deputies and mayor of Lyon, told his city council.

"Children are surrounded now by an extremely grave moral atmosphere. By pictures, stories, books and movies, they are brought to know the criminal actions. Our children come to consider violence as customary. They do not know the other side of the story, pitiless punishment.

"A country which would tolerate such insults to justice and to reason would fall into decadence. For my part, I will not tolerate them."

Groups Well Rooted

Organized politics for the young, however, are deeply entrenched and will not be rooted out easily. The communist party presides over a particularly powerful youth movement. The Federation des Jeunes Communistes, headed by Secretary-General Leonce Granjon, numbers 92,000 members, at demonstrations demanding such things as "guns for republican Spain."

The communists also sponsor the Union des Jeunes Filles de France, already numbering 10,000 girls. Singing of the Internationale, waving of red flags and shouts of "down with fascism" marked their first congress. The Socialist Party controls a youth movement of 40,000 boys, often appearing in unofficial uniforms of red shirts and blue ties.

The radical youths form one of the most moderate wings of the Radical-Socialist Party. They have the crossed arms salute, compromise between clenched fist and stiff arm.

La Rocque's Social Party is noted for its smart E.V.P. (equipes volantes de propagande), squads of young men in cream-colored shirts standing guard, with arms folded on chests, before the speaker's stand at party meetings. The Royalist Action Francaise had its henchmen of the King, once numbering 15,000 beret-wearing students and others. It was dissolved after beating Leon Blum February 13, 1936, but it has remained active.

Mrs. P. T. Cousens and daughter left on this morning's train for a trip to Prince Albert.

Mutual Understanding Between Nations of Problems is Urged By Captain of Japanese Ship

Relation of His Country to Others in Field of Trade And Commerce Discussed—Olof Hanson Extends Welcome at Gyro Luncheon

"I hold the view that if nations such as Canada and Japan are prepared to meet each other on a basis of mutual understanding, there need be no fear of any such thing as war between them," asserted Capt. Z. Hadano, master of the visiting Japanese mercantile marine training ship Kaiwo Maru in addressing the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon on Wednesday. "I am convinced that a better understanding of each others' needs and aspirations will assure peace between the nations."

Captain Hadano made some interesting remarks in regard to international relations with special reference to economic and trade problems and his address was listened to with rapt attention by an audience which included a large number of the officers of his ship, prominent members of the local Japanese community and other guests as well as members of the club.

Another item of interest was the conveying by Olof Hanson, M. P. for Skeena, of a welcome to the Kaiwo Maru on behalf of the Dominion government.

Musical numbers included harmonica solos by Second Wireless Operator O. Arima and xylophone solos by George L. Rorie.

Dr. H. N. Brocklesby, president of the Gyro Club, was in the chair and spoke suitably in welcoming the captain and officers of the Kaiwo Maru.

The guests were Capt. Z. Hadano, Chief Officer S. Hishizawa, Second Officer S. Uchiyama, Third Officer M. Chiba, Chief Engineer F. Arakawa, First Engineer K. Katsuka, Pursuer U. Nakata, Chief Wireless Operator H. Uesugi and Second Officer O. Arima; Sadao Suga, T. Tsuji, K. Sakamoto, H. Mochida, H. Matsumoto and T. S. Shimizu; W. D. Vance, Alex. McRae, F. A. MacCallum and Olof Hanson M.P.

Captain's Address

In opening his address, Capt. Hadano expressed appreciation for the honor of having been invited to address the Gyro Club. He commended the purposes of the service organization.

Referring to the increase in population and the development of industry and trade of his country, Capt. Hadano told how it had become necessary for Japan to create work through industry. Manufacturing had expanded and Japan was importing greater and greater quantities of raw materials from abroad to convert into commodities for export. The rapidly increasing introduction of "Made in Japan" goods on the world's markets had aroused some criticism and caused some anxiety among other nations. It was essential, however, for Japan to have access to the world's markets in which the European and American nations had had an important place. The competing nations had made efforts to reduce prices to meet Japanese competition. Japan had had to make up for lost time and he did not believe it should be reproached for producing cheap goods and good quality in order to win recognition and meet competition. Today the Old World nations were raising fortifications and trade barriers.

The Mackenzie King government of Canada, Capt. Hadano declared, understood the real and urgent situation of Japan in relation to the present world economic situation. It was trying to build up amicable relations.

Capt. Hadano quoted words of Col. House who had said: "If we of the white races play our hands well, it may be that Japan will find its best interests on the side of the white races. Conflict which threatens can only be avoided if the people of the white races come to realize that they must treat the other races as equals. If they do not do so, they must be prepared (Continued on page two)

SALMON FISHING STARTS

Good Run on Skeena and Naas With All Boats Fishing

The sockeye run for the opening day of the season on Skeena and Naas Rivers Thursday is reported to have been quite up to expectations. The average for the Skeena was fifteen fish per boat with the high boat reported as having taken fifty-eight fish. On the Naas River the average was reported as thirty fish per boat with 153 for the high boat. Namu reports an average of nineteen fish per boat.

All gillnet fishermen started to work including the Japanese who have been demanding fifty cents per fish instead of forty-seven and one half cents offered by the cannery. The cannery are also offering seven and one half cents per pound for sockeye as an alternative to the piece price but, as the Skeena fish have been averaging 5.6 pounds and the Naas 5.9 pounds, there has been no disposition to take the pound price.

Hysterical Condition

The world seems to be in an hysterical condition just now largely as a result of the growing menace of competition in armaments. The war spirit seems to have been aroused in a great many countries and only extreme calmness on the part of leaders will avert a catastrophe. Russia and Japan seem to find it difficult to keep from fighting each other and yet each country professes to be anxious to keep the peace. There is nothing to indicate that either country wishes war and yet there is continual trouble along the border and the killing of citizens of either country by the other is bound to cause trouble sooner or later.

In Europe the situation is even worse for the countries seem to be trying to manipulate their opponents into positions in which they may be forced to fight. Happily, Great Britain is steadily regaining her former strength which she lost in the hope that other nations would follow her example. Every day that passes places her in a better position and, the stronger she is, the less likely is there to be war.

Russia's Weakness

It has been suggested that Russia's weakness is her internal divisions. With many of her best leaders removed because of their lack of sympathy with the present governing power, there is bound to be a loss of national inspiration in the army which may prove fatal in case of a clash with a foreign power. No one can doubt that the rank and file of the army must have a great deal of sympathy with their old, tried and trusted officers.

Our Language

The average person does not use many words but uses them often. Some people get along nicely with about five hundred or less. People who are widely read usually manage to use a thousand to fifteen hundred but good writers, real literary men, use a good many more.

Some words are very much overworked. One who has studied the subject says that children and shop girls use "okay" much more often than they should. People who are in close touch with Hollywood use the words "terrific" and "lousy." People connected with the advertising business overwork the word "contact." In society the word "definitely" is heard much too often. Broadway is the place where you hear "gal." Tradesmen get offensively monotonous with the word "racket." Interior decorators are very fond of the word "swell." Columnists and other commentators have a fondness for "impact" while stockbrokers play too much with the word "honey." People of education and charm are those who avoid these words that are overworked to such an extent as to become almost vulgar.

Possibly the best rule to follow is to use the word best suited to the occasion but not to use it too often. Even a vulgar word is sometimes useful. The language is rich in words but the people who use them do not realize the riches they miss when they fail to make use of them.

Trend of Music Said Classical

SAINT JOHN, N.B., July 2: (CP)—"The trend of music today is back to the classical," Walter S. Clapperton, professor of music at McGill University, said when he visited Saint John to examine students taking McGill courses in music.

"The radio has brought music into the homes of everybody and it is there for people to take advantage of, a great multitude of whom have done so. Radio listeners can procure scores, if they wish, and beside their radios they can listen and criticize as never before. Furthermore, more people are interested in this type of music today than are generally given credit for."

Folk music exists in New Brunswick, said Prof. Clapperton. "Even now one of our associates, Prof. W. J. Smith, of Fredericton, is busily engaged in seeking this. In the summer he will visit the lumber camps to learn the tunes of the lumbermen throughout the province and also visit the country folk."

for a most terrible conflict." The views with which Capt. H. dano said he concurred. In cloth he was quoted from a Daily News editorial stressing the necessity of international goodwill. This was something which he hoped organizations such as the Gyro Club would endeavor to promote.

Olof Hanson

Olof Hanson, in his remarks, declared that the Dominion government was endeavoring to create international goodwill, maintain peace and promote trade with all nations. All were aware of the strides that the Japanese nation was making. Coming in contact by means of such visitations as that of the Kaiwo Maru should help to promote goodwill, peace and trade. The Japanese were an industrious people trying to get along. He hoped that the captain of the Kaiwo Maru, on his return to Japan, would make a favorable report on the port of Prince Rupert as a result of which there would be mutual benefits.

Dr. Brocklesby, in his introductory remarks, made reference to the accomplishments of Japanese in the field of science. Visits such as that of Kaiwo Maru should assist in the seeing of each others' viewpoints the better. He hoped the stay of the ship's company in Prince Rupert would be entirely pleasant.

ENDAKO WEDDING

Miss Virginia Worthen is Bride of Paul Brindamour

Floral decorations formed a colorful setting for the pretty wedding on June 29 at St. John's Anglican Church, Endako, when Rev. J. M. McCormick, F.R.G.S., united in holy matrimony, Virginia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Worthen of Vancouver, and Paul Brindamour, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hector Brindamour.

The bride, who was given away by Matt Caldwell, wore a gown of white net trimmed with bands of white satin, with the skirt sweeping into graceful train. Her veil of tulle was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley. Miss Evelyn Caldwell as bridesmaid wore a graceful floor-length frock of white georgette with fuchsia-colored trimmings, and a bandeau of the same material. Her spray bouquet was of pink and white carnations. Seven flower girls, Betty Caldwell, Dorothy Kelly, Josephine Viney, Jean, Muriel, and Eileen Wahlstrom, and Jean Wilson, wore organdie frocks in pastel shades, and carried decorative wands aloft to form a floral archway for the bridal procession.

The groom was supported by his cousin, A. Menard, with C. Caldwell and C. Brindamour as ushers.

During the signing of the register, the matron-of-honor, Mrs. Mathew Caldwell, rendered

Timely Recipes

ASPARAGUS

The tender shoots of asparagus contain all the freshness of spring and should be cooked as soon as possible after cutting, because this aristocrat of vegetables is so delicate that, as soon as it is cut from the underground stem, the fibre begins to toughen and the flavor deteriorates.

Asparagus Short Cake

Twelve stalks asparagus, one cup cream sauce, six baking powder biscuits.

Cut asparagus in one inch pieces and cook in salted water 15 minutes. Drain and keep hot. To prepare the cream sauce, use three tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour, one cup asparagus water, one-half cup milk, one-quarter teaspoon salt and pepper. Melt the butter, add flour and stir until it bubbles; gradually add the hot water in which the asparagus was cooked, then add the milk. Stir and cook until smoothly thickened. Add seasonings.

BIG CROWD TURNS OUT

Dominion Day Celebrations, Favored by Good Weather, Was Successful Undertaking

Japanese Display

Jiu Jitsu and Fencing Interests—Legion Wins Soccer—Races Keenly Contested

Unique displays of jiu jitsu and fencing contests by teams from the visiting Japanese training ship Kaiwo, the final of the Dominion Day Cup football competition which Canadian Legion won by a score of 3 to 1 from Vandinks and a keenly contested card of children's races and field sports featured the program at the annual celebration of Dominion Day yesterday under the auspices of the Prince Rupert Football Association and the Prince Rupert Boys' Band Association. Weather was quite favorable and, despite the counter attraction of the Canadian National Recreation Association's Terrace excursion, a big crowd climbed to the Acropolis Hill grounds and packed the stands there. The big attraction of the afternoon was, undoubtedly, the display of Japanese combative sports.

Jack Preece was chairman of the general committee in charge which also consisted of George J. Dawes, secretary; Harry Robb, J. S. Wilson, Casey Vink, Frank Derry, G. W. Johnstone and Alex Harvey. Starters in the races were Corp. G. H. Soles and Thomas B. Black with Staff Sergeant G. H. Greenwood and J. H. Preece as judges.

Church Influence Has Royal Trend

Leading Canadian Anglican Commends its Work Throughout Empire

LONDON, July 2: (CP)—One of the things which made the Empire "royalist" today was the influence, teaching and work of the Church of England, declared Archbishop A. U. DePencier of New Westminster, at a meeting here of the British Columbia and Yukon Church Aid Society.

The position of the church, he said, was emphasized in the Coronation service. By the interchange of ideas and by the visits of officials in England, the church in British Columbia had profited. The Society's theological college had been a benefit to every province in Canada and this had been made possible through the co-operation of friends in England.

Dr. A. F. Winnington-Ingram, Bishop of London, presiding, said the society had existed 25 years and Canada deserved congratulation on the splendid way it had responded to appeals which had been made.

Mrs. Jack Garrett sailed this morning on the Princess Louise for a trip to Atlin.

Shower For Miss Letnes Enjoyable

Affair Held Monday Night For Popular Local Bride

A delightful surprise party and shower took place on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. B. Letnes, Seal Cove, in honor of Miss Gladys Letnes who was married Tuesday night to Renhold Waldemer Anderson. A large number of young ladies were present.

During the course of the evening, the bride-elect was presented with many beautiful and useful gifts, which were wheeled in by Miss Norma Letnes.

Delicious refreshments were served by Miss Cecile Cavenale, assisted by Miss Phyllis Letnes.

The evening was a very enjoyable one, with games, music, and singing, and came to a close by singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

NEW "THIN MAN" HERE

William Powell and Myrna Loy In Long-looked for Sequel

William Powell and Myrna Loy step from the last thrilling page of "The Thin Man" into the first hilarious chapter of "After the Thin Man," which comes to the Capitol Theatre this week-end with Detective Nick Charles and wife, Nora, romancing again amid riotous mirth and dramatic murder. The stars are surrounded by a supporting cast of such favorites as James Stewart, Elissa Landi, Joseph Calleia, Jessie Ralph, A. Marshall, Teddy Hart, Sam Levene, Dorothy McNulty, George Zucco, Paul Fix, and Asta, the wire-haired terrier star of "The Thin Man."

"After The Thin Man" sees Nick and Nora, having conquered New York, on their way home to bustling, cosmopolitan San Francisco, its energetic ferries and its magnificent bridges. Nick has put his sleuthing career in moth ball-for good. He and Nora want nothing but lots of peace, quiet and relaxation. And they walk right into a whoopee party. Half of San Francisco, society, policemen, bums, race track touts, ex-pugs and underworld friends, have dropped in to welcome them home. Nick and Nora are invited to dinner. Selma, Nora's cousin is in trouble. Her dissolute husband, Robert, has been missing for three days. Nick suspects "Dancer," owner of a Chinatown cafe, with being involved in a blackmail scheme. Shortly after he is found murdered, shot to death. The rest of the story is a deep, dark secret with an unusual climax which is not revealed until the last three scenes.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has spared nothing to make "After the Thin Man" the funniest, snappiest, most exciting comedy-mystery-melodrama ever screened. It is aimed at only one thing, sheer unadulterated audience entertainment.

G. P. Tinker returned to the city on the Prince George this morning from a brief trip to Vancouver.
