Business Conditions Are Best Since 1928, Canadian National President Found On His Tour

MONTREAL—August 24—Despite the crop failure in some sections of the prairies, business conditions in the west are better than they have been since 1928 and some industries are ahead of that peak year in volume of business, S. J. Hungerford, Chairman and President of the Canadian National Railways and President of Trans-Canada Air Lines, stated here on his return from an extensive inspection trip of the western lines of the national system.

Mr. Hungerford was accompanied by S. L. Daly, a member of the board of directors. Three other directors, Col. D. H. McDougall, H. J. Symington K.C., and R. J. Moffatt, were with the party in the west.

The inspection trip covered all sections of western Canada, including the mining districts of North-western Ontario, northern Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, the Okanagan Valley and the Pacific coast cities as far north as Prince Rupert and Stewart. Mr. Hungerford, in addition to making a careful inspection of the lines and properties of the system, made an intensive survey of general conditions in the territory covered by the party.

"I came into contact with men engaged in all lines of business and industry," Mr. Hungerford said, "and found conditions generally to be most encouraging. This general situation should be gratifying to Canadians in every part of the Dominion as it indicates steady progress toward prosperity. Business and industrial leaders all reported an increasing volume of trade and excellent prospects for the future. The lumbering, newsprint and mining industries are in the best shape I have ever found them."

Spirit of Optimism
Mr. Hungerford said he found a general spirit of optimism throughout the west except in southern and central Saskatchewan where only approximately 15 per cent of a normal crop will be harvested. The people of that section, however, are facing their unfortunate position with cheerfulness and with splendid fortitude," he added. "They are a courageous people and I found but little sign of discouragement among them. Strange as it may seem, despite the unfortunate crop situation, the volume of retail trade in that section of the country is reported as higher in some instances than last year."

The lines of the national system which were inspected by the party are in splendid shape, Mr. Hungerford reports. "I found everything on the railway satisfactory," he said. "The roadbed generally is in better condition than ever before and our facilities and equipment have been well maintained. There has been a noticeable improvement both in freight and passenger business and our western officers are keeping service and equipment abreast of the requirements of the increased traffic. There is a big increase in vacation travel. Jasper Park Lodge has had a splendid season and our Alaska steamers have been sailing all summer with full lists."

Mr. Hungerford said that, while the total volume of the crop would be small in comparison with previous years he believed the wheat would move promptly this fall. Conditions prevailing with regard to ocean freight rates and tonnage available would likely send a larger proportion of the prairie wheat to the head of the lakes. The fruit crop in the Okanagan Valley was remarkably good and would result in increased business for the transportation companies.

FEARS ARE INCREASING

Now Thought That Levaneffsky and His Companions May Not Survive Extreme Weather

BARROW, August 24:—With weather and visibility conditions still hampering the planes which are here to search for Sigismund Levaneffsky, missing Russian trans-polar flier, and his companions, now lost for eleven days, misgivings are growing that it may be too late to save them. It is feared they will be unable to survive storms and weather of 30 to 40 below zero which has been prevailing the last few days.

Yesterday Sir Hubert Wilkins and Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, his Canadian pilot, flew their great plane over the North Pole regions but it was fruitless in finding any trace of the missing fliers. The search expedition was waiting for fog to lift today before resuming the hunt.

CHINA'S DIFFICULTY

A recent visitor, who had been in China and had studied Chinese conditions says that the "awakening of China" is not generally understood in Canada. The rulers and leading men in China and possibly a million of their followers have felt the awakening of which people speak. Beyond that the Chinese people go on in the same way, knowing little or nothing of the awakening or of the war with Japan. Possibly two or three million at the most have heard of the war, outside of those directly affected.

This observer says the Chinese awakening has been very slow. It is not yet a national awakening but a sectional awakening. He likes the Chinese and hates to see them disturbed but he thinks we have been misled in regard to the situation over there.

While we are of opinion that the Chinese awakening is more widespread than he thinks, we all are aware that the Chinese are not by any means a united nation with a united public opinion. At the same time there must be many millions of Chinese people who take an intelligent interest in public affairs, who know that the war against Japan is going on and who are prepared to participate if need be.

CENTRAL SETS THE PACE

The girls at the telephone central station here have set the pace by answering "Thank You" when they hear the number clearly. The next step to be taken will be on the part of the people who yell "hello" into the telephone mouthpiece. It is much better when answering a call to answer quietly "Mr. Jones," or "Mr. Jones speaking" or "Bill Jones speaking." If speaking for a firm such as our own, just answer "Daily News," or whatever the name of the firm may be. This may be done in a quiet voice that will not injure the ear drums of the young lady at Central. We all know how objectionable it is when a broadcaster shouts into the mike. So in telephoning, if we remember that we are conversing with a pleasant and polite young lady and modulate our voices accordingly, it will be a great advantage to all concerned.

AIR DISTRIBUTING CENTRE

The Vancouver Sun is protesting against Edmonton being the air-distributing centre for the Yukon. Airplanes destined from Eastern Canada to the Yukon now go by way of Edmonton and Whitehorse. This seems all right because it is the most direct route and Edmonton is also the centre for air traffic to the Mackenzie Basin and the Arctic.

If Vancouver fails to become the air-distributing centre in this case she might still ask for a charter to become the distributor of hot air to the whole province including the Yukon.

SITUATION IN SPAIN

Mrs. Beckie Ewen of Vancouver Addresses Public Meeting— Collection of Over $100

In the course of a campaign to raise funds to provide Canadians fighting for the loyalists in Spain with comforts, Mrs. Beckie Ewen, prominent Vancouver labor woman, addressed a public meeting in the Moose Hall Sunday night. J. M. Dunn was in the chair. A collection resulted in $109.45 being taken up.

Issues of the Spanish war, in which over one million lives had been lost, was near and dear to the hearts of the people and the whole world, declared Mrs. Ewen. She would endeavour, she said, to try and clarify the issues and the questions involved. The majority of the people had voted for a group who had social progress in view. Then a small predatory group of financial interests, feudal lords and industrialists had banded together secretly, hatching their plan in Rome and Berlin, to overthrow, by most cruel and barbaric methods of warfare, the loyalist government and flout the expressed wishes of the mass of the people. It was simply a question of whether the principles of democracy should survive.

Mrs. Ewen traced the political history of Spain. It was a country of twenty-four million people, sixty percent of whom were engaged in agricultural pursuits. The peasants had been living as serfs on the land but were landless. They were kept in subjection and in abject poverty and illiteracy by the feudal lords. Industrial workers in the city were little better off, existing in poverty, degradation and misery.

Although denied freedom of speech and assembly and the right of organization, the Spanish people in 1931 succeeded in doing away with the old absolute monarchy and there came the first democratic constitution—on paper at least. The labor movement was, however, still weak and divided and the old predatory interests came into possession of the new constitution. Organized as Fascists, they set up a military dictatorship as autocratic and even more dangerous to the common people than had existed before. Attempts were made to reduce the peasants to even lower levels. The labor movement was, however, growing stronger and manifested itself in February 1934 in an uprising of miners in the provinces of the Asturias. This was choked off with a drama of repression, imprisonment and brutality but the people were still determined that the rule of the landed owners, big financiers and industrialists must be broken. They realized that, if the forces of progress were to prevail, they must not be divided and, finally in a general election in 1936, forward looking groups consisting of Leftist Republicans (left wing Liberals) under Azana, Socialists, Republicans and Communists, and comprising the Popular Front, elected 268 members while the parties of the right, including landlords, higher-ups in the church and industrialists, had 205.

Fascist Invasion

The verdict of the people would not, however, be accepted by the Fascists and General Franco, under plans concocted in Rome and Berlin, started his invasion, bringing in Mohammedan Moors from Morocco. The conflict had now been on for thirteen months but the loyalists, in the face of the perfected machinery of warfare and highly trained military direction, had organized their own defences and held grimly on. Workers, small businessmen, professionals and even priests were fighting side by side on behalf of the loyalist cause.

Hearts of all the liberty-loving and progressive people of the world had been stirred. Atrocities of the Fascist insurgents were of a most revolting character. The International Brigade, including eight hundred men from Canada of whom thirty-one had given their lives, had stemmed the tide when all seemed lost. Madrid had not fallen and would never fall. Had it not been for the assistance given the insurgents by Italy and Germany, Franco would have been vanquished long ago. The forces of Fascism, however, were breaking in Spain. Desertions from the insurgent to the loyalists were on the increase.

What had happened in Spain might happen in other countries, even in Canada, declared Mrs. Ewen, if the parties of progress remained divided. The British national government had betrayed democracy by helping the Spanish insurgents with the so-called neutrality pact. The Canadian government had failed to come to the defence of the Spanish people. Fascism was rearing its head in Quebec with the attacking by the Duplessis government of the trades union movement. Actions of Premier Hepburn in Ontario were an expression of Fascism. Even in British Columbia efforts were being made to promote Fascist tendencies.

Mrs. Ewen made an appeal for unity among those who cared for the important principles of democracy and the betterment of the people as against the forces of reaction.

Man in the Moon

Good afternoon, have you heard the latest rumor?

They say that all our best citizens are criminals and the poor mugs who never did anything in their lives are all princes in disguise.

Did you hear the very latest? Hush, don't whisper, not a word.

It's the nastiest little story Anybody's heard.

Did you hear about Jim Farlow? And the awful things he did? Be sure you do not tell a soul Or off would come the lid.

Did you hear about that lady Who poses as a saint? I wonder how many people know? They think she's what she ain't.

Yes did you know and have you heard?

Isn't it really awful That such bad people are around? I don't believe its lawful.

"Please, sir," said the clerk "I'd like to have next week off if it is convenient."

"Oh, you would?" said his employer. "May I ask what for?" "Well, my young lady is going on her honeymoon, and I'd like to go with her."

It ain't that I'm afraid to work, ma'am, but there ain't much doing in my particular line." "Why, what are you?" "I'm a window-box weeder, ma'am."

A Scotsman was arrested by a local policeman. Asked to give his name he refused. He said it was against his principles to give anything.

"Mother, said little Alec, "I believe our ashman is a real good Christian."

"What makes you think that, son?"

"Well, yesterday, when he was about to dump the ash barrel into his cart, the bottom of the barrel dropped out and the ashes went all over him. He was a mess but, instead of getting mad, he brushed himself off and then he sat right down on the curb and told God all about it."

Believe it or not, I know a young lady who considers Prince Rupert the next door apartment to heaven and who would like to live here all her life. This in spite of the kind of summer the authorities have been serving up to us for 1937.

Bob Davis was here Sunday looking for human interest stories. He did not dig deep enough or he would have found at least six thousand of them. As it was he got away with only one or two.

A few Englishmen like to read about cricket but every Scotsman in the world seems to want to see the league football scores.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

The Imperial Oil Co.'s small tanker Nanaimolite, paying her first visit here in five years, is in port, having been hereabouts since the middle of last week. Yesterday morning, while drawing away from the company's dock to let in the steamer Prince George, the Nanaimolite got a mooring line caught in one of her propellers and there was considerable trouble getting it unfouled.

The local halibut boat Clipper II, Capt. Emil Peterson, called in port Saturday afternoon on her way to Vancouver with a catch of 30,000 pounds of black cod.

Southbound after her final voyage of the season to Alaska, C. N. R. steamer Prince George, Capt. Edward Mabbs, arrived in port at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and sailed at 3 o'clock in the afternoon for Vancouver and waypoints. The George brought 190 passengers, including a Wolf tour party of twenty from Chicago which left the vessel here to proceed East by train last evening.

George Greenwood, member of the local Sea Cadets Corps and son of Staff Sergeant G. H. Greenwood, disembarked from the steamer Prince Robert Sunday after making two round trip voyages to Alaska as bridge boy.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, is due back in port about 4:40 this afternoon from Stewart, Anyox and other northern points and will sail twenty minutes later for the south. The vessel was delayed by calling at Big Bay this afternoon to load boxes.

Alfred Adams, who has been gill-netting out of Inverness during the past season, is in town on his way home to Massett. He expects to leave for the Islands at the end of the week.

The ordering into port of halibut boats to take out permits under the new regulations of the International Fisheries Commission continues.

"That bank loan was a real help and the securities are still our own"

Good sound securities often represent the personal savings of years. It is not necessary to part with them in order to raise money for an emergency, to finance a major purchase, and for other temporary purposes.

If ready funds are needed, such securities can be used to arrange a loan with the bank; the loan can be repaid by regular installments out of income and the securities are returned to the owner intact when the loan is retired.

SYNOD OF ANGLICANS

About 300 Clergymen and Laity Expected in Halifax—Many Distinguished Visitors

HALIFAX, Aug. 24: (CP) — Delegates to the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada, numbering approximately 300 clergy and laity, will meet here starting next Sunday. The first General Synod to gather in Halifax, it is the 14th since the inception of the Dominion-wide synod which meets every three years. There will be three delegates from Prince Rupert—Bishop G. A. Rix, Dean J. B. Gibson and Miss R. M. Davies O.B.E.

In accordance with a report to the Executive Council of the General Synod, arrangements have been made to combine with this session the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the consecration of Charles Inglis as "Bishop of Nova Scotia and its Dependencies." Bishop Inglis was consecrated in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, Aug. 12, 1787 and came to Halifax the same year, adopting old St. Paul's as his cathedral church here.

Prior to his ordination, Bishop Inglis, born and reared in the little Irish village of Glencolumbkille, went to the "New World" as a teaching missionary in 1775. Three years later he entered the diaconate and then the priesthood.

Returning to America after his ordination, the pioneer cleric was licensed as missionary at Dover, then in Pennsylvania but now a part of Delaware. Here he was incumbent of Christ Church. In the churchyard of the still-standing building, his first wife and their twin sons are buried. In this old church special commemorative services were held in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the consecration of its former pastor as the first bishop of the first Anglican diocese outside of the British Isles.

To Dedicate Plaque

In St. Paul's Church, Halifax, which was the centre of the pioneer bishop's activities and where he was buried, the Most Rev. D. T. Owen, Primate of All Canada, will dedicate a plaque to mark the last resting place of Bishop Inglis.

A commemorative service will be held in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, the scene of Bishop Inglis' consecration 150 years ago.

On Sunday, Aug. 29, the Synod's opening services will be held when all the delegates will parade to All Saints Cathedral the present seat of the bishops of Nova Scotia. There several memorials including one to "First Bishop" Inglis will be dedicated by the Primate. During the service His Grace will also dedicate a Primatal Cross for the use of the Primate of All Canada. At this service the Special Preacher will be the Rt. Rev. J. G. F. Day, Lord Bishop of Ossory, Ferns and Leighlin, who is performing that function for the Most Rev. C. F. D'Arcy, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of All Ireland who was originally expected to act as special preacher.

The Canadian Church Union made arrangements early last year for a transcontinental speaking tour by Rt. Rev. A. W. F. Blunt, Bishop of Bradford, who will speak here during the Synod. In a service of witness to be held in the Halifax Forum September 2, Dr. Blunt's fellow speaker is to be the Rt. Rev. C. A. Bardsley, Bishop of Leicester.

Other members of the Episcopate who will be the guests of the General Synod and who will be heard by it at various times are the Rt. Rev. Benj. Brewster, Bishop of Maine; the Rt. Rev. G. C. Stewart, Bishop of Chicago; the Rt. Rev. Philip Cook, Bishop of Delaware, and the Rt. Rev. W. C. White, Bishop of Newfoundland.

There will be two oriental bishops attending the church gathering: the Rt. Rev. Philip Lindel Tsen, Bishop of Honan, China, and the Rt. Rev. Paul C. Sassi, Bishop of mid-Japan, both of whose dioceses were founded by Canadian missionaries.

According to the custom, the Synod will sit in two houses during their deliberations, the House of Bishops under the presidency of His Grace the Primate and the lower house which elects from its own number a prolocutor, who are Very Rev. Arthur Carlisle, Dean of Montreal and R. V. Harris, Halifax. These "office bearers" preside over the lower clergy and the laity who constitute the lower house.

Housing arrangements have been made by the Halifax Committee whereby bishops are to be entertained in private homes throughout the city. Other delegates will find accommodation in King's College residence and Shirref Hall of Dalhousie University as the guests of the College and University authorities.

BASEBALLERS OUT

Members of the baseball team selected for the Labor Day excursion to Ketchikan turned out Sunday morning for practice. There was to have been another practice last night but unfavorable weather necessitated its postponement until tomorrow evening. Dido Gurvich says he is lining up a strong local nine and that he has every confidence of being able to give the Ketchikanites some tough opposition.

WORKING ON CASE

Suspects Questioned But No Arrests Yesterday in Liquor Store Robbery

Half a dozen or so suspects were taken to the police station and checked up on since discovery yesterday morning of the attempt to break into the safe of the government liquor store here during the night previous but all were released. The police are still working on the case.

Except for $9 from a cash drawer, there was no definite knowledge up to this morning of anything else having been taken. Little, if any, liquor was stolen. The opening of the damaged safe today disclosed that considerable money therein was intact.
