Will Cost Million and a Half Dollars to Complete C. N. R. Hotel in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Nov. 30: (CP)—Announcement made here yesterday by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence, that the new Canadian National Hotel here would be opened in 1937 was based on a wire from Hon. Clarence D. Howe, minister of transport, stating that the opening would definitely take place within two years. The sixteen - floor 600 room structure, located on Georgia Street between Hornby and Burrard in downtown Vancouver, was started in 1926 but work was abandoned in 1933 due to the depression. The cost so far has been $7,500,000 and it is expected $1,500,000 will be needed to complete the building which is one of the most imposing in this city.

Tonight's train, due from the East at 11 o'clock, was reported this morning to be on time.

What's Next In Politics?

LETHBRIDGE, Alberta, Nov. 30: (CP)—With the federal by-election in Victoria now over, political interest will centre in the provincial by-election in Lethbridge on Thursday when Premier Aberhart's Social Credit government will have a test of strength. There are only two candidates in the field—the government supporter and an opponent upon whose nomination all opposing forces united. Only the most enthusiastic of the government's supporters expect a victory for the Social Credit candidate. Premier Aberhart arrived in Lethbridge yesterday to assist in the closing of the campaign.

DIVISION FOR GOV'T

Important Measure is Passed By Legislature—C. C. F. Splits Up On Vote

VICTORIA, Nov. 30: (CP)—On a division of 34 to 11, with the C. C. F. splitting, four in support of the government and three with the Opposition, the Legislature yesterday approved on second reading the important government measure, sponsored by Premier T. D. Pattullo, which will now go to committee stage prior to final adoption, providing for the establishment of a Department of Trade and Industry. An Independent and a Labor member also voted against the bill.

The amended Securities Act, providing for further control of the activities of stock brokers, and the amended Motor Vehicle Act providing for a speed limit of thirty miles per hour in unorganized districts and the placing of responsibility for motor accidents on the owners of cars irrespective of the drivers, were also approved on second reading. Another division saw the Conservatives and one Independent line up with the government to uphold a Speaker's ruling declaring a motion by Dr. Lyle Telford, C. C. F. leader, recommending that the government consider the prohibition of all liquor advertising to be out of order.

VICTORIA, Nov. 30: (CP)—Robert W. Mayhew, Liberal candidate, won the federal by-election here yesterday to fill the vacancy in Parliament at Ottawa caused by the recent death of Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie. Mayhew had a comfortable and adequately decisive majority of about 1800 votes over Bruce A. McKelvie, the Conservative candidate. Prof. King Gordon of Montreal, standard bearer of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, brought up the rear in a three-cornered fight which, in its later stages, assumed national importance. It marks the first time in thirty years that Victoria, considered almost a traditionally Conservative seat, has been represented at Ottawa by a Liberal.

COMLETE HARMONY PREVAILS

British and French Premiers Feel Time is Not Ripe to Grant Germany's Political and Territorial Demands

LONDON, Nov. 30: (CP)—Premier Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain and Premier Camille Chautemps of France opened their conversations yesterday and met again today. It was stated last night that they had decided they were not yet ready to grant any of Germany's political or territorial demands. European questions were the principal matters to be discussed and complete harmony, it was announced, on all questions had prevailed.

Germany's plea for return of colonies of which she was deprived under the Treaty of Versailles was considered with due sympathy. It was felt by the French that Chancellor Hitler should first cease rattling the sabre. An international area in Africa is one of the latest proposals.

Premier Chamberlain, in a statement today, said that Germany's colonial demands could not be met "in isolation."

Declarations issued by the British Premier and the French foreign minister, Yvon Debois, today indicated that they planned broad consultations with other powers looking toward a general settlement of world unrest. It was declared that France and Great Britain were ready to co-operate with other powers in protecting both their rights and treaty obligations in the Far East.

A statement outlining the French and British positions was made to the House of Commons after heads of both governments had completed a two-day review of their problems.

SIR MALCOLM CAMPBELL'S "BLUEBIRD" SHATTERS MOTORBOAT SPEED RECORD

Sir Malcolm Campbell, British speed king, is seen here at the wheel of his motorboat, Bluebird, during a test of the craft for motorboats. It eclipsed the former mark of 124.86 m.p.h. held by Gar Wood of America. He is the former holder of the record of better than 300 miles per hour. All he has to do now is set an aeroplane record and he will be master of speed.

Bernice Palmer says . . .

Goodness me, what children will think of to do! There really isn't any need for all the elaborate preparations we make for their amusement or for the complicated toys we see and long to give them—not if all children are as original in their play as the one I am about to tell about and I believe they are if given half a chance.

It was her fourth birthday and, because of the whooping cough, nothing much could be done to celebrate the event. There was a little family affair though and the usual gifts were wrapped in gay paper and piled on the table for her perusal. After the fun and excitement of unwrapping and exclaiming was over the young lady disappeared into the back yard and nothing was heard of her. Wondering at the quietness, mother went out to investigate and there she was, flat on her tummy, wriggling along the ground uttering soft caressing sounds to some unseen object, her nose almost touching the earth. When asked what in the world she was doing, she looked up with the most cherubic expression and the dirtiest face (a combination only possible on a little child) and said: "why, mummie, I'm taking my worm for a walk!"

SPORT CHAT

A young English cricket club cricketer, described as the "Bradman of English Club Cricket," has arrived in Australia where he will make his home. He is Norman W. Cutler who scored more than 3,000 runs in club cricket each of the years 1934, 1935 and 1936. His total for 1935, in fact, was 3,701 from 40 innings for an average of 115.65. His best average however, was in 1936 with 154.23. In his last match in England Cutler is said to have made a century against Mitcham in 48 minutes. Since 1931 he has made 71 centuries.

Cutler is being introduced to Sydney cricket circles by W. A. Midfield, Australia's veteran wicket-keeper. He has joined Gordon Cricket Club. One thing that always puzzled him, Cutler said on arrival in Sydney, was why men like Don Bradman and J. F.ingleton could go on the field in club games and repeatedly make merely double figures whereas, in international play, they did practically what they liked with the flower of English bowling.

Amateur Detective

(By ANNE MAY ULLMAN) (Quesnel)

We'll call him Linn, because that isn't his real name. He's the Oriental owner of a placer mine and he is the whitest Chinaman I ever met.

Said one of his miners: "Play fair with him and he'll do anything for you. Cross him just once and you might as well leave the country. China wouldn't be too far away to get."

Some time back Linn suspected one of the men of stealing nuggets but he couldn't be sure.

He walks around overseeing things when he's there and he notices more than one would think he does.

Unknown to any one Linn went away from camp and climbed a nearby mountain. From that vantage point he watched the miners through field glasses and saw one of them pick up a small object and drop it in his cigarette lighter. Supper had just been finished

Prince William to be Towed to Vancouver — Dr. Carter to Port Alberni—Hunters Had Good Trip.

As soon as a boat is available, the Armour Salvage Co. will send the Prince William, which it bought some time ago, in tow to Vancouver. During the past few days steam has been up in the vessel to operate her winches. Vessels of the company are busy these days and considerable work is lined up. Building of the new gravel bunker on the company's dock has been completed.

There was a capacity list of 161 passengers aboard the C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, which was in port from 3:45 to 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver. Nine passengers disembarked here from the vessel. There were 108 passengers bound ultimately for Seattle. A number of these would have been going south from Alaska on American vessels had they not been tied up by a six-day strike of cooks and waiters.

The steamers Yukon and North Sea, which had been delayed at Seattle last week on account of the cooks' and waiters' strike, were both at Ketchikan yesterday morning northbound. They had left Seattle at the week-end.

Donald McCralld, chief engineer of the steamer Princess Norah, will leave the vessel at the conclusion of its present Alaska voyage at Vancouver. He will be relieved by William Anderson, veteran chief engineer of the company, who was last here during the summer as chief of the Princess Alice.

Dr. Neal Carter, director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experiment Station, will sail Thursday night on the Prince George for Vancouver where he has station business to attend to. He will also visit Port Alberni to join Dr. W. A. Clemens, Jr. A. L. Pritchard and other members of the staff of the Nanaimo Biological Station staff in giving lectures to fishermen.

SPY STORY THRILLING

"Lancer Spy," With George Sanders and Dolores Del Rio, Hinges on Intrigue and Espionage

A suspenseful spy story comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here as the feature offering for the first of this week in "Lancer Spy," featuring Dolores Del Rio, George Sanders and Peter Lorre. Outstanding in the supporting cast are Virginia Field, Sig Rumann, Joseph Shildkraut, Maurice Moscovich, Lionel Atwill and Luther Adler in roles typical of their talents.

In a new romantic role, Sanders finds a traitorous woman in the person of Miss Del Rio in love with him. He finds himself depending upon this love of a woman whose business is betrayal. As a daring British secret agent sitting in the German high command in the uniform of a Prussian Lancer, he is in a position to strike a deadlier blow than could a million marching men. If he succeeds, it means heartbreak. If he fails, it is the firing squad for him. The film reaches a thrilling climax in a dramatic conflict.

bags of geese and ducks were taken.

Dr. H. N. Brocklesby of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station scientific staff returned to the city on the Princess Adelaide Friday evening after a three weeks' trip as far south as Los Angeles visiting reduction plants on research work. He was accompanied by C. C. Kuchel, Australian scientific student, who is spending the winter engaged in research work at the local station.
