SPANISH SITUATION CRITICAL

McGeer is Heard In Great Speech By Huge Local Crowd

Capitol Theatre Jammed With Seven Hundred Persons With Overflow Listening in Street—Return Of Pattullo Government Only Safe Course

With a stirring enunciation of the accomplishments of the Pattullo government which he declared, among other things, had been instrumental in securing over eight million dollars from the federal government at Ottawa on account of better terms, the colorful and dynamic G. G. McGeer K.C., M.P. addressed a capacity meeting in the Capitol Theatre here last night to close the campaign for Premier T. D. Pattullo for personal re-election. There were seven hundred persons crowded into the theatre and hundreds of others stood outside in the street to hear by loud speaker.

Mr. McGeer stressed the necessity of there being no interruption at this time in the case for better terms from Ottawa or other important undertakings which were under way. He threw his whole-hearted support behind the Pattullo government. True, he admitted, he had criticized it strongly three years ago but that, he reminded his listeners, was "three years ago." "If those who criticize me now for something I did three years ago are willing to stay three years behind me then they will never catch up."

The case for better terms was allowed to go ahead uninterrupted when 1937 might prove a year in the history of Canada as eventful as 1907. Asking his listeners to compare conditions today with those existing in 1933, Mr. McGeer asserted that the Pattullo government substantially fulfilled its pledge of work and wages through an increase of $100,000,000 in payrolls today from what they were when it assumed office.

To vote for Dr. Patterson and the Conservatives would be to return to the conditions of 1933. To vote for the C. C. F. would be to venture into uncertain fields impractical of accomplishment.

"I am supporting the Pattullo government because I believe it would be infinitely superior to any government that could be formed by Dr. Patterson, Dr. Telford, the Independents or all put together, because I believe the good it has done and its accomplishments far outweigh the mistakes it may have made."

Mr. McGeer was given a good reception although not without some interruption which the smiling mayor of Vancouver ably handled with the aid of his good natured and incisive repartee.

Aubrey Peck of Vancouver, accompanying Mr. McGeer on his aerial trip north, also spoke briefly. G. W. Nickerson was chairman.

Back From California

In opening his address, Mr. McGeer expressed appreciation of the large audience. It was a climax to one of the most pleasant days of his life during which he had flown by the British Columbia coast. Never had he dreamt of such scenic beauty. Truly this coast was the fairyland of the Dominion. He referred to the trip to San Francisco from which he had just returned to attend the opening of the Golden Gate Bridge. This great bridge had truly been a crowning feat in labor and industry. When one considered that San Francisco's two great new bridges had cost $153,000,000—two million dollars more than the entire debt of British Columbia—the $5,000,000 Lions' Gate Bridge at Vancouver seemed small and the little $3,000,000 road program, about which so much criticism was heard, insignificant. British Columbia could not move ahead too fast. It would not pay for

PIONEER JUDGE IS NO MORE

Death Claims Frederick McBain Young Who For Quarter Of Century Lived Here

VANCOUVER, June 1: (CP)—Frederick McBain Young, pioneer British Columbia barrister and retired judge of the County Court at Prince Rupert, died here last night at the age of seventy-four. He had been in failing health for some time and recently his illness took a serious turn.

Judge Young, a well known figure in the province since coming from Ontario forty-nine years ago, had lived in Vancouver since his retirement four years ago.

Born in English River, Que., the son of Rev. and Mrs. Alexander Young, he graduated from Queen's University at Kingston and studied law at Osgoode Hall, Toronto. He first practised law at Grimsby, Ontario, and transferred the practice to Nanaimo with E. M. Yarwood forty-nine years ago. He moved north during the gold rush and later became County Court judge at Atlin. When Prince Rupert became the county seat in 1908, he transferred there and held court at first in a tent.

Judge Young was prominent in the Masonic craft, having been a former provincial Grand Master. His death will be widely regretted throughout the province.

Besides his widow, Judge Young is survived by a son, Alex McBain Young of Prince George, and a daughter, Mrs. A. H. Carmichael of Vancouver. Dr. Henry Esson Young, head of the Provincial Board of Health, is a brother.

IS RAINY ELECTION DAY HERE

Despite Showers, However, 240 Had Visited Polls up to 10 o'Clock This Morning

Provincial election morning was a rather wet one in Prince Rupert with a drenching rainstorm marking the first couple of hours. In spite of that 240 votes had been cast up to 10 a.m. and the electors started moving in more intensively as the rain lightened up later in the day.

The polls will close at 8 p.m. and about an hour later, it is expected the city result will be known. By that time some of the outside returns should start coming in.

The deputy returning officers are C. G. R. Anderson, Neil Lang, Walter Johnson, Henry Lindseth, Jack Allan, A. S. Lewis, William Lamb, E. J. Cobb, M. E. Rowe, W. W. Webster, E. J. Smith and A. D. Gillies (absentee poll).

Poll clerks are Beatrice M. Yates, John A. McLeod, Roy Thomas, Frances L. Yager, Cathie Eastman, Marry C. Harmon, Fred Riffou, Harry Smith, Amaranth Bury, G. M. Hunt, A. G. Bartlett and Andrew McDonald.

Scrutineers on behalf of C. V. Ewitt, Conservative candidate, are Walter Cross, Percy Cameron, George Grosvenor, Charles Barker, D. C. Stuart, William Hatwill, George H. Murray, G. J. Dawes and J. O. Williamson.

For George Weaver, the C. C. F. candidate, scrutineers are R. MacNeil, John Dohl, Oscar Larsen, I. King, Edward A. Evans, G. W. Rudderham, D. A. MacPhee, Margaret McDonald, Dan Archie, Peter Kelvik, O. L. Bendiksen, A. J. Morse and W. A. Hogg.

Two Hundred May Be Dead as Result Of German Bombardment

Air of Apprehension Continues as Efforts Are Made To Lessen Menace of Latest Crisis in Europe

ALMERIA, Spain, June 1: (CP)—Estimates of the cost of some ninety minutes of German vengeance wreaked on his Mediterranean port of Spain ranged today as high as two hundred dead and injured. The most conservative figure was twenty dead and one hundred injured but terrified townsfolk said they thought more than two hundred shells pumped into the city by the naval attack had claimed an average of at least one victim each. One estimate last night placed the dead at seventy, the missing at 100 with 100 injured. Almeria's civil governor says that not a single house in the city was left undamaged by the bombardment.

The Spanish government has issued a statement in Valencia to the effect that Germany and Italy are waging a war of invasion against the republic.

The general air of apprehension in regard to the European situation continues, particularly in London and Washington.

In London Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden laid before the Imperial conference details of the Spanish problem. Plans are said to have been evolved for a scheme to have the entire international fleet patrol the Spanish coasts as a guarantee against further incidents. The non-intervention committee is in session but the plan referred to is said to have been drawn up by Anthony Eden and German ambassador Joachim von Ribbentrop.

In Washington Secretary of State Cordell Hull hastened back to the Capitol from a projected holiday in order to keep in touch with the situation as President Roosevelt was doing from Hyde Park, New York.

In Paris it was said that France and Great Britain would unite in demanding that Germany abandon further reprisals in Spain.

From Taragonna wounded sailors were reported to have said today that their sailboat had been torn to pieces by twenty shots from a large submarine off Cambrils.

Plane Hops Off This Afternoon Following Delay Owing To Bad Weather

Having been held back on account of heavy rain and poor visibility this morning, Pilot E. C. W. Dobbins hopped off at 1:45 this afternoon on his return flight to Vancouver with the party of G. G. McGeer K.C., M.P. who came north to speak at Premier Pattullo's final campaign meeting last night. A direct flight back to Vancouver was planned. Others in the plane were Aubrey Peck of Vancouver and D. Todd of Oklahoma City.

Pilot Dobbins landed here at 5:15 yesterday afternoon with the party. Departure had been made yesterday morning from Vancouver and during the day there was a stop at Port Alice, pulp and paper town on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, where Mr. McGeer addressed a meeting on behalf of L. A. Hanna, Liberal candidate for re-election in Comox riding.

REVENUE IS WELL AHEAD

Customs and Excise Collections Continue to Maintain Lead Over Last Year

Customs and excise revenue at the port of Prince Rupert for the present calendar year to date continues to show a substantial increase over last year. So far in 1937 the revenue amounts to a total of $84,989.51 in comparison with $66,498.30 in the first five months of 1936. The revenue for this May amounted to $25,721.92 as against $17,921.73 in May 1936.

United States Had Easy Time

Crippled Australians Entirely Unable to Hold up End in Davis Cup Play

FOREST HILLS, June 1: (CP)—United States completed the rout of Australia's ailing Davis Cup tennis forces Sunday by romping off with the doubles match, thereby making it three straight and settling the outcome of the North American zone finals without the loss of a single set. The California combination of Don Budge and Gene Mako whipped Jack Crawford and McGrath 7-5, 6-1, 8-6 in a match that was even more one-sided than the scores indicate. Following Saturday's singles conquests by Budge over Crawford and Grant over Australia's Jack Bromwich, Sunday's victory gave the United States a three game to nil edge over the Aussies and the right to play the European zone winner for the right to challenge the cup-holding British.

Compiling Voters' List

Evidently somebody fell down on the job of compiling the list of voters in the Prince Rupert electoral district with the result that several hundred people who were justly entitled to vote were left off the roll and could not do so. In some cases the citizens claimed that they had given in their names. This is something into which there should be an inquiry and it is a matter that should seriously engage the authorities before another election is held. All parties seemed to have been affected more or less by the careless work that was done or the work that was left undone.

Tonight Will Tell the Tale

Tonight we shall all know the result of the election sufficiently well to satisfy ourselves what the general result will be. Then we can all forget it and return to the ordinary duties of life. It is only during an election campaign that many of the ordinary citizens become important. It is a time of reckoning. The worst feature of elections is that minor matters are often stressed as being important and the large issues are forgotten or put in the background. This is true of all parties but it must be said of the C. C. F. that they stick to their basic socialistic policy better than the other parties stick to theirs. They expound their theories at every meeting but that is not what gets them the votes. The vote getting seems the result of their opposition to what they consider to be sins of the capitalistic parties.

Pleasant Campaign

It has been a fairly pleasant campaign. There has been little rancor or bitterness. It is a wonderful change from what political campaigns were twenty or thirty years ago. If we go on developing along these lines we shall gradually develop a real democracy in which the electors will be influenced by the real issues rather than by petty party or personal factors. However, it will always be that the outstanding personality will win support.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

Mr. and Mrs. Kuchel of Adelaide, Australia, who spent a few days in the city last week, were particularly pleased with the Prince Rupert gardens and were especially enthused over the possibilities of making Prince Rupert an outstandingly beautiful city. Its location lent itself so well to show gardens, Prince Rupert people are realizing these possibilities and are gradually developing the beautification scheme. In this they are receiving the co-operation of the Canadian National Railways and the provincial government. Both of these have greatly improved their grounds since last year.

The Prince Rupert hotel is developing a nice lawn opposite the front of their building. It fits in well with the C.N.R. scheme and will prove a great asset to the hotel as well as to the city.

Mrs. G. A. Kelsey of Seal Cove has had a fine stock in bloom all winter and when she cut it last week it brought a fine aroma and dash of color to the room in which it was kept. It was a seedling last spring and has been in bloom continuously ever since last summer.

M. T. Lee has an excellent garden that gives great promise for the summer. His apple trees have a good bloom and should bear fruit again. The peonies, like practically all the peonies in the city, are covered with buds and here are great expectations for a heavy bloom.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Massey have a fine foundation for a full season's bloom of annuals. They raise their own seedlings in their little greenhouse at the back and take great care with them with excellent results. The Massey's garden is always a delight in summer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Moore on the same street have a fine showing of aubretia and other rock plants and the promise is that they will continue to have a garden worth stopping to look at for the whole season.

Jack Wynne has probably the cleanest garden in the city on Eleventh Avenue and Conrad Street. Not a weed is to be seen anywhere and his roses give great promise. He winters his climbing roses by covering them with sacking and, as a result of the of the others in the least. All are intensely interesting and in most cases the owner does all the work on his own place.

By the by, I put out a few begonia plants last week and within a day or two we had showers in the afternoon followed by bursts of bright sunshine. With the rain on the leaves they burned badly in the sunshine and have a bad appearance now. H.F.P.

R. L. McIntosh arrived in the city on Saturday night's train from Terrace to spend a few days in town. He will be returning to Terrace tomorrow evening.

Frank Warne, secretary of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society, is showing an excellent example to the rest of the city. He has this year enlarged his garden by the addition of another 25 foot lot and his rockery at the back is rapidly taking shape and will be a mass of color in the summer. He raises his own seedlings and has planted out thousands of them. He also has a large gladiolus bed that is shaping up well.

Miss Jessie Rothwell is naturally very proud of her garden. Most of the best of it is at the back of the house on Fifth Avenue where her tulips are a dream, her lilies of the valley perfume the air for the whole neighborhood and her iris and other plants are in bloom or coming bloom and will soon make a great showing. Miss Rothwell has accumulated her collection of plants gradually and with care and she treats them as she would children. Owners of more pretentious gardens might take a good many lessons from this little place.

The interesting feature of the gardens I have seen recently is that each reflects the personality of the owner. None resemble any

The LONG-LIFE Bicycle

DID you ever stop to consider the tens of thousands of revolutions that are made by the fast moving parts of a bicycle every day that it is ridden—and of the millions of revolutions that means in a year?

Yet, in spite of these countless turnings of metal against metal, the C.C.M. bicycle gives many long years of trouble-free service. This is possible in a C.C.M. bicycle because of the extreme accuracy with which it is made and because of the fine steels used in its manufacture—these steels are heat-treated in C.C.M.'s own furnaces. These qualities are especially important in the three fast-moving parts—the brake, the front hub and the big main sprocket bearing or hanger.

First in importance is the C.C.M. Hercules Coaster Brake which is a marvel of mechanical ingenuity and accuracy. The least touch of back-peddaling and on goes the brake, smooth and sure, increasing in its effectiveness as you increase the back pressure. Then a forward turn and the C.C.M. Hercules instantly drives you onward.

Then comes the C.C.M. Triplex Hanger to which the main sprocket, cranks and pedals are attached. This Triplex Hanger is virtually the power plant of a C.C.M. bicycle. All of its parts (except ball bearings) are made in the C.C.M. factory, and they include hardened ball races, stout cranks, an accurate sprocket and other true running parts. Because of the smooth running of the C.C.M. Triplex Hanger all of your pedalling effort is converted into power to roll you along.

The other fast-moving part of a C.C.M. bicycle—the front hub—is a strong and carefully built mechanism with a sturdy axle, ball bearings and hardened steel races.

These three accurately made important parts of a C.C.M. bicycle together with steel rims, rustless steel spokes, seamless steel tubing combine to make the C.C.M. "The Long-Life Bicycle".

Remember, when you go to buy a bicycle, that a C.C.M. has everything that you can find in any bicycle plus many exclusive C.C.M. features, plus long life.

Table listing C.C.M. bicycle models and prices: C.C.M. "Girls" or "Boys" $32.75, C.C.M. "Crescent" Men's 37.00, C.C.M. "Ladies" 38.00, C.C.M. "Boy Scout" 39.50, C.C.M. OLD BILL

Old bill would ask for a chew from someone else's big plug of tobacco. The other man hands him a new plug and Bill hands back the rest of it—a piece about the size of a dime. At which the owner scowls in disgust—Aw, put this with the rest of it!

After laboriously adjusting the mass to a comfortable position inside his mouth, Bill would start spitting tobacco juice in great quantities.

Many was the time we'd followed his trail through the woods, going by the big splashes of tobacco juice all along the way.

On this particular morning it was raining in the woods, but there was one of the tobacco juice trails, recently made, so we decided to follow and see where he went.

The brush was dripping water all along the way and we splashed through little mud puddles enroute. To us it soon became evident that Bill was going to call on the survey party that had passed a short time before to make camp at a certain cabin.

Up at the cabin, the survey party couldn't find any dry wood and had quite a time starting a fire in their little tin stove.

After some time they finally managed to find enough dry twigs and small branches from the underside of evergreens to get a small flame going. They were exultant. Now they could make some coffee and get their clothing dried.

Just then the cabin door burst open and in walks Bill. Remarkable cheerfully. "Some weather, isn't it boys?" he opens the stove and ejects a big splash of tobacco juice into the fire, putting it out completely.

Those men were mad enough to kill him for that.

A prospector returned home after a prolonged absence and was met by the loquacious neighbors who had run out to meet him and tell him all the local news. They talked so hard and so fast that the prospector couldn't get a word in edge-wise. All the while the old timer got madder and madder.

Finally he blurted out in exasperation, "Shut up, will you! I haven't seen anyone to talk to in months and now you won't let me say anything."

There lives a very venerable old timer up in his little cabin who is so badly crippled with rheumatism that all he can do to hobble around. He will never be well again. But he still awaits the time when he can prospect his claims again. Before many years have passed, he will drop off in his last sleep, still dreaming of what riches he will pan from the bed of the mountain stream—tomorrow.

Kept From His Ship by Sciatica

Sailor Who Could Hardly Walk For Pain

"I am a seaman," he writes, "and have travelled all over the world in sailing ships. Some time ago I was taken bad with sciatica and rheumatism. If I went out I had to rest two or three times before I got home. One day an old mate of mine asked me what was the matter, and he said 'get some Kruschen Salts.' So I got some and I am pleased to say I felt a great ease. After continuing for a week, I was a great deal better and on the Saturday I was back on my ship."—T.R.W.

The pains of rheumatism and sciatica are frequently caused by too much uric acid accumulating in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are notable for their work in dissolving uric acid and other ingredients of these Salts assist the internal organs to eliminate the dissolved uric acid from the system.

Mrs. Ian Fraser and children left on last evening's train for Edmonton enroute to Wetaskiwin Alberta, for a visit.

stand prosperity and will turn back to the Tories and another depression.

"Possibly you have heard it said that a little luck and a little intelligence can help a lot," observed Mr. McGeer breezily. "Some say the Liberals have all the luck. If that is the case, then don't you think it would be well to move along with those who have the luck?"

All trades required some training and knowledge, declared Mr. McGeer. Even this applied to members of legislative bodies, cabinet ministers and even premiers. There were many communities in British Columbia which would be proud to grasp at the opportunity to supply the member who was considered qualified to be the Prime Minister.

"Why one T. D. Pattullo is worth fifteen of those fellows who talk about serving you by staying in Prince Rupert all the time!" Mr. McGeer stressed the necessity of having the co-operation of other members in putting over ideas and getting things done. He had had many ideas himself which he considered wonderful. But he had learned through experience that, until one had the majority of the representatives with him, he might as well tuck his ideas away and go ahead with something that could be done.

There was such a thing as respect of private rights under the British constitution and even the C. C. F. would have to respect them.

"I am criticized by my Tory friends for supporting the Pattullo government after having severely criticized it three years ago," continued Mr. McGeer. "True I criticized them but that does not blind me to the good things they have done. And I have come to the conclusion that the good this government has accomplished far outweighs the mistakes it may have made. I am supporting the return of the Pattullo government because I believe it will be infinitely superior to any government that could be formed by Dr. Patterson, Dr. Telford, Mr. Connell, the independents or the whole lot put together."

"Don't lose faith in the future of Prince Rupert," urged Mr. McGeer. "Its day will come. It is easy to knock your own town but it is the men who have faith that will make the towns of British Columbia Pacific Coast like those in the United States to the south of us. We in Vancouver and Prince Rupert have grandstand seats in the front row of the world's greatest theatre of trade and commerce in the Pacific Ocean, in the world's greatest theatre of potential human progress and advancement."

Mr. McGeer then proceeded to review the accomplishments of the Pattullo government on account of better terms. First there had been an increase of $750,000 in the annual subsidy obtained from Bennett and continued by King, these grants to date having totalled $2,250,000. Three million dollars had been obtained to assist in construction of transcontinental roads in the province. Another $2,500,000 had been secured as assistance from Ottawa for mining roads. More than $8,000,000 had been so far secured on account of better terms by Pattullo. Now Premier King had promised a commission to go into the whole matter of federal-provincial relations and authority including distribution of revenues. This was something that had been looked for for years and might result in 1937 going down in history as a more eventful year than 1867.

"Can we not unite on the issue

WATER NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE THAT Polaris-Taku Mining Company Limited whose address is Tulsequah, B. of better terms?" asked Mr. McGeer. "Is the Pattullo government not carrying on efficiently and well? It is not a question of changing horses in the middle of the stream. It looks to me like thinking of firing the cook while the cake is in the oven—leaving no one to take it out. What advantage would there be to throw Pattullo out and put Patterson in? None whatever. Elect a few C. C. F.'s, a few reconstructionists, a few Social Crediters, a few Conservative Vancouver Island secessionists, a few Conservatives and a few Liberals and hand the case for better terms over to them. Wouldn't that be the most glorious chance to kick over the pail of milk. Why there would be such a bedlam that the Fall of Babylon would sound like a Methodist Sunday School picnic in comparison."

Mr. McGeer mentioned briefly the C.C.F. promise to give the votes to the Orientals. It was hard enough to control the natural resources today without making it that much harder. The solution of difficulties he believed would come through the cultivation of tolerance and goodwill such as the British Empire stood for. The establishment of Christian democracy would eventually bring about the conquest of poverty throughout the world. He did not believe the C.C.F. would do it.

"I do not support the C. C. F.," asserted Mr. McGeer, because I do not want to see our country set into a state like Russia. What about Trotsky, the first lieutenant of Lenin? A man who had offered his life to save his people denounced as a traitor by those whom he had sought to liberate. May the good God save us in the Dominion of Canada from such a system as that of Russia. It is something I would not wish for myself or my children. I would like to carry on, muddle through if you like, with 'Onward Christian Soldiers,' 'Rule Britannia,' 'God Save the King,' in a British system and not with the 'Red Flag' of Russia."

The Fighting Gerry

The grinning, fighting "Gerry" was at his rough and tumble best in dealing with hecklers. "Young man," he told one disturber, "if you will keep your mouth shut and your ears open, you will go home feeling better and knowing more than when you came here." He reminded his listeners that both Dr. Telford and Mr. Connell had appealed to their supporters to withhold their interruptions.

Charles Chapman, one of the most persistent interrupters of the evening, received the suggestion that, if he would hire the hall, all those who wanted to hear him would turn out and he (McGeer) would not be present to disturb him.

Another disturber was told that he did not have "half as many questions in his noodle as I have answers."

"You must be a greedy hog," Mr. McGeer told a Pattullo scoffer. "If you are not satisfied with $43,000,000 more in 'work and wages' maybe I could come back next year and double the figure." A Soviet sympathizer was informed that if he (McGeer) said the things in Russia he was saying here tonight he wouldn't last as long as a mongrel dog loaded with firecrackers taking a trip through the infernal regions.

"Why if they had some of you fellows in Russia acting like you are doing here tonight they'd have you in the Siberian salt mines so quick you'd keep fresh all your lives." One shouter called Chief of Police W. W. Foster of Vancouver a "coward." "Surely," replied Mr. McGeer, "a man who would cry out a thing like that of a man of Col. Foster's calibre must be a menace himself. I think you'd better keep your mouth shut or we'll have you put out."

Aubrey Peck, in his brief speech at the opening of the meeting, referred to Pattullo and McGeer as two outstanding men in the public life of this country who had courage and magnanimity, who stood out with clean cut policies in the fight for humanity rather than for special groups. "I only wish we had more men like Pattullo and McGeer, with their unselfishness and energy."

The fire department had a call at 9 o'clock last night to a false alarm at the corner of Eighth Avenue and Conrad Street. This is the same corner from which there have been a number of false alarms of late.

GAY FILM OF MUSIC

Gladys Swarthout Heads Cast—Vienna Background—Swing Versus Waltz

With the famous lyric soprano Gladys Swarthout heading the cast and gay, modern Vienna as the background, "Champagne Waltz," a sparkling musical comedy romance, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre as the feature offering tonight and Wednesday.

The story is built around the conflict between swing music newly introduced to the gay capital by Fred McMurray as the leader of a band, and the old fashioned waltz music as exemplified by the Strausses.

Miss Swarthout is cast as the granddaughter of the musical director of a popular waltz palace who is driven out of business by the new swing music. There is a romance between Miss Swarthout and MacMurray who poses as the American consul in order to win the girl's favor. When the trick is exposed she leaves him. The waltz palace is modernized and becomes an immediate success. When it is proven that waltz and swing can get along very nicely the two lovers are reunited.

The cast also includes Herman Ring, Vivienne Osborne, Frank Forrest, Benny Baker and Ernest Cossart. There are dance sequences by the famous team of Veloz and Yolanda.
