TEACHERS' CONVENTION

District Council Planned — Commissioner Gives Luncheon for Visitors

At the business session of the Prince Rupert District Teachers' convention yesterday afternoon Harry Charlesworth, general secretary of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, dealt with some of the activities of the Federation and their objectives. His comprehensive review was very interesting. The formation of a district council was considered. It is hoped to have district associations at Terrace and along the Skeena which with the city association will maintain active contact among the teachers of the district.

Following tea served in the home economics department at Booth Memorial School the teachers inspected this and the Manual Training Department where Miss Hodgson and J. H. Nordan respectively explained the work done and the courses offered.

A delightful affair was the entertainment by W. J. Alder, city commissioner, at luncheon yesterday of the out-of-town teachers. Harry Charlesworth, Dr. Hugh Morrison, inspector of schools, and J. S. Wilson were also guests. Mr. Alder expressed the pleasure he gave him to have them as his guests and William Jones replied on behalf of the teachers. Dr. Morrison, Mr. Charlesworth and Mr. Wilson also spoke.

ITALY CHARGED
LONDON — The Spanish government today accused Italy of planning an unprecedented campaign in support of the Spanish insurgent cause. At the same time Italy's answer to the Anglo-French invitation to confer on withdrawal of foreign volunteers from the Spanish civil war was delivered to British and French envoys in Rome. Parisian sources reported unofficially that the Italian reply ruled out the possibility of meeting to discuss withdrawal of volunteers unless Germany was invited.

TRENDS OF EDUCATION

Harry Charlesworth is Interesting Speaker at Dinner Meeting

At the dinner meeting of the Prince Rupert District Teachers' convention last evening in the Boston Cafe under the joint auspices of the Women's Canadian Club and the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association, Harry Charlesworth, general secretary of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, gave a most interesting, informative and comprehensive outline of modern developments in education.

The tremendously widening scope of education was Mr. Charlesworth's central theme. No longer was the ideal of education only a preparation for university. Education began before the child is born and pre-natal education is a large factor in modern times. Then followed pre-school education and in the good homes this had a lasting beneficial effect on the child. The elementary schools provided formal education from the ages of 6 to 12. The word formal in this connection was much different from the old connotation. It provided for a mastery of the fundamental operations of reading, writing and arithmetic but in its treatment of these subjects it dealt with them on a scientific basis and with a wide appeal to the different capacities and abilities of the pupil.

The Junior High School cared for the pupil from the age of 12 to the age of fifteen and the senior high school for the next three years. A probable development would be the junior college to take care of the child for the next few years preparatory to his entrance to university.

But the most important development in education was along the lines of adult education. The speaker emphasized the value of other agencies such as the home and church which were indispensable.

Indirect educative forces were the radio, movies, the press, including magazines, digests and periodicals, clubs of such varied character as hobby clubs, aeroplane clubs, scouts, guides, tuxis, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., G-man clubs and others.

The rapidly increasing and the marvellously effective use of the radio in the proper hands as an educational feature was something of a revelation to the audience. The wide variety of courses in adult education was of great interest. The objective was to give the adults the subjects they desired and these had included courses in dog breeding, chicken raising, Latin, psychology and many other subjects.

British Columbia had made a real start in this connection. Enrolment in classes in adult education in the province gave the impressive total of 14,826.

Appreciation Expressed

On behalf of the Department of Education, Dr. Hugh Morrison, inspector of schools expressed his appreciation of the co-operation of the Women's Canadian Club in entertaining the teachers and also added a word of introduction regarding the provincial, national and international reputation of Harry Charlesworth as an educationist.

Vocal solos were delightfully given by Miss Hodgson and Miss Barbara Daniels who were accompanied by Miss E. P. Grassie.

On behalf of the Women's Canadian Club Miss Lillian Halliwell, immediate past president, expressed the pleasure it had given them to join with the teachers in this event and to hear the striking ad-

PLAN FOR HOSPITAL

Architect's Drawings Considered by Board but no Action is Taken

The hospital board, at its regular monthly meeting last night, viewed sketch plans furnished by Henry Whittaker, chief architect for the provincial department of public works, for a proposed new $100,000 unit to the Prince Rupert General Hospital. Apart from studying the plans, no action was taken by the board. A letter of acknowledgement was ordered sent to Mr. Whittaker, expressing appreciation of his work to date in connection with the project.

The sketch plans, furnished through A. Dixon, chief engineer of the public works department, actually depict an ultimate 97-bed complete structure, detailing a 59-bed unit which would cost $125,000 but which, by leaving the basement floor incomplete for the present and by using equipment now on hand in the operating room, might be reduced to some forty beds at a probable cost of $100,000. However, it was felt that, with certain revisions in the use of rooms provided, this forty beds might be increased.

The plans provide for a reinforced concrete structure with a pitch roof and rubberoid shingles. The concrete would be waterproofed and stuccoed.

The unit which it is now proposed to build would include operating room, caseroom, kitchen and heating plant. The private room wing of the present hospital would still be used with the abandonment of the Green Street end.

The site of the new unit would be facing Fifth Avenue and to the east of the present building with which it would be connected.

The public department is presenting the sketch plans to a Vancouver contracting concern with a view to getting an estimate of cost. It was suggested that a check price might also be obtained here.

Blame Chinese for Trouble — President Roosevelt Reported to Have Mediation Plan—Defenders Planning More Stubborn Resistance Than Ever

TOKYO, Japan, Oct. 9: (CP)—The Domei Japanese News Agency carries an announcement by Kensuke Hironouchi, Japanese vice-minister of foreign affairs in China, to the effect that Italy has approved Japan's measures in China and will "never spare general support to Japan." Meanwhile authoritative Japanese sources expressed surprise over the mildness of the Foreign Office answer to the League of Nations and United States condemnation of Japan as the invader of China. The statement expressed regret that the League and United States should have condemned the Japanese policy but intimated that Japan would continue along the lines it was now pursuing. The statement disclaimed territorial ambitions for Japan and accused China of aggression by provocative acts among which was a plan to murder thirty thousand Japanese on Chinese soil.

Conference Plans
LONDON, Oct. 9:—The proposed conference of the nations including United States on the Sino-Japanese conflict is expected to be held in London or at The Hague. That it will not be held in Washington now appears certain. A plan of mediation is said to be advocated by President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States.

At Geneva yesterday a Chinese spokesman charged that poison gas was being used by the Japanese in their campaign around Shanghai.

Chinese Heartened
SHANGHAI, Oct. 9: (CP)—The new United States policy in supporting the League of Nations in condemnation of the Japanese invasion of China has, apparently, had the effect of greatly strengthening Chinese morale. Spurred on by victories of the last day or so in North China, the Chinese are preparing to put even more strength into their offensive against the invaders in the North and their dogged resistance in the Shanghai sector.

Soviet aid is reported to be an important factor also in the Chinese resistance.

Meanwhile both Chinese and Japanese forces today awaited apprehensively the dawning of China's National holiday tomorrow, each on guard against the other's expected offensive. The Chinese boasted that they will celebrate the twenty-sixth anniversary of the establishment of their constitutional government with a successful drive to push the Japanese completely out of the Shanghai sector. A Japanese spokesman, however, said it was expected that any attacks by the Chinese would be but brief.

DRAMA IS FEATURED

"Wife, Doctor and Nurse" at Capitol Theatre for Holiday

"Wife, Doctor and Nurse," feature offering at the Capitol Theatre for the first of next week with Loretta Young, Warner Baxter and Virginia Bruce in the leading roles, is the romantic drama of a wife, modern, but not quite modern enough to share her husband—the doctor, who has two women in love with him and can't give up either one—and the nurse, so intimately a part of this man's life.

The doctor has little time to notice the beauty and charm of his efficient nurse, Virginia Bruce. Called on an emergency case in which a beautiful girl has dislocated her arm, he falls in love with his patient and they are married.

Realizing that under the circumstances she cannot continue to work for the man with whom she is in love, the nurse departs. Her departure causes Baxter to become restless and irritable. The nurse decides to return and fight her emotions.

Baxter is once more the contented doctor. But when he explains to his wife that he needs his nurse only because she is essential to his work, and that he really loves only her, Loretta believes he is being unfair to himself and plans to go to Reno for a divorce. A compromise, dramatic, yet amusing and entertaining, is effected and becomes the solution to one of the year's most exceptional pictures.

Salmon Canning Now Practically Ended
—Halibut Landings Light—To Observe National Fish Week

With all seining areas in the district except at the north end of the Queen Charlotte Islands closing down last evening, salmon canning in Prince Rupert region is practically concluded for the year. Inverness cannery on the Skeena River, Butedale and Klemtu in the central area of the mainland and Lagoon Bay on the Queen Charlotte Islands have ceased canning operations this week-end. This leaves Namu in Fitzhugh Sound the only Cannery still running on a day to day basis as long as the supply of fish lasts. Trolling for sprigs on the Queen Charlotte Islands and in Rivers Inlet will still be permissible after next Monday.

During the past week halibut landings were light at Prince Rupert, only 194,000 pounds being brought in of which 156,000 pounds was from Canadian vessels and a mere 38,000 pounds from American.

The coming week, it is expected, will see the return to port of most of the boats from their final trips of the season to the banks. Up to and including yesterday landings at Prince Rupert had reached a total of 12,762,350 pounds as compared with 10,167,100 pounds at a corresponding date last year. This year's grand total of Canadian landings is 6,437,350 pounds as against 5,366,600 pounds a year ago while the American aggregate is 6,325,000 pounds in comparison with 4,800,500 pounds. Prices during the week were at a high level with 12.4c and 6c the top price for Canadian fish, received by the Unome for 7000 pounds while the low of 10c and 6c went to the Western Fisher for 17,000 pounds. For American fish 12.3c and 7c was the top price which the Frisco and Glacier received for catches of 6000 and 15,000 pounds respectively while the Prosperity was paid 12c and 7c for 17,000 pounds. There were no halibut sales here on Thursday or Friday.

Up to yesterday, the Cape Beale, Capt. Edgar Arnott, with a total of 268,000 pounds in seven trips, was leading the Canadian fleet for volume of halibut landings for individual boats this year. The Covenant, Capt. Hans Underdahl, was second with 257,000 pounds in thirteen trips while the Takla, Capt. Chris Parkvold, was third with 238,000 pounds in seven trips. The greatest number of fares, thirteen, have been landed by the Atli, 139,000 pounds; Covenant, 257,000 pounds; the Gulvik, 134,500 pounds; P. Dorreen, 135,000 pounds and Unome, 85,300 pounds. The Atlas, with 224,000 pounds, is leading the American boats for volume of landings at Prince Rupert, the Explorer being second with 212,000 pounds, and the Arrow third with 203,000 pounds.

Observance of National Fish Week, October 18-23, in Prince Rupert will include fish luncheons by the Gyro and Rotary Clubs, R. M. Winslow, assistant general manager of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., will give a fish talk before the Gyro Club while the Rotarians will hear Dr. W. A. Riddell of the scientific staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station.

Motorship Bellingham arrived in port last evening from Ketchikan with seven carloads of mixed fish for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways. The vessel was still here this morning discharging.

Shel Thomson Honored
Fitting recognition of the many years of faithful and efficient service given the Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club by Shel Thomson as caretaker was made at a meeting of the executive of the club last night when Mr. Thomson, who resigned recently owing to ill-health, was presented with a handsome gold watch suitably inscribed. The meeting was presided over by R. G. Vandersluys president of the club, and the presentation was made by Dr. L. W. Kergin, senior member of the executive, who made suitable references in so doing. Mr. Thomson, who served from 1924 to 1937 as caretaker, responded, saying that the gift was one he would always treasure greatly. Business at the executive included making of plans for removal of floats to make way for the new Standard Oil Co. plant which will be started on December 1. The central basin is to be done away with.

John Kendall, president of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative, leaves Prince Rupert next week for the Bahama Islands where he plans on spending the coming year. On the way there he will visit Miami, Florida. He is planning to sell his boat "Hast."

The prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative has laid up four of its salmon camps in the Blind Slough of the Skeena River for the winter. The fifth is remaining on the Prince Rupert waterfront to be operated as a store during the winter. The Co-operative packer Ogden, Capt. Oscar Haveroy, was used as a tugboat in moving the camps to winter quarters.

Last night at headquarters of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve presentation was made to Able Seaman Jack Armstrong of a Coronation medal sent through the director of naval reserves. The presentation was made by Lieut. Commander Walter Hume, local commanding officer. Armstrong would have gone to the Coronation in May had there been accommodation for him.
