TWO ALDERMEN FIGURED IN AN ARITHMETIC CONTEST

Two and two make four to the average man, but Alderman Hilditch can do better than that. His two and two may come out twenty-four any old day in the week.

"A drop of two feet per hundred to Hays Creek gives in a distance of sixteen hundred feet a fall of one hundred and twelve feet. Figures don't lie!" he told the Section Six ratepayers last night.

The audience seemed sceptical, and remonstrated.

"Thirty-two feet" corrected someone.

"Oh, of course," said Ald. Hilditch hurriedly, "Thirty two feet, I meant. Yes, its thirty-two feet."

"You were a hundred and six feet out," remarked Alderman Clayton with patronizing assurance, "Figures don't lie you see."

Ald. Clayton seemed puzzled at the shout of laughter that followed.

LOTS OF CARGO BY CURACOA

Sounds Rather Wild

Ottawa, Nov. 25—In his maiden speech in the Commons, H.H. Stevens of Vancouver, referring to the Japanese fishermen and the immigration policy of the late Government, said it was a racial problem worse than the negro question in the States.

BRINGS SOME VERY RICH ORE

Mr. J. D. Wells of Kitselas, mining engineer, is in town with a quantity of very rich bornite and chalcopryite copper ores from the Continental copper on Bornite Mountain. The ore also contains some free gold. Mr. Wells is enthusiastic about the future of the property, which is the nearest to Prince Rupert. He is calculating on developing the property in spring and shipping the ore by pack train while development is going on.

ARE RISKING THEIR LIVES IN PURSUIT OF THE GOLD

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Toronto, Nov. 24—A party of eight men have left Cobalt for Ungava and Baffins Island in search for gold reported to be plentiful there. They will traverse two thousand miles of country with practically no trails. Their forty dogs will only haul two tons of provisions. The opinion is that the party may reach their desired goal, but they will never get out. The country is wild and uninhabited save by a few scattered tribes of Eskimo who have always given the white man a wide berth. The party does not realize their stupendous undertaking.

Vancouver, Nov. 24—The Hebrews of this city have just opened a new synagogue at the corner of Heatley Ave. and Pender St. It is called the Synagogue of the Congregation of the Sons of Israel.

AT LAST, AT LAST, AT LAST, MORSE CREEK PUMP ARRIVES

By the C. P. R. s.s. Princess Ena yesterday there arrived the Underwriters' Pump for the Morse Creek Supplementary Water Supply. In a few weeks more the pump should be in running order, and the danger of water famine in Prince Rupert considerably lessened.

It seems a considerable time since the sweltering hot afternoon on which the Mayor, Ald.

Kerr, Ald. Douglas, the City Engineer and the same two Scribes who visited section two in Thursday's rainstorm, toiled around the watershed, but the water will be pumped in time to prevent a frost shortage in the hard months.

I.W.W. MEMBERS START STREET RIOT IN TOWN OF ABERDEEN, WASHINGTON

Five Hundred Citizens Turn Out to Keep Order—I. W. W. are Rushing in Reinforcements and Both Sides Prepare for Trouble.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Aberdeen, Wash., Nov. 25—Following the riot, consequent on the arrest of several members of the I.W.W., 500 of the prominent citizens of Washington have been sworn in as special constables to enforce the city ordinance that prohibits street speaking in certain limits.

The streets are under patrol, the saloons are closed, and all persons under 18 have been warned to keep off the streets. Reinforcements of I.W.W. members are being rushed in, and the outlooks like trouble.

Vancouver, Nov. 25—Heeding the call to come to their support, 368 members of the Industrial workers of world left Vancouver last night for Aberdeen.

THE NEW THEATRE WILL BE READY BY THE NEW YEAR

Steady progress is being made with the new theatre under construction by the Westholme Lumber Company on Second Avenue and Sixth Street corner. The front is assuming a handsome enriched appearance, and when illuminated signs are displayed will have a metropolitan style about it that will do credit to the fine site occupied by the building.

Within, the balcony, stage and pit are taking on the finished look that already seems to promise good shows round about Christmas and New Years season when the Theatre is likely to be opened. Exits are well designed with a view to the safety of the audience in the event of emergency. When decorated the building will be one of the best entertainment centres in Rupert.

G. T. P. WILL SELL HAZELTON LOTS BY PUBLIC AUCTION AT VANCOUVER

An important announcement in regard to the sale of the Grand Trunk Pacific official townsite at Hazelton has been made by Mr. G. U. Ryley, land commissioner for the G.T.P. The property which is registered as South Hazelton, is to be put on sale by public auction at Vancouver shortly, instead of being sold through agents.

The Natural Resources Company will arrange the sale which will be conducted by Mr. W. J. Sanders of Leigh Spencer Building, Vancouver, representing the Grand Trunk Pacific, from whom complete plans of the townsite and full information can be obtained.

The date of the sale will be announced later.

SIR WILFRID'S 70th BIRTHDAY

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Ottawa, Nov. 24.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier was last night tendered a banquet in honor of his seventieth birthday which took place on Monday.

Sir Wilfrid was born at St. Linn on November 20, 1841. When he entered the House yesterday he was given an ovation by his supporters. Sir Wilfrid feels in better health than he did ten years ago and his friends believe he is still fit for many years of public service.

MORE DEATHS THAN BIRTHS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Paris, Nov. 24.—The serious attention of the public has again been called to the depopulation of France. Official statistics covering the first six months of 1911, show an excess of deaths over births of 18,279.

WANTS A SIX POUND LOAF

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Senator Casgrain will introduce in Senate a bill providing for a standard loaf of bread of six pounds weight.

VOTING TODAY ON THE BY-LAW

There was no great rush this morning to vote for the Hays Creek Sewer By-law. The polling place was the police court room, and Mr. Peter McLachlan acted as returning officer. Very few property holders recorded their votes in the morning hours, only about 80 having voted up to noon. Polls close at 7 p.m.

"M. M." HAS ROOM FOR ALL

That fine new building of M. M. Stephens is already occupied by the Dominion Telegraph Office, as well as by Mr. Stephens offices, and there is a healthy rumor going round town that the enterprising M. M. is desirous of having the Post Office located in his fine building too, and perhaps later on the Customs Offices.

THE RATEPAYERS OF SECTION SIX ARE ENTERTAINED BY ALDERMANIC ORATORS

"What about Manhole 28?" was the slogan at a most sprightly meeting held last night in the Presbyterian Hall. Announced as a meeting of ratepayers interested in the sections affected by the Hays Creek Sewer, the meeting became really an Aldermanic Side Show in which the council strong men, Aldermen Newton and Hilditch did weight-lifting stunts, the council "white hope," Alderman Clayton, displayed his chest development, Ald. Morrissey gave some really pointed speaking while Ald. Douglas took up a collection to defray expenses.

A. W. Edge presided over the meeting, the result of which was briefly, that the citizens of the sections concerned around Hays Creek are inclined to organize to look after their own interests, and that the majority of those present last night will vote against the Trunk Sewer By-law. The main opinion very evidently was that they wished the sewer scheme delayed until it was certain that the business end at least, of the sewer, could be constructed to tide water.

ARE ARRANGING TO MAKE THE 30th WORTHY OF ST. ANDREW'S MEMORY

A committee was appointed last night to see that the St. Andrews Night's Dance in the McIntyre Hall is made the very brightest event of the season. On the committee are Messrs. M. J. McNeil, D. C. Stuart, T. McMeekin, W. J. Dennis and S. D. Macdonald. Decorations, music, refreshments, everything that goes to make St. Andrews night a night to be remembered the year round are being arranged for in true Scottish Highland style. Short of having the heather itself around on ben and in glen, the dance will be the real thing, with all the fire and dash makes Scotland famous around the world. Be there. There's a Highland welcome for all, Saxon Canadian or Celt.

CANADA LLOYD'S MAY BE FORMED

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
London, Nov. 24.—In view of the disinclination of marine underwriters at Lloyds to reduce insurance rates on vessels engaged in the St. Lawrence trade, the Financial News says the formation of a Canadian organization on the lines of that renowned institution is now advocated and the proposal is receiving a good deal of influential support.

"I am not making gallery play over this," said Alderman Morrissey at last night's Sewer Bylaw meeting, "I would not take another municipal appointment, not the best that could be offered me,

WILL DEVELOP B.C. RESOURCES

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Vancouver, Nov. 25—At a banquet last night of Provincial Conservatives Premier McBride stated the intention of his Government next session to outline a policy of aggressive railway building throughout the province to develop the natural resources in preparation for the opening of the Panama canal.

"As for Aldermen Hilditch and Clayton, Dr. Reddie and the City Engineer for that matter, I am ready to gamble that those men are honest enough in their ideas, but they simply don't know any better than to approve a sewer without an outlet to the sea.

"They want you to spend $75000 on that sewer scheme. You shall never do it with my consent."

THE WEALTH BEHIND PRINCE RUPERT

Writing in the Vancouver Sun, "Bruce" said recently: "People who should be better informed often ask what the hinterland of Prince Rupert is really like. Some think it is the backyard of British Columbia, but these are in error. The tributary territory on which Prince Rupert depends for support is opulent in undeveloped natural resources. If some giant would shape a week's output of a steel-mill into a spade, break off the biggest pine tree on the mountainside for a handle, and dig up this backyard of British Columbia, he would find a treasure of gold, copper and silver more valuable than any storied wealth of Eldorado. There is also coal to burn. Cold-minded lumbermen who never lie about fir and cedar, because they think fir and cedar all the time, have said that there is in the vicinity of Prince Rupert timber enough to keep twenty-five modern saw-mills on the job for twenty years. The salmon that have made the Skeena River famous are still abundant. If you want to see good farming land going to waste, go up to the Bulkley and the Skeena Valleys. Prince Rupert's fisheries in future ought to be a fountain of wealth."

THE Pillar of Light

By Louis Tracy

With seeming anxiety to atone for the excesses of the week, the weather that morning justified the claim of Cornwall to be the summer land of England. The sun shone from a blue sky flecked with white clouds. The waters of Mount's Bay sparkled and danced in miniature wavelets. The air was so mild, the temperature so equable, that it was hard to credit sea and wind with the havoc of the preceding days.

The Gulf Rock disaster did not stand alone in the records of the hurricane. Even the day's papers contained belated accounts of casualties on the coasts of Normandy, Holland, and far-off Denmark. But nowhere else had there been such loss of life, whilst renewed interest was evoked by the final relief of all the survivors.

Pyne's appearance outside the sitting-room was hailed with a yell. Notwithstanding her own perplexities, Mrs. Vansittart had taken good care that the children were well provided for. They were beautifully dressed, and the smiling maid who freed them from control when they opened their jackets, the day was so fine.

He descended the stairs, with a car in his hand and a delighted youngster clinging to each hand. In the hall he encountered a dozen journalists waiting to devour him. They had failed to penetrate the strategic screen interposed by the head waiter. Now the enemy was unmasked, and they advanced to the attack.

Pyne was ready for them. He had already outlined his defence. "Will one of you gentlemen, representing all, kindly give me a word in private?" he asked.

"This was readily agreed to. 'Now this is the deal I will make,' he said, when the two were isolated. 'I will meet you all here in an hour's time. I will be interviewed, sketched, snap-shot, given you looks of my hair, my autograph, my views on the Far East, the next Presidential election, and the fiscal question, if you bind yourself to one thing.'

"Among the passengers saved from the Chimnook was a Mrs. Vansittart. She is very ill, and is being cared for by Mr. Brand and his daughters. Make no reference to her in any way whatever beyond including her name in the published lists. Promise that and I'll talk a page."

"I am sure I can agree without consulting my colleagues," said the surprised reporter.

her position" to be engaged to an officer in the Royal Navy and admitted to the sacred ranks of the aristocracy was a wonderful thing in itself. But now she was at the hospital, cheering Bates and Jackson or the injured people from the wreck, now arranging for the departure of some of the poorer survivors when they were able to travel, now flitting over to Marazion to see Jim Spence, and once actually visiting Mr. Jones, the inn-keeper.

The actors in this comedy seemed to be sublimely indifferent to public opinion. That was the worst of it. Enid was escorted about the town by each and all of the men at all hours. Now she was at the hospital, cheering Bates and Jackson or the injured people from the wreck, now arranging for the departure of some of the poorer survivors when they were able to travel, now flitting over to Marazion to see Jim Spence, and once actually visiting Mr. Jones, the inn-keeper.

At last a part of the secret came out. Enid went with her father to ask how Mr. Emmett, the sick chief officer, was getting on. They found him smoking in the front garden of the house in which Brand had lodged him.

He started when he saw them approaching, and his weather-beaten face wore the puzzled look with which he regarded Enid one night on the lighted stairs.

Trall noticed the sailor's covert glances at Enid, so he said: "By the way, Mr. Emmett, you were on the Britannia when my wife and I, her sister, and two children, came to England before the Esmeralda was lost?"

"Yes, sir," He paused. "During many days crossing her and Mr. Trall had talked of that last joyous journey, when he, a boy who had just joined the service, sat at their table, as was the custom of Junior officers in those years."

Mr. Trall smiled. He knew what was in the other man's mind. "You see a likeness in this young lady to anyone you have ever known?" he asked.

"Well, sir, I hope it will not hurt your feelings, and it's a good many years ago now, but I could have sworn—well, I must out with it. She is the living image of your wife."

"Indeed, that cannot hurt my feelings, as she is her daughter." "Her daughter! Your daughter!" gasped Emmett.

A small serving-maid, with the ears of a rabbit, was listening spell-bound at the open window. Here, indeed, was a choice tit-bit for the milkman, and the postman, and the butcher's and grocer's boys. From this lower current the stream of talk flowed upwards until it reached the august drawing-room of Mrs. Taylor-Smith.
