DEFENDERS ARE BRAVE

Basque Army, Little More Than Remnant, Endeavors to Stay Advance of Insurgents

Four Power Break

Germany Claims Ships Are Still Being Attacked—Russia Critical of Committee

CASTRO URDIALES, Spain, June 22: (CP)—Exposed to ceaseless shelling from sea and bombing from the air, tattered remnants of the Basque army have entrenched themselves in the Galdames Mountains for a fight to save Santander from the fate of Bilbao, their last capital, from which they were driven by the insurgents on Saturday. Santander is forty-five miles west of Bilbao. Meantime the insurgents are launching a drive on Santander from near which place the Bilbao water supply comes.

As thousands of insurgent soldiers paraded the streets of Bilbao, the loyalists sought revenge by a counter-bombing of the city from the air. Insurgent planes engaged them in combat and it was estimated that half a dozen machines were brought down in flames.

Last night several insurgent soldiers were killed when loyalist sappers, digging under Bilbao, exploded a huge mine.

With 300,000 civilians said to be virtually starving, martial law has been declared in Bilbao.

German Ships Attacked

BERLIN, June 22: (CP)—Germany has postponed the impending visit to London of Baron Konstantin von Neurath, Foreign Minister, because it was announced the "situation created by repeated Spanish attacks on German warships" required his presence in Berlin. A Havas News Agency dispatch declared last night that Germany intended to avenge the alleged attack by a Spanish government submarine on the cruiser Leipzig off the coast of Algeria a week ago with even more drastic military action than when the cruiser Deutschland was recently attacked.

The Spanish loyalists have denied attacking the Leipzig.

Russia's Warning

LONDON, June 22:—The Soviet government warned the international non-intervention committee on Spain that the four-power discussions in London "have created a precedent which if repeated could jeopardize the very existence of the committee."

Great Britain today turned down the German sought plan for a four-power warning of naval might to the Spanish government and countered with an urgent proposal that Europe begin the immediate recall of foreign fighters from Spain. A break in four-power negotiations followed the rejecting by Britain of the German demand for the display of naval strength in retaliation against the alleged attempt of the Spanish government to torpedo the cruiser Leipzig.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons that Great Britain had no intention of joining Germany, Italy and France in a mass warship demonstration off the Spanish government capital of Valencia.

Ambassador's Views

WASHINGTON, June 22:—Spanish Embassy Charge d'Affaires Enrique Carlos de la Casa said the invasion of Basque provinces disproved claims of Spanish nationalist supporters that they are combating communism. He claimed that the entire Basque territory contains "neither communism or other so-called radical elements." "It is deeply religious, Catholic, capitalist, democratic and a de-

CHAUTEMPS IS CALLED

Making Effort to Form Another Radical Socialist Government in France—Internal Situation Critical

PARIS, June 22: (CP)—Former Premier Camille Chautemps was last night continuing his efforts to form a new cabinet to lead France out of her governmental crisis. The Radical Socialist leader, it is expected, will endeavor to use the same elements as Premier Leon Blum had in his government which resigned at 2:30 yesterday morning after one year and fifteen days in office following refusal of the Senate to approve a bill which would have given it powers to rule by decree in the effort to hold up the value of the franc and deal with the financial crisis. Until a new government is formed Blum is carrying on at the request of President Albert Lebrun.

Meantime the internal situation in France is regarded as quite serious and elaborate precautions are being taken to guard against possible outbreaks of violence. Troops deployed in front of the Senate Chamber yesterday to prevent any demonstration against that body following its overthrow of Blum.

FIGHT EYES ON CHICAGO

Joe Louis Gets His Big Chance Tonight and Opinion is He Will Lift the Crown

CHICAGO, June 22: (CP)—Joe Louis, sleepy-eyed son of an Alabama cotton picker, gets his greatest opportunity tonight when he battles against James Braddock, untested world heavyweight boxing champion, for the title.

Estimates place the crowd which will watch the fight at from 60,000 to 75,000 and the gate receipts at $750,000 to $800,000. Seats are selling at $6 to $27.

Louis weighed in this afternoon at 197 1/2 and Braddock at 197. Louis is the favorite at upwards of three to one.

It is the first time a negro has had the opportunity of winning the world's heavyweight title since Jack Johnson battered the once great James Jeffries into helplessness at Reno in 1910. Many experts, in spite of conflicting reports, are inclined to believe that history will repeat itself tonight.

The fight will be broadcast over a National Broadcasting Corporation national hook-up about 6:30 p.m. and will also be carried by the Canadian Broadcasting Commission.

STRIVE FOR SETTLEMENT

Some Steel Plant Operators Insist On Re-opening While Others Are More Tractable

Roosevelt Steps In

Martial Law is Declared in Pennsylvania and Ohio

CLEVELAND, June 22: (CP)—Frank Purnell, president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., announced yesterday that he would attempt to re-open three strike-bound sheet and tube plants in the embroiled Youngstown area today. At the same time the Republic Steel Co. announced it would attempt to re-open one of its mills—the same mill at which two were killed and 26 injured Saturday night in a battle between strikers and city police, bringing the total of dead as a result of strike disorders to date to 27. Last night President Franklin D. Roosevelt urged both Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Republic Steel not to endeavor to re-open today and, as a result of the government intervention, officials of the two companies announced postponement of the action with a view to re-opening. Both companies, however, issued sharp statement of dissent against the request from state and federal leaders that they delay opening the plants. C. R. Elliott, president of Republic, had twice previously refused to meet the governor's request not to re-open. Meantime strike leaders entered conference with federal mediators here in an effort to find a peaceful solution of the Great Lakes steel strike. The object of the federal mediation board was to bring representatives of the unions and the companies together at a round table conference with a view to eliminating further disorders and reaching a peaceful settlement. Gov. George Earle declared martial law for Johnstown, Pa., ordering a force of state police to the city instructed to maintain order, disarm vigilantes and close down operations of the struck Bethlehem Steel Cambria plant. Action was taken after Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel, declined to close the plant at Earle's request, later, however, agreeing to turn the plant over to federal forces which promptly closed it. The State of Ohio sent five thousand soldiers today into the strike-sweeping Mahoning Valley on orders of Governor Martin Davey and with approval of President Roosevelt.

Proof that the Russian people are capable of great things besides governing is shown in the flight completed Sunday from Moscow by way of the North Pole to Vancouver, Wash., without a stop. They had set out for San Francisco but were forced down before they quite completed their flight. As it was, the flight was a magnificent example of skill, mechanical ability and endurance. The Russian people will be particularly proud of their fliers and Canadians will be pleased to think that their neighbors, the Russians, have shown themselves capable of such an achievement. Anything is possible to a people that can successfully carry out such a flight.

CARRIED OUT PROMISE

When the promise was made by Premier Pattullo that an ore sampling plant would be erected in Prince Rupert, some people suggested it was just an election promise, made to be broken. The elections are only three weeks away, in fact they have not yet been completed, but work is starting today on the ore crushing and sampling plant. Comment is unnecessary.

PREFERS THE JUNGLE

A lady, whose husband died in the jungles of East Africa and who came to see her relatives in the United States, is returning home to the jungle because she is frightened by the tragedy of the modern civilized world. The newspapers yesterday told of the strike troubles in Pennsylvania where two men were killed and many injured, of the troubles in Paris, of the loyalist defeat in Spain, of three men being killed in Toronto in an airplane crash, of religious difficulties in Germany. In the United States they have their regular chapter of accidents from highway transportation, from race and economic strife. It is scarcely to be wondered at that a lady from the quiet of the African jungle should be fearful of living in a civilization where life is held so cheap and every day brings its new thrilling excitement. The jungle is kind compared with civilization as she sees it.

BARRIE IS GONE

Sir James Barrie, one of the great writers of a prolific age, is gone. His sketches of Scottish life are well known but of late years he was best known from his plays, many of which are dramatized versions of his earlier books. Possibly the best known are "Peter Pan," "Quality Street" and "The Little Minister." He understood and portrayed childhood, especially childhood in Scotland, as no other writer ever will.

PLAY IS CRUCIAL

Interesting Situations in Major Baseball Leagues, Particularly National

NEW YORK, June 22: (CP)—Yesterday was an open date in the Major Baseball Leagues with no games scheduled or played. New series are being opened today and, with standings close in each circuit, the season's activities are being followed with possibly more than usual interest. National League teams are now playing in the west and American League teams in the east.

The New York Yankees, who have a one and a half game lead over the Detroit Tigers in the American League, open today at the Yankee Stadium against the St. Louis Browns who, as a result of week-end play, are now tied for seventh position with the Philadelphia Athletics who dropped week-end games to the Tigers. The Detroiters, putting up a great fight despite the absence of Manager Mickey Cochrane and other casualties, start today at Boston against the Red Sox who entered the first division at the end of the week, the Cleveland Indians dropping into fifth place.

In the National League at Chicago a crucial series starts today between the Cubs and New York Giants who are separated by one full game for the league supremacy, the Cubs being ahead through having lost two less games while the clubs are even as far as wins are concerned. Mathematically, however, the St. Louis Cardinals, who won three week-end games from the Boston Bees, are in second place. The Cards are now at home to the Brooklyn Dodgers and are looking forward to this series to take them into the lead. The Boston Bees are now tied for sixth place with the Cincinnati Reds with the Phillies in the cellar.

Blinding Headaches Made Her Helpless

Forced to Lie Down For Hours At A Time

Other sufferers from headaches will be interested to read this letter:

"Until last summer I was subject to very bad headaches. While they lasted I seemed to lose my sight and all power in my hands, and was forced to lie down for hours at a time. My aunt (who has taken Kruschen Salts for 12 years with beneficial results) suggested my trying them. I did so, and I've not had any return of those headaches for months, in fact I feel quite better. I shall always take Kruschen regularly in future."—(Mrs.) M.W. Headaches can frequently be traced to a disordered stomach, and to the unsuspected retention in the system of stagnating waste material which poisons the blood. The numerous salts in Kruschen assist in the complete elimination of waste matter, resulting in a purer blood-stream, and thus helping to bring relief from headaches.

MAKE LIFE WORTHWHILE

Lady Floud Speaker at Women's Canadian Club Luncheon

"There is in each of us the desire to make something worthwhile of our lives; to get the best out of life," said Lady Floud, wife of Sir Francis Floud, C.B., K.C.B., British High Commissioner to Canada, in addressing the Women's Canadian Club at a tea on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. Mills, Margaret Place on the very interesting topic of "Art and the Art of Living." "But some of us, as life goes on, wonder what we have missed and, in order to escape the discontent that possesses us, dash from one thing to another trying to find that elusive something that always escapes us. Some, conscious of this urge for the better things of life, first set out to make themselves financially comfortable only to find themselves at last old and rich and lonely with no real interest in life."

To illustrate Lady Floud spoke of one such who complained that he had five grand houses and no home. It was essential to know early in life what was worthwhile and what would bring true happiness.

Lady Floud said she thought the truest saying in the Bible was, "Knock and it shall be opened unto you. Seek and ye shall find." She spoke of the experience of the artist, Frederick Varley with a class of tired business men who came to him during the depression, seeking release from their worries—men who had never attempted to draw in their lives—and of the astonishing results therefrom.

Lady Floud urged women whose children needed them no more and who were beginning to wonder what they were here for, to look for their latent abilities and hidden talents and so escape the doctor or the bridge table.

Lady Floud would like children to have more opportunity to study art. Not that it was desirable that everyone should become an artist but that more should have the advantage of the education that the study of art gave. It developed the imagination, trained the eye to see beauty where ugliness existed before; taught one to be humble and to make quick decisions, and developed the power of self-expression. All these developed character. The development of character made for better work, and better work made for greater development of character and a fuller and richer life was the result.

Expressing the wish to see a flourishing art club when next she visited Prince Rupert, Lady Floud closed her address with the following quotation from Dame Laura Knight's "Oil Paint and Grease Paint": "It is the artist's unconscious mission to make of the world a richer place, that others through his gifts may share his vision. The world is full of undiscovered beauty—no petty scene but can be glorified in the eyes of him who can see it truly. Above all I wish that my eyes may be opened and that I may learn to see."

The hostess was assisted in receiving the guests by the president, Mrs. F. N. Good, who introduced the guest speaker.

The lacé covered tea table was centred with a lovely bowl of violas, poppies and Pride of London. Mrs. D. McD. Hunter and Mrs. J. D. Fraser poured. Serving the guests were Miss Lillian Halliwell, Mrs. F. A. MacCallum, Mrs. Lionel Holtby, Mrs. W. D. Vance, Mrs. C. H. Elkins and Mrs. A. E. Parlow.

Wallie's Name Removed From Social Register

NEW YORK, June 22—The name of Mrs. Wallis Warfield, who had her own listing in the social register for years, appeared this way today in the summer edition: "Windsor, H.R.H. Duke of... married at Monts, France, June 3rd." "Warfield, Mrs. Wallis (Spencer-Simpson-Wallis-Warfield)." Many observers missed the name on first glance because they assumed it would have its own space.

WAS NOTED AS JURIST

Humphrey Mellish Was Legendary and Likeable Judiciary Figure

HALIFAX, June 22: (CP) -- Known first as a brilliant lawyer, and later as a judge whose legal vision was seasoned with sparkling humor and a generous measure of humanity, Humphrey Mellish, who died here at the weekend, during his lifetime became almost a legendary figure in circles having any connection with jurisprudence in Nova Scotia.

He was called to the Supreme Court bench of the province in 1918, after nearly 30 years of general practice with various partnership combinations, all of them, after 1903, in the firm of which Hector McInnes, K.C., who also died Saturday, became the head. His duty it was to look after the bulk of the work as counsel in the various courts, while Mr. McInnes took care of legal affairs of corporations and other large business concerns. Despite his activity, Mellish half humorously described himself as a member of the firm "McInnes and McInnes and McInnes."

These years of arduous practice proved of great value in equipping him for the duties he was later to take up on the bench, but neither work nor the shimmering vigor of early rugby football, when he starred with Dalhousie, could dull the edge of his humor.

Apart from his own determination and ability, Mellish had little in the way of material resources when he set out to learn the law. He was a Prince Edward Islander with the will to learn. After achieving his arts degree, he taught as head master of Pictou Academy, centre of schooling in a county which boasts more college presidents and leaders in the church and business world.

than any other in Nova Scotia. On many occasions his ready wit lightened the tense atmosphere of the courtroom. At one time he was presiding over the trial of a woman charged with murder. Just as a hushed silence grew after a particularly ominous piece of evidence, a spectator blew his nose stentoriously. "Any more applause of that nature," said the learned judge "will not be tolerated by this court."

Judge Mellish was born in Queen County, P. E. I., May 13 1862. Mellish entered the firm of Drysdale and McInnes in 1903 and was created K.C. in the following year. Though pressed with work on all sides, he never failed to fulfill the demands made upon him. He was president of the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society for a year, and served for some years as president of the Overseas Club. Relaxation he found in the peace of a country home on the St. Margaret's Bay Road, some miles from Halifax, where a stream ran through his property, and where he went 1898, Mabel White.
