PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1937

PRICE: 5 CENTS

PORTSMOUTH, May 20: (CP)—All the might and majesty of Britain's naval forces gathered off Spithead, England today when King George VI reviewed the British fleet from the royal yacht, Victoria and Albert. The review was the largest since that held during the silver jubilee celebrations of King George V. When the King came in sight of the 140 vessels of the fleet, which was augmented by mercantile and fishing vessels and 17 foreign warships a royal salute of 21 guns was given. The review began at 3:30 p.m. and lasted until 5:15. An estimated million spectators watched the review from the sloping shore and varied craft. At the top are shown the H.M.S. Renown, the Hood and the Iron Duke in that order, trimmed with flags from stem to stern, as they stood by for the last review by King George during his silver jubilee. At the lower left is King George in the admiral's uniform he wore for the occasion today. Squadrons of airplanes from the R. A. F., similar to those shown in manoeuvres over Salisbury, Eng., will fly above the royal yacht. At the lower right is seen a destroyer unit of British ships as they sailed off Spithead in review formation.

SOCIALISM ADVOCATED

Angus McInnis M.P. Urges Vote In Its Favor at Provincial Election

Weaver Heard

About Two Hundred in Attendance At Campaign Meeting In Moose Hall

Declaring that social ownership of the instruments of production and distribution was the only means by which economic security and freedom could be brought about for the great majority of people who were now being victimized by the capitalistic system which was controlled by a steadily decreasing few. Angus McInnis, M. P. for Vancouver East, at a public meeting in the Moose Hall last night urged support of George Weaver, C. C. F. candidate for Prince Rupert in the forthcoming provincial election. Those who were satisfied with things as they were at present would vote either Liberal or Conservative, Mr. McInnis declared. Those who desired to see a new system brought about to provide for the needs of the men, women and children of the province would vote C. C. F.

William Brett, president of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union, presided over the meeting which was attended by possibly about 200 people. In addition to Mr. McInnis, who was the principal speaker, Mr. Weaver was also heard briefly. The candidate spoke of the provincial financial situation. It was his desire, Mr. Weaver, said, to clear up certain misapprehensions which had been left on the minds of the public. He declared that misleading statements had been made in regard to balanced budgets and surpluses. There had been juggling with figures year in and year out. While revenues had been higher, the province was more in the hole. The provincial debt had been greatly increased. There was talk of balancing budgets without taking care of unemployment relief. Liberals and Conservatives charged each other with rifting trust funds. There would be clean government without patronage under C. C. F. rule. A good man would be retained in the provincial service regardless of his politics. On the other hand, an inefficient man would have to go, also regardless of politics.

Mr. McInnis

There was no necessity for juggling with figures or different interpretations of the provincial financial situation, asserted Mr. McInnis. It should be as clearcut as the financial statement of any ordinary business such as a bank. Mr. McInnis referred to "red herrings" being drawn across the trail and the appeals being made to the people's emotions. Addresses being made in Vancouver by Tom McInnis, who was doing his "usual dirty work," aroused the ire of Mr. McInnis. He particularly resented Mr. McInnis being described as a "prominent labor man."

Again the issue of granting the franchise to the Orientals had been drawn into this campaign. Liberals and Conservatives said they would not give the franchise to Orientals but they would not agree to exclude them from the country. The only reason the Orientals were permitted here was to play their labor against that of the white worker.

"The C. C. F. says it will not discriminate against any individual because of race, creed, nationality or color," asserted Mr. McInnis. "Some day we will have to give the Oriental the franchise. Why not do it now? Why not help them to become Canadians and build up the Dominion?"

Turning to public works, Mr. McInnis declared that, if a road was

Japanese Training Vessel Will Visit Rupert Next Month

Handsome Kaiwo Maru to be Here For Eight Days From June 25—This to be Her Only Port of Call On British Columbia Coast

One of the most interesting events in Prince Rupert this summer will be the eight-day visit of a handsome Japanese training ship, the four-masted auxiliary barque Kaiwo Maru, with personnel of 113, which is due to arrive here about June 25 direct from Tokyo and will, incidentally, be in port over the Dominion Day holiday. Advice of the Kaiwo Maru's visit has been received by George Kitagawa, secretary of the Prince Rupert Japanese Association. Prince Rupert will be her only port of call on the British Columbia coast. She will leave here July 3 for Hawaii enroute back to Tokyo. She sailed from Tokyo on May 15.

The Kaiwo Maru belongs to the Institute of Nautical Training of the Japanese Department of Education. Her commander is Capt. Z. Hatano and the personnel consists of 14 officers, 53 cadets and crew of 45.

The vessel is a handsome one of 2,283 gross tonnage with length of 79.25 metres, beam of 12.95 metres and depth of 7.85 metres. Her rigging consists of four masts. The main mast is 41.76 metres in length from poopdeck to masthead. The length of the lower yard is 23.37 metres. The vessel has 35 sails in all—18 square sail and 17 fore and after sail. The total area of sails is 2500 square metres. There are two 600 h.p. Ikegal diesel engines for auxiliary power. The vessel's sailing speed is 12.5 knots and propelling speed 11.5 knots.

The Kaiwo Maru was launched February 14, 1930, from the Kawasaki dock yard at Kobe.

BROTHERHOOD FLOURISHING

President Alfred Adams Announces That Co-operation of Churches Has Been Secured

MASSETT, May 20:—Returning to Massett recently from Port Simpson where he had a conference with other officials of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia, Alfred Adams, president of the Brotherhood, told of a successful interview which had been held with church representatives. He stated that the brotherhood now had the support of both the Anglican Church and the United Church. "Now we can say," commented Mr. Adams, "if God be for us, who can be against us?"

The Native Brotherhood, Mr. Adams said, is continuing to grow as both interior and southern towns become interested. The latest village to join up is Skeena Crossing which has chosen the following officers: President, Herbert Russell; vice-president, Arthur Sampare; treasurer, Peter Mark; secretary, Peter H. Brown; executive, Alfred McDames, Joseph Wesley, Samuel Sampare, James Waget and George Sampare.

LEGION IS GRATIFIED

Pleasure Expressed at Success of Coronation Celebration

President Jack Preece was in the chair when the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion held its monthly meeting last night. Great satisfaction was expressed at the support given by citizens and organizations generally to the Coronation Celebration. J. S. Wilson extended the congratulations of the provincial executive of the Canadian Legion to the branch. The success was undoubtedly due in a large measure to the leadership of the committee with W. M. Brown as general chairman and George Cripps as general secretary. To all chairmen of committees congratulations were due.

The committee on employment reported that it had interviewed the district engineer in regard to engaging ex-service men on road work and had had a very sympathetic reception. The Legion was not asking for anything it was not entitled to but felt that ex-service men were certainly entitled to their full share of the work available.

Appreciation by the original members of the 102nd Battalion (overseas) of the support given by the Legion to the ceremony of the depositing of their colors in the Cathedral was expressed by Fred Hardy and Fred Skellum. On the other hand, the branch felt honored in being able to participate in such an impressive service.

In addition to various routine matters certain cases of need for medical attention to members were considered. Support of the football team was urged and the meeting was advised that shower baths were now in operation in the building.

Preliminary plans for the annual picnic were discussed.

Bulkley Valley Seeding Through

Season This Year is Later Than Usual But Good Crop Still Hoped For

Bulkley Valley farmers have been a little later than usual this spring in getting their crops in but seeding is now pretty well completed and, if conditions are favorable from now on, there is no reason why there should not be good crops, states Olof Hanson M. P., who has been doing a good deal of travelling through the Bulkley Valley during the past week or so in connection with the provincial election campaign. He considers E. T. McKune and M. M. Connelly, Liberal candidates in Skeena and Omineca respectively, certain of election.

EVERY KNOCK A BOOST

If it is true that every knock is a boost, then Premier Pattullo must feel himself being boosted to the skies. The Conservatives are turning all their guns against the head of the government, the Connellites are pouring shrapnel all around the Parliament Buildings and especially at the office of the Premier. The C. C. F. are complaining as usual about the way in which the whole world is treating them and especially the man who has acquired a habit of representing Prince Rupert at Victoria. Even the Social Credit people take a pot shot at Mr. Pattullo occasionally. All seem to be forgetting their own ideas, if they have any, in the general effort to undermine the Premier.

A casual observer who knew nothing about the politics of British Columbia could size up the situation in two minutes by noticing the constant rattle-bang of the snipers. It is evident the government is going back to Victoria to carry on its work. The woods are full of C. C. F. deserters who have now recognized the hopelessness of being able to bring about the overthrow of existing institutions and who realize that the sensible thing to do is to support a group that stands for gradual progress, a fair deal and prosperity. There is no need to knock them. They are gradually passing out of the picture, dying a slow but painless death.

Here is what Premier Pattullo said when in Prince Rupert last week-end: "The Liberal Party is the only organization efficiently equipped to serve governmentally at the present time. It has a record of achievement, definite and progressive plans for the future and knowledge, experience and determination to put these plans into effect."

All the information obtainable indicates that the Liberals will be returned to power on June 1 and Prince Rupert will, doubtless, do its part by returning Hon. T. D. Pattullo and making it emphatic by increasing his majority over the previous election.

SOCIALISM

needed here or anywhere else, it should be provided—election or no election.

The speaker then proceeded to analyze the frailties of the present economic system under the headings: What is wrong with it? What is required? Is the requirement feasible? How is it going to be brought about?

People saw all around them the things they needed but they were unable to get them. As wealth became more easy to produce, poverty and misery increased. Mankind had achieved that for which it had struggled through the ages, the ability of ready production, but denied the benefits.

"The reason is," declared Mr. McInnis, "that the wealth we produce does not belong to us. Money is not wealth or purchasing power. Wheat, lumber, minerals, labor—these are the real purchasing power. We cannot overcome our difficulties by making money as the Social Crediters would tell you.

"Everybody admits that something is wrong," went on Mr. McInnis, "even Mr. Pattullo. What, then, is it you want?"

Mr. Chapman—"A palp mill" (laughter).

"What we want," continued the speaker, "is economic security—sufficient food, clothing and shelter to enable us to live decently. That is the minimum of our wants. But we are denied it as long as those who own the wealth and the machinery of production cannot get a profit. The C. C. F. suggests that those countries which are going ahead are those which have adopted such policies as we advocate. The C. C. F. stands for social ownership of those things the community should socially operate. The function and duty of government is to do for people collectively what they cannot do as individuals. We suggest that government should have full control of production and distribution of products. Until there is social control of commodities from the point of production until the ultimate consumer is reached, there is no hope. In this province the C. C. F. will go ahead as fast as the people want. The reason governments can do nothing today is because a few control the means of production."

"Incidentally, Mr. McInnis referred to the statement of a Canadian Manufacturers' Association head in convention that "social services in British Columbia were becoming too great a drain on industry."

"If industries will not provide for people then it is time the government took over industries," declared Mr. McInnis.

Mr. McInnis referred to a statement of Judge McIntosh in Vancouver at the appalling lack of labor legislation in British Columbia. The speaker admitted, however, that British Columbia was ahead of the most of the other provinces in this regard.

The speaker closed with reference to some of the planks in the C. C. F. platform and wound up with an appeal for support of the C. C. F. on June 1 to bring about a new system to provide for the needs of the men, women and children of the province.

Question Period

During the question period, Mrs. J. T. Harvey referred to the similarity of the C. C. F. and Conservative platforms in certain planks. Would these not be about the only things the C. C. F. would be able itself to bring about?

Mr. McInnis replied that the C. C. F. would be ready to assist to the utmost any party which sought to bring about the things for which it stood. The C. C. F. was not so much concerned about who brought things about as long as they were accomplished. Past experience, however, had been that the older parties would not do these things.

Mr. McInnis admitted that a great deal of the natural resources of Canada was foreign-controlled. He did not think a central bank would accomplish much under capitalist control. He urged that "yes" be voted on the health insurance plebiscite so that any government which was returned would have a mandate to put it into effect.

ENGLISH SCHOOLS

Miss Edna Wilkinson Tells Parent Teachers of Specialization in Education

The regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association was held last evening in the Borden Street School with Mrs. W. C. Aspinall presiding.

The treasurer, Miss S. A. Mills, reported a credit balance of $95 after all accounts have been paid. From this sum the following grants were made to the various schools to purchase sport equipment. King Edward High School, $20; Booth Memorial School, $20; Borden Street School, $20; Seal Cove School, $5.

Parents and friends were invited to attend the display of the Manual Training and Home Economics Departments to be held on June 4 from 3 to 6 p.m. in the Booth Memorial School. At this function prizes purchased from funds provided by the Parent-Teachers' Association will be awarded. Parents were also asked to remember the association tea which will be held on June 18.

Miss Wilkinson

The speaker for the evening was Miss Edna Wilkinson, exchange teacher from London, England, who described in a vivid and interesting manner the various types of special schools established in England for those children who, by reason of physical defects or mental retardation were unable to benefit from the general curriculum of the elementary school. Schools for the deaf and dumb, the blind, the crippled, the mentally defective and open air schools for tubercular children with special curricula and specially trained teachers were designed to build up the physical health of the child and, through participation in the activities of the school in a well-ordered environment, to overcome handicaps and attain that amount of social efficiency which would enable these children to take their places in social and industrial life.

Perhaps the most interesting type of special school described by Miss Wilkinson was the Nursery school designed for pre-school children from the age of two to four years. One of the major contributions of modern psychology was the attention which it has drawn to the importance of these early years in the life of the child. As a result of this, during the last twenty years, nursery schools have been established all over England and in Scotland. In distressed areas and slum districts, children of these ages were brought into the well-ordered and dependable environment of these schools where through learning by doing, self-activity and expression, the child's interests and desires were intelligently directed to the unfolding of his inborn capacities. With attention to personal cleanliness and hygiene, medical inspection and care, hot meals and rest, outdoor play and indoor activities, these schools counteracted the bad environment of the slums and tenements, built up physical health, established good moral and social ideals, and made these early years of childhood happy and purposeful.

Musical Program

During the evening Miss Faith King, with well rendered piano-forte solos, and Mrs. B. Lundahl, accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Stamford, with vocal solos: "My Lover is a Fisherman" and "Daffodils," provided an enjoyable musical program.

On behalf of the association a hearty vote of thanks was accorded speaker and artists by Miss Lillian Halliwell, and after the singing of the National Anthem refreshments were served by a committee in charge of Mrs. W. M. Brown, Mrs. E. Clapp, and Mrs. S. V. Cox.

TALKS ON FURNITURE

J. H. Norden Speaker at Meeting Of Canadian Club

With the president, Mrs. F. N. Good, in the chair, J. H. Norden addressed a large and appreciative audience of the Women's Canadian Club last evening. Mr. Norden discussed "Period Furniture and Design," illustrating his talk with patterns showing contours and period design. Mr. Norden said that, compared with present standards the castles of mediaeval times were very meagerly furnished. He paid tribute to the outstanding craftsmanship of such men as Sir Christopher Wren, Gibbons, Sheraton, Adams, Hepplewhite and Chippendale. The evolution of present day furniture was traced from its crude beginnings to the beauty of today.

Mr. Norden said that there were three requisites of good design in furniture. Furniture must serve the purpose for which it was intended, be of suitable material and have beauty of proportion, outline and color. The "curve of nature or force" is present in all furniture of good taste.

Angus McInnis, M.P. for Vancouver East, after a brief visit here in connection with the C.C.F. election campaign, sails tonight by the Prince Rupert on his return to Vancouver.

Could Hardly Rise From Her Chair

Rheumatism Relieved by Kruschen

This woman was such a confirmed sufferer from rheumatism that she thought she would never get relief. But before she had finished one bottle of Kruschen her rheumatism was leaving her. Here is her letter:—

"I had rheumatism so badly that once I got into a chair I found great difficulty in rising again. A friend told me to try Kruschen Salts, but I thought it was a foolish idea, as there seemed to me to be nothing that would relieve rheumatism. My friend gave me two doses to try. I took one dose on Monday and another on Tuesday, and by then my pain had moved to another part of my body. Well, that was a good start, so I bought a bottle and it gave me great joy to find my rheumatism disappearing, and now for a long time I have been free."—(Miss) A. R.

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are frequently due to deposits of uric acid in the muscles and joints. Kruschen Salts, by helping to stimulate the excretory organs to healthy, regular activity, enables them to expel this uric acid from the system.

'THEODORA GOES WILD'

Irene Dunne Turns From Drama To Comedy and is Said To Score Great Hit

"Theodora Goes Wild," introducing Irene Dunne in her first comedy assignment, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here tonight, Friday and Saturday. Supported by an exceptionally strong cast, Miss Dunne runs fancy free through a sprightly tale of a small town girl who wins a big-city man in a big-city way. Melvyn Douglas plays opposite Miss Dunne in the leading male role with Thomas Mitchell, Thurston Hall, Rosalind Keith, Spring Byington, Elizabeth Risdon and Margaret McWade rounding out the cast.

The story is that of a small town "nobody" who becomes famous as the author of sophisticated novels. When she falls in love with Douglas, whose estranged wife refuses to give him a divorce, she takes a page from her own novel and launches a campaign of wild escapades to gain her objective. Numerous hilarious events lead up to a happy climax. For years Miss Dunne has been portrayed as a dramatic star in many big pictures. "Theodora Goes Wild" is said to definitely establish her as one of the screen's finest comedienne.

SOME THINGS PATTULLO HAS DONE FOR PRINCE RUPERT

- 1.—He gave $1,000 of his own money in the early days of the city in order to keep the telephone franchise from being alienated to a private company. This is today our best paying municipal asset.
- 2.—He secured the Woodworth Lake water rights for the city when the Tories had alienated the same to a former president of the Vancouver Conservative Association.
- 3.—He insisted upon the building of the present $500,000 Court House against adverse criticism from all over the province and when southern political interests used all their power to defeat him.
- 4.—He advocated and inaugurated the building of the new trunk road out of the city, upon which approximately a half million dollars has been expended to date.
- 5.—He put through a provincial act allowing the city to refund its bonded indebtedness at a lower rate of interest which resulted in an immense saving to the taxpayers of Prince Rupert.
- 6.—His government has given the new and valuable post office site to the Dominion government in order to expedite the building of the new post office building in a proper location.
- 7.—He has caused to be voted a large sum of money for the erection of an ore sampling plant in the city; something desired by prospectors and miners all over the north.
- 8.—He has for years worked hard to secure a pulp mill for Prince Rupert and has just recently placed a reserve on sufficient timber adjacent to the city to supply a 500-ton pulp mill for 30 years.
- 9.—He granted the request of the fishing interests of the city and created the present halibut marketing scheme which provides for the orderly marketing of the catch of the halibut fleet. This should result in better prices and a greater measure of prosperity to the fishing industry.
