LIVING IN FAR NORTH

Felix Batt Tells Interestingly Of Conditions in New Mining Area

Extreme Seasons

Very Cold in Winter, Pleasant in Summer—Describes Country

In the mining town of Goldfields where the winters last from October to April and where just a few inches beneath the muskeg the ground is frozen winter and summer there is the same human nature as here—romance and crime, success and failure and all the phases of life—although the population of the town is only about seven hundred with several times that number in the immediate neighborhood. That is the way Felix Batt put it in an address he gave yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club.

Mr. Batt is an employee of the radio department of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company which has a camp at Goldfields with about 100 men employed. No actual production has so far taken place and the ore is not very high grade. Mining is the chief topic of conversation everywhere.

The town of Goldfields is in Saskatchewan, located on the northern shore of Lake Athabasca only a few miles from the Northwest Territories border, and its presence is due to gold strikes in the vicinity. To get there most people take the train from Edmonton, known locally as the "Muskeg Special," to Fort McMurray, and then by boat down the river to Lake Athabasca. He was among those who took the air route, travelling in one of the company's numerous airplanes from Edmonton in about five hours.

The country around Goldfields is flat or rolling with lakes and ponds everywhere in summer. Lots of scrub spruce and some pine trees are found around the lake but the timber is resinous and, if one leans against a house built of it, he is liable to stick to the wall. On the south shore of the lake there are miles of white sand which glitters in the sun like snow as one flies over it.

The weather is severe, the company's thermometer registering 55 below on one occasion but otherwise of lower temperatures. In summer it is sunny and bright there being no rain from October to April and not much in the summer. Growth is very rapid, so rapid that it is surprising to see the daily changes in the foliage around.

Whites and Indians

The people in that district are either whites, Indians or half breeds. While mining is the chief occupation just now, there are many engaged in trapping and fishing. The Athabasca fox is noted as a high class fur.

There is plenty of fish in Athabasca Lake. White fish and lake trout in quantities are shipped to Chicago. Also many of the fish are taken out by airplane to Edmonton and are sold readily. Some of the trout weigh as much as forty pounds although, he said, the best he had caught was ten to twelve pounds.

A weekly mail brought letters and parcels by airplane, parcels costing 50¢ a pound. It was a common thing to see mail order catalogues by the sack, all having one-dollar stamps affixed to them. On mail day everyone came to the post office and it seemed like a lot of people. Sometimes the planes brought in dogs and cats and poultry, all paying 20¢ a pound for transportation.

Mr. Batt said he met a number of Prince Rupert people, one of whom had been bootlegging here and was engaged in the same lucrative occupation there. One booze plane a week came in from Edmonton every week and the li-

Anniversary Of Lodge Founder Observed Here

The 118th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Wildey, founder of the Independent Order of Oddfellows in America, was observed by the local lodge Tuesday night. A supper was enjoyed after which a musical program was presented including violin solo by Bobby Hale, accompanied by Miss Nellie Lawrence, cornet solo by Allan Hale, vocal solo by Miss Betty Woods, accompanied by Miss Ruth Nelson, and reading by Mrs. D. Death of three of Mrs. Arcade Rondeau's children left little Marie Rita, second oldest, as the only survivor of the day and a half old quartet and her life hung in the balance as doctors tended her in a big hospital incubator. Two boys and one sister all died.

TWELVE DIE IN FLOODS

This is Toll so Far of High Water in Ohio Valley—Many Homeless

CINCINNATI, Jan. 22: (CP)—The death list as a result of the unprecedented floods of the Ohio, Arkansas and other rivers during the past few days now stands at at least twelve with damage of many millions of dollars and 120,000 at least temporarily homeless, having moved to higher ground for safety.

The water here reached a record crest of 61 feet and further discomfort has been caused by an epidemic of influenza. Thirty-five thousand are homeless here alone and property damage is estimated at millions.

The seven states most severely affected are Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, West Virginia, Kentucky and Arkansas. Three other states are less seriously affected. Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Marietta and Evansville are among the most hard-hit cities.

The floods, leaving death and destruction in their muddy wake, were caused by exceptionally heavy rains. Weather is now mild and cloudy. The flood crest has moved downstream from here.

With hunger stalking the flood wastes and fear of disease increasing, relief stations have been established, the federal government making a vote of $100,000 for the purpose.

The judges were Richmond Mortimer and Miss Y. Love, who after a long consultation, decided for the affirmative. Both sides were well prepared and some interesting arguments were developed for a large and interested audience.

Refreshments were served following the debate by Misses Joan Cross and Brenda Allen. The members of the Christian Youth Society were welcomed on behalf of the A. Y. P. A. by R. Yerburgh, Wilfred Hicks responding. There was a hymn and prayer at the opening.

COMMUNISM IN FLOWER

Party Opens Hall Here and Observes Anniversary of Death of Nikolai Lenin Thirteen Years Ago

The Communist Party of Canada's local branch, which has been more or less quietly active for some time, came into full flower last night with a public meeting which marked the opening of the party's new hall on Fulton Street as well as observance of a memorial on the occasion of the thirteenth anniversary of the death of Nikolai Lenin, founder of the Soviet movement. There were about one hundred persons present and the meeting was presided over by August Wallin. The speakers were Gerald Murphy, who expounded with considerable ardor on the theories of Leninism, and R. R. Webster, who spoke more particularly on local application and suggested that Canada would be much happier if it were communistically rather than capitalistically governed.

August Wallin explained that the Communist party had been in being in Canada for fifteen years but only now was it assuming the form of a mass movement. It had 15,000 members in Canada with 2,000 in British Columbia. It was just as legal as any other party and welcomed to membership workers, intellectuals and small business people.

Gerald Murphy referred to the birth of Lenin on April 22, 1870. He then entered upon a discussion of Marxian philosophy and how it had been developed by Lenin who, after many vicissitudes, had been instrumental in liberating Russia's 170,000,000 from the tyrannical czarist regime. The aim of Leninism was the betterment of the human race and the promotion of peace. Since Lenin's death his teachings had spread internationally and were now recognized as the basis of the workingman's future welfare. Mr. Murphy described Lenin as an anti-Leninist, an egotist and counter-revolutionary whose endeavor was to divide the workers and establish Fascism in the interests of the capitalist class. Unity of all workers behind the banner of Leninism was essential if the workers were to resist the onslaught of an Imperialist war. There should be mass organization along national and international racial and inter-racial lines. Speaking of Spain, Mr. Murphy declared that non-intervention efforts were merely meant to help the Fascist cause. A similar situation might arise in Canada. Workers should organize so as to be able to compel the governments to legislate in their interests and give them work and decent wages such as the potential wealth of the country was capable of affording them, instead of present conditions which were dehumanizing them both mentally and physically. To follow Lenin was the way out.

R. R. Webster

R. R. Webster declared that the workers in Russia knew freedom such as did those in no other part of the world. They were guaranteed work and decent wages, the right to rest and labor. Russia had set an example for Canada. The Communist Party was leading the Canadian workingman to freedom. It was necessary for the workers to be united if they were to head off Fascism and war. Efforts should be bent to obtaining control of government. There should be consolidation with the C. C. F. instead of working at cross-purposes. Without this, there could not be success.

A question period followed. In answer to one question, the chairman said that the Communist Party had refused to participate in any capitalistic government. That was why it had not joined with Blum's weak compromise administration in France. The communist party was 250,000 strong in France with 100,000 members in Germany. The difference between

The Building Trades

In good times the building trades employ directly or indirectly something like one-fourth of the population. Today in Prince Rupert the building trades employ only a very small fraction of the population.

At one time in the history of the city there were a number of local firms engaged in selling real estate, connected very closely with the building industry. They had offices in the city which had to be heated, lighted and cleaned. Today there is not a firm doing enough business selling real estate to house and feed one man. A somewhat similar condition exists among the building material supply houses, the hardware stores, the building contractors and others. Very few laborers are digging foundations, carrying mortar or pulling down old buildings. Carpenters, masons, plumbers, steam heating engineers, glaziers, painters and others are either idle or working part time. Normally they should be all busy most of the time and this would make others busy.

During the past year the building trades have confined their activities to a few small jobs except for some waterfront activities. This year there is evidently to be a considerable amount of larger construction and this will be followed by smaller construction. Until the builders are again busy and prosperous, we cannot say that economic recovery has really set in. So far there is a tendency toward improvement but only a tendency.

Automotive Industries

One industry that is showing decided signs of life is the automotive industry of Eastern Canada. The factories have been making cars for home use and also for export. The west has been buying some of these and helping the east to start recovery in that particular line. Over fifteen thousand people in Eastern Canada are now employed in making cars and the sum last year paid in wages and salaries amounted to twenty-two million dollars. This is an important factor in Canadian recovery, but see what will happen when the building trades become busy. Then there will be more trucks needed, more cars for the people who will be earning good money but today find it difficult to pay for food and shelter. Let the building trades get busy in Prince Rupert and orders will at once go through for several hundred new cars.

Already people are buying more cars and this year will see a big advance. Every industry that shows improvement affects every other industry. There is a general interlocking. We are glad to know the automotive industry is making progress. It means that the whole country is making progress. This is a co-operative world. All countries affect all other countries and all industries affect all other industries.

First Smithers Curling Contest

George Wall's rink winner of "Ham and Egg" Bouspiel

SMITHERS, Jan. 22.—The "Ham and Egg Bouspiel" put on by the Smithers Curling Club annually as a prelude to the season's activities was this year won by the rink skipped by George Wall over a dozen other rinks.

There were many close games during the series and some exceptionally fine curling was witnessed, the ice being in perfect condition.

The rinks for the tournament for the Hanson Cup were chosen on Sunday and nine groups are now lined up in this tournament.

The first games in this series were played Monday evening.

The weather has been cold during the past week and has been ideal for all the winter sports carried on here.

The Letter Box

SUGGESTS SWEEPSTAKE

Editor, Daily News:

In reference to the financing of the new hospital and the inability of the city to materially assist with a substantial subscription may I make the suggestion that Mr. Alder, in his capacity as commissioner and city council, donate a number of reverted city lots of reasonable location to those who will have charge of raising the money, for the purpose of holding a lottery or raffle or a series of lotteries or raffles. If there should be no legal obstacles, whereby at least a certain sum could be raised by spreading these tickets throughout the surrounding country.

An added inducement could be made by giving as first prize a double lot with a clear title and free from taxes for say five years and a second prize in accordance, etc.

In doing this the city could not lose anything as these lots are on its hands and are likely to be for some time and, if things don't pick up at the end of five years, it is liable to get the lots back again.

As Mr. Alder seems to think there is money to be had if we are willing to exert sufficient energy to go after it, I offer this suggestion as a concrete proposition on his own suggested terms.

The Communist Party and the C. C. F. was that the former was revolutionary and the latter parliamentary. The workers were quite capable of ruling the country. The most intelligent people had always been recruited from the ranks of the workers. Russia was ruled by Soviets, not directly by Communists.

Charles Chapman declared that communism meant common ownership of the means of production and distribution. The C. C. F. would compensate the capitalists for what they took away from them and were little different from what the Liberals professed to be. The C. C. F. believed in gradual socialism.

"Doubtless God could have made a better berry, but doubtless God never did."

Isaac Walton, the Complacent Angler, thus quotes the good doctor. Had Dr. Boteler lived in Prince Rupert, he might have said: "Doubtless God could have made better coal than Albert & McCaffery's but doubtless God never did."

For twenty years, Albert & McCaffery's coal has been the best available. It is the best today. And if better could be got, we would have it. It gives you the most heat for the least money—and that's what you want.

So, the next time you need coal, just phone 116 or 117 to Albert & McCaffery and order Nanaimo-Wellington for furnace and heater; Alberta-sootless for the kitchen range.

Says Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced At Home

Prove It At Small Cost

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, as good advice for home treatment as any friend can give, before resorting to operations or injections, is to get a prescription known as Moone's Emerald Oil.

Simply ask Ormes Ltd. or your druggist for an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you should notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are no longer burdensome. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that it also helps simple swellings due to strain to disappear.

J. W. Kilpatrick will sail on the Princess Adelaide Saturday morning for a three weeks' holiday trip to Vancouver.

Royal Bank of Canada 68th Annual Meeting

Morris W. Wilson, President and Managing Director, Stresses Need for Orderly Recovery—Recommends Commission to Investigate Financial Relationships Of Dominion, Provincial and Municipal Governments
Sydney G. Dobson, General Manager, Reports $56,000,000 Increase in Deposits—Profits Improved—"Business Undoubtedly on Up Grade"

Warning against the dangers of a speculative boom, and a plea that recovery be maintained on an orderly basis, were outstanding features of the address of Morris W. Wilson, President and Managing Director, at the 68th Annual General Meeting of The Royal Bank of Canada.

That recovery was well on the way there could be little doubt, and "even the most sanguine would have hesitated a year ago to predict progress as great as that which has been accomplished during 1936," stated Mr. Wilson.

In addressing the meeting, Mr. Wilson said, in part: "A serious drought again affected large areas in the West, with results that were disastrous to the farmers immediately concerned. Those farmers who reaped good crops last year benefited materially by higher prices, but, in the midst of a broad recovery, farm income has lagged behind."

"It is gratifying that the stocks of grain in Canada are again of normal proportions. Nature is in a fair way to take the Government of Canada out of the grain business. It is sincerely to be hoped that she will not be drawn into it again."

Industries

"Prices for newsprint have shown a slight increase during the past year and this, together with a heavier volume of sales, has brought encouragement to the newsprint industry."

"In the lumber industry there has been a satisfactory volume of demand from Great Britain ever since the beginning of their building boom. This demand has been maintained during the past year and is the most important factor in the improvement of conditions in lumbering."

"The value of Canadian mineral production established a new high record in 1936, amounting to approximately $350 million compared with $312 million in 1935. The prospects of the Canadian mining industry are more favorable than at any time in the past."

"Throughout the manufacturing industries of Canada, volume of production has been above the level which prevailed in 1926 and in October reached the highest point recorded since July 1929."

Employment and Relief

"At the moment manufacturing employment is close to normal. In mining, as a whole, the number employed is greater than at any time in our history. In trade the volume of employment is not unsatisfactory. Under these circumstances, I cannot but feel that the time has come to examine with care our lists of those receiving unemployment relief. It is a notable fact that there has been no census of unemployment since 1931. At a time like the present a biennial census would give our various governing bodies facts which would help them in determination of policies.

Division of Taxes

"Over a wide field of economic legislation it is virtually impossible to guess whether ultimate authority rests with the Province or with the Dominion."

"Let us secure a review of the whole subject by a Royal Commission with the object of resolving these complexities. Changed social and economic conditions have thrown responsibilities on various governing bodies that were never contemplated at the time of Confederation, and as a consequence it is found increasingly difficult, in some instances, to meet these additional responsibilities with the sources of revenue at their disposal. Having regard to the necessity of maintaining the national credit, if it is at all possible some solution must be found which will permit both provinces and municipalities to continue the service of their public debt in full."

Individualistic Democracy

"It is the fashion in certain quarters to say that the system of capitalism—or, as I prefer to term it, individualism—has failed."

"In the past it has adapted itself to changes in economic conditions and social concepts, and there is no reason to think that such adaptations will not continue to be made. In fact, they must be made if the system is to survive. With Communism, Fascism and Nazism in competition, individualism will survive only if the benefits which it provides to the community continue to be greater than those conferred upon people living under other organizations of society."

"If we would set an example to the world we must manifest that unusual degree of self-control which restrains booms and thus avoids subsequent depressions."

Money

"It is for this reason then that the present monetary situation is an outstanding challenge to economic individualism. Can a popular government, such as that in the United States, for instance, deal effectively with the monetary situation? The revaluation of gold by the United States and the reduction in the gold value of other currencies, made almost unanimous this past year by the capitulation of the European gold bloc introduced a dynamic inflationary force into world economy. It is encouraging to note that this potentiality seems to be understood by the monetary authorities in the United States and that they are taking definite action. The world has not previously experienced a period when borrowing rates have been so low for so long a time. If continued on this basis an unhealthy and artificial situation will develop. Easy money is a powerful force; it operates somewhat slowly, but to wait until it is evident that speculation is out of hand will be to create conditions which can be corrected only by depression. In some quarters we are asked to believe that the increased government regulation of general economy may make it possible to continue low interest rates more or less indefinitely. I feel strongly that this view is not correct and that the action now being taken is by no means premature. By use, if necessary, of the huge reserves already accumulated it will be possible to prevent any serious interruption in recovery. It is surely better that we maintain the upward trend for a prolonged period and that recovery shall proceed in an orderly manner, with the mini-

TERRACE

A Masonic function brought several visitors to Terrace last week-end, including W. H. Tobey and A. G. Rix of Prince Rupert and Thomas McCubbin of Pacific.

Terrace weather has been cold and calm with near zero temperatures for the past week.

A pleasing performance was given by a troupe of little girls under the auspices of the Women's auxiliary of the Anglican Church on Friday last. It was a play called "The Sleeping Princess." The attendants and the fairies were very pretty in costumes made by the local ladies. At the close the little Warden girl thanked the company by means of a delightful little rhyme.

T. W. Hall, inspector of schools was here for the week-end. While here he gave an interesting story of his trip to the Vimy Memorial num of encouragement to irresponsible speculation. We must on no account allow recovery to degenerate into boom—the forerunner of depression. Individualistic economy will stand or fall, depending upon its ability to prevent depressions.

General Manager's Address

In reviewing the annual balance sheet, Mr. S. G. Dobson, General Manager, referred with satisfaction to an increase of $54,668,757 in total assets, which now aggregate $355,588,457, and to an increase in deposits during the year of $56,579,909. Mr. Dobson said in part:

Current Loans Situation

"The demand for loans in Canada was again disappointing, though there have been indications during the last few months of increased requirements for business purposes. While advances under the heading of Current Loans in Canada decreased $41,251,783 during the year, this does not mean that the requirements of our ordinary borrowers were that much smaller. The reduction is fully accounted for by repayment of two special loans, namely, about $33,000,000 due by the Wheat Board liquidated principally through the sale of surplus stocks of wheat held under Government control, and the repayment of approximately $10,000,000 due by the Canadian Pacific Railway, being our participation in the loan to that company made by the chartered banks of Canada under Dominion Government guarantee."

"I give this information to correct an impression which casual consideration of this item in our Balance Sheet might create, that is, that business is still undergoing a process of liquidation."

"In this connection it is interesting to note that total commercial loans in Canada of all banks are only 50.46% of the amount outstanding at the end of 1929."

"Due to increased volume of business, I am pleased to report an improvement in profits of $201,492. While not large, this is an encouraging trend."

Improvement in Business

"A review of conditions in Canada and other countries in which the bank has branches, indicates a definite improvement in business in Canada and in practically all of the foreign countries in which we are represented. Business is undoubtedly on the upgrade, and I look forward to 1937 with a greater feeling of confidence than has been justified for some years."

TARZAN IN NEW FILM

Hair-Raising Thrills in Drama Based on Edgar Rice Burroughs Characters

"Tarzan Escapes," with Johnny Weissmuller as Tarzan and Maureen O'Sullivan as the heroine, is at the Capitol Theatre here this week-end.

With hordes of jungle beasts, many thrills and a new romantic idea, the new Edgar Rice Burroughs adventure yarn takes Tarzan and his beloved Jane into the land of the giant bats where many perils are encountered.

Prominent in the supporting cast of "Tarzan Escapes" are Benita Hume, recently seen as the malevolent spy in "Suzy," William Henry, Herbert Mundin and John Buckler. Henry, promising young juvenile, plays the role of Jane's cousin who braves darkest Africa to find her and induce her to return to civilization. Mundin adds considerable hilarity in another of his typical cockney characterizations; Buckler is seen as Major Fry, the explorer, as villainous a character as ever fought his way through an African swamp.

Battles with African natives, an encounter with giant bats, Tarzan's fight to release animals captured for menageries, the rescue of the white party from the wild Ganeloni tribesmen, the mad elephant stampede which saves the scouting party, the escape of Tarzan from a cage in which he has been imprisoned, native tortures, a plunge over a cliff, a perilous adventure in a crocodile-infested river are some of the thrill sequences in "Tarzan Escapes."
