Dr. Tolmie Succumbs In Victoria

Former Premier And Outstanding Son Of This Province Dies

Death Occurred on Farm on Which He Was Born Seventy Years Ago—Rose from Humble Beginning to Many Posts of Responsibility

VICTORIA, Oct. 14: (CP)—Hon. Dr. Simon Fraser Tolmie, former Premier of British Columbia from 1928 to 1933, minister of agriculture in two federal cabinets and sitting Member of Parliament for Victoria, died at his Cloverdale home just outside of Victoria at 10:15 last night. He had been ill for several months and had been confined to his home for the past several weeks. He was seventy years old.

Passes Away

Hon. Dr. S. F. TOLMIE

Born in Victoria January 25, 1867, in a pioneer family, Dr. Tolmie rose from a $7 a week job as provincial stock inspector to chief inspector of animals for the federal government in British Columbia. In 1917 he was elected to the House of Commons when Sir Robert Borden resigned the government leadership. Three years later Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, successor to Sir Robert Borden as Premier, named Dr. Tolmie as minister of agriculture. He again held the post when Meighen was once more in power in 1920. However, after a few months, the Meighen government was defeated and Dr. Tolmie was once again in Opposition.

Dominion Conservative organizer since 1926 when he was practically drafted to head the provincial Conservative party, Dr. Tolmie in 1928 led the Conservatives to power in the British Columbia general election. His government was defeated in 1933 by the Liberals, under Hon. T. D. Pattullo, who had refused to join his Unionist form of government prior to the general election.

Dr. Tolmie was again elected to the House of Commons in 1935 when he contested the Victoria seat made vacant by the death of the late D. B. Plunkett. He received at that time only ninety-four votes more than his Co-operative Commonwealth Federation opponent and 240 more than the Liberal candidate, it being the closest victory of his career.

Dr. Tolmie was born in Victoria shortly after the union of the Crown Colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia, and four years before the Pacific Provinces entered Confederation. His father, William Fraser Tolmie, M.P., was a noted figure in the public life of the colonial times and was prominent in the affairs of the Hudson's Bay Company when the fur trading corporation controlled the West. His mother was Jane Wark, daughter of another of the historic old chief factors of the Hudson's Bay Company.

The future premier of British Columbia was born on his father's farm, Cloverdale, just outside of the incorporated limits of Victoria. Here he grew up, lived practically all his life and died. He attended the public and high schools of the city. His father was for years on the board of education, and was a member of the last of the colonial legislatures that carried out the affiliation with the Dominion of Canada.

In the hours that were not devoted to study, young Tolmie was employed in farm work, and especially in attending to the fine herds of choice cattle that his father had imported.

Graduating from the Victoria High School, he was sent to the Ontario Veterinary College, Toronto, where he graduated with the degree of veterinary surgeon. Upon his return to British Columbia he commenced the practice of his profession on Page Four

Heavy Bombardment of Japs Around Shanghai Makes Little Impression

Canada's Stand

Will Be Represented at Nine-Power Conference, Mackenzie King Says

OTTAWA, Oct. 14: (CP)—Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King said last night that the Canadian government was anxious to take part in any move to end the Sino-Japanese conflict by conciliation. As a member of the original treaty, Canada would name delegates to the nine-power conference just as soon as the place and date was set. Meantime, the Prime Minister said he did not think it advisable for Canada to take any action individually as proposed by some organizations. The Premier was believed to be referring to proposals for embargoes or boycotts against Japan.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 14:—Despite intensive bombardment by artillery and from the air, with particular attention to Chinese artillery positions, the Japanese are making little headway in their campaign around Shanghai with the Chinese defences holding out stubbornly against the pounding. The worst bombardment in Shanghai's warfare raked the international settlement today, killing or wounding scores of Chinese civilians. Foreign-owned property suffered damage from the Japanese bombs. Houses tenanted by British and Germans, all of whom happened to be away when the air raiders came, were destroyed. The houses were marked by flags of their nationals.

A sailor aboard United States flagship Augusta was injured by shrapnel from Japanese shells spraying the cruiser in the Whang-poo River. In North China today the Japanese claim to be continuing their advance. Invading forces along the Peiping-Hankow railway line are reported to have moved into Honan Province.

It had been planned to send a representative of the government of Alberta to Ottawa until Premier Mackenzie King requested that the submissions be made in writing.

Already the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association and the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association have communicated with the federal government taking exception to the proposed press muzzling bill. There is also reported to have been many other protests made.

NOT CASH BUT GOODS

Gyro Club Does Not Consider it Necessary to Send Money Out of District for Prairie Relief

The Prince Rupert Gyro Club, at its regular monthly business luncheon yesterday, when considering the question of giving assistance to the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association in connection with the sending of relief to prairie drought sufferers, decided to offer the suggestion that, instead of sending actual cash relief, money raised locally for the purpose should be used in purchasing food supplies grown or produced in the district. In this way, the money would be kept at home and the purposes of relief would be as adequately met. Members of the Gyro Club will contribute individually.

The matter of assisting the new local Boy Scout movement in getting established was also discussed by the club and J. H. McClinton was appointed to represent the club at an executive meeting of the Prince Rupert Boy Scout Association this evening. Other matters of club business were also dealt with at the meeting.

PASTOR IS WELCOMED

Happy Gathering in First Baptist Church to Receive Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Brandt—Other Clergy Join in Affair

With pastors of other Protestant churches in the city present to extend greetings and best wishes, members of First Baptist Church and friends gathered last night in the church parlors at a reception to welcome the new pastor, Rev. Edwin E. Brandt, and his wife who recently arrived from Wetaskiwin, Alberta. P. H. Linzey acted as chairman of the happy gathering and the program included a number of speeches appropriate to the occasion as well as some musical numbers. In the course of a social hour, refreshments were served by the ladies.

Rev. Edwin E. Brandt

City Commissioner W. J. Alder brought the greetings of the city and welcomed Mr. Brandt who was following a worthy man in Rev. Dr. F. W. Dáfoe. He hoped that the new pastor would have a long and pleasant stay here. He could be assured of the co-operation of the city wherever possible. The work of the churches, said Mr. Alder, was of great importance in city life. There was little trouble with boys and girls who attended church and Sunday School.

Rev. W. D. Grant Hollingworth of First Presbyterian Church referred to the cordial spirit of neighborliness and co-operation which existed between Presbyterian and Baptist Churches, something which he trusted would continue. Mr. Hollingworth spoke of some of the pleasures and problems which confronted ministers of the Gospel in Prince Rupert. There was no more friendly and hospitable town than this. The people, churchgoers or not, were honest, frank and upright. Between the churches cordial relations always existed. Mr. Brandt would find his own congregation loyal and steadfast.

Rev. J. C. Jackson of First United Church stressed the value of interdenominational co-operation in furthering the common cause of the churches. Very Rev. James B. Gibson, dean of St. Andrew's Cathedral, hoped that the new pastor would be successful and that amicable relations between the churches would continue in the future as they had in the past.

H. M. Daggett extended a welcome to the new pastor on behalf of the Baptist congregation and informed Mr. Brandt that he would be assured of the support and loyalty of the congregation in his work. The church was in the happy position today of being entirely free of debt.

Mr. Linzey, in the course of the proceedings, referred to a message of good wishes which had been received from A. W. Ward, secretary of the Baptist Mission Board of British Columbia.

Welcome Appreciated

Mr. Brandt spoke appreciatively of the welcome which had been extended himself and Mrs. Brandt. Christian workers had a great mission and a great challenge facing them today. He sincerely believed that in the teachings of Jesus Christ lay a solution to social difficulties of the times. By application of justice, righteousness and reasonable equity he believed would be found a solution to some of the greatest problems of national and social life. The business of

JUNIOR CHAMBER ACTIVITIES

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has just concluded an active year. During that time it has dealt with a number of public questions and, judging from the personnel of its officers, it bids fair to carry on with even greater activity than during the year just closed.

There is a splendid field for the junior chamber in this city. The young men have plenty of enthusiasm and they should prove effective in helping to place Prince Rupert on the map as a city of great opportunities.

BALANCED BUDGET

It seems evident that Canada is about to pay her way as a nation. It is now a long time since this has happened. Year after year there have been deficits resembling somewhat the deficits in many private businesses. The country has had to borrow to pay these deficits and the interest on the borrowings has made it increasingly difficult to balance future budgets.

The dispatch published yesterday from Ottawa showing that for the first time in years the country has paid its way for six months with every likelihood that it will continue to do so for the rest of the year is very encouraging news. We must pay our way or eventually we shall find ourselves in difficulties.

BORN WITH GOLD SPOON

But Ogden Mills, Former U. S. Treasury Secretary Did Not Waste His Life

NEW YORK, Oct. 14: (CP)—Although Ogden Livingston Mills, former Secretary of the Treasury, who died Monday, was "born with a gold spoon in his mouth" and had little inducement except the traditions of ancestors to carve out a career, his life was well-rounded.

An able financier, skilled ward politician, a pleasant and graceful socialite, a leading tax expert, a promulgator of social welfare legislation, a successful corporation counsel, a soldier of considerable distinction, a congressman and cabinet officer—these were some of the things Mills succeeded in being for no better reason than that he wanted to be them.

After getting his law degree from Harvard in 1907, Mills soon was in demand as a corporation trial lawyer but, only a year after being admitted to the New York bar, became active in ward politics.

In 1914 he was elected to the state senate and began to reflect a lively interest in social welfare. Also he had a flair for quickly grasping financial problems and his advice soon was sought by fellow legislators on tax questions.

He resigned in 1917 to accept a commission as captain in the United States army. He served with the A.E.F. in France.

Mills was elected to congress and in his first year in the national house, was appointed to the influential committee on ways and means. He served three terms in congress piling up substantial majorities in a New York district that was closely divided. He gave up his seat to run for governor of New York in the 1926 election but was defeated by Al Smith whose huge New York city vote overcame the majorities which Mills won "up-state."

Drafted By Treasury

Shortly before the expiration of his third term in congress in 1927, he was appointed under secretary of the treasury. In February, 1932, when Andrew Mellon retired, Mills was named to succeed him in the Hoover cabinet, serving until the inauguration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt on March 4, 1933.

Mills was an uncompromising foe of the New Deal, seeing it as "an attempt to turn our individualistic society into a collective one." He kept up the fight through both terms of the Roosevelt administration and in 1936 was mentioned as a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Mills came of colonial stock. His father was Ogden Mills, a banker, philanthropist and turfman, and his mother was Ruth T. Livingston

Man in the Moon

Evidently Hon. Ian is on the job so far as the defense scheme is concerned. If he keeps up his activity we shall soon be in a position to defend ourselves.

Living under the shadow of a possible war is so exciting. It's almost like living under the shadow of a possible pulp mill or an elusive post office. But in time the excitement wears off.

When Peter asked one of the late arrivals in heaven how he got there, the laconic answer was "Flu."

First Lawyer: "You're a low down cheat!"

Second Lawyer: "You're an unmitigated liar!"

Judge (trapping): "Now that the attorneys have identified each other we shall proceed with the case."

Teacher: "What is the feminine of bachelor?"

Boy: "The feminine of bachelor is, lady-in-waiting."

They had been married only a month, and he had left for a few minutes while she prepared a salad in the kitchen.

Suddenly a piercing scream rang out and he rushed to the kitchen prepared to face he knew not what.

"Whatever is the matter, darling?" he panted.

"It's a—a caterpillar!" she said, with an effort. "Oh, Herbert, what if I had been in the house alone!"

of an old New York family. Mills was born August 23, 1884, at the family's summer home in Newport, R.I.

In September, 1911, he married Miss Margaret Stuyvesant Rutherford, daughter of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Sr., by the latter's second marriage to Lewis Morris Rutherford. This union ended in a Paris divorce in 1920, the ex-Mrs. Mills later marrying Sir Paul Dukes, English publicist.

Mills was married again in September, 1924, to Mrs. Dorothy Randolph Fell, daughter of Philip S. P. Randolph of Philadelphia. He had no children.

SUFFERED 40 YEARS FROM CONSTIPATION

"For 40 years, I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its evils. Finally, I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since that time (nearly 10 years ago) I have been well and entirely free from constipation."—Mrs. I. H. Kendig (address on request).

Don't let common constipation ruin your life. You can end it safely, without using drugs that soon lose their effectiveness.

Just eat two tablespoonsful of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—with every meal in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or fruits, or cook into appetizing recipes. ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water and gently clears away the wastes that cause headaches, tiredness and serious illness.

The vitamin B in ALL-BRAN helps tone up the entire intestinal tract. Buy ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Guaranteed by Kellogg in London.

BRITISH COLUMBIA LEADERS

No. 14 of a Series

The Hon. E. G. Prior became Premier of British Columbia in November, 1902. He was selected to continue the government formerly headed by the Hon. James Dunsmuir, following the latter's resignation. A few months later, charges brought against the Premier in the House, in connection with the previous awarding of contracts to a firm of which it was alleged the Hon. Mr. Prior was financially interested. Regardless of whether the charges justified it or not, the Premier shortly resigned. He was succeeded by the Hon. Richard McBride. Between July, 1898, and June, 1903, the Province had five different Ministries.

HERE'S THE SECRET OF SERVING GOOD COFFEE

• Carnation in coffee adds flavour and a rich colour. On cereals or fruit, Carnation takes the place of cream deliciously and economically. In all cooking where milk is used, Carnation adds richness, because Carnation itself is twice as rich as ordinary milk; smoothness, because every drop of Carnation has its share of butterfat.

All the food value of the best cows' milk is in Carnation, making it a splendid food for babies. In addition, it is more digestible and has extra "sunshine" vitamin D. Carnation is the evaporated milk the Dionne Quintuplets use.

LEGION IS IN SESSION

Jack Preece Re-elected President at Semi-Annual General Meeting

The half-yearly meeting of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League took place last evening with President J. Preece in the chair.

A review of the year's activities showed a very successful record. Membership was still increasing, there being well over two hundred members in the branch. Regular relief work had been carried on and many needy families helped. A pleasing feature was the fact that some members who had left their membership lapse were re-joining.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Honorary President — Col. C. Peck, V.C., D.S.O.

Honorary Vice-President—Major J. McGregor, V.C., D.S.O., Lt. Col. S. P. McMordie, D.S.O. and Lt. Col. S. D. Johnston, M.C., V.D.

President—Jack Preece.
First Vice-President—W. J. Rance.
Second Vice-President — H. A. Brown.

Executive—W. M. Brown, G. J. Dawes, H. Thrupp, C. L. Barker, J. A. Teng, H. Smith, C. D. Youngman and J. Walker.

Trustees — J. S. Wilson, Geo. Cripps and S. A. Bird.

Plans are under way for the annual observance of Armistice and Remembrance Day. The sale of poppies will also be proceeded with as in former years. The increasing response from the public is a very gratifying feature of this annual appeal.

A circular letter from the Dominion Command stated that, in response to the representations of the Canadian Legion, the British Empire Service League was sending out from England this month its organizing and assistant secretary to look into the state of the Imperial veterans in Canada.

The winter social activities are under way. A team has been entered in the City Bridge League and a club billiards handicap is being drawn up.

profession at Victoria, and shortly after was appointed inspector of animals landed at the British Columbia capital.

He won the respect of the provincial authorities and was soon offered and accepted the position of inspector of animals for the British Columbia government. Later the dominion department of agriculture sought his services but the provincial government was reluctant to lose him. An arrangement was effected by which he worked for both, enjoying the unique distinction of being retained by a Conservative government in the province and a Liberal administration in Ottawa.

Finally, owing to the pressure of work, he severed his connection with the provincial department and became the chief inspector of the animals branch of the dominion department of agriculture.

He had not thought of entering politics and did not seek public office, but public office sought him. When on a trip eastward in 1917, supporters of the Union Government headed by Sir Robert Borden followed him from Victoria to Vancouver and prevailed upon him to accept, as a duty, the government nomination for the dominion house of commons. He was elected by a large majority in the "conscription" election of that year, and in subsequent elections in 1921, 1925 and 1926, was re-elected as Conservative member for Victoria.

When Right Hon. Arthur Meighen succeeded Sir Robert Borden on the resignation of the war-time prime minister in 1920, Mr. Meighen recognized in the sturdy westerner the agricultural ability that would fit him for the duties of minister of agriculture in his government. During his incumbency of the office, Dr. Tolmie won the respect and admiration of all parties. He went to the opposition benches in 1921 when the Meighen administration resigned following the defeat of the Conservative party in the 1921 general election, but two years later he became national organizer of the party and worked energetically in the interests of the party.

Late in 1926 the British Columbia Conservatives drafted him from the dominion field to become party leader in his native province. The party was torn with internal strife and factional differences at the time, and his organizing ability in the dominion political arena and his friendly personality were sought in an effort to restore harmony. He refused several times before finally accepting the provincial leadership but once he took the reins evidences of discord disappeared and he was successful at the first general election under his leadership. In July, 1928, the Conservatives of British Columbia won 25 of the 48 seats in the legislature and Dr. Tolmie formed a government to succeed that of Hon. J. D. MacLean, the Liberal leader.

Prior to his entry into politics in 1917, Dr. Tolmie was prominently connected with the livestock breeding industry, and held the presidency of many organizations connected with his vocation of pure-bred livestock breeder. He was an ex-president of the Dominion Holstein Breeders, British Columbia; Veterinary Association British Columbia; Western Canada Live Stock Union, and the National Live Stock Council.

Dr. Tolmie married in 1894 Miss Annie Harrop, of Victoria. She died a few years ago. They had two sons and two daughters.

Motorship Beloit arrived in port at 6 o'clock last evening from Ketchikan and discharged one carload of fresh fish for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways. The train for the East was held a couple of hours awaiting the shipment, getting away at 8 p.m.
