John I. McFarland to Enter Politics in Alberta as anti-Aberhart Leader—Ottawa Opposes Act

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10:—John I. McFarland, noted grain expert, left here yesterday for Alberta. Before leaving, Mr. McFarland admitted that he had been approached with a proposal to accept the leadership of all parties in Alberta opposed to the present provincial administration in that province. He was considering the matter, he said, but would make no definite statement. In some quarters, it is believed he will accept the offer.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10:—That the federal government will not permit the Aberhart government's bank control measure in Alberta to stand is generally admitted. The question is as to what procedure will be taken to upset it.

ITALIANS MOVE IN

Regular Army Troops Reinforcing Spanish Insurgents—Loyalist Ministers to Barcelona

LONDON, Aug. 10:—Large contingents of Italian regular army troops have been pouring into Toledo south of Madrid during the last 48 hours, the Spanish loyalist press agency said in a Madrid dispatch. Activities in the fair yesterday were believed to be a forerunner of a final great insurgent assault against Santander. Several cabinet ministers of the Loyalist federal government soon will establish their headquarters in Barcelona, to improve co-operation between the Central government and the autonomous province, it was reported Monday.

Great Britain blames the insurgents for recent air attacks on British, French, Italian and Greek ships. Italy, on the other hand, blames the loyalists. There may have been an element of irresponsibility in the attacks, it is believed in some quarters.

Chamber of Commerce Thinks Local Dry Dock Should Have Had Chance to Tender

Germany Rushes Work On Newest Dirigible

Their faith in lighter-than-air craft unshaken by the tragic loss of the Hindenburg, Germany's dirigible experts are rushing to completion work on the Zeppelin LZ-130 which was to have been a sister ship to the ill-fated Hindenburg but now will be its successor. This view of the new craft in the hangar at Friedrichshafen reveals that a great deal of the acres of fabric has already been stretched over the steel framework. The new dirigible will be 817 feet long and 130 feet wide.

Defenders of Great Wall Hold Advance of Invaders Into Chahar Province

SHANGHAI, Aug. 10: (Canadian Press)—Chinese peace preservation corps barricaded roads leading to Chinese areas around Shanghai last night after a clash in which one Chinese and one Japanese soldier were killed. The clash came as Japanese refugees evacuating the Yangtze Valley and other central Chinese areas poured into Shanghai. Chinese said that the clash occurred when a Japanese marine motor attempted to enter the Chinese Rungpaie airdrome. Chinese sentries opened fire when the truck refused to halt.

Even with the new clash, responsible circles apparently believed that the time had come for peace negotiations with China on Japanese Army's terms.

Japanese Wiped Out
Chinese sources reported today that a Japanese Army detachment had been wiped out by Chinese defenders of a Great Wall pass at Nankow, thirty miles northeast of Peiping.

Unconfirmed Chinese reports indicated that a major engagement was being fought near Nankow with reinforced Chinese divisions effectively defending positions below the wall from the Japanese advance into Chahar Province.

Mr. Dickson said he did not believe further inquiry would be necessary.

Halibut Boat Owners And Fishermen Ask Assistance Of Chamber of Commerce

Better Deal For Local Fleet Under International Fisheries Commission Regulations Being Sought

Yesterday afternoon a committee of three men from the Canadian Halibut Vessel Owners' Association and two from the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union waited upon the council of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and asked support for their efforts in securing a better deal for the fishermen under the international treaty recently amended. The delegation comprised Captain Dave Ritchie and Captain Dan Larsen from the boat owners and George Anderson, W. H. Brett and Karl Dybhavn for the fishermen.

Captain Ritchie explained that, owing to the short season, it had now become impossible for men to make a living in the four months allowed by the Commission. Unfortunately it was impossible here to raise money to build larger boats. He had gone to the bank and had been offered a loan of $1000 against $2000 of good bonds. On real estate only $1000 had been offered. Under the present banking system it was impossible to finance a boat suitable to go to the western fishing grounds in Area 3. The Captain said that this year they had figured the average earnings of each boat was only $769 and out of this the fishermen had to buy oilskins, gloves and such things. It was impossible to keep a family on that amount and it was getting worse every year. Something would have to be done to relieve the situation of the fishermen would have to move away.

George Anderson, secretary of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union, said the regulations imposed were for the purpose of preventing depletion of the fish. They were agreed that some regulations were necessary. Now the stocks of fish were recovering and it was felt that some change was desirable. The commission listened to representations when they recommended changes but took no action. The board seemed to be guided wholly by what the scientists said. Last fall the fishermen recommended the protection of certain nurseries but proposal was ignored. What they objected to was that the small boats were prevented from fishing while the larger boats were able to continue until October. Mr. Anderson said he understood the regulations under the new treaty were to be more drastic than ever this year. A boat fishing in Area 3, if delayed by storm from fishing, could not stop on the way back to the home port and fill up with black cod as in that case their catch would be confiscated. This he considered an injustice. They had protested to Ottawa but had received no reply. He asked the Chamber to back them in requesting the deferring of the new regulations until next year.

Make One Area
George Nickerson, speaking as a member of the Chamber of Commerce, said he considered the arguments of the fishermen well taken. The members of the commission he thought might be good businessmen. There was no doubt that the banks would now stand more fishing. He saw no reason for the separate areas. The solution of the difficulty was to make only one protected area. The market might not stand more than 46,000,000 fish in one season but the fishermen were not asking for more. All they asked was for equal treatment. He felt it would be impossible to secure any change in the regulations going into effect this year.

Mackenzie King Could Have Prevented King Edward's Abdication Rector Says

DETROIT, Aug. 10:—Rev. A. A. Jardine, the clergyman who performed the marriage of the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield, speaking here, declared that, had Premier W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada demanded that Mrs. Warfield be allowed the title of Queen of England, the British government would have acquiesced and there would have been no abdication by King Edward VIII. Jardine, because he called the Archbishop of Canterbury a "cad," had been denied permission to speak in Toronto.

But when called upon to show cause why the decree should not be made absolute, Stephenson offered the above explanation.

Germany Retaliates For Removal By Britain of Three Newspapers from London

LONDON, Aug. 10: (CP)—Norman Ebutt, London Times correspondent in Berlin, has been asked to leave Germany in retaliation for the expulsion by the British Home Office of three Nazi newspapermen. He will be replaced by another correspondent already in Berlin.

The Nazi expulsion of the London Times correspondent was declared today to be "only the beginning" of sweeping action against foreign newspapermen for allegedly meddling in internal affairs of Germany. An officially inspired Boersen Zeitung made this statement.

Germany protested formally to Great Britain yesterday against the unexplained expulsion of the three Nazi correspondents from England. The protest was couched in restrained terms.

FALLING OFF IN ACTIVITY

Evidently there is a falling off in labor disturbances in the United States. The people of that country are becoming tired of the constant disturbances and are not as sympathetic as they were, especially when the disturbances are caused by the disputes between rival labor organizations. Reports indicate that the industries of the continent are settling down to a period of industrial peace.

QUESTION OF BATHING SUITS

Having nothing else very important to discuss these days, some of the southern newspapers are again dilating on the nakedness of those who bathe or who sit on the beaches while others bathe. Some people evidently still object to the scant covering of the human form while many defend it.

It seems rather futile to discuss this question. Nobody seems to be hurt by the fact that the bathers are scantily arrayed. Those who do not wish to see them usually stay at home but we are becoming so used to the slim coverings that it is now a matter of course to most of us. We do not see why the matter should again become important in the south.

CHINA'S GREAT PROBLEM

From the cold-blooded "guineapig" scientific point of view, a war in China might be China's salvation. Dr. Frank W. Notestein, student of population, from Princeton University, told the International Congress on Population meeting in Paris this week. China is growing so fast that if violence does not check its numbers, the population will probably double in less than 65 years. "China cannot stand much growth," said Dr. Notestein. "If it is not stopped by war and other violence, it will be by famine and disease. Here, at least, the Malthusian checks are a grim reality."

China, known to the world as a nation of antiquity, is today a nation of youth, says the Victoria Times. Old age is venerated in the Oriental countries, but men and women do not live to grow old there as they do in other parts of the world. In New Zealand, half the population live to reach the biblical standard of lifetime—three score and ten. In China half of those coming into the world die before they reach the age of 28 years. On this continent, 90 of each 100 babies born live to celebrate their 10th birthdays. In China, 40 per cent die before they reach the age of 10. A Canadian baby coming into the world may be expected to live to the age of 59 to 63. But the Chinese infant can hope only for a life of 35 years.

Yet despite this terrific mortality in childhood and early youth, China's peoples are not being wiped out. No one knows just how many people live in that vast nation. Various estimates of the total population range from about 350,000,000 to more than 550,000,000. Of these uncounted hundreds of millions, probably about 80 to 85 per cent live in rural regions.

HALIBUT BOAT OWNERS AND FISHERMEN ASK ASSISTANCE

gested that the fishermen should draw up a brief of their case and submit it to the fisheries committee of the Chamber of Commerce. All important subjects had to be submitted to the proper committee under their by-laws before being decided.

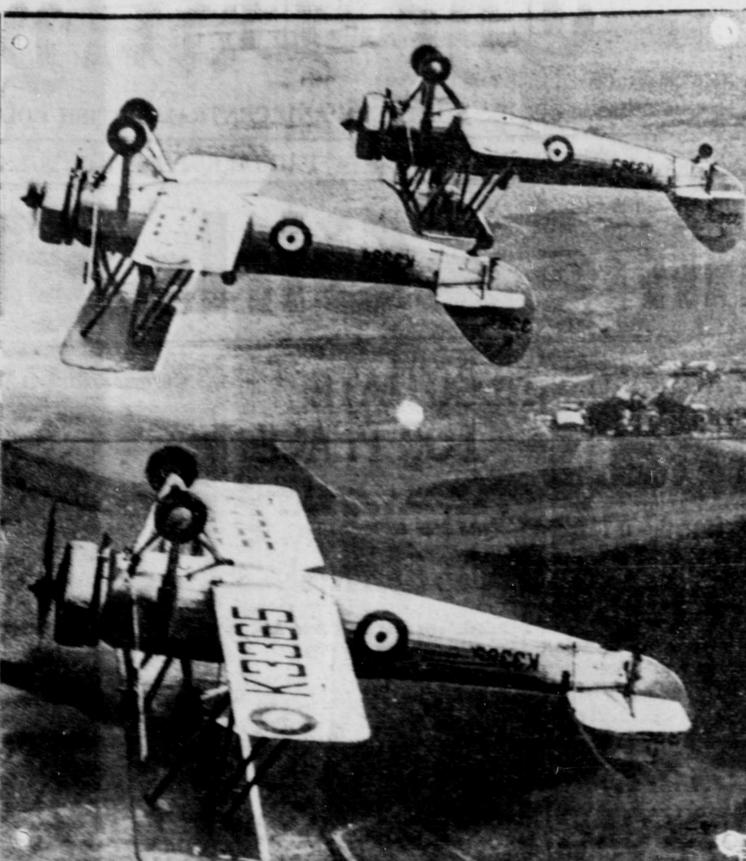

Captain Ritchie charged that at present all the regulations were made to suit the American fishermen. The local boat owners and fishermen did not like to have to stop fishing in the middle of the season. The regulations, he claimed, were made in Seattle for the benefit of Americans. If they could have two more trips this year it would help out the situation. Two trips would mean the catching of approximately three million pounds which could be deducted from the catch allowed area number 3.

It was finally decided that the fishermen and boat owners should submit a brief to the fisheries committee of the Chamber of Commerce which would consider it and report to the council of the Chamber at a meeting to be called today or tomorrow.

Plans Laid For Flower Show And Garden Competition At Horticultural Society Meet

Judging of Gardens on Saturday of this Week. Show Next Monday and Dinner for Professor Barss on Saturday Night

Final arrangements were made by the executive of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society at a meeting last night for the annual flower show on Monday next, for a dinner to be given to Professor Barss of the University of British Columbia on Saturday night and for the judging of the gardens which will take place on Saturday of this week. Charles Balsago, president of the society, presided at the meeting.

In connection with the garden competition it was decided to give out of the silver medals donated by Home Gardening for the best garden with more than 25 ft. frontage and the other for gardens 25 feet or under. Bronze medals will be given for second prize in each case and a diploma as third prize. Entries for this event should be made at the Daily News office not later than Friday of this week.

Professor Barss is expected to arrive on the Princess Adelaide Friday evening and it is hoped he will complete his work of garden judging on Saturday. If not, it will be necessary to complete it Sunday.

For the banquet in the evening a committee was appointed to have charge of arrangements. A large attendance is expected on that occasion as Dr. Barss is professor of horticulture at the University and a good many will want to hear him. The Flower Show will be held Monday in the store next to Annette's at the corner of Second Avenue and Sixth St. Entries may be made Sunday evening or Monday morning. Exhibitors have to provide their own containers and be responsible for the arrangement of their exhibits.

Arrangements were made that in any case where there is a first and second prize and there is outstanding merit in other exhibits, diplomas may be granted as a third prize at the discretion of the judge. Professor Barss will judge the exhibits.

Prizes are also being given to the best lawn in the city—$4.00 for the best lawn in a garden with 25 feet frontage and $4.00 for the best larger lawn. In judging the gardens the judge will be asked to mark according to the following schedule: Design or layout, 25 points; grouping and color, 20 points; neatness and freedom from weeds, 20 points; quality of plants and flowers, 25 points; specialties and novelties, 20 points.

COMMODITY COSTS RISE

Merchants Look for Higher Prices—Rearmament Boosts Metals And Wool

LONDON, Aug. 7. (CP)—Cost of living in the United Kingdom has risen eight per cent since the start of the year on the basis of the 1936 index, according to the Ministry of Labor. Cost of food alone has advanced about 10 per cent, with increases in several commodities posted during recent weeks.

Housewives all over the country are feeling the pinch in paying extra for such necessities as flour, bread, butter, potatoes, beef, vegetables and fruit. Clothing, rent, fuel and household furnishings also have risen proportionately.

A four-pound loaf of bread now sells for 19 cents, compared with 16 cents a year ago. Flour is up six cents for a seven-pound bag, butter four cents, cheese three, beef two cents a pound and mutton three cents a pound higher. Increased demand for margarine, much cheaper than butter, has been reported.

A pair of simple woven blankets, sold for $4.25 last February, now cost $6.85. Cotton and linen goods have increased over the whole range by five to 15 per cent. There is an average increase in the cost of floor carpets of about 30 per cent, while certain metal articles have advanced as much as 50 per cent.

Cost of building materials has soared so high that a working class house now costs approximately $150 more than eight months ago.

Merchants warn that present increases are but forerunners of what is to come. They report manufacturers have already announced advances of anywhere from five to 20 per cent on all future orders.

Increases in metals and wool are directly attributed to stimulated demand due to rearmament. All the great powers are tapping available markets for metal for naval construction, munitions, tanks, airplanes, while the wool is needed for military uniforms.

A glance at the prices of metal explains these increases. Tin, which was quoted around $900 a ton last July now is selling close to $1300 and spelter, $77 a ton a year ago, sells at about $110 today.

"Mike" May Aid Natural Speech

B.B.C. Expert Has Suggestion For Cure of "Parsonic Voice"

LONDON, Aug. 10: (CP) — In installation of microphones as a cure for "parsonic voice" has been suggested by Prof. Lloyd James, linguistic adviser to the British Broadcasting Corporation.

He said the trouble was not altogether the parson's fault. He was obliged to raise his voice and speak slowly in order to fill the vast space of some churches. Frequently there was also musical accompaniment restricting his rise of pitch and then his voice tended to become artificial so that the man-in-the-street lost sympathy with the clergyman.

"It is possible," Prof. James said, "the installation of microphones and loudspeakers in our churches would encourage the clergy to become more natural in their speech, and to use language of ordinary life. The idea there is a special form of speech behavior appropriate to the Diety is a mediaeval idea and one that must be exploded."

THEY'RE TOPS IN TENNIS NOW

King of the tennis world with a vengeance now, is red-headed Don Budge, who after winning the world's singles championship at Wimbledon was spearhead of the United States attack that took the Davis Cup away from Britain. Here is the lanky Californian on the Wimbledon courts playing in a doubles match during the Davis Cup zone finals, with his partner Gene Mako. Mako is rushing in to back up brother Budge if he misses the drive, but Don doesn't miss. That's why he's world champion

John A. McMillan, Customs Officer at Stewart, Passes Away This Morning
