Halibut Men Protest

The Vancouver halibut fishermen have been protesting to the provincial government that they took high handed action in appointing S. D. Macdonald as chairman of the Halibut Marketing Board at Prince Rupert. They do not seem to like a marketing board at all, judging by their public actions and are generally critical of the government for appointing it.

Owing to the opposition in Vancouver the department under which this matter comes at Victoria had planned to drop it, with no marketing board appointed. Then the matter was taken up by L. W. Patmore, on behalf of the fishermen with the member for the district, Premier Pattullo, and the result was that the board was immediately appointed. This is what the Vancouver fishermen object to. Also they claim in Vancouver that their interests are tied up with Seattle and they asked the government to take no action until after the vote is taken on it on June 15.

In the meantime the board is functioning here and the local fishermen are benefitting thereby. Mr. Pattullo is to be congratulated on his stand in insisting that the views of the local fishermen be implemented in action. Had he waited until after June 15 before taking action, there would have been no benefit locally from a marketing board this year.

A Junior Chamber Activity

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is deserving of the thanks of the community for its activity in connection with the University Extension courses that have now been concluded. While disappointment has been expressed at the lecturing ability of some of the men who have been sent here, the series as a whole was a decided success. What many people cannot understand is, why a person after preparing a lecture on which he is presumably very familiar, should have to read it from a manuscript. They can understand a person taking notes but anyone can read a lecture. It seems even worse than reading a sermon to read from a manuscript at a public lecture.

The value of the University of British Columbia to the province is largely gauged by the calibre of the men they send out in these lecture courses and we know of one person who remarked after hearing one of the lectures: "Well, if that is the type of men they have at the university, none of my children will go there."

In this connection we would point out that most good teachers cannot lecture. Possibly some of the men who have visited Prince Rupert have been excellent teachers but not lecturers. We suggest discretion on the part of the committee in choosing lecturers when lectures are asked for.

Prince Rupert people are a discriminating people and in spite of some of the opinions held in the south, the city is not a hick town at which anything will go.

HOSPITAL REPORTS

Last night's regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital was given over largely to receiving of reports from various standing and special committees.

Frank Dibb, chairman of the special committee for the campaign to raise funds locally for the building of a new hospital, reported that no further move had yet been made to call together representatives of the various organizations whose support is being sought. There had been a good many activities of late and at present there were a number of other appeals before the public. However, a meeting of the committee would in all probability be held at an early date.

A delegation from the board consisting of President G. P. Tinker, Dr. J. H. Carson, S. D. MacDonald and W. M. Brown had met Premier T. D. Pattullo during his recent visit here in regard to the new hospital project. While Mr. Pattullo had been friendly and sympathetic, it was evident that no further financial assistance than that already pledged was to be expected from the government.

President G. P. Tinker reported that certain women's organizations which it was felt might be interested and willing to take a leading part had been got in touch with in regard to the forming of a Hospital Women's Auxiliary. In about a couple of weeks a general meeting of women would probably be called.

The report of the finance committee, presented by W. M. Brown, showed 1603 hospital days for the month of March at a per diem cost of $2.45. Disbursements for the month had totalled $3,919.46. As usual, no statement of receipts was given.

The house committee, Frank Dibb, chairman, reported that the matter of new chinaware and teapots had been gone into. Prices were being obtained. Efforts were still being made to purchase a new laundry stove.

For the membership committee, F. A. MacCallum reported that a large number of the new members who had been enrolled recently had not called at the office of the president to pick up their membership certificates.

Institution Busy
Miss Jean Harrison R.N., lady superintendent, reported that the hospital had been very busy since the last meeting but it was now beginning to slacken off. Miss Harrison also reported the gift of four sets of chinaware from F. A. MacCallum. The board expressed appreciation to Mr. MacCallum for the gift.

The report of Fire Chief J. R. Morrison for the month of March stated that the usual inspections had been made at the Nurses' Home and hospital. Fire equipment had been found to be in good order and there was freedom from undue fire hazards. The advisability of members of the nursing staff having regular demonstrations in the use of fire extinguishers was suggested to Miss Harrison, the lady superintendent. It was also suggested that hospital fire hose should be tested regularly in order to ensure that it was at all times in good order.

ENGINEERS HEAR TALK

Dr. Finlayson Gives Reminiscence Address to Members of His Own Profession and Friends

The northern branch of the Society of Professional Engineers, Dr. J. T. Mandy presiding, yesterday afternoon entertained Dean J. N. Finlayson of the faculty of applied science at the University of British Columbia at luncheon in the Boston Cafe. There was a full attendance of members and a number of visitors including wives and friends of the members.

The guest of the day entertained the gathering with a very interesting reminiscence discourse on happenings in his life. He stated that he was more interested in human life than in abstract subjects. The human equation was what counted in assessing the value of friends. He told of his people coming to Canada with Scottish crofters who had been turned away from their homes in Scotland so that a deer park might be established. They came to Nova Scotia, attracted by the promise of free land. They were keen on religion and education and were nearly all Presbyterians.

There was another settlement at Antigonish which was made up of Roman Catholics from the highlands. These groups learned to respect each other's faiths in the new land. Politics played a considerable part in the life of the people and it was said that, before a call was extended to a new minister, the Presbyterians always found out what was the new man's politics.

The Dean told of being educated at Pictou Academy and then McGill University. After carrying on engineering work in the United States for some years he was sent to Canada by his firm to have charge of construction of a number of bridges on the Canadian Northern Railway. He followed Hon. C. D. Howe at Dalhousie University, giving a portion of his time to consulting work dealing particularly with investigations into defects in concrete work. He was in Halifax at the time of the great explosion when two thousand tons of TNT was exploded on a French ship. The investigation which followed showed that the explosion was due to stupidity of officials.

In closing the Dean expressed the wish that Mrs. Finlayson had been with him on the trip and promised to return on the first possible opportunity.

Suggestions from F. W. Mr. Chandler's idea is to have wide glass exit doors with commodious platforms and wide switch-back ramps, eliminating stairs and ladders. Appreciation of the suggestion was expressed by the board but it was felt that nothing should be done in the meantime until some final decision had been made in regard to hospital extension plans. The fire marshal's department was fully cognizant of the present situation in this regard.

Halibut Landings Very Light This Week —Not Many Spring Salmon Being Caught So Far

Due to the bunching of the Canadian boats during the first couple of weeks of the season and the fact that most of the larger American vessels were running through to Seattle, halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert during the week ending yesterday, as anticipated, were light at a total of but 136,400 pounds of which 107,400 pounds was from seven American boats and 29,000 pounds from three Canadian vessels. This brought the landings for the season to date up to 1,315,500 pounds of which 631,200 was from American boats and 684,300 pounds from Canadian. Last year at a corresponding date halibut landings at Prince Rupert had reached a total of 975,400 pounds consisting of 408,600 pounds from American vessels and 566,800 pounds from Canadian. Prices showed some improvement during the week, undoubtedly due to the small supply of fish. The top bid of the week for American fish was 3.9c and 6c which the Yukon received for 21,000 pounds and the low 8c and 6c paid the Wabash for 2400 pounds, the latter vessel having sold direct to the Booth Fisheries yesterday, when she was the only boat in. The three Canadian boats in during the week were: Annabelle, 6,500, 8c and 5c; Clipper II, 11,000, 7.8c and 5c; Gony, 11,500, 7.2c and 5c.

Spring salmon catches in Prince Rupert waters are still scattered with the fish somewhat far and few between. Such fish as are being landed, however, command a good price on the local fresh fish market.

Capt. P. B. Westerlund, master of the Alaska Steamship Co.'s steamer Alaska and veteran navigator of Alaska waters, is dead in Seattle at the age of fifty-six. He is survived by a widow and daughter. He was well known to halibut fishermen.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arrived in port at 3:15 this morning from the south and sailed at 6:30 a.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide brought in some thirty-five passengers from Vancouver yesterday afternoon, twenty or more being loggers bound for the Moresby Island camps who left on the Prince John last night for the Queen Charlottes.

PROVINCES HAVE BEST

went too far in favor of the provinces in their reasons for judgment.

U. S. Situation Different

Three courses are open to Canada—to trust to a swing of the privy council in the opposite direction in subsequent decisions, to amend the British North America Act or to make the Supreme Court of Canada the final court of appeal.

There is little parallel between the situation in Canada and that in the United States where President Roosevelt is urging legislation to "reform" the supreme court. Neither the privy council nor the supreme court can pass on whether a law is a just one. Parliament and the provincial legislatures are supreme as long as they keep within their jurisdictions. Therefore breaks in Canada between governing bodies and courts can never assume such proportions as in the United States where the supreme court can decide on the propriety of a statute.

As long as a parliament or a legislature keeps within the jurisdiction given it by the British North America Act no court can question whether a law is good or bad. A jurist once said: "An act of parliament can do no wrong though it may do several things that look pretty odd."

There is an exception to this in Canada in that B. N. A. Act guaranteed certain minority rights regarding schools and religious liberties. Any statute which might be considered as clashing with the guarantee of these minority rights would be subject for adjudication by the courts.

CIRCUS IS SUCCESSFUL

Fine Entertainment at First United Church Last Night

There were well over 250 people at the circus entertainment in First United Church. It was one great program under the direction of Ken Harding, Wilfred Hicks and Maxine Heilbronner, made up of numerous acts which the members of the Canadian Girls in Training, Trail Rangers and Explorers Groups took part in.

Buddy Clarke proved to be a very competent ringmaster as he introduced the numbers and kept things rolling merrily along. Vernon Ciccone, Donald Casperson and Donald Wanamaker played the pair of clowns who were the life of the whole affair. Betty Barber was Madame Belladonna, the animal trainer. The part of Conchita, the snake charmer, was portrayed admirably by Betty Davey. The Lorenzo troupe of bareback riders was played by members of the C. G. I. T. Group. Madame Influenza and Madame Diptheria, tap dancers, were Eleanor Clapp and Doris Hodgkinson. Pick and Pat, the diminutive tight rope walkers, were Bea Rudderham and Eddie Ciccone.

There were side-shows, after the big show was over and other booths.

The highlight of the whole affair was the Dixie Minstrel show. These boys, members of the Trail Rangers group, put on a wonderful show to top the evening's entertainment. Dick Clarke, accompanied by the chorus, sang a solo that was well appreciated.

Those who assisted to make the show a success included Misses Ruby Krikevsky, Edith Wilkinson, Edith Conner, Maxine Heilbronner and Venetia Feero. The latter handled the accompaniment for the whole show. Also assisting were John Murray, Vic Dell, Bob Irvine, Rev. C. D. Clarke and Robert Manson, electrician.

The leaders of the groups were Wilf Hicks, Ken Harding and Maxine Heilbronner.
